Books Tell About Your Income Tax

Federal income taxpayers of Shelby County need not worry again this year about what is deductible from their 1952 income taxes, or just who should be exempt. Uncle Sam has figured it out for them again in his 1952 edition of the booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax" which will soon be available at Department of Commerce field offices in the Southeast.

The publication "Your Federal Income Tax" is one of the nation's "best sellers" and each year thousands of ordeers for it are sent to Commerce Department field offices according to Merrill C. Lofton, of the southeastern regional director agency in Atlanta.

The 1952 edition of the booklet, which will again be available for 25 cents despite rising costs of other things, will incorporate any changes made in the internal revenue act.

Along with the booklet "Your Federal Income Tax," the Commerce Department is offering other publications and material designed to assist business men and other interested persons in making their 1952 income tax returns to Uncle Sam. The others include "Bulletin 'F'" and the subject of depreciation and obsolence, which is priced at 30 cents, the pamphlets "Your Rights of Review When the Government Questions Your Income Tax" and "The Small Businessman and His Declaration of Estimated Tax, which sells for 10 cents, each, and the leaflet "Basic Tax Information for Small Business Enterprises," for which there is no charge.

Orders are now being taken for these publications at U. S. Department of Commerce offices at 716 Forsyth Building, Atlanta; 218 Post Office Building, Savannah; Sergeant Jasper Building, Charleston; 425 Federal Building, Jacksonville; 947 Seybold Building, Miami; 308 Federal Building, Mobile; and 229 Federal Building, Memphis, Mr. Lofton said.

Town Council Authorizes Montevallo Cemetery Board

At its meeting last week the Montevallo Town Council adopted a resolution formally and officially setting up the Montevallo Cemetery Board of Administration. Details of the organization of the Board were prepared by Councilman S. M. Mahan after several weeks of conferences and study of our cemetery problem with interested citizens.

Following is the resolution as adopted and approved by the Council:

Be it resolved by the Town Council of Montevallo, Alabama, as follows:

1. That a board be, and is hereby, created to administer the affairs and operations of the Montevallo Cemetery.

2. That said Board shall be known as, and operated under the name of, "The Montevallo Cemetery Board of Administration."

3. That said Board shall be composed of five members, appointed by the Mayor, with the advice and consent of the Council, one of which shall be designated chairman for the first year.

4. That the members of the Board shall be appointed for the terms of one, two, three, four, and five years respectively, and at the end of their respective terms of office members of the Board shall be appointed for terms of five years thereafter.

5. That members of the Board shall hold over after their terms of orrice expires until their successors have been appointed.

6. That members of the Board may be selected from citizens of Montevallo and Montevallo vicinity.

7. That the officers of said Board shall be composed of a Chairman, Secretary, and Treasurer.

8. That immediately after the appointment of the Board, the designated Chairman shall call an organization meeting at which time a secretary and treasurer shall be elected by the Board.

9. That all officers of the Board shall hold office for a term of one year, or until their successors have been elected.

10. That said Board shall be governed by such policies as are approved and adopted by the Council from time to time.

11. That said Board may at its organization meeting, and from time to time, adopt such by-laws and such rules and regulations as in its wisdom it may deem necessary to govern itself and properly administer the affairs and operations of the cemetery, provided such by-laws, rules and regulations do not constitute or assume any obligations on the part of the Town of Montevallo and do not contravene adopted policies of the Council.

12. That the Board shall operate on a fiscal year basis, beginning on October 1st. and ending September 30th.

13. That on the 1st. day of October of each year the Board shall submit a report to the Council outlining it's activities and financial operations for the immediate preceding year.

14. That an audit of the books of the Board shall be made yearly, by auditors employed by the Town of Montevallo, at the time of the regular municipal audit.

In conformity with the resolution as adopted, the council named the following persons to constitute the Cemetery Board:

J. A. Brown for one year; F. P. Givhan (chairman) for two years; Miss Ella Peters for three years; Mrs. P. D. D. Pendleton for four years; Mrs. R. D. Gunlock for five years.

Selden Will Write Weekly Column About The Congress

ARMISTEAD I. SELDEN, Jr.

Greensboro, Jan. 1 — A weekly newspaper column on Washington happenings will be written by Representative-elect Armistead I. Selden, Jr., for the people of the Sixth Congressional District.

Mr. Selden announced plans for the column as he left Greensboro soon after Christmas to take up his duties in Washington. He voiced pleasure over the fact that virtually all of the newspapers had expressed a desire to publish this column. It will appear in The Times, along with other newspapers throughout the district, beginning next week.

The column will deal with various Washington happenings, with emphasis on those things of especial interest to the Sixth District. It will be written only while Congress is in session.

Mr. Selden will take the oath of office, along with 75 other freshmen congressmen on Saturday, January 3.

Agnes Ellen Harris Died Last Week

Gwilym A. Price, President
Westinghouse Electric Corporation

* * *

Gwilyn (Welsh for William) Alexander Price was elected president of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation in January, 1946, at the age of 50.

He joined Westinghoues as a vice preisdent in September, 1943, and served as executive vice president from May, 1945, until his election as chief executive officer of the company.

Prior to his election as an officer of Westinghouse, Mr. Price had been president of the Peoples-Pittsburgh Trust Company of Pittsburgh (now Peoples First National Bank and Trust Company), since January, 1940. He had served as a trust officer of that company since 1923, as a vice president since 1930, and as vice president in charge of trusts since 1937.

Born of Welsh ancestry in Canonsburg, Pa., on June 20, 1895, Mr. Price attended school in New Kensington and Carnegie, Pa. He was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh Law School in 1917 and enlisted that same year as a private in the Army. He rose to a captaincy, commanding the 302nd Heavy Tank Battalion, which served overseas.

After World War I, Mr. Price returned to the practice of law with the firm which he had served as a clerk while attending the law school. In 1920 he became an assistant trust officer of the Pittsburgh Trust Company. In 1923 and 1924 he was a member of he Pennsylvania State Legislature.

Mr. Price is a director of the following firms: Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corporation, Peoples First National Bank and Trust Company, National Union Fire Insurance Company, Westinghouse Air Brake Company and The Hanover Bank.

He also is a trustee of the Committee for Economic Development, Elizabeth Steel Magee Hospital, Pennsylvania College for Women, Allegheny College, is president and a director of the Zoar Home and also trustee and member of the finance committee of the Pittsburgh YMCA, and a board member of the National Industrial Conference Board.

Dove Season Open To January 10

Montgomery, Ala., — The second half of Alabama's 1952 split season for dove shooting opened at noon, Saturday, December 27.

It will extend through sundown, January 10.

State Game and Fish Chief Graham Hixon said today that all indications are that dove shooting will be good during the 14-day open season.

Reports during the portion of the season which opened October 17 and closed October 31 indicated that there was less dove disease and consequently fewer dove deaths this year than during 1950 or 1951.

Apparently dove hunters have had the best shooting in several years, Hixon said, and there is every chance that the last portion of the season will give equally good hunting.

May the New Year hold only happiness for you.

NEW FORD TRACTOR
Golden Jubilee MODEL

★ MOST ADVANCED Hydraulic System in any Tractor!

★ EXTRA POWER with New Overhead Valve Engine!

Yes, it's on display right now, waiting to show you what a really modern tractor can and should be.

It's waiting with extra power, extra size, extra weight. It's ready to demonstrate new handling ease, comfort and convenience.

It's eagerly waiting to introduce you to the most advanced hydraulic system in any tractor. We call it Live-Action Hydraulic Control. That means split-second hydraulic response any time the tractor engine is running. Then there's a choice of hydraulic speeds when you want even faster action. It is called Hy-Trol.

This new tractor is waiting with its great new overhead valve Ford "Red Tiger" engine. With its greatly reduced piston travel, lessened friction and other advanced design features, this engine develops ample reserve power with new economy of gas and oil.

Most important of all, Ford's Golden Jubilee Model is waiting to show you what it can do—what this great combination of modern advancements and every time-proved Ford Tractor advantage means in more and better work, done more easily and more profitably.

YOU'VE NEVER SEEN A TRACTOR TO MATCH THIS!

Built-in Live-Action Hydraulic System, with Constant Draft Control, Implement Position Control and Manual Touch Control • Provision for a complete range of remote hydraulic cylinder* applications • Hy-Trol, for extra-fast hydraulic response • New lightning-fast governor • New weatherproofed ignition New rotating exhaust valves • New live PTO* • 3-Point implement hitch New streamlined row-vision hood • Selec-Trol* for hydraulic control of front and rear mounted implements • A lot more! *Sold separately.

Morals of Youth

I've heard quite a bit of talk about the morals of our young men being corrupted if Universal Military Training is placed in operation. I can't help feeling that this is indeed a poor endorsement for our homes, chruches and schools. I seriously doubt that if a young man grow up in this fine atmosphere for 18 years that six months training will make a criminal, or a drunkard of him.

There would be far greater likelihood of his becoming an undesirable citizen if he is denied the benefit of these friendly, guiding influences which only our continuances as a free nation guarantees to us.

Dr. Orr Announces March Of Dimes January 2 To 31

Science at last is moving rapidly toward an effective preventive of infantile paralysis, M. L. Orr, chairman, Shelby County March of Dimes Drive, declared here today.

Returning from Birmingham, where he attended a March of Dimes meeting, Mr. Orr said the latest polio news was very encouraging. Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, told the meeting that latest scientific advances foreshadow the certain conquest of polio as an epidemic disease, he reported.

At the meeting Mr. O'Connor explained the results of the 1951 and 1952 field trials with gamma globulin in which 55,000 children took part in Provo, Utah; Houston, Tex., and Sioux City, Ia. As a result, it was proved for the first time that paralytic polio in human beings can be prevented — even if only temporarily so far.

"There is no reason for undue optimism," said Mr. Orr. "In the first place, gamma globulin is not the final answer to preventing paralytic polio. It gives protection for only a limited time and there is not nearly enough of it to go around. There are 46,000,000 children and adolescents in the age group most susceptible to the disease.

"But the overall news is the best we have heard since the National Foundation launched the war against polio 15 years ago. It justifies our faith and makes us more determined than ever to increase the totals raised in the March of Dimes next January.

"We must be certain we have sufficient funds with which to continue this progress," he stated. "The prospects of conquering polio have never been so bright. But the dark side of the picture is gloomier than ever. The 1952 epidemic is the worst in history, recording more than 51,000 cases up to the first week in November.

"The staggering financial burden of patient care for this year alone will be about $28,000,000. By the end of this year, the March of Dimes will have provided direct assistance in 1952 to at least 90,000 patients stricken in this and previous years."

The 1953 March of Dimes will be held January 2-31, Mr. Orr added, with plans for the participation of a record number of volunteers.

I'll Walk Alone

Lively as a cricket is Randy Donoho, 4, who was stricken by polio, September, 1951, and still receives treatment. March of Dimes funds provided by Wayne County (Detroit) Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, backed Randy in his fight toward recovery.

We'll bring to mind your friendship throughout the year.

President Cheers Polio Patients

President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower stops by at St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester, Minn., to visit with David Madden, who has been in an iron lung for five years. Young Jerry Snow, 12, looking on, experienced a light case of polio during 1952's record epidemic and is now fully recovered. Madden, who is being aided by March of Dimes, was much cheered by the President's visit. This 1953 March of Dimes campaign continues for the entire month of January. Contribute generously today.

Things certainly look rosy for me. One of those Ivy-grown old Eastern colleges checked up on its old grads and discovered that those with the largest waistbands are making the most money, now all I need is the money. And that's not all, another survey showed that men with big feet make the best husbands. I guess that makes my wife a lucky woman.

Thompson High Offers Students Essay Awards

"'The Physically Handicapped—A National Asset' is the title of the fourth annual national employ the physically handicapped essay contest for students in the 11th and 12th grades of Thompson High School," Dr. Robert H. Johnson, principal, said today. The contest sponsored annually by the President's Committee an NEPH is sponsored in Alabama by the State Committee in cooperation with the Alabama Federation of Labor.

C. F. Anderson, chairman of the State Committee, said that the contest had been approved by the Notional Association of Secondary Schools and by the State Superintendent of Education.

State awards include a first prize of $100.00 cash; second prize of $50.00 cash; third prize of $25.00 cash. These state prizes have been donated by the Alabama Federation of Labor, whose offices are in the Lyric Building Birmingham.

"Because thousands of our physically handicapped people are skilled and fully capable of remunerative employment, the Alabama Federation of Labor is happy to cooperate with the Governor's Committee in promoting public interest in the problems of this group of citizens," stated Mr. Grady Grinstead, president of the Federation.

National prizes donated by the National Disabled American Veterans include a first prize of $1,000 and other prizes ranging down to $100.00. In addition, a certificate of merit signed by the President of the United States will be awarded the Alabama winners. These essays must be 1,200 words or less. The contest closes February 15, 1953.

James S. Pope Is Press Speaker

JAMES S. POPE

James S. Pope, executive editor of The Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, will be one of the featured speakers at the Alabama Press Association's 82nd annual convention in Birmingham Jan. 22, 23 and 24, APA President Cecil Hornady, publisher of The Talladega News, announced this week.

Speaking on freedom of information, Pope will bring to Alabama editors and publishers wide experience in news reporting and editing as well as first-hand experience with his subject, since he is chairman of the American Society of Newspaper Editors freedom of information committee.

He will appear on the luncheon program Saturday, Jan. 24. The program is being jointly sponsored by the Alabama Press Association's freedom of information committee headed by James E. Mills, editor of The Birmingham Post-Herald, and the Alabama Associated Press freedom of information committee headed by Charles A. Fell, managing editor of The Birmingham News. Mills will be master of ceremonies.

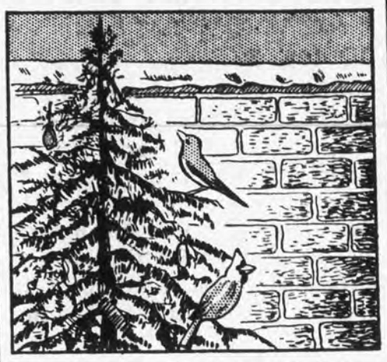

A native of Zebulon, Ga., and graduate of Emory University, Pope worked his way up from reporter to managing editor of the Atlanta Journal before joining the Courier-Journal staff in 1940.

Christmas Trees Can Be Put to Many Uses After New Year's

There are a number of things you can do with your Christmas tree after New Year's besides burning it.

If it is a fir, for instance, it can be anchored in the back yard—perhaps in a corner of the garden—and used as a bird feeder the remainder of the winter. Pieces of suet and little feed bags may be tied to the branches. A container of water should be placed beneath the tree and kept filled so the birds will have a drink every day.

Or, cut off the branches and place them, curved ends up, over flower beds when the ground is exposed. An evergreen mulch helps prevent the soil from heaving during alternate freezes and thaws. Long branches may be built into little lean-tos to protect tender shrubs from sun scald.

The needles of a Christmas tree can be sprinkled beneath acid-loving plants such as laurel, andromeds, rhododendron and blueberries.

If the needles on the tree are still firm, use the branches in an outdoor windowbox. Moisten the soil in the box. Then push the cut ends of the branches down to the bottom and tamp the soil firm around them. This will generally give you greenery all winter.

If you must burn your Christmas tree, don't toss it into a fireplace. Cut off the branches and burn them safely one by one.

And remember, a Christmas tree tossed into the street can become a fire hazard if playful children pick it up and make a bonfire of it in a vacant lot.

Your Poinsettia Will Bloom Next Christmas

THE POINSETTIA has long been a popular Christmas plant but probably few people have given much thought to the fact that it does come into bloom each year only at this season.

The poinsettia is one of a group of plants known as short day plants because it will bloom only in the season of the year with short day length periods, preferably 10 hours or less. That is why it is always in bloom during the Christmas season and not during the summer. It could be prevented from blooming now by lengthening the daylight period to 15 hours by means of artificial lights.

Flower growers have learned how to bring garden chrysanthemums into bloom any month of the year by using shading cloth to shorten the days and artificial lights to lengthen the days. The chrysanthemum is also a short day plant.

How can one keep a poinsettia plant until next season? After its usefulness is over, place it in the basement or some dry place where it will not freeze. Do not water it, or at least very little, and let the soil dry up. Next May bring the plant out, cut the stem back about two-thirds, wash the old soil off the roots and re-pot in new soil.

David Harris With University Band On Miami Trip Now

University, Ala. — David Harris, University student from Montevallo, marched with the University of Alabama's Million Dollar Band at the half-time ceremonies of the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., Jan. 1, 1953.

He was among 103 band members who performed at the Orange Bowl. The University students left the campus Monday. After traveling down the east coast of Florida, they joined seven other bands to rehearse for the Orange Bowl pageant which preceded the kick-off for the University of Alabama-University of Syracuse football game.

In half-time ceremonies, the crimson-coated musicians formed the letters "Tide" as they rolled across the field. They also saluted the city of Miami and the state of New York. Col. Carleton K. Butler is director of the band.

David and the other band members will return to the University Sunday night, Jan. 4.

S C S Facts For The Year 1952

Conservation farming has forged ahead in Alabama during 1952 at a faster rate than ever before, O. C. Medlock, State Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, reports.

Figures to date indicate that by the end of the year some 6,400 new soil conservation district cooperators, representing more than 1,100,000 acres, will be actively participating in the program. This is a 30 per cent increase over the 4,912 farmers, representing 831,000 acres, who joined the district program in 1951.

The new district cooperators added in 1952 bring the total number of farmers now cooperating with the soil conservation district program in Alabama to more than 56,000, operating over 9 million acres. In other words, farm conservation plans have been developed for one out of every four farms in the state.

In meeting its responsibilities in the Agricultural Conservation program, as outlined by the USDA program realignment of February 1951, Service technicians to date in 1952 have given some assistance to about 5,927 ACP participants. These were referred to the Service by County PMA committees for technical aid on permanent type operators. About 1,333 became district cooperators during the year, and began development of conservation plans in the district program. The other 1,126 were not district cooperators.

Soil conservation surveys, to obtain and develop the essential facts about the needs and capabilities of each parcel of land, were made on 1,028,858 acres during the last 12 months period for which figures are available. These surveys provide the basis for sound planning and help work toward the completion of an urgently needed national land inventory.

Although work was not increased in all cases, flood control surveys, watershed planning for flood prevention, group enterprise plans for farmers with a common irrigation or drainage problem, and other types of technical operations of the Service continued as in previous years.

Some of the outstanding accomplishments during the year have included: cover cropping, 134,835 acres; pasture imrpovement, 268,594 acres; seeding pasture, 200,604 acres; wildlife area improvement, 1,919 acres; tree planting, 4,786 acres; terraces, 32,710 acres; farm drainage, 50,367 acres; irrigation, 456 acres; seeding water disposal areas, 7,419 acres; kudzu planted, 5,007 acres; sericea seeded, 72, 717 acres; fish ponds built and stocked, 573 acres.

A former football hero of the University of Alabama, Charles B. (Foots) Clement, has been made Regional Director of the Office of Price Stabilization for the Southeastern States. As the new Regional Director, Clement will supervise OPS activities in Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, Mississippi and Tennessee. The appointemnt was announced by Joseph H. Freehill, national director of the price stabilization program.

Clement has been Deputy Regional Director in the Atlanta Regional Office since the opening of that office early in 1951. He succeeds George D. Patterson, Jr., who resigned to become Alabama Director of the Internal Revenue Bureau in Birmingham.

VETERANS' COLUMN
STATE DEPT. OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS

By E. J. Sullivan

This column is prepared by E. J. Sullivan, Veterans' Service Officer, State Department of Veterans' Affairs, Shelby County. His office is located on the second floor of the Reporter Building, Columbiana, Alabama. It seems that current reports indicate the Veterans Hospital at Birmingham, Alabama will start receiving patients early next year. The hospital is slated to be turned over to the Veterans' Administration by the Army Corps of Engineers on January 15, 1953. This does not necessarily mean that patients will start going in on that date. It simply means that the construction work will have been completed and the building turned over to the Veterans' Adimnistration for use. It is hoped that a few patients may be admitted on that date. It will probably be the first of February 1953 before the VA hospital in Birmingham will be opened for general use.

Here's some news of interest to you veterans who may be planning on building a home under the GI Bill next year. The National Association of Real Estate Beoards is hoping that a new Republican Administration will jump interest rates on GI lonas from 4 per cent to 4 and one-half per cent. The association predicts that if this change in interest rates is made, there will be a big boom in GI home construction during the coming year.

Taps have been sounded for another man who played an important part in American History. The man who selected the Unknown Soldier in 1918 from a battlefield in France has been laid to rest near the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. Colonel Robert Pattison Harbold, 71, died in his sleep at his home in Baltimore on Armistice Day. He was the man who directed the selection of the Unknown GI forever enshrined at Arlington. He was chief of the Cemeterial Branch of the Office of the Quartermaster General during World War I.

In the Wake of Polio

Three children who were stricken with polio in the worst epidemic in Houston's history combine the business of convalescing with pleasure. Shown (left to right) are Judy Corgey, 16 months, Gary Noe, 3, and Reuben Garcia, 2. More than a quarter of a million dollars in March of Dimes funds were sent into the Houston area to help fight the epidemic.

Possibly the greatest task faced by early Alabama pioneers was clearing the land of trees, briars, and vines so that crops could be raised. Once the land was cleared, rails had to be split and the fields fenced to keep the large wild animals from destroying the crops.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

In my travels around the Sixth District during the past eight months, I found that people today seem to be more interested in their government than at any other time in my memory.

For this reason I felt the people would like to have a weekly report from their Congressman about his activities as their representative and about all significant events in the nation's Capital. I discussed the idea for a weekly column with newspaper editors in the Sixth District, and I am grateful they have agreed to cooperate with me in this means of reporting to you.

My official duties as your representative actually began last Friday when I attended a Democratic caucus, which was a meeting of Democratic congressmen to elect their officers for the 83rd Congress. We chose Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, former Speaker of the House, as our floor leader. Sen. Lyndon Johnson, also a Texan, was selected to hold this position in the Senate.

Later, the senior members of each state delegation introduced the new Representatives. The only new member from Alabama, I was presented to the group by Rep. Frank Boykin, dean of the Alabama delegation.

Following our caucus the Republicans held a similar meeting to elect Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana as their floor leader in the House and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the same job in the Senate.

Answers First Roll Call

At noon of the next day I answered my first roll call when the House opened its initial session of the year. During the meeting, Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., (R-Mass.) won chairmanship of the House by a slim majority over the Democratic nominee, Rep. Sam Rayburn. You will probably remember that Rep. Martin served as Speaker of the House in 1947 and 1948 when, under a Democratic president, the Republicans held a majority of the seats in Congress.

After Rep. Martin took over as the new Speaker, I was sworn in as a member of Congress. This event was a particular thrill for me since three people from the District were present to see the ceremony. Besides my wife, they were John H. Anders and Charles W. Gilbert, both of Tuscaloosa en-route to New York, Mr. Anders and Mr. Gilbert had stopped in Washington to visit my office.

With many important issues facing the new Congress, it is expected that no time will be lost in getting down to legislative business. Major issues appear to be the Korean War, our foreign policy, taxes, wage and price controls, and immigration and labor legislation. Action taken on these and other critical problems will be reported in this column.

Miss Allen Joins Staff

The latest member to join my office staff is Miss Mary Pearson Allen of Ward, Ala., and Tuscaloosa. Miss Allen is a graduate of the University of Alabama and was formerly employed there in the Department of Physical Education. My other assistants are Miss Dorothy Perkins, Mrs. Barbara Howard, and Thomas Gilbert, whose appointments were reported in an earlier release.

Calera To Get Armory

It was my pleasure on Monday to inform the city officials of Calera that their efforts to obtain a National Guard Unit there were successful. Federal funds for a new Armory in Calera have been cleared and a site for the buildings approved by the National Guard Bureau. Construction on the Armory is expected to begin at an early date.

Bailey President Of A C Faculty Club

Beginning its second year this spring, Alabama College's Faculty Club will be headed during 1953 by Dr. Paul C. Bailey as its new president. He succeeds Ralph W. Sears, charter president.

Other newly elected officers of this social organization which meets regularly at the Faculty Club House, overlooking the College Lake, are Sidney Seegers as vice president, and Ruth Lee, secretary-treasurer.

Other retiring officers are Elizabeth Stockton, who was vice president, and Mary Ida Flowers, former secretary-treasurer.

Mr. C. G. Sharp, Mr. Harrison Sharp and Susan drove to Decatur on Jan. 3rd and spent two days looking over Susan's and her father's farm. They also visited with Mr. Harrison Sharp at his farm.

L. C. Mullins, Sr. Died Last Saturday

Luther C. Mullins, Sr., prominent Helena merchant and civic leader died late Saturday at a Birmingham hospital after a brief illness.

Mr. Mullins had been a merchant in Helena for 40 years while taking an inspiring lead in church, civic and school affairs of the community.

At the time of his death he was Sunday School superintendent of the Helena Baptist Church, church treasurer, Sunday School teacher and a deacon.

He was a former member of the Shelby County Board of Education, an active member of the Civitan Club, a Woodman of the World and a trustee of the Helena School.

He was a native of Chilton County, where he taught school several years before setting up business in Helena.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs Nell Davidson Mullins; four sons, Charles D. and L. C. Mullins, Jr., of Birmingham; Kenneth Mullins of Helena, and William J. Mullins of the U. S. Army; a daughter, Mrs. Fred Jackson Martin of Birmingham; two brothers, Halcy H. Mullins of Du Quoin, Ill., and Fred F. Mullins of Helena, and five grandchildren.

Services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Helena Baptist Church, the Rev. Patrick Minshew officiating. Burial was in Helena Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Grady announce the birth of a son, William Henry.

New Movie Release By Southern Bell

S. C. Stutts, Southern Bell Telephone Company Manager, said here today a new full-color motion picture telling the dramatic story of the South's enormous industrial growth has been produced by the Southern Bell and is available for free showings to interested groups.

The 20-minute, 16mm. sound film highlights the tremendous expansion of the South's new manufacturing might, Mr. Stutts said. Free loans of the picture may be arranged by contacting any Southern Bell business office.

"The film, in addition to other features, pictures the South's new and booming shipyards, steel mills and automobile assembly plants in action," the manager said. "It also shows defense facilities of the region, including scenes at the new top-secret Savannah River Project."

The film is titled "For Progress —Call Dixie!" and includes scenes of Southern construction on the recent developments of telephone communication — coaxial cable and radio relay.

"The new picture, made for the Southern Bell by a Southern film producer, is a good example of the way Dixie's businesses are boosting the industrial growth of our section," Mr. Stutts added.

Camera crews make scenes of a Radio Relay Tower during production of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company's new 16mm color release, "For Progress . . . Call Dixie!", which features the theme of growth and development of the South. Prints of the film may be borrowed free from any Southern Bell business office.

Mr. "Z" Gives Piano Recital

Miecislaw Ziolkowski, professor of music at Alabama College and noted pupil of Ignace Paderewski, will present his annual piano recital Friday, January 9, at 8:00 p.m. in Palmer Hall on the campus of Alabama College.

Born in Poland, Professor Ziolkowski studied under Poland's famed musician Paderewski in Switzerland. Before coming to Alabama College Ziolkowski taught at the Stern Conservatory in Germany, the Warsaw Conservatory in Poland and the Columbia School of Music in Chicago.

Friday night's recital will include: Ballet Music from "Alceste" —Gluck-St. Saens, Impromptu, Op. 142, No. I—Schubert, Waldstein Sonata — Beethoven, Barcarole, Mazurka in A Minor, Mazurka in C Major, Scherzo in C Sharp Minor all by Chopin, and Ziolkowski's own composition, Witches' Dance.

Mrs. Luda H. Gresky spent the holidays in Oak Ridge Tenn., with her son, Alan, and his family.

Work Started On Grading Site For Westinghouse

Work was started Wednesday on grading the site of the new Westinghouse plant at the Lawler place on Highway 25 between Calera and Montevallo.

The Towns of Montevallo and Calera jointly raised $20,000 (ten thousand each) to do the required rough grading on the site to put it in shape for the contractor to begin construction on the buildings. According to prior announcement of Westinghouse, it is planned for construction on the plant to begin in February.

The Town of Montevallo has plans under way to extend the municipal water system to serve the plant, also to furnish Natural Gas required in its operation. No construction is required to furnish gas as the present Montevallo gas main extends along the highway side of the building site.

Montevallo Music Weekly Broadcast

Alabama College's "Music From Montevallo" series of half hour of pipe organ programs, regularly scheduled once a week over WAPI and WAFM in Birmingham, will be heard twice each week on Saturday afternoons at 1:30 and each Sunday at 9:30, beginning January 10th.

Featuring Putnam Porter, Alabama College organist at the console of the college pipe organ, "Music From Montevallo" is produced and tape recorded by the college radio service. In addition to the Birmingham stations, "Music from Montevallo" is carried by twenty Alabama radio stations and is heard in Europe and the Near East.

Last year the series of classical music programs was carried over the Voice of America to Europe and the Near East, and in Egypt by the Egyptian State Broadcasting network.

Mr. Porter, who holds his A.B. degree from the University of Chattanooga and received his Master of Music from Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, joined the Alabama College faculty in 1949.

Splicing coaxial cables—heavy duty carriers of telephone conversations and television programs—is an exacting job. This is a scene made during production of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company's new 16mm color film, "For Progress . . . Call Dixie!", which features growth and development in the South. Prints of the film may be borrowed free from any Southern Bell business office.

Charlie Sez:

As we begin a new year, I wish to convey my appreciation to my friends and customers for your friendship, patronage and goodwill during the past year.

It is a pleasure for me to serve you in a business way, but it is a greater pleasure for me to be able to mix into our business relations a full measure of friendship and neighborliness.

Your business has made it possible for me to make my bread—but I know that man can not live by bread alone. Business alone can become a cold-blooded process if we do not constantly mix with it the proper proportion of the milk of human kindness.

Employment Reaches All-Time High

Montgomery, Ala. — Non-Agricultural employment reached an all time high as of mid-November when 689,100 people were shown on the payrolls of Alabama's industries, according to a report released by Joe L. Coleman, Director of Industrial Relations. Dierct comparability with the same month a year ago was not meaningful as a steel strike occurred at that time. Since the first of the year, estimated employment has increased by approximately 28,000. About 40 per cent of this expansion was in manufacturing, and government accounted for about 21 per cent.

Employment in machinery factories increased by 400 from the previous month, continuing the upward trend first noted in the early part of 1950. Most of the existing plants expanded over that period, but new industry accounted for a considerable amount of the gain. Current employment was estimated to be 9,800. This compared with 8,400 a year ago and 5,900 during the early part of 1950.

Ship and boatbuilding employment declined by 1,200 from October, a loss off-set by a 600 increase in Aircraft, and other phases of transportation equipment. The industry reported current employment of 10,700 which compared with 7,200 for the same month last year.

Primary Metals continued to expand production following the summer steel strike. Recovery from a temporary labor dispute in one foundry was the main reason for the 800 gain over the previous month. Lumber and wood products employment increased 900 over the month but the level of 39,800 was about 1,000 below the figure of a year ago.

The non-durable segment of industry was fairly steady with only minor variations among the various groups. Textile mills added 400 which continued the uptrend noted during recent months.

Contract construction work reached a peak for the year during August and has been on the decline since that time, with a loss of 1,000 from October to November.

Coal mining employment was up by 500 over the October figure as some workers, temporarily displaced by the close down of a mine, were absorbed in other mines.

Have you ever thought about the part your Telephone Company plays in the life of this Community, the State and the Nation? Here are some things it does:

1. Pays good wages to its employees—money that is spent largely in the employee's home town.
2. Pays large amounts in taxes that go to support government, education and public institutions.
3. Takes part, both as a Company and as individuals, in many worthwhile civic endeavors.
4. Provides the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

Accepting the responsibilities of citizenship, we believe, is an important part of good telephone service to this community.

Start Pullets Early and Make More Profit

Alabama poultrymen and research workers have found that pullets started in December, January, and February are more profitable than late hatched pullets.

John Weeks, API Extension poultry specialist, points out that pullets started during this time grow off better, have less disease, lay more eggs, for a longer period, and lay more eggs when egg prices are high.

For example, hens on test at API Experiment Station from 1946 through 1950 made the following records: Those started from Jan. 1 through Feb. 10 laid 209 eggs. Those started from March 1 through April 14 laid 183 eggs.

"Therefore," says Weeks, "now is the time to get pullets started."

Pasture Irrigation Grows In Importance

More dairymen are interested in pasture irrigation than ever before, finds Lawrence Ennis, API Extension soil engineer.

For the past three years drouths have made feed billls go up and milk production come down. As a result, the number of irrigation systems installed by dairymen has more than doubled each of the past three years.

"A good, well-designed portable sprinkler system seems to be practical, especially where an ample supply of water is available," states Ennis. "And while the initial cost of irrigation equipment is high, there is very little depreciation for many years."

One of The Keys to Successful Dairying

Good feeding and care of the dairy herd means greater profits, declares Pete Turnham, API Extension dairy specialist.

By studying the needs of each animal througohut the year, feed can be edjusted to each animal's production and size, stage of lactation, and the quality of pasture or hay.

Alabama dairy herd improvement association records show that high producing cows eat more feed, but at the same time they make their owners a greater profit.

"So, good feeding is one of the keys to successful dairying," states the specialist.

For Longer Service Build Fence Right

When properly built, a good fence will give a farmer very little trouble for many years. However, when carelessly built, a fence can cause constant waste of time, labor, and money.

J. T. Gaillard, API Extension specialist in farm mechanization, explains that improperly set posts, badly prepared ground, ill-fitting gates, loosely fastened wire and incorrect stretching take their toll in reducing the usefulness of a fence.

"Poor fence building is only a little easier than doing the job properly," says the specialist. "Doing it wrong saves very little material and labor, and these small savings will be offset many times by the cost of repairs that will have to be made later on."

Applying Lime

A good rule of thumb is to use one ton of pure ground limestone per acre on sandy soils and two to three tons per acre on clay soils. And the lime should be spread evenly.

Three Hunting Seasons Closed

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 1—Three major Alabama hunting seasons closed today ending shooting of deer, turkey and squirrels throughout the state.

This did not completely stop the Alabama hunters' sport, however, because seasons on certain game animals and birds, and waterfowl remained open.

The squirrel season was closed in all portions of the state lying south of U. S. Highway 80 as of today. The season closed north of Highway 80 on December 15.

The seasons remaining open until January 10 include dove and waterfowl with the exception of the woodcock shooting season which closed Dec. 30 and wilson snipe which was not opened this year.

Also, the quail, o'possum, raccoon and rabbit seasons will be open through Feb. 20.

Smart Styling of '53 Chevrolets

Front-end styling of the completely re-designed Chevrolets accentuates the appearance of power and fleetness in the new line. As shown above, the surface of the hood this year extends farther forward before curving abruptly down to the radiator grille. Adding its note of beauty and distinction, the outer rim of the grille encircles the parking lamps and center bar mounting three decorative "prop bars." Increased performance, comfort and convenience are outstanding features of the 1953 Chevrolet line.

MOST ADVANCED HYDRAULIC SYSTEM IN ANY TRACTOR

NEW FORD TRACTOR

Now, in the new Golden Jubilee Model, Ford Tractor engineers have carried a time-proved hydraulic system to a new high in speed of response, lifting power, dependability and wide usefulness.

This Live-Action hydraulic system gives almost instant action at all times when the tractor engine is running. It handles larger implements and heavier loads. And, with Hy-Trol, it acts even faster when desired. Also possible is an almost unlimited variety of remote cylinder* operations. In addition to all the time-proved advantages of the Ford Tractor's built-in hydraulic system, you get a choice of hydraulic speeds, quick hook-up, smooth operation of remote cylinders* and the ability to handle bigger loads.

The more you learn about the new Ford Tractor the more you will find that it can bring new ease and speed to your farming—new economy, too. Come in—look it over!

Influenza Deaths In Alabama

Montgomery, Ala. — Considerably more Alabamians succumbed to influenza in 1951 than in 1950, according to the State Department of Health. However, the Department pointed out today that the 1951 total was smaller than the annual five-year average for the period from 1945 to 1949, inclusive.

Alabama influenza deaths numbered 300 in 1951, according to a provisional tabulation prepared by the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics. Provisional reports for 1950 show that 258 influenza deaths were reported during that year. The average for the years between 1945 and 1949, inclusive, was 319 a year.

The provisional 1950 and 1951 reports used in preparing the announcement may differ slightly from the final reports not yet available. The 1945-49 reports are final.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Congress started last week's activities by making the November presidential election official.

A joint House-Senate session was held on Tuesday to make an official count of the votes cast when the Electoral College met last month. The final count totaled 442 electoral votes for Gen. Eisenhower and Sen. Nixon and 89 votes for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket.

Following the count, Congress was flooded with bills calling for election law changes. Some of the proposals asked to do away with Electoral College entirely, but the majority were aimed at making certain changes in the present electoral system.

Rep. Albert Rains of Alabama's fifth district introduced one of the bills. His bill would pre-rate or divide a state's electoral votes in proportion to the state's popular vote. The present system gives all a state's electoral votes to the candidate with the most popular votes, regardless of how close the opposition's popular vote may be to the votes of the winning candidate.

Another election change bill calls for amending the Constitution to lower the minimum voting age to 18.

Even with all the current interest in altering the election laws, it will probably be sometime before Congress begins work on this legislation since such issues as the Korean War and reduction of Federal expenses will probably get prior consideration.

Visits Pentagon

An interesting experience was a conference I was privileged to attend Tuesday at the Pentagon which is the center of the Nation's defense network. Here I was briefed by Army officials on the present military situation and various Army Department procedures.

The following day I listened to President Truman's annual State of the Union message. For the first time in his presidential career, Truman did not deliver his address in person. Although it was one of the longest reports he ever presented, the President did not recommend any legislation. He said such recommendations should come only from President-elect Eisenhower. General Eisenhower is expected to deliver his legislative program to Congress soon after his inauguration January 20. It is rumored his address may be made on February 3.

Thursday morning at 8:15 I learned, first-hand, that Congressmen do find time for religious observance during a legislative work. It was a pleasure for me to attend the first 1953 meeting of the Breakfast Club, a group of Congressmen from both major parties who meet weekly for breakfast. This breakfast is followed by a discussion of some religious subject. Because of the club's inspirational activities, I plan to attend its meetings as often as possible, and I hope that I can give you a more detailed account of one of it's meetings in this column at a later date.

Ala. Delegation Meets

Later in the day I enjoyed this year's first weekly meeting of the Alabama Congressional Delegation. The group is composed of Alabama's nine representatives and it's two senators. It was a pleasure for me to have as my guests for the first meeting, Jeff Coleman, business manager of the University of Alabama's athletic department, and Dean A. B. Moore, head of the graduate school at the University. Along with Coach Harold Drew, they were in Washington to attend meetings of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. At this first meeting of the Alabama Delegation, I was elected Secretary of the group for the coming year.

Warrior Lock and Dam

Included in the budget admitted on Friday, was an estimate of $1,900,000 for the fiscal year 1954 for the Warrior Lock and Dam which will be located in the sixth district. This, of course, is President Truman's budget and many items will undoubtedly be cut but you can be sure the delegation from Alabama will make a fight to keep this item intact. In the event this sum is appropriated by Congress, it will be the first appropriated for the Warrior Lock and Dam for construcction purposes.

Committee Assignments Unsettled

Republican and Democratic leaders have not reached a decision on the size of various standing or permanent committees in the House. As a result, new members of Congress are still awaiting their committee assignments. With Republicans holding the majority of seats in the House, they will have several more party members on each committee than the Democrats. Since the division of Democrats and Republicans is so close, it may necessitate some Democrats giving up their present committee positions. With all the turn-over and reshuffling of committee memberships, the possibilities of a real choice of committee for new Democratic members is doubtful. However, every committee is an important one, and my main interest is in working hard on any committee to which I am assigned.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wooten had as their guests over the holidays Mr. and Mrs. Ray Goodgame and Bobby of Tallahassee, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jeter Phillips of Birmingham.

Income Tax Man Here February 9

While most taxpayers will be able to prepare their returns themselves, a representative of the Internal Revenue Service will be at Post Office, Montevallo, Ala., on February 9, 1953 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to give any advice or assistance needed. No charge will be made for this service.

When and Where To File

Your income-tax return for the calendar year 1952 must be filed not later than March 15, 1953, with the U. S. Director (formerly Collector) of Internal Revenue for the district in which you live or have your principal place of business.

Pay As You Go

Most taxpayers have already made substantial payments on their 1952 Federal tax through withholding from their wages or direct paymetns to the Director, but nevertheless, all taxpayers must file annual returns on or before March 15, 1953, as provided by law.

Who Must File

Any person whose total income in 1952 was $600 or more.

Refunds

No refund can be made unless a return is filed.

Form To Use

Use either Form 1040 or 1040A. Attach all original copies of Withholding Statements (Form W-2) to your return.

Montevallo Student Gets Poem Published

An Alabama College sophomore who has been "always interested in writing" will see her first published work in the 1953 edition of the American Anthology of College Poetry.

Barabra Baker, 18-year old English major from Calera, has received notice that her poem, "I Saw a Snow-White Lily," will be printed in this annual publication.

This versatile sophomore has reported for the college newspaper for two years and also is an engineer for the college radio station. Studying creative writing under Robert Payne, noted British authror-in-residence on the Montevallo camus, "Babs" says she had no idea her poem would be published.

Relating how she entered a copy ofthe poem written for a sophomore literature class, "Babs" declares she promptly forgot all about it and was taken completely by surprise when she learned the work had been accepted for publication.

In fact, her interests are so diversified that "Babs" confesses she can hardly remember her major subject. "I change my major so often I must stop to think what it is," she laughingly asserts.

Member of the International Relations Club and Sociology Club on campus, "Babs" has decided that her interest in social work must take a second place to radio, for she plans to center her vocation around some field in radio.

Henry Lee Gree Is Bibb Chairman

Henry Lee Gree, principal of the Bibb County High School, has been appointed as Bibb County Chairman of the Crusade for Freedom, it is announced this week by Dr. Houston Cole, presdient of Jacksonville State State Teachers College and State Chairman of the campaign.

Henry Ford II is National Chairman and the National Committee is composed of General Dwight Eisenhower, James A. Farley, Charles P. Taft, Charles E. Wilson, General Lucius Clay, and others.

The Crusade for Freedom was organized two years ago for the purpose of combatting the Russian lies behind the Iron Curtain. Thirteen radio stations located in Berlin, Lisbon, and Guam are broadcasting the truth every day, hour after hour.

The campaign is featured by two facts: Every penny contributed goes directly to the cause for which it is given. A national foundation is financing the cost of the literature for the campaign. The Crusade gives the individual an opportunity to make a direct contribution toward fighting Communism.

The State Executive Committee is composed of the following men and women who represent every phase of activity: Col. Marry M. Ayers, Rabbi Augene Blachschleger, Dr. John H. Buchanan, Bishop C. D. J. Carpenter, George Cox, Milton Cummings, Dr. Henry Edmonds, Mrs. Joseph W. Eshelman, Grady Grinstead, Cary Haigler, Grover Hall, Mrs. James Fitts Hill, J. C. Inzer, Neil Kilgore, Mrs. R. W. # Local Dealer Offers 'Road Test Ride' in '53 Dodge

Motorists by the thousands are taking "Road Test Rides" in new 1953 Coronet V-Eight Dodge. Dealers everywhere report wide-spread interest in the 12 key points of Dodge performance demonstrated by the "Road Test Ride."

Bowdon Motor Co. Offers Test Drive For New Dodge

R. E. Bowdon, Jr., owner of Bowdon Motor and Implement Co., announced a "Road Test Ride" program to familiarize the motoring public with the 140-horsepower Red Ram V-8 engine and other outstanding new features of the 1953 Dodge.

Mr. Bowdon said the Road Test Ride was a part of a nation-wide effort to provide motorists with an opportunity to get behind the wheeel of the all-new Dodge.

"Psychologically, the power, responsiveness and maneuverability of the new Dodge are ideally suited for present day traffic congestion and parking problems. This is especially true for women drivers," Mr. Bowdon maintained.

"Since the introduction of the 1953 model, we have discovered that the public sells itself behind the wheel of the new Dodge. That is the reason we are providing a first-hand opportunity to experience this new form of driver mastery. It definitely gives you a feeling of control," Mr. Bowdon declared.

Motorists may take the Road Test by calling upon Bowdon Motor & Implement Co., between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. According to Mr. Bowdon they will be under no obligation except to complete the 12 check points which demonstrate the outstanding features of the new Dodge.

The 12 check points of the Road Test Ride include break-away acceleration with Gyro-Torque drive, traffic maneuverability, engine economy, increased roominess and visibility, no roll or sway on curves short turning radius and easy to steer, "scat" gear pick-up for passing, hill-climbing ability, highway handling and control, road leveling action of Oriflow shock absorbers, brake safety with less dipping and easier parking.

Deaths From Polio Show Big Increase

Montgomery, Ala., — Nearly twice as many Alabama deaths were attributed to poliomyelitis in 1951 as in 1950. Moreover, the 1951 total exceeded the annual average for 1945-49, inclusive, by more than two and a half to one. The announcement was made today by the State Department of Health.

The Department revealed, on the basis of reports that were partly provisional and partly final, that 41 poliomyelitis deaths were reported in 1951. The 1950 total was given as only 22. There was an average of only 16 Alabama poliomyelitis deaths a year during the five-year period from 1945 until 1949, inclusive.

The provisional reports upon which the Department's announcement was based in part, as well as the final report covering the five-year average, were prepared by the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics. The former may differ slightly from the final reports not yet available.

Medical Seminar To Be On TV

Arrangements have been made with Stationa WAFM-TV to televise the sixth postgraduate seminar of the Alabama Academy of General Practice, which will be held at the Medical College of Alabama, Birmingham, on Jaunary 21 and 22.

"We are very happy to be able to use this medium," said Dr. A. F. Wilkerson (Marion), President of the Academy, "as it will allow us a better view of the proceedings than would be possible otherwise." The television cameras will be set up in an operating and a clinic room, and the visiting physicians will view the program while gathered around TV screens set up in another building.

Although the use of a closed circuit, such as will be used, for the purpose of scientific instruction has been used some elsewhere, it is the first time it has been employed in Alabama or the southeast, if present knowledge be correct.

This seminar is a part of a series conducted by the Medical College for the Academy. To remain a member of the Academy of General Practice each physician must complete a prescribed number of hours in postgraduate study over each three year period. Thus the physicians keep abreast of the latest developments in the science of medicine and by so doing are qualified to bring better medical practice to their patients.

The program for this seminar is listed as follows: "Ligation of the Veins", Champ Lyons, M. D.; "Chest Diseases", Dr. Arthur J. Viehman; "Removal of Skin Tumors," Dr. Ray O. Noojin, Dr. Joe Sewell; "Chest Diseases", Dr. A. H. Russakoff; "Practical Points in Fractures", Dr. Charles H. Wilson; "Anesthesiology in Obstetrics", Dr. Alfred Habeeb; "Cesarean Section", Dr. E. B. Oliver, Dr. J. C. Carmichael; "Eye Responsibilities the General Practitioner Should Assume", Dr. Alston Callahan, Dr. John Martin; "Proctology", Dr. Julius E. Linn, Dr. William J. Rosser, Dr. Edward J. Peterson; "Hepatitis", Dr. Tinsley R. Harrison; and "Clinical Pathological Conference", Dr. James S. McLester, Dr. Joseph A. Cunningham.

Besides the scientific sessions there will be a business meeting at which new officers will be elected and a banquet. The banquet will be held at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel on Wednesday evening, January 21. The speaker on this occasion will be Dr. Paul Williamson, Head of the General Practice Department of the Medical College of the University of Tennessee. Dr. Williamson's subject will be "Simplicity."

Highway Markers To Be Put Up

Nine historical highway markers will be erected and dedicated in Alabama within the next two weeks by the Alabama Historical Association, reports Rucker Agee, Marker Chairman.

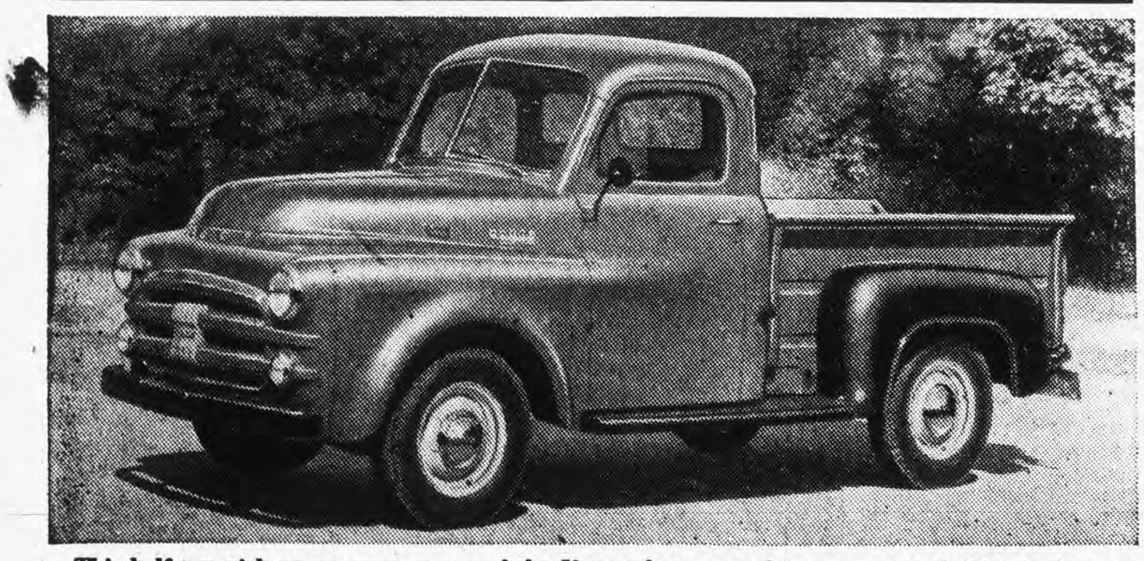

Six will be dedicated in Butler County on January 24, and three in Autauga County on January 28.

The markers will be erected in memory of the Creek Indian Confederacy, Fort Bibb, the Butler Massacre, the Ogly Massacre, Gary's Stockade, and Fort Dale in Butler County and the Pratt Gin Factory, Albert J. Pickett and the Alibamo Indians in Autauga County.

POWER that Pur-r-r-s

when the going gets tough!

NEW FORD TRACTOR

The reserve of power you want when the going suddenly gets tougher is here in this new Ford Tractor. Just take a look at its new Ford "Red Tiger" engine and you'll see why.

You'll see a new overhead valve engine, with big bore and short stroke that cuts the travel of each piston approximately 5 miles in a working day, reducing friction and helping to make possible greater power with new economy of gas and oil. You'll see an engine with big, rotating exhaust valves, new lightning-fast governor and dozens of other examples of advanced engineering. Ignition is completely weatherproofed. All oil is normally filtered every time around. The whole engine is extra strong, extra rigid as well as extra powerful.

The more you know about tractor engines, the bigger kick you'll get out of looking over the one in the new Ford Tractor. The more you know about tractors, the better you'll realize that here is the most modern tractor on today's market. Come in today . . . look it over!

James Whaley Went To The Chicago Furniture Market

James Whaley has just returned home from a trip to the American Furniture Mart in Chicago, Ill., where he went to see what was new in the way of Furniture and Appliances for the coming year.

He said some of the latest innovations were in the field of appliances. Bendix has a new machine on the market now that is a combination washer and dryer all in the same unit. G. E. showed a new refrigerator (not yet in production) which looked like a partition wall cabinet. This has buttons, which when pressed automatically delivered ice water, ice cubes or crushed ice.

There was much to be seen in the field of home furnishings because the majority of nationally distributed furniture lines were displayed at this market. The building being a block square and 17 stories high.

The outlook is that modern furniture will be the popular choice in bedroom furniture, more so this year than in previous years, is because of the need for more compact and utilitarian furniture for the smaller rooms of today's homes.

There is a greater variety of woods and finishes on the market now. Walnut and Cherry are coming back and becomming popular. Pine and limed oak furniture are also in evidence. Cherry being especially popular in the traditional and early American designs. Naturally the change in these stylings hasn't been great. However, the double dresser is taking the place of the vanity in many bedroom suites.

Because of the variety of synthetic fabrics available, the new upholstered goods are beautiful. The scenic prints being especially pretty.

He reports that the food in Chicago was wonderful, but that the weather was terrible. Temperatures of from 5 to 15 above zero up there made Alabama a good place to come home to.

Gary Graffman Noted Pianist

Gary Graffman, nationally known pianist will be presented as third event in Alabama College's 1952-53 Concert and Lecture Series when he appears in concert at Palmer Auditorium at 8 p. m. Monday, January 19.

Outstanding young pianist, Graffman gained prominence as the only winner of the first Rachmaninoff Fund Piano Contest for 1947. He was also recipient of its Special Award in 1948, and was winner of the 1949 Leventritt Contest.

His award in the Leventritt Contest was three appearances with major orchestras in 1950. He played with the New York Philharmonic Symhony; the Buffalo Philharmonic; and with the Cleveland orchestra. The young pianist was presented in recital at Carnegie Hall, in 1948, as part of his Rachmaninoff Fund Award.

The 25 year old pianist began his music studies when he was four and gave his first public performance at the age of eight, that won him a ten year scholrarship to the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia.

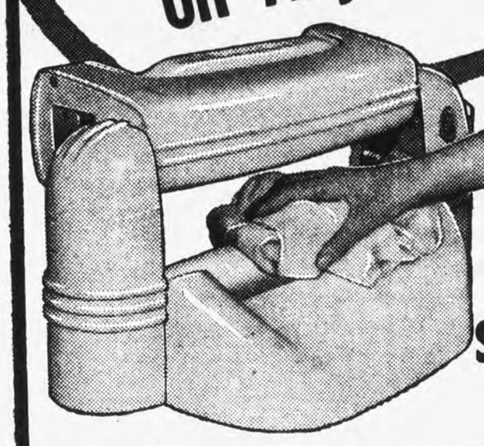

Other events of the college concert and lecture series this spring will be a presentation of "Candle Light" by Bliss Reartorp Theatre, Feb. 4; Herbert Levinson, violin concert-master with the Birmingham Civic Symphony, March 16; and a return engagement of Jose Limon and his modern dance team, on March 30.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. D. Pendleton had as their week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Pendleton and Marsha and Betty Pendleton from Birmingham.

Plan Expansion Of Farm Program

CLANTON, Jan. 13—The agricultural committee of the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce has voted to expand its efforts in promoting the farm products produced in Chilton County.

At a meeting in the county agent's office the committee adopted a program to put the Chamber on record again to sponsor the Chilton County Peach Festival as well as to assist and promote the new poultry industry that now is beginning to take hold in the county.

Many farmers have become interested in the wire cage laying methods to produce eggs.

Four or five carloads of Chilton County farmers will tour the poultry experiment station at Auburn. The caravan will leave the Chilton County Courthouse at 8 a. m. tomorrow.

The Chamber's agricultural committee also voted to continue its support and to help promote the growing dairy industry in the county, which has grown in value by several hundred thousands of dollars during the last 12 months.

The Chamber's agricultural committee is headed by M. R. (Red) Glasscock. Others include James Dennis, Chick Carleton, P. J. Norwood, Pope Payne and Olin Fields.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Committee assignments and changes highlighted the week's activities in Congress. Both the House and Senate entered the final stages of organizing their standing or permanent committees.

The House changed its rules to permit Republican members to serve on more than one major committee. Republican floor leader, Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R.-Ind.), said this was done to overcome his party's slim majority in the House. With 221 Republicans to 211 Democratic members in the House, it is necessary the Republicans fill at least 237 committee posts to be certain they will have a majority on every committee. Rep. Halleck said the rules were changed for this Congress only to meet "a special situation."

I was very fortunate in being appointed to the important Committee on Veterans Affairs which is responsible for handling all veterans legislation in Congress. Unlike most House committees, it has no "twin" committee in the Senate.

Because of the many military installations in our State, the other Alabama representatives and I had hoped for my appointment to the Armed Services Committee. However, an Armed Services appointment for me at this particular time was impossible since there were vacancies for only three Democrats. These vacancies were filled by Democrats who had served in Congress for at least two terms previously and held seniority over me.

A major committee, the present Veterans Affairs Commitete was formed during the 79th Congress under the Legislative Reorganization Act. The committee was actually a consolidation of three former House committees which had divided phases of veterans legislation among themselves. The present Committee is responsible for legislation affecting 19 and one-half million veterans in the United States.

Many to View White House

At this writing all of Washington is busy planning inauguration services and festivities. Flooded with visitors, the Capitol is putting its best foot firward to be sure all who visit this city will not be disappointed in its hospitality, its historic buildings, and its beautiful scenery.

One of the main sightseeing attranctions is, of course, the White House. Many inauguration visitors will view it for the first time. For a number of others, it will be the first time they have seen this historic building since its face-lifting which was completed in March, 1952. I am looking forward to a tour of the "new" White House myself within the next few days.

The first public building to be erected in Washington, the palatial White House has been the home of Presidents of the United States for more than a century and a half. Its cornerstone was laid on October 13, 1792, after George Washington had selected the site; but it was not finished for occupancy until President and Mrs. John Adams moved in sometime during November, 1800.

During the War of 1812 British forces captured Washington and burned the White House to almost complete destruction. A re-building program was begun in 1815, and the White House was ready for President Monroe when he moved in during December, 1817.

Throughout its history the White House has kept in step with modern improvements. Water was piped into it in 1834, and gas lighting introduced in 1848. Other chanegs, including wiring for electricity, were made as needed. A swimming pool was added while Franklin D. Roosevelt was President in order that he, a polio victim, could use the pool daily for his health.

A thorough examination of the White House in 1948 proved the house was in an extremely run-down condition structurally. This examination inspired Congress to appropriate a total of $5,761,000 for its complete renovation. President Truman and his family moved across Pennsylvania Avenue to historic Blair House when the rebuilding program was started in 1949. With various difficulties hampering their progress, constrction crews did not complete the renovation until the spring of 1952.

The present White House includes 107 rooms and 20 baths and showers. Before the renovation there were 62 rooms and 14 baths. Previous to the renovation there was only one elevator; now there are five.

Eighteenth Century furnishings predominate throughout the White House, although all furniture of historical importance has been retained.

An interesting fact about the social life of the White House is that there was only one wedding ever to take place in this famous home. The wedding of President Grover Cleveland to Miss Frances Folson took place there on June 2, 1886. The two were married in the historic Blue Room which is famous for its elliptical shape.

More Veto Power

A bill destined to gain importance in Congress soon is one which gives the President authority to veto specific items in appropriations bills. After its introduction in the House, it was referred to the Judiciary Committee for study.

The present law limits the President's veto power on appropriations bills. He must either accept the entire bill as it comes to him from Congress or must veto the whole measure. Supporters of the proposed bill contend the President should be allowed to disapprove of parts of an appropriations bill without vetoing its entire contents.

Visitors

Visitors in our office this week from Shelby County included Mr. Eugene D. Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. O'Neal and children, Robert and Peggy. We enjoyed their visits and are looking forward to seeing many others from Shelby County and other parts of the Sixth District during the inaugural festivities.

First Services Held At Episcopal Church

St. Andrews Episcopal Church held it's first services Sunday morning, January 11, at eleven o'clock in the morning.

Father Robert Y. Marlow is Vicar. He is also Rector of St. Andrews in Birmingham.

Almost thirteen years ago the Episcopal Church was destroyed by a tornado. The new Church was built by contributions made to the Bishop's Youth Fund.

Plans are being made to hold open house for all the people in Montevallo who contributed to the fund.

In the near future Consecration of the Chapel will be held.

The building consists of the Chapel and connecting Parish house, which will provide a place for entertainment.

The schedule for the Chapel is as follows: Sunday morning services — 11 a.m.; Daily morning Prayer services — 11 a.m.; Holy Communion every second Sunday — 4:30 p.m.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

Montevallo Takes Double Bill

The Montevallo Bulldogs took their third straight game December 15 by defeating the Thompson Warriors of Siluria, 53-21, at the Warriors Court.

The game was a see-saw affair until half-time when the score was 19-11. Then the Bulldogs came to life in the second half to their opponents' 10. The Bulldog attack was led by Bunn and Anthony who made 19 and 17 points respectively. Sharp led the Warriors with 9 points.

Montevallo's Bees had smooth sailing all the way and took their game by the overwhelming score of 35-5. Galloway led the Bullpups with 10 points.

Mrs. Harry Kendrick, Harriet, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Warren and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Edwards went to Montgomery Sunday to see Harry, who is in the Veterans' Hospital. He is much improved now.

Spring Creek Valley Grove Home Club

The Spring Creek-Valley Grove Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. H. J. and Mrs. Carrie Ingram on Wednesday, Jan. 14. The newly installed officers had charge of the meeting.

Mrs. Sam Knowles, president, made plans for our year's work. The devotional was given by Mrs. Carrie Ingram.

Mrs. Lawson Ingram led the prayer.

Reports were given by the ladies attending the Workshop.

Sewing for spastic children was chosen for one of our projects. The demonstration, "Casserole Dishes," was very interestingly given by Mrs. Herbie Ingram. Mrs. Ingram showed us each in preparing chicken vegetables, meat and rice, casserole. These delicious dishes with salad, cookies and cocoa were served to eighteen ladies and several children.

We were glad to have our new assistant agents, Mrs. McClure and Miss McKay, with us.

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

The vegetable weevil is a wintertime pest in Alabama home gardens that should be controlled.

W. A. Ruffin, API Extension entomologist, points out that the normally cream-colored worms are often quite green in color when they are feeding on leaves of cabbage, turnips, or other green foliage. They are about one-fourth inch long.

The worms stay just under the surface of the soil most of the time but emerge at night and eat small holes in vegetable leaves. The worms also burrow in the roots of beets, carrots, and turnips.

"To control these pests," says Ruffin, "dust the ground and infested plants with 10 per cent DDT or one per cent rotenone once a week. Only rotenone should be used to dust cabbage, turnips, or vegetables if tops of plants ar to be used for food."

Pigs Saved Are Dollars Earned

Every pig saved puts dollars in the grower's pocket, and it really takes about five pigs per litter to break even.

"Therefore," states C. B. Phillips, API Extension specialist, "the sixth pig in each litter is really the first money-making pig."

Realizing these facts, many farmers are finding that farrowing jackets are crates are excellent pig savers or money makers during the farrowing season.

Planting Trees

Farmers agree that now is the time to plant forest seedlings. They may be planted as late as March 11, but usually early planting in the southern part of the state gives the best results.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

We would guess that the five luckiest heifers in Shelby County are those just turned to graze on a one-foot-high oats and Chapel Hill Rescue pasture at the Montevallo farm of the Alabama College. I. P. Johnson mixed the two crops and heavily manured the field to get a heavy grazing stand and a good reseeding stand of the rescue.

Mr. Johnson used 400 pounds of FFA grown seed in planting this rescue and a broadcast planting on the large bottom pasture just in front of the dairy. On the pasture originally planted to grass and clover, the rescue is growing nicely.

At the other end of the county J. M. Snyder has a successful planting of the C. H. Rescue grass that he will remove his cattle from about March 1, topdress with ammonia, and grow a seed crop.

If you have doubts about the value of sericea as a land builder here's what Mr. Snyder has to say about a garden he grew last year on ground on which sericea had been grown for several years: "The best garden we have ever grown, and one of the worst years to have one, due to the drought."

A natural spillway that will spread overflow water thinly over a 150 foot width, already sodded in sericea and C. H. Rescue was used when Jimmie Rowe built a dam to form a four or five acre lake on his Vincent farm. He used two bulldozers to build a dam to S.C.S design, scooped out the shallow areas to give a 2 foot minimum depth, and in all respects did a fine job. An unexpected lime-sink uncovered by a 'dozer was carefully plugged with load after load of packed red clay. We hope that this is the only such hazard in the lake area and that he has a successful lake. This is always possible in limestone areas.

After leaving the Joe Kinney and James Hall farms in much better condition in regard to hedgerows, gullied areas, and clearing than when he went there, Ernest Falkner moved his bull-dozer to the Talladega county farm of George Starcher, where he will do a 20 hour face lifting job. S. S. Pierce, county FFA Supervisor says that is O. K. just so he hurries back to this county to continue helping FFA client and other Shelby county farmers with their problems. Next scheduled here is the Albright farm on Highway 25 east of Vincent.

Milestones in heart research

It was about a hundred years ago that a French physician, Rene-Theophile-Hyacinthe Laennec, held a tightly rolled cylinder of paper to a patient's chest. He found that he could hear the heart beat far more clearly than with his ear alone. Laennec's experiment led to the invention of the stethoscope, one of the greatest aids to the diagnosis of heart conditions.

Today's physician—thanks to modern heart research—has many precise instruments for diagnosing heart disease.

Progress depends on research. And research depends on dollars. So why not strike a blow at heart disease now with a generous gift to the Heart Fund.

Home Clubs Hold Annual Workshop

Ninety Home Demonstration Club Leaders representing 21 clubs met in Columbiana recently for the annual workshop and program planning. Leaders were also trained to carry out pojects in community activities, citizenship, rural youth, farm bureau, defense activities. County chairmen Mrs. F. E. Williams, Mrs. E. R. Naish, Mrs. Roma Steen, Mrs. George Bentley, Mrs. L. L. Barton, Mrs. H. A. Pauly and Mrs. Frank Wyatt conducted the training groups which also included club presidents and secretaries.

Featured on the general program a devotional by Rev. A. D. Wilson, remarks by A. A. Lauderdale and welcome by Mrs. F. E. Williams, presiding officer.

Every club member will assist in promoting better attendance at club meetings, enrolling new members and organizing three new clubs. All home demonstration club members will sponsor at least one 4-H, FFA or FHA member in their project. Clubs will emphasize and ccoperate with Red Cross Blood Banks, and sponsor first aid and nursing courses. They will continue the erection of community and church signs, mailbox improvement and stress roadside beautification. Clubs will cooperate in the County Maid of Cotton Contest. Other projects discussed will be carried out by individual clubs during the year.

Those attending were: Mrs. J. J. Owens, Mrs. Farris Oldham, Mrs. D. G. Owens, Acton; Mrs. J. T. Thornton, Mrs. Curtis Lucas, Mrs. Clyde Lawrence, Mrs. Mary Childress, Calera; Mrs. F. E. ## Laura Cleveland Tells How To Prepare Prunes

Prunes, a plentiful food, during the winter months, can be a palatable dessert, salad, or confection to add interest to cold weather meals and to eat as a between-meal snack to pick up sluggish post-holiday appetites.

During January and Febraury, prunes, along with other dried fruits, are plentiful, and are therefore good buys for the homemaker. They are not only an economical buy but are also good sources of Vitamin A, iron, thiamin and riboflavin.

Methods in cooking prunes and other dried fruits change as well as in other food products. At the present time, home economists recommend cooking the prunes without soaking. Prunes should be covered with water and cooked at a "slow boil" from thirty to forty-five minutes, or to the desired tenderness. Add water during cooking if necessary because the fruit takes up conisderable moisture. Prunes have so much natural sweetness that they don't need added sugar, but if you like them sweeter, add a small amount of sugar or honey the last five minutes of cooking.

Some housewives find that an easy way to have a supply of prunes in tasty juice is to put them in a fruit jar, cover with boiling water, screw the top on, and allow them to cool. They can be stored in the refrigerator from four to six days and no cooking is needed.

Some popular ways of using are: prune whip, prune muffins or quick bread, prune cake (in which stewed, seived prunes are added to a spice cake batter) and fruit balls.

The recipe for fruit balls is given below. They are a flavorful confection which makes a healthful substitute for candy, especially for those who need to limit their calories and for those who need simple natural sugar.

FRUIT BALLS

1 package prunes; 1 package dried apricots or peaches; 1 package dried figs; one-half cup grape juice or blackberry nectar; three-fourths cup graham cracker crumbs or finely chopped nuts. Grind all fruits in food chopper; mix with juice; form into small balls three-fourths inches in diameter; roll in crumbs or chopped nuts. —Laura Cleveland, Student Teacher Home Economics, Montevallo High School.

Social Security For Self Employed

Businessmen were advised today by M. C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham Social Security Office, that their second annual report of net earnings from self-employment is due between now and March 15, 1953. This report is filed with the Director of Internal Revenue for the district along with income tax returns. A new form has been devised to replace the one page "Schedule C" used last year. The new form consists of two pages with the same type of "tear out" slip for the part of the return which is forwarded by Collectors to the Social Security records division. This form should be completed by self-employed persons, except those specifically exempted, providing the business operator had net earnings during 1952 of $400 or more. Tax is payable at the rate of 2 and one-fourth per cent, the same as last year. $3600 is the maximum yearly earnings for which social security may be allowed.

Mr. Folmar cautioned self-employed persons that while they had made a fine record last year, with returns running 90 per cent accurate, it would still be necessary to put individual social security numbers on each year's return. Should this number have been lost or misplaced, an application for a duplicate filed now would guarantee that the business operator would have his correct account number when he is ready to file the return. Duplicate cards are suppled free by the Birmingham Social Security office, located at 1825 First Avenue, North.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Everything is returning to normal in Washington. The city is back to a regular routine after finishing its role as host to the largest number of people ever to attend a presidential inauguration.

The first Republican inauguration since 1929 is being called the most spectacular in history. It covered a three-day period jampacked with events honoring new President Eisenhower. The estimated crowd which actually saw the inauguration ceremonies was the largest ever recorded, and more people either listened to the event on radio or saw it on television than ever before.

An extra long inaugural parade made history, too. Unlike those in the past which have consumed from two to three hours, the 1953 parade took nearly five hourse to pass in review.

President Eisenhower's inauguration created still another precedent. For the first time in history the famous inaugural ball was held in two places in order to meet the unusual demand for attendance. A committee in charge of the ball reported that it processed about 15,000 tickets.

The first inaugural ball was held in 1789 when George Wahsington became President, and since that time it has become an established tradition which marks the end of festivities surrounding the inauguration of the President of the United States.

On inauguration morning at 11:15 I joined all the Congressmen in the House Chamber for a brief meeting. Afterward we marched by two's through the Capitol and out to the presidential platform where we were seated near the President. The procession through the Capitol followed a regular program and included the members of the House and Senate, the state governors, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Diplomatic Corps, the out-going cabinet and the new cabinet, and the Supreme Court Justices.

After the swearing in ceremonies for the new President and Vice-President, my wife and I viewed the colorful inaugural parade from a reviewing stand on Pennsylvania Avenue. That evening we enjoyed the Alabama State Society's reception for all the State's Congressmen; and later the same night we attended the inaugural ball.

Besides the festivities already mentioned, we had the pleasure of attending a reception in honor of the state governors on Sunday before the inauguration. The day following inauguration I took a group of 6th District visitors through the White House.

During the inauguration it was a pleasure for me to have the opportunity of seeing a number of visitors from the 6th District. I was certainly glad they could be here to witness so many of the recent history-making events.

Legislative Notes

Chairman A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) of the House Interior Committee predicts that this Congress will approve statehood for Hawii, but he adds that statehood for Alaska is "doubtful". Legislation to give statehood to both countries passed the House in the last Congres, but was not approved by the Senate. However, Rep. Miller says Hawaii's situation is somewhat changed now since several key senators have decided not to oppose Hawaii's statehood as they have done in the past.

Hawaii has petitioned Congress for statehood 17 times since 1903. Alaska's first statehood bill was introduced in 1916, but no action was taken until 1950.

Because of the increasing interest in Hawaii and Alaska, both the Democratic and Republican platforms have included a plank favoring statehood since 1944.

Congress has always required three specific qualifications for statehood. First, the inahbitants of the area must prove they are acquainted with and sympathetic to the principles of American democracy and government. Secondly, the majority of the electorate must have expressed itself as favoring statehood; and finally, the area must contain sufficient population and resources to support State government and carry its share of the cost of Federal government.

Alaska and Hawaii have both voted in favor of statehood.

Rep. Miller say she believes hearings on Hawaiian statehood will open late next month.

Another House committee has hinted that it will soon study the possibility of resuming two-day home mail deliveries. This service was cut in 1950 to one mail delivery a day for residnetial aeras.

Eight Local Students On Dean's List

Eight students from Shelby County made the first semester's Dean's list at Alabama College according to announcement by Dr. Richard C. Powers, Dean of the College.

A total of 139 students are included on this semester's honor roll. Among those, five are out-of-state students and three are from outside the continental United States.

Those Shelby County students who made first Honor Roll are: Fannie Mae Carden, Calera; Mary Willie Garrett, Vincent; and Bobbie Gene Wilson, Montevallo.

Five Shelby County students made second honor roll. They are: Ida Jo DeVaughan, Pelham; Mrs. Melville Harlin, Columbiana; Carol Hurt, Montevallo; Emily Ann Vest, Montevallo; and Lorraine Karr Weaver, Montevallo.

Students from outside the United States who made honors are: Christel Jeager, Germany; Edwina Lopez, Puerto Rico; and Rixie Torre, Puerto Rico.

Baby Killed In Accident

Little Charles Edwin Martin, 18 months old, was killed last week in the driveway of his home in Shelby. Officers said Mrs. Sadie Benson of Shelby, driver of the car, did not know the child was playing in front of the vehicle when she started to leave. She was not blamed for the death of the boy. She had been there to pick up dry cleaning.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Martin.

Funeral services were held at the Shelby Baptist Church. Burial was in the adjoining cemetery, with Bolton-Walton Funeral Directors in charge.

Turn On Your Porch Light To Fight Polio Is Theme Of Shelby County Mothers

As a climax to the 1953 March of Dimes campaign, which has been going on during the month of Jaunary under the direction of Dr. M. L. Orr, Shelby County, following the national plan, will hold its annual Mother's March on Thursday, January 29, from 6:30 to 7:30 in the evening. All who wish to share in this great and worthy undertaking should turn on their porch lights to indicate their willingness to contribute. Those who have no porch light should place a light in the window. Apartment dwellers should tie a shoe or handkerchief on the door. All donations, however small, are acceptable and appreciated. Volunteer mothers will go from door to door receiving donations. In Shelby County alone, Dr. Katherine Vickery, Chairman of the Mother's March, estimates that almost 250 mothers will participate in the March with the hundreds of thousands of mothers all over the nation.

The following woemn are serving as Community Chairman for their areas: Acton, Mrs. Oscar Harris and Mrs. Clyde Rutherford; Aldrich, Mrs. Roy Wooley; Bethel Church Area, Mrs. S. P. Stinson; Calcis, Mrs. Frances Warren; Calera, Mrs. Harry Anderson; Camp Branch, Mrs. W. C. McQueen; Chelsea, Mrs. Robert Brasher; Chelsea-Vandiver Road, Mrs. Robert Parker; Columbiana, Mrs. Conrad Fowler; Dargin, Mrs. Frank Baker and Mrs. Guy Youngblood; Dogwood, Mrs. John Green; Dry Valley, Mrs. W. L. Lollar; Dunnavant, Mrs. E. B. Bowden; Ebenezer Church Area, Mrs. S. M. Harvey; Harpersville, Mrs. L. N. Wyatt; Helena, Mrs. Rual Stark; Mayberry, Mrs. Pat Terrell; Maylene, Mrs. Bob Lacey; Montevallo, Mrs. Eugene Reynolds; Moore's Crossroads, Mrs. George Howell; New Hope Community, Mrs. Louis Armstrong and Mrs. J. M. Denson; Pelham, Mrs. Harry Jones; Shelby, Mrs. Cecil Davis; Siluria, Mrs. W. E. Stinson; Sterrett, Mrs. Ray Bruner; Vandiver, Mrs. B. H. Perry; Vincent, Mrs. Bill Denty; Westover, Mrs. H. L. Cobb; Wilsonville, Mrs. Effie Rinehart; Wilton, Mrs. W. E. Thompson; Crossroads Community on Florida Short Cut, Mrs. M. E. McLaughlin.

"Turn on your porch light to fight polio" is the theme of the special appeal by mothers of the nation in behalf of the men, women, and children who have suffered from Infantile Paralysis. The lights of American homes also will serve as a symbol of hope to those who may be stricken in the future.

The National Foundation is in debt and appeals to everyone to make as large contribution as he or she can. Be at home when the "contact mother" calls for your contribution. Half of your contribution stays in Shelby County to meet the expenses of local cases. Should this county become an epidemic area, funds from the National Foundation would be available for local use.

Montevallo's Mother's March On Polio

The following women have agreed to assist in The Mother's March on Polio by soliciting funds in the Montevallo area from 6:30 to 7:30 Thursday evening, January 29. Please have your porch light on and be generous with your contribution.

Ten Graduates This Semester

Ten Alabama girls have graduated this semester from Alabama College, Dr. Richard Powers, dean of the college, announced last week.

Seniors who received their diplomas January 16 are: Julia Nelle Shannon, 1304 Fulton Av., Birmingham; Ernestine Williams, 2508 30th St. W, Birmingham; Betty Hunt Freeman, Henagar; Mary Willie Garrett, Vincent; Joyce Heaslett, Childersburg; Pauline Holliday, Mobile; Peggy McCary, Verbena; Helen Horn Smith, Lineville; Frances Broadway Smith, Montgomery; and Carolyn Frizzle, Montgomery.

Traditionally there will be no formal mid-year graduation exercise. The graduating seniors will return to the campus next Spring to take part in the annual commencement activities.

Mrs. A. J. Wells and son A. J. were visitors of Beatrice and Mrs. Fancher Sunday.

Mrs. Nina Wells of Selma spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. P. D. D. Pendleton and family.

It's Time Again For College Night

It's time again for one of the most exciting all-student productions of the South—College Night.

For the 34th year at Alabama College, the entire student body is dividing into two sides—Purples and Golds—to compete with each other in presenting the best in drama, music, and staging.

College Night, all-student production scheduled this year for February 19, 20, and 21, is the culmination of four weeks' creative activity by each side, with students writing, staging, directing, and handling every detail of an original musical dramatic production.

College Night began as a simple observance of George Washington's birthday and has grown into a three night performance of the Broadway proportions. Thousands of visitors come annually to the spectacle now staged in Palmer Auditorium on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights nearest Washington's birthday.

Competition between Purples and Golds runs riot until the decision of out-of-town judges is announced on Saturday night, when the Alumnae-of-the-year is also introduced, for Homecoming has now become a traditional part of College Night.

College Night activity began this week with selection of leaders and cabinet members for each side.

Cattlemen Met At Calera

Some 45 members and guests of the Shelby County Beef Cattlemen's Association held their annual meeting in the Town Hall of Calera Thursday, January 22. The meeting started at 10 a.m. with President W. J. Bailey presiding. After the preliminary opening ceremonies County Agent A. A. Lauderdale introduced Mr. Frank Boyd, who is Agronomist for the V-C Fertilizer Company, Montgomery. Mr. Boyd spoke on cattle farming and problems giving special attention to pastures and to grain growing. Mr. Boyd answered question and gave opinions on specific problems to the group. The immediate problems of the cattle farmer which have been more or lses due to the drouth last year were given special treatment by the specialist.

Lunch, consisting of Shelby County Beef Steak as the main course was served to the group by the members' wives and Home Demonstration Agents. Assistant County Agent Buck Clark was in charge of preparing the food.

The afternoon session began with a short discussion of the outlook for Shelby county beef cattlemen by A. A. Lauderdale. Following this discussion was a report of the nominating committee which was unamiously accepted by the group. Those elected to office were W. J. Bailey, President; L. I. Newton, Vice-President; Albert Lokey, second Vice-President; R. M. Byrd, Secretary; W. L. Lawler, Treasurer. Elected to the board of directors were Bob Russell, N. H. Waters, Jr., Bob Waites, Jr., Frank Wyatt and Earl Morgan.

The usual tour of farms was eliminated this year due to the drouth which has affected the winter pastures. The meeting adjourned at 2:30 p.m.

4-H Club Girls Making Biscuits

"Pass a hot one" is being reflected at Shelby County dinner tables in January and February. 4-H girls are busy making biscuits in preparation for the club Baking Contest in February.

These points have been emphasized by the home agents in giving the demonstration on biscuit making this month; level, accurate measurements using standard measuring cups and spoons, sift the flour before measuring, cut shortening into flour mixtures, place biscuit 1 inch apart on a cookie sheet, bake at 450 degrees F. for 12 to 15 minutes or until golden brown in a pre-heated oven.

All 4-Hers carrying food projects will bring three biscuit to their February meeting. Points to be considered in judging the biscuit are light and fluffy, straight and even sides, level on top, an even golden brown color, creamy white and fine-grained texture. Club winners will compete in the county contest. The junior winner will receive a year's subscription to "National 4-H News" and a complete set of baking equipment will be awarded to the senior winner. The state Baking Contest Champion will receive a $150.00 scholarship.

Eyes of The Future

By Dr. Brown

Many more small children today are wearing glasses than ever before. Often when a child first begins at school there is detected a slight deficiency called nearsightedness, farsightedness, slight convergence, or by any of a multitude of names given to abnormal conditions of the eyes.

The eyes are usually examined immediately and the child given correction lenses which are to accommodate for the eye deficiency. However, very seldom is the spine ever examined in the case of eye trouble; either in a child or in an adult. As a general rule children's eyes will respond better and more quickly than the adult's as that applies in most any disease.

The eyes are supplied by nerves just as every other part of the body. When nerves leading to the eyes are partially blocked there will be disease or a lack of ease of function in some part of the eye.

Often the eye muscles become weak, thus causing lack of near or far vision. Muscular weakness also causes the eyes to cross. The muscles are of course supplied with life by the nerves.

A fall or a minor accident can displace one of the bones of the spine just enough to pinch nerves and block life's forces to the eyes.

Remember, a physical examination is not complete unless the spine is examined. If your child is wearing glasses, consult a chiropractor who will be fair in telling you if he can help the optometrist to effect a correction; by removing the spinal cause of the eye weakness; that the eyes of tomorrow may be stronger.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

C. B. Kirkpatrick has fifteen acres of button clover on his Mostellers farm. This was planted when we brought the first considerable quantity of button clover seed into Shelby County. It has reseeded for three years, and Mr. Kirkpatrick says it is his 'surest' winter grazing. He is growing a seed patch of rescue grass. We would like to see him plant these two reseeding crops together somewhere, as the Eastis brothers are.

Young Howard Hall, Jr., works with the FFA club Chapel Hill Rescue seed project, but is even more interested in his own project, a six acre similar planting on his father's farm at Shelby Springs. Those who have seen Howard's rescue say it looks mighty good.

Already farmers are booking orders for Chapel Hill Rescue with the Columbiana FFA, Alec Ettress, Shelby, and others growing seed patches of authentic disease resistant rescue grass. Walter Watkins and the district supervisors have just spread their joint five-acre seed patch 2500 pounds of 6-8-8 and 4-10-7 fertilizer, and the Columbiana FFA have just used 2500 pounds of 6-8-8 to boost seed yield to meet the heavy demand for the seed for next fall planting.

It is a littel early for spring terrace construction, but our friend C. T. Wallace of Pea Ridge is already placing his name at the top of the list for help in laying out needed terraces. We suggest that any farmers wishing this type of assistance this spring get in the request as soon as possible.

Several farmers saw us at the office Monday morning, including Clyde Wyatt, about land clearing, Si Perkins, who wants help in planning stock ponds, and R. J. Albright, who wants both types of work.

Work Unit Conservationist B. F. Hatchett will be out of the county the first week in February when he is a guest of District supervisors as he, F. E. Williams, and Mrs. Williams go to Omaha, Nebraska to the national meeting of Soil Conservation District Supervisors. Mr. Hatchett will be back at work after February 8.

Club Women Met At Town Hall Last Monday

Seventy Shelby County women from 16 clubs saw old woolen clothing turned into lovely hooked rugs at the Calera City Hall last Monday.

Miss Kirtis Martin, Bibb County Home Agent, related her experiences in developing hooked rug making as a hobby by many by club women in her county. She used finished rugs and partially made rugs to emphasize points in selection of attractive designs, color combinations to blend with color scheme of room, shading flowers, and leaves and other designs, backgrounds, booking techniques and finishing the rug.

Miss Martin emphasized the selection of a good design which would be interesting to work with, collecting soft wool scraps and old woolen garments and use of a hoop or frame. Wool should be cut in strips one-eighth to one-fourth of an inch wide. Flowers should be made of three to seven shades of one color, from light to dark. The leaves should be made of several shades of grey green, blue green, yellow green, khaki, gold and also brown. Use light veins on dark leaves, dark veins on light leaves. Scrolls should also be shaded. The backgrounsd are usually light cream, beige or grey inside and dark blue, wine, brown, black or dark green outside.

This demonstration was planned for those interested in making hooked rugs. Present were: Mrs. J. J. Owens, Mrs. Irval Arnold, Mrs. Farris Oldham, Mrs. D. G. Owens, Acton; Mrs. A. T. Ryan, Mrs. C. H. Ellison, Mrs. S. P. Ellison, Mrs. G. F. Williams, Mrs. J. P. Wood, Mrs. Marvin Giles, Mrs. C. B. Martin, Mrs. Roland Hale, South Calera; Mrs. W. B. Blevins, Mrs. Ruth Lyons, Mrs. Z. S. National Service Life Insurance. As most of you may already know, in addition to your National Service Life Insurance, paying your beneficiary certain sum of money at the time of your death, you may pay an additional premium and get what is known as a Total Disability Income provision attached to your policy. This means that in the event you should become totally and permanently disabled for a period of six consecutive months, your policy would provide that you receive in cash $5.00 per month for each $1000 of insurance in force. These benefits do not commence until the first day of the seventh month of your total disability. For instance, if you have a $10,000 policy and you have become totally disabled for seven consecutive months, the VA will pay you in cash the sum of $50.00 per month, commencing with the seventh month and continuing until your total disability no longer exists. Up until recently, the additional amount you would have to pay to get this extra protection has been fairly expensive. However, the VA has now come out with some new rates which are greatly reduced. If you are thirty years of age, you can get this total disability income provision for an extra $1.07 per month on a $10,000 policy. If you are 35, the rate is $1.42. At age 40, it is $2.01 and at age 45, $3.31. Of course, the older you are the more the provision will cost you.

If you are totally disabled for a period of six months, you may be eligible to receive a refund on all the premiums which you have paid on your policy during the past six months. There is no extra charge for this benefit.

If you would like to get the additional disability benefit, all you have to do is to have a physical examination and submit your application to the VA. This procedure can be handled through any of the Conuty Veterans' Service Offices in the State of Alabama. —E. J. Sullivan, Veterans' Service Officer.

Fire Alarm !

With all sincerity I thank the Montevallo Volunteer Fire Department for coming to my aid on January 19. I feel that all people who come under the protection of this unit should know how promptly they arrived on the scene in not more than three minutes after the whistle blew, and were ready for action.

Our town should be proud of the volunteer fire department.

In my case we are happy that it was only an optical illusion caused by heat rays; but if a real fire could be any more frightening I would hate to face it.

I also thank all others who came to help.

Yours for a larger population for Montevallo and outlying districts. — Mrs. Edward E. Rogers.

Mrs. Mary Martin Died Last Friday

Mrs. Mary C. Martin passed away last Friday morning at her home after a brief illenss. A native of Calera, she had lived here all of her life.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. G. M. Werner, Chattanooga; Mrs. H. L. Gibson, Malta, Mont., Mrs. William E. Everhart, Downing Town, Pa. Four sons, W. H. and Campbell Martin of Birmingham; Prince Martin, Tuscon, Ariz.; and Bud Martin of Calera. Two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Adams, of Anniston and Mrs. M. P. Jordan, of Pineville, La.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Calera Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m. Rev. L. B. Stuart, officiating. Burial was in Salem Cemetery with Bolton and Walton, funeral directors of Columbiana, in charge.

Dean and Mrs. T. H. Napier, Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Triplett, Mrs. Stanley Mahan, Mrs. Mahaffey, and Mr. McCanaughy went to the district Missionary Conference in Selma Monday.

Calera Team Wins Five In A Row

During the latter part of last week the red-hot Calera High School Basketball Team ran it's string of wins to five straight. The boys had to play very hard to win some of these games, but their hardhips were rewarded by spectacular wins.

First on the roster after the Eagles had defeated West Blocton, Vincent, and Montevallo, was Winterboro. To some of the sports observers, Winterboro was supposed to have one of the best teams in this part of the state. But this didn't bother the Calera boys, they got in the game and played some of the best basketball that we have seen this year. The boys beat Winterboro 57-43. This game was very close all the way through, but in the last quarter the Calera Five pulled away and went on to win. In this game Ingram was high point man with 19 points, and Findley was second with 12 points.

Next the red-hot Eagles journeyed to Siluria, to play Thomposn High. Here again the Eagles came up with a great win. They defeated Thompson High by a score of 41-25. This game was to avenge the loss that Thompson handed the Eagles in a previous practice game. This was the fifth win in a row for the boys. This gave them a 4-1 record in County Competition.

At the game Friday night, the boys were very proud to see so many town people there. It sure made them feel good to know that these people were interested in them enough to go to this road game in such a large number. The boys did truly appreciate your patronage and attendance an support and they hope that you will keep up your support for the team.

Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Hubbard were in Birmingham for two days this week attending a Medical meeting.

Wilton Home Club Elects Officers

The Wilton Home Demonstration Club met in the basement of the Methodist Church for their first meeting of the new year.

The demonstration, casserole dishes, was very interestingly given by Mrs. I. C. Poole and Miss Marion Cotney.

The casserole dishes were designed to boost the family budget by using left overs from holidays or Sunday meals.

We discussed methods of cooking meat, rice, eggs and cheese.

Our new officers for the new year are: president, Mrs. W. E. Thompson; vice president, Mrs. Alice Brombaugh; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Sidney Merle Battle; reporter, Mrs. J. C. Gaddy; song leader, Mrs. Lois Hubbard; recreational and program chairman, Mrs. Moreland.

We were very glad to have our new assistant agents, Mrs. McClure and Miss McKay, meet with us.

Our next meeting will be February 2, at 10 a.m. Everyone is invited to attend. The demonstration will be furniture finishes. — Submitted by Mrs. J. C. Gaddy.

Dr. Sloan Warns Against Practice Of Illegal Doctors

As long ago as 1823 the lawmakers of Alabama enacted the Medical Practice Act, placing in the hands of the Doctors of Medicine the responsibility of determining which persons were qualified to practice the art and science of healing.

This Medical Practice Act, with a few amendments has, since that time governed the Practice of Medicine in Alabama. It was enacted for the protectiin of the people from quacks and charlatans.

Your doctor must spend a minimum of 9 years in preparing himself for the Practice of Medicine and must then pass a rigid examination by the State Board of Medical Examiners before he can qualify to practice Medicine legally.

These standards are set up by your government for your protection.

From time to time various cults of illegal would-be practitioners open offices and undertake to treat the sick, by one or another method of treatment wihch is not accepted as scientific by accredited doctors.

While they cannot write, or have filled a prescription, they sometimes come into possession of drugs through some underground channel and use these on their patients.

These men have little knowledge of the human body and of the art and science of treating the sick. They do not have access to the great new discoveries that have so shortened the duration of many illnesses and saved so many lives.

Neither do they have access to medical periodicals nor societies which would keep them abreast of the continued progress in medicine and surgery.

This writer knows of two children who died of Peritonitis following a ruptured appendix, who were treated by adjustments. Also a woman with early Cancer of the breast who was referred by her doctor to a surgeon for treatment with good prospect of cure. Instead she went to a quack who promised cure. She died a few months later. They have been known to attempt treatment of many illnesses as Tuberculosis, Poliomyelitis, reptured stomach ulcer, rheumatic fever, cerebral palsy, diptheria and countless others, by adjustments and without the proper facilities or knowledge.

They are operating outside the law and with no check rein on their activities.

Be sure that your doctor has a license from the State Board of Medical Examiners, which is a guarantee that he has had the required education and training. He can place an M.D. after his name.

It may mean your life or the life of a dearly loved one.—E. F. Sloan, M. D., County Health Officer.

P-K Home Club Plans For Better Program In 1953

Good resolutions were the order of the day as members of the Pelham-Keystone Home Demonstration Club met and answered roll call as to how they might make their club better in 1953.

The meeting was held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, January 23 at the home of Mrs. J. D. Stewart, in Pelham.

The president, Mrs. Herbert Pool, sparked the drive for a good year's work by making an outline survey of the club's activities for the months ahead. Each officer and leader was urged to be diligent in carrying out the responsibilities which their office entailed, and each club member was called on to be faithful in attendance.

Mrs. George Bentley, County Citizenship Chairman, attended the recent council and workshop meeting in Columbiana and gave the council report. Great interest was shown in the plans for the proposed trip for all members of the county to some place of interest in the spring.

A patch work money apron project was begun. Each club member will make a donation to the club treasurer, sewing their contribution under a patch on the apron. This project is to be completed by the date of the next meeting.

The hostess, Mrs. J. D. Stewart, gave the demonstration on Casserole dishes, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Jane Ingram. The casseroles were served at the conclusion of the meeting, proving that they were palate-pleasing as well as eye-pleasing.

Those present for the meeting were Mrs. Herbert Pool, Mrs. Finis McCoy, Mrs. Harry Jones, Mrs. Kenneth Cooper, Mrs. John Butler, Mrs. Grady King, Mrs. George Bentley, Miss Alice Butler, Mrs. Mason Cumberland, Mrs. Joe Hodges, Mrs. J. D. Stewart, Mrs. Jane Ingram, Mrs. Jessie Ozley, Miss Marion Cotney and Miss Margaret McKay.

Club meetings are held on the third Wednesday afternoon of each month at 1:30.—Mrs. Joe Hodges, Reporter.

Home Club Leaders Refinish Furniture

Leaders learned to refinish old abused furniture at a Leadership School in Columbiana last Friday. Pieces that have good lines and are well constructed are woth the time, money, and effort needed to restore them to usefulness and beauty.

Furniture made of cheaper woods may be painted, while the fine cabinet woods take a number of finishes. Antique pieces with simple and dignified designs belong in the finer woods. They are usually made of walnut, mahogany, cherry, and maple. Steps in refinishing are the same for each kind of wood.

The surface condition of the old finish has much to do with the kind of refinishing needed. Old scratched or marred varnish surfaces to be revarnished must be cleaned down to the wood and teated as new wood.

If the surface is not badly marred and paint, lacquer, or enamel is to be used, it may not be necessary to do more than clear the surface thoroughly and sandpapered smooth.

The 35 leaders representing 19 clubs attending the school were: Mrs. J. D. Stewart, Mrs. Jessie Ozley, Mrs. John Butler, Mrs. Joe Hodges, Pelham; Mrs. Bob Bolton, Mrs. Mary McWilliams, Columbiana; Mrs. J. O. Sides, Mrs. Robert Christian, Helena; Mrs. L. H. King, Mrs. R. C. ## Joyce King Shows How To Make Fudge

"Creamy, tasty chocolate fudge is no accident" states Joyce King, Vincent 4-Her.

Joyce demonstrated the five points in making fudge for the Vincent Elementary and Junior-Senior girls 4-H Clubs recently. She combined 2 cups of sugar, 2 squares of chocolate (or 6 tablespoons of cocoa) with 1 cup of milk and cooked it to a soft boil. She poured the candy into a mixing bowl to cool and added 2 tablespoons of butter and one-half teaspoon of vanilla. Joyce beat the fudge until it was thick and had lost its shiny look, added one-half cup of chopped nuts. She poured the fudge into a buttered dish to cool and cut it in squares with a sharp knife.

"Keep the sugar crystals stirred off the side of the saucepan, never scrape the saucepan when pouring the hot fudge into the bowl to cool and do not beat until the fudge is cool," stated Joyce in summarizing the demonstration.

Margaret Ann Bell presided at the Vincent Elementary Club meeting. The devotional was conducted by Patricia Snyder.—Betty Jo Sanders, Reporter.

A Good Citizen of Montevallo

Have you ever thought about the part your Telephone Company plays in the life of this Community, the State and the Nation? Here are some things it does:

1. Pays good wages to its employees—money that is spent largely in the employee's home town.
2. Pays large amounts in taxes that go to support government, education and public institutions.
3. Takes part, both as a Company and as individuals, in many worthwhile civic endeavors.
4. Provides the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

Accepting the responsibilities of citizenship, we believe, is an important part of good telephone service to this community.

Annual Rally Of 4-H Clubs To Be In April

4-H talent will be featured at The Annual Rally in April.

Fifty 4-H officers and leaders from 25 clubs met recently to plan the 4-H program for 1953. Suggestions for talent numbers include individual and group musical selections, dancing, skits, readings, etc.

Other features of the rally program will include apron, skirt, and dress revues and the 4-H Queen contest.

Tentative plans were made to honor 4-H Adult leaders at a banquet and frolic, Wednesday, March 4 or 11.

Suggestions for conducting more interesting club meetings, better devotionals, more effective project work including record keeping and the imoprtance of entering club contests were emphasized. Plans were made to observe 4-H Week March 7 to 15 and 4-H Sunday on May 10. Suggested demonstrations to be included in the club program and neighboraide work were also included. Council President, Iris Helen Martin, presided. She was assisted by Joe Mooney, vice-president and Joyce King, secretary. After refreshments the group enjoyed three games appropriate for 4-H meetings.

Those present were Harriet Posey, Martin Vanderslice, Linda Farris, Iris Helen Martin, Billy Mac Stinson, Jimmie Walker, Jackie Skelton, Siluria Club; Lou Ellen Wilder, Joyce King, Tommy Teel, Vincent; Helen Kaplan, Brenda Brown, Sam Roberts, Shirley Sims, Joe Mooney, Columbiana; Betty McCoy, Wanda Rutherford, Linda Elliott, Marlin Dimwiddie, Melton Dearing, Helena; Kay Lacey, Gerald Conrad Pitts, New Hope; Bunny Faye Porter, Emma Hand, Shelby; Vernon Gardner, Dunnavant; Virginia Kendrick, Bobby Jean Blackerby, Marie Bradley, Sylvie Isbell, Pegby Shirley, John Adaway, Chelsea; Billy Lee Hall, David Thomas, Calera; Tim Ross, Raymond Moore, Drennen Wyatt, Jane Mooney, Marie Wooten, Camp Branch; Ronald Smitherman, Charlie Thompson, Mayberry; Sara Jeter, Jack McBurnett, Kenneth Cox, Montevallo; Mrs. H. ## Report from Washington

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Congress spent most of the week organizing its various committees and subcommittees.

A subcommittee is a division of a permanent or standing committee. Members serving on a particular committee are usually asked to join one of its subcommittees. Although the prefix "sub" seems to lessen the committee's importance, this assumption is probably a little misleading. Many subcommittees are very powerful in Congress. They study particular phases of legislation which the full committee does not have time to study thoroughly. After the study or investigation is completed, the subcommittee reports its findings and recommendations to the full or main committee. The full committee seldom disagrees with the decision of its subcommittee. The result is that the subcommittee often has the major voice in reporting bills to the floor of the House for debate and vote.

The Veterans Affairs Committee has a total of seven subcommittees existing now. They are: housing, administration and finances in the Veterans Adimnistration; hospitals; insurance; compensation and pension; Spanish War Veterans; and education, training rehabilitation. The chairman of the committee has notified me that I will be assigned to one of these subcommittees.

Vets Committee Meets

The full Veterans Affairs Committee held its first 1953 meeting recently for the purpose of organizing. Chairman Eidth Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.) presided. Rep. Rogers outilned activities of the committee, answered questions of new members, and impressed upon us the importance of membership on the committee. She said the commitee would meet weekly except when it is necessary to convene more often.

Mrs. Rogers also held chaimanship of this committee during the Republican 80th Congress. She has worked in connection with veterans since 1918 when she accepted a position with the American Red Cross to assist disabled veterans. She later served as pesronal representative in care of disabled veterans under three presidents—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover.

More Women Serve

An interesting sidelight of the new Congress is that there are more women members than ever before in history. There are 12 women legislators in the 83rd Congress. This breaks the previous record of 11.

Seven are Republicans; five are Democrats; and all are members of the House except one.

Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.) is the dean of women in the present Congress, having served continuously since her election on June 30, 1925, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of her husband.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) is the only woman presently serving in the Senate, and is one of seven women who were ever elected to the Senate. Of these seven, only Mrs. Smith and one other were elected for full terms.

Besides Mrs. Rogers, other women currently serving in the House are Reps. Bolton (R-Ohio), Buchannan (D-Pa.), and Kee (D-W. Va.), who were all originally elected to fill vacancies caused by the deaths of their husbands; and Reps. Church (R-Ill.), Kelley (D-N. Y.), St. George (R-N. Y.), Thompson (R-Mich.), Sullivan (D-Mo.), Pfost (D-Id.), and Harden (R-Ind.).

Mrs. Bolton has the distinction of being a member of the only mother-son team ever to serve in Congress. She has represented an Ohio District in Congress since 1940. This year one of her sons, Oliver P. Bolton, was elected to represent another Ohio district. As far as historians have been able to determine, this is the first such family combination in Congress.

Mrs. Pfost and Mrs. Sullivan are the latest to join the feminine ranks of Congress. Their terms began January 3, 1953. Although some of the present 12 women legislators were originally elected to fill vacancies caused by deaths, they were all elected for the new Congress after having run in the November, 1952, general election.

Miss Jeannette Rankin of Montana was the first woman to be elected to Congress. She was victorious in a general election in 1916. Twenty two years after the end of her first term she entered Congress again to serve her second term in the House. She was seated in 1941 and served until expiration of her term in 1943.

Several women throughout history have won special elections to serve in the House or Senate but were never sworn in and never drew a salary. This occurred because Congess did not meet between the time of their election and the expiration of the term they were elected to finish.

Ike And Mamie Join The Church

Washington, Feb. 2 — The National Presbyterian Church had two prominent new members today: President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The presidential couple were among 50 persons admitted yesterday to the Conneticut-av church where a number of other presidents have worshipped in past years.

The Rev. Edward L. R. Elson, church minister, said Eisenhower was unable to join a church before because he "has moved from one Army post to another" in his military career. The president is "a man of simple faith, who is sincere in his religious doctrine," Dr. Elson added.

The minister said the president, never having been baptized before, was received into membership upon Christian baptism and confession of faith, while Mrs. Eisenhower, a baptized Presbyterian, was admitted upon conifrmation of baptismal vows. He said Eisenhower's father was a member of the River Brethren Church.

The Eisenhowers had no public appointments after the 9 a.m. church service, but they slipped quietly over to the National Gallery of Art afterwards for a private showing of the $5 million Japanese art collection on exhibit here.

Dr. John R. McMahon of Wetumpka will be the visiting minister at the Montevallo Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning.

Life Behind Iron Curtain To Be Revealed

An intimate picture of life behind the Iron Curtain in Soviet Russia will be graphically told by Rev. Robert Tarzier, director of the Nordic Mission in America, at the Montevallo Baptist Church, February 8, 1953, at 7:30 p.m., sponsored by Montevallo and Wilton Baptist Churches .

His subject will be the acute question of the day: "Will the world Communism headed by Soviet Russia destroy the Western Civilization and Christianity?"

If you want to know what it takes and how difficult it is to worship God in Russia and Communist held countries, you will want to hear this amazing message by a man who escaped from all the tortures that the Communists had to offer.

REV. ROBERT TARZIER

Mr. Tarzier, prior to his escape from Soviet Union, was pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church at Riga, Latvia, a church which since 1912 has been internationally known for its missionary and soul winning program. It had stood out as a bright and shining star—and consequently was a target for the Reds.

The father of Mr. Tarzier, who was a preacher of the gospel, was buried alive by the Russian Bolsheviks in a mass killing. He was sentenced to death in a church, which was taken over by the Communists and descrated in the most horrible way and then turned into a revolutionary court.

Mr. Tarzier has seen arrests, imprisonments and ill-treatments at the hands of Communists.

At the close of the last World War, Mr. Tarzier escaped to Sweden in a leaky fishing boat without food or water.

The message will be revealing, challenging and inspiring. Come and bring your friends.

Burns Bennett Addresses Rotary

The Montevallo Rotary Club had as its guest speaker last week Mr. Burns Bennett, Director of Public Information for the State of Alabama who gave some interesting information on the duties and experiences of Director of Information. Mr. Bennett reviewed some of the more interesting letters and requests which come to our state capital.

This week the Rotary Club will have as its speaker M. Walling Keith, of the Birmingham News.

Dr. Lund Heads Crusade For Freedom

Dr. F. E. Lund, president of Alabama College, has been appointed as Shelby County Chairman of the Crusade for Freedom, it is announced this week by Dr. Houston Cole, State Chairman of the campaign.

Henry Ford II is National Chairman and the National Committee is composed of General Dwight Eisenhower, James A. Farley, Charles P. Taft, Charles E. Wilson, General Lucius Clay, and others.

The Cruasde for Freedom was organized two years ago for the purpose of combating the Russian lies behind the Iron Curtain. Thirteen radio stations located in Berlin, Lisbon, and Guam are broadcasting the truth every day, hour after hour.

The campaign is featured by two facts: Every penny contributed goes directly to the cause for which it is given. A national foundation is financing the cost of the literature for the campaign. The Crusade gives the individual an opportunity to make a direct contribution in the fight against Communism.

The State Executive Committee is composed of the following men and women who represent major activities in Alabama: Col. Harry M. Ayers, Rabbi Eugene Balchschleger, Dr. John H. Buchanan, Bishop C. D. J. Carpenter, George Cox, Milton Cummings, Dr. Henry Edmonds, Mrs. Joseph W. Eshelman, Grady Grinstead, Cary Haigler, Grover Hall, Mrs. James Fitts Hill, J. C. Inzer, Neil Kilgore, Mrs. R. W. Lackmond, Wallace Malone, R. H. McIntosh, James E. Mills, William Mitch, Bishop Clare Purcell, George Quarles, James Rankin, Tom Russell, Frank Samford, Col. Joe Starnes, Bishop T. J. Toolen, H. D. Warner, and Carmage Walls.

Contributions can be sent to the County Chairman or turned over to the Postmaster in your area.

Mothers' March

The Mothers' March on Polio in the Montevallo area resulted in contributions amounting to $227.31. All those who solicited funds and those who so generously gave made this drive a most successful one. Many thanks to all of you.—Mrs. Eugene D. Reynolds, Chairman.

STUDIOSIS CLUB

The Montevallo Studiosis will hold its regular monthly meeting next Tuesday, the 10, at 7:30 p.m., in Reynolds Hall on the Alabama College campus, with Mr. Charles Bryan of the Indian Springs School as the speaker.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mesdames R. A. Reid, M. L. Triplett, M. S. McGehee, S. M. Mahan, Sam Klotzman, Leonard Davis, George Howell, Paschall Underwood, P. H. Wooley, Misses Ollie Tillman, Anabeth Cash and Josephine Eddy.

Mr. Bryan will have as his subject "American Folk Music."

Mr. and Mrs. David Martin, Jr., and son David, of Courtland, Ala., are spending some time with Mrs. E. H. Wills this week. Mr. Martin is attending a cattle meeting in Montgomery.

Processing Plant To Handle Poultry At Wilton

The Executive Committee of the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce met at the Town Hall Monday night. The meeting was attended by F. P. Givhan, President; M. S. McGehee, Secretary; M. Thornton, F. H. Frost, Sr., J. A. Wyatt, and C. H. Chism. The Committee heard a report on industiral development in the area and discussed some of the problems confronting the Chamber. M. Thornton, chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the Chamber of Commerce reported that his committee has been successful in promoting the establishment of a small poultry processing plant for this area. The plant will be operated by Mr. P. E. Woolley and will be located on the owners farm in Wilton. Mr. Woolley will be in operation in about 90 days and at that time will be in a position to dress poultry for producers of this area. The Chamber of Commerce recommends that anyone interested in the services which will be offered by this new plant should contact Mr. Woolley or Mr. M. Thornton in the vocational department of the High School.

Housing Authority Selects Tenants

The Housing Autohrity of the Town of Mohtevallo at its regular meeting Tuesday night made the selection of tenants for initial occupancy in the projects being completed in Montevallo. The F. F. Crowe Village located on Main Street at Ashevill Road contains 20 units for white families while the Alex Scott Village located at Graham Street has 32 units available for Negroes.

Applicants will be notified of their selection or rejection in the near future. Many regulations are involved in the selection of eligible applications such as a maximum income limit, veteran or non-veteran, present housing conditions, and rent range. The members of the Authority made the selections after careful analysis of the information supplied by the applicant and scored.

According to the best estimate of the Authority the units should be available by March 1, however, successful applicants are cautioned not to plan to move from their present homes until they have been notified by the Authority as to the exact date on which the units will be available.

Band Sponsors Square Dance

The Montevallo High School Band is sponsoring a round and square dance, Saturday, February 7, in the high school auditorium. Music will be furnished by the Cofer Brothers Band from Siluria.

The dance will begin at 7:30. Admission will be 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

This is the first of a series of events sponsored by the band to raise funds to buy new majorette uniforms, and to replace some of the instruments.

County Oil Dealers Oppose Tax Hikes

Shelby County oil men have adopted a five-point program featuring the improvement of Alabama roads on a pay-as-you-go basis with no further tax increases.

The action was taken at a meeting of the Shelby County Petroleum Industries Committee at Calera, January 28. Oil men attending also elected officers and viewed a color film which depicts the democratic process of lawmaking in Alabama.

The program adopted:

1. To insist that the highway construction program shall be scientifically planned and financed on a pay-as-you-go basis with funds derived from the taxation of motor vehicles and motor fuel not to exceed present rates.

2. To repeal the 2 cents per gallon state tax on lubricating oil now absorbed by service station operators.

3. To render assistance to state and federal authorities in the detection and elimination of gasoline tax evasion.

4. To urge all persons connected with the petroleum industry to promote safety on our highways.

5. To seek fair and equitable privilege licenses for wholesale and retail oil dealers.

Officers elected at the meeting for the next twelve months included: A. M. Stinson, Chairman; J. L. Hill, Vice Chairman; J. A. Brown, Jr., Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mahan were in Birmingham on business Monday.

The Gall Bladder

By Dr. R. D. Brown

One of the most potent contributors to a pleasant disposition and its natural concomitant, a pleasing personality, is a healthy gall bladder. The number of people with sour faces and a disposition that repels which comes from a bad gall bladder, is said by authorities to be large.

Although it is said that about one person in every ten or fifteen have gall stones the number that suffer from direct symptoms when the stones become obstructed in the little tube leading from the gall bladder to intestines, is not nearly so large. Thus one may have difficulty without that severe gall stone colic.

Three things are essential to help Nature prevent gall bladder and for that matter, liver trouble as well. First, see that the condition of nerve impulses are normal. Second, breathe deep and take bending exercises that press and squeeze the gall bladder and liver. They were meant to be kept active and pliable by such exercise. Third, eat the right kind of food.

By far the most important is to see that the nerve impulses are free and unobstructed. A spinal analysis will determine this promtly. Consult your Chiropractor for directions as to how to maintain a healthy gall bladder.

Montevallo office open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each Thursday. Located in Ben Franklin Building next to Owen Bridges.—Adv.

C I O Warning Against Solicitors

The Editor, Montevallo Times

In the recent past we have had an influx of unscrupulous, unethical persons representing themselves as solicitors of advertising for CIO papers. We are making every attempt to eliminate these people from the scene and protect our name and reputation among the business people of Alabama who might be victims of these solicitors.

There is only one official CIO paper in the state of Alabama. This is the CIO News, published in Washington, D. C., and it does not carry advertising. There are some thirty five national and international unions of the CIO who have their own publications which are sent to the members in the state. Only a few of these carry advertising and, to my knowledge, they do not solicit this advertising matter from the state of Alabama. Several local unions of the CIO in Mobile, Alabama have endorsed the Gulf Coast News Digest, which is a matter of concern only to those local unions.

Any person representing himself as a solicitor of advertising for CIO publications should have credentials signed by Executive Vice President Allan S. Haywood of the CIO, President Cecil Robertson or Secretary-Treasurer Eugene M. Wells of the Alabama CIO Council, or the undersigned. To my knowledge, there is no person in the state at the present time who possesses such credentials.

I would appreciate your publishing this article in its entirety. Any assistance you can give us in preventing abuses of this nature in the future will be appreciated.—Carey E. Haigler, State Director.

"Caesar's Ghost" Is Play Title At Thompson High

"Great Caesar's Ghost!" is the title of the play selecetd by the Junior Class here for presentation on March 6, in the high school auditorium. Miss Iris Kirkpatrick, Director, is holding try-outs this week, the cast to be announced early next week when rehearsals will go under way.

This is a comedy in three acts by William D. Fisher, in which the action is centered about a pet ghost.

All the school is now engaged in a project to purchase complete curtain furnishings for the stage the cost of which will be around $1300. It is expected that the new curtain will be installed by the time the Junior Play is produced which will give this activity added significance.

Report on Montevallo Recreation Program for Last Summer

The entire program was very successful with 8831 people attending. How many different people, we have no record of. This we hope to get for 1953. This total is a little less than the 1951 total, but this was probably due to not having any night softball for men and girls. The crowds were larger at the creek. The one day high was 309 on July 4. The month of June showed 3350; the month of July 3421, and August 2060. The last two weeks in August showed a sharp decline in attendance at all activities.

This record attendance does not exclude tennis tournament, swimming classes in the morning at the creek or the Girl Scouts' cooking and hiking on Friday morning. The average attendance for baseball in the morning was 24 during June, and July but fell down to 15 during August. Miss Houston has made a report on her activities. In addition we played outlying area in baseball including the Braves, a Birmingham team under 12 years off age, also the Five Points "Y" team.

The teen-age group was very successful having every Thursday night as their night with the group doing most of their own planning on what to do. These activities included skating, swimming parties, dancing and picnics.

The Summer activities are beginning to show up the purpose for which it was intended, better boys and girls. For the first time in my history as a Coach, I have a group of boys who pray before each game. There is less cursing at all places and less stealing of equipment (jerseys, etc.). In fact, I have not lost anything this year to my knowledge.

I should like to express my appreciation to the Recreation Board for its help on many of our activities and for Miss Houston who was a great help and very efficient in her work.

I should also like to add that if the new plant comes here, there will be even more children and adults and a greater demand for such a program.—Coach Fisher

Swimming Instruction

Swimming instruction was given only on Monday morning during the first session of Summer School but at its close was offered on Monday and Wednesday. The classes were divided into two groups, roughly the beginners and the intermediates. In the beginners' class my goals were to get the child to feel at home in the water, to learn to breathe in the water, to lear to float and tread water and to learn to swim and jump.

Though I was not qualified to give a certificate, I gave the intermediate class the Red Cross intermediate swimming course which included such accomplishments as performance of 3 types of strokes, floating, sculling, treading water, underwater swimming, diving, 100 yard swimming, 5 minute swimming, and the elementary back stroke.

In this program 9 passed the intermediate swimmers' test and 13 learned to swim.

My criticism of this part of the program was that comparatively few of the children were consistent in their attendance so that much had to be repeated for late beginners or those who had missed lessons.

Also, if those who swim very well could be interested they could organize a very nice swimming club for water ballet, etc. However, time would be scarce for the director.

Attendance record for swimming classes:

Monday, June 16, 9; Monday, June 23, 14; Monday, June 30, 18; total for June, 41.

Tennis Program

The tennis program included tennis instruction on Tuesday and Thursday morning and three tennis tournaments which were played near the end of the summer.

During summer school the tennis instruction was co-ordinated with a 30 minute recreation period so that girls in summer school could benefit. During this time I had a regular group of 4 girls who came each time but after school was out, the number increased considerably and the time lengthened to one one-half hour period. Also, had some boys to become interested in instruction.

In this class I endeavored to teach them the fundamentals of the backhand and forehand drives, the serve, the rules and score keeping and court position and strategy.

Attendance record for tennis class:

Tuesday, June 17, 7; Thursday, June 19, 7; Tuesday, June 24, 4; Thursday, June 26, 3; June total, 21.

Tuesday, July 1, 5; Thursday, July 3, (assembly program); Tuesday, July 8, 4; Thursday, July 10, 4; Tuesday, July 15, 4; Thursday, July 17, (assembly program); Tuesday, July 22, 13; Thursday, July 24, 11; Tuesday, July 29, 10; Thursday, July 31, 13; July total 64.

Tuesday, August 5, 4; Thursday, August 7, 0; Tuesday, August 12, 4; Thursday, August 14, 10; Tuesday, August 19, 16; Thursday, August 21, 5; Tuesday, August 26, 0; Thursday, August 28, 4; August total 44.

The tournaments were started near the end of July and were mens' and womens' singles and a mixed doubles. There were six entrants in the womens' singles, 7 entrants in the mens' singles and 16 in the mixed doubles.

Winners and runners-up were: Boys, Billy Allen, winner; Agee Kelley, second place.

Girls, Patty Davis, winner; Gayle Jones, second place.

Mixed doubles, Billy Allen and Gayle Jones, winners; Harry Klotzman and Jude Higgins, second place.

Trophy cups were given the winners at the community picnic.

Spectator attendance was very good. As follows:

July 29, Tuesday, 42; Wednesday, 25; Friday, 21; Saturday, 34; Tuesday, 21; Tuesday, 38; Friday, 43; total, 224.

Girl Scout Program

Each Friday morning the Girl Scouts had a cook-out, almost all of them at Big Springs. In this program they learned such things as proper use and care of ax, fire-building, food preparation, fire safety, tindicraft (making useful utensils out of tin cans), and cooking one-pot meals, stick cooking and cooking in ashes with aluminum foil.

This program was open to any girl interested and not restricted to Girl Scouts alone.

Attendance record:

June 20, 6; June 27, July 11, July 18, 8; July 25, 9; August 1, 7; August 8, 6; August 15, 6; August 22, 8; Total, 40.

Girls' Softball

The girls' softball team suffered from the facts that there was no available lighted field and very few surrounding towns had a girls' team. However, one game was played with Columbiana and Montevallo won 14-7.

TEEN-AGERS' FUN NIGHT

Each Thursday night was devoted to the teen-agers in programs they requested and planned each week. These activities included square dances, skating parties at Jemison, picnic and swimming parties, weiner roasts, and was ended with a hayride to Pineview beach, beyond Bessemer, for swimming and dancing.

I think this is a very important part of the program and very succesful. However, there are still lots of teen-agers who should be coming to these programs but aren't interested enough or haven't been reached by publicity. As this is a program that has been carried on at least two years, regularly on Thursday night, I fell that most of them know about it, plus the fact that we've had posters in town and a write-up in the Birmingham News at the beginning of the summer.

Attendance records will be given in Coach Fisher's report.

Suggestions

I think the publicity is a weak point in this year's program and would like to see a write-up each week in the local paper summing up the past week's program and telling of plans for the coming week. Posters in this town don't seem to be given much attention and most of the publicity must be done by word of mouth.

Negro Division

Our recreational activities for the summer officially opened June 2nd, but we did not wait until that date this year to begin our games. The boys and girls had played several games of ball with visiting teams and had also made several visits. We did not wait because we were too enthusiastic to do so.

Again the emphasis was placed upon good sportsmanship, cooperation, teamwork, and civic responsibility as goals which facilitate mental growth, with intelligent guidance to develop youth into worthwhile citizens.

Many activities were carried on daily, as part of the program by the directors who miantained attention and interest of all concerned. Several visits were made to other places in Shelby County having recreational facilities for Negroes. Competitive games were played in which we were usually victorious.

Activities such as fishing, hiking, hayriding, swimming always drew the largest attendance. With ample refreshments and an assortment of games every one enjoyed himself every minute of the time alloted.

We have just finished the most enjoyable summer of recreation since the program began. This was made possible by the wholehearted cooperation which has increased each year as the people of the community now realize its value, not only to the youth and children but to the adults as well.

The financial part of the program was fair. Some equipment was bought and some donated by interested people for which we are grateful. We hope in the future that more will be done by civic organizations, interested friends and the community as a whole.—R. D. DuBose, Director; Susie Willis, Assistant.

Rev. R. R. Brasher Died Last Sunday

Funeral services for the Rev. R. R. Brasher, 77, who died in a Birmingham hospital Sunday, were held at 2 p.m. Monday at Columbiana Baptist Church.

Mr. Brasher, who served more than a dozen pastorates during his 58 years as an active minister, lived in Columbiana.

A native of Shelby County, he started his pastorates there. But in the interim, he had served in Pell City, York, Birmingham, Montgomery, Huntsville and Washington, D. C.

He was pastor of the Inglenook Baptist Church for some time. He had been in retirement for 11 years.

A Mason for 49 years, the Rev. Brasher had been a member of Columbiana Lodge No. 140 for the past 15 years.

Surviving are six daughters, Mrs. C. D. Deal, Shelby; Mrs. C. S. Seale, Calera; Mrs. C. C. Mobbs, Birmingham; Mrs. B. B. Lyons, Columbiana; Mrs. O. H. Pratt, Centreville, and Mrs. A. O. Stone, Brighton, and four sons, J. T. Brasher, Columbiana; W. P. Brasher, Washington, D. C.; Roy R. Brasher, Jr., and C. E. Brasher, both of Birmingham.

The Revs. Kirk Lucas and J. E. Franks officiated at the funeral service. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery, with Bolton and Walton Funeral Home of Columbiana directing.

Motion Picture Is In Making At Alabama College

Production on "A Letter To Jenny," a 70 minute color, sound motion picture, is under way on the Alabama College campus.

Concerning the Korean War and its effect on life in a woman's college, "A Letter To Jenny" is a full length feature film. Although no direct reference to Alabama College is made, the entire production will be filmed on the Montevallo campus, showing classrooms, dormitories, swimming pool, the new college lake and many general campus scenes.

Using students and faculty exclusively, the film is being produced by Robert Payne, noted author-in-residence and professor of English on the Montevallo campus. Technical assistance is being furnished by faculty members of the Speech and Art departments. John Mader and Ralph Sears, Speech department faculty members, are in charge of sound. Putnam Porter, assistant professor of music, is furnishing musical effects.

Plans call for completion of the film sometime in April. Initial showing of the film will be at Alabama College with subsequent showings in New York City, Birmingham and Hollywood.

Barbara Baker, sophomore from Calera, has the leading role, playing the part of Jenny. Rosemary Johnson, senior from Birmingham; Barbara Richards, junior from Russellville; and Winifred Larmore, Valley Head, have supporting roles.

Miss Baker, 18 year old English major, recently received notice from the editors of the American Anthology of College Poetry that her poem, "I Saw A Snow White Lily" will be printed in the 1953 edition of this annual publication.

As far as can be determined, the filming of "A Letter To Jenny" marks the first time a full length feature film in color has been made exclusively on a college campus with personnel and students as cast and technicians.

Repertory Theatre Plays 'Candlelight'

"Choose neither women nor linen by Candlelight." This quotation was the inspiration for P. G. Wodehouse's play, "Candle-light", presented by the Bliss Repertory Theatre in Palmer Auditorium, Wednesday evening, February 4.

The play with its cast from Richmond, Virginia, was the fourth event of the 1952-1953 Concert and Lecture Series at Alabama College.

Under the direction of Robert Watkins the production featured a cast of Broadway, radio, and television stars. Names such as Clarence Derwent, Virginia Mattis, Stratton Walling, Elinor Wright, Bernard Diamond, Natalie Norwick and Albert Corbin. This company is at present on an extensive tour of the Southeast.

The Bliss Repertory Theatre was created three seasons ago by Bliss Mason. Mason, special services officer in World War II, successfully attempted to provide theatrical entertainment for the armed services.

Thus with the cooperation of Navy and Marine personnel, the Bliss Repertory Theatre was established and presented Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" and "Separate Rooms" by Joseph Carole as its earliest productions.

"Candle-Light" will be followed later this season by these other attractions of the Concert and Lecture Series: Herbert Levinson, March 16, and Jose Limon and his modern dance team, April 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Tamp Eddings and Jimmy spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. George Kendrick.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stone and Mrs. Harry Kendrick were in Montgomery Sunday visiting Harry in the Veterans Hospital.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Payne and Bob Montgomery spent the week end in Crestivew, Fla., visiting Miss Martha Woolley.

P. T. A. Meeting Hears Dr. Farmer

The Montevallo Parent-Teachers Association held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, Feb. 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. Dr. Hallie Farmer, Alabama College Social Science Department head, spoke on "Problems in the Legislature."

Dr. Farmer stressed the realities the public must face as to why financial aid to the State Educational program will have small chance of being increased through legislation this year. Reflecting on this year's general P.-T.A. program of Developing Health Personalities, those attending learned that building healthy personalities in school children goes beyond the classroom, with its beginning in how the public votes and whom they place in office.

Questions followed Dr. Farmer's thought provoking talk.

Mrs. W. E. Robinson, vice president and program chairman, announced the March 3 meeting will have County Superintendent, W. E. Elliott as the speaker. His talk will be "The Invisible Wall Between the Home and the School."

Parents and teachers attending the January meeting heard a stimulating talk, "What is Good Mental Health?" by Miss Alsi Robinette, psychiatric social worker of the Jefferson County Division of Mental Health.

Saint Andrews Food Sale

Saint Andrews Auxiliary will hold its second food sale for the benefit of the new church and parish house on Thursday afternoon, February 12, at the Little Shop. Baked goods and candy will be sold from 3 p.m. on. No goods will be put on sale before that hour because the auxiliary wants everyone to have one great chance to buy. The first sale was a real success and the members of Saint Andrews appreciated the help and enthusiasm of their many friends in town and on the campus.

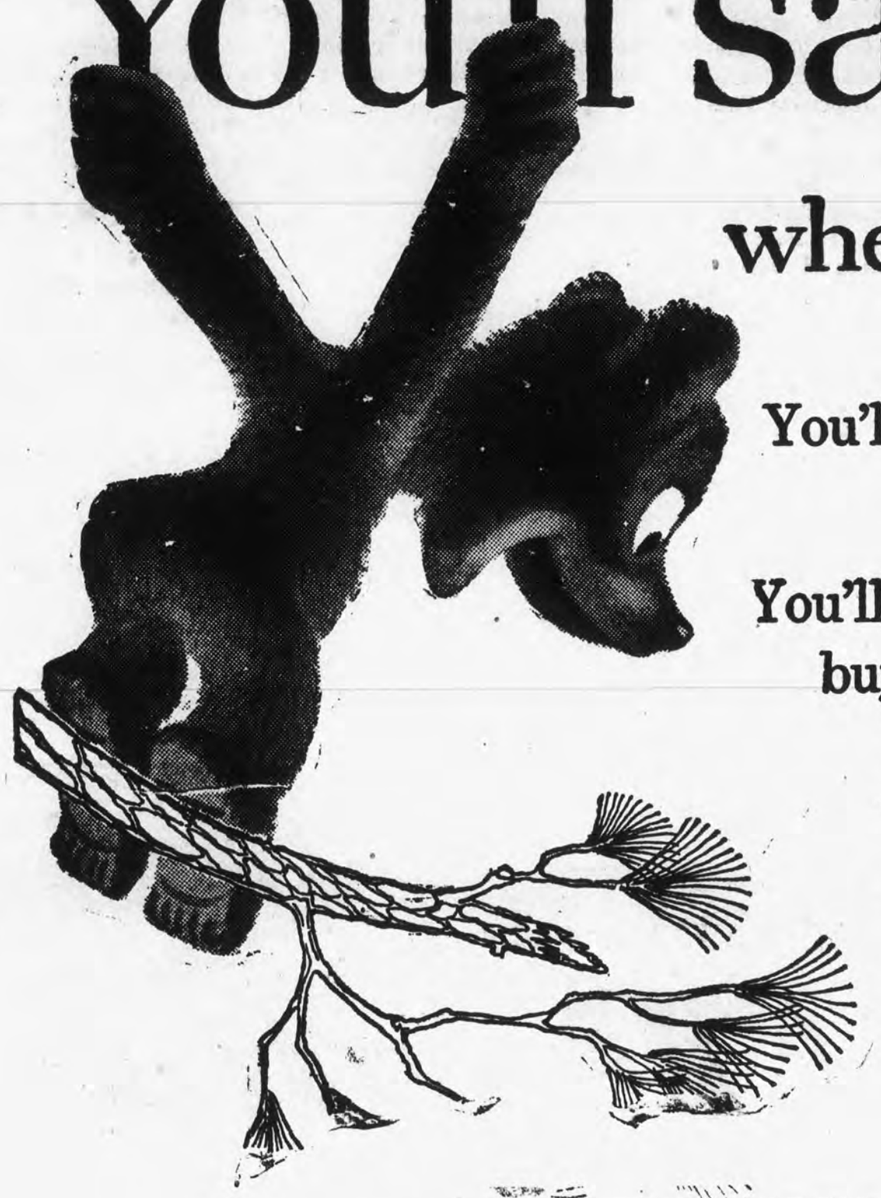

On Sunday, February 8th, Rev. Robert Y. Marlowe of Birmingham will celebrate Holy Communion at four thirty. There will also be the regular eleven o'clock service of morning prayer. Everyone invited.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Speaking without a manuscript or even notes, President Eisenhower appeared at our Breakfast Club meeting last Thursday morning and gave his ideas on the importance of religion.

You probably recall my mentioning in an earlier column about belonging to the House Breakfast Club which meets every Thursday morning for religious discussion. I have regularly attended these sessions since coming to Congress, and have never failed to gain inspiration from the devotional periods.

Thursday's meeting was particularly noteworthy because of the presence of President Eisenhower and other notables. Our club met with representatives from other breakfast clubs over the world. The combined meeting was a phase of the Christian Action Conference which is convening in Washington.

Several hundred breakfast club members were present, including, besides the President, several cabinet members, Supreme Court Justices, and members of Congress. The meeting took place at the Mayflower Hotel where we were the guests of Conrad Hilton, famous hotel owner. Mr. Hilton read an impressive prayer and presented us with copies of his devotional message.

President Eisenhower was introduced by Senator Frank Carlson (R-Kan.) who presided. The President gave a short impromptu talk on the importance of religion in government. He maintained that all free governments should be firmly founded in a deeply felt religious faith. He reminded the group of the profound religious belief of those who wrote the Declaration of Independence, and of Benjamin Franklin who once interrupted a controversial Constitutional Convention to call for a few minutes of prayer. After the prayer, Eisenhower related, the critical problems of the convention were smoothed out.

"I think that prayer is just simply a necessity," the President said.

Upon conclusion of his talk, the President laughingly thanked Mr. Hilton for the breakfast—"the like of which I have not had in ten years."

It seems the President usually breakfasts on a simple meal of coffee and fruit juice.

General Gray Testifies

Testifying before our last Veterans Affairs Committee meeting, General Carl Gray pointed out that 28,508,000 Americans have served in our armed forces since the beginning of the Revolutionary War, counting those now in the Korean conflict.

General Gray, who is Administrator of Veterans Affairs, appeared before our committee to relate the history, size, and scope of activities of the Veterans Administration.

Throughout his discussion, he revealed various figures concerning the servicement in all the United States' wars. He reported that 955,368 Americans have lost their lives in battle to date. He said there are 19,288,318 living veterans today; 499,799 widows of veterans and 295,060 dependent children. The number of disabled veterans today totals 2,357,689, with over a million of this number disabled less than 10 per cent.

"Although the Mexican War is thought of as a small war," the General said, "it is shocking to note that 130,000 Americans participated in this battle of 1846, and 13,000 lost their lives."

He said the last veteran of the Mexican War died in 1929, but that there are still 18 widows and one dependent of veterans of this war that was fought 107 years ago.

"The American people," General Gray remarked, "with their known generosity, have extended benefits to their veterans and dependents far in excess of what any other country has done."

Also appearing before the Committee with General Gray were Admiral Joel T. Boone, Chief Medica' Director of the VA and Milton C. Forster, Chief of the VA Research Division.

General Gray agreed to appear before our Committee again at a later date to discuss any reorganization plans for the Veterans Administration.

Siluria FFA Boys Beautify Campus

The boys in the Siluria Chapter of F. F. A. are hard at work setting out shrubs to add to the attractiveness of the new Thompson High School building.

These shrubs are a part of about 150 that have been set by the chapter members this year. Working with the Grounds Committee of the P.-T.A., the F. F. A. Chapter follows a master landscape plan that will eventually include the entire 27 acre Thompson campus.

All shrubs purchased so far have been from Ben Pete, who got his start in the nursery business through project work in F. F. A. at Montevallo. His project has now developed into a full time business for Ben.

News Notes About 4-H Club Girls

Mayberry 4-H girls can make good candy. Nine girls proved it when they made and brought chocolate fudge to their club meeting last week. They were: Alvis Smitherman, Bonnie Jean Pickett, Linda Gentry, Linda Hill, Lola Jean Daviston, Brenda Harper, Bettie Lawley, Arma Cheryl Pickett, Myra Joe Kitchens, and Leverne Pickett.

Alvis Smitherman was chosen as best candy maker and Arma Pickett as 2nd best.

4-H girls in Shelby County are busy sewing for their apron, skirt, and dress revues in March.

First year girls are making simple aprons, gathered on a band with ties. Other Elementary 4-H girls alone the first year will model simple gathered skirts. Junior and senior members are making dresses.

All the garments are being made from appropriate cotton material. Girls enrolled in clothing projects must participate in the Revue to complete their clothing projects.

Three winners from each division in all clubs will be selected to enter the county contest on March 31.

Soil Test Service Available Now To Shelby Farmers

Farmers of Shelby County are urged to take advantage of a soil testing service initiated by the Alabama Experiment Station and the Alabama Extension Service. The laboratory, operated by the Alabama Experiment Station, was open and ready to take samples on February 1. This is another service of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Alabama's Land Grant College, to help farmers of Alabama do a better job.

I would like to emphasize that this soil testing service is not to replace our general fertilizer recommendations which are based on field research by the Experiment Station over a long period of time. But soil tests can be helpful to many farmers in determining more exactly their fertilizer needs for particular crops and under peculiar soil situatiosn.

All soil samples sent to the laboratory must be in cartons and shipping containers furnished by the laboratory. Each soil sample must be accompanied by an information sheet about the particular field from which the soil sample is taken. The information sheets, cartons for the soil samples, and shipping cases are available at the county agent's office. All farmers taking advantage of this soil testing service are urged to follow instructions very carefully in taking the soil samples, transmitting them to the laboratory, and filling out the information sheet. The value of soil tests will depend on how the samples are taken and the information about each sample submitted.

It is planned to conduct a series of meetings and demonstrations on how to take and submit soil samples, throughout the county within the next few days.

There will be a charge of $1.00 per sample of top soil sent in. Each top soil sample must be accompanied by a subsoil sample.

All farmers who would like to know more about the reasons for testing soils, how to take samples, and other phases of this work are urged to attend the meeting to be held in their community later on.

For information regarding this service we invite you to come by our office or drop us a note.

Band Sponsors Dance

Montevallo High School Band sponsored a square dance, Feb. 1, in the school auditorium. A total of $140 was added to the fund to buy majorette uniforms and new instruments.

Music was furnished by the Cofer Brothers from Siluria.

Robert Simpson, grandson of Mr. and Mrs .F. W. Rogan and student of Leeds High School, won the American Legion Medal for Oratory, which was the First Prize.

He will next enter the Jefferson County Contest.

DAR Chapter Met With Mrs. Wills

The February meeting of David Lindsay Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, which met at the home of Mrs. E. H. Wills, was attended by twelve members.

After the usual ritual and the pledge of allegiance, the President General's message was read by Mrs. Charles Gormley.

Miss Josephine Eddy read a most interesting article on Life with George Washington at Valley Forge During the Winter of 1777.

Mrs. Charles Gormley was elected delegate, with Mrs. W. J. Kennerly as alternate, to the State Conference of the DAR to be held at Selma March 10-12. Others who will attend this conference are Mrs. T. H. Napier, Mrs. A. W. Vaughn, Mrs. C. G. Sharp, and Mrs. W. H. Lyman.

Mrs. W. J. Kennerly read an instructive and entertaining paper on Historic Women, revealing some little known accomplishments of women of colonial days.

After the business meeting, a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

Foreign Educator Visits Our Schools

County Superintendent, W. W. Elliott, releases the following statement made by a foreign educator who spent January 6 to February 2 studying the school system of Shelby County:

"I spent here, in this lovely Shelby County, the first month of the New Year. Since I came here, till the departure, everywhere I found very nice (hot) friendship. Little and big every Columbians and Shelbians liked me, morning and evening, always were saying: 'Hello, how are you today Mr. Argun!' or 'Hey, Mr. Argun', like their own relative. This interesting made me very enjoy.

"Dear Mr. W. W. Elliott, an excellent friend. Shelby County can proud very much be to have a perfect Superintendent. He always in a great kindness and patient to help me. He showed and explained me everything and Shelby County Education System even the other education life. I never will forget his generousity. His office friends were also my friends, as in my country. I am very much oblige all of their help.

"My host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rogers' hospitality never will be wipe in my memories all my life.

"As I departure from Shelby County I should like to say (goodbye) all principles, teachers and students. My best wishes all of them and all Shelby Countians. God bless all of you. I am very proud to say carry your much love and respect to my country and to all Turks."

Tucker Finds Himself Sad and Glad

(Earl Tucker in Thomasville Times)

There was something a little sad about the Trumans leaving Washington the other day—you understand—just a little. I didn't break down and cry about it, or anything like that, and I haven't seen a great amount of weeping and wailing on the streets here in our town.

Eisenhower will be mighty lucky, though, if he gets by as well as Harry, because he is taking over the reins at a terrible time. People everywhere are restless and discontented. On top of that they're powerfully dissatisfied, and they have a right to be.

You take automobiles, for instance. It has been estimated that the manufacturers will turn out between five and six million new cars this year. People are already mad because they can't find a parking place for the ones they have. Too, most people are afraid to get on the road because of the danger of being included in the next report of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, and with that many cars in a hurry to get no place it's going to be almost suicidal to drive on our highways. Looks like 8-lane highways are our only hope: One for the drunk drivers. one for the fast drivers, one for the slow drivers and five for women drivers. Parents used to educate their children to be doctors and lawyers. Now they're trying to get them interested in the body repair business.

Ike has my sympathy. The working people are dissatisfied. Those under retirement age want the age limit lowered and those who have already retired are miserable because they don't have something to do. Everybody's unhappy.

Even the tobacco people aren't happy, although Americans are smoking faster than ever. Now they're asking us to tear cigarets down the seam, careful like, in order that we may see which one is the most something or other. If we can't smoke 'em, they ask us to tear 'em up.

Twenty-six million Democrats are mad because they lost and half of the thirty million Republicans are mad because they didn't get a job. That makes everybody mad except the farmers and they were already mad.

When our ancestors discovered this country they found the Indians taking fish and using 'em for fertilizer in the planting of corn. Now we go fishing and drink the corn. The Indians weren't mad with anybody until we got here. They had never heard of an income tax blank, a budget, national debt or a Russian, and they didn't have a chief who wrote hot letters and played the piano. The only time the men ever lost their tempers was when the women were slow about doing the work, which was enough to aggravate 'em.

Looks to me like we should feel sorry for Ike instead of Harry. It's fun to have a party, especially a twenty-year party, but it's always tough on the one who has to clean up after it's over.

It was a swell party, though, and we enjoyed it. Now we've got to re-learn that a poor man wasn't promised anything except ice water in the winter, a nap on Sunday afternoons and a fresh baby every year.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Dairyman Ned Bearden was in bed recovering from flu last week but he had a spreader busy putting nitrate on his bluegrass pasture. Besides the bluegrass, he has many acres of Fescue, Rescue, Crimson clover, ryegrass, etc. His 1951-52 Chapel Hill Rescue grass seed patch volunteered back to a thick stand. Mr. Bearden lost most of the coastal bermuda he planted last year, but expects to try again. We hope he won't have another drought.

T. W. Stubbs, just east of Mr. Bearden's place, plans a spring trial planting of rescue grass. He is getting his seed (Alabama grown, but variety unknown) from Montevallo Milling Co., which has some on hand.

Vocational teacher Knowles and his students were busily at work nitrating their C. H. Rescue patch planted late last fall. Other boys were turning ground for several acres of sweet potatoes, putting 4-10-7 on reseeding crimson clover, and heeling in 20,000 lespedeza bicolor plants. Here will be a spring planting of ball clover, too.

Maybe These Are the Reasons

Every week Alabama Power Company receives applications for jobs from hundreds of persons.

When asked why they want to work for Alabama Power Company, many say: "I've heard that it's a good company to work for."

Perhaps these are some of the things that cause them to think so:

1. Alabama Power Company is recognized as one of the agencies in Alabama which has done much to help develop Alabama and is highly regarded for its progressive viewpoint.

2. Due to the steady growth of the Company, there are frequent opportunities for advancement, work reassignments and transfers. Last year about 800 employees participated in such opportunities.

3. Employment, except for certain types of work temporary in nature, is not often subject to fluctuation. Employees can count on regular pay.

4. Rate of pay is good; vacation and sick leave policies are liberal.

5. All employees are covered by a life insurance policy, after their first six months of employment which increases with long service. Premiums are paid by the Company.

6. Eligible employees reaching age 65 are retired under a liberal pension plan, the entire expense of which is borne by the Company.

7. Employees are encouraged to participate in civic and other community activities. Many receive public commendation for their efforts and example of good citizenship.

8. The Company recognizes its responsibility to employees as well as to the public and to investors. This triple responsibility is included in our public statement of policy, in these words:

"We will continue to maintain congenial working conditions and just rates of pay, with an equal opportunity for advancement to every man and woman in our employ. We recognize a triple responsibility — to the public, to our employees and to investors — and our obligation to try to maintain a just balance among these three interests.

"We recognize that it is a duty and privilege to participate as a good citizen in the development of every community within our service area through the payment of taxes and otherwise, and to this end we pledge the services of the men and women of our organization."

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

Meat Type Hogs on The Preferred List

The average Alabama porker yields too much low priced lard and not enough lean, red meat.

G. B. Phillips, API Extension specialist in animal industry, points out that during the past year reduced lard prices have lowered hog prices an average of $1 per 100 pounds of live weight.

"The answer to this problem," says Phillips, "is a hog called the intermediate or meat type. And here is a simple method swine growers can use to see if they are producing such hogs. It's done by checking the length of carcass and thickness of fatback when the carcass is on the pole."

The specialist states that a 225 pound meat type market hog has a carcass length of about 30 inches from pelvic bone to front side of the first rib. The fatback is uniform in thickness, averaging about one and one-half inches.

Damp Litter Remedy For Poultry Flocks

Many North Alabama poultrymen are having damp litter trouble in broiler and brooder houses this season of the year.

John Weeks, API Extension poultry specialist, explains that the condition is caused by condensation of moisture given off by chicks and droppings.

"To correct damp litter," says Weeks, "it will be necessary to move more air through the house. This may be done by opening windows or replacing glass substitute window coverings on the south or east side of the house with muslin curtains. If windows are opened on only one side of the building, no draft will be created."

Grazing Small Grain

Grazing small grain beyond March 15 is not generally advisable if grain is to be harvested.

Seed For Sale

Alabama farmers who have seed to sell should let their local county agent know about it. He may be able to help them locate a market.

Low Milk Producers Culled

Low producers made up 61 per cent of all cows from county dairy herd improvement associations last year.

Best Ways To Keep Milk Quality High

Dairymen agree that high investment, feed, and labor costs make efficient dairy operation more necessary than ever.

"And one of the ways to realize the most profit from a dairy cow is to see that all the milk she produces reaches the plant as soon as possible," says Pete Turnham, assistant API Extension dairy specialist.

When the milk gets to the plant it should not have lost any of its high quality. Such milk assures that neither the producer nor distributor will lose money.

Turnham points out that high quality milk production does not call for expensive equipment, but there are certain requirements that must be met.

Steps to take include careful washing and rinsing of all utensils, proper cleaning of each cow's udder, prompt cooling of fresh milk, and effective insect and pest control.

Average State Farm Has Five Idle Acres

A million Alabama acres are lying idle according to the last census.

S. R. Doughty, API Extension soil conservationist, says this means that on the average farm in the state there are over five acres of land not contributing to the farm income.

He says that a great part of this land, if properly prepared, fertilized, and seeded, can produce profitable sod crops. In addition to providing grazing and hay, crops such as sericea, kudzu, and grass-legume mixtures will help control erosion.

Winter Grazing Tours

To observe and study winter grazing we are having two tours on Friday, February 13. We will be assisted by D. R. Harbor, Agronomist of Auburn.

It is important that all livestock producers make the most convenient tour and we are looking forward to seeing you Friday, February 13.

The tour will start at 8:45 a.m. at Lovick Stephenson Farm on the Dargin-Dogwood Road, then we will visit the R .W. Kent Farm, Siluria; King and Hinds Farm, Pelham; J. M. Denson Farm, and Dr. L. E. Sorrell Farm on the Cahaba Valley Road in the New Hope community. The tour will end at the Dr. Sorrell Farm about 11:30 a.m.

At 1:15 the tour will start at B. B. Mooney Farm in the Kingdom community, and then visit the Homer Talton, Brown Evans, C. H. Nash and Homer Jackson Farms.

The tour will close at the Homer Jackson Farm about 4:00 p.m.

Social Security For Self Employed

As a part of their insurance protection, at least 3 million self-employed persons soon will be able to point with confidence to Federal old-age and survivors insurance.

This statement was made today by M. C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham social security office. Mr. Folmar said that these individuals have full credit for their self-employment earnings after 1950 and so are fully insured for future payments as soon as they file their final 1952 income tax returns. To stay insured, they must continue to report their earnings and pay the social security tax once every year.

Among beneficiaries of social security now coming on the rolls, the average retirement payment to a man without dependents is $65 a month; for an aged couple the average is about $103 a month, and to a widow with two children, in the neighborhood of $130 a month.

Mr. Folmar urged all self-employed to keep accurate records and to be sure that the correct social security number and occupation are shown on the tax return and attached Schedule C-a as submitted. This Schedule C-a should be attached to all income tax returns showing net profit from self-employment of at least $400 a year.

Mr. Folmar also pointed out that since social security credits are based on accurate tax returns, it is greatly to the self-employed person's own interest that the return be entirely correct.

Education is a big business in Alabama. We are now spending approximately $85,000,000 per year, state and local tax funds for public elementary and high schools. With an investment of this size in the most important business in the State it is necessary that the people be informed as to the progress that is made each year, as well as some of the problems that command the constant attention of educational leaders and lay citizens of the State.

I am pleased to announce that many of the weekly and daily papers in the State have agreed to carry an article each week dealing with education in Alabama. I trust that every citizen in Alabama will read these articles and will feel free to write me at any time. It is our sincere desire to improve the schools of Alabama. If we can succeed in this, we shall improve life in the State in every way. Let us look at a few facts about our schools. These facts are presented to give an over-all view of the main factors in our school program and are based on annual reports for 1951-52:

College Night, Homecoming, Big Event At Alabama College This Week-End

Alabama College will be host to hundreds of Alumnae who will come to the campus from all parts of the nation during the 35th annual College Night and Homecoming festivities February 19, 20, and 21.

The traditional Homecoming program will be highlighted by luncheons, dinners, reunions, and the presentation of the 1953 Alumna-of-the-Year, selected from the college's most outstanding graduates.

MISS MILDRED ALFORD

Miss Mildred Alford, Gadsden graduate in the class of 1942, now Supervisor of Stewardesses for American Airlines at Fort Worth, Texas, has been singled out for this alumnae honor, according to Miss Eloise Lee, Alumnae Secretary.

Saturday, February 21, will be Homecoming Day when Alumnae activities is 1st place on the campus. Alumnae may register that day from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. in the Foyer of Reynolds Hall, or before and after each College Night performance, in Palmer Auditorium.

More than 48 Alumnae Daughters, students whose mothers attended Alabama College, will be serving as pages Homecoming Day when the morning will be devoted to tours of the campus and business meetings of the Alumnae Association.

Highlight of the day will be the annual Alumnae Homecoming Luncheon in the College Dining Room, honoring the Alumna-of-the-Year and Alabama College President and Mrs. F. Edward Lund. Alumnae and their husbands will be the guests of the College for this event.

From 4 to 5 p.m. Saturday afternoon the traditional Alumnae Association Tea will be held in the Foyer of Reynolds Hall, student Activitiy Building, with Alumnae Daughters serving.

Special meeting places have been set aside on campus for four alumnae classes to hold anniversary reunions during Homecoming. Mrs. J. J. Burns, of Spring Garden, Ala., is planning the golden anniversary reunion for the class of 1903. President of the class of 1928, celebrating its silver anniversary, is Mrs. H. H. McKinnon, of Arcadia, Calif. Miss Carolyn Blair, Maryville, Tenn., is president of the class of 1943, which will be holding its tenth reunion, and Mrs. Paul W. Green, of Talladega, Ala., is president of the class of 1948, holding its fifth reunion.

Alumna-of-the-Year Alford will arrive from Fort Worth, Texas, Friday, when she will be officially presented at the all-student College Night production that evening. As an undergraduate on the Montevallo campus, Miss Alford earned her B.S. degree with honors, in science and physical education. She was president of the Physical Education Club, member of Beta Beta Beta, honorary biology fraternity, and was named to the Dean's list each year.

Directing Homecoming plans and arrangements on the Montevallo campus is Mrs. Willilee R. Trumbauer, general chairman of the 1953 Homecoming. Faculty members of the Alumnae Association assisting her are Mrs. June Gentry, Miss Eloise Meroney, Miss Martha Allen, Dr. Katherine Vickery, Mrs. Virgina Barnes, Mrs. Lillian K. Ward, Mrs. Jessie F. McGaughy, and Miss Eloise Lee, all of Montevallo.

County Basket Ball Tournament

The annual basketball tournament for schools in Shelby County will get under way at Montevallo at 2 p.m. Friday with four junior high games. In the first round of play for the juniors, Thompson High of Siluria meets Wilsonville in the opener. Other games in the first round are Montevallo vs Vincent at 3 p.m.; Chelsea vs Columbiana at 4; and Calera vs Helena at 5.

The night session will find Columbiana vs Montevallo and Thompson vs Vincent in senior play. Calera drew a bye.

Semi finals will be held Saturday afternoon and the finals for both junior and senior high will be Saturday night.

The coaches and referees will pick all-county teams in both divisions.

Wilsonville is considered the top junior team.

A wild scramble should be in the offing in the senior high devision. Montevallo is defending champion having won for the past two years, but Calera and Columbiana seem to be favored this year.

Local Club Members Will Celebrate National FFA Week

Joining with more than 12,000 other F. F. A. members in Alabama, the 92 Montevallo F. F. A. members will be celebrating National F. F. A. Week next week. The annual week of celebration always falls during the week containing the date of George Washington's birthday. The future farmers feel that George Washington was one of the outstanding farmers and that we could well follow his example of efficiency and courage.

The local chapter will have an assembly program at the high school auditorium at which time the work of the F. F. A. will be explained. The chapter has recently placed signs alongside each of the paved roads leading into Montevallo. Alton Smitherman, president of Montevallo chapter, has been active during the year helping to keep items of the activity program going toward accomplishment. Members of the chapter are anxious to come even higher than the fourth place now held by the chapter in Alabama. Alabama has 252 active chapters with more than 12, members.

Learning to do by doing has long been an accepted practice among the F. F. A. boys. Earning and serving through items in an annual program has helped to develop respect and admiration from millions of our citizens throughout the U. S.

Recently the green hand unit of the chapter which consists of 35 members have constructed a building for a poultry processing unit. The building is completed and is now ready for wiring and installing necessary equipment for dressing poultry. It is expected that the unit will be in opeartion within 30 days.

The chapter will send judging teams to Auburn during March to compete in district finals in judging beef cattle, dairy cattle, and hogs. The chapter will also have a quartet competing in the county finals next week.

A A U W Meeting

The regular February meeting of the A. A. U. W. will be held Tuesday, Feb. 24, in Reynolds dining room at 7:30 p.m.

The topic for discussion will be: "Are the Public Schools Seedbeds of Un-American Ideas?"

Hostesses will be Miss Ellen Haven-Gould and Dr. Katherine Vickery.

D A R Chapters Announce Good Citizenship Girls

David Lindsay Chapter, Daughters of The American Revolution, is happy to announce the names of their Good Citizenship Girls: Joyce Belcher, Centreville; Mary Ruth Edmonds, West Blocton; Janice Wyatt, Clanton; and Martha Rose Askins, Calera. These girls, because of their qualities of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism were selected as the Good Citizenship Girl of their respective schools. They will attend the State Good Citizenship Pilgrimage in Montgomery on the 20 and 21 of this month.

MARTHA ROSE ASKINS
DAR Good Citizenship Girl
Of Shelby County

Martha Rose Askins of Shelby County lives in Calera and is a senior in the Calera High School. In school her record is a good one: President of the Beta Club. This club emphasizes scholarship and leadership. In her community Martha Rose is an outstanding citizen. She is a member of the 4-H Club. Also, Martha Rose is musical and is the organist in her church.

St. Andrews Church

A special service of prayer and meditation will be held each Thursday, February 19, and continuing till Easter.

The Rev. Robert Y. Marlow of St. Andrews Church in Birmingham will conduct these services, and will give an informal talk with opportunity for questions from the congregation at each meeting. Everyone is welcome, regardless of church affiliation.

The Montevallo Study Club will meet next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. M. L. Orr, Sr., with Mrs. M. Thornton as co-hostess.

Make A Date Give Some Blood Friday, March 13

Mr. M. S. McGehee has been named Recruitment Chairman of the Red Cross Blood Recruitment Program for Montevallo, and Mrs. T. E. Watson is to serve as Volunteer Chairman. According to Mr. McGehee the Bloodmobile will be in Montevallo Friday, March 13, from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m. at the High School Auditorium.

A new blood distribution policy has been adopted by the Birmingham Regional Blood Center of which Shelby County is a part. The new policy will go into effect in Shelby County March 15 and under the plan persons donating blood will receive a donor card. This card will entitle anyone in the family of the donor to receive Red Cross Blood including husband, wife, dependent parents and minor children. Donor cards will be issued to all who offer blood whether the individual is accepted or rejected and the cards will be valid for a six month period. Persons not required to have cards will be those over 60, emergencies, and patients in TB and VA hospitals.

Officials explain that the new plan was necessary because in spite of the energetic blood recruitment program during the past fourteen months the demand has far exceeded the supply.

Blood will continue to be supplied to the armed services from the blood centers and in addition blood will be furnished to the polio foundation to be used in the preparation of the new polio serium, Gamma Globulin.

Mr. McGehee urges all possible donors to make a date to give blood on March 13. Clip the pledge appearing elsewhere in this paper and return to the Montevallo chairman M. S. McGehee, Montevallo, Alabama.

Make a Date for March 13

Do you want to help save the life of a boy in the armed services?

Do you want to be assured that the necessary blood will be available if you or a member of your family need a transfusion?

The Bloodmobile will be at the Montevallo High School Auditorium FRIDAY, MARCH 13 between 1:00 and 6:00 p.m.

MAKE A DATE! SAVE A LIFE !

Golden Victory, Here We Come! Purples Can't Be Beat, Beat, Beat!

Montevallo has been echoing with crys of "Golden victory here we come" and "Purples can't be beat." Saturday night will prove one of the statements to be true.

Two seniors, June Segler and Mary Ann Blackwell, have been chosen to lead the Gold and Purple sides in Alabama College's 35th annual College Night program.

June, Gold leader, is a speech major from Dothan. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Segler. Her assistant is Pat Howe, Monroeville.

A social work major from Decatur, Mary Anne is the daughter of Mrs. I. H. Blackwell. Assisting her at the top of the Purple cabinet is Pat Harper of Demopolis.

Following the College Night tradition these girls were elected by the entire student body to serve as leaders of their sides. A cabinet of 22 members was then chosen for each side and the secrecy of planning the productions began.

Now after much writing, hammering, sewing, and rehearsing the two sides are ready to present their work to family, friends, alumnae, and most important of all, the judges. The productions will be staged three successive nights, Feb. 19, 20, and 21.

The week end is also the occasion of the college's homecoming. Four class reunions will be held; that of the classes of 1948, 1943, the 25th reunion of the class of 1928, and the 50th reunion of the class of 1903. The Alumna-of-the-Year will be an honored guest at all three performances as well as at several social functions attended by alumnae.

Alabama's Patch-Pants Constitution

(Montgomery Advertiser)

The generalization may be hazarded that American states commonly resist reapportionment of their legislatures and modernization of their constitutions. Ohio recently refused to rewrite its constitution the same as Alabama has been refusing since 1901.

The resistance to reapportionment in Alabama and elsewhere represents a mocking failure of our democracy. It simply means that many of us are not willing to abide by the fundamental rules of the game, which is toward representation in the legislature upon a basis of population. The refusal is as human as it is indefensible since in many cases a vote for reapportionment by a legislator is a vote to abolish his seat.

Alabama's Constitution directs that the legislature shall be reapportioned after each census. Congress systematically and rigorously reapportions, but Alabama has ignored its Constitution for half a century.

A constitutional convention to rewrite the Constitution, such as was done in 1901 and before, is not an easy issue to popularize. Somehow and rather fantastically it got into Folsom's 1946 huckster's kit, but he never generated any interest in the undertaking.

But for a state in which reapportionment is blocked and no one stays mad about the fact, it is not surprising that the rewriting of the Constitution has been blocked. For too many elements consider that a constitutional convention would prove a Pandora's box from which all manner of monsters and malicious pixies, nixes and elves would emanate.

For one thing, reapportionment could be got past the legislature with the Constitution opened up. That is but one example of the mischief, as some conceive mischief, that could be done.

But the Constitution is in need of rewriting. It is a vast patchwork with an untabulated number of amendments. That most of our state elections include proposed constitutional amendments is evidence of its inadequacy. At the present rate of amending and exemption it won't be long before half the counties live under one Constitution and half under quite another. Alabama's Constitution is many times the size of the U. S. Constitution, and it's growing fast.

Thompson High Beauty Contest

Plans are being made for a beauty contest to be held at Thompson High School Auditorium on Friday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. This event is being sponsored by the grounds beautification committee of the Parent Teachers Association. Mrs. John Kroell is chairman of this group.

The contestants are being sponsored by the various business houses of our school district. A record number of entries are expected, and a fine program has been planned in connection with this contest. Proceeds will go toward construction of new concrete walks on the Thompson High School campus.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Robert S. Waites, Helena, became a cooperator of the North Central Soil Conservation District this week. His first SCS assistance was in planning management of his sericea. Also, dallis grass was suggested as an addition to his white clover, orchard grass lowland pasture. He had seen his neighbor's (Earle Morgan's) coastal bermuda, and plans to plant a one acre patch to raise his own coastal bermuda stolons. Mr. Waites has engaged 400 lbs of Chapel Hill Rescue seed from the Columbiana FFA chapter.

Incidentally, FFA chapters at Vincent and Siluria are ready to list orders for this new grass.

New or revised conservation farm plans will be delivered to A. G. Ling, Chelsea; James M. Rowe, Jr., Vincent, and Earl Isbell, Dunnavant.

Joe D. Kinney is building two fescue meadow outlets about 2000 feet long to be planted this spring. Terraces to empty into them will be staked out by SCS this fall.

Mr. C. T. Wallace, Pea Ridge, had this to say about using nitrate to increase grazing: "I top dressed my crimson clover and rye grass inside my electric fence in January. That outside had no nitrate. My cattle are unable to keep up with the growth in the nitrated area, while that outside the fence is still as short as it was four weeks ago." He has staked out with SCS assistance, the last 4000 feet of terraces called for in his SCS water disposal plan.

FOR RENT or SALE—Business building on Middle Street. See Mrs. Harry Kendrick, phone 8411, Montevallo.

Mrs. R. E. DeSear visited her daughter, Mrs. Theo Embry, in Vincent this past week. They attended the showing of the broadway play "South Pacific" in Birmingham. Mr. DeSear drove up Sunday for the day.

The general program meeting of WMS will be held at the Baptist Church Monday afternoon at 3:30.

THINK

By. Dr. R. D. BROWN

Think for yourself and reason the proposition in your own mind, What is the logical result when the nerve supply is reduced to any particular organ of the body, or when these vital forces of health are unable to follow their normal channels due to interference?

Chiropractic adjustments not only restore health; they also build health. The old adage: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," may be considered trite, but it is sound truth.

The Chiropractic principle briefly stated is this: The cause of disease is in the person afflicted. Adjustments correct conditions that produce illness.

The junction of every organ in the body is controlled through the brain, by mental impulses, which are transmitted over nerves. Any impingement or pinching of the delicate nerve fibers, interfering with the free flow of vital nerve forces causes impaired or abnormal function. This is disease. This nerve interference is produced by a vertebral subluxation.

The chiropractor-expert in his knowledge of the spine—locates the point of nerve pressure, and by adjusting the subluxated vertebra, releases the pressure. Normal condition—Health—is the result.

Main office located in Centreville, Ala. Montevallo office open from 9 a.mm. to 5:30 p.m. each Thursday. Located in Ben Franklin Building next to Owen Bridges.—Adv.

Cast Nemad For Caesar's Ghost

Miss Iris Kirkpatrick, Director of the Junior Class Play, "Great Caesar's Ghost", announces the cast: Mary McIntosh, Othella Garrett, Marian Davidson, Eugene Brett, Claudette Hinds, Howard Moore, Jeannine Sides, Edward Brasher, Ann Davenport, James Davis, Mason Green and Sammie Street.

The play written by William D. Fisher, and published by the Heuer Publishing Company, features a nice, tame, pet ghost, which makes "Great Caesar's Ghost" a most unusual farce for the amateur stage.

The play will be presented on the evening of March 6 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Taft Bishop, Jr. Is Made PFC.

With the 40th Infantry Division in Korea — Taft Bishop, Jr., whose parents live on Rt. 1, Siluria, has been promoted to private first class while serving with the 40th Infantry Division.

World War II veterans will remember this same division joined in the assault landing at Lingayen, Luzon of the Phillipine Islands in early 1945 and drove toward Manila running into heavy fighting in the Fort Stotsonburg area and the Bambam Hills.

Bishop is assigned as a radio telephone operator in Battery A of the 555th Field Artillery Battalion. He entered the Army in September 1951 and came to the Far East Command last July from Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report has reorganized and is destined to play a big part in the new Administration's government reorganization programs. Activated in 1947, the Hoover Commission, as it is most often called, dissolved in June, 1952 in order "to avoid becoming involved in campaigns and elections."

Since its founding the Commission has advocated major changes in various parts of the government. A spokesman for the Commission says it is presently backing 20 specific proposals which it has unsuccessfully pushed the past two years. Among the proposals are those to reorganize the Executive Branch of the government so as to give more adequate assistance to the President; decentralize Civil Service operations and make it easier for personnel to transfer from one agency to another; and do away with Senate confirmation of postmaster appointments in order to curb political favoritism.

Congress has tackled problems of changes in government since 1912, but no significant developments came until 1947. One of the most recently publicized plans adopted by Congress was a law passed in 1952 which placed all jobs in the Bureau of Internal Revenue under Civil Service except that of the top Commissioner. Under the law the 64 offices of Collector of Internal Revenue were abolished.

Current interest in government changes is pointed out by the 16 reorganization bills introduced by one House member on the opening day of the present Congress. Numerous other bills of this nature have been offered since then. Although some of the proposed changes have gained popularity, others remain highly controversial.

The Hoover Commission has not yet given up hope for plans it recommended in 1949 to establish a Department of Social Security and Education and to combine all public health functions into one major department. Bills to this effect have been introduced this year and are now being studied by the Government Operations Committee. When former President Truman endorsed bills to make the Federal Security Agency a department in 1949, Congress rejected the plans along with similar proposals by the Hoover Commission.

Another development in the reorganization drive took place recently when President Eisenhower signed into law a bill which gives him executive reorganization power until April 1, 1955. Truman used the same powers from 1949-1952. The law allows the President to submit to Congress plans for changing government departments. Such plans become law 60 days after they are submitted unless disapproved by vote of a constitutional majority of either the House or Senate. A constitutional majority is a majority of all the House and Senate members, rather than the majority of those who are present when the voting takes place.

With the renewed interest in reorganization of the government, this year could see big changes in some branches of the national government.

Veterans Testify

Representatives from three major veterans groups appeared at our recent Veterans Affairs Committee meeting to give their suggestions for this year's legislative program.

Those who testified were from the American Legion, AMVETS, and Disabled American veterans. They told the Committee they would be against any efforts to increase the present four per cent interest rate on GI home loans. They also recommended approval of an emergency $15 million appropriation for the VA hospital program in order to prevent it from "futher deterioration."

The chairman of our Committee has notified me that I am to serve on two Veterans Affairs subcommittees. These are Administration and Finance in the Veterans Administration, and Insurance. The study and research which will be my duty as a member of these subcommittees, will, I am sure, be of tremendous interest.

Attends Scout Meeting

I was very pleased to be one of about 60 guests paying tribute to the Boy Scouts of America recently at a breakfast commemorating their 43rd Anniversary. Present on this occasion were several cabinet members and Congressmen and a group of outstanding Scout Leaders from over the nation. During the breakfast, we were given a review of the major Scout plans for this year, including a gigantic jamboree in California in July.

After this event, the Boy Scouts went to see President Eisenhower. They later visited the Spureme Court and other branches of the government.

Freedom Crusade Feb. 23 to March 2

Montevallo's Crusade for Freedom drive is scheduled for the week of February 23 through March 2. The announcement was made today by Herbert Henry, Montevallo chairman for the drive to obtain funds to combat communism in Europe and Asia.

From the contributions received, the Crusade for Freedom has erected radio transmitters throughout Europe and broadcasts to the millions of people behind the Iron Curtain. Known as Radio Free Europe these programs bring the captive people their own music, literature, history and religion—all banned by communism. These programs also report on missing persons, send messages from escapees and spike Red propaganda by broadcasting accurate news.

Radio Free Europe first began broadcasting July 4, 1950, from a small shortwave transmitter in the Frankfurt area of Western Germany. On its program Czech exiles speak to Czechs, Poles speak to Poles, Hungarians speak to Hungarians, etc. The broadcasts are entirely in terms of the interests of the imprisoned peoples, designed to keep alive their hope of freedom, and to continually remind them that the Free World has not forgotten their cause.

Radio Free Asia broadcasts to the Far East in Mandarin, Cantonese, Kakka and English.

$4,000,000 is needed to support and expand the activities of Radio Free Europe and Radio Free Asia in sending the truth behind the Iron Curtain.

More short-wave transmitters are needed in Portugal where Radio Free Europe is now laying down the sharpest and strongest short-wave signal in Europe.

This year, each contributor is asked to personalize his contribution by signing a "Freedom-Gram", a message that will be delivered to some person or family in Europe or Asia. Each "Freedom-Gram" will bear the name, address and occupation of the donor and will be translated into one of seven languages for ultimate delivery. It is anticipated that many replies will be received from these "Freedom-Grams" and a special translator service has been established, to translate the replies to English.

Liberty National Stockholders Annual Meeting

Liberty National Life Insurance Company held the annual meeting of its stockholders on Feb. 17, 1953 in the auditorium in the Home Office of the Company in Birmingham, Alabama. At this meeting, President Frank P. Samford read a detailed report of the operations of the Company during 1952 and expressed extreme gratification at the fine progress made during that year. The financia. statement of the Company as of December 31, 1952 will be found in this paper. President Samford released the following statement:

"The growth of the Company during 1952 was most gratifying; with total assets of more than $126 million the Company has now become one of the larger financial institutions in Alabama and an important one in the South and in the nation. The accumulation of capital in the South will play an important part in the future development of our section and during 1952 over $14 million was loaned on mortgages to enable families to acquire homes and to assist in the financing of businesses of all types. Nearly $10 million was also loaned to governmental and corporate enterprises which supply the jobs and payrolls in our country.

"We at Liberty National like to feel that the continued growth of the Company comes as a result of the service we render. The year 1952 has been one of active service on the part of Liberty National. One definite measure of the extent of our service is evidence by the fact that during the year over 26,000 claims were paid. This means there was ready money available to meet the needs of the families throughout our territory at a time when the need was the greatest. The fact that over $7 million was disbursed in 1952 to policyowners and beneficiaries is another measure of that service.

"The Company ended 1952 with over three million individual policies outstanding on the lives of policyowners residing in all of the 48 states. There are more than 1,200 well-trained and courteous field representatives who are available to assist the people of our area in intelligently planning their insurance programs.

"Our firm resolve will be to continue to serve—and to serve well."

An institution grows in proportion to the service it renders. In serving the people of the area in which it operates, the Company paid over 26,000 claims during 1952 and disbursed more than $7,000,000 to policyowners and beneficiaries. Over $14,000,000 was loaned on mortgages to enable families to acquire homes and to assist in the financing of businesses of all types. Nearly $10,000,000 was loaned to governmental and corporate enterprises which supply the jobs and the payrolls in our land.

We at Liberty National like to feel that our continued growth comes as a result of such service. During 1952 insurance protection owned by policyowners increased over $70,000,000 while resources for the protection of policyowners increased $17,000,000.

To continue to serve—and serve well—is our firm resolve.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

My week's activities were highlighted by three busy sessions of Congress; a Veterans of Foreign Wars dinner; meeting with Billy Graham; and introduction to both the 1952 presidential candidates.

Following two days of debate, the House approved a supplemental appropriation bill to make up for deficiencies in certain 1952 funds. An amendment to add $20.5 million to the appropriation for federal assistance to overcrowded schools in defense areas was approved by a large majority. On the other hand, the House turned down an amendment to restore $10 million to the Veterans Administration for hospital purposes. Although the $20.5 for schools was added to the bill after it reached the floor of the House, the entire amount was still almost $1.4 billion below the budget estimates.

After three meetings during the week, our Veterans Affairs Committee completed discussions relating to the medical program of the Veterans Administration. Admiral Joel T. Boone, the VA's Chief Medical Director, testified during two meetings; and on the third day chief speaker was James W. Cothran, VFW national Commander. A number of state VFW Commanders appeared with Mr. Cothran.

Meets Stevenson

Events in Washington last Sunday and Monday were reminiscent of the pre-election days of 1952. The first day, Stephen Mitchell, national chairman of the Democratic Committee, entertained at a reception honoring the Democratic members of Congress and their wives. Principal guest on this occasion was Gov. Adlai Stevenson. The following day Stevenson was honored guest at an informal meeting in the House Office Building where he talked with members of Congress and their staffs. Gov. Stevenson is certainly an able and colorful speaker, and it is easy to see why he made such a fine impression on the American people in his unsuccessful campaign for president last fall.

President is Guest

That evening the events were reversed and the spotlight shone on President and Mrs. Eisenhower when the Congressional Women's Club entertained in their honor. Sharing the position of honor on this occasion were Vice President and Mrs. Nixon. After attending all three functions, I felt I had set a new record for myself, and probably one that will not be repeated, in meeting and talking with four major figures of the past election within a 24 hour period. The fourth major figure, of course, Senator Sparkman who, with Mrs. Sparkman, attended both the receptions.

About 60 Congressmen attended our Breakfast Club meeting Thursday to hear the Rev. Billy Graham speak on his recent visit with the American troops in Korea.

He opened his talk by describing the "breathtaking beauty" of Korea and how scenic the country would be if it were not barred by the scars of war. As he began to speak, I was particularly impressed by his youthful, neat appearance and the vivid manner in which he related the high points of his Korean trip.

He remarked that his reactions to Korea were three-fold, political, military, and spiritual, and he continued to explain each subject. He said the South Koreans, including President Syngman Rhee, agree that Korea cannot survive as a separated nation and will one day be united either as a democracy or under communism. Graham was told that 90 per cent of the North Koreans were disgusted with communism.

On the military question, his conclusion was that the 8th Army is the finest in American history. He said the commanders were outstanding and that he was amazed at the moral and spiritual leadership given the troops.

"In spite of the horrible suffering and tragedy," he said, "great spiritual good is coming out of the conflict." He explained how religion is sweeping over Korea among our men as well as natives of the country. This is evidenced by the growth of churches. Before the war there were only 7 churches in Pusan; today there are 70, many of them holding services at six o'clock in the morning.

Stassen Speaks

Principal speaker at the Veterans of Foreign Wars annual dinner honoring members of Congress was Harold Stassen, new director of the Mutual Security Agency.

Stassen gave the first public report on his recent visit to Europe where he observed phases of our foreign economic aid programs. He spoke to a large audience which included many members of Congress and top military leaders.

In addition to Stassen's talk, General Bradley himself presented the Omar N. Bradley gold medal award to the president of Scripps-Howard newspaper association who accepted it in behalf of Jim G. Lucas, war correspondent. Lucas is still in Korea where he writes daily reports of the conflict as it affects individual soldiers.

It was my pleasure to attend this dinner with other members of the Alabama delegation as the guest of David U. Patton, Alabama State VFW commander and John A. (Buck) Jenkins, deputy vice-commander.

Superintendent of the Shelby County School System, Mr. W. W. Elliott, of Columbiana, payed a visit to our office this week. I was on the floor of the House at the time and did not have an opportunity to see him. I certainly hope that on his next visit to Washington I will have the pleasure of both seeing and talking with him.

College Night Is Dedicated To Harrison D. LeBaron

HARRISON D. LeBARON

Harrison D. LeBaron, head of the school of music at Alabama College, was honored by the college's entire student body when College Night, the school's annual all-student dramatic production, was dedicated to him Saturday night.

The dedication was made by Betty Joe Benton, president of the Student Government Association, in recognition of Professor LeBaron's 23 years of service to students as a member of the Alabama College music faculty.

A native of Whitman, Mass., Professor LeBaron taught at Western College, Oxford, Ohio; Adrian College, Adrian, Mich.; and Ohio Weslayan prior to joining the Alabama College faculty in 1930. He received his A.B. degree from Harvard, his M.A. from Cornell and holds a music diploma from the New England Conservatory of Music.

A member of the National Musicians Association, the American Guild of Organists, the Music Library Association, and the American Musicological Association, LeBaron has had articles published in national music magazines.

American Legion Oratorical Contest

The Shelby County American Legion Oratorical Contest was held at the Calera City Hall, Friday afternoon, February 20. Dan Whetstone and Nancy Walton were the contestants. Whetstone spoke on "The People's Constitution—Ours to Defend." Miss Walton's topic was "An American Citizen's Rights and Responsibilities Under the Constitution." Whetstone was adjudged the winner by a close margin of points. He was awarded $10 as first prize and Miss Walton was awarded $5.

Whetstone is a Senior at Montevallo High School and Miss Walton is a Senior II at Calera High School. Whetstone is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Whetstone of Wilton and Miss Walton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Walton, Jr., of Wilmington, Delaware.

The Oratorical Contest is part of the youth program of the American Legion. It is designed to instill a spirit of patriotism in the youth of America. More than 300,000 students participated in this program and the Essay contest in 1952.

We Salute The World's Largest Farm Boy Organization, F.F.A.

Future Farmers everywhere have celebrated National F. F. A. Week this week and have come again to realize that the F. F. A. is continuing to grow and become respected as the world's largest farm boy organization. "We believe in the future of farming with a faith born not of words but of deeds . . . " thus begins the creed of the Future Farmer. Young men with an organized educational procedure aiming at greater era of farming and an approach toward a better educated citizenry . . . these are the F. F. A. boys.

The F. F. A. is trying through an organized activity program to help each boy through group and individual activities. Through the F. F. A. a boy can:

1. Face the future with confidence.
2. Believe in himself and respect his fellowman.
3. Study vocational agriculture and become a practical scientific farmer
4. Think clearly and work efficiently.
5. Recognize challenging problems and opportunities.
6. Be cooperative, friendly, courteous, and honest.
7. Receive training in leadership and citizenship and serve effectively for home, community, and nation.
8. Bring a new era of agriculture and rural living.

Montevallo has 92 active F. F. A. members and the chapter is one of the 252 chapters in the state. Montevallo has gained fourth place in the state-wide chapter contest.

During March the chapter will send judging teams to Auburn to compete in judging dairy cattle, beef cattle and swine. The chapter also has a quartet in the county contest.

Some important things Montevallo F. F. A. is working toward:

1. Production of quality food products for local farmers market.
2. Poultry processing units to help in sale of poultry produced locally.
3. Improving livestock through selection and use of improved sires.
4. Coordination of agricultural effort with business and industry.
5. Community improvement through special classes for adults and community services.
6. Better living for farm families through producing more food for the family and feed for the livestock.
7. Emphasizing importance of the sow, the cow, and the hen.
8. Special effort toward soil conservation and improvement.
9. Cooperative endeavor with all agencies functioning for the general welfare.
10. Better citizenship through citizenship training.

One of those movie studioes is trying to film "Don Juan in Hell", but can't find any actors willing to go on location!

A man should never ask a woman to marry him and make him the happiest man in the world. She can't do both.

Montevallo B T U Enlargement Week

March 1 through 7 will be set aside as Training Union Enlargement Week for Baptist of the Montevallo area, according to Mrs. W. G. Hicks, Training Union Director of the First Baptist Church, Montevallo.

Highlighted by a Training Union Study Course at the Church each evening Monday through Friday, taught by State Training Union workers from the Baptist Executive Department in Montgomery, the enlargement campaign will begin Sunday, March 1, with a Training Union executive council meeting and supper at the Church at 5 p.m.

Another feature devent of next Sunday will be the evening worship service when James Whaley, associate in the State Training Union Department will be guest speaker.

Each evening, Monday through Friday, courses will be taught in Training Union methods, beginning at 7 p.m. There will be courses for each department of the Training Union, including leadership courses. There will be a class for every age group.

Although the primary aim of this Training Union Enlargement Campaign is to enroll all church members in Training Union, according to Mrs. Hicks, it is hoped that many others, regardless of church membership will attend the Training Union Study Course and take an active part in Training Union activities.

Training Union meets regularly each Sunday evening at 6:45. There are departments for each age group, from nursery through the adults. Rev. Edward H. Glover is pastor of the Montevallo Baptist Church.

Golds Are Victors In College Night

The 35th annual College Night climaxed the Homecoming Day activities last Saturday night with the Golds as the judges choice.

More than 1600 students and friends of the college including over 300 Alumnae, broke into loud cheers as the judges' decision was read by Miss Betty Jo Benton, Student Government Association president and master of ceremonies.

The Golds presented "Even the Gods", an all student play written, directed and produced under the leadership of June Segler of Dothan and Pat Howe of Monroeville. Director was Elsie Singley of Greensboro.

The mascots for the two sides created quite a sensation. The Purples this year had a purple calf. A harmless vegetable dye gave the desired effect. The Golds' mascot was a "lion", actually the assistant leader's brother, Lynn Howe dressed in a lion costume of gold with a huge brown mane.

The Purples' production, directed by Sue Dobbins of Gadsden, was "West Goes East" or "When Twains Collide."

West End Senior Wins Legion Contest

Paul Smith, senior from Birmingham's West End High School won the Fifth District American Legion Oratorical contest held in Comer Hall on the campus of Alabama College, Tuesday night.

Smith, whose oration on the Constitution of the United States, won the first prize of $25, will compete with other Alabama district winners in area competition at Auburn, Alabama on March 5.

The West End High School student has been coached by Miss Kathleen Draper. Dan Whetstone, senior from Montevallo High School, was the other finalist in the Fifth District Competition. Whetstone was coached by Guy Milford of the Montevallo High School faculty.

Conrad Fowler of Columbiana, chairman of the American Legion Fifth District Oratorical Contest presented Smith with the prize money. Leonard M. Davis of the Alabama College department of Speech introduced the contestants and was in charge of judges and timekeepers.

G. I. Training On The Farms

Montgomery, Feb. 23 — Only World War II veterans taking institutional-on-farm training under the G. I. Bill (Public Law 346) are required to submit reports of their 1952 earnings to VA regional offices by March 1.

Harley A. Smith, Alabama Regional Office Manager of the VA, said there had been some misunderstanding about trainees who must submit this report. There are other reporting periods for other types of trainees.

Failure to submit the report by the deadline, Smith warned, may result in discontinuance of GI subsistence until such time as the reports reach VA.

World War II institutional-on-farm trainees who haven't yet received forms may obtain them from their instructors.

These prices prevail for ONE WEEK or until quantities are exhausted.

Future Teachers Of America

University, Ala.,—Future Teachers of America from the 130 high school and college units in Alabama will hold their annual state convention on the University of Alabama campus March 6 and 7.

Martha Knight, state FTA president and University student from Tuscaloosa, said the outstanding feature of the program will be an address Saturday by the editor of the National Education Association "Journal." He is Dr. Joy Elmer Morgan, nationally recognized as official spokesman for the American teaching profession.

Small discussion groups will consider problems and rewards of teacher training. Student leaders and experienced teachers will meet with each section. A general business session will be included on the two-day program.

The delegates to the convention will be guests of the Department of Speech and the University Theatre at the Friday night performance of Shakespeare's "Macbeth," by the University Theatre. This drama will be presented in Morgan Auditorium.

The 400 to 500 future teachers who will attend the convention will be housed in on the main University campus.

Arrangements for the convention are being made by Miss Knight; Dr. Ralph M. Roberts; and Dr. Marjorie Swift, adviser for the University unit of FTA.

The A. C. Anderson FTA Club is located at Alabama College, Montevallo. Reba Autrey is president and Dr. Charles L. Gormley is sponsor for the future teachers.

The Olivia Lawson FTA Club is located at Thompson High School, Siluria. Kittye Crumpton is president and Mrs. Clemmie Bradley is sponsor.

The Study Club

The Montevallo Study Club held it's annual business meeting Tuesday afternoon, February 24, at the home of Mrs. M. L. Orr, Sr., with Mrs. M. Thornton as co-hostess.

Annual reports were presented by each committee chairman. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. M. L. Orr, Jr.; Vice-President, Mrs. A. C. Anderson; Treasurer, Mrs. W. J. Kennerly; Secretary, Mrs. C. O. Nordan; and Parliamentarian, Mrs. L. H. Hubbard.

Refreshments were served and a social hour was spent with the hostesses.

Yomaso Club Conduct Drive

Montevallo's Yomaso Club will handle the Crusade for Freedom Drive in the Montevallo area it was announced today by Mrs. Don Lovelady, club president.

Actual solicitation of funds that will be used to help combat Communism will occur during the week of March 2-7. Yomaso Club members will canvass the Montevallo area as one of the club's projects.

The local drive is a part of the nation wide effort to obtain funds to construct additional "Radio Free Europe" and "Radio Free Asia" radio transmitters. Programs are now being broadcast over existing transmitters giving accurate news, names of missing people and any news or information that will help combat Communism.

One of the features of the 1953 drive is the "Freedom-Gram." This is a simulated telegram that may be signed by each donor urging the recipient residing behind the Iron Curtain to listen to radio programs produced by "Radio Free Europe" and "Radio Free Asia."

Southern Bell Spokesman At The High School

Students and faculty members learned the latest developments in telephone communications when J. E. Davis, public relations department, Southern Bell Telephone Company, spoke at the Montevallo High School Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Davis briefly outlined the advances in communications from the days of the Indian smoke signal to the present and demonstrated the micro-wave relay system of transmitting long distance telephone calls and television.

Using miniature relay stations, the speaker demonstrated how the micro-waves are transmitted from a station. He pointed out that the waves travel in straight lines across the earth thus necessitating placing stations about every 50 miles.

Mr. Davis explained that more than 50 television programs and thousands of telephone conversations can be carried over one relay system.

High School Photos Shown

Seventy-two prize winning photographs made by high school students in all parts of the country, are now being exhibited at the Montevallo High School. The exhibit will remain through March 6.

Selected from among winners in the Fifth Annual (1950) National High School Photographic Awards, the display includes the first, second, and third prize winners in each of the four classes into which the contest was divided. All Special Merit and First Honorable Mention prize wining prints are also included in the show. The National High School Photographic Awards is a picture taking competition sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company.

Featured in the exhibit is the Grand Prize winning photograph made by Georgia Harwood, a student at Madeira School, Greenway, Virginia. This photograph "Summer Surf" shows three young girls running barefoot along a wave-washed beach. This is the first time a picture taken by a girl has won the coveted top awards, totaling $600 in cash.

The photographs in the exhibition represent the work of students from the ninth to the twelfth grade inclusive. A total of $3,500 in cash was divided into 337 awards. While prints entered in the contest were no larger than 7x7 inches, the maximum size permitted, the salon prints sent out by Kodak for this exhibition are enlargements displayed in 12x15 inch mounts.

The exhibit features a wide range of subject matter. Every thing from photographs of school activities to beautiful scenics, exciting action studies, and scenes of everyday life are included in the display.

Judges in this year's National High School Photographic Awards were C. K. Eaton, director, Department of Photography, Art Center School, Los Angeles; Dr. Joseph M. Murphy, director, Columbia University Scholastic Press Association; and K. W. Williams, manager, Photographic Illustrations Division, Eastman Kodak Co.

The 1952 National High School Photographic Awards is already in progress. Further information can be obtained from the National Scholastic Press Association, 18 Journalism Building, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis 14, Minn.

The public is cordially invited to come up to the high school to see the exhibit.

New Policy For Blood Distribution

At a meeting in Birmingham, March 9, the co-ordinating commitee of the Birmingham Regional Blood Center meeting in Birmingham agreed to adopt a new policy for the distribution of blood from the center.

This new policy will go into effect in Shelby County, March 15, 1953.

The policy adopted provides that in the future only these persons covered by a donor card will be eligible to receive Red Cross Blood except for emergencies. Persons covered by Red Cross donor cards include husband, wife, dependent parents and minor children. (Minor children to be defined as children under 18 years of age, dependent parents to be defined as dependent for blood needs, i.e., unable to be blood donors themselves.

Donor cards will be issued at time of donation of blood by Blood Program staff and to those who come to give but are rejected. The cards will be stamped as valid for a six months period.

In spite of energetic blood recruitment, for the past fourteen months, the demand has exceeded the supply in all but two months of the period. The individual card plan seems to be the only answer to the problem.

The shipment of the blood and blood plasma to the armed services will be continued and the center will also do its part in contributing to the Gamma Globulin program.

Dollar Saver Is Remodeling

In keeping with his policies of providing Montevallo with the most modern grocery store, Mr. Melvin Kendrick of The Dollar Saver announces that he has completed the installation of many new fixtures and new equipment to better and more completely serve the public. Mr. Kendrick invites everyone to visit his store and see these improvements in addition to comparing his prices and quality.

"This is just the beginning of the plans I have for reconditioning the store," according to the owner.

Corn

Let us continue to work toward our objective of raising Shelby County's corn yield to 30 bushels of corn per acre. To make high yields of corn we should select good corn land, get good seed, plenty of fertilizer, and nitrate for side dressing.

More Money For REA Telephones

The Times has received a telegram from Senators Lister Hill and John Sparkman and Congressman Armistead Selden as follows:

"Delighted to advise REA has just approved second loan to Leeds Telephone Co., in amount of $141,000 to cover increased construction cost finance construction of 13 additional miles of line and provide improved service to approximately 1500 subscribers in Shelby, Jefferson and St. Clair Counties."

Miss Walton Is Home Ec Speaker

Miss Dottie Walton, County Health Nurse, spoke on the training, possibilities, and responsibilities of a nurse on February 19, concluding the study of Home Care of the Sick by the second year homemaking class of the Montevallo High School.

In her talk, Miss Walton said that a nurse now has a choice of the type training she gets. She may choose the regluar hospital school where she would obtain only the title of Registered Nurse, or she may decide that she wants the collegiate program, in which she will get the R.N. and a B.S. degree from the college she chooses to enter. The desirable qualities of a student nurse are about the same where ever she goes. She must be in good health, be a good student; she should like people, have sympathy and understanding for her patients, and show good judgement and courage in all situations.

"After the training is finished," Miss Walton said, "there are many and varied possibilities for a nurse, all with good pay. For those who want to wait on patients there are always positions in the hospitals." Miss Walton explained that nurses who are attracted by the glamour of an administrative position can go into supervisory work and those who are willing to go to school a little longer can do special work. If interested in preventative health, the nurse may take some special training and apply for work in the health department. These are only a few of the possibilities for nurses as described by Miss Walton.

Miss Walton pointed out that there are many responsibilities which go along with being a nurse. The nurse is responsible for her own health, the health of her community and nation, and above all, for the welfare of her patient. "Don't worry about the field being over crowded, for those who want to be on top, and put out the effort to be, there is always a position," said Miss Walton.

For several weeks prior to Miss Walton's talk on nursing as a career, the Home Economics II girls had studied methods and techniques of Home Care of the Sick. They learned a variety of ways to improvise equipment such as backrest, bed trays, bed cradles, and footrests from cardboard boxes to aid in making the patient more comfortable and to save the time and energy of the home nurse. They also learned how to detect symptoms of illness, how to properly feed patients, and to give daily care to the patient and the sickroom. — Betty McCaa, Student Teacher, Montevallo High School.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

About 35 Alabama businessmen were in Washington during the past week to discuss legislative recommendations with members of Congress from the State. Representatives of the Associated Industries of Alabama met with us to outline proposed action on pending bills which tie in with the legislature program they advocate.

Following the meeting, the delegates lunched with their particular Congressmen. Sixth District businessmen who attended and later dined with me included J. L. Morrison, L. Yon, and A. B. Morrison, all of Greensboro; J. W. Mustin, Jr., H. D. Warner, and Phillip H. Zuiderhoek, of Tuscaloosa.

The main topic of discussion with AIA members concerned economy. The representatives pointed out their belief that an efficient government can operate on a much smaller budget, and they urged their Congressmen to use influence in promoting economy whenever possible. They presented views on a number of bills which concerned wasteful and unnecessary spending, taxation, federal controls, (they recommend end of all controls except necessary allocation of materials used for defense production), labor problems, social security, submerged lands, treaties, and other miscellaneous subjects.

All the businessmen were well acquainted with details of their proposed legislative program, and it was certainly beneficial for us to receive their constructive views.

Represents University

It was my pleasure last Monday to represent the University of Alabama at ceremonies marking the inauguration of Hurst Robins Anderson as new president of the American University in Washington.

The dedication address was given by Bishop G. Bromley Oxman of the Methodist Church. Among the other principal speakers during the day's events were former Vice President Alben Barkley and Senator John J. Sparkman of Alabama who is a member of the Board of Trustees for the school.

Legislative Notes

The House and Senate approved a bill to give the Federal Housing Administration an additional $500 million for use in its mortgage insurance program. The bill was sent to the White House, ready for the President's signature or veto. Several members of the Senate Banking Committee have introduced a bill to give the President temporary standby authority to order a 90 day wage, price, and rent freeze. This would make it legal for the President to enforce controls for 90 days at any time it appears wages and prices are getting out of hand and tending to cause inflation. At a Governor's conference at the White House last week it was decided to establish a special bipartisan commission which would recommend legislation to eliminate duplication of federal and state powers and functions, particularly in taxation and social security. Attending the meeting with the President and the governors were several congressional leaders. There will be more news about this study of federal-state relations when members of the proposed commission are named.

Chairman Reed of the House Ways and Means Committee hints that legislation to extend social security coverage to more people will not be acted upon this year. President Eisenhower himself has urged action on this legislation, but Rep. Reed says the problem is so large that it will take a long time to complete study of the present social security system. He has appointed a special committee to undertake this study. The House passed a bill this week to make funds of $300,000 available to the House Un-American Activities Committee for its communistic investigations.

Three To Play In All-State Bands

Sigrid Lund, bell lyra; Marcia Trumbauer, flute and Johnny Ziolkowski, trumpet, who represented Montevallo in the district band tryouts at Fairfield High School were chosen to play in the All-State Bands.

The bands will meet and rehearse in Tuscaloosa March 23 and 24 with nationally known directors and present a concert on Tuesday night at 7:30 in Foster auditorium.

Make a Date for March 13

Do you want to help save the life of a boy in the armed services?

Do you want to be assured that the necessary blood will be available if you or a member of your family need a transfusion?

The Bloodmobile will be at the Montevallo High School Auditorium FRIDAY, MARCH 13 between 1:00 and 6:00 p.m.

MAKE A DATE! SAVE A LIFE !

Your Red Cross

Disaster strikes in Arkansas and immediately the nationwide resources of the Red Cross are mobilized for aid to the victims.

A Pennsylvania serviceman in Korea needs advice and help with a problem at home and gets it from the Red Cross field director attached to his unit.

Every day throughout the nation and the world the Red Cross contribution you make here at home is at work—in your behalf—to relieve distress, save a life, comfort the stricken. Your dollars make Red Cross service possible wherever and whenever it is needed.

That is why the Red Cross emblem should be on your lapel—a sign that you have given—a symbol to be worn proudly. It will be your mark of personal identification with a great humanitarian cause. It means that you care enough about your neighbor—across the street or across the nation—to extend him a helping hand in his hour of need.

It is also a vivid reminder to others to share in this spirit of giving so that no call for help need go unanswered, no matter where or when it rises. This year, more than ever, in a still troubled world, wear your Red Cross emblem to remind others—that there is need and that they may share in meeting it as you have.

Drama Festival At Montevallo

Drama students from Shades Valley, West End and Ensley high schools will participate with students from seven other Alabama high schools in Alabama College's annual drama festival to be held on the Montevallo campus Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week.

DR. W. H. TRUMBAUER

Dr. Walter H. Trumbauer, director of the Alabama College Theatre, announces that plans for the 1953 festival are more varied and more creative than in past years. Plans call for the presentation of nine plays, demonstration of try-out methods, costume remodeling, screen settings and lighting and scenery demonstrations. Dr. Trumbauer will conduct workshop discussions in theatre equipment, properties, scenery and techniques.

Visiting high school students will be guests of the College's Student Government Association at a special production of "Even the Gods." winning Gold production of this year's "College Night."

Objectives of the three day festival are: experience in practical theatre work, the gaining of a creative attitude, constructive criticism and the formation of contacts among high school groups.

Montevallo Vocational Agriculture students are spending two days this week studying soil conservation methods and crops with county conservationists in charge.

Mrs. Ethel Rogers, Wilton beef farmer, is overseeing her farm from her bed, being confined with a badly broken ankle.

Studiosis Club

The Montevallo Studiosis Club will hold its regular monthly meeting next Tuesday, March 10th, at Reynolds Hall, with Col. Harry Ayres as guest speaker.

Col. Ayres is a member of the State Board of Education and publisher of the Anniston Star.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Johnny Carlisle, chairman, Mrs. Paul Bailey, Mrs. John Mader, Mrs. F. L. Thiemonge, Mrs. Edwin Allen, Mrs. Thomas Fancher, Mrs. Owen Bridges, Mrs. J. A. Brown, Jr., Miss Martha Allen, and Miss Lorraine Pierson.

A A U W Convention March 13 and 14

Anniston — Dr. Blanche H. Dow, vice president of the Southwest Central Region of the American Association of University Women, will be principal speaker at the 1953 Alabama A A U W convention in Anniston March 13 and 14.

DR. BLANCHE H. DOW

Dr. Dow, who is president of Cottey College at Nevada, Mo., will give the opening address at the Friday night banquet. She will also participate in a breakfast round-table discussion Saturday, and will sum up the convention reports Saturday noon.

Dr. Dow is author of the idea of coordinating the programs of the six A A U W committees toward one main emphasis. The Alabama Division is the first in the nation to select education for the coordinated emphasis of the education, fellowship, international relations, leigslative, social studies and status of women committees.

County Fund Drive Began March 1st

The Shelby County Red Cross Chapter began its annual campaign for funds to finance the organization's humanitarian services on March 1.

These funds, according to Elvin Hill, chairman of the 1953 campaign, will make possible a continuation of the chapter's welfare assistance to men of the armed forces, veterans and their dependents, the blood program, readiness for disaster operations, and health and safety services.

The chapter here, in Shelby County, Mr. Hill pointed out, also will help finance, among other services of national or international scope, the new gamma globulin program, which was inaugurated January 1 at the request of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

On January 1, The Red Cross began expanding its defense blood collections for the production of gamma globulin, which helps prevent paralysis from poliomyelitis. This new project, which will cost the Red Cross around $7,000,000 for equipment, processing and personnel, will make possible the allocation of this product to areas where polio epidemics exist.

The gamma globulin program, together with growing demands for services to the armed forces and blood program needs, principally accounts for an increase in the organization's national goal for 1953. Nationally, the Red Cross will ask for $93,000,000, its largest goal since World War II years.

Attention, Calera Montevallo And Siluria

The Bloodmobile will be at the Montevallo School Auditorium, March 13 between 1 and 6 p.m. Under the new Blood Distribution Policy recently adopted by the Birmingham Regional Blood Center, no one in Shelby County who has failed to secure a blood-donor card will be eligible to receive the Red Cross blood. Residents of Calera and Siluria are especially urged to come to Montevallo, March 13 and to secure blood donor cards for themselves and for their families.

This card will entitle anyone in the family of the donor to receive Red Cross Blood including husband, wife, dependent parents and minor chlidren. Donor cards will be issued to all persons between the ages 18 and 59 who offer blood whether the individual is accepted or rejected and the cards will be valid for a six month period.

The new plan was necessary because in spite of the energetic blood recruitment program during the past fourteen months the demand has far exceeded the supply.

Blood will continue to be supplied to the armed services from the blood centers and, in addition blood, will be furnished to the polio foundation to be used in the preparation of the new polio serum, Gamma Globulin.

You are urged to make a date to give blood on March 13. Clip the pledge appearing elsewhere in this paper and return to the Montevallo chairman M. S. McGehee, Montevallo, Alabama.

County Engineer Parks Returns To Elmore

R. K. Parks, who for the past several years, has been the efficient and capable County Engineer, has returned to his native county, Elmore. Mr. Parks will be temporarily succeeded by Jimmy Ray, who has served as his assistant in the outstanding road building program already achieved in this County.

Mr. Parks will be sincerely missed by a wide circle of friends in Shelby County, not only in his official capacity as an excellently qualified Engineer, but in Masonic Circles, Eastern Star activities and other worth while organizations in the County, in which he took an active part.

Mr. Parks, will perhaps accept a position in a larger field of operations, but he leaves an improved road construction program in this county second to none in the state. Good wishes from a host of his friends will follow him wherever he goes and success in his chosen field of endeavor is assured.

Mr. Ray has received much of his experience, and training, under the direction of Mr. Parks and authorities in the County assure us that the road construction program set up for summer paving of the Farm to Market Roads will continue moving forward as previously planned, and when completed, Shelby County, can and will offer a network of highways that will reflect credit on the Shelby County Board of Revenue and Control, which financial body, of course, has charge of the financial aid essential for the future permanent development of our Highways.

Our progress in all directions, directly hinges on Good Roads. No wiser investment of funds can be made!—Shelby County Reporter-Democrat.

Dr. Robert Johnson To Teach In Colorado College

Dr. William R. Ross, President Colorado State College, Greeley, Colorado, has announced appontment of Dr. Robert H. Johnson, Jr., to serve as Visiting Professor for the summer session there, effective June 24. The assignment includes teaching two classes and work in graduate research.

Dr. Johnson received the B.S. degree from Livingston State College, the M.A. from the University of Alabama, and the Ed.D. from Colorado State College.

At present, Dr. Johnson is Supervising Principal of the Thompson Schools. The Thompson High School was extended membership in the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges in December when the Association met in Memphis. This recogintion of Thompson High School was the culmination of a five-year program of progressive achievement under Dr. Johnson's leadership.

Before coming to this present position, Dr. Johnson served as Supervising Principal at Semmes Technical High School in Mobile.

Dr. Johnson is a past president of the Secondary School Principal Association of District V., Siluria Civitan, Shelby County Teachers' Association, and holds other local leadership positions. He has served on a number of AEA Committees, and is a recognized leader in education in Alabama. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Phi Kappa, and Kappa Delta Pi.

Ebenezer Home Club Met February 19

The Ebenezer Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Frank Frost on Thursday, February 19, 1953.

Mrs. Minnie McDonough led us in singing the Hymn of the Month, "At the Cross", and Mrs. Frost gave the devotional.

We answered roll call with flowers and shrubs I expect to plant this spring. Mrs. Earl Swinford read the minutes of the last meeting and gave the treasurer's report. Chairmen reports were given by Mrs. Ferman Albright, Mrs. Grady Wyatt, and Mrs. H. A. Pauley. Mrs. W. A. Jones reported on the leadership school held at Columbiana on February 18, "How to Shop."

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Ferman Albright and Mrs. J. H. Wyatt who had birthdays in this month. After the gifts were opened and admired, we enjoyed the covered dish luncheon.

Mrs. H. A. Pauly called the meeting to order after lunch and gave the demonstration "Furniture Finishes". Miss Cotney assisted.

Members present were Mrs. Nathan Frost, Mrs. Millman Johnson, Mrs. Frank Frost, Mrs. U. S. Eddings, Mrs. Ferman Albright, Mrs. H. A. Pauly, Mrs. Earl Swinford, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. R. H. Davis, Mrs. Grady Wyatt, Mrs. R. F. Nolen, Mrs Frank Green, Mrs. Gladys Allen, Mrs. W. E. Nolen, Mrs. Dewey McDonough and Miss Marian Cotney, Home Demonstration Agent and Mrs. Jimmie Spain. Guests were Mrs. Thomas Hayes of Ellis, Kansas, Paula and Jeannie Nolen, Diane Spain and Tommie Wyatt.

Little Cahaba Home Club

Members of the Little Cahaba Home Demonstration Club entertained their husbands and children with a Valentine supper and party Saturday night, February 14 at the home of the President, Mrs. Roma Steen.

Even though 't rained and sleeted outside, there was a warm glow of fellowship with friends and the neighbors inside.

Guests were first shown a display of things the women had just learned to make. Some of the articles displayed were etched glassware, alumnium trays, textile painted aprons, curtains, and also scarfs, coffee tables and luggage racks.

After the supper Mrs. C. C. Martin had charge of the entertainment. Each member made a brief talk on "What Home Demonstration Club Work Means to Me." Then Mrs. Martin directed several interesting games which were fun for everyone.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Folmar, Jame and Marie, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Blackwell, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Jones and Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Fulmer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lacey, Kaye, Phillip and Johnny, Mrs. Sara Pitts and Conrad, Mr. C. C. Martin, Calvie and Sammy, Mrs. Loren Bailey, Mrs. Betty McGuire and special guests Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Hutchison of Memphis, Tenn., who were visiting Mrs. Steen.

Montevallo P.-T.A.

The Montevallo PTA held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, March 3, in the high school auditorium with Arthur Garrett, president, presiding. Dr. F. E. Lund, president, Alabama College gave the devotional.

Mr. W. W. Elliott, Shelby County Superintendent of Education, spoke on the "Invisible Wall Between Home and School." Mr. Elliott was introduced by Mrs. W. E. Robinson, vice president of the Montevallo PTA.

Following the program refreshments were served to those who attended. The refreshments commitee included Mrs. W .E. Robinson, Mrs. F. L. Theimonge, Jr., Mrs. Will Fullman and Mrs. Minnie Lou Warnke.

Wilton Home Club

The Wilton Home Club met in the basement of the Methodist Church for the February meeting with 13 members present.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Jim Adams. The demonstration, furniture finishes, was given by Miss Cotney.

On February 3 a group of the ladies made luggage racks. Mr. Thornton invited us to come up to his work shop in Montevallo and he helped us with some work we couldn't do ourselves. We all enjoyed the work.

Our next meeting was March 2 and the demonstration was "how to prepare foods for freezing."

Dodge Dealer Holds Showing Of New Styles

A special 1953 Dodge spring style showing which features new two-tone color combinations and harmonizing interiors was annuonced today by R. E. Bowdon, Jr., owner, of Bowdon Motor & Implement Company.

Mr. Bowdon said the 1953 Dodge was introduced with 13 solid colors and nine two-tone combinations, but that customers were being given a still wider choice for spring by the addition of three new colors.

The new colors are Shoal Green, Seashore Green and Mecca Blue. The two new green colors are now available on the Coronet V-Eight four-doors and club coupes in reversible two-tone combinations. The Mecca Blue is being offered on the lower section in combination with a Fairfax Blue top.

Mr. Bowdon also revealed that the new spring color styling includes matching instrument panels and easy-to-clean interior fabrics that harmonize with the outside colors. A new design is featured on front and rear cushion seats.

The spring two-tone combinations also include a new chrome trim behind the rear-door vent windows on four-door models, Mr. Bowdon pointed out. A new plastic gear shift indicator is another feature of the spring models, he said.

In addition to the special spring colors, the 1953 Dodge colors include three shades of green, two grays, two blues, beige, ivory, bronze, maroon, red and black.

The public is invited to attend the 1953 Dodge spring style showing at Bowdon Motor & Implement Company, between the hours of 7:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Frank Wilder, of Fourmile Community, will top dress his Chapel Hill rescue grass, his fescue, oats, and even his crimson clover with ammonium nitrate with several hundred pounds of 0-14-14 as the ground is dry enough.

"I also expect to use a bulldozer this summer to help build my meadow system. I want to keep all my water on my farm as long as possible and will have to cut a bank away to build the meadow according to my conservation farm plan."

Frank Ellis, Columbiana dairyman, has one of the best winter pastures in this area. On ten acres of C. H. Rescue and crimson clover he has kept an average of fifteen young heifers since December 4, with no additional hay or feed. On March 1 the heifers were in good condition.

Mr. Ellis says, "It would have cost me $4.00 per day, or $380.00, to feed them bought feed during this period. Actually the cost of this winter grazing was $120.00 in seed, $30.00 in discing and planting, and $80.00 in fertilizer, a total of $220.00. In addition I can expect about 10,000 pounds of seed and 20 tons of hay." The ammonium nitrate to be added now to produce the seed crop will cost $80.00 extra, while the seed and hay can be estimated as worth over $2,000.

Mr. Ellis suggests a new program to farmers whose permanent pastures do not produce winter grazing, since he obtained these excellent results by discing a dallis grass-white clove-annual lespedeza sod without turning the sod under. He does not expect the permanent sod to be damaged.

Other farmers cooperating with the North Central Soil Conservation District in this area may want to visit these two cooperators and observe their results.

At the present time there are 23,027 teachers, superintendents, supervisors, and supervising principals employed in the public schools of Alabama.

The present allocation schedule of State funds to local boards of education for the employment of teachers is as follows:

Rank one, based on the Master's Degree, $2,700.

Rank two, based on the Bachelor's Degree, $2,400.

Rank three, based on three year's college work, $2,100.

Rank four, based on two year's college work, $1,800.

Rank five, based on less than two year's college work, $1,500.

The average salary for teachers in Alabama is $2,486. These figures are based on State appropriations and might vary in some communities due to supplements by local boards of education. Funds allocated to local boards of education provide for the employment of 21,527 teachers. The salary of any teachers employed above this number is paid from local funds.

In the fall of 1952 there developed an acute shortage of teachers in Alabama, especially in the high school fields of science, mathematics, and commercial work. There was also a shortage of qualified elementary teachers which may become even more severe in the fall of 1953 due to the fact that the 87,242 children who were born in 1947 will enter the first grade.

Some studies have shown that approximately 25 per cent of the persons trained to teach do not enter the teaching profession. If this should be the case in Alabama, and if our teachers continue to go to states that pay better salaries, we may expect an even greater shortage of teachers for the white schools in September of 1953 than last year.

'53 Pontiac

A GENERAL MOTORS MASTERPIECE

Solid Choice of Solid Citizens!

In its distinctive beauty, its size and comfort, its interior luxury and its all-around performance, Pontiac ranks high among America's quality cars—yet it's priced just above the lowest!

Thus Pontiac has an almost irresistible appeal to people who find it wise to keep their automobile investment at a minimum—without sacrificing quality. It is this unique combination of goodness and price which makes Pontiac the solid choice of those solid citizens who are money wise and quality conscious.

The reasons for this preference were never more obvious than in the 1953 Pontiac. But more important, it carries on Pontiac's tradition of long life and carefree, economical dependability.

Come in and see how this great new car offers wonderful proof that "Dollar for Dollar You Can't Beat a Pontiac."

Selden Asks For Gas Extension

Rep. Armistead I. Selden, Jr. appeared before the Federal Power Commission at a recent hearing to urge extension of time for Jemison, Thorsby, and Helena to complete pipeline facilities to receive natural gas.

The Federal Power Commission, which controls all gas allocations, must make the final decision as to whether or not a number of Alabama communities will be granted additional time in which to finish financing of their pipeline structures. Gas will be furnished by the Southern Natural Gas Company.

Selden pointed out to the FPC officials that Jemison and Thorsby are requesting an extension to the end of 1953 and that the town of Helena is seeking an additional year's extension.

"I am familiar with the public interest in the towns I represent," he said, "and I would like to voice their interest in natural gas and their desire for the time extension necessary to complete these facilities."

"I respectfully request that due consideration be given these requests, and, if possible, the extensions be granted."

Cattle Sale At Florence March 13

Florence, Ala. — The eleventh semi-annual sale of the North Alabama Hereford Breeders Association will be held at the North Alabama State Fairground, Florence, Friday, March 13, beginning at 1 p.m., Wilbur H. Whitten, president, announces.

This spring sale of the association will offer 93 head of fine Herefords, 20 bulls and 73 females. These selected animals have been produced in this fastest growing cattle producing area of the entire South and represent the top blood lines of the breed.

The Association advises all animals will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder. These animals are registered and certificates of registration will be furnished and transfers made to the purchased without charge. Bill Pace, Montgomery, will be the auctioneer.

James Bluford Steele

The death of Mr. James Bluford Steele occurred Thursday morning at his home near Maylene. He was 84 years old an da native of Fulton, Miss. He and his wife, Mrs. Sallie A. Steele, who survives him, came to the Maylene Community to live about three years ago.

Mr. Steele was the father of nine sons and five daughters. Only two of his sons are known in this part of the country. They are Clarence O. Steele of Birmingham and C. L. Steele of Montevallo Route 1.

R. C. Hawkins, funeral director, of Fulton, Miss., came to the Steele home Thursday and took charge of the remains for burial at the old home cemetery in Fulton.

This Is 4-H Club Week

4-H Club Members Prepare To Be Better Farmers

Yes, millions of 4-H Club boys and girls, 2,005,000 to be exact, in 87,000 local clubs all over the U.S. are doing what it takes to fit themselves as better farmers, homemakers, and citizens. Among these are 1742 girls and boys that are members of the 55 clubs in Shelby County.

And they are taking time out this week, March 7-15, National 4-H Club Week, to pledge again their Heads, Hearts, Hands, and Health in unity for greater service to home, club, community, and country.

Alabama's 27, 294 4-H members in 2876 local clubs, by far the biggest rural youth organization in this state, will take part in the national celebration. With their Teacher-Sponsors and local adult leaders, the farm boys and girls will renew their pledge to "Make the Best Better."

The nation's 4-H boys and girls are doing millions of things these days in their local organizations. Included in their activities are demonstrations of scientific methods in crop and live-stock production, preparing the family food supply, improving the home, and scores of other projects. They hold rallies to inform parents and other young people about 4-H and help their clubs do useful things in the community.

During the week of celebration 4-H members everywhere will have "open house" meetings, prepare exhibits and displays, speak at schools, P. T. A.'s, service clubs, and churches, and study their own home and community needs. In Shelby County the 4-Hers will give a party honoring 4-H local leaders on Wednesday night as a highlight of their celebration. While they are making ready for another productive year, the nation will honor their achievements of 1952.

National 4-H Club Week will help the organization explain to the public how its members, the leaders of tomorrow, teach youngsters enrolled in nearly 3000 clubs. Each one carries at least one project in achievement, baking, canning, citizenship, clothing, dairying, dairy foods, electricity, safety, field crops, food preparation, forestry, frozen foods, gardening, health, home improvement, leadership, meat animal, poultry, recreation and rural arts, soil and water conservation, tractor maintenance, or entomology.

The 4- HClub project is the hub of the wheel. The wheel has grown from a group with 352 members its first year to a tremendous organization full of outstanding youngsters. In 1952 over 3000 boys and girls received medals for doing outstanding project work and 57 top state winners won out-of-state trips.

The 4-H Club boys and girls enjoy showing their projcets. Last year 13,111 4-Hers exhibited their dairy animals in the dairy shows, 978 entered the beef cattle shows, 2, 720 entered poultry shows, and 211 entered the hog shows.

In addition to 4-H Club project work, 4-H members participated in many other activities. Sixty-six counties held rallies, at which a total of 57,777 members and others were present. Sixty-eight county 4-H camps were held, with 5,045 members attending. A total of 14,-572 4-Hers attended 602 picnics. Twenty five hundred and eighty-nine neighborhood meetings were held, 1205 clubs observed Rural Life Sunday, 232 county 4-H Club council meetings were held with 19,862 officers attending, and 1,232 clubs held special safety programs.

Twenty five counties held special training meetings for adult volunteer 4-H Club leaders. Six hundred and forty two pig chain members placed a pig that they had raised with a new 4-H Club member. One hundred nineteen 4-H tractor maintenance clinics were held with 3,305 4-Hers attending. The 4-Hers planted a total of 1,-111,808 pine seedlings in 1952.

What better way can citizenship and leadership be taught to our youth of today than through the 4-H Club whose goal is to train the Head, Heart, Hands, and Health of every possible rural boy and girl between the ages of 10-21?

Thompson High Beauty Contest

The annual beauty contest will be presented at the Thompson High School auditorium, Friday night, March 13 at 8:00. Sixty odd contestants will vie for the title. Miss 1953 will be selected and twelve other finals will represent a title for each month of the year. Admission is 25 and 50 cents.

Music will be furnished by Berry Cofer and his Cavaliers.

Preceeding the beauty contest an old fashion box supper will be held in the Thompson High School cafeteria. A record crowd is expected to attend. This mammoth program is under the direction of Mrs. John Kroell and assisted by Mrs. H. M. Johnson, Mrs. Ethel Mathis, Miss Iris Kirkpatrick, and Mrs. Henry Peete.

All proceeds from this will be used to continue the ground beautification program at the Schools.

The contestants are as follows: Gail Patterson, Jayne Acton, Peggy Nell Peeples, Dixie Lee Jones, Gail Adams, Jo Ann Todd, Patsy Gray, Myrna Loy Bentley, Jo Ann Butler, Claudette Hinds, Ann Nabors, Iris Helen Martin, Melba Jo Brannon, Ruth Naish, Grace Dickerson, Barbara Dickerson, Sue Nolen, Helen Honeycutt, Othella Garrett, Jo Ann Goodwin, Clara Cook, Janelle Nelson, Shirley Ann Stobert, Ann Davenport, Katherine Gilmore, Marie Poole, Jo Beth Houze, Dot Spain, Sharon Busby, Shearer Farris, Carolyn Barton, Gail Farris, Marion Davidson, Mary Margaret Martin, Sue Wyatt, Julia Davis, Sherrel Nelson, Kitty Clyde Crumpton, Mary Ada Smitherman.

Carolyn Bray, Freddie Jean Bishop, Rose Marie Stewart, Patricia Malloch, Margaret Lacey, Hazel, Davidson, Clara Jo Fortenberry, Shelby Jean Shelton, Billy Barnett, Wyleen Wilson, Billy Jean Roberson, Mary McIntosh, Charlene Burly, Mable Wilson, and Gloria Wilson.

Mrs. R. F. Ray returned Sunday from Washington, D. C., where she has been visiting for the past two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Glen H. Griffith and family.

It may have been said, but I doubt it: "Operation Smack" didn't pan out so well in Korea, but it produced splendid results in Washington where it disclosed the existence of a group of skilled military strategists in Congress.

Next Week, March 15 to March 21 Is Declared "Bird Week" In Montevallo

PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR

Whereas, the Town of Montevallo is, by Ordinance of the Town Council, established and declared a bird sanctuary, to prohibit the maiming, killing or injuring of any wild bird within the Town limits; and

Whereas, the Senior I Biology Class of the Montevallo High School is interested in securing the cooperation of our citizens in protection and preservation of our birds and the observance of the Ordinance providing for same; and

Whereas, the Senior I Biology class desires the community of Montevallo to recognize and suitably dedicate the week of March 15 to 21 as BIRD WEEK in the Town of Montevallo:

Now, Therefore, I, W. M. Wyatt, Mayor of Montevallo, do hereby declare the week of March 15 to 21 as BIRD WEEK in the Town of Montevallo, and urge all citizens of the Town to cooperate with the Senior I Biology Class of Montevallo High School in their efforts to secure full and effective recognition of the laws and ordinances of the Town providing for the protection of birds.

W. M. WYATT, Mayor

Attest:
R. H. TIBBS, Town Clerk

BIRDS IN MONTEVALLO

(Gid E. Nelson, Jr.)

Along with the proclamation of Bird Week in Montevallo, it might be appropriate to examine some of the reasons for conserving and protecting our bird life. One reason, of importance to everyone, is that birds are valuable destroyers of insects. For example, 66 kinds of birds have been recorded as bing eaters of the cotton-boll weevil. Many birds feed on insects which live on the plants in our gardens. Woodpeckers and other birds eat forest damaging insects. Some birds in fact are described as being insectivorous because the main staple of their diet is composed of insects.

Another reason of economic importance is that the hunting of game birds furnishes many people with a source of livelihood. The sale of guns, ammunition, licenses, etc., is definitely a big time business in this day and age. In many states, revenue from this source amounts to over a million dollars a year. This doesn't sound like a method of conservation and yet, with proper wildlife management practices, a "crop" of game birds can be harvested each year by the hunter without affection the basic number of game birds in an area. Only the surplus birds are shot each year leaving a basic breeding stock for reproductive purposes.

A third reason for protecting our birds, particularly the non-game species, is that a number of people enjoy birds for their beauty and for their songs. This is termed the esthetic value of birds and in some respects is as important as the economic reasons for bird conservation. Many people have taken up the hobby of bird watching in recent years. The only equipment necessary for this hobby is a pair of binoculars, a bird book, and an interest in the out-of-doors. Bird watching is done more in Europe than in this country. In England a whole family may go bird watching on a Sunday afternoon instead of going to the picture show or visiting as we might do.

Before discussing the birds found in the Montevallo region, it should be mentioned that the kind of birds found in an area depend on the season of the year. For example, the summer birds here are quite different from the winter birds. According to their seasonal movements, birds can be divided into several categories. Some are permanent residents because they stay in one area year around. Others are termed summer residents because they inhabit an area during the summer and then migrate to another area during the rest of the year. Some birds are winter residents, and others are transients or migrants, i.e., they pass through an area during the Spring or Fall. Many of the birds found in Montevallo at this time of the year are winter residents and transients.

Cub Scouts

Mr. John Mader has underway plans for a well organized Cub Scout Pack here in Montevallo. Three parent meetings were held at the City Hall recently in order to explain the Cub Scout plan to the parents. Mr. Joe Sandlin, Field Representative for the Black Warrior Council of Tuscaloosa, was speaker at the meetings.

At present three dens have been organized with a total of fourteen boys ranging in age from eight to ten. The Den Mothers are as follows: Mrs. James Wyatt, Mrs. Minna Lou Warnke, Mrs. Cecil Dennis and Mrs. Georgia Edwards.

Plans have been made for the first Pack meeting to be held Tuesday, March 24 at the Scout House at Big Springs. Each family attending is requested to bring a covered dish as supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

Plans for the den meetings for April will be made at this meeting and all parents interested in Cub Scouting are invited to attend. At this time the program and its aims will be explained to the parents. It is vitally important that the Cub Scouts have the cooperation and whole hearted interest of the parents. Please attend and help us get a good start.

Mr. Earl Harwood, Southeastern States salesman for Westinghouse, was a visitor in Montevallo Wednesday. "I was just passing this way," he said, "and dropped by to see the progress that is being made toward construction of the new Westinghouse plant here."

Naugher, Cannon Visit Farm Groups

R. E. Naugher, Regional Agent of Agicultural Education, Washington, D. C., and J. C. Cannon, Supervisor Agricultural Education Montgomery, were visitors in the Montevallo Vocational Agriculture Department last Wednesday and Thursday March 4 and 5. After visiting with the regular adult group of farmers which meets each Wednesday evening at the vocational building, a tour was made in the community to observe improved practices being carried from the instructional program in the classroom out of the various farms of the members. The men had an opportunity to observe small scale operation by all-day students, and both large and small scale operations of young farmers and adults. Some time was spent with the 74 all-day students enrolled in the regular classes at the high school. Several supervised farming programs were studied and visits made to homes of the boys, under the direction of M. Thornton, vocational agriculture teacher.

Community and cooperative projects showing up work of organized committees of the FFA were also included as part of the observations. A. L. Little, instructor in on-the-farm training for GI farmers was also present to show the work of his trainees and many comments came from the visitors concerning the wholesome relationships existing among personnel of the various phases of the work in vocational agriculture. S. H. Hurt, Director of Montevallo Laboratory Schools, started the men on the rounds by giving them some orientation information concerning the total school programs.

Mr. Naugher is regional agent and his work includes supervision of twelve southern states in the vocational agriculture program. His visit to Montevallo was certainly welcomed by all since he does not get to visit many individual schools because of the nature of his work. Usually he spends most all his time with the supervisory personnel of the various states.

Alabama Power Co. First In Safety

M. S. McGehee, District Manager, said today that word has been received that of 18 Class A electric utility companies participating in the National Safety Council Accident Prevention Contest for 1952, Alabama Power Company placed first.

The average frequency rate for all companies was 6.87 disabling injury accidents per one million man-hours worked, and that for Alabama Power Company was only 1.45 such accidents per million man hours worked.

Many operating units of Alabama Power Company have worked a million man hours without any disabling injury accidents. Eleven of the awards for such performance were earned by the Company during 1952. Three of them were for the second consecutive million man hours worked without a disabling injury accident.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Now that the House and Senate are beginning to debate and vote on several bills, some of you are probably wondering why Congress has been so slow in taking action on proposed legislation.

For this reason, it is important that we realize the significance of the committee system in the legislation process and how it necessarily slows the passage of legislation in the House and Senate. The long procedure followed in enactment of a bill into law it a most interesting one. In a future column I plan to describe this process in detail.

Several thousand bills have already been introduced since January 3 of this year and each of these bills has been referred to a committee for study. With only 15 standing committees in the Senate and 19 in the House, it is understandable that a bill is often kept in a particular committee for several months before it is ready to be voted on by Congress.

Although the committee system is slow, it serves as another check and balance in the passage of federal laws. Members of the various committees soon become specialists in the field of law which concerns their particular committee and are able to devote considerable study to proposed legislation. It would be imposiible for any Congressman to be thoroughly acquainted with all arguments for and against a bill. He must rely heavily upon the committee reports for information about bills brought to the floor of the House.

In addition to the information a member of Congress receives from his own studies, from committee reports, and from debates on the floor of the House or Senate, he is always anxious to have the opinions of the people he represents before he votes on an issue.

I want to encourage all of you in the Sixth District to give me the benefit of your views on any proposed legislation in which you may have an interest.

I realize many bills acted on by Congress are not always publicized long enough in advance for the people to have all the facts. However, on major issues it is certainly helpful for a member of Congress to have his constituents' opinions and the reasons for their opinions. The Hawaii Statehood Bill, frequently mentioned in newspapers lately, will probably be up for a vote by the time this column is printed. At this date I have received but a few letters concerning such important legislation.

I cannot vote to please everyone who writes me since some arguments will support an issue and others will oppose it. But you can be sure that the views of all the people I represent are important to me. I am anxious to have these views before I cast my vote.

Should File Claims

The deadline for filing prisoner of war claims is April 9.

Under provisions of a law passed last year, all American prisoners of war during World War II are entitled to file for a maximum compensation of $1.50 a day for the time they received inhumane treatment. If the prisoners are deceased, their dependents may file for the compensation.

I have been asked by the War Claims Commission to mention this deadline to the readers so that all eligible people will file their claims by midnight April 9. All World War II prisoners who were mistreated are eligible to apply for compensation regardless of whether they filed under provisions of a previous law passed several years ago. This is a new and increased compensation. The Commission will decide which applicants are eligible for payment.

The term "prisoner of war" includes all American members of military or naval forces of the United States who were imprisoned by the enemy during the second World War. It does not include civilian employees of any of the armed forces or any other civilians who were interned by the enemy.

These claims are financed from debts paid the United States by enemy countries rather than by tax funds from the treasury. This is in accordance with a provision of the Geneva Constitution of 1929 which states that prisoners of war should not be treated inhumanely.

Requests for compensation must be filed on special forms and mailed directly to the War Claims Commission, Washington 25, D. C. The forms can be obtained from my office, veterans organizations, Red Cross offices, or from the War Claims Commission. If the former prisoner or his survivors do not remember their previous war claims number, the space will be filled in by the Commission.

The War Claims Commission, a temporary agency, estimates that it will have settled a total of about 600,000 claims by the time it expires.

Look What Cropped Up in Dixie Last Year!

More than 69,000 Rural Telephones

Last year we added more than 69,000 rural telephones. There are now over a half million telephones in rural Dixie served by Southern Bell. This year approximately 73,000 more will be added.

These new telephones are bringing increased efficiency of operation for Southern farmers, and closer contacts and better living for farm families.

Expanding and improving rural service is a big and costly job. But we're working hard at it because we know how important the telephone is to the South's overall prosperity

On The Farms Of Shelby County

"I get 'knob-fever' every year about this time," said W. W. Watkins, Wilsonville dairyman, Monday. "This year I intend to stick with it 'till it's cured."

He has a prescription for curing that 'knob-fever' in his North Central Soil Conservation District farm plan, but the treatment is going to take a lot of work on Watkins' part.

Before local medical friends get worried here's the explanation.

There's a high, very steep shale knob on Watkins' farm that has been adding almost nothing to the grazing program although several acres of fair land are involved. So steep it should never have been cleared. It now has high ridge terraces that must be leveled if erosion is to be controlled. He gets the 'fever' put it to producing sericea.

"I spent $160 planting sericea last year on partly prepared land, with little success. This time I am going to do a complete job of preparation and fertilize well."

The District Supervisor, Watkins and some of the FFA Chapel Hill Rescue patches have had spring applications of nitrate for seed production. About 3000 pounds of seed have been sold in advance, and inquiries from as far away as Arkansas have been received.

Selden Offers Tax Reduction

Washington, D. C.,—Rep. Armistead I. Selden, Jr., introduced a bill in Congress today which provides that all medical and dental expenses can be deducted for income tax purposes if they are not more than the present maximum deductions.

Under the law now in force, a taxpayer cannot begin to subtract medical and dental bils until they amount to more than 5 per cent of his total income. Selden's bill would amend the Internal Revenue Code and remove this limitation.

"I am introducing this bill," Congressman Selden said, "in an effort to bring a measure of relief to all taxpayers, and particularly those with small incomes who have illness in their families."

"Many citizens with modest incomes," he continued, "spend $100 or $200 each year for medical expenses, but they are not allowed to deduct that amount in computing the tax they pay. The bill I propose will permit the taxpayer to subtract this first 5 per cent (if the expenses are not covered by insurance), as well as any over that percentage."

Rep. Selden's bill will not change the maximum limit for medical and expenses. This means that not more than $1250 can be deducted for medical expenses of any one dependent and not more than $5,000 for any one family per year. Nor would the bill affect those taxpayers who prefer to take the so-called standard deductions on their income tax returns.

"I am certainly in favor of stabilizing our dollar by balancing the budget as soon as possible," Selden emphasized. "However, I do not believe passage of this bill would seriously hinder efforts of Congress to balance the budget. It is my opinion that the total loss of revenue from this bill would not be great, considering the billions of dollars included in each year's budget."

News Notes of Montevallo F F A

Beginning to make the final report of accomplishments in the chapter contest for Alabama FFA chapters, the Montevallo chapter held a special program Tuesday at which time accomplishments were reviewed and officers elected to serve next year. Special awards were also given to those chosen by the chapter to receive them. The new officers are president, Paul Wooley; vice president, R. L. Anhtony; secretary, Johnny Bell; treasurer, Lewey Harkins; reporter, Billy Jack Holcombe; sentinel, Ray Winslett, assistant adviser, James Cummings.

Farm mechanics and home shop, Billy Jack Holcombe; safety on the farm, Houston Ingram; soil water and management, Lewis Wooley; dairy farmer award, Bill White; chapter farmer award, Bill Moody.

The awards are based on work by students and the potential for advanced work in the future as a part of the total activity program of the FFA.

* * *

The FFA Chapter Quartet will compete Friday, March 20 at Isabella for the district championship. Members of the quartet are Calvin Hatcher, Delmus Anthony, Charles Daviston, and Bobby Fancher.

* * *

Sr. II agriculture boys are making a detailed map of the town cemetery in order that better plans can be made for maintenance of the area.

* * *

The Sr. II agriculture class has been in joint work with the home economics girls this week. They have studied meal planning and the work has included execution of the plans same as making them. The boys and girls used the new poultry processing plant at Mr. P. E. Wooley's place to dress and prepare 15 broilers for use.

* * *

Approximately 30 members of the Montevallo chapter will go to Auburn April 4 to participate in the district contests for the Central district of Alabama. Winners will be determined in the radio program, string band contest, and various judging contests. Montevallo will have a judging team represented in each judging division.

* * *

Coming to work with the FFA boys for six week will be Robert Murphy and Owen Lee, both are seniors at Auburn in Agricultural education. Mr. Murphy and Mr. Lee will have part in all phases of the vocational agriculture program.

* * *

The regular adult evening class being conducted as a part of the agricultural education program continues to meet each Wednesday evening from 7 to 8 p.m. Anyone interested in farming or our community development program are invited to attend.

* * *

A special meeting will be held at 7:30 Monday, March 23, when a discussion will be held concerning the potential development of the poultry enterprise here. Bill Lawler has arranged for this meeting and he invites those interested in poultry to attend.

S C-V G Home Club

The Spring Creek-Valley Grove Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. William Goad Wednesday, March 10.

President Mrs. Sam Knowles called the meeting to order with reports from the executive chairmen, all of whom were present and made reports. Secretary Mrs. W. S. Goad read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Hershel Ingram gave the history of the month's song and led in the singing of "Love Devine."

Mrs. Robert Ingram gave the devotional followed by prayer by Mrs. Lawson Ingram.

The demonstration, "How to prepare food for freezing," was given by Mrs. Goad and Miss Lois Alexander.

The program by the Farm Bureau chairman, Mrs Tom Knowles, was very interesting.

Delicious refreshmnets, carrying out the color scheme of yellow and green, were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Knowles and Mrs. Bobby Ingram to seventeen members and our five babies.

High School Seniors Guests of College Here This Week

Students at Alabama College will have as their guests more than 275 visiting high school seniors this week end when girls from over the state come to the campus for competitive Honors Scholarship examinations.

Former scholarship winners who are now students on the Montevallo campus will be on hand to welcome and register the high school guests this afternoon as they arrive for the three day program.

The Scholarship program this year will offer two full expense scholarships renewable for three additional years, two half-expense scholarships, renewable for three additional years, and four one-third expense scholarships, each renewable for three adidtional years if superior scholarship and commendable citizenship are maintained.

Thursday night contestants will have an opportunity to attend the College Theatre production, "The Shoemaker's House," at 8 p.m. in Palmer Hall, directed by Dr. Walter H. Trumbauer, College Theatre Director. Following the play the contestants will be special guests at a reception in the student activity building, Reynolds Hall.

In addition to the Honors Scholarships the contestants will have an opportunity to try out for two Edythe Saylor Memorial Scholarships in physical education, four $100 scholarship awards in music, and one FHA Mary Ling Haley Scholarship to an outstanding student in Home Economics.

Friday the Student Counseling department will administer the competitive examinations. At 3:30 Friday afternoon the contestants will have time out for relaxation at a Splash Party at the College swimming pool. Other events of the Friday entertainment will be a picnic supper at the Camp House and a hike to the lake, followed by a party at 8 p.m. in the Field House.

Saturday morning students will have an opportunity to meet with professors and instructors of the departments which most interest them to discuss plans for their college academic studies. These Saturday interviews with faculty members will wind up the three day program.

Honors Scholarships offered this year, total more than $8000.

College Theatre Play Tonight

College Theatre group of Alabama College will present Ronald Mitchell's 'The Shoemaker's House' on March 19 with a cast made up of students, faculty, and townspeople.

Directed by Dr. Walter H. Trumbauer, College Theatre Director, the play will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday evening as a special event during Honors Scholarship week end on the Montevallo campus, a time when hundreds of high school seniors from over the state come to the campus for competitive honors scholarship examinations.

Fred C. Barlow, high school faculty member, will portray the role of Ivan Martin, with Sue Dobbins, junior speech major from Gadsden as Louisa, in the story of a Bohemian village shoemaker. Karel will be played by James Rochester, of Montevallo; Anna will be Julia Bruce, Birmingham; and Denson Elliott, Jr., Montevallo, will be as Viktor.

Roman Frus will be depicted by Putnam Porter, College organist, and Elsie Singley, Greensboro, will take the role of Ludmilla Domanova. Folimena Kolbova will be played by Jane Ford Wyatt, Montevallo; Rudolf, John B. Mader, Alabama College speech department faculty; and Kessler, B. W. Hamric, Montevallo High School faculty.

Representing a new step in college-town dramatic productions, Dr. Trumbauer, assisted by Mrs. Trumbauer, who is assistant Director of the College Theatre, is combining talents of students, faculty, and townspeople in play productions this year.

Grid Talk Down Siluria Way

The Thompson Warriors are prepping this spring for their fifth championship.

Newcomers have shown a great promise this spring. Yet whether or not these newcomers will replace David Butler, James Harris, and Jack Lacey all flashy backs lost to graduation, is the question. These lads made up the Thompson back field this past season, and did an outstanding job. Crayton Patterson, and Glen Naish, linemen lost because of graduation were also regulars last season, and also outstanding performers.

New faces around the Warrior's Camp are: backs, James Sides, Donald Ellis, James Scott, Ray Melton, Jack Zuiderhoek, Jimmy Durrett, Norman Braden. All these boys are expected to see action next fall.

Raymond Jones, Jack McGuire, Earl Isbell, Zane Nolen, Melvin Butler, Nick Martin, Bobby Rutherford, Jesse Lovett, Raymond Naish, Douglas Ross, make up the new linemen. These boys, along with the old scalp hunters, are the largest group ever to participate in spring training at Thompson, 33 in number.

Coach Byron Chambliss, tutor for the Warriors, praises the running of Homer Smitherman, half back, and Harold Davenport, full back. Both boys weigh more than 170 lbs. with two and three years of eligibility remaining, respectively. Smitherman has possibilities of being one of the greatest backs to come from Thompson. The blocking of guard and senior co-captain for next fall Harry Durbin is as good as the Thompson Mentor has ever witnessed. Durbin is a transfer from Woodlawn weighing in at 170 lbs. and planning for another great season this fall.

Eugene Brett, end, and tackles, Freddie Epps and Earl Isbell, have shown great promise for the coming season.

The Warriors will face the toughest schedule this coming season with some of the top "AA" schools.

Wilton Home Club

The Wilton Home Demonstration Club met March 2. The meeting was called to order by the vice president, Mrs. Alice Brombaugh, in the absence of Mrs. W. E. Thompson, our president.

We answered roll call with a short cut in house cleaning. Mrs. B. B. Curry and Mrs Jim Adams gave the devotional.

Mrs. J. C. Gaddy read the minutes of the last meeting. A song by the group, "Love Devine," was sung. We discussed our dress review for April and talked some more about our trip to Warm Springs. The demonstration, "How to prepare foods for freezing," was very interestingly given with slides by Miss Cotney.

Ralph Hubbard

Mr. Ralph Hubbard of Centreville passed away at his home on Tuesday.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Haydop Baptist Church near Tuscaloosa.

VETERANS' COLUMN
STATE DEPT. OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS

By E. J. Sullivan

Here is some information I would like to pass on concerning National Service Life Insurance. Many times veterans come into our office and want to know what is the best way to have their insurance paid to their beneficiaries upon the insured's death. As you probably know, this insurance may be paid in either a lump sum or limited monthly installment, or motnhly payments for life with one hundred and twenty payments guaranteed, or monthly payments for life with more than one hundred and twenty payments guaranteed.

No doubt, most veterans gave very careful consideration to the manner in which they wanted their insurance paid but it might have been several years since they made their decision. All National Service Life Insurance palicy holders should think over from time to time the method of settlement they have chosen in case of death, in order to determine whether it is still suited to the needs of their beneficiaries. In other words, what might have been a very good plan several years ago may not be a good plan at the present time, and the method of paying the insurance is a matter which must be decided by each individual to fit the needs of his own family.

We have had quite a few questions asked us recently about when Korean Veterans may expect to receive their combat pay. As you know, a large number of combat veterans of the Korean conflict were discharged before the combat law went into effect and a number of claims were later filed through our office. About the best I can tell you is that it may be some months yet before that combat pay check arrives. We didn't know the Defense Department has assembled a list of all the units which have been considered as actually being in combat in Korea. Of course, there are many thousand of claims to be acted upon and each one must be checked individually to determine the amount of combat pay to which the veteran may be entitled. If I were you, I would not count on that pay until I had the check in my hand.

Randolph Predicts Little Change In Farm Laws

Montgomery, Ala. — Declaring that modern farm legislation has been envolved over a long period through efforts of congressmen in both parties, President Walter L. Randolph of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation expressed the opinion this week that there would be "very little change" in present national agriculture laws during the Eisenhower administration.

"This is indicated by the attitudes of both President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson, clearly stated by them in public addresses and in conferences with farmer representatives," Randolph said before leaving for the White House for a conference dealing with the 1953 peanut program.

The Alabama farm leader, who also has been selected by Secretary Benson to represent producers on cotton exports and cottonseed and peanut price support advisory groups, pointed out that, despite misunderstanding in some quarters, "price support legislation is a definite and accepted part of the national farm program." The basic program is detailed in the Agriculture Act of 1949, enacted with bi-partisan support.

"There appears to be widespread interest in what the the future of the price support program for the farm products will be," Randolph continued. "In my opinion, there will be very little change in the present laws.

"The change in the national administration is not likely to affect farm legislation because all of the important farm acts have been passed with support from members of congress in both parties. The attitudes of President Eisenhower and Secretary Benson have been clearly stated by them.

Sam D. Adkins In The Navy

Atlantic Fleet Destroyer Force (FHTNC) — Participating in Operation Springboard, the Navy's winter maneuvers in the Carribbean area, aboard the destroyer tender USS Tidewater is Sam D. Adkins, quartermaster first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Adkins of Montevallo, and husband of Mrs. Saxon W. Adkins of Norfolk, Va.

Operation Springboard consists of more than 100 ships and air units of the Atlantic Fleet. This training program provides the ships and air units more time for basic training under the weather conditions existing in the Carribbean area near San Juan, P. R., and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

This type of operation prepares the ships and units of the fleet for advanced operations in severe climates more rapidly and efficiently than is possible when training is conducted in the North Atlantic during the Winter.

The Tidewater is scheduled to return to her home port of Newport, R. I., about the middle of March. While in the Carribbean her crew will enjoy liberty and relaxation in the ports of Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The House of Representatives has voted to admit the Territory of Hawaii as our 49th state. It appears now that the proposal may be favored by the Senate, and, if so, President Eisenhower will approve the statehood bill because it was included in his campaign platform.

I voted against permitting Hawaii to become a state. As pointed out before, I received very little comment from people in the Sixth District about this critical issue. However, after an extensive study of the arguments for and against the proposal, I decided it would be for the best interest of the nation and Alabama to vote against the statehood bill.

After listening carefully to the House debate on this issue, it was my opinion that the arguments against statehood far outnumbered the arguments favoring it. I feel the issue is of such far-reaching importance that it will be permissible to devote this entire column to a discussion of my objections to statehood for Hawaii. I voted against the bill for a number of reasons, including these: the Territory of Hawaii is not contiguous to the United States; the population includes a large percentage of aliens; many of the people definitely lean toward Communism; admitting the Territory would cause disproportionate representation in Congress, with our own state of Alabama possibly losing a representative in the House as a result.

Not Adjacent to United States

The Territory of Hawaii consists of a mass of about 20 islands with only eight or nine of them being inhabited. These islands stretch out over 1591 nautical miles in the Pacific Ocean, but the total land area is only 6400 miles. This area is just slightly larger than that of the states of Connecticut and Rhode Island combined. Many of the islands are separated from each other by the sea. Besides not bordering on any part of the United States, the long string of islands is almost out of the Western Hemisphere. Hawaii is about 2100 miles over sea by air to the nearest point in the United States.

Statehood for Hawaii would establish a precedent of admitting territories far-removed from our present states—a precedent which could prove to be very dangerous. It would open the door to statehood for Puerto Rico, Guam, Alaska, Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and the Canal Zone.

History has proved that nations which keep reaching out for more and more power finally destroy themselves. The fact that ambitious politicians could not control their desires to take in and allow representation to great numbers of people with different ideals and customs contributed to the fall of the once-great Roman Empire. On the other hand, England has been wiser. Although the British government controls and protects its possessions, you will note that there are no members of Parliament from Canada, Malta, Australia, New Zealand, or from other lands in the British Commonwealth which are far-removed from the British Isles.

Aliens Predominate

If we admit Hawaii, it will be the first time we ever annexed a state where the Caucasian or white race was in the minority. The population of Hawaii includes approximately 79,000 of the white race and over 400,000 Asiatisc, with about one-third of the total population being Japanese. Should the approximately 186,000 Japanese vote in a bloc, it would be possible for them to elect three members of the Congress and control the government of the Islands.

The entire alien population of the United States is only about 3 per cent, but the alien popluation of Hawaii is approximately 13 per cent.

Communism is Danger

Communism is an important factor that must be considered in any discussion of Hawaiian statehood. It is thought by many that the only large labor union in the Territory is controlled by Communists. Many political and social organizations also have Communist members on their rolls.

The present method of appointment of Hawaiin government officials by the President of the United States is one sure way of preventing another race or another ideology from taking over the government of the Islands. It is not likely that the Governor of Hawaii or the Federal Judges there will be Communists as long as they are appointed by the President of the United States. If Hawaii becomes a state, this guarantee will no longer exist, and it is conceiveable that a group of persons of doubtful loyalty to our country could gain control of the Hawaiin government through local elections.

Let me make it clear that I am not questioning the loyalty of many fine American citizens living in Hawaii, but I do want to emphasize that Communism has been an active force in the Hawaiin Islands.

Unfair Representation

If Hawaii is admitted as a state, the number of Representatives in Congress will be increased from the present 435 to 436. But when it comes time for reapportionment in 1960, this number will again be set at 435, and, as a result, some state will lose one of its representatives.

Alabama is one of several states presently losing population to the point that the decrease might well result in loss of representation. With Hawaii as a state, the danger of Alabama's losing a Representative in the House will be much greater.

It should also be noted that each Hawaiin would enjoy about six times the voting power of the average person in the United States in the choice of Senators. This would result because Hawaii's population is smaller than a majority of our states, and yet the Territory would elect two Senators just like all the other states.

Territory's Benefits

I do not feel we will be doing an injustice to the people of Hawaii by leaving their islands as a Territory. The people of Hawaii now have nearly all the benefits they would have as a state. They enjoy local self-government. They have their own legislature which they elect themselves and which makes their own laws. They have a delegate to Congress who can express their views.

They participate in our Federal health program, our educational program, our road-building program, our agricultural program, and all the other programs of assistance which are maintained by the United States government. They possess full control and management of all property they own. They have had and will continue to have our protection. In addition to all these advantages, citizens of Hawaii are also citizens of the United States.

Realizing the advantages now enjoyed by Hawaii as a Territory, and at the same time being aware of the possible dangers that their admission as a state might entail, I cast my vote in opposition to the bill.

To have voted for it would have been a vote to establish a precedent I think unwise. It would have been a vote against our long established policy, and, in my opinion, against our best interests.

Southern Bell Report Shows Record Growth

1952 Was Peak Postwar Year For Telephone Activity; Inflation Continued To Exert Heavy Impact On Operations

Southern progress in commerce, agriculture and industry in 1952 was accompanied by telephone activity that broke several records, according to the Annual Report of the Southern Bell Telephone Company released today at Montevallo.

Southern Bell serves Montevallo and 1,019 other exchanges in nine states. Its annual review of 1952 operations was released here by S. C. Stutts, Manager.

The Report points out that widespread telephone progress was made in 1952 in spite of the continued heavy impact of inflation on telephone costs and earnings.

Major new records written into the books in 1952 were in connection with the provision of new facilities and overall usage of telephone service by the public. With the South on the move to new heights of economic progress in the year, the Telephone Company experienced its greatest "telephone movement" for a single 12-month period. Telephone movement includes new installations, changes from one address to another and telephones disconnected. Telephone movement in 1952 totaled 1,954,720 telephones. Out of this activity, there was a net gain of 261,000 telephones. At the year's end, 3,993,000 telephones were in service, 500,000 in rural areas.

Usage of telephone service set new records. With Southerners again originating more calls from their telephones than subscribers in any other section of the U. S.—or over 7 per day—local calls made over Southern Bell telephones in the South averaged 27,554,000 daily and long distance calls completed in 1952 totaled 175,000,000.

$178,545,000 In New Facilities

To care for additional volumes of service and to improve and expand the service, the Telephone Company built $178,545,000 worth of new facilities, largest amount ever spent in a single year of its far-reaching postwar construction program that has involved every one of its exchanges in the South, Montevallo included. The 1952 construction dollar volume topped 1951 by about $23,785,000.

Progress was made in meeting civilian demand while caring for heavy defense requirements in 1952, and overall telephone progress was achieved during a year when the Company paid its highest bills for wages, taxes, supplies and other items, the review points out.

The upward trend in telephone tax bills continued. Federal, state and local taxes for the year were $67,734,000, or 22 per cent above 1951. In addition, excise taxes collected by the Company and paid to federal, state and local governments totaled $67,248,000. Altogether, 1952 taxes on the Company and on its customers for telephone service totaled $134,982,000 or $2.91 per month per telephone.

Payroll costs for the year totaled $193,064,419 in the South as a whole, about 13.9 per cent more than for 1951.

The Report points out that the heavy impact of taxes, wages, supplies and other costs caused earnings to be inadequate for the year. Earnings were at the rate of 5.75 cents per dollar of investment, slightly above the full telephone service needs in the still-growing South.

This is because insufficient earnings limit the Company's ability to attract more growth money. Payments for telephone service do not finance new telephone construction, and money for such purposes must come from people who invest in the telephone business.

The Report points out that although tremendous strides were made in 1952, demand still continues very heavy in the South and large amounts of money, manpower and materials will continue to be required to meet the needs.

The Company pledged its continuing efforts to work hard at the job of furnishing the good, and expanding service that the South wants and needs.

In the words of President Fred J. Turner: "The months ahead will bring new problems and with them new opportunities for service. The strength of our nation's defense, the continued progress of the South and of her individual communities depend as never before on the service we render—on telephone skill, spirit and teamwork—and on the financial good health of the business."

Dodge Announces New Sales Officials

Detroit, Mich. — R. C. Somerville has been elected vice president in charge of sales and a member of the board of directors of Dodge Brothers Corporation, a subsidiary of Chrysler Corporation, and L. F. Desmond has been appointed general sales manager.

W .C. Newberg, president of Dodge, announced the appointment of both Somerville and Desmond. He stated that in his new capacity Somerville will have full responsibility for all the sales activities of Dodge passenger cars and trucks.

Somerville announced that Desmond, in his new position as general sales manager, will succeed E. C. Dock, who has resigned from Dodge to re-enter the retail automobile field.

Somerville was formerly vice president and a member of the board of directors of the Plymouth Motor Corporation. Desmond was previously sales manager of passenger cares for Dodge.

Somerville was born in Decatur, Illinois, August 31, 1896, and attended school in Detroit. After serving in a number of mechanical and service positions in the automobile business, Somerville entered retail selling when he was made manager in 1925 of factory field sales representatives. By 1927 he had become general sales manager of one of the largest automobile distributorships in the mid-west.

Somerville first joined Plymouth in 1931 in sales promotion work. Following a series of advancements, he was appointed director of regions for Plymouth in 1941, staff executive in 1943, assistant general sales manager in 1947 and vice president of Plymouth in 1952.

Desmond was born in Nelson, New Brunswick, Canada, May 22, 1898, and was educated in Minneapolis, Minn., and Spokane, Wash. Before joining Dodge in 1945, he served in various automotive sales positions. His first job with Dodge was district manager in the Kansas City region. He later became assistant regional manager and finally regional manager before coming to Detroit as sales supervisor in 1949. He was appointed director of advertising and merchandising for Dodge in April 1951, and sales manager of passenger cars in 1952.

Of the hawks present in this area, two are outstanding: The Red-Tailed Hawk and the Red-Shouldered Hawk. Neither hawk is an habitual chicken-catcher in spite of a popular misconception to the contrary. The Red-Tailed Hawk is the largest in the area and is present throughout the entire year. It feeds mostly on rats, mice, and other small mammals. Many of them eat grasshoppers. The Red-Shouldered Hawk is probably the most common hawk here. It feeds on mice, snakes, insects, and crayfish.

A bird familiar to everyone is the Chimney Swift. This bird has been jokingly called 'a cigar with wings' because it appears to have not tail feathers while in flight. During the fall, thousands of them roosted nightly in a large chimney on the Colleeg campus. During the nesting season, they build their nests inside chimneys or hollow trees.

Several woodpeckers can be observed locally including the Downy Woodpecker, Red-Headed Woodpecker, Red-Bellied Woodpecker, and the Flicker or Yellowhammer. All of these are permanent residents. An additional woodpecker, the Yellow-Bellied Sapsucker, is present only during the winter. This woodpecker is the only one which might be considered harmful, because it frequently girdles the trunks of trees with deep punctures. The other woodpeckers are considered beneficial because they eat wood-boring beetles, ants, caterpillars, bugs and numerous other insects.

The Tufted Titmouse is a common little bird around Montevallo and can be heard singing at any time of the day. Its song seems to say peter-peter-peter. The titmouse feeds on acorns, berries, and small fruits. It also eats spiders and a variety of insects.

The Mockingbird is an abundant, permanent resident and familiar to everyone. Its food consists mostly of fruits and berries and some insects.

The Cedar Waxwing is a common winter resident often found in flocks feeding on wild fruits. This bird is a favorite of bird watchers because of its soft brown color and yellow-tipped tail.

Starlings were first recorded in Alabama in 1918. Now they are common everywhere in the state. These large, dark colored birds with light spots are beneficial in their food habits, but have become pests in other ways. They form large noisy flocks and may deface buildings with their droppings.

English Sparrow was introduced into the United States in 1850 and reached Alabama by 1880. This bird is definitely a pest because it destroys grain, fruit and garden crops, defaces buildings, and drives away native birds. Although it is called a sparrow, it is in a different family from our native sparrows.

The Purple Grackle, a permanent resident, is incospicuous in the summer while nesting, but at this time of the year is very obvious because of its gregarious habits. These grackles form large noisy flocks while feeding in pastures, cultivated fields, and on the shores of ponds. One or more of these large flocks has been roaming around Montevallo and the College campus for the last month or so.

The Meadowlark, which can be seen in almost any vacant field, is one of the most beneficial birds with respect to its insect eating habits. Grasshoppers and crickets are its most important food, although many beetles, caterpillars, cut worms, and cotton-boll weevils are also eaten.

There are many native sparrows in this region, and to the casual observer they all look alike, i.e., small brown birds with a thick bill. However, some members of the sparrow family are quite conspicuous: Cardinal, Towhee, and Junco. The first two are permanent while the Junco is a winter resident.

The birds discussed here are but a few of the many different kinds found in this area. Anyone interested in birds is invited to visit the Natural History Museum in the basement of Bloch Hall. A number of local and foreign birds are on exhibit there along with a few mammals. The Museum is open most of the daylight hours and on the week end.—Gid E. Nelson, Jr., Biology Department, Alabama College.

Governor Persons called a state-wide conference in Montgomery at the State Capitol on Thursday and Friday, February 26-27, to consider the possibilities and significance of educational television as additional means of providing educational opportunities for the youth and adults of Alabama.

The Federal Communications Commission on April 15, 1952, reserved 242 television channels for noncommercial educational use in the country. Five of these channels were allocated to Alabama; namely Auburn, Birmingham, Mobile, Tuscaloosa, and Montgomery. A State Educational Television Committee consisting of leaders in education throughout the state has studied this problem for several months and has employed an engineer to make a survey to determine how many channels are needed to provide state-wide coverage. The survey reveals that a minimum of seven stations is needed.

The group called together by the Governor represented education, business, legislators, industry and a cross section of the public. Outstanding consultants in the field of television from different parts of the country participated in the discussion. Particular attention was paid to the development and televising of programs, the organization and administration of a state-wide network and methods of constructing and operating stations.

The conference suggested that steps be taken for the utilization of the five educational TV channels which have already been allocated to Alabama and that additional channels be sought which have already been allocated to Alabama and that additional channels be sought through the Federal Communications Commission. The conference recommended the creation of an educational television commission to draw up detailed plans relative to the development of a state-wide system of stations in Alabama.

Bids Wanted For Childersburg Work

The Army Engineers at Mobile, Alabama, are inviting interested contractors to submit their quotations for the job of rehabilitating twenty-four buildings located at the Alabama Ordnance Works, of Childersburg, Alabama. The buildings have been in a stand-by status since 1945 and are now being used to house expensive machinery and equipment belonging to the Ordnance Corps. The work to be done will include replacing defective sashes, roofs, girts, plates, studs and columns and applying cement-asbestos clapboard siding on all buildings. Bids will be received until 11:00 a.m. on March 25, 1953 and then publicly opened in the Mobile District Office.

Ring Bros. Circus Coming To Calera

This is the 27th year of the Ring Bros. Circus. The big show has grown and prospered from a beginning when the circus was transported on two small railroad cars until today it is one of the major circuses. Jack Ring, one of the famous brothers, was in Calera March 19. He stated that business this season is easily on a par with that of last year, which was one of the show's best.

"Amusements are an accurate barometer of the business conditions of the country. Hard times are keenly felt and prosperity fills the ticket wagon with bounteous returns. Amusements are a luxury and when times are hard our business is the first to feel it. Only when markets are flooded and commodities failed to move, we feel hard times. It will take many years for the manufacturer to supply the wants in this country and also abroad. Agriculture is our backbone and a hungry world must be fed."

There are in the neighborhood of 200 employes with the circus. Performers number nearly 75 and have been recruited from half a dozen foreign countries. Among the great stars is the Swanson family of acrobats, tumblers, and jugglers; DeLisa, hand-balancing marvel on the flying trapeze; Chester and Romana, rolling globe artists direct from a tour of Old Mexico; Lili LeVaughn, the petite and charming jueen of the air; Capt. Matt Laurish, famous animal trainer; Lisa Richards, skill and grace on the semi-slack wire; and for the kiddies, Madame Laurish's troupe of trained dogs and monkeys. A congress of clowns will be headed by Jimmy Douglass, Willie Clark, and Bubbles Burnett who promise to uncork the latest in the way of pranks and buffoonery.

In addition to the afternoon exhibition, another performance will be given tonight. Doors to the huge five continent menagerie will open at 1:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. A concert of popular music will preced the night performance. On account of its length, it commences promptly at 3:15 p.m. and 8 p.m.

We'll see you at the circus tonight. Sponsored by Calera P.T.A.

Long live the circus, peanuts, and pink lemonade.

4-H Club Banquet

The 4-H Adult Leaders Banquet and Frolic was held March 11, at Columbiana, in observation of National 4-H Club Week.

Guest speaker was Rep. Karl Harrison who contrasted the Shelby County of 1917 with the county of today. He stated that much credit is due local leaders and 4-H clubbers.

Talks were given by Marian Cotney, home demonstration agent, A. A. Lauderdale, county agent, Mrs. Betty McClure, assistant home agent, Buck Clarke, assistant county agent and Hanchey Logue, State 4-H Leader.

The Banquet was a colorful affair with 4-H clubbers, men and women a blaze of colors in hillbilly costumes.

The square dance which followed the banquet was enjoyed by all.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The majority of the Republican members of Congress did a complete about-face in voting last week for Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1953, submitted by President Eisenhower. This plan, which would establish a Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

Only three years earlier, virtually every Republican in the House had voted against a plan substantially the same but one that had been submitted to Congress by President Truman.

I voted against the plan and would have voted against it had I been a Member of Congress in 1950. If such a plan was undesirable under a Demoncratic president, the fact that we have a Republican Administration now does not necessarily cure its evils.

In my opinion this plan merely provides for an administrative superstructure for the Federal Security Administration, which will be replaced by this new department. According to the plan, the present FSA Administrator would become a cabinet member and receive an increased salary. The present FSA assistant administrator would be elevated to undersecretary and get a larger salary. The two FSA administrative assistants would be made assistant secretaries of the new department, with increases in their salaries. Under the plan, salaries alone would be increased at least $32,000 annually. The Director of the Budget is unable to estimate how much additional expense would be required to support this new department. Yet, not one single agency is abolished by the plan. Not one consolidation is provided for and not one single job is abolished. On the contrary, new positions are created.

As I interpreted the mandate of the people last November, they called on Congress to provide less, rather than more federal government. They voted to cut the cost of federal government, not to expand costs. Yet the creation of a new department is definitely a step away from economy. History has shown that every government department grows as fast as it can talk Congress out of more money for expansion.

I was told by numerous Members of Congress that they voted in opposition to a similar reorganization plan in 1950 because "it would make left-winger Oscar Ewing a member of the cabinet." But, in voting for this legislation last week, these same Congressmen seemed to forget that they were dealing with permanent legislation. We have never abolished a department to date and there is certainly no reason to believe one will be aoblished in the future. Therefore, it is entirely possible that a conservative administration will not stay in power indefinitely and that left-wing elements may in the future use this newly created department to encourage the adoption of socialized medicine and federal control of education.

Oil Lands Dispute

Debate on a 17-year old controversy is scheduled to get underway again in Congress about March 30. The long-time argument concerns the question of whether individual states own submerged lands off their coasts or whether the areas belong in part or entirely to the federal government. These disputed underwater lands are rich with oil deposits estimated to be worth $40 billion.

The bill which will come before the House about March 30 is designed to give states ownership of the submerged lands out to their historical water boundaries. Most of the coastal states' boundaries are set at three miles out from the shore, but a few states came into the Union with their limits further out in the sea. The bill would give federal control to the areas which lie between these state boundaries and the edge of the continental shelf.

It is expected that Congressmen from Louisiana and Texas, and possibly Florida, will object to this method of dividing the lands since many of the oil fields off the coasts of their states lie beyond the limits of their boundaries. Under this bill, the fields beyond the boundary limits would go to the federal government. These Congressmen will probably offer amendments to the bill to provide that the states have control of the underwater lands all the way to the edge of the continental shelf.

The bill will also receive opposition from Congressmen who are against giving the states title to any of the oil lands. The Supreme Court has ruled against state ownership in three cases. It handed down decisions which stated that the federal government has paramount rights to the submerged lands.

While he was President, Harry Truman twice refused to sign bills passed by Congress to give states full control of the underseas lands. President Eisenhower feels the states should have full control of the offshore lands within their historical boundaries.

I imagine this issue will consume a lot of time in the House and that a number of bills will be debated before the question is settled. Republican leaders are anxious to reach a decision on the dispute at an early date, but the Senate has indicated that it will not take full action for at least another month.

No Baseball At Thompson High

Dr. Robert H. Johnson, Jr., principal here, announces today that Thompson High School will not field a baseball team this year due to the fact that plans are being made that involve moving the present site of the stadium, and there is a distinct possibility of this being done during the season. Therefore, the fielding of a baseball team is postponed until next year.

Steelman Quits As Adviser At White House

The White House today announced the resignation of Dr. John R. Steelman, long a top Government official, who has been serving as a special assistant to President Eisenhower.

Dr. Steelman, a leading adviser to former President Truman, stayed on after the ianuguration to aid in the transition at the White House.

He will open an office here as a consultant and adviser on industrial relations and economic problems.

During the last six years of the Truman administration, Dr. Steelman held the title of assistant to the President, a post specially created for him in 1946. That $20,000-a-year job is held in the present administration by Sherman Adams.

In addition, Dr. Steelman held many other titles during the old administration.

President Eisenhower, in a letter, thanked Dr. Steelman for his willingness to serve the new administration.

(The foregoing article about Dr. Steelman was taken from the Washington Star and was handed to us by Dr. Charles T. Acker.)

Ebenezer Home Club

The March meeting of the Ebenezer Home Demonstration Club was held on March 19, at the home of Mrs. Grady Wyatt.

The meeting opened with the group singing the Hymn of the Month, "Love Devine." Mrs. Wyatt conducted the devotional and Miss Ivy Swinford led us in prayer.

Members answered roll call with Short cuts in Housecleaning. Mrs. Earl Swinford read the secretary and treasurer's report and chairmen reports were given by Mrs. Freman Albright, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. Grady Wyatt and Mrs. Frank Frost.

Mrs. Frank Frost read the story of the Hymn of the Month, after which Mrs. H. A. Pauly presented the program.

Mrs. Hillman Johnson, whose birthday was observed this month, opened her gifts; then the covered dish luncheon was served.

Mrs. Pauly called the meeting to order after lunch and Mrs. Sherrill McClure showed slides on the demonstration, "How to Prepare Food for Freezing."

Members present were Mrs. Ferman Albright, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Miss Ivy Swinford, Mrs. Nathan Frost, Mrs. Amos Davis, Mrs. Frank Green, Mrs. Frank Frost, Mrs. Dewey McDonough, Mrs. H. A. Pauly, Mrs. Earl Swinford, Mrs. U. S. Eddings, Mrs. Gladys Allen, Mrs. J. H. Wyatt, Mrs. Grady Wyatt, Mrs. R. H. Davis, Mrs. Hillman Johnson and Mrs. Jimmie Spain. Guests were Mrs. Thomas Hayes, Mrs. Sherrill McICure, H D Agent and Miss Diane Spain.

Tenants are moving into the F. F. Crowe Village this week. It is the new low-rent housing project just completed by the Montevallo Housing Authority. The first occupants to move in were Miss Beatrice Fancher and her mother last Saturday.

The Cub Scouts under the leadership of Mr. John Mader had their first Pack Meeting at the school cafeteria Tuesday night.

The attendance was very good. Pot luck supper was served followed by the meeting. The project for the month of April is "Radio Stuff." The next Pack Meeting is scheduled for April 28th, at the school cafeteria. At that time the boys will have exhibits and demonstrations of the progress made in their projects. Presentation of the Bob Cat Badges will also be made at that time.

Opera Coming To Birmingham May 4 and 5

Birmingham, March 14 — Alabama music lovers again this year will have an opportunity to see and hear the world famous Metropolitan Opera.

Two of the Metropolitan's most popular and elaborate productions, Carmen and Aida, have been scheduled here May 4 and 5 under the sponsorship of the Birmingham Music Club.

The two productions bring to Alabama some of the finest operatic talent in the world, headlined by such names as Rise Stevens, who has established herself as perhaps the finest portrayer of Carmen in operatic history.

The part of Don Jose is to be played by Richard Tucker, another world renown star.

Aida boasts such names as Blanche Thebon, a favorite among concert goers here. Zinka Milanov sings the title role, and Norman Scott portrays the king. Leonard Warren is heard in the role of Amonasro and Mario Del Monaco plays Radames.

Carmen is to be presented opening night, May 4 and Aida will follow on the 5th.

Supporting Miss Stevens and Mr. Tucker in the lusty work of Georges Bizet are such Met greats as George London as Escamillo, Margaret Roggero as Mercedes and George Cehanovsky as Dancaire.

Carmen is to be conducted by Fritz Reiner and Aida by Fausto Cleva.

Recreation Board

The Town Council Tuesday night filled two vacancies on the Town Recreation Board. The Mayor nominated Mrs. Gene Hubbard to succeed Mr. Paul Bailey whose term expires this month. Mrs. Hubbard's term is for five years. Nominated to fill out the two years of Dr. L. H. Hubbard's unexpired term was Mr. S. H. Hurt. Dr. Hubbard recently resigned.

Both nominations were unanimously ratified by vote of the Council.

Circus Is Coming To Calera Monday, April 13

The wild animals, the clowns and the red wagons are coming!

This announcement is hailed with delight by the juvenile element while some of the "Older Boys" are already looking about for their neighbor's nephews and nieces. They are saying they will probably have to go and carry the children to see the animals, but deep down in their hearts, they know they would not miss the big circus if there was not a small boy within a thousand miles on Circus Day.

Jimmy Douglas's "Funny Gang", and two score educated Shetland ponies and monkeys. The clown congress is a large one and they promise to uncork the latest gags to amuse the young and old.

In the menagerie will be seen Susie-Q, the world's most highly educated elephant along with scores of caged animals and hay-burning quadrupeds. Also to be seen in the menagerie, one of the world's largest captive reptiles, a giant Anaconda, from the Amazon River.

There will be two performances of The Ring Brothers Circus in Calera, Monday, April 13th at 3:15 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. Doors open an hour early to permit a leisurely inspection of the menagerie and hear a popular concert over the public address system.

The circus is sponsored by Calera P.T.A. Tickets can be obtained at reduced prices from any member of the above mentioned organization, until day of the circus. Don't fail to visit the great Ring Brothers Circus on its annual visit here this year.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

I enjoyed one of the rare privileges of a lifetime this past week when I had lunch with the President at the White House.

Since shortly after taking office, President Eisenhower has invited a group of Congressmen, both Democrats and Republicans, for lunch each week.

Arriving at the White House on this un-precedented occasion, we entered the grounds through the front gate. Inside the White House we were met by the President in the famous Blue Room of the White House. We were then escorted to the State Dining Room where luncheon was served. The President sat at the center of the dining table. I was seated at one end, next to Gov. Sherman Adams, assistant to the President.

After lunch the President took us on a personally-conducted tour of the White House. It was a particular pleasure to view the second-floor rooms which are not usually open to visitors. Among these rooms is the historical Lincoln Room where the former President's custom-made bed still stands. It was in this room that Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation. We also visited the President's second-floor office and were permitted to examine his numerous military decorations which are displayed there. During the tour we each had the opportunity to ask the President questions about various details of the White House and about his many gifts and decorations.

President Eisenhower was very gracious and cordial throughout our visit, and I am sure all the Congressmen enjoyed the event as thoroughly as I did.

Cherry Trees Bloom Early

Washington may have a Cherry Blossom Festival this year without the cherry blossoms. The annual festival is scheduled for April 8, but at this writing most of the famous cherry trees have already burst into full bloom, and it looks as though they will have exhausted their beauty by festival time.

National Capital Parks officials are divided in their opinions as to whether or not blossoms will last until the 8th. Some say most of the blooms will have disappeared by then. Others are more optimistic and maintain that the majority of the "double blossom" type trees will just be flowering when the festival begins, provided the not-too-warm weather of the past few days continues.

Anyway, park officials are doing their best to hold the beautiful blossoms for another week. The historical trees are receiving close attention from plant specialists, and are being sprayed with hormones which regulate growth.

A highlight of this year's Cherry Blossom Festival will be the crowning of a national queen by Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower. Most states have entered a princess to vie for the title. The queen will be selected by the spinning of a wheel marked with names of the various states and their princesses.

The first Cherry Blossom Festival was attempted in April, 1927, but organized festivals did not get underway until 1934 when the first Queen of Cherry Blossoms was crowned. She was Miss Eleanor Roosevelt, daughter of the then assistant secretary of the Navy, Henry L. Roosevelt. Due to such hazards as spring floods and World War II, the festival was not held each year. However, it has been a regular event since 1949 when a special committee of the Washington Board of Trade took over as official sponsor of the festival.

Spring just wouldn't be spring in Washington without the blooming of the nearly 2,000 Japanese cherry trees. Surrounding the Tidal Basin, they are believed to be the largest collection of flowering cherry trees in the world, outside Japan.

This is my first time to see them, and I believe that in describing them I am justified in using the well known phrase, "too beautiful for words." I feel sure the cherry blossoms are one of the most picturesque floral scenes in the world.

Mrs. William Howard Taft, wife of the 27th President, was directly responsible for the cherry trees in Washington. While touring the Orient, she was impressed by the beauty of the blooming trees in Japan. Through the wife of the mayor of Tokyo she arranged to have some of the trees sent for transplanting in Washington. The Japanese government decided to present them to the United States as a gift from the city of Tokyo.

The first shipment of 2,000 cherry trees reached this country in December, 1909, but after inspection they were found to be infected with certain fungus diseases and had to be destroyed. Notified of the loss, Japan agreed to send another consignment of trees. This time the Japanese government took extra precautions to see that the trees were free of disease. A special group of twelve varieties was selected and planted on a particular plot of land rich in clayish loam soil. When they were sure the trees were healthy, the Japanese dug them up and shipped them to the United States.

Mrs. Taft planted the first tree on the banks of the Tidal Basin in West Potomac Park on March 27, 1912. The tree was an imperial variety from the Japanese Emperor's garden. The second tree was planted by Viscountess Chinda, wife of the Japanese ambassador. Bronze tablets were placed in the park to mark the location of this ceremony. The remainder of the trees were planted around the Tidal Basin and along the Potomac River drive.

Interest in the cherry trees is shown by the vast number of tourists who travel the blossom-lined drives every spring. The pale pink flowers are a source of beauty and enjoyment to young and old alike.

James R. Nichols On Japan Visit

With The 2nd Infantry Division in Korea — Cpl. James R. Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Nichols, Montevallo, recently spent five days in Japan on a rest and recuperation leave from the 2nd Infantry Division in Korea.

The vacation was part of the Army's policy of giving periodic rests to soldiers in the combat zone. Luxurious "R and R" hotels are located throughout Japan to accomodate the veterans.

Corporal Nichols is a driver in the 9th Infantry Regiment's Heavy Mortar Company. He joined the division last July. Nichols entered the Army in October 1950.

Montevallo P. T. A.

The Montevallo Parent-Teachers Association held its April meeting on March 31, due to Spring Holidays falling during the regularly scheduled date, in the High School Auditorium at 730 p.m.

Following the reading of the minutes of the March meeting the nominating committee chairman, Mrs. W. E. Robinson, announced nominations for the new officers for the coming year.

Besides Mrs. Robinson, the nominating committee was composed of Miss Ella Peters, Mrs. F. L. Theimonge, Jr., Mr. M. S. McGehee, and Mrs. W. F. Fullman.

As no further nominations were made from the floor those selected by the nominating committee were accepted unanimously by the members present. The 1953-1954 officers are: Mrs. Alvin J. McGaughy, president, succeeding Mr. Arthur Garrett; Mr. Bill Alexander, first vice president; Mrs. W. G. Hicks, second vice president, succeeding Mrs. W. E. Robinson; Mrs. Denson Elliott, secretary, succeeding Miss Susan Dement; and Mrs. J. P. Kelly, treasurer, elected for a second term.

Following the business meeting Mrs. L. G. Fulton, Shelby County Department of Public Welfare Supervisor, spoke on "Adolescence: The Patient Years for Parents." Using close-to-home case histories, Mrs. Fulton illustrated the delinquency results from lack of sympathy and understanding in parents and teachers toward the adolescent. Mrs. Fulton's talk carried out the year's excellent P. T. A. program, "Building Healthy Personalities."

Spring Festival Of W S C S Held

The District Spring Festival of the Tuscaloosa District Woman's Society of Christian Service was held Tuesday, March 24, at Trinity Methodist Church in Tuscaloosa with District President Mrs. L. B. Lollar, Fayette, presiding.

"Jesus Christ" was the theme of the inspiring devotional conducted by Rev. Elbert S. Butterly. To complete the devotional period Mrs. V. P. Fisher sang "The Holy City."

Reports were given by district officers and local presidents. Mrs. J. O. Sims, Tuscaloosa, was introduced as the new Promotion Secretary.

"This Day" was the title of an inspirational talk given by Dr. B. F. Tingle, Tuscaloosa District Superintendent.

The principal speaker for the day was Mrs. O. D. Thomas, Tuscaloosa, newly elected Secretary of Student Work for the Southeastern Jurisdiction. Her challenging address was on "Women and Evangelism."

Following lunch in the church dining room, Mrs. L. B. Lollar spoke on the recent Jurisdiction Conference at Jackson, Mississippi.

Peter and Laura White and their three "White" boys will arrive in Montevallo tonight to visit Mrs. G. T. Elliott. The Whites have been in Japan for the past two years. Peter is a Colonel in the Army.

Study Club Elects New Officers

The Montevallo Study Club met March 24 at the home of Mrs. F. M. Morgan with Mrs. F. E. Lund as co-hostess. The president, Mrs. M. L. Orr, Jr., appointed the following committees for the new club year:

Program and year book, Mrs. Anderson, chairman; Mrs. Orr, Mrs. Parnell, Mrs. Lund. Membership and absentee, Mrs. Nordan, chairman. Finance, Mrs. Jeter, chairman; Mrs. Kennerly, Mrs. Wyatt, Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. Thornton. Civic, Mrs. Watson, chairman; Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Nordan, Mrs. Phillips. Welfare, Mrs. Reynolds, chairman; Mrs. Givhan, Mrs. Higgins, Mrs. Rogan, Mrs. Baker. Publicity, Mrs. Parnell. Cook book sales, Mrs. Higgins, chairman.

Mrs. W. J. Kennerly and Mrs. N. E. Phillips were in charge of the program. Mrs. Kennerly gave the biography of Shirley Boothe, who has recently been selected Actress of the Year for the outstanding performance in "Come Back Little Sheba."

Mrs. Phillips gave a review of "Come Back Little Sheba," now being shown in motion pictures, and "The Time of the Cuckoo", currently being played on Broadway.

Shelby Farmers Visit Belle Mina Experiment Station

On Wednesday, March 25, a large group of Shelby County farmers and businessmen visited the Tennessee Valley Experiment Station at Belle Mina, Alabama to study feed production, pastures and livestock management. Mr. Fred Stewart conducted the tour of the station and during the afternoon summarized the work being done at the station. Pastures, Oats, crimson clover, rye grass, alfalfa and grain sorghum had provided the dairy and hog unit with all the feed used during the last twelve years. Those on the tour say an abundance of grazing for livestock.

Much inspiration and information was gained from the visit. Those attending from Shelby County were:

J. E. Bearden, J. M. Denson, Earle Morgan, J. C. Brooks and Robert Waites, Helena; A. M. Hinds, Pelham; Carlos Warren, Alabaster; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butler, Frank Wyatt, Frank Lowe, Douglas Wyatt, Clyde Wyatt, Dee Flemming, Taft Prince, Jimmie Rowe and Elvin Spates, Vincent; Douglas Kent, Homer Brandenburg and Arthur Payne, Siluria; Homer Jackson, George Vick, Dock Vick, Sam Stone, H. C. McDanal, B. B. Mooney, C. D. Whitten, Dewey Bolton, Albert Smith, Clyde McEwen and Mack Dennis, Wilsonville; Leonard Wyatt, Ralph Caddell and Earl Baker, Harpersville; A. B. Bristow and H. S. Bristow, Shelby; Denton Cook, R. D. Cox, Sam Lovett, Jim Lovett, L. D. Ledbetter, A. A. Lauderdale and W. M. Clark, Columbiana; Eddie Downs, Calera.

Lions Club Sponsors Cancer Crusade In Montevallo

Today marks the opening of the 1953 Crusade of the American Cancer Society, and Governor Gordon Persons has joined leaders of the campaign in an appeal for all-out public support of the effort to control this dread disease.

Leonard M. Davis, Shelby County campaign chairman, called for all local leaders and workers to begin their canvass immediately and to complete their work as early in the month as possible.

Governor Persons has signed a proclamation setting aside April as "Cancer Control Month" in Alabama.

"I urge every citizen in this state," the Governor said, "to observe the occasion by learning as much as possible about cancer and by supporting the 1953 Crusade of the American Cancer Society.

"Within the boundaries of this state last year", the Governor's proclamation continued, "approximately 2800 homes lost loved ones to cancer, and there is likelihood that the victims during 1953 will even exceed this number. Such a burden of tragedy compels the attention of this administration. . . Through programs of education, research and service, many lives have already been saved and many more could be saved."

Redus C. Collier of Decatur, state chairman of the 1953 Crusade, and his co-chairmen A. W. Jones of Auburn and Malcolm Laney of Tuscaloosa also joined in the state-wide appeal for the "greatest campaign ever staged in support of the fight to control cancer."

County chairman Davis said "this is not only a campaign for financial support, but a crusade to bring about greater public alertness to the danger signals of cancer."

"Science has made great strides in the study of cancer," Mr. Davis declared, "but physicians, to do any good, must treat the patient in time. Most cancer can be cured through early diagnosis and treatment. Many cancer patients are being cured now and the American Cancer Society believes that doctors can save two out of four without many new knowledge if patients consult them in time. One of the primary objectives of the 1953 Crusade is to make the people of Shelby County more cancer conscious and to provide them with more information about the danger signals of cancer."

Mr. Davis described the leaders and workers in the crusade as "civic-minded citizens who are giving of their time as well as their resources to this effort," and he called for the support of every person who is asked to give.

Funds donated to the American Cancer Society are used for scientific study of the causes and cures for cancer, public education regarding cancer and aid to indigent cancer patients.

Approximately one-half of every dollar contributed to the American Cancer Society in Alabama is used in support of a cancer research program now in progress at five Alabama institutions.

Sponsors of the 1953 Cancer Crusade are members of the Lions Club in Montevallo, Pat Wyatt, chairman; and the Civitan Club in Calera, W. M. Minor, chairman.

Ring Bros. Circus At Calera April 13

The blare of bands, toot of calliopes, and roar of caged animals, will be heard here next Monday when the Ring Bros. Circus presents its colorful show.

Lumbering elephants, cumbersome camels, Audads, prancing ponies, comical clowns, pretty girls, dancing horses, will be seen in two shows that day, one at 2:15 p.m. and another at 8:15 p.m. The circus tents will be erected opposite L & N Depot on Columbiana Highway.

Among the exciting acts to be featured are the Swanson family acrobats, tumblers, and foot jugglers, first time ever to be presented to an American audience, also DeLisa, upside down head-balancing marvel on the flying trapeze. Other top-notch acts are those of the dainty Miss Ramona and her partner Chester, Lili LeVaughn, formerly of the Circus DeHavre of Paris, France, featured aerialist.

Also among the wonders to be seen with this circus is the world's most highly educated and talented pachyderm, Susie-Q, trained by Capt. Matt Laurish.

Educated canines, especially to delight the little folk and Ring Bros. troupe of clowns to provoke mirth and merriment for the children of all ages.

The circus is sponsored by Calera P. T. A. Tickets can be secured at reduced rates anytime before Circus Day from any member of that organization.

Self-Employed Now Have Social Security

If you are one of the millions of self-employed people who have filed their second annual social security tax reprots this year, you now have insurance protection under social security, M. C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham social security office, annonuced today. These are people who made social security reports of their self-employment earnings for 1951 and 1952 and who have paid the taxes for both years to the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

The Social Security Act provides that any person who has net income from self-employment of at least $400 in a taxable year may be credited with four calendar quarters of coverage. An individual who has eight such quarters of coverage is fully insured trough June 1955. This means, Mr. Folmar pointed out, that both the worker and his family may become entitled to benefits in case he reaches retirement during this period, or his survivors may become entitled in case of his death before July 1, 1955.

"Each self-employed person who made a report of his income for 1951 and 1952 will be credited with eight quarters of coverage," Mr. Folmar said.

Many persons now self employed have previously worked for wages in employment covered by social security. This work is credited, of course, toward being insured, and the credits may be added to those earned in self-employment.

Mr. Folmar added that Mr. Jack Adamson, field representative, is at the Employment Office in Calera each Thursday at 9:30 a.m. to assist self-employed persons who have questions about social security.

Bobby J. Buse In Atomic Test

B T U Contenders In First District

The first District Training Union Convention to be held this year at Fairfield First Baptist Church, Birmingham, April 13, will find the Shelby Association represented in all three phases of its youth action drills, says G. C. Moore, Jr., County Training Union director.

Winning eligibility before an audience of 246 people in attendance at the Wilsonville Baptist Church last Monday night were: Lanelle Moore, Columbiana, in the Young People's Better Speaker's tournament and Margaret Moore, also of Columbiana, in the Intermediate Sword Drill, and Patsy Carden, Calera, in Junior Memory Drill.

The Moore sisters are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Moore, Jr., while Patsy Carden is the daughter of Mrs. Clyde Carden, Calera.

Lanelle Moore and Patsy Carden were unopposed in the speaker's tournament and the Junior Memory Drill, respectively, while entering the sword drill and winning alternate place was Betty Franklin, Calera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Franklin, Calera.

Out of 16 churches represented only two had entrants in this phase of the B T U work, Calera and Columbiana, where Mrs. Marian Jones and N. A. Jones, respectively, are directors along with various leaders and sponsors who assisted in preparation for this meeting.

Continuing to help prepare these three girls for the larger convention in April will be Wallace Weaver, Montevallo Association of Young People's Leader, Mrs. W. G. Hicks, Montevallo, Association of Intermediate's Leader and Mr. W. M. Jacks, Calera, Association of Junior's Leader.

Winning the attendance banner was Harpersville Church, where Cecil Nummy is director, with 54 delegates on an enrolment of 34 for a per cent of 159. Second was Florence Church with 76 per cent. Wilsonville was third with 46 per cent.

Winfred Jones At Desert Rock

Camp Desert Rock, Nev. — Cpl. Winfred Jones, Jr., whose wife, Inez, and mother, Mrs. Alberta Jones, live in Calera, is now at Camp Desert Rock, Nev., for the second in the current series of atomic tests.

The maneuver, "Desert Rock V," is designed to demonstrate the effectiveness of atomic weapons in support of ground action.

Taking part are men from Army posts throughout the country. They have been formed into composite battalion-sized combat teams for the maneuver in the desert wasteland of contral Nevada.

Jones entered the Army in March 1942 and is serving as a military policeman with the 226th Military Police Company at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

He has been awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in action, European-African-Middle Eastern Theater Ribbon with three campaign stars and the Korean Service Ribbon with three campaign stars.

Dodge Dealer Announces Lower Prices

R. E. Bowdon, Jr., Bowdon Motor & Implement Company, today revealed the details of price reductions ranging up to $202 on all 1953 Dodge passenger cars and trucks.

Mr. Bowdon said the Dodge price reductions were made possible by increased availability of scarce materials.

"Currently, Dodge retail sales are 50 per cent greater than during the corresponding period last year under government controls," Mr. Bowdon said. "We are very pleased that the factory has seen fit to take advantage of increased production and sales, and to pass on the savings to our customers."

Mr. Bowdon cited some of the typical savings. On the popular-selling Coronet V-Eight four-door sedan the prices have been reduced $148.50, while on both the luxury Coronet V-Eight Diplomat hardtop and convertible the prices have been lowered $201.80. Additional savings will be affected by lower Federal excise and local taxes on the factory retail price. On some models the new prices also include as standard equipment, items previously sold as extras.

The public is cordially invited to visit these two units of the low-rent housing projects which are now open for occupancy.

Housing Class Studies Storage

The housing I class of the Montevallo High School Home Economics Department is completing a study of ways of improving and caring for the girls own rooms.

The effective use of color was studied by examining a series of filmstrips on color and by working in small groups to solve color problems in the girls' bedroom.

Filmstrips on furniture arrangement were used as guides in determining the ways in which bedroom furniture can be attractively and conveniently arranged. Through demonstrations and study of pictures the girls have made a variety of storage devices for their rooms.

With the help of some of the Agriculture boys, apple boxes were converted into a dressing table which the girls painted. An attractive gathered skirt of durable and colorful material was attached to the table with snap tape, the dressing table skirt can be easily taken off and laundered when attached in this manner. The table will be used to advantage in the fitting room which adjoins the clothing laboratory.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ellison of Jacksonville, Fla., were Wednesday guests of Mrs. Georgia Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. George Kendrick.

VOL. 20 MONTEVALLO, ALABAMA, APRIL 9, 1953 NUMBER 49

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

By more than a two to one vote, the House recently passed a bill which, if finally enacted into law, will probably settle the dispute over who owns title to the submerged lands. The Senate is now debating a bill dealing with the same subject and may have voted on it by the time this column is published.

Along with the majority of the House and the majority of the Alabama members of Congress, I voted in favor of reaffirming state ownership of the offshore lands. This is the third time the House of Representatives has passed similar bills, but final enactment of the previous bills was prevented by President Truman's veto.

The bill just passed by the House would grant to the states along our coast line a clear title to these submerged coastal lands out to their historic boundaries. Land beyond that limit would go to the federal government. Alabama, of course, will be affected by a final passage of this legislation and, like most of the other coastal states, its historic sea boundary is three miles out from the point where the tides ebb at low tide. Only a few of the states came into the Union with their boundaries slightly further out to sea.

The states have always claimed ownership to this submerged land, and this ownership was never seriously until 1936 when the Secretary of the Interior reversed all previous court decisions and legal opinions, including his own, to hold that these lands and newly discovered oil thereon should belong to the federal government. Since 1947 the Supreme Court has ruled three times that the federal government has paramount rights to the offshore lands. It might be pointed out, however, that these decisions were not unanimous and prior to 1947, the Supreme Court had ruled, in effect, that the states held title to these submerged lands. Lower federal courts and state courts had made the same decision some 244 times before an adverse decision was made by the Supreme Court six years ago.

Over a period of years, many decisions of the Supreme Court have been legislated out of existence by Congress, whose members are elected representatives of the people. This will probably be the case in this controversy. Of course, the final action by Congress on the submerged lands issue will be subject to review by the courts.

State ownership of these submerged lands to their historic boundaries will not in any way interfere with the federal government's power to provide police or naval protection to the shores of our country. It will not interfere with federal regulation of navigation on the coast line.

Contrary to the ideas of many people, passage of this bill will give the federal government title to the largest part of the submerged land that lies between the coast and the edge of the continental shelf. It is estimated that nine-tenths of the area covered by this measure will go to the United States, while only one-tenth will be owned by the coastal states. Experts estimate that 26,000 square miles will belong to the coastal states, while 237,000 square miles are located in the continental shelf beyond the state's historic boundaries and will be owned by the federal government.

As long as this controversy remains unsettled, the further development of minerals in these submerged lands will be virtually at a standstill. No department of the federal government has any authority under existing to develop this area, and private development will not go forward as long as title is disputed. In the meantime, we need oil for national defense and securtiy. We cannot afford to let these submerged lands lie idle any longer.

The bill which passed the House settles the title controversy by reaffirming the ownership of the coastal states to submerged lands within their historic boundaries and giving title to the federal government to that portion lying between the historic boundaries and the edge of the continental shelf.

To Give Radio Talks

While Congress is recessed for a short Easter vacation, I plan to be in the District to give several radio talks. These broadcasts will be informal reports dealing with my activities as your representative and with the major issues which have come before the House of Representatives this year.

Since I will be in Alabama for only a few days and it will be impossible for me to cover thoroughly all eight counties of the Sixth District in such a short period of time, I feel the best way to reach the greatest number of people is through the medium of radio.

On Thursday, April 9, my report will be broadcast over WTBC-AM and FM in Tuscaloosa at 11:30 a.m. At 1:45 the same day, I will speak over Tuscaloosa stations WJRD and WNPT. I plan to be in Marion on April 10 and will speak over station WJAM beginning at 10:45 a.m. That afternoon at 5:30 p.m. my report will be given over radio station WKLF in Clanton.

I have accepted an invitation to speak at the dedication ceremonies for McKenzie Courts, a new housing project in Tuscaloosa, on April 12.

Although I shall be in Alabama during the week April 6-12, my Washington office will remain open throughout that period. Any mail for me should be sent to that office where it will be held until my return. Since I will be in the District, there will be no regular column in the papers on April 15 or 16, but my weekly report will be resumed the following week.

Colonel White served as executive officer of the 34th Infantry Regiment in Japan for eight months. A veteran of four European and five Korean campaigns, the colonel had been with the 34th since September 1951 when he was commander of the 2nd Battalion.

Telephone Service Added At Maylene

Construction of additional telephone lines to serve 25 applicants for telephone service in the Maylene community is rapidly nearing completion.

S. C. Stutts, telephone company manager, said service should be available no later than May 1.

The company spokesman said that applicants for telephones from residents living in the area served by the new lines are still being accepted on the basis of "first come, first served." Applications on file will get first preference.

The project is part of Southern Bell's program to extend its rural telephone network throughout the area.

Farm Notes Of Montevallo Area

The C. T. Wallace and son farm on Pea Ridge has a lot of land that is non-productive due to a stand of hardwoods and other low value timber. This will be cleared by bulldozer and planted to sericea and pasture grasses, in the near future.

Joe Sargeant, who bought the fine J. O. Self dairy farm north of Calera on Highway 31, is going ahead with his conservation farm plan. He is utilizing regular ACP assistance to fertilize pastures, and expects to clear 30 acres with a bulldozer. The county P & M A committee has given him conditional approval for the clearing.

The Kilpatrick farm on Spring Creek, now the Waters farm, is being planned along conservation lines. Mr. Waters, a District Cooperator when he had a farm in Jefferson County, is greatly enlarging farm operations here and wants to do it right. One hundred acres of new clearing is planned in addition to improving and fertilizing existing pastures.

Plans worked out with S. C. S., call for clearing more than 40 acres of scrub oak on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cairns, Alabaster. However, to preserve the thin layer of top soil, the Cairns' expect to saw all trees at ground level instead of root up with the heavy equipment. A careful operator will not move much top soil on most soil types. On this particular area of rocky, thin soil and small diameter trees the saw seems to be best.

Cancer Crusade Is In Progress

With the 1953 Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society in progress, the work that is being done by the American Cancer Society to control this dread disease has won the praise of several of Alabama's leading medical authorities, who have expressed their opinions in public addresses, published statements and letters.

April is "Cancer Control Month" in Alabama, and funds donated to the American Cancer Society are used to suppor a three-phase program of combating this dread disease through scientific research, education and service to cancer patients.

The American Cancer Society has full approval of the American Medical Society and the Medical Association of the State of Alabama in its three-point program of research, education and service. The American Cancer Society works most cooperatively with the Medical Association of Alabama, and the State Health Department.

These three agencies, devoted to this humanitarian cause, emphasize that a full utilization of the means now at hand for the detection of cancer in its early stage, as well as prompt and thorough treatment, would decrease this burden on American life at least one-third.

The Cancer Crusade in Montevallo area is sponsored by members of the Lions Club, Pat Wyatt, Chairman.

Congressmen Hear Alabama Farm Bureau Viewpoints

Viewpoints of Alabama's 73,000 member Farm Bureau Federation were outlined to the state's congressional delegation recently by nine county Farm Bureau leaders who visited the national capitol as guests of their state and national organization in recognition of Alabama's high rating in the Two-Million-Member drive.

The farmers also talked with members of the U. S. Department of Agriculture staff regarding the latest developments in agricultural research and education, as well as plans for the Eisenhower administration and Secretary Ezra Taft Benson for expanding foreign trade and otherwise boosting farm markets.

At a banquet at which the senators and representatives were guests, the farmers expressed approval of the price support provisions of the present permanent farm legislation, known as the Agriculture Act of 1949, They called for economics through reorganization of the department of agriculture; increased funds for research and the foreign agricultural services; legislation repealing an Interstate Commerce Commission order against trip-leasing by truckers of farm products, and the setting up of a bi-partisan commission to study means of expanding foreign trade. They reiterated Farm Bureau's insistence upon a balanced federal budget, and opposition to price and wage controls which the organization says hamper production and contribute to inflation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cresswell spent the past week in Panama City, Fla.,

Rat Eradication Starts This Week

The County Health Department in cooperation with the United States Public Health Service and the various City Councils, will begin a rat eradication program in this County the latter part of this week.

The first work will be done in Columbiana and, after this is completed, in other towns of the county.

The business district and residential districts will all be covered in these towns provided, of course, that the individual property owner desires the work to be done on his premises. Incidentally there will be no expense to the property owner.

The poisoned bait will be handled in such a manner that there will be no danger to pets.

This work has been done with great success in a number of the counties in Alabama.

From a Public Health standpoint the program is intended to eradicate Typhus Fever which is carried by the rat flea. Several cases of Typhus have occurred in Shelby County.

Aside from being disease carriers, rats destroy thousands of dollars worth of property each year. — Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Alabama Historical Association Meets

Historic old Mobile, "city of six flags," will be the host to the Alabama Historical Association at its sixth annual meeting April 24 and 25, it was announced today by Dr. Ralph B. Draughon, president.

Dramatic episodes and colorful events and personages in Alabama history will be presented in a varied program of papers by recognized authorities on their respective subjects. An entertainment program, which includes a tour of Mobile's many places of historic interest and a visit to beautiful Bellingrath Gardens, has been arranged by the Mobile host committee, of which Mrs. F. J. Sauer is general chairman.

Following the registration, which is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Friday, a luncheon and an afternoon session will be held at the Battle House, with a complimentary dinner Friday evening at the Mobile Country Club. Following the dinner, an evening session and reception will be held at Springhill College. Sessions Saturday beging at 10 a.m. and conclude with a luncheon meeting and sight-seeing trip.

James F. Sulzby, Jr., secretary, has requested members and guests to make early hotel reservations, in view of the large anticipated attendance from all sections of the State.

April Is Cancer Control Month

In a proclamation setting aside April as "Cancer Control Month" in Alabama, Gov. Gordon Persons has called upon all citizens of the state to give of their time and resources during the 1953 Crusade of the American Cancer Society in support of its research, education and service programs. Shown with the Governor as he signs the proclamation are, left to right, Redus C. Collier of Decatur, Alabama, State chairman of the 1953 Crusade; Mrs. Lillian G. Meade, Birmingham, executive director, Alabama Division, American Cancer Society; Dr. T. Brannon Hubbard, Sr., Montgomery, past president of the Medical Association of Alabama and now a member of the State Executive Committee of the American Cancer Society, and Dr. D. G. Gill, Montgomery, Alabama State health officer, also a member of the State Executive Committee. The Governor said that approximately 2800 homes lost loved ones to cancer last year and the total this year might even be some greater. His proclamation added that through the Society's programs of research, education and service, many lives have already been saved and many more could be saved.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

All S. C. S. men assigned to work in the six counties comprising the North Central Soil Conservation District attended a two day training session in Jefferson County April 1 and 2. Farm irrigation was the subject being studied. The county (work unit) men were instructed in helping the farmer determine if he should try to irrigate and what work should be done before calling in S. C. S. engineers qualified to do the actual designing of the system and necessary recommending of equipment needed.

Much interest is being shown in this county in supplemental irrigation, and many lakes, creeks, and rivers offer a more certain source of water than natural rains.

Contact this office if you would like assistance in studying this problem.

Jim Kidd, Harpersville, planted 40 pounds of Chapel Hill Rescue per acre last fall. He has used 250 pounds per acre of ammonium nitrate to get maximum seed on this 5 acre plot. The growth of the grass is two feet high, and is a beautiful sight. Mr. Kidd is overhauling his combine to assure being able to get the seed. "I want to save every possible seed," he said Friday.

R. J. Albright became a District Cooperator during his 4 years on the GI farm program, during which time he bought and began operating a 93 acre farm at Vincent. Now he is availling himself of FHA aid to get land cleared, ditches filled, dairy barn built, and other improvements made.

The whole story would be too long to tell in this column. However, his comment about the use of a bull dozer to put idle acres to work is worth while. "I don't know of any money I could spend better than that I'm paying for this heavy equipment. It has cost only $20.00 per acre to clear the land planned for sericea."

* * *

"Button clover is the best clover on my dairy farm," said H. E. Kennedy, Wilsonville, last week. His son, Basil, had been one of the many GI trainees and North Central Soil Conservation District Co-operators who planted the clover in 1950.

"It has been a sure reseeder, furnishes a month longer grazing, and is better liked by the cows than reseeding crimosn. I have seen no signs of bloat on it. I am increasing my acreage each year and will use it with Chapel Hill Rescue, too."

Roy Eastis, who planted this S. C. S. sponsored clover, finds it reseeds two or more years even when not allowed to make seed. "As a district cooperator I have been introduced to several valuable new crops but this is one of the best."

Hugh McDanal, chairman of the Shelby County P & M A committee, stopped disc-harrowing his kudzu hay patches to point out the oldest planting of Chapel Hill Rescue grass (reseeding the fifth year on kudzu) in the county.

"Both my cows and I like Button clover best of all grazing legumes. That field of Grandeflora vetch is the result of planting seed gathered by hand by Mr. Hatchett and an aid over 6 years ago."

"Incidentally," Mr. McDanal says of kudzu, "if I had a little more acreage I would plant my 5 best, flattest acres in kudzu for hay." Sam Farmer, C. C. Farr, Maurice Poe, J. B. Crawford, and Albert Lokey are finding Button clover a fine crop. Brown Evans' patch heavily grazed, is a good example of its value. Where Alabama College had one stand frozen out, another is back this year.

Mr. Kennedy has invited interested farmers to come to his farm to see new, one year, and three year old stands of button clover. While there, take time to look at the fescue, Chapel Hill Rescue, oats, ryegrass, crimson clover and white clovers being used for beef and dairy cattle.

Medical Association Meets April 16-18

The Medical Association of the State of Alabama will hold its 92nd annual session at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel, Birmingham on April 16-18. The Jefferson County Medical Society will be hosts to the Association at that time.

Dr. B. W. McNease (Fayette), President of the State Association has arranged an outstanding program. "I have tried to get the best possible men for the various subjects," says Dr. McNease, "and I believe this aim has been fulfilled by means of wholehearted support of all concerned."

"The primary aim of the scientific session is to bring to the physicians of Alabama the latest developments in medical science," continued Dr. McNease. "Only by the keeping abreast of these developments may we bring to the people of Alabama the best that medical care can offer. Great strides in health and medical care have been made in Alabama in the past few years, and only by practicing good medicine may we physicians do our part in continuing this progress."

Both practicing physicians and medical educators from Alabama and other states will read papers. The highlight of each annual session is the Jerome Cochran Lecture which will be delivered this year by Dr. Champ Lyons, Professor of Surgery of the Medical College of Alabama, Birmingham. His subject will be "Metabolic Aspects of Convalescence."

VETERANS' COLUMN
STATE DEPT. OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS

By E. J. Sullivan

If you are a veteran of the Korean conflict, or if you are an Alabama serviceman about to be discharged, and you are unable to decide what type of education or training would be best for you to follow under the Korean GI Bill, you will be interested in knowing that steps are now being taken to provide you with some sound advice to help you get started on the right foot. Members of organizations concerned with employment education and readjustment of veterans are quite concerned about the great amount of waste in time and money, as well as human talent, resulting from improper use of educational and vocational advantages available to veterans of World War II and which threatens now to effect veterans of the Korean conflict. The Governor of Alabama is fully aware of the need for some effort on the part of the citizens to approach this problem, and has appointed a State Committee to set up a program through which the veterans may receive counseling. The name of the committee is the Committee on Counseling Veterans, and it consists of Representatives of the State Department of Education, the Department of Industrial Relations, the Department of Veterans Affairs, and the Veterans' Administration. The purpose of the committee is to provide an adequate guidance and counseling service throughout the State, and to get the Korean veteran to accept and follow for his own good. As you may know, the Veterans' Administration offers a counseling service, but as a general rule, it becomes necessary for the veteran to go to Montgomery in order to take advantage of this service. With the new organization, it will be possible for a veteran to get good counseling in his own community. Successful people in all types of businesses will be called upon to give their advice to those veterans who contemplate entering their particular field of employment.

Before a veteran makes an application for training, he should get a photostatic copy of his discharge, or separation papers (DD 214).

Total number of local telephone calls made by Southern Bell customers in 1952 averaged 27,554,000 daily.

The furnishings of the early cabins were as crude as the cabins themselves. Everything was homemade with tools which were few and crude. Beds were made of split boards or small round poles which rested upon forked poles. On these boards or poles, straw, grass or leaves were piled, and this was covered with bear, deer or buffalo skins.

When we first got married, I always had tea for breakfast and my wife liked coffee. I soon got used to coffee.

Frontier cabins had no closets. Extra clothes were hung on pegs driven into the log walls. Of course, there were no bathrooms. If a frontiersman wanted a bath, and it was not often that he did, he could fill up a wooden wash tub with water and climb in. Most of them usually waited until summer and then took their baths in the nearest creek.

Southern Bell employees completed payment for 30,588 shares of American Telephone and Telegraph Company stock during 1952.

The Division of Secondary Education of the State Department of Education handles all accreditment applications of secondary schools. At present there are 356 accredited secondary schools in the State. Of this number 86 hold accreditment in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The accreditment applications are processed in the light of policies, regulations, and accreditment standards governing high schools as authorized by the State Board of Education. Each school files each year with the Department of Education a complete report of its program of studies, names of all teachers and their training, classes taught, number of pupils in each class, and condition of buildings and equipment. The supervisors of the Division study these reports before visiting the schools. After the visit has been made, the supervisor gives in writing a complete report of his visit to the principal and superintendent of the shcool.

The Division cooperates with other Divisions of the Department in studying the teacher education program in the colleges of Alabama, and works directly with the deans of education in the colleges in helping to meet the needs of teacher training in the State.

Within the last five years the Division has promoted the evaluations of high schools that are members of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. In this plan a criteria, set up by the American Council on Education, is used to evaluate the school philosophy, pupil needs, school community, program of studies, pupil activity and guidance, school library, school staff and administration, and school plant. When the evaluation is completed, recommendation for improvement of weak points are presented and used as a basis for future work on the part of the local faculty and administration.

The Division of Secondary Education is also responsible for processing reports of the General Education Development Test given to veterans under the guidance of the United States Armed Forces

The tedious job of removing pinfeathers from a fowl can be simplified by using a strawberry huller with which you can grip the feathers close to the skin of the bird.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's Newsletter pays tribute to that noble fowl, the hen, in a recent edition. It observes, for example, that "a bird in the hand is bad table manners." It adds, "Let us honor the hen. She devised the only sanitary wrapper known to man which can be removed without prayer or profanity."

Worth more... and why

There's an old saying that a thing is worth what someone is willing to pay for it. Well, if you could tour the wholesale and retail used car auctions around the country, if you could survey hundreds of used car lots you would discover that used Fords bring higher prices than any competitive make—and by substantial amounts.

THAT'S WHY we feel our '53 cars should not be compared with cars in the same price range. Not because our competitors don't do a good job—obviously they do—but because we feel Ford Cars have more in common with the highest priced automobiles. The similarities are far greater than the differences.

For example. Today, the most expensive cars in this country have V-type, 8-cylinder engines. Ford Cars have had this exact same type of engine for over 20 years.

What's more astounding, the current Strato-Star V-8 sells for hundreds of dollars less than several other makers charge for a six-cylinder car. Now there's nothing wrong with a Six but they do cost less to make. Ford makes a Six—the most modern overhead valve Six in the industry. And if it's a six-cylinder car you want, Ford has it and for less money than the V-8, which is as it should be.

What about ride? Here's another Ford similarity with high-priced cars . . . Riding Comfort. One of the misconceptions for many years has been that weight—sheer weight—is what it takes to make a car ride well. Ford has found that you can make a 3000-pound car ride softer and hold the road better by far than many cars that weigh a full 1000 pounds more. In the '53 Ford, for example, front end road shock has been reduced up to 80%. We say it compares most favorably with the heaviest cars sold today.

What about automatic transmissions? It would take the fingers of both hands to count the various kinds of automatic and semi-automatic transmissions on the market today. The one we offer is called Fordomatic. It is the most versatile on the market, it represents the most profound consideration of engine-to-wheel power transfer—and that it does the best job for our engines isn't even open to question. It "shifts" better than you could shift by hand.

What you can see is also important. Here again Ford Cars lead not only in their price field but in the medium and upper brackets as well. Ford visibility is Full-Circle Visibility. This means huge, curved unobstructed glass area, front and rear, plus side windows that allow all passengers what the hotels call "room with a view."

Appearance? A higher price, of course, does not make a car more beautiful. Conversely, beauty in a Ford comes "for free." Ford has found that it costs no more to develop a beautiful car than one that is less pleasing in appearance. You can drive up to the most exclusive doorways in the world and feel perfectly at home in your Ford. Fords "belong" . . . in exactly the same social category as the finest, one-of-kind creations. After all, a Ford is a custom creation multiplied.

What about running costs? Here's one place that Ford's advantages are obvious. For oil and gas economy Ford has the big cars whipped. Ford parts cost less. Ford service charges are less. Ford tire mileage is thousands of miles greater. And, Ford depreciation is the lowest of any car on the market—bar none.

What are Fords made of? Some people have the idea that the costliest cars are made of "better stuff." It's true that some high-priced cars have costlier upholstery and fittings. What Ford has is so good, both in durability and appearance, that you probably could not tell the difference. You might even prefer it, because of its better design and more pleasing appearance.

Then there's the question of sheet metal. If you were to measure and analyze the sheet metal structure in the most expensive car, you most likely would find it identical in thickness to the corresponding panels in Ford.

After all, then, what is the difference between a Ford and the costliest cars?

In our opinion, the difference is largely a matter of dimensions, weight (and the power required to move it) plus the distinction of owning a car that not so many other people own. The desire for these things is understandable . . . and probably justified for people who are willing to pay the price to satisfy it.

As to comparing Ford with other cars in its price range, by all means do so if you wish. But, as we said before, you'll get a better picture of Ford value by comparing with cars that are most like Fords—those that are priced up to twice as much. In fact, we think you'll quickly begin comparing the other cars with Ford—because the 1953 Ford has really established the New Standard of the American Road.

Congressman, Sixth District

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE SIXTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

I am submitting, through the cooperation of the newspapers of the Sixth District, a questionnaire on important legislation or important issues which this Congress may possibly consider before its adjournment this year. This legislation or these issues may vitally affect you economically, socially, and politically, as well as the future welfare of our nation. You have a right and a duty to express your opinion to your Congressman on these vital issues. I hope you will study these questions and give me your views based upon what you believe is for the best interest of our District, State, and Nation. Although it may be impossible to personally acknowledge receipt of these questionnaires, you can be sure that they will be given careful consideration by your Congressman before he casts a vote on any of these important issues. When answering, please mail to:

State Band Contest At The Capstone

University, Ala.—Alabama high school bands and vocal groups will come to the Capstone Thursday, April 16, to take part in the annual State Band Contest. This year the choral groups are holding their annual contest at the same time. Bands will be rated on their performances in sight reading and rehearsed music. Waverly Lee, Alexander City bandmaster, is in charge of the band contest and Miss Mary McKinnon, Trussville, is in charge of the vocal section of the Alabama Music Educators Association. The University's music department and Extension Division are joint sponsors. More than 600 students are expected to attend the contests.

John [illegible]ewis Died Last Sunday

Funeral services for John Ramsay Lewis, age 67, were held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Montevallo Baptist Church, Rev. Edward Glover officiating. Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery.

Mr. Lewis died at his home in Montevallo early Sunday morning after a long illness.

For many years Mr. Lewis was a prominent and active business man here as dealer-distributor of Coca Cola. He had to give up his active participation in business and civic affairs about 15 years ago on account of failing health. But he kept up his personal interest in community affairs throughout the years of his confinement.

Survivors are three daughters: Mrs. F. P. Givhan and Mrs. Leslie H. Hubbard, Montevallo; Mrs. J. S. Starling, of Lexington, Va. Mrs. Lewis died several months ago.

Johnsons Entertain Graduating Class

Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Johnson, Jr., received the graduating class and faculty of the Thompson High School at tea in their home here on April 11.

Bobbie and Martha Johnson, daughters of the hosts, entertained at the piano during the afternoon.

Spring flowers were arranged effectively throughout the home.

Guests included the Misses Helen Honeycutt, Ann Harless, Barbara Moore, Jo Anne Goodwin, Sherrel Nelson, Peggy Nell Peeples, Billie Jean Robertson, Reba Moore, Eda Nell Jackson, Ruth Naish, Kittye Crumpton, Jo Beth Houze, Louise Hinds, Robin England, Charlene Burley, Flora Jean Shirley, Annie Belle Owens, Mary Margaret Martin, Berdene Jordan, Betty Lou Fortenberry, Clara Cook, Melba Brannon, Carolyn Barton, Reba Bailey, Connie Seagle, Jayne Acton.

Madames Lillian Denson McCormick, Dorothy Spain Martin, Lanette Hawkins Beasley, Barbara Owens Dickerson.

Glenn Wade, Joe Merrell, Louis Ellison, Willie D. Fondren, James McQueen, Duane Holcombe, Crayton Patterson, A. D. Causey, Glen Naish, C. W. Nabors, Dwayne Hardegree, David Butler, James Harris, Teddy Stewart, James Davis, Robert Stagner, Howard Moore, Charles Garrett, Reid Frost, Jr., William Nix.

Madames Mildred Sparks, Clemmie Bradley, Beaulah Whaley, Mildred Davis, Lula Whaley, Lois Dennis, Ulmer Fancher, Eleanor Lewis, Mary Kroell, Jessie Harrison, Madge Butler, H. L. Pool.

The Misses Iris Kirkpatrick, Regina Spratlin, Lavada Harper.

Charles A. Knolwes, Byron Chambliss, B. M. Maddox, Henry Peete, and Earl Douglas.

William R. Young Is In Marines

Parris Island, S. C.—Marine Private First Class William R. Young, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar F. Young, of Route 1, Calera, was recently promoted to his present rank when he graduated from the "boot camp" at this East Coast Marine Corps Recruit Depot.

During the past eight weeks of intensive training, and as a result of field experience and classroom lectures, the new Marine has become well versed in such military subjects as precision drill, first aid, hygiene and field tactics.

In addition to firing the famed Garand Rifle for qualification, he fired other infantry weapons such as the .45 caliber pistol, carbine, and Browning Automatic Rifle. He also witnessed demonstration firing of the machine gun, mortar and flame thrower.

He attended Calera High School, and enlisted in the Marine Corps on 7 January 1953.

General Persons Tells History Of Dixie Division

A colorful and vivid history of the famous 31st Dixie Division during World War II will be presented by its commanding officer, Lt. General John C. Persons, at the sixth annual meeting of the Alabama Historical Association in Mobile, Friday, April 24th.

General Persons, now chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Birmingham, will deliver his address at the association's luncheon meeting Friday noon at the Battle House. Former members of the 31st Dixie Division and their wives and parents have been given a special invitation to attend.

Lions Club Busy With Its Projects During This Month

The Montevallo Lions Club has formulated a program of activity that will feature some of their very laudable objectives during the remainder of the month of April.

As sponsors of the Cancer Crusade in this community the Club will carry out a thorough campaign that will present to everyone an opportunity to give support to this vitally important movement in the nationwide battle against cancer.

Sight conservation in Alabama is one of the "pet projects" of Lions Clubs. In support of this cause the local Lions will put on a "Light-up and Clean-up" campaign. They will raise funds locally for this cause by selling light bulbs and brooms.

Two teams of solicitors will be put in the field to present the Cancer Crusade and sight conservation drive to the people of the community.

Climaxing the month of work toward these serious and important efforts, the Lions will get together with their friends and kick up their heels at a big dance Saturday night, April 25, at the High School. They invite everyone to help out in the causes the yare sponsoring for the public good—and to join them when they cut loose with the fun at their dance.

"School Daze" Two Nights This Week

The students of Montevallo High School will present "School Daze", Friday and Saturday nights, April 17 and 18. The program begins Friday afternoon with a parade through town.

Friday night from 7 to 8 p.m., the school will be open to visitors with several classes having exhibits. Food will be on sale on the tennis courts back of the high school.

At 8 p.m. the main event will start on the football field. It will be a grandstand show made up of acts from each class. There will be a wide variety of shows including Stalin at the Pearly Gates, Spring in Alabama, Baby Show, Minstrel Show, Our World of What, A Pageant of Progress in Riding, a TV Give-Away Show, the Roaring Twenties, and Tumbling and Folk Dancing demonstrations.

The Montevallo High School band will open the program and play several selections between acts.

The Saturday night festivities begin at 7:30 when the high school team takes on Ramsey High of Birmingham in a baseball game. Immediately after the ball game there will be a dance including a floor show in the high school auditorium.

This event replaces the Spotlight Carnival of former years.

Dr. Willena A. Peck, Stow, Massachusetts, is visiting friends in town and at the college. Dr. Peck was resident physician at Alabama College for thirty-seven years.

Best Hope For Ending War

Senator Lister Hill has declared that the agreement for exchange of sick and wounded prisoners provides the best hope that we have yet had for an end to the fighting in Korea.

He said that the agreement challenges us to pursue "with all our might the possibility of ending the war." Hill warned, however, that "we must not relax in the building of our strength." "We do not know why the Kremlin suddenly done an about face and come forth to make peace overtures," Hill said in a statement. He continued:

"This is the big question to which there is yet no clear answer Why does Russia now seem anxious to halt the war in Korea, when six months ago she refused to take the necessary steps to end it? Why has she at the same time eased the pressure in East Germany? Why has she done a number of other things that appear to be peace gestures?"

"The free nations," Hill said, "would like to believe that Malenkov was telling the truth when he spoke of his desire to live in peace with the nations of the free world. But we have long since learned that the masters of the Kremlin are not to be trusted. They have shown us time and again that they have no regard whatever for any promise or commitment.

"Certainly we are not so stupid as to believe that Malenkov would completely junk Stalin's objectives within thirty days after his death. Nor do we forget that the teachings of Marx, Lenin and Stalin, the architects of Communism, like those of Hitler, lead to but one goal—world conquest."

"Whatever Malenkov's motive may be," Hill said, "we must not relax in our vigilance and the building of our strength. We must not forget the terrible price that we paid for our military weakness after two wars. We know that Russia respects armed might and nothing else. Only as we continue to build our strength will we insure the preservation of our freedom and building of the peace of the world."

The fighting in Korea is as fierce as the world has ever known, but it's getting awfully rugged at the Pentagon also.

Women In Politics Praised By Bruce Henderson

"Women were given the right of sufferage reluctantly—lest we destroy something else," former State Senator Bruce Henderson said that last night when he spoke before the annual ladies night of the Fayette Lions Club. "But it is here to stay and with it goes the responsibility to save, to protect, and to live democracy."

"Men generally believe," Henderson said, "That in the crisis that affect morals, sanctity of the home, war and decent peace, freedom and liberty that you will stand like a stone wall. For myself and these men here assembled, let me say 'All honor to you'."

Henderson, sure-shot 1954 candidate for Governor made a strong attack on government immorality, unearned security, plain crookedness and socialism, stating, "I think that women have a real job to do here in Alabama and unless I miss my guess they intend to do it. Normally, they have been inclined to follow along in politics but it now appears that there are conditions which stir them to unusual political activity and that when stirred they make their influence felt in our great democratic elections which are the voice of the people.

"There are signs that make it plain that if it is necessary for them to come out and vote to save the American system of freedom and liberty, then, they will vote. Our governments are drunk with lavish money, deficit spending, reckless and often waste and bold corruption. The conduct of public officials who squander school money, public health money and highway money is a stench in the nostrils of public decency. They take the fruits of our labor in back-breaking taxes, loaded upon the rank and file of our people. They ruthlessly destroy the incentives that have created America. The government is not theirs. It belongs to the people! The things which are wrong in our government are the result of too much power, and too much money. These things go together. In the end they have always destroyed the person and the nation which has them. The danger signals are socialism, war, corruption, immorality and dead religion.

"I believe that the politicians who have been guilty and who try to perpetuate these things will face a stone wall of uncompromising opposition from the gentle but determined ladies of Alabama and America."

D A R Meeting

Mrs. O. B. Cooper and Miss Ollie Tillman were hostesses to David Lindsay Chapter, DAR on Monday evening at the Forbes House. Fourteen members were present.

Mrs. C. L. Gormley's splendid paper on Negro Music was illustrated by recordings, covering a wide range from songs by an ex-slave to several selections by Marian Anderson.

A delightful surprise was the presentation by Mrs. T. H. Napier of a Regent's pin, to be worn by each succeeding Chapter Regent.

During the social hour attractive refreshments were served by the hostesses.

8-State Conference On Child Vision to Be Held Monday

Visual Problems of School Children to be Discussed

AUBURN, Ala., April 15 (Special)—To acquaint educators and professional men with visual problems confronting school children today, an 8-state conference on this subject will be held here Monday, April 20.

This will be the first meeting of its kind ever held in the Southeastern states.

It is sponsored by the Alabama Optometric Association in cooperation with the department of psychology, Alabama Polytechnic Institute and the American Optometric Association.

Teachers, principals, superintendents of education, civic leaders and optometrists are expected from Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Featured speakers will be Dr. Vivienne Ilg, director, visual department, guidance center, National College of Education, Evanston, Ill.; Dr. V. J. Ellerbrock, clinical director, school of optometry, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

Dr. S. Howard Bartley, East Lansing, Mich., formerly national research council fellow at Washington University Medical School and nationally known author-lecturer.

Dr. D. F. Driggs, director of reading laboratory, Alabama Polytechnic Institute; W. H. Jenkins, principal, Decatur High School, Decatur.

Dr. Sherwood McIntyre, professor of psychology, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, will open the conference and preside at the evening session.

Dr. E. C. Overton, Birmingham, will preside at the morning session. He is chairman of the visual problems of school children committee, Alabama Optometric Association.

Dr. R. M. Shackleford, Jr., Jackson, president of the Association, will preside at the afternoon session.

Dr. J. Kelley Robinson, Sylacauga, past president of the association, is chairman of the conference committee, of which Dr. Donald A. Springer, Anniston, and Dr. Overton are members.

Red Cross Blood Program Hindered By Hepatitis

During the past 15 months the Red Cross Blood Program has been seriously handicapped in Shelby County due to the outbreak of Infectious Hepatitis. It has been necessary to delete two of the best blood collection stations from the itinerary of the Bloodmobile first Vincent and then Columbiana.

The Bloodmobile will not collect blood from any one who has had Infectious Hepatitis or from a person who has been in contact with a case during the past 6 months. Extreme care is necessary since the blood is pooled and one infected donor could transmit the infection to a large number of sick or injured people.

Dr. Robbins, until recently in charge of the Blood Bank program, was informed of the situation in Shelby County and immediately stopped the bloodmobile from visiting Vincent and Columbiana.

During the past 6 months only one case of Infectious Hepatitis has been reported from Vincent and community and only 6 from Columbiana and vicinity.

The Director of the Blood Bank program has recently been informed of the apparent subsidence of the outbreak and has, in turn, informed us that, hereafter, Vincent and Columbiana will be included in their list of stations and the Bloodmobile will visit these towns as soon as possible.

Every one who is physically able should watch for the date and donate a pint of blood.

He or she will be given a card which will entitle members of the family to receive blood from the blood bank for a period of 6 consecutive months.

The card will need to be renewed at the end of that period. —E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

For Higher Cotton Yields, Get, Keep Good Stands

Farmers who make high cotton yields, a bale or more per acre, next fall will be those who get and keep a good regular stand of cotton.

O. N. Andrews, API Extension cotton specialist, said the high producers will plant in rows three to three and a half feet apart, use around a bushel of reginned and treated seed or 16 pounds of acid delinted seed per acre, and plant on a firm seedbed.

"Sometimes these farmers may find it necessary to run a harrow or rotary hoe over the row to break the crust so the young seedlings can come through," continued Andrews. "Then when chopping time comes they will leave enough plants to have two to three stalks spaced 12 to 18 inches apart when cultivation is finished."

Since there is no cotton to pick in skips, Andrews suggested that every Alabama grower use the above points to get a regular stand, and higher income next fall.

Alabama Second in U. S. In Increasing Broilers

Growers in this state in 1952 turned out a total of 25,974,000 broilers, a 34 per cent gain over the previous year's 19,419,000. This placed Alabama ahead of every state in the increase in production except Mississippi with its 44 per cent climb.

These official U. S. Department of Agriculture figures placed Alabama and the Southeast far ahead of the national gain in broiler production. In fact, John Weeks, API Extension poultryman, said the Delaware, Maryland, Virginia area being the oldest and most concentrated section had a 17 per cent loss last year. Georgia, the Southeast's biggest broiler section, only gained 20 per cent, while Florida went up 22 per cent.

Sudan Grass Is Urged For More Summer Feed

Will you need some extra grazing in the summer? If your answer is yes, you might take a good look at the possibility of planting Sudan grass, a crop that has been paying off well for Alabama's farmers.

Pointing out that Sudan is one of the most practical grazing crops to plant in spring, J. C. Lowery, API Extension agronomist, listed its advantages as these: Sudan grass can be seeded at any date from cotton planting time until around July 1. It is an excellent crop to plant after winter grazing and legumes harvested for seed; planted on good land and fertilized well with nitrogen, Sudan grass will be ready to graze within a few weeks after seeding during normal seasons; The grazing of Sudan grass can be finished in time late next summer to prepare the land and seed a fall crop.

Lowery said another spring-planted crop that is gaining in popularity because of its grazing value is cattail millet

Why not give both of these crops a trial for extra summer grazing? Lowery asks farmers. He said county agents have full information on growing and using them.

Soil Testing

The local county agent can tell you all about how to have your soil tested at the API Soil Testing Laboratory in Auburn. The laboratory will tell you whether your soil needs lime and whether it is low, medium, or high in phosphorous and potash. With this information, you can do a wiser, more efficient job of fertilizing your crops.

Dates For Dairymen

Three big days for Alabama dairymen to remember are Saturday, May 2, when the Alabama Jersey Heifer Sale is to be held in Crampton Bowl in Montgomery; Wednesday, May 6, date of the Jersey Field Day at Dutch Bend Farms near Autaugaville in Autauga County, and Monday, May 11, when the Alabama Guernsey Club Sale is scheduled for Crampton Bowl in Montgomery.

Corn For Poultry

Make plans now to grow at least one bushel of corn for each pullet that will go into the laying house next fall.

The State Department of Education, in an effort to promote a sound program of physical education, health, and recreation, seeks to cooperate with the personnel of all state and local departments of education, public health, teacher institutions, and children and youth serving community agencies.

Health is the first of the seven Cardinal Principles of Education and, therefore, is required of every pupil. Along with other opportunities in the curriculum, physical education provides a wealth of experiences that help youth to develop and maintain: (1) maximum physical efficiency, sound body, strength, endurance, quick reaction, speed, sense of balance, and good posture; (2) useful skills in walking, dodging, guaging moving objects, and lifting, all of which are essential to living safely and successfully; (3) skills in swimming, team sports, and rhythms which contribute to physical and social efficiency at each stage of life of the pupil. A socially mature person enjoys, contributes to, and is at ease in a variety of social situations.

The school health program is concerned with (1) health services such as health examinations and follow-ups to assure correction of remediable defects, (2) healthful school environment including proper and adequate sanitation, heating, lighting, ventilation, seating, water supply, toilets, hand-washing facilities, and play spaces, (3) healthful school living involving wholesome human relationships, balanced program of work, physical activity, relaxation, rest, and recreation, and (4) health instruction in the teaching of scientific facts and influencing sound health practices.

Recreational activities including games, sports, music, social activities, drama, art, crafts, hobbies, and recreational reading are stressed throughout the school curriculum. Boys and girls who find joy in such activities will not be tempted to break the law to find outlets for their urges and energies.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Judge L. C. Walker
Probate Judge
Columbiana, Alabama

I would like to express my sincere sympathy to the people of Shelby County affected by the tornado Saturday afternoon. I have been in constant touch with the Red Cross office here in Washington since I received the news of this disaster. I understand that four Red Cross Workers have already been sent to Shelby County and I have been notified by the Red Cross Office here in Washington that a $250,000 preliminary allocation has already been made by them for relief work in the affected areas in the states of Alabama, Georgia, and Arkansas. I want you and the people of Shelby County to know that I am ready and anxious to be of service and assistance in any way possible.

Armistead I. Selden, Jr. M. C.

My recent visit to the District during the Easter holidays was a brief but most enjoyable one. Although I saw and talked primarily with only those whom I was fortunate enough to meet on the streets. I did have the pleasure of visiting every county in the District. During my short visit, I was able to give a radio report covering some of my activities as your Representative. This report was broadcast by the radio stations in Tuscaloosa, the station in Northport, and the stations in Marion, Clanton, and Demopolis. It was also my privilege to address those attending the dedication ceremonies for McKenzie Courts, the new 340 unit housing development in Tuscaloosa. Before returning to Washington by plane on the night of April 13, I joined with Congressman Joe Evins of Tennessee, and Mr. Karl Standish, Chief Clerk of the Committee on Veterans Affairs, in an inspection of the Tuscaloosa Veterans Administration Hospital.

How A Bill Is Passed

In an earlier column, I promised to outline the steps which must be followed in the enactment of a law by the United States Congress. Although the procedure may seem to be a complex and lengthy one, I thought you might be interested in a brief outline of the steps involved in the passage of a bill. After reading this outline, I am sure you will better understand why it often takes months to complete action on a particular bill. The various steps follow:

1. A member of the House introduces a bill (in typewritten form) by dropping it in a box, known as the "hopper", which is located on the Clerk's desk in the House Chamber.

2. The bill is read by the House Clerk (by title only) and is then inspected by the Parliamentarian and Deputy Clerk, who assist the Speaker in designating the Committee to which the bill it to be referred for study. The bill is given a number by the Clerk and Parliamentarian and is then printed.

3. The bill is received by the House Committee which was designated by the Speaker to study the bill.

4. The Chief Clerk of the Committee, at the direction of the Committee Chairman, refers the bill to one of the Committee's subcommittees.

5. The subcommittee reports to the full Committee in writing its findings and recommendations after having had hearings, either in public or executive, or both.

6. The full Committee accepts the subcommittee's report with amendments or changes. Sometimes hearings are held by the full Committee before taking final action.

7. If the bill is reported favorably, it is put on a House Calendar to await its turn for consideration, unless it is an emergency measure or is unusually important. In that case, the House Rules Committee has the power to push it ahead of other bills already on file.

8. After reaching the floor of the House, the measure is given a second reading, in full. Congressmen study printed copies of it, and friends and foes speak for or against it, debate being limited. At this stage, the bill may be amended or returned to the Committee for revision before a vote is taken. If the majority votes for the bill, it then comes up for third reading (by title only) and another vote is taken.

9. The bill is then passed or defeated either by a voice vote, a Teller's vote, or by a yea or nay (roll call) vote.

10. The bill, upon being passed by the House, becomes an Act and, after it is enrolled and certified by the Speaker and Clerk of the House, it is then referred and sent to the Senate.

11. A procedure almost identical to that in the House then takes place in the Senate.

12. If there are material amendments or changes in the Act after it is passed by the Senate, it is then referred by the Senate (or vice versa) to a Conference Committee, designated by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, respectively. Such a Conference Committee generally consists of members from each Congressional body who are members of the particular Congressional Committee having reported the bill to the Floor.

13. When a Conference Committee reports it has reached an agreement, the House and Senate generally approve the Conference Committee Report.

14. When the Act is thus passed by the House and Senate, it is enrolled as being so passed and is sent to the President of the United States.

15. The President may then make this Act a law by approving it with his signature. If the President does not wish this Act to become a law, he can veto it. When he does so, he returns the bill to the House in which it originated, with a message stating that he disapproves and giving his reasons therefor. If both the House and Senate on a roll call (as required under the Constitution) vote by a two-thirds majority to override the veto, then the Act is passed over the President's veto and it becomes a law within the period specified in the Act.

16. The Act, if it becomes law, is then printed in the United States Statutes at Large.

Dr. Willena Peck Guest Of Honor

Saturday afternoon, April 18, Dr. Willena Peck was the guest of honor at a tea given by Miss Josephine Eddy, Miss Hallie Farmer, Miss Laura Hadley, and Miss Dawn Kennedy at Reynolds Hall from three to six. From three to four, the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Willis Lyman, Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, Misses Abi Russell, Eloise Meroney, Mary Larkin, Lorraine Pierson, Mrs. Walter Trumbauer, Miss Anabeth Cash, Mrs. Virginia Barnes, Mrs. Louise Duncan, and Mrs. Eugene Reynolds.

From four to five, the assistants were Misses Ellen Haven Gould, Katherine Vickery, Mary Decker, Lorraine Peter, Ethel Harris, Margaret McCall, Mrs. Frank Morgan, the Misses Vinnie Lee Walker, Jean Gibbons, Mrs. Maxine Couch Davis, Miss Jeanette Niven, Mrs. Milton Orr, Sr. and Mrs. Glennie Nybeck.

From five to six, the assistants were the Misses Lois Ackerley, Ollie Tillman, Mrs. Ziolkowski, the Misses Lelah Brownfield, Ethel Bickham, Anne Eastman, Mrs. C. L. Gormley, Mrs. Mary Whatley, the Misses Ethel Marshall, Sarah Puryear, Mrs. A. C. Anderson, Mrs. Rosalie Marshall, and Miss Eloise Lee.

During the afternoon, Mrs. E. H. Wills and Mrs. T. H. Napier were asked to sit with Dr. Peck.

Reynolds Hall was decorated with beautiful iris given by Mrs. F. E. Lund and with spring flowers. Cake and mints carried out the spring colors.

Miss Sadie Ware, a former member of the Elementary School faculty came over from Jacksonville for the event and Miss Elizabeth Heap, a former member of the Home Economics Staff who was in town as a guest of Miss Mamie Braswell was also there.

Dr. Evans Opens Office Here

The opening of an office for Chiropractic practice has been set up in Montevallo by Dr. Willard Evans, formerly of Anniston.

Dr. Evans completed four years of professional training in October, 1952, at Carver Chiropractic College, Oklahoma City, Okla., where he was president of his senior class, captain of the baseball and basketball teams, a member of the Student Council and president of Gamma Alpha Rho social fraternity.

Recent Shelby County visitors to our office included Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Sharp, Miss Susan Sharp, and Mr. Richard Powers, all of Montevallo.

Miss Florence Daly Is Miss FHA For Shelby County

On Wednesday evening, April 15, the Siluria FHA-FFA chapters were hosts at the spring jamboree. Each chapter in the county was well represented by a large number of members.

The program began with a beauty contest to select the county Miss FHA from the four chapters represented. The contestants for the title were the winners in their local chapters: Mrs. Barbara Dickerson, Thompson High School; Barbara Butler of Vincent High, Betty Ruth Watts of Shelby County High and Florence Daly of Montevallo. The judges were Miss Villa Bentley of Columbiana, Mrs. Orville Ball of Vincent, Miss Dorothy Groves of Montevallo and Mrs. Ann Barton of Siluria.

Following the Miss FHA contest, the FFA boys of Thompson High presented a "beauty contest," showing the latest trends in feminine fashions.

During the group meetings the FFA boys discussed the year's activities, while the Future Homemakers enjoyed a song fest led by the song leaders of the Siluria FHA chapter.

For the recreational period the entire group met in the Thompson auditorium for dancing. The theme of the decorations, "April Showers," was emphasized by a giant colorful umbrella which hung from the ceiling, and with its festoons of multi-colored streamers made a lovely setting for the dancing.

During the dance session it was announced that Florence Daly of Montevallo was selected as Miss Shelby County FHA. The points on which the contestants were judged were poise, personality, beauty, and becoming-dress. Miss Daly will represent Shelby County in the selection of the district Miss FHA at the state meeting in June.

The evening's activities ended after everyone enjoyed cookies and lemonade which were served in the school cafeteria by the home economics girls of Thompson High School.

Den One of the Cub Scouts met at the home of Mrs. Minnie Lou Warnke April 18. Members present were Lee Barclay, Ricky Miller, Jimmy Wyatt and Charles Warnke, Mrs. Wyatt and Warnke.

The Red Cross Will Give Aid In Storm Damage

Mr. James T. McDow, Chapter Chairman of the American Red Cross and Mr. Karl Harrison, Disaster Chairman, report that the local staff of the Shelby County Chapter with the aid of volunteers have completed their survey of the areas of the county which were hit by the tornado late Saturday evening. They have found that approximately 90 families were affected. Two people were killed and approximately 15 injured, 3 are hospitalized. All emergency needs for food and shelter have been met and the injured are receiving medical care.

Representatives of the Southeastern Area Headquarters of the American Red Cross have arrived to help the local chapter in meeting the needs of the disaster victims. Disaster Area Headquarters are being set up in the old Courthouse building in Columbiana and anyone having a disaster caused need which he cannot meet without hardship should make application for rehabilitation assistance. Assistance is given on the basis of need, not less. It is not like an insurance in that it does not replace loss but rather helps people meet their disaster caused needs which they can not meet through their own resources of cash, credit, insurance, and earnings. It is a gift of the American people and not a loan. Another example of the Red Cross philosophy of neighbor helping neighbor.

A Red Cross worker will visit the homes of every applicant to plan with the family in the solution of the disaster created problems. Applications can be made by mail it if is not possible to come into the office in Columbiana.

So far the areas reporting storm damage to this office have been the following: Siluria, Alabaster, Genery's Gap, Byersville, Longview, and in the Columbiana area Joiner Town, Cates Crossing and the Kingdom community.

Kappa Delta Pi Initiation Held

Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity at Alabama College recently held initiation ceremonies for the following students: seniors, Peggy Gross, Scottsboro; Nelmo Williams, Childersburg; Eula Pearl Evers, Atmore.

Juniors, Lucy Underwood, Russellville; Alice Jane White, Bessemre; Geraldine Taylor, Sylacauga; June Summerlin, Ashland; Mary Frances Palmer, Carson; Madeline Paepcke, Tuscaloosa; Dorothy McRae, Calera; Gale Little, Alexander City; Hazel Junkin, Gordo; Bobbye Raye Jones, Georgiana; Gayle Houston, Fayette.

Miss Ruth Stovall, State Supervisor of Home Economics and an Alabama College Alumna, was made an honorary member due to her outstanding contribution to the state in her field of work .

Tar usually can be removed from washable fabrics by rubbing lard over the spot and scraping it off as it becomes discolored. More lard is added and scraped off until the tar is out. After this, the cloth is washed in heavy suds to cleanse it of lard.

CHEVROLET

MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

Recently published official registration figures for the last full year show that truck users in every single State bought more Chevrolets than any other make!

It is difficult to imagine more convincing proof of Chevrolet's superiority, for such clear-cut and overwhelming preference can lead to but one conclusion:

Chevrolet trucks must be better, must enjoy solid advantages over other trucks. Such preference must rest on a firm foundation of good, sound value. And, of course, it does—as owners of Chevrolet trucks can testify.

So before you buy any truck, see how much more Chevrolet trucks offer you. Stop in and see us soon. Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.

Telephone Crews Repair Damage

Tornadic winds sweeping into Alabama Saturday afternoon damaged long distance telephone lines and interrupted the central part of the State. Telephone Company crews were on the job repairing damage minutes after winds abated in Siluria, Columbiana, Centreville and West Blocton. Approximately 450 men were at work in these areas and throughout the Tuscaloosa, Selma and Opelika storm area on round-the-clock schedules.

All long distance circuits were restored to service by 11 a.m., Sunday, Mr. S. C. Stutts, Bessemer Camp Manager, said. Most local services put out by the storms were restored by Tuesday night. Total damage to telephone company plant by the heavy winds was around $200,000.

Approximately 300 telephones were out of service in the Siluria area. 3,500 feet of toll cable in the Buck Creek Cotton Mill section of the Siluria exchange was completely destroyed. Restoration of local service was completed by Tuesday night. Centreville, Brent and West Blocton were without outside communications when the winds made a 7 pole break in the Siluria-Centreville toll line and heavily damaged long distance circuits. These circuits were back in service Sunday afternoon. About 200 telephones were out of service in Columbiana due to the damaged cables, however, most of these telephones were back in service Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Stutts said standardized material and practices made it possible for the company to shift men where needed with the result that all long distance restored by noon Sunday, and about 50 per cent of local service was restored by that time. All electrical power to the Siluria office was off until about 11 p.m. Saturday night. To sustain existing service a portable power unit was installed.

District Meeting Of Home Clubs

Fifteen home demonstration club members of Shelby County will make interesting history next week when they go to Tuscaloosa Thursday, April 30, for their District IV council meeting. They will be joined in the session by about 800 women from 16 other counties of the district.

Marian Cotney, home demonstration agent, said those to represent the county will include Mrs. F. E. Williams, Mrs. Nevins, Mrs. J. M. Denson, Mrs. J. F. Wyatt, Mrs. E. A. Turner, Mrs. L. L. Barton, Mrs. J. Frank Baker, Iris Helen Martin, Betty McClure and others.

Among those scheduled to roll out the welcome mat to the group are Dr. Neige Todhunter, dean of the School of Home Economics at the University of Alabama, and Mrs. Jack Brewer of Northport, president of the Tuscaloosa County H D Club Council.

According to Mrs. Hoke Green of Wehadkee, district H D director, Tuscaloosa will swing wide her doors for this special event. The Randolph County farm lady has announced that the morning session will start with group singing led by Dr. Alton O'Steen, head of the Department of Music at the University. Mrs. Paul Hallmark of Palmerdale will be the accompanist. The devotional will be given by Mrs. J. Frank Baker of Montevallo, Rt. 1, past president of the Alabama Council of H D Clubs.

It's Time NOW to Buy ELECTRIC ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS

Before Buying Remember this Word of

CAUTION

Almost all makes of electric room air conditioners are good products and will do what the manufacturers claim for them

IF

they are operated at the voltage specified on their name-plates. If, however, the voltage at the convenience outlet into which you expect to plug them is as much as 10 per cent lower than the voltage on the name-plate of the appliance, they won't give the satisfactory service you have a right to expect from them.

IF

the wires in your home are too small, the amount of electricity reaching the appliance will be too little for satisfactory operation of the appliance. Insufficient wiring is not an unusual situation in many homes. When they were built the builders didn't anticipate the enormous development and popularity of electric home comfort and labor saving devices. Although the wiring may have seemed adequate at the time they were built, some of the wiring in most homes is too light to permit electricity to reach the appliance at normal operating voltage.

There Is Only One Way to Correct This

to have your wiring checked by a qualified person. He can tell you if the wires leading to the convenience outlet from which you expect to use the appliance are large enough to carry enough electricity to operate the appliance satisfactorily.

After you have determined that the voltage at the convenience outlet is too low to permit satisfactory operation of your room air conditioner or other appliance of the "plug-in" type, the best thing to do is to have an electrician put in another set of wires for this appliance. He can install wires heavy enough so that at a later date, you can use other appliances from these same wires. This will be economy for you in the long run, and will contribute much to the pleasure you expect to get from the use of these electrical appliances.

It is also desirable for you to advise our manager in your town if you are going to buy a room air conditioner. It may be necessary for us to make adjustments in the supply of power to your place. We will appreciate it if you will give us as much advance notice as possible and will be glad to help you get maximum use and pleasure from your new appliances.

Southern District Health Meeting

The Southern District of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation held its twenty-first annual convention in St. Petersburg, Fla., on April 8-10, 1953. The Southern District represents the thirteen states of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia and has over 300 professional members in the areas of health, physical education and recreation.

Of the new officers elected at this meeting, to serve during the 1953-54 term, the following is from your area: Miss Sue Baughn, Alabama College, Summarizer of the Student Section.

The next meeting of the Association will be held in Biloxi, Mississippi, February 24-26, 1954.

NEW LOOK FOR CONSERVATION OFFICIALS.—Enforcement officers of the State Conservation Department donned uniforms this week for the first time in the history of conservation in Alabama. The uniforms were distributed for use by game wardens, seafoods officers, park rangers and officials after they had completed an intensive three-week conservation training school at Montgomery. The picture above shows game warden Joe Crook of Clayton, wearing the new forest green winter uniform.

Gulf States Buys Shelby Iron Co.

The Gulf States Paper Corp. of Tuscaloosa now owns the majority of the stock of the Shelby Iron Co., which controls real estate in Shelby, Chilton, and Jefferson Counties.

The purchase of the stock was announced yesterday by A. B. Bush Jr., paper company president, and H. H. Maschmeyer, vice president, both of Mobile.

Assets of the 112-year-old iron company includes 35,000 acres of timberland in Shelby and Chilton Counties and an office building in Birmingham.

The Shelby Iron Co. was founded in 1841 by Horace Ware and was one of the biggest iron producers for the Confederacy during the Civil War. During the past 20 years, the firm has been growing timber on its land.

Mr. Bush said the paper company was interested in buying the remainder of the stock in the iron company.

NOTICE

BPW Meeting Tuesday Evening

State president of Business and Professional Women, Mrs. Helen K. Stephens of Birmingham, was a special guest at the regular monthly meeting of the Montevallo BPW on Tuesday evening.

Discussing the organization's state wide program, Mrs. Stephens urged that as many members as possible attend the state meeting in Mobile May 15-17. "A club for every county" is BPW's slogan in its drive to organize new clubs throughout Alabama.

Following Mrs. Stephens' talk, a program on legislation was heard. Dr. Hallie Farmer discussed reasons why poll tax should be repealed. She encouraged members not to write but to see senators and representatives in person before the Legislature meets in May.

Dr. Farmer stated that the following organizations are supporting the poll tax repeal: American Association of Universities, Association of Women Lawyers, League of Young Democrats, Federation of Women's Clubs, CIO, AF of L, and the League of Women Voters.

A social hour followed the program.

The diet of the early Alabama settlers was about the same from day to day and from family to family. Nobody starved, but the fare was coarse and there was no attempt at a balanced diet. A variety of meat was always plentiful. The forests were filled with such wild game as bear, deer, turkey, and squirrel. Soon there were hogs and cattle growing wild in the woods. Men killed and ate these without bothering to find who owned them.

Know Your Schools

by W. J. Terry

STATE SUPERINTENDENT

The staff of the Division of Elementary Education is primarily concerned with the development of instructional leadership for local schools. It offers assistance at the local level in the following areas: general instruction; health education, physical education, and recreation; music education; ecquisition, care, and use of books and other instructional materials; the school attendance and community relationships; adult education; resource-use education; and temperance education.

During the past year the effectiveness of in-service education programs has continued to improve. As teachers, supervisors, and administrators have gained experience in initiating and developing programs designed to bring about professional improvement, they have perfected better techniques for cooperative planning, attacking problems, and evaluating activities. In increasing numbers, teachers are attempting to solve their problems of instruction by calling for the help of those who have special competencies in the several problem areas. Greater use is being made of professional literature, and consultants are being used to better advantage. Teachers are becoming increasingly concerned with better ways of teaching, and are meeting wtih success in their efforts to work out ways of carrying on more effective programs of education.

Corn Enrichment

Enrichment means that extra food values in the form of vitamins and minerals are added to cornmeal and grits, which are a big part of the diet of Southern families.

Two recent studies have shown that a large part of the diet of Southern farm families consists of cornmeal and other grain products. About one-third of the total calorie value of the day's diet is represented by this food group, yet only about one-half of these corn products is enriched.

In 1946 a law was passed in Alabama requiring that all bread, bolted cornmeal, flour, and grits sold in Alabama be enriched with minerals in the form of calcium and iron and with the vitamins thiamin, riboflavin, and niacin.

Why do we need a new corn enrichment law?

The 1946 law was good as far as it went. However a large number of Alabama people eat home grown cornmeal and grits that are ground in small commercial mills. Many of these mills are not fitted with facilities for enrichment. The small miller can add an inexpensive attachment to the mill that will feed the vitamins and minerals into the meal as it is being ground. This mixture does not change the color, taste or cooking quality of the grits.

The Alabama Home Economics Association is sponsoring an educational program on enrichment legislation. An amendment is to be introduced in the coming session of the legislature to require the enrichment of all grits and cornmeal in Alabama with thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, calcium, and iron. This enrichment legislation is important to the health of Alabama families and we should all cooperate in working for its passage. — Ramona House, Student Teacher, Montevallo High School.

High School Home Ec Open House

The Home Economics Department of Montevallo High School held open house from seven to eight o'clock on Friday night, April 17, as a part of the "School Daze" program.

Guests were greeted at the door by Florence Daly who was recently chosen Shelby County's Miss FHA. Approximately 100 persons signed the guest book during the evening.

The visitors were invited to see displays of class and home experiences in which the home economics pupils are currently engaged. The Home Economics I foods class had arranged a table with a variety of cookies they had made. Posters showed types and characteristics of good cookies. The Home Economics II foods pupils showed examples of their class work on preparation of salads. The Home Economics III foods pupils displayed attractive breads, pastries, and cakes which they had made.

In the clothing laboratory there were exhibits of Spring garments which the girls had made as class and home experiences. The fundamentals of clothing construction processes were emphasized in exhibits of illustrative materials and desirable sewing equipment. The theme of one exhibit was on choosing colors for the individual. A dressing table and a variety of clothes closet accessories composed the exhibit by the housing class.

To wash vegetables and be sure that dirt is rinsed from them thoroughly, set an inverted wire dish rack in the sink and lay the vegetables on top. Then allow water from the faucet to run over them. A spray attachment helps to do a better job.

About July 1, 1540, Desoto and his men entered the village of Costa, in the present Cherokee County. The Indians wanted to be friendly, but the Spaniards were haughty and thought all Indians were inferior to white men. The greedy Spaniards immediately began to plunder and steal. Fighting soon followed.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

An assignment to photograph conservation crops and practices throughout the North Central Soil Conservation District is giving us a chance to study results being obtained with new crops and methods. First counties visited were Chilton and Bibb.

J. N. Dennis had cows grazing button clover a foot or more deep where it has volunteered for several years at Clanton.

At Thorsby R. O. Williams is using button clover and Chapel Hill Rescue grass together.

O. G. Fields has a fine 30-acre field of Chapel Hill Rescue grass near Clanton, and numerous people were using this grass on sericea, alone, or with various clovers.

In Bibb, W. T. Reeves has a six foot tall, very dense multiflora rose hedge three years old on his farm in the Six Mile community near Centreville on Highway 25. Also Reeves uses a one year rotation of grain sorghum and reseeding crimson clover, a long time rotation of sericea and cotton, kudzu for hay, and sodded waterways to control erosion.

C. W. Litton, Centreville, was having a 100 foot spillway dug around the end of his SCS approved 13 foot tall dam.

L. P. Young at Brent had 4 acres in one meadow outlet sodded in Ky. 31 fescue to control water from a large terraced watershed.

Ed Hubbard, Centreville, Rt. 1, is having great success with grandiflora vetch.

More reports from other counties next week.

A A U W Party

RFC Declares Disaster Areas

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation announces the following Alabama Counties have been declared disaster areas within the meaning of the RFC Act on account of the April 18 tornado: Russell County including Phenix City, Lee County including the City of Auburn, Counties of Coosa, Shelby, Talladega, Tallapoosa, and Tuscaloosa. The Birmingham Agency is authorized to accept applications for disaster loans and open such field offices as are deemed advisable by the Manager. Fred H. Foy, Manager of the Birmingham Agency, advises that field offices will be opened at Phenix City, Alabama on Friday, April 24, with Examiner Norman E. Woodall in charge. This office will be located at either the City Hall or at the Red Cross office. Another field office will be opened at Auburn, Alabama on Friday, April 24, with Examiner A. B. Pugh in charge. The Red Cross, the Mayor of Auburn, and Mr. Fred Duran, President of the First National Bank of Auburn and a member of the RFC State Advisory Committee, will assist Mr. Pugh in obtaining office space. Any people desiring to file applications for a loan in Tallapoosa County should contact Mr. Pugh in Auburn.

Applicants from the counties of Coosa, Shelby, Talladega, and Tuscaloosa should contact the Birmingham Loan Agency which is located at 2300 Comer Building.

Farmers and stockmen desiring to apply for disaster loans should contact the Farmers Home Administration office in or nearest the disaster area. The main office of the Farmers Home Administration is located in Montgomery.

Recipe of the Week
BY MARY LEE TAYLOR

Dinner Pork Chops

No. 2 can whole kernel corn
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
few grains pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika (can omit)
4 pork chops
2 tablespoons shortening
¾ cup condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup Pet Milk

Drain corn, saving liquid. Measure ½ cup liquid. Mix flour, salt, pepper and paprika. Roll pork chops in flour mixture. Brown slowly on both sides in hot shortening. Stir any left-over flour into fat remaining in pan. Stir in mixture of soup and corn liquid. Cover; cook over very low heat 30 minutes. Turn chops now and then. Remove chops to warm platter. Add drained corn and milk to sauce in pan. Cook slowly, stirring until thoroughly heated. Serve with the chops. Makes 4 servings.

Contributions to Red Cross

The Shelby County Red Cross Fund Drive for 1953 has reached approximately 65 per cent of its $4,500 quota, according to a report by J. T. McDow, Shelby County Chapter Chairman, from Elvin Hill, 1953 Red Cross Fund Drive Chairman for Shelby County. Mr. Hill's report states approximately $3,000 has been turned in or reported by the various community chairmen. These chairmen have reported as follows:

| Community | Chairman | Reported |
|---|---|---|
| Alabaster | Mrs. George Scott, Jr. | $276.00 |
| Columbiana | Conrad Fowler | 618.53 |
| Montevallo | Eddie Watson | 500.00 |
| Harpersville | Mrs. Leonard Wyatt | 25.00 |
| Calera | Eddie Downs | 312.00 |
| Helena | Mrs. Rual Stark | 50.00 |
| Keystone | Mrs. M. W. Hammond | 137.25 |
| Wilton | Miss Edith Gregory | 53.50 |
| Shelby | Mrs. Crick and Mrs. Mobley | 26.00 |
| Westover | Mrs. L. H. Cobb | 5.00 |
| Wilsonville | Mrs. J. L. Batson | 25.05 |
| Pelham | Mrs. Percy Jones | 37.54 |
| Saginaw | Mrs. Wilson Durden | 14.00 |
| Vincent, Calcis | Mrs. Frank Wyatt | 248.55 |
| Indian Springs | School | 74.94 |
| Special | Contributions | 530.00 |

"I would like to congratulate Mr. Hill, community chairmen, and every worker who has participated in this 1953 fund drive, for their efforts thus far," stated Mr. McDow, "and I would like to urge everyone who has not contributed to this 1953 fund campaign to contact the workers in their community and give generously. Let's put Shelby County over the top in its quota."

Pontiac

A GENERAL MOTORS MASTERPIECE

A Very Proud Car—At A Very Modest Price!

According to Webster, one of the important meanings of the word proud is this: "Worthy of admiration; deserving praise."

That definition fits the 1953 Pontiac like a glove. Pontiac's distinctive Silver-Streak beauty is certainly worthy of admiration—and gets plenty of it everywhere.

And when you sit behind the wheel and feel the effortless surge from Pontiac's famous power plant you'll know that you're driving a mighty proud performer.

As a matter of fact, the only modest thing about a Pontiac is its price—for this wonderful car which gives you the engineering quality and the best features of the costliest cars is priced just above the very lowest!

And when you're figuring price, be sure to remember Pontiac's remarkable resale value—the sure test of long-lasting quality. Why not come in and see how easily you, too, can become the proud owner of a new Pontiac?

Driving School Sponsored by BPW In Montevallo

A group of public-spirited citizens are giving Montevallo an expensive educational program that New York State hopes to incorporate in all its schools next year. For a minimum cost the people of our town may participate in the American Automobile Association's driving school program. In other cities in the United States this instruction costs about sixty dollars per course.

The Business and Professional Women's civic improvement committee, with Mrs. Mary Hood as chairman, initiated the driving school.

After making the necessary arrangements with AAA a new Chevrolet was secured from Montevallo Motor Co. free of charge. Later the automobile was equipped with dual control to enable driving instruction.

Many problems confronted the B & PW. An instructor had to be hired and trained especially for this job. Funds had to be raised for the maintenance, operation and insurance of the car. Since classroom lectures were to be a part of the program, training books and teaching materials had to be purchased.

High school and college students, faculty, and local citizens enrolled in the course, and support came from all these groups as well. A college professor, dentist, physician, lumberman, banker, and a service station and taxi operator made contributions.

Mr. Jack Albright has regularly donated gas to the school all year.

Dr. Walter H. Trumbauer, Dr. M. L. Orr, Jr., Dr. Leslie Hubbard, Mr. J. A. Brown, and Mr. J. P. Kelly all made cash donations.

Although B & PW have instituted the driving school, other organizations in town have assisted. The Montevallo Study Club, Studiosis, donated money to help defray insurance costs. Those taking the courses also pay a small fee to defray expenses.

Mr. Sidney Seegers, teacher of mathematics at Montevallo High School, took special courses at the University of Alabama, and became driving instructor when the school was opened in September, 1952.

Under the present plan a new car will be supplied every year, the old car being turned back to the dealer. Driving instructions will be offered this summer as well as during the regular school term.

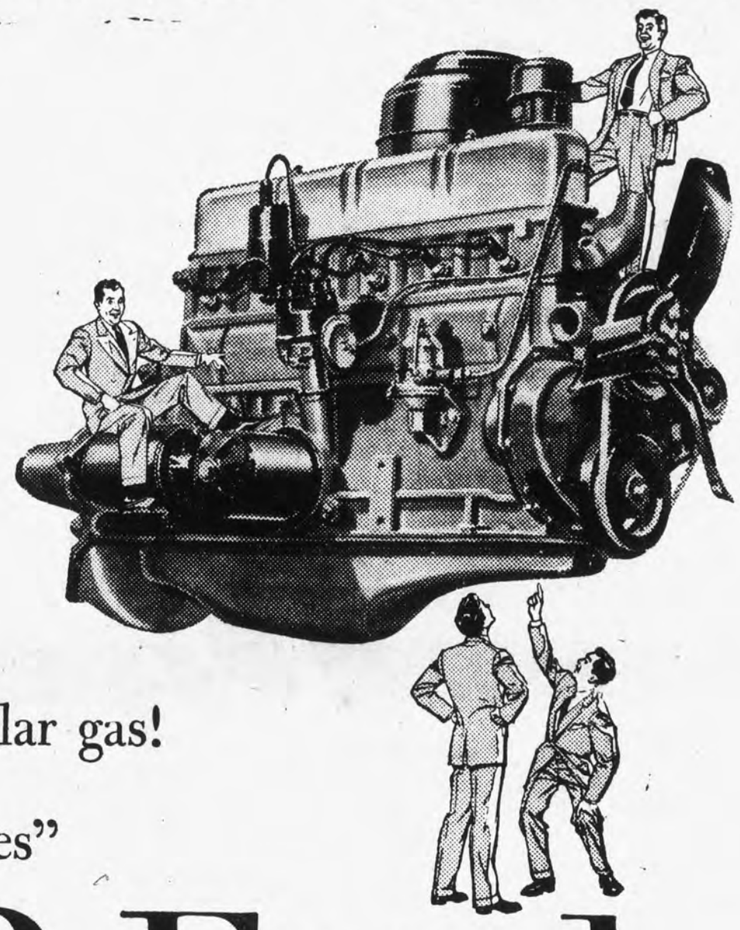

It is the hope of the B & PW, states Mrs. Ruth Ratliff, president, that by next September the driving school will be self-supporting. When this occurs the Montevallo High School will take complete charge of the program.

Calera Gets Million-Dollar Plant Of American Brake Shoe Company

Location is 15-Acre Site Near Crossing Of Southern Railway and Highway 31

Official announcement has been made for publication by officials of the American Brake Shoe Comppany to the effect that the company has acquired property in Calera for the construction of a million-dollar plant there. The site purchased is about fifteen acres located immediately north and west of the intersection of the Southern Railway and Highway 31, right in the center of the Town of Calera.

It is anticipated by the company that the plant will cost about one million dollars and will give employment to between one hundred and two hundred people. The company expresses the hope that those to be employed in the plant will be people of the local community.

Following is the official statement that was released for publication by representatives of American Brake Shoe Company:

"The American Brake Shoe Company is happy to announce that it has acquired property in Calera which lies just north of the Southern Railroad tracks and west of Highway 31 and plans for the construction of a modern plant are now completed and the company expects to begin construction of this plant as soon as possible. It is anticipated the plant will cost something in the neighborhood of one million dollars and will give employment to between one hundred and two hundred people. It is hoped that most of those to be employed will come from this community. The company would like to express its great appreciation to the city officials and other citizens of Calera who have been more than gracious in their cooperation in working out the details for this project. Without the great assistance and fine spirit of cooperation that has been shown the project would not have been possible. We expect to become a part of this community and expect the company as well as our employees to take part in the civic and business activities of Calera and of Shelby County. We believe it will be of mutual advantage to Calera, Shelby County, its citizens and to the American Brake Shoe Company, for this plant to be located here. We look forward to further cooperation and assistance of the people in this area and we assure them of our cooperation with them."

Birthday Party On Television

Alan Barclay celebrated his fifth birthday April 30, with a party on television. He, and six little friends appeared on the program with Miss Ruth on Wonder Stories, Channel 6, Birmingham. Tatum's Bakery furnished the birthday cake. Miss Ruth interviewed each child and read a Wonder Story.

Guests were: Alan Barclay, Betty Jane Barclay, Barbara Anne Barclay, Lee Barclay, Jr., Ricky Powers, Philip Hubbard and Diana Wilson, all of Montevallo.

Nation To Honor War Dead On Poppy Day

Poppy Day will be observed in Montevallo and throughout most of the nation on May 23, the Saturday before Memorial Day, it has been announced by Mrs. Ard Chambers, Poppy Chairman of the Hendrick-Hudson Post 96 Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

On that day everyone in the city will be asked to wear a memorial poppy in honor of the dead of the two World Wars and the Korean conflict.

Crepe paper poppies, made by disabled veterans of the three wars will be distributed on the streets throughout the day by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary and cooperating groups. The poppies will be replicas of the wild poppies which grow "between the cresses, row on row," in the World War I battle cemeteries in France and Flanders, thus becoming the memorial flower for America's war dead.

Disabled veterans who make the poppies are the only persons paid for their work in the American Legion Auxiliary's poppy program, according to Mrs. Vista Scott, local Auxiliary President. The women who distribute the poppies are all unpaid volunteers. Promotion work is handled by volunteer committees and by members of the state and national headquarters staffs in addition to their regular duties.

Belle Rogan Circle

The Belle Rogan Circle of the Presbyterian Church held their regular monthly meeting with Mrs. James A. Wyatt.

Miss Eva Golson, guest speaker, presented a most interesting and informative historical background for the study of St. Mark.

Other visitors at the meeting were Mrs. Thiemonge and Mrs. Flenn's mother, Mrs. W. R. Seaver, of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

After the business meeting and Bible lesson a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Campus Convocation At Alabama College

Dr. Henry Goodard Leach, lecturer, author, educator and editor will be principal speaker at Alabama College's 11:00 convocation program, Tuesday, May 5, in Palmer Hall.

Considered to have done more to promote international education between the Scandinavian countries and the United States than any other living person, Dr. Leach will speak on Scandinavian culture. Although born in this country he is perhaps the top authority on the civilization and culture of Scandinavia which he has studied constantly since his school days at Groton and later at Harvard where he received his doctorate.

As editor of The Forum and The Century magazines, Dr. Leach distinguished himself by instituting a series of two or three sided debates, in print and on vital public questions. This feature attracted such attention that the circulation on his combined magazine jumped from 3,000 to 90,000.

Dr. Leach's career has been marked by many honors both in this country and in all four of the Scandinavian countries. He wears the famous gold ring of Uppsala University in Sweden signifying the honorary degree conferred upon him, the only foreigner, at its 305th anniversary.

As with all Alabama College convocations, the public is cordially invited to attend.

District Conference Is Held Here

The Tuscaloosa District Conference of the North Alabama Conference of the Methodist Church will be in session at the Methodist Church here in Montevallo Wednesday and Thursday of this week. About 200 delegates will attend. There will be a worship service beginning at 7 p.m. Wednesday to which an invitation is extended to the public. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at this service. Thursday morning at 11 a.m. there will be another worship service to which all members and friends of our church are cordially invited.

The other time Wednesday afternoon and Thursday will be set aside for business sessions of the Conference. All District Conference committees will convene Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. to prepare their reports for the business sessions.

Dr. B. F. Tingle, District Superintendent, will preside at all sessions.

Cub Scouts

John Mader, cub master of the local Cub Scout Pack wishes to announce to all parents of prospective Cub Scouts that boys of cub scout age (8-11 years) may join one of the local dens by attending, with their parents, the pack meetings which are held once a month.

The next pack meeting is a pot-luck supper Monday, May 4, in the High School Cafeteria.

Fourteen boys will be presented their first awards of achievement and the local dens will provide entertainment centered around this month's cub scouting theme "Radio-Stuff." We invite all parents and boys to attend. Bring a dish and join the fun. For information call John Mader at 6961.

Cooper Shaw Brings Flying Farmers

Kermit Tucker, president of Alabama Flying Farmers, has stated that arrangements can be made for FFA members to see the community from the air. Cooper Shaw, local member of Flying Farmers, has been interested in having the group visit Montevallo this year. If present plans carry through, the flying farmers will visit Montevallo soon and during their visit some FFA members will be given a chance to see this area from the air.

Visit Stock Show

Twenty members of Montevallo FFA visited the livestock show in Birmingham Wednesday. The boys were impressed by the unusually large showing of fine animals. Mr. Robert Murphy and Mr. Owen Lee accompanied the boys along with M. Thornton, adviser. Mr. Lee and Mr. Murphy will return to Auburn Monday after completing 6 weeks of apprentice teaching at Montevallo.

American Legion Auxiliary Council

Mrs. M. P. Jeter and Mrs. Victor Scott attended the American Legion Auxiliary, National Security Conference and Luncheon, honoring the auxiliary national president, Mrs. Roe Asbton, on April 14 in Birmingham at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel.

Captain Walter I. Austin, security officer of the Alabama Military District and Col. U. N. James, Director of the Jefferson County Civil Defense, made interesting talks on National Security and Civil Defense. Both speakers stressed the necessity for organizing Civil Defense progress in small communities as well as the larger cities, as these communities would be greatly over run with people from the cities, if an attack should occur.

During the luncheon, Mayor J. W. Morgan presented the National President with the "Key to the City" of Birmingham.

Lions Club Enjoys Boat Cruise

Monday evening the Montevallo Lions and Lionesses enjoyed a wonderful boat cruise on the river at Tuscaloosa, Ala., aboard the Gulf States Paper Corporation's "E. Z. Craft," which was built by the company to provide recreation for members of its organization and for public groups. The E. Z. Craft is a luxurious three-deck cruiser and can accomodate 128 passengers. The top deck is lovely for lounging while enjoying the view. The center deck has a galley, record player and benches all around the side. Folding tables and chairs are stored in benches and among ceiling beams, and provide space for 90 persons for meals. The lower deck has lounges and bunk rooms. Along side the cruiser is a speed boat, and passengers are given a thrill ride if they wish. The crusier anchors near one of the Locks at meal time.

Mr. Newt Pearson of the Paper Mill Cafe and his crew serve appetizers while preparing the feast. Mr. and Mrs. Miles and Mr. and Mrs. Brown of the Forestry Division of the Paper Mill were wonderful hosts. The group enjoyed dancing before dinner and Bingo afterwards.

Various things prevented many members from attending this outing, but those who went had a marvelous time. Those enjoying the trip were: Mr. Lee A. Barclay, President, and Mrs. Barclay, Mrs. Denson Elliott, Mr. Sidney Seegers, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Carson, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. William Fullman, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lawler, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Billy H. Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Stephens, Jr., and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Hurt.

Band To Sponsor Square Dance

The Montevallo High School Band is sponsoring a round and square dance Saturday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. Admission will be Adults, 75 cents and Students 50 cents. The Cofer Brothers Band of Siluria will play.

The Band is raising money for new majorette uniforms. They have $140 toward this cause, and they are hoping to make $100 more Saturday night.

Dog Inoculation To Be Conducted

Dr. John Gates, veterinarian, will be in Montevallo to inoculate dogs against rabies on May 4 and 5.

From 8 to 10 a.m. each day he will be at Central Feed and Grain Co. From 10 to 12 each day he will be at Montevallo Milling Co.

Suggestions Made For Traffic Safety

A group of citizens, representing most of the organizations in Montevallo, met with the Town Council Tuesday night and presented to the Council a report of their Traffic Safety Committee. Organizations represented were: Baptist Womens' Organization, Episcopal Womens' Organization, Methodist Womens' Organiation, Presbyterian Womens' Organization, American Legion Auxiliary, Lions Club, Rotary Club, Business and Professional Women, Eastern Star, A. A. U. W., Girl Scouts, P. T. A., Study Club, Chamber of Commerce and Studiosis Club.

Among the suggestions presented were:

1. Invite the highway patrol to give talks on safety with our local enforcement officials present.

2. Train junior high school and senior high school traffic regulators to take care of students at the opening and close of school. Insist that college girls refrain from walking down the middle of streets.

3. Devise some means to get parents to cooperate with the schools in educating their children at the home.

4. Parking is so close to the corners of Main Street that visibility is cut off. Move the yellow lines in. Since this will cut down on available parking space, find other parking space.

5. All day parking by downtown businesses cuts off parking space for customres during rush hours. Can an agreement be worked out?

6. Traffic congestion is very acute around the high school at certain rush periods as night games, etc. This cannot be handled by school children. Can the Council furnish someone to regulate traffic at these times?

7. Better law enforcement suggestions: (a) Make more arrests of speeders with penalties for repeaters; (b) Arrest under-age boys and girls driving without their parents or other responsible person in the car; (c) Invite the highway patrol to come in for a day to check drivers' licenses; (d) Develop a courtesy warning card to present to out of town through traffic speeders.

8. Set up clearly marked signs at speeding points, particularly at the top of the hill opposite the Rotenberry home and just beyond. The suggested sign might read: "35 Children in Next Quarter Mile."

The Town Council passed a resolution backing this group and stating that they would do all they possibly could to help make Montevallo safer for everyone, but especially the children.

Study Club

The Study Club met with Mrs. C. O. Nordan with Mrs. James Higgins as co-hostess.

The Club again voted to give a hundred dollar scholarship to a high school graduate this year.

Mrs. Ashley Jeter and Mrs. Paul Rogan gave a paper on the Theatre in the Round.

The elementary school program is concerned with all phases of a child's growth and development. It emphasizes the mastery of the three R's, helping the child to learn them in terms of desirable and useful activities and experiences. It seeks to help every child develop a sound body, a vigorous mind, and a stable personality. It concerns itself with the promotion of good manners. It attempts to cultivate habits of study and work. It seeks to help children develop in their ability to get along with others. It tries to help each child to express himself clearly and intelligently through the use of the spoken and written language. It wants the child to understand the development of his own community, state, and nation, and to appreciate the peoples of other countries.

A state committee has worked directly with approximately 200 elementary schools during the past few months to assist them to improve their program. These schools have studied their programs and have projected definite steps in the further development and improvement of them. Two regional meetings of representatives of the schools have been held and some consultative services have been provided for the individual schools by the members of the State Committee, the institutions of higher learning, and the State Department of Education.

A study of supervision in the state is being made. It is designed and planned to determine the present status of supervision, major trends in supervision, and desirable next steps in order to improve the state-wide program of supervision. Through questionnaires and interviews the reaction of a cross-section of the school personnel of the state to supervision have been obtained.

A State Education Television Committee is studying the problem of the significance of television for education in Alabama. It has completed a survey to determine the number of stations needed to provide complete coverage for the state.

Members American Hereford Association

Mr. Ed and Mrs. Ethel Rogers of Montevallo, Ala., have recently become members of the American Polled Hereford Association, according to D. W. Chittenden, Executive Secretary.

The Association is devoted to the development of the Polled Hereford breed. At this time, there are more than 8,000 members of the Association throughout the United States and Canada.

Lawler Will Expand Manufacture Of Laying Cages

Montevallo FFA chapter is working cooperatively with Lawler Machine Shop in Montevallo in the manufacture of cages for laying hens. Bill Lawler will expand his facilities for manufacturing as it is demanded from increased orders and FFA boys will be given a chance to do some of the actual work this summer. M. Thornton, FFA adviser, recently worked with Mr. Lawler in securing orders for 1000 cages and listing prospects for more than 40,000 additional cages. A pamphlet is available from Mr. Lawler explaining some of the advantages of the cage system for layers. It is expected that much expansion of the program will be in effect during the next few years.

D. N. Bottoms, head farm mechanics instructor at Auburn, paid a visit to the Lawler Shop recently and he is using samples of the Lawler cages with his classes at Auburn.

Calera High School News

The annual Junior-Senior banquet and prom was held in the high school auditorium, April 24, 1953.

The theme of the banquet was "Spring time in the South." The decorations and color scheme was in pink, white and green. The auditorium was roped off with crepe paper of pink and white. The trellis were covered with roses. On the stage was the colonial home with a Southern background. There were also baskets of roses and gladiolas. The tables were decorated with pink and white candles, snapdragons and roses. The favors were little gold and silver loving cups.

The menu was: grapefruit juice cocktail, ham, green lima beans, mashed potatoes, congealed fruit salad, rolls, butter, ice cream, cake, nuts, mints, and coffee. The food was prepared by members of the PTA. In planning the food they carried out the color scheme of the Senior class.

The tenth grade girls served and wore southern style skirts and blouses.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The House last week took its first big step toward an attempt to balance the budget when it passed the initial money bill for the coming fiscal year.

After much debate, the Representatives voted to appropriate $451 million for use by over 20 independent executive agencies during the year which begins July 1. This is 61 per cent or about $700 million less than agency requests and the amount recommended in former President Truman's budget. It is $400 million short of the funds requested by President Eisenhower. The Senate must now vote on the bill, and, of course, there is doubt as to whether the upper chamber will agree in full to the reduced appropriations.

Tobacco Bill Defeated

A bill which would have made Maryland's tobacco crop marketed this year eligible for price supports even though the growers had voted against accepting marketing quotas for their crop has been defeated by the House.

Although Republican leaders gave the unusual bill full support, House members turned it down by a 212-110 vote. In the opinion of most Southerners, passage of the bill would have started a practice that could undermine the entire program of price supports.

Library's Role

While reading last year's annual report of the Library of Congress recently, I was amazed to learn that this great institution now houses about 31 million literary items. This collection includes over nine million book volumes and pamphlets.

I wonder how many people do realize the fact that the Library of Congress is probably the largest and best-stocked library in the entire world. Through a provision of the Copyright Law, the Library is furnished with two copies of every book copyrighted in the United States. The development of the international copyright and the practice of exchanging copies of duplicates with foreign libraries have helped add to the Library's voluminous book collection.

This great collection of books reflects the importance and influence which the Library of Congress exercises today. Although it is essentially a library to serve the members of Congress, it also contributes to the education of people all over the nation and even throughout the world. People from nearly every state in the Union and from 28 foreign countries came to the library last year for special research. In addition to private businesses and local governments, these people represented 270 American schools and 84 foreign institutions.

Other than the services it renders those who come for research, the Library of Congress answers thousands of inquiries sent from all parts of the world each year. It is often called on to assist the United States in contacts with other countries, and it works closely with the United Nations.

Members of Congress are served by the Library through its Legislative Reference Service. It was estimated that this service processed more than 51,000 inquiries from Congressmen in fiscal year 1952. The average time spent by researchers on each request was from three to four hours. Requests from the White House are also handled by the Library, and it has maintained a collection of books at the Presidential mansion since 1903.

Besides a number of other services, the Library of Congress conducts an extensive program of library service for the blind throughout the United States and its territories.

Established in 1800

The Library was established in 1800 by Congress, and had its home in the Capitol building for many years. Its entire book collection was burned during the War of 1812. A new collection was bought in 1815, but nearly all it was destroyed by a fire in 1851.

It was not until 1897 that the Library could move into its own building which was contsructed at an approximate cost of $10 million. The building is a magnificent structure of Italian Renaissance architecture. Modern authorities in design refer to it as the "over-ornamental type building of the 1890's." Yet, this monumental structure is artistically perfect, even to minute dstails. Its interior is highly ornamental, consisting of beautiful friezes, paintings, murals, symbolical statues, marble columns and geometric patterns in the floors. A rich color effect comes from the several shades of marble used throughout. Constructed of granite, the building covers almost four acres.

An addition to the Library, completed in the latter part of 1938, is a white marble structure in modern style. Known as the Annex, the eight million dollar building is located directly behind the Main Building on Capitol Hill.

The present Librarian of Congress is Dr. Luther Harris Evans who took office in 1945. He is the tenth person who has served as head of this famous library.

In his history of the Library, one author wrote, "From beginnings modest and humble and even unsuspecting, the Library of Congress has become a powerful influence in the affairs of government and in the lives of the people of the United States."

Thompson High Elects Miss Norris

Miss Leatrice Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Norris of Siluria, was elected here today to serve as President of the Thompson Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America Club for the coming year. Leatrice is a member of the Junior class and has served this year as program chairman for the FBLA Club.

Others elected were: Othella Garret, vice president; Catherine Gilmore, secretary; Rowena Grimes as reporter.

Dodge Sales Show Increase

The national sales figures on Dodge passenger car sales have jumped 30 percent following price reductions late in March, it was revealed today by R. E. Bowdon, Jr., owner of Bowdon Motor and Implement Company.

Mr. Bowdon said the 30 per cent increase was announced recently in Detroit by R. C. Somerville, vice president in charge of sales for Dodge. Somerville credited much of the sales spurt to a reduction in Dodge prices ranging from $60.60 to $201.80.

Somerville also revealed that in order to penetrate further into the automobile sales market, Dodge has started developing new plans for merchandising its products and for training field personnel.

"Merchandising is the most successful not in any auto operation," Somerville said. "We realize the chips are down in this business and we are going out to obtain increased sale volume through sheer selling."

Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Collum entertained at their home Sunday with a family reunion and barbecue in honor of Sgt. and Mrs. Frank Collum and little daughter, who were leaving for Los Angeles, Calif., after spending thirty days with relatives here, waiting his new assignment. There were thirty three present for the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Pearson and boys of Marion were visiting their mother, Mrs. Charles Pearson, over the week end.

Best Dressed Girls At Alabama College

Chosen from the entire student body of Alabama College by a student-faculty judging committee working and checking since last November, the Ten Best Dressed girls on the Montevallo campus will be presented to the students Thursday at 11 a.m.

At a special fashion show in Reynolds Hall Miss Ninette Griffith, consumer consultant of Loveman's Department Store, Birmingham, will present the Best Dressed winners, and speak on the hidden values of good grooming.

The Best Dressed awards are sponsored annually by the Retail Club, headed this year by Delores Vanderver, Quinton, as president. Other officers are Jo Ann Thrower, Langdale, vice president; June Tramel, Gadsden, secretary; Mary Lee Gardner, Birmingham, treasurer; and Leah Bonds, Anniston, publicity chairman.

Marilyn Beiger, New Orleans and Willodean Buckner, Birmingham, are student chairmen for the event. Director of the Retail Economics department of the college is Miss Josephine L. Eddy.

Five Selected For Graduate Study

Five Alabama College seniors so far have received notice that they have been accepted for graduate study next year. Four of these acceptances include scholarships.

One of the six Henry Ford Scholarships offered in the nation was awarded to Carolyn Word, Dothan. This full expense scholarship is for eighteen months study for her masters degree in Medical Technology at the Henry Ford Hospital, division of Wayne University at Detroit.

Peggy Gross of Scottsboro is the recipient of a $1200 gift scholarship to Vanderbilt University where she will do her graduate work in bacteriology.

Frances Menefee, Birmingham, will attend the University of Iowa on a $1209 graduate scholarship in the department of Psychology.

Another Birmingham girl, Alyene Reese has been accepted by the University of Alabama Medical College. Alyene is the only premedical student in this year's graduating class and has attended Alabama College on one of the two top Honor Scholarships offered by competitive examination.

Miss Jean Gilbert, senior major in the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, of Gadsden, has been notified that she has been accepted for the course in Physical Therapy at the Mayo Clinic. For the two year course she will receive $2900.

J. R. Simpson Invites Attendance At Rose Society Show

The Men's Rose Society of Birmingham will hold their second annual Rose Show in the Art Museum of the Birmingham City Hall Saturday and Sunday, May 9-10.

Their first show was held at Vestavia Temple and Gardens on May 9, 10 and 11 last year and was hailed as a tremendous success.

The only organization of its kind in Alabama, the Men's Rose Society has approximately forty members, with several members living as far distant as Gadsden and Florence. The club is affiliated with the American Rose Society, with the majority of its members holding individual membership in the American Rose Society.

This year's show is free and the public is invited to attend. The public will be admitted from 2:00 p.m. until 6:00 p.m. on both days.

VETERANS' COLUMN
STATE DEPT. OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS

By E. J. Sullivan

Spanish-American War Veterans are entitled to out-patient treatment from their home town physician, under the provisions of a law passed by the 81st Congress. Some Spanish-American War Veterans have an idea that this law also entitles them to treatment in a private hospital but this is not so. Hospital treatment at Government expense is available to Spanish-American War veterans only at VA hospitals.

This out-patient treatment may be furnished only when the application is made and approved in advance, except in emergency circumstances. In any event, the private physician must request authority to treat the veteran not later than fifteen days after treatment is first started. The request for authority may be made by telephone, wire or mail. Your County Service Officer will be glad to assist in getting this authorization.

Some time ago, the Alabama Department of Veterans' Affairs in cooperation with the United Spanish War Veterans in Alabama, undertook a program to have all the Spanish-American Veterans' wives file their claim for pensions, even though their husbands were still living. There was a very definite reason for starting this program. For instance, there are a number of questions on the claim form which could be easily answered by the veteran now but which may cause some trouble after his death. Then, too, in a number of cases, either the veteran or his wife or both may have had previous marriages and this would require additional public records, such as the death records or divorce decrees. So you see, it is much more simple for a claim to be filled out during the lives of both the husband and the wife. After these claims are completed and all of the necessary evidence collected, they are forwarded to the Headquarters of the Department of Veterans' Affairs in Montgomery where they are kept in a special file. Upon the death of the veteran, all that becomes necessary to file the widow's claim is to insert the date of death and secure the death certificate of the veteran. The claim is then forwarded to the Veterans' Administration without the slighest delay.

Home Gardens Stressed By FHA Supervisor

The Farmres Home Administration in cooperation with the National Garden Institute will this year award certificates recognizing those FHA families who do an outstanding job in home gardens and food preservation, S. S. Pierce, FHA County Supervisor announced today.

When compared with the cost of commodities farmers have to buy, farm families will find that a good garden will be especially valuable this year. Since the farmers share of the consumer's food dollar is only about 45 cents, he can save more than half of the retail cost on the food he produces.

Unless adequate vegetables are home produced for home needs, many families may not be able to purchase and provide them in proper amounts for a regular balanced diet. Farm families who produce and preserve most of their food supply have the best nutritional diets, FHA supervisor Pierce stated.

The Farmers Home Administration through the County Supervisor is working to help farmers in Shelby County achieve higher production goals in food. More food is essential to maintain our national eating standard. The average person now eats more vegetables of all kind, fruits, and meats, and less starchy foods than he did 15 year ago. Too, the national population is increasing at the rate of 7,500 per day, more than two and a half million persons per year. This means the home garden is going to be of major importance to every family. The selection of a good one-eighth to one-fourth acre garden plot plus a few additional rows for canning, plenty of fertilizer, good seed, variety of vegetables, and proper insect control will be deciding factors in the amount of food produced.

Our garden slogan continues to be, "Grow more, preserve more, use more," says Supervisor Pierce. The way to do this is to have the necessary garden and patch acre with the proper equipment and necessary information to grow and properly preserve fresh foods. Now is the time to plant lima beans, pole beans, sweet corn, tomatoes, okra, and sweet potatoes in Alabama according to the API Experiment Station at Auburn, and the Farmers Home Administration is ready to assist, says Mr. Pierce. Our goal of 100 quarts of canned or frozen food per person per year is being stressed with every family. Along with the year round garden and food preservation, stored foods, hogs, milk cows, and chickens are included in every family's food program.

Two types of award certificates will be presented through the FHA County Supervisor by the National Garden Institute. One certificate is for gardening and one is for food preservation. FHA farm families are urged to see Mr. Pierce, for additional information.

Bowdon Working For More Members

Mr. R. E. Bowdon, Jr., Calera Dodge-Plymouth dealer and NADA Arear Chairman, announced plans for the unique one-day, nation-wide membership campaign being conducted by this national business organization and Alabama Auto Dealers Association on May 1, 1953.

Mr. Bowdon, in explaining the program, stated that the National Automobile Dealers Association, of which he has been a member for nine years, is one of America's largest business associations with a membership of 34,000 members in every part of the country. The purpose of the drive, Mr. Bowdon explained, is to extend a personal invitation to every new car and truck dealer, not already a member, to join these associations.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

New applications for assistance in making conservation farm plans or for technical help in some specific job have been made by C. H. Schaeffer, Aldrich; T. A. Waldrop, Bessemer and Wilsonville; Mrs. I. N. Burley, Siluria and Mr. Wooten, Montevallo.

A trip taken Monday and Tuesday, April 20 and 21 to Blount and Cullman Counties gave an opportunity to see more meadow outlets in use than we have in Shelby County. Both V and W types were photographed, sodded in sericea or in fescue. T. O. Waldrop at Cullman has Chapel Hill Rescue grass and crimson clover on his sericea meadows, and his cattle graze them the year round. Will Frank, Cullman, was using Rescue on sericea successfully.

Ralph Jenkins, Cullman, actually cleared $18 per animal grazing 39 hogs on Rescue grass and crimson clover, with corn and a little supplement. He plans to use less supplement next year to see if the hogs would eat more clover. This year he says the porkers ate mostly Rescue.

These and other observed practices will help Shelby farmers, however, we have as good examples on our own county farms.

In every case where Chapel Hill Rescue grass has been seen in this or adjoining counties, a clean, disease free growth is evident. In no planting of other varieties have we found that true, up to present.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

In the past we have heard much criticism of filibusters in the United States Senate. This criticism has been loudest when the filibuster has been used by Southern Senators.

For the past four weeks we have been witnessing a "talkathon" in the Senate which has had every indication of being a full-bloom filibuster, and, strangely enough, some of those members who have been the most critical of the filibuster have been using it very adeptly.

Senate debate on the so-called Tidelands Bill should end this week when a scheduled vote on the bill will climax about 26 days of argument. Although it is generally conceded the bill will pass by a healthly majority, opponents of the legislation have prevented an earlier vote by talking almost continuously since Senate debate began. A decision to give up their "talkathon" came after Majority Leader Taft threatened to throw the Senate into all-night sessions until a vote was taken on the tidelands issue.

The bill,. designed to confirm state ownership of submerged lands out to the various coastal states' historic boundaries, is opposed by those Senators who want complete Federal control of all offshore submerged lands. The opponents have consistently maintained that they were not filibustering, but merely "educating the public" on the importance of the tidelands issue. However, there is every indication that the Senate has been in the midst of a filibuster in true sense of the word.

The stand of those who believe a filibuster has been in progress was strengthened when Sen. Wayne Morse, the controversial Independent from Oregon, held the Senate floor on April 24-25 for a continuous period of 22 hours, 26 minutes. This show of endurance broke all filibuster records in the Senate. The Senator even refused to yield for questions, which would have given him "breaks."

Senator Morse's performance constituted the longest time a Senator has ever talked continuously without relief. The late Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Sr. held the floor 18 hours and 23 minutes on May 29-30, 1908. However, he was relieved by 20 or more roll calls. The longest actual speaking record before that of Senator Morse was generally credited to the late Sen. Huey P. Long of Louisiana. The famous "Kingfish" from Louisiana spoke for 15 and one-half hours June 12-13, 1935, but his remarks were interrupted by at least one quorum call. Sen. Allen J. Ellender, one of the present Senators from Louisiana, was credited with speaking 12 hours and 21 minutes without interruption March 14-15, 1949, on amending the cloture rule of the Senate.

To further strengthen the argument that the delaying tactics used by the bill's opponents should be called a filibuster, Sen. Holland of Florida cited 39 instances in one day where opponents of the bill talked about matters which did not concern submerged lands. These instances included references to television, bald heads, characteristics of Swedish people, Amos and Andy, poetry, baseball, analogy, and other subjects completely unrelated to the bill in question.

In the midst of the controversy, the Senate Rules Committee on April 22 ironically reported a bill (S.Res. 20) to change the cloture rule to limit debate.

Certainly no criticism can be made against the Southern Senators who have taken part in this debate for their use of the filibuster. Yet a number of Senators who have advocated adoption of this rule while loudly condemning the tactics of a filibuster seem to have had a change of heart. In addition to Morse, such Fair Deal Senators as Douglas of Illinois, Humphrey of Minnesota, Anderson of New Merico and Lehman of New York have played improtant roles in the talkathon which has plagued the Senate for nearly a month. Although they have continued to disclaim any part in a filibuster, with or without tongues in cheeks, in my book a full-fledged filibuster has certainly been in progress. As one Southern Senator adroitly said, the talkers surely were "teaching the Southerners something they didn't know about filibustering."

In any event, I would think that the arguments of these particular advocates of the cloture rule and long-time opponents of the filibuster have been decidedly weakened in the eyes of the American people.

Horse Show May 9 At The Wilson Farm

Montevallo FFA boys and the general public will enjoy a horse show to be featured as a regular part of the annual activity program of the chapter Saturday, May 9, 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Arthur Little and his committee report that plans are completed for the event which is being started as an annual affair.

Prizes will be offered for the various classes of saddle animals and ribbons will be awarded for the best riders in the show.

The show will be held on the farm of Clyde Wilson four miles north from Montevallo and east of Moores Crossing.

The Montevallo chapter has 92 members and is one of the 10 chapters competing in the state chapter contest.

A. L. Little, teacher of veteran farm trainees, has arranged for a number of special attractions to be staged by some of the adult farmers. The acts include trick horse performances and roping. Steer wrestling and some of the events ordinarily done at rodeos will be staged by some of the adults. Special awards will be given lady riders as well as members of the FFA.

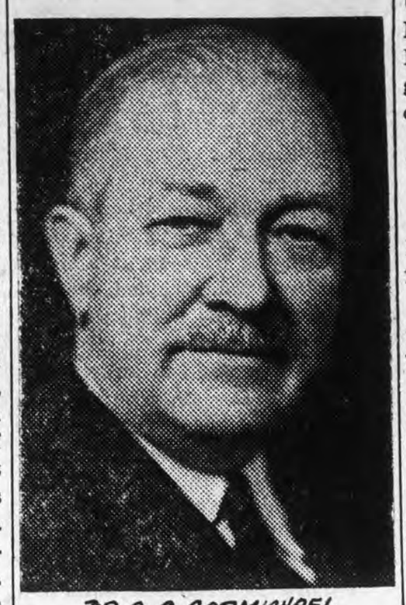

The public is invited to the show.

Cpl. John Bolling Home From Korea

Cpl. John D. Bolling, US 52 152 945, (Negroid) United States Army, recently returned from Korea, has been assigned to Fort Jackson, South Carolina pending receipt of assignment orders from the Department of the Army.

Cpl. Bolling is currently spending a thirty day leave, which was effective 22 April 1953 with his wife, Mrs. Elenora Bolling, Montevallo.

Returns To Alabama

DR. O. C. CARMICHAEL

Dr. O. C. Carmichael will be soundly welcomed when he returns to Alabama September 1 to become President of the University of his native state and of which institution he is perhaps the most prominent graduate.

Dr. Carmichael is held in high esteem by the people of Montevallo in particular for the years when he was President of Alabama College an dthe leading citizen of this community.

Honors Day

Honors Day program will be held Tuesday, May 12, at 11:00 a.m. in Palmer Auditorium on the Alabama College Campus. Dr. F. Edward Lund, president, will speak. All staff members and students are urged to attend, and the public is corially invited.

Silver Tea

Westminster Fellowship's annual Silver Tea was held Sunday, May 3, at Forbes House.

Donations received at the tea were sent to Stillman College, the state Presbyterian college for Negroes.

Many Alabama College students and faculty and local residents called during the tea hours from 3 to 5. Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E .E. Forbes, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Forbes, Jr., Lucas Forbes, Joe Forbes, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams, Mrs. W. F. Newton, Leeds; and Miss Vera Howell, Greensboro.

Salem Cemetery

Salem Cemetery will observe its annual memorial and decoration service on the 4th Sunday, May 24.

The second Saturday May 9th was set aside as cleaning day. Salem is on the old Elyton road between Dogwood and Montevallo. We invite each and everyone to come or send someone to help with this cleaning. Bring flowers, shrubbery and tools.

This is a very worthy and needy work with your help much can be accomplished.

Mrs. F. W. Killingsworth of Dallas, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Francis (Cotton) Killingsworth and Donald of Corpus Christi, Texas, and Mrs. Eloise Fancher Carter of Calera are visiting Mrs. Holly Fancher and Miss Bee Fancher this week.

NOTICE PEOPLE 65

The Alabama Old Age Pension Union Inc., will meet in the Court House in Columbiana, Saturday, May 30, at 10 a.m. and State Organizer, J. L. Carter, urges you to come to this meeting.

The Cub Scouts

Cub Scout Den No. 1 met at the home of Mrs. J. F. Wyatt on April 24, 1953.

The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag and repeating the Cub Scout promise.

After the business meeting, the boys rehearsed their skit for the monthly Pack Meeting.

The Den Mother served refreshments to Den Chief Billy Robinson, Cub Scouts Charles Warnke, Lee Barclay, Ricky Miller and Jimmie Wyatt.

Reynolds Going On World Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reynolds and Miss Eleanor Reynolds are leaving this week for New York. From there they will sail on Tuesday on the steamship Maasdam, for France where they expect to attend the Rotary International Convention in Paris the latter part of May.

From Paris they will go to London for the Coronation Ceremonies of Queen Elizabeth.

They plan to visit Ireland, Scotland, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and Italy. While in Austria they will see Teddy Ziolkowski at Innstruck.

On July 12, they will sail for home, from Naples, Italy on the steamship Andria Doria.

College Theatre Play Tonight

The Alabama College Theatre will present its final production of the year, May 7, in Palmer Auditorium on the Montevallo campus.

Under the direction of Walter H. Trumbauer, Alabama College drama professor and director of the College Theatre, an all student cast will give Moliere's play "The Pedantic Ladies" (Les Femmes Savantes).

Depicting conditions in France during the seventeenth century the action takes place in the house of Chrysale, in Paris, in 1672.

The cast includes: June Segler, Dothan, who plays the part of Chrysale, a worthy citizen; Betty Jo Benton, Brandenton, Fla., Philaminte, Chrysale's wife; Madeline Paepcke, Tuscaloosa, Armande, his elder daughter; June McQueen, Greenville, Henriette, his younger daughter; Martha Womack, Montgomery, Chrysale's sister Belixe; Lazelle Whitten, Hartselle, Ariste, his brother.

Joan Munroe, Selma, is Clitandre; Barbara Richards, Russellville, is Trissotin; Vadius is played by Carol Philpot of Mobile; Sylvia Weaver, of Flat Top, is Martine; Julien is played by Marell Goodwin of Pinson; and Beverly Vawter of Congers, N. Y. is the Notary.

There is no admission charge to Alabama College Theatre productions and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Montevallo Baseball Club Ready To Go

The Montevallo Athletic Club expresses thanks to those citizens and business firms who have made contributions to help get its baseball program started again for this season.

Skipper of the club is Bob Galloway. Mitchell Young is president and Charles "Red" Gray is secretary. The officers of the club and the members of the ball team urge the people to come out and support the games. The boys are doing their best to give us baseball that we will enjoy and that will be worthy of the wholehearted support of the community. To date they have played three games with 2 wins and 1 loss.

Appreciation is expressed to the following for their help:

Montevallo Motor Co., Inc, Lovelady Motor Co., Shaw Motor Co., Montevallo Lumber Co., Montevallo Drug Co., Wilson Drug Co., Montevallo Milling Co., L. E. ## Social Security Monthly Benefits Explained By Folmar

A year and a half of work that counts toward social security provides monthly benefits only in case the worker reaches 65 or dies before July 1954, M. C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham social security office, pointed out today.

Mr. Folmar says that some people have been led to believe that a year and a half of covered work are all that anyone needs to get benefit payments under social security. He emphasized that the length of time one must work to become insured is determined by the worker's date of birth.

"To become insured and stay insured," Mr. Folmar declared, "the person must continue in work covered by the law at least one out of every two years after 1950 (or after reaching age 21) and up to the time of retirement or death." Or, as he explained, the person must have social security for enough covered employment before 1951 to make up the difference. Social security credit for work before 1951 may be added to credits gained in covered employment or self-employment after 1950 to give the worker the required amount.

Mr. Folmar says another widespread misunderstanding is the meaning of the average monthly earnings on which social security benefit payments are based. "Some people," he says, "believe that their average earnings are determined by using only the years in which they were engaged in work covered by the law." He says that all years after 1950, from age 21 to age 65, are counted in arriving at the monthly average. Periods of non-employment, or early retirement from self-employment will cut down the amount of the average monthly earnings and may cause old-age and survivors benefit payments to be less than the insured worker or his dependent family expected, if they have not informed themselves.

Salaries Of Teachers Compared With Some Other Groups

The average annual salary paid Alabama classroom teachers is $2,486. Salaries paid all instructional personnel, including teachers, principals, and supervisors are $2,537. Employees of the Alabama Merit System reecive an average salary of $2,960. The beginning salaries of the ten major classifications range from $2,760 paid bacteriologists to $3,696 paid statisticians, according to information received from the Alabama State Personnel Board and released by the Alabama Education Association.

When compared with annual earnings of different groups of workers, teachers' salaries again fall short. A sampling of these earnings show the following results: textile workers $2,623; telephone and telegraph workers $2,906; bricklayers $6,000; carpenters $4,480; plumbers $5,300; plasterers $5,040. These annual earnings are based on a forty-hour week end a fifty-week work year.

When compared with school personnel of other states and in the nation Alabama teachers rank sixth from the bottom in salaries paid teachers. Other states paying lower salaries are: Mississippi $1,665; Arkansas $1,882; Tennessee $2,344; Kentucky $2,386; and South Carolina $2,434.

Southern Bell Has A New Construction Feature

A modern development in telephone wiring for new houses was explained today by S. C. Stutts, Manager for the Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Called "Concealed telephone wiring," the system features telephone outlets much like electric outlets located in any room of the house. The instrument can be moved from room to room and new extension telephones can be installed by simply plugging the connection in an unused outlet, Mr. Stutts said.

Even though it is still not possible in every case to obtain telephone service as soon as a house is completed and occupied, the conduit for telephone wiring can easily be provided while the house is under construction, in anticipation of the time when the occupant will have a telephone. Thus the time of designing the house is the appropriate time to plan for concealed wiring, Mr. Stutts said.

In most cases, telephone installers are unable to feed telephone wiring through finished walls and floors in order to conceal them. Conduit, which is small inexpensive pipe, provides neat telephone outlets wherever desired by the owner. These outlets also make possible the installation of telephones later on without marring finished walls and woodwork and thus helps preserve the home's beauty.

In planning telephone locations, home owners should be sure to include an adequate number of outlets. Even though only one telephone may be desired initially, it is well to provide additional outlets for future needs. Each additional outlet, Mr. Stutts said, makes the portable telephone more valuable.

The cost of such modern facilities for telephones is small, each telephone outlet costing about the same as an electrical outlet. They are installed by the builder and made a part of the house. The Telephone Company provides and installs the wire in the conduit to connect the telephone service.

The Telephone Company gladly assists, without charge, with planning for telephone conduits, Mr. Stutts said. Persons desiring further information may call the Telephone Company and ask for "Architects and Builders Service."

Mental Health Week May 3 - 9

Montgomery, Ala. — Calling attention to the observance of Mental Health Week May 3-9, Dr. D. G. Gill, State Health Officer, pointed out today that Americans currently suffering from mental illness or various kinds are equivalent to nearly half the population of Alabama.

"It is estimated," he said, "that about a million and a half people in the United States are mentally ill at this moment. As frightening as that figure is, it tells only a part of the tragic story of mental illness. For, according to estimates, those approximately 1,500.000 who are mentally sick are outnumbered about five to one by those suffering—and making others suffer—from various other personality disturbances, some of them almost as serious as actual mental illness."

Dr. Gill declared that mental illness in many serious forms is largely preventable. He urged that parents be on the watchout for emotional abnormalities among their children.

HYBRID CORN DEMONSTRATIONS

A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent

We have planned high-yield corn demonstrations for Shelby County. We would like for any farmer to take part in this demonstration. Requirements for this demonstration are to use Hybrid seed corn, fertilize with 300 to 500 pounds mixed fertilizer at planting, side-dress with 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate, plant between April 20th and May 10th, and plant from 1 to 20 acres.

The seed corn is available in the county and the TVA Ammonium Nitrate is set aside with 3 different dealers here in the county where you may get the material. If you are interested in this demonstration and want to get your nitrate fill in the blank below and return to me at once.

Adult Education

The Adult Education program of the Elementary Division is planned for adults with a limited formal education. The classes are organized to meet six hours per week for nine months and are placed in areas where it is possible to reach a number of illiterates. Persons joining their classes may continue until they have reached a sixth grade equivalency in the skills.

At the present time we have 17 classes (10 Negro and 7 white) with an average of 26 people enrolled in each class. There are two classes pending. In a study made last year it was found that the average age of the participants was between 30 and 40 years and that there were approximately a third more women enrolled than men.

The adult education program should be expanded. There are daily requests for various phases of adult education activities. Approximately 80 per cent of the people of Alabama have not finished 12 years of schooling in our public school program. The state public schools have an obligation particularly to these adults.

Adult Education should be included as an integral part of public education and the adults registered in classes should be counted in the average daily attendance. It should be an obligation of each public school to participate in some phase of adult education. All adults should have an opportunity of furthering their educational interests, through hobby classes, art classes, community choruses, orchestras, forums, child-care clinics and classes in academic subjects. Many states are making great progress in this area of education and Alabama should begin to make definite plans.

VETERANS' COLUMN
STATE DEPT. OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS

By E. J. Sullivan

At various times in the past we have brought you tips and information about the many benefits our disabled veterans are entitled to receive. I would like to point out that a veteran does not have to be disabled in order to receive a number of benefits from the Veterans' Administration. However, as we have discussed disabled benefits, I would like to keep our information along this same line but concerning benefits for amputee veterans. I believe the discussion will be of great interest not only to veterans but to all good citizens who are interested in his welfare. I would like also to help those veterans by advising them where and how they may go about getting the proper devices to help them to overcome their handicap.

To begin with, the Veterans' Administration has a special unit which is devoted to making certain that amputee veterans who's amputation is service-connected are furnished with the finest of artificial limbs and other aids, that they are properly fitted, kept in good repair and replaced when necessary. And in addition, the VA carries on an exhaustive research program at all times dedicated to constant improvement of all applicants. Now, suppose you'd like to know some of the appliances, in addition to artificial limbs, that are available to disabled veterans. Well there are such things as special hearing aids, eye glasses, braces, wheel chair, artificial eyes, etc.

Maybe there are some Korean veterans who are wondering if they are eligible for some of these appliances. If so, you may be assured that you are. These benefits are for all qualified disabled veterans, regardless of when they had active duty, so long as their disabilities are service connected and entitles them to compensation from the Veterans' Administration. Of course, they must have been discharged under condition other than dishonorable.

If there is any veteran amputee in this area who is having any problems with his limb or other device, he should contact his County Veterans' Service Officer without delay.

Bald Heads! That's That!

If you are beginning to become bald before you think you should, there seems to be very little you can do about it.

That is the opinion of Dr. D. G. Gill, State Health Officer.

"Nobody knows the exact cause of premature baldness," he said. "It is believed by medical authorities to be due to actions of the sex harmones, about which little is known. There is strong evidence that heredity is an important factor. If your father and grandfather became bald at comparatively early ages, the chances are that you will too."

As for arresting the loss of hair, Dr. Gill said some relief may be obtained by local treatment of the scalp, including vigorous massaging. But, he added, there is very little that can be done to slow up the balding process.

Some Facts About Alabama Schools

Based on the number of pupils in daily attendance the value of Alabama's school property in 1952 was $213. For the same year the value of Texas' school property was $420, North Carolina $388, Arkansas $366. Among the twelve southern states Alabama was next to the bottom. Among the other forty eight states Alabama ranked 47th.

Alabama's school debt was correspondingly low, being $35.66 per pupil. Arkansas' school debt was $173, Kentucky's $82, Louisiana's $236.42, North Carolina's $106.

A recent survey of Alabama's schools conducted jointly by the State Department of Education and the Federal U. S. Office of Education among other things, showed that 3,800 pupils attend schools in multiple shifts; 199,500 pupils are housed in buildings classified as dangerous or otherwise unsuited for use; 27,000 pupils attend schools with no toilet facilities; 222,500 pupils attend the schools with delapidated toilet facilities that should be abandoned; 41,500 pupils attend schools where no drinking water is available on school grounds.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The House has approved funds of about $1.1 billion to be spent in operating the State, Justice and Commerce Department for the new fiscal year which begins July 1. This is a cut of 22 per cent in former President Truman's budget requests, and is about $130 million less than the estimates of President Eisenhower.

House members defeated a rider to the money bill which would have nullified the Veterans Preference and Civil Service Acts and jeopardized the jobs of the veterans and career employees in government service.

In turning down the proposal to give department secretaries sweeping authority to fire employees, most House members expressed the opinion that the President's recent security order is adequate for dealing with employees of doubtful loyalty.

VA Loans Extended

At the last meeting of the Veterans Affairs Committee, of which I am a member, we voted to continue VA authority to make direct home loans to veterans who cannot get GI financing from private sources. As approved by the Committee, the bill continues direct loans for another two years and authorizes total loans up to $25 million each quarter. This legislation is expected to reach the floor of the House for a vote in the near future.

Tribute to Late Members

Each year the House of Representatives sets aside one day to pay tribute to deceased members of Congress. This memorial service, which I attended for the first time last week, is presided over by the Speaker. Its participants are all members of the House, except for the Chaplain and a military band.

Congressmen honored at this particular service, all of whom died within the past year, were the late Sen. Brien McMahon of Connecticut, and the late Representatives William Grady Stigler of Oklahoma; Adolph Joseph Sabath of Illinois; Edward Eugene Cox of Georgia; Joseph Raliegh Bryson of South Carolina; and Garrett Lee Withers of Kentucky.

Relatives of the deceased were escorted to their chairs in the House by Congressmen from their respective states. For half an hour preceding the service, a program of sacred selections was presented by the United States Army Band. Following the invocation, the Congressional Quartet, composed of four House members, sang a hymn. They were accompanied at the piano by Rep. Frances Bolton of Ohio.

As the Clerk of the House read the roll of deceased members and gave a short history of their lives, Rep. Marguerite Stitt Church of Illinois stood in front of the Speaker's rostrum and placed in a silver vase one rose in memory of each late member.

After this ceremony and a period of devotional silence, Rep. Robert J. Corbett of Pennsylvania addressed the House and the relatives of those memorialized. He emphasized the honor and the importance of membership in Congress and then told how the deceased members had upheld the faith placed in them by the people who elected them as leaders in our government.

"Should the Congress," he said, "be destroyed in the confidence of the people and thus become powerless as a check on the Executive, then free government, as we know it, ends in America."

Another memorial address was delivered by Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma. His impressive talk was accented by short phrases of poetry in keeping with the tributes he paid each deceased member.

He referred to the late Sen. Brien McMahon as a "brilliant, youthful New Englander who has been described by his successor as Connecticut's outstanding statesman." Adolph Sabath, Czechoslovakian immigrant who became a Congressman, he spoke of as a "lowly immigrant who at the age of 15 believed the American story and came to this country." Sabath was elected to the House for 24 successive terms.

Rep. Albert called the late Eugene Cox "a Southern gentleman in the noblest sense of the term—a generous hearted friend." Joe Bryson, he termed a "lovable son of Dixie who rose from the textile mills of South Carolina to a place of preminence among his comrades—a Christian gentleman who practiced what he preached."

Bill Stigler, he described as a man "in whose veins ran the blood of the orignial American—chivalrous, patient and generous." Garrett Withers, he referred to as "a man in whom we caught a fleeting glimpse of that loving soul so dearly loved by all who knew him." Withers, who once served as a Senator and then retired, returned to Congress this year as a Representative from Kentucky.

In conclusion, Rep. Albert gave the following statement which I feel is worthy of note: "After more than 160 years this is still the best government on earth for the financier and farmer, for industrialist and industrial worker. After all this time no man may close the doors of your church against you. No man may sell your private property on the public auction block without due process of law. No man may cast you in prison without a trial by a jury of your peers. After all the centuries, history is still on the side of the free men."

Birthday Dinner

On Sunday, April twenty sixth, Mrs. E. S. Ambrose of Wilton, observed her 76th birthday with a birthday dinner. The dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ehney Ambrose and three children, Miss Lavada Ambrose and two friends all of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ambrose of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. Claude Ambrose of Bessemer, Mr. Ollie Ambrose of Montevallo, Mr. and Mrs. Griffin of Alabaster. A brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ambrose and daughter of Bessemer, Mrs. Sanderson and Mr. Len Sanderson of Wilton.

A brother, Mr. Ehney Camp of Princeton, Ind., was unable to be present but Mrs. Ambrose says they sent a big box of lovely gifts and that she was showered with gifts from her children, friends and neighbors who called on her during the day.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Jones and family had as their guests for a few days, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Strong of Shreveport, La.

McClendon Says Bessemer Road Will Be Paved During This Summer

Here is more good news for Montevallo, Dogwood, Maylene and other communities in the western section of Shelby County.

Road Commissioner Fred McClendon tells us this week that bids will be let in a few days for a contract to put asphalt surface on the Farm-to-Market Road from Montevallo to the Jefferson County line at Genery's Gap.

Thus we are made sure that soon we shall see the culmination of a hope long entertained by the people of the section which the road will serve.

The road extending from Montevallo to Genery's Gap is in the districts represented by Mr. McClendon and the veteran Tom Nash. At Genery's Gap it connects with a Jefferson County road already paved from that point into Bessemer.

Completion of this project will establish another important route into and out of Birmingham by way of Bessemer. It will certainly bring a great increase of traffic through Montevallo.

The last 15 years has seen Montevallo come from a place of nowhere in road access to its present happy situation of good paved highways in every direction.

For this great progress in our road situation, our people are thankful for the excellent road improvement program of our County Board of Revenue, which program has been applied constructively in every part of Shelby County. It puts Shelby County among the top counties of Alabama in road building and improvement.

Putnam Porter In Organ Recital

Putnam Porter, Assistant Professor of Music and organist at Alabama College will present his annual organ rectial Sunday, May 17, at 4 p.m. in Palmer Hall.

Featured on the radio series of "Music From Montevallo," Mr. Porter will present a program of music by outstanding composers of 16th and 17th century France and England as well as music written by contemporary American and French musicians.

Porter's 30 minute radio programs are broadcast in Europe and the Near East by the Voice of America and in Egypt by the Egyptiann State Broadcasting Network. Stations in Florida, South Carolina and Indiana also carry this series.

A graduate of the University of Chattanooga, Porter holds a Master of Music degree from Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois and has done further graduate study at the Columbia University and Julliard School of Music. He joined the Alabama College faculty in 1949.

Sunday's faculty recital featuring Mr. Porter at the College's four manual, 62 rank Skinner organ, one of the finest in the South will include the following selections: "Swiss Noel," Louis Daquin; "Pavanne" and "Gigg", William Byrd; "Souer Monique," Francois Couperin; "Phantasie in F Minor," Mozart; "Carol", Ralph Vaughn Williams; 'Choral in A Minor," Cesar Franck; "Twilight at Fiesole," Seth Bingham; and Variations on the Chorale "Veni Creator Spiritus," Maurice Durufle.

Hendrick Reunion

For a number of years the members of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hendrick, of Montevallo, have had a reunion on Mothers Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Latham. There are twenty five members, including the children, their husbands and wives, grandchildren, and the great grandchildren. This year all were able to attend except Fred Duran, Jr., who is now working for General Electric in Bridgeport, Connecticut.

A delicious turkey dinner was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Christian of Columbiana; Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Martin, Mrs. Ida Hendrick, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Ehney A. Camp, Jr., Patty, Mary Gene, and Ehney Camp, III, of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. George R. Smith and Winston of Demopolis; George R. Smith, Jr., of the University of Alabama; Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Duran of Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Latham, Mrs. Lena Duran, and Miss Virginia Hendrick of Montevallo.

Citizenship Day At Alabama College

Principal speaker for this year's annual Citizenship Day program at Alabama College scheduled for Wednesday, May 20, will be Judge Robert B. Carr, Presiding Judge of the Court of Appeals for the State of Alabama.

The carrying out of this year's traditional program will feature the Alabama College Chorale under the direction of Harrison D. LeBaron, Director of the College's School of Music; the presentation of the Class of 1953; an address by Judge Carr; and the administering of an adaption of the Athenian Citizenship Oath also by Judge Carr.

Following the afternoon ceremonies in Palmer Hall a formal Citizenship Day dinner will be held in the College's dining rooms. A feature of this annual dinner is the escorting of each senior by one of the College's faculty members.

Mr. and Mrs. Tamp Eddings were home for the week end.

Mrs. H. D. LeBaron Entertains D A R

David Lindsay Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was entertained on Monday night by Mrs. H. D. LeBaron. The meeting was opened with the ritual which included the singing of "America" and the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mrs. A. W. Vaughan reported that the Elizabeth Clayton Raney DAR gift scholarship at Alabama College has been awarded to Miss Edna Collins for the sessoin 1953-1954.

Mrs. C. G. Sharp gave an interesting report of the Children of the American Revolution conference held recently at Grove Hill, Alabama.

A complete file of Washington newspapers was the source of Mrs. T. H. Napier's delightful report on the sixty-second Continental Congress April 20-24.

Miss Hiroko Oikawa, of Tokyo, Japan, was introduced to the group by Miss Josephine Eddy. Miss Oikawa, who has been a student at Alabama College for the past two years, gave a most entertaining and instructive talk on the life in Japan and her impressions of life in the United States. She displayed and explained some of her beautiful native costumes. Before returning to Japan, Miss Oikawa will serve as counsellor at a girls' camp in New York state this summer.

After the meeting adjourned, a delightful social hour was enjoyed by the twelve members present.

Baptist Circle Met Monday Afternoon

Monday afternoon Circle Number 1 of the Montevallo Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Fred Frost, Sr. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. W. G. Hicks. A short business session was held with Mrs. R. A. Reid, circle leader, presiding.

The guests of the meeting were three girls from Alabama College who are seniors: Willi Helms of Montgomery, Glenn Green of Decatur, and Alyene Reese of Birmingham.

Glenn and Willi sang a duet and Alyene, who has been appointed to go to Hawaii as a summer missionary, gave the devotional.

After the program Alyene was given a surprise shower by the circle. She received many nice and useful gifts for the trip.

Then Mrs. Frost, the hostess, served delicious refreshments to Mesdames S. C. Jones, W. L. Brown, M. P. Jeter, Sr., Melvin Smitherman, A. W. Day, B. B. Nix, L. O. Robinson, Ruth Lovelady, W. A. Reid, Brooks Woolley, Haywood Woolley, Marjorie Lovelady, R. F. Ray, George Howell, R. A. Reid, W. G. Hicks, Misses Mary Woolley, Lula Nix, Willi Helms, Alyene Reese, Glenn Green, and Pitts Hughes.

St. Andrews Church

St. Andrews Episcopal Church will hold open house, Sunday, May 17, 3:30 to 6 p.m. You are most cordially invited to come to see us during these hours. Many of you have contributed most generously to our Chapel and Parish House and we really want you to see the results of our combined efforts.

Social Security Payments Made In Shelby County

Social security payments totaling $34,512 went to 1,111 people in Shelby County in December of 1952, according to M. C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham social security office. This was an increase of 37 per cent over payments at the end of 1951.

There 675 men and women receiving $24,246 per month. Most of these were workers who had worked long enough to qualify, but some were wives. husbands, widows or widowers of insured workers.

A substantial number of the Shelby County people entitled to payments are widows and children. Monthly checks went to 436 mothers and children at a rate of $10,266.

Changes made by the 1950 and 1952 Amendments to the Social Security Act accounted for a considerable part of the increases, both in number of people receiving benefits and in the amounts of their payments. In 1950 the law was changed to include millions of people not covered before, and to make it easier for them to qualify for payments. Among those newly covered were self-employed people and regularly household and farm workers. Also, social security credit was given for military services.

About 80 per cent of civilian jobs covered by the law; 4 out of 5 of the mothers and children in the country can count on monthly survivors insurance payments in case of the death of the family breadwinner, Mr. Folmar emphasized. Money to pay social security benefits comes from the social security taxes paid by employees, employers, and self-employed people, on earnings up to $3,600 a year.

A representatives of the Birmingham office is at the Employment Office in Calera each Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

Presbyterian Birthday Dinner

The women of he Presbyterian Church met at the Forbes House for their annual birthday party Tuesday evening, May 6th at 8 p.m. The president, Mrs. Harold Anthony, opened the meeting. After the devotional and disposal of business the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Owen Bridges, who conducted an interesting and informative panel discussion by Mrs. Felix Lewis and Mrs. Bill Smitherman about the churches homes for furloughed missionaries.

All 1953 birthday offerings will be used to build, improve, and to maintain such homes. The meeting was adjourned and the group moved to one of the parlors which was very festive with a tea table centered with beautiful spring flowers and a birthday cake. The group enjoyed a delightful social hour.

When cleaning white shoes that have brown or black heels, apply a coat of colorless nail polish to the brown or black leather and allow it dry thoroughly. This prevents the white cleaner from rubbing off on the dark surfaces.

Alabama College Chorale Concert

The final Alabama College Chorale concert of the season will be presented Monday, May 18, at 8 p.m. in Palmer Hall Auditorium on the Montevallo Campus.

Under the direction of Harrison D. LeBaron, head of the College's School of Music, this 33 voice Chorale recently returned from a three day tour through South Alabama.

Presenting a varied program including contemporary American compositions, the Chorale will be assisted by student soloists and guest soloists.

Mrs. Hilda Gibson Pallas, flutist from Birmingham and a graduate of the Alabama College School of Music, will appear with the Chorale playing two flute obligatos and two groups of modern French flute solos.

Betty Joe Benton, Bradenton, Fla., annd Mrs. Frances Freeman Martin, Mobile, School of Music students will be featured vocal soloists. Miss Benton will sing the solo part in a contemporary composition by the Cincinnati composer C. Hugo Grimm. Mrs. Martin will be featured in a setting of the Alfred Noyes poem "A River of Stars."

Mrs. Maxine Couch Davis, of the School of Music faculty will be the accompanist, assisted by Betty Lou Tidwell in a four hand piano arrangement of the orchestral score in the Brahms group.

Contemporary American composers whose music will be presented include Miss Ina Strom of the School of Music faculty, William Schuman, and Irving Fine.

Special Appeal For Cancer Drive

Leonard M. Davis, Shelby County Chairman for the 1953 Crusade of the American Cancer Society, made a special appeal today to those who have not contributed during this campaign.

He reported that contributions are still coming in through various divisions of the Crusade and it is hoped that the campaign can be completed in the very near future.

He appealed to every citizen who has not made a contribution to mail his gift to the American Cancer Society, in care of his local post office.

"While it has been the sincere desire of the campaign organization to call upon everyone," Davis said, "it is practically impossible to reach everyone directly. We feel that there are many who want to give whom we have missed, and we urge them to mail in their contributions or call Montevallo 7201 and we will have the contribution picked up. This is a most worthy cause, deserving the fullest support of everyone."

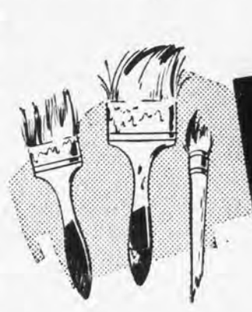

Pat Wyatt, Montevallo Chairman, also called upon all campaign workers to complete their work and turn in their reports at the earliest possible time to Lee Barclay of the local Lions Club.

Funds contributed in the Cancer Crusade are used to support the research, education and service program of the American Cancer Society. Five research projects in Alabama, to which nearly half a million dollars has been allocated, are supported by the Society.

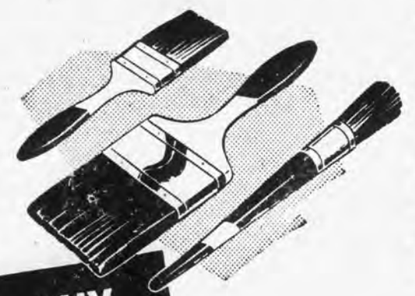

The American Cancer Society also carries on a continuous program of public infromation regarding cancer and gives aid to medically indigent cancer patients.

Do you know this about telephone taxes?

You may not realize how large a part of the money paid by telephone users goes to taxes.

Including the federal excise tax, a total of 29¢ out of every dollar received from Southern Bell customers last year was paid out in taxes to federal, state and local governments. To put it another way, the average amount of taxes was $2.91 a month per telephone.

Telephone taxes are necessary to the support of government, but they do mount up. Higher taxes of course have effect on the price you pay for telephone service.

The next time you pay your telephone bill, remember that a good part of it is taxes for government and national defense.

A public service program to promote safer driving.

This year—for the 12th straight production year—truck users are buying more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. That couldn't be true unless Chevrolet trucks offered more of what you want.

Already, 1953's official sales figures tell a remarkable story of clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks. But, this is not surprising, for truck users everywhere are discovering how far ahead of all others Chevrolet trucks really are.

They are discovering things like the tremendous new power in advanced Loadmaster engines in heavy-duty models . . . the remarkable gasoline economy . . . the extra ruggedness and strength of heavier, more rigid frame construction.

And, in addition to all these advantages, the Chevrolet line lists for less than any other trucks of comparable size and capacity. So, before you buy any truck, stop in and see us.

Spring Creek Valley Grove Home Club

With the beginning of 1953 the club women determined to do better work so they will become better homemakers and be of greater service to their communities and to the world.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Sam Knowles as president, the club selected three major projetcs for the year. First, sewing for the spastic children in Birmingham hospitals; second, work on the cemetery; and third, the naming of farms and homes.

Work is going forward with great interest on the sewing project. The goal was set for each member to make at least one garment (night-shirts for ages two through six years). Thirteen shirts were completed and turned in at April club meeting. Several others are underway and will be turned in at the May meeting, then mailed to the hospital

The cemetery project shows a good beginning. Rocks have been hauled to construct an entranceway. The cemetery is now fenced inn and a club family donated money for shrubbery planting when the grounds are ready. The recent storms have added work to the cemetery project as trees were uprooted and monuments blown over, too.

The farm and home naming proves the club women and their families have eyes and ears for beauty. A few of the newly named ones are "Maple Meadews," "Happy Hollows," and Dogwood Hill.""

Home Demonstration work is a joy when members work together cooperatively. To date, each council meeting, leadership school and special meeting has been attended. Members volunteered to assist with the serving at the 4-H Rally at Montevallo. 118 pennies were given to Pennies for Friendship, a project for promoting world friendship through the Associated County Women of the World. The annual cancer campaign was answered by the club with cooperation of the two churches giving on Sunday, April 12th, the Sunday School offering. Ten dollars and seventy cents was turned in at council meeting April 14 and more to come in yet.

Marble Cake

1½ teaspoons melted vegetable shortening
1½ tablespoons cocoa
1½ tablespoons warm water
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted cake flour
¼ cup sugar
1¼ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup soft vegetable shortening
¼ cup Pet Milk
¼ cup water
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 unbeaten egg
⅛ teaspoon baking soda

Turn on oven; set at moderately slow (350° F.). Grease a medium loaf pan. Mix melted shortening, cocoa and warm water. Sift flour into bowl with sugar, baking powder and salt. Add soft shortening and ⅔ of a mixture of milk, water and vanilla. Beat 2 minutes with spoon or electric beater at medium speed. Add remaining ⅓ of milk mixture and egg. Beat 2 minutes longer. Pour about ⅔ of batter into greased pan. Stir soda into cocoa mixture. Beat into remaining ⅓ of batter. Spoon over light batter. Cut through batter in zig-zag pattern with knife. Bake 40 minutes, or until cake shrinks from sides of pan. Cool. Spread with chocolate frosting, if desired.

Sept. 11. West Blocton, here; Sept. 18, Montevallo, here; Sept. 25, Columbiana, here; Oct. 2, Prattville, there; Oct. 9, Centreville, there; Oct. 16, Calera, here; Oct. 23, John Carroll, Rickwood in Birmingham; Oct. 30, Talladega, there; Nov. 6, Holt, there; Nov. 13, Vincent, here.

The Thompson Warriors will be seeking their fifth straight Shelby County Football Championship.

Cub Scouts

Cub Scouts Albert Scott, Ricky Miller, Lee Barclay, Charlie Warnke, Jimmie Wyatt and Den Chief Billy Robinson met at the home of Mrs. Wyatt on May 8, 1953.

After repeating the Law of the Pack together, Lee Barclay called the roll and collected the dues. Den Chief Bill Robinson gave a short talk on the meaning of "To Be Square." We made plans for our trip to Birmingham on Friday, when we are to be guests on Western Theatre, a TV show. We discussed our project for the month, "Westward, Ho." The meeting closed with the living circle and the den yell.

After refreshments, we enjoyed an outdoor play period.

It says here that a man on a bus gave up his seat to a woman passenger. She fainted. When she recovered, she thanked him. Then he fainted.

Junior - Senior High School Prom

The juniors of Montevallo High School entertained the seniors at the annual Junior-Senior Prom last Friday night. The theme was "Red Sails in the Sunset" and was carried out beautifully by the artistic decorations of the auditorium.

The stage was the highlight of the decorations. It depicted the deck of a ship with huge red sails flowing in a breeze and with realistic reflection of the sun shining on them. Various friezes of appropriate designs annd colors lined the walls and trees hanging with grey moss were around the edge of the dance floor. In the center of the dance floor and around the sides were small pools of water with water lillies, minnows, and gold fish in them.

The refreshments were served from two boat houses in the corners of the auditorium. Punch, sandwiches, cookies, mints, and nuts were served while the couples enjoyed dancing to the music of the Wayne Willis Orchestra from Childersburg.

The lead-out included the officers of the two classes and their escorts. The lead-out dance was the theme of the Prom, "Red Sails in the Sunset."

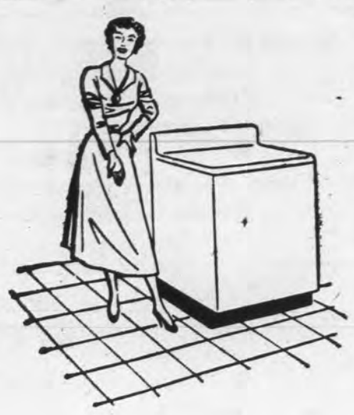

Everyone turned up in frills and flowers and seemed to have a glorious time.

EVERY MAN, WOMAN, AND CHILD IN ALABAMA has a stake in the present battle in the legislature between medical doctors and chiropractors. Even though you may never have been to a chiropractor, and may never go, they are defending your right to use the doctor of your choice and the healing system *you have confidence in.

The men who boss the medical monopoly tell you that all they want is to control the chiropractors. Privately they admit they want to run chiropractors out of the state. If they succeed in getting control, you should have no doubt about what will happen.

They openly claim they have a "right" to regulate anyone practicing the healing arts "by any system whatsoever," whether it is by medicine or something altogether different.

In the past they tried to grab control over the dentists, the optometrists and others. They failed, but now they are at it again, and it is the chiropractors they are after.

It's up to the public, through our representatives in Montgomery, to tell these ambitious men that they should stick to their medicine and quit trying to be little gods determined to dictate to another profession also engaged in getting sick people well — and doing very well at it without their help.

Don't blame your family physician. He is no more responsible for what his political leaders do than you are for what is done by some of the politicians you help elect.

Cemetery Board Announces Plans For Current and Permanent Upkeep of Cemetary

The Montevallo Cemetary Board of Administration was set up by the Town Council of Montevallo to administer the affairs of the Montevallo cemetery. This board is made up of five members appointed by the Town Council for terms of five years each. One member to be appointed each year so that the board will have a continuity even though new people are appointed.

At the first meeting of the board, the opinion was expressed by all members present that it would be the goal to set up the administration so that provisions can be made for both current upkeep of the cemetary and to establish a permanent plan for perpetual care

The first problem to face is the current upkeep on the cemetery as it now stands. The Town Council has agreed to help us all that it can. However, on the face of the matter, it is apparent that we cannot expect them to keep the individual lots cleaned up; therefore, we plan to contact all owners of lots and ask that they send the Board $12 each year for the upkeep on their lot. We feel that all arrangements for upkeep of lots should be made through the Board so that a uniform system may be adopted and that savings might be made through purchase and use of power equipment.

It is hoped that as we develop our plan, the owners of the lots in the old part of the cemetary will give us permission to tear out the retaining walls around their lots. We hope some day to have the entire cemetery a beautiful lawn unbroken by unsightly walls and fences. The erection of walls or fences on any lot sold in the future will be restricted in the purchase agreement.

In looking forward to a plan for perpetual care, we propose the following plan:

1. Each lot owner may secure perpetual care for his lot by turning over to the Board $500.00 which the Board shall invest in U. S. Government bonds. The interest from these bonds shall be used for the upkeep of such donor's lot. It is agreed that the Board shall invest the money in U. S. Government bonds only.

2. Realizing that it will not be possible for some owners to make the whole payment at once, we will accept payments of either $25.00, $50.00, or $100.00 to be placed to the donor's credit until such time as he shall have paid in $500.00, thereby getting a perpetual care certificate. These payments shall be made in addition to payments for current upkeep.

3. For those who wish to, it is possible to take out a $500.00 Life Insurance Policy payable to the Board to take care of this payment for perpetual care.

Work has already been started toward leveling up part of the cemetery and towards the purchase of additional land. We have met with a ready and willing attitude from those whom we have contacted so far. A map is being made of all lots and graves. This will be finished in the near future. As soon as we have the map, we plan to set aside a day to meet all of those interested in our cemetery to try to identify as many lots and graves as possible, and to see if we can find those who are responsible for the upkeep of those lots.

Those of you who wish to contact the Board may do so by contacting any of the following:

F. P. Givhan, chairman; Ella Peters, sec-treas.; J. A. Brown, Mrs. R. D. Gunlock, Jr., Mrs. P. D. D. Pendleton.

Dr. Harold Seever To Deliver Sermon

Dr. Harold W. Seever, pastor of Dauphin Way Baptist Church, Mobile, Alabama, will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon, Sunday, May 31, during Alabama College's 57th commencement program.

Band Concert On May 26

The Montevallo High School Music Department is planning to present an outdoor concert on Tuesday, May 26 at 7:30 p.m. on the football field.

The program will consist of overtures, marches and familiar popular selections. A saxophone sextette will play "Blue Skies", Johnny Ziolkowski will play "Trumpet Blues" and the glee club will sing four popular numbers.

Admission charges will be adult fifty cents and students twenty-five cents. In case of bad weather the concert will be held in the high school auditorium.

Wear A Poppy

Everyone in Montevallo was urged to wear a poppy in tribute to America's war dead next Saturday in a proclamation issued today by Mayor W. M. Wyatt, setting aside the day as Poppy Day.

The proclamation called attention to the sacrifice made by young men of Montevallo in the three wars of this century and called upon all citizens to show that they remember and honor these men by wearing the war memorial flower.

Poppies, made by disabled veterans, will be distributed on the streets throughout the day by the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will receive contributions for the welfare of the disabled men and needy children of veterans.

Mrs. C. G. Sharp Died Last Friday

Our community was shadowed in a pall of grief last Friday by the sudden and totally unexpected death of Mrs. Joanna LaRue Sharp, one of Montevallo's most gracious and beloved women. Having had for several years a vigorous, active part in the culturral life of our town, her sudden demise was made more shocking to thosewho had been her associates, friends and co-workers.

Funeral services were held at Montevallo Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon. Officiating were Rev. James E. Harris and Rev. Minar L. Triplett. Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery with Bolton-Walton in charge. Active pallbearers were Paul C. Bailey, Lee A. Barclay, Lewis H. Berry, W. J. Kennerly, Stanley M. Mahan, Frank Morgan, Dr. M. L. Orr, Jr., V. E. Williams.

Honorary pallbearers were A. C. Anderson, O. B. Cooper, R. E. DeSear, F. P. Givhan, John Hardy, Ellis Hoffman, E. P. Hood, Dr. L. H. Hubbard, I. P. Johnson, H. D. LeBaron, President F. E. Lund, C. H. Mahaffey, W. P. McConaughy, M. S. McGehee, T. H. Napier, M. L. Orr, Dr. L. C. Parnell, Sidney A. Seegers, Melton Thornton, W. H. Trumbauer, T. E. Watson, R. E. Whaley, W. M. Wyatt.

The deceased was the wife of Dr. C. G. Sharp, former Mayor of Montevallo and a widely known scientist on the faculty of Alabama College. In addition to her husband she is survived by two daughters, Miss Susan Sharp, a student at Richmond Professional Institute in Richmond, Va., and Joanna Sharp, a senior student at Montevallo High School. She has two brothers, John D. LaRue, of Marshall County, and O. W. LaRue of Birmingham; one sister, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Sr., whose home is in Birmingham, but has been for some time with her son in Florida. Mrs. Smith will spend some time with Mr. Sharp and Joanna.

Mrs. Sharp was reared in Birmingham where she was graduated from the Loulie Compton Seminary. Later she attended the University of Alabama for two years and then entered Alabama College where she received her degree. She did graduate study at the University of Chicago, and taught in Miss Spade's School for Girls in Chicago.

After graduation she engaged in teaching in the Jefferson County Schools. Later she was employed at Birmingham Trust and Savings Bank when she was married to Mr. Sharp.

After her marriage she taught mathematics in Montevallo High School for two years and taught swimming at Alabama College for a few summers.

As a wife and mother, Mrs. Sharp made a gracious and lovely home for her family, the delightfulness of which she generously shared with a wide circle of friends and neighbors. Her interests were extended to include a noble devotion to religious, civic and educational advancement through various clubs and organizations in which she participated.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

At our most recent Veterans Affairs Committee meeting, we had the opportunity of witnessing the results of many years research in the field of prosthetics or artificial limbs. A demonstration of the use of several types of artificial limbs was presented before the Committee by the Advisory Committee on Artificial Limbs, a division of the National Academy of Sciences, in cooperation with the Veterans Administration.

Each year Congress ear-marks a million dollar appropriation for the VA to use solely for research in methods of rehabilitating disabled veterans. The VA sets up the research projects it deems most desirable and sends its recommendations to the Advisory Committee which administers the research program.

Besides the annual million dollars spent for research, the VA uses a large part of its regular funds to bear the expenses of buying and fitting artificial limbs and other equipment for handicapped veterans. In fiscal year 1952 the VA paid out a total of almost six million dollars for 4,872 artificial legs which are the most costly prosthetic items, and about $776,000 for 6,000 hearing aids, another expensive appliance.

This total of nearly six million dollars spent by the VA in 1952 also included expenses for artificial arms, hands and feet, batteries for hearing aids, orthopedic braces and shoes, wheel chairs, glasses, and aids for the blind.

Amputees Self-Sufficient

Nine American veterans who have benefitted from the extensive research in the field of prosthetics voluntarily appeared before our Committee to show how they have been rehabilitated after losing an arm or leg. Eight of the veterans saw service in World War II and one during World War I.

Under the direction of two physicians who are members of the Advisory Committee, the veterans demonstrated the use of their artificial limbs. One amputee showed how he used what is probably the newest development in artificial limbs. His artificial arm is electrically-powered and operated by a small battery attached to his shoulder. All the artificial limbs are made chiefly of a celluloid type material for light weight.

All nine of the veterans to whom we were introduced are self-sufficient and are employed as technicians, statisticians, salesmen, therapists and chemists. One of them still serves in the Army on limited duty with a technical service unit.

Besides the American veterans, we met a former member of the South African Air Force who demonstrated what modern medical research has made possible for a man who has lost both arms and both legs. Eric Schultz, who lives near Johannesburg, South Africa, lost all four limbs as the rusult of a train accident. Because the United States has been more successful in artificial limb research than any other country in the world, Schultz decided to appeal to this country for help in rehabilitation. He wrote a number of letters to commercial limb shops, asking if they could fit him with arms and legs. One of the letters was delivered to a termite control office in Los Angeles which was occupying the former site of an artificial limb shop. A secretary opened the letter by mistake and was so impressed with its contents she was determined to answer the plea of Eric Schultz. She contacted the Advisory Committee on Artificial Limbs which has its main headquarters at the University of Calfornia in Los Angeles. Physicians there agreed to take Eric Schultz as a case study, and he was sent to U.C.L.A. shortly afterward by the Johannesburg Rotary Club. Although he is a quadrilateral amputee. Schultz has been fitted with four artificial limbs and is as active as any normal man.

I asked Eric Schultz how he had managed before he came to the United States. He said he saw pictures of what American scientists had perfected in artificial limbs and tried to have wooden limbs made to resemble the pictures. "It didn't work out so well, though," he said, "but now I feel wonderful—you can't imagine how wonderful."

Future Progress Seen

Commenting on the amazing progress made in limb research during the past ten years, Gen. F.S. Strong, Jr., Director of the Advisory Committee, said that the "near miracles" we saw demonstrated would soon be standard equipment for all veteran and civilian amputees. He pointed out that the greatest difficulties in development of artificial limbs had been overcome and that more improvements would come rapidly now.

So that they can receive the best possible training, the VA sends its therapists and surgeons to schools which are under supervision of the Advisory Committee on Artificial Limbs. VA records show that approximately 250,000 disabled veterans of all wars have been fitted with artificial limbs through the VA's out-patient treatment program. There are eight VA hospitals now equipped to care for Korean amputees.

Although it is heart-breaking to hear of our Americans losing an arm or a leg there is some consolation in knowing that they will reveive the best possible treatment modern science has made available.

As one disabled veteran said, "I am inconvenienced but, thank God, I am not incapacitated."

CARD OF THANKS

To all our friends and associates: Words cannot begin to express our sincere gratitude for the innumerable ways the people of Montevallo and many other parts of the state have endeavored to console us in our greatest of all sorrow. We thank all of you from the depth of our hearts and pray that you will be shielded from any such experience as has been ours. The acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy from you will never be forgotten.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

B. F. Hatchett and G. C. Starcher

J. O. Brady, Calera, has a fine crop of fescue he would like to save seed from. He will consider sharing the seed with some farmer who has equipment.

H. L. Conway, Calera, has a hill on which sericea has controlled erosion since he planted it while on the G.I. farm training program. He hopes to plant a peach orchard on the hill—on contour lines of course.

J. L. Capps, Calera, has strengthened his dam and his farm pond is one of the prettiest small ponds we know.

W. L. Lawler, Calera, relayed to S.C.S. a request for seed and fertilizer recommendations for the control of erosion on half of the Westinghouse property. Erosion is a recognized problem on large industrial grounds as it is on farms.

Several Shelby Countians including Mr. John Rucker of Montevallo and Mr. W. L. Lawler who are district cooperators, are constructing a lake on a 200 acre farm in the edge of Chilton. The S.C.S. technical help will be utilized.

Clyde Horton reports his 3 acre button clover patch is doing well in this its third year. It was turned green last year. He expects to spread this clover as large an area as possible with a seeding of Chapel Hill Rescue grass.

Now is the time to schedule trips (please do make prior arrangements) to see the Thorsby S.C.S. nursery. Particularly good to see are Ball and Michaelmas clovers, coastal bermuda and Bahi grasses, and Tupelo and Arlington sericeas. Several hundred Canebrake National Farm Loan Association members toured the Nursery Wednesday, May 13.

Thompson High School Annual

The Warrior, school annual at Thompson High School is out today and features a dedication to the school Principal, Dr. Robert Johnson, through whose able leadership the school was accepted as a member of the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

Carolyn Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Barton of Siluria, was Editor-in-Chief. Vance McCauley, Head of the English Department was sponsor.

The Beauty featured Miss Margaret Martin as "Miss Thompson High", Miss Melba Jo Brannon, as "Miss Homecoming", and Miss Kittye Crumpton, as "Good Citizenship" nominee.

Montevallo F. H. A. Installs Officers

The Montevallo Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America installed the officers for the coming year at a very impressive ceremony on Thursday, May 14, at the Montevallo High School Home Economics Department.

Junior homemaking degrees were awarded to the girls who have successfully reached the goals of the degree which are: Getting a better understanding of the F.H.A. organization; growing as an individual, member of a home, a member of a chapter, and a member of a school and community and also by indicating the purposes of the National F.H.A. organization toward which they have worked. The recipients of the degree were: Dorwin Roden, Jade Higgins, Sigrid Lund, Harriett Kendrick, Patricia Davis, Joyce Lou Wilson, Jackie Lyons, Gayle Jones, Evelyn Oglesby, Nellie Ruth Carle, Peggy Sue Compton, Annette Pickett, Carolyn Edwards, Bobbie Dee Galloway, Mary Katherine Cox, Mary Katherine Hicks. A key, which is the symbol of the degree was presented to each girl.

Outgoing officers lighted eight candles each symbolizing one of the eight purposes of the F.H.A. organization.

The new leaders were installed as Beverly Doyle, outgoing president, read the duties and responsibilities of each officer. Future Homemakers accepting these positions were: President, Anita Bradley; Vice President, Mary Katherine Hicks; Secretary, Beverly Taff; Treasurer, Carolyn Edwards; Parlimentarian, Beverly Doyle; Reporter, Barbara Winslett, Historian, Bobbie Dee Galloway; Song Leaders, Patricia Davis and Clara Young.

The annual installation program was concluded as Patricia Davis and Clara Young, newly elected song leaders led the members of the organization in singing the official F.H.A. song.

Chapter members who were responsible for the program were Ruby Hicks and Tootsie Snow. Patricia Davis and Gayle Jones were hostesses for the installation service. The devotional was given by Sigrid Lund.

An Expression From Senator Gulledge

When Mr. Will Gulledge of Verbena was our State Senator he took a keen interest in the efforts of citizens of Montevallo and West Shelby County to obtain the establishment of certain proposed highways in this section. He worked consistently for us in Montgomery in cooperation with the efforts of our citizens to secure the roads we wanted and needed.

Continuing his interest in our efforts, we have from Mr. Gulledge the following statement concerning our news item of last week about completion of the road from Montevallo to Bessemer:

"I am happy to note in 'The Times' the announcement that the road from Montevallo up the valley to the Jefferson County line toward Bessemer is soon to be paved. This, with the Montevallo cut-off leading toward Jemison will give Montevallo a much needed and very important Highway that will bring thousands of people into and through Montevallo, who have never been there before.

"I urged the building and importance of this road while I was in the Legislature and never missed an opportunity to urge its building on account of Alabama's Women's College and as a relief to the heavy travel on Highway 31."

Our people are appreciative of the help given us by Senator Gulledge and for his continued interest in Montevallo and this vicinity.

Senior Breakfast Will Kick Off 1953 Commencement

The 1953 Senior class of Alabama College will be recognized as Alumnae of the college for the first time at the annual Senior Breakfast to be held on the Montevallo campus at 9 a.m. Saturday, May 30. The entire senior class will be guest of the Alabama College Alumnae Association.

Mrs. J. E. Gillespie of Montgomery, national Alabama College Alumnae president, will preside at the Breakfast which opens the 3-day commencement program.

Recently elected president of the State AAUW, Miss Frances Nungester, Decatur school principal, Alabama College alumna, and former president of the Alabama Education Association, will be the principal speaker.

Miss Dorothy Hix, Birmingham, a member of the national Alumnae Association Executive Board, will present the national Alumnae Association embossed scrapbook to the '53 class' permanent secretary, Miss June Segler, of Dothan, Alabama.

Those attending the breakfast include the Alabama College staff who will be table hostesses, the senior class members, and the class advisers, Misses Ethel Marshall, Dorothy Groves, Lorraine Pierson, and Mrs. Louise Duncan.

Other guests will be Dr. F. Edward Lund, Alabama College president, Mrs. Lund and daughter, Miss Sigrid Lund; Dean Powers and Mrs. Richard Powers; Mr. Lee Barclay, Alabama College business manager, and Mrs. Barclay; Dean Emeritus Napier and Mrs. T. H. Napier, as well as all the Trustees of the college, their husbands and wives.

A special feature of the Breakfast will be a tribute to Dr. Rosa Lea Jackson and Mr. O. B. Cooper, faculty and staff members who are retiring this year. Miss Lorraine Peter, associate professor of History, will deliver the tribute.

As head of the Mathematics department Dr. Jackson has served the college for 22 years; Mr. Cooper as an engineer in the maintenance department of the college has been with Alabama Colege for 24 years. Miss Peter will present a small gift to each of these people in behalf of the Alumnae Association.

Receiving the Attendance Trophy for the class of '52 which had the largest percentage of members register in the Alumnae on their return to the campus the past year will be Mrs. A. S. Bains, III. Miss Frances Fuller of Birmingham will present the trophy to Mrs. Bains who was the first member of her class to join the Alumnae Association.

Members of the Executive Board of the national Alabama College Alumnae Association expected to attend are: Mrs. John Albrecht, Selma; Mrs. Wallace Harper, Demopolis; Mrs. Walter Trumbauer, Montevallo; Miss Mattie Lee, Hayneville; Miss Dorothy Hix, Miss Frances Fuller and Miss Bernice Dilworth, Birmingham; Miss Eleanor Lewis, Sweetwater; and Miss Ethel Harris, Miss Ollie Tillman, Miss Virginia Hendrick and Miss Eloise Lee of Montevallo.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

This month is high school graduation time for about 1300 young women and men in the eight counties of the 6th Congressional District.

I have felt particularly close to the high school seniors this year. At various times during the past two months I have signed copies of the American Creed by William Tyler Page for the seniors whose names I have received. As a small means of expressing my congratulations to and my faith in these graduates, I have tried to see that each one is presented a copy of this inspirational message which was written by a descendant of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Although I feel the Creed's message will do its part to impress upon the graduates their duties and obligations as American citizens, the thought occurred that some of them might not be familiar with the full story of how the American Creed came to be written. With this thought in mind, and to satisfy in part my desire to speak to each individual student, I dedicate this column to the high school graduates—to the men and women who are destined to be our leaders of tomorrow.

First, it is interesting to note the historical derivation of the principles of the Creed. Beginning with the first clause, "I believe in the United States of America," which is from the preamble to the Constitution, each clause of the American Creed is derived from some great document, including the Declaration of Independence, the Great Seal, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and others.

Contest Selects Creed

When the entire world lay in fear of chaos and destruction back in 1917 and the rights and privileges of American citizenship appeared to be at stake, there was a general feeling that true patriotism in the hearts and minds of Americans everywhere was needed more than ever before. Among those who shared this feeling was Henry Sterling Chapin of New York. He conceived the idea of promoting a country-wide contest for the writing of a National Creed. He felt the Creed should be the briefest possible summary of the American political faith and yet be founded upon the fundamental things most distinctive in American history and tradition.

A contest to select the best creed was announced, and it promptly received the backing of the American press which publicized it widely. The idea was informally supported by the President, and also received encouragement from Congress. A number of prizes were offered for the winning creed, and the City of Baltimore volunteered to contribute an award of $1,000.

A committee was set up to judge the many entries. Committee members were to make their selection without knowing who had written the creeds. "Number 384" became the Committee's choice, and when a sealed envelope containing the author's name was opened, it revealed the prize winner to be William Tyler Page who lived in a suburban section of Washington and was the descendant of Carter Braxton whose name appeared on the Declaration of Independence.

It was a remarkable conincidence when discovered that Mr. Page was born in Frederick, Maryland, the birthplace of Francis Scott Key, and that he had received his education in the public schools in Baltimore, in whose harbor Key wrote the Star Spangled Banner in 1814.

It is also coincidental that the award for the best Creed was presented to William Tyler Page on April 3, 1918, at the House Office Building in which my office is located.

A few days after he received the Baltimore check for $1,000, Page stood on the steps of the Capitol and purchased a $1,000 bond, referred to at that time as a Liberty Loan Bond.

Creed Widely Used

Within a week after publication of the Creed, the 90,000 children in Baltimore public school were reciting it. Soon the Creed was used in schools throughout the United States. Congressmen who visited Europe in August of 1918 found the Creed posted on trees and trenches at the front. The French, in a free republic inspired by the American example, showed exceptional interest in their own translation, while in America the Department of Interior translated the Creed into the languages of our foreign-born citizens.

Starting as a clerk's page, William Tyler Page served in various clerk positions in the House of Representatives for about half a century. From his school boy days until his death in October, 1942, his life was filled with patriotic deeds.

And there is no doubt that the simple but powerful message he gave the American people will live forever:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a Republic; a soveriegn Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect Union, one and inseperable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

"I therefore believe it is my duty to my Country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies."

Graduation Exercises At Montevallo High

On Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in Palmer Hall, Montevallo High School will graduate a class of 47 pupils. Dr. T. H. Napier will deliver the graduating address.

Peggy Lucas, president of the Senior Class, will give words of welcome to parents and friends of the school, and will announce the songs that the Senior Class will sing. Mr. S. H. Hurt and Dr. M. L. Orr will award the diplomas and special honors.

Sunday evening at 7:45 at the Montevallo Baptist Church, Rev. Edward Glover will deliver the commencement sermon. The music for this service will be furnished by the High School Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Young.

Red Cross Gives $41,543.68 Relief In Shelby County

The Red Cross has spent, or committed itself to spend, $41,-543.68 in Shelby County to assist those people who were victims of the tornado which struck our county April 18 according to a statement released by J. T .McDow, chairman of the Shelby County Chapter of the Ameircan Red Cross. Assistance was rendered to a total of ninety five families in the following manner:

Number of families receiving food, clothing and other maintenance, 19; number of families receiving household furniture, 19; number of families receiving medical assistance, 9; number of families receiving assistance in rebuilding homes, 7; number of families receiving assistance in repairing homes, 35; number of families receiving assistance in rebuilding barns, 5; number of families receiving assistance with farm equipment, 1.

"I would like to compliment every volunteer worker who did such a tremendous job during this emergency period," stated Mr. McDow. "I would especially commend Mr. Karl C. Harrison, Disaster chairman for our local chapter, and the members of the Disaster Advisory Committee who so tirelessly assisted the Disaster Staff Workers. This committee was composed of the following members: Dr. Robert Johnson, Mrs. W. E. Stinson, Mr. George Scott, Mr. T. A. Farris, Mr. Bill Minor, Mrs. L. G. Fulton, Miss Sara King, and Mr. Karl C. Harrison. Every person who had a part in meeting this emergency did a wonderful job— the highway patrol and all law enforcement officers in restoring order—the workers of the Alabama Power Co. and Southern Bell Telephone Co., in restoring service—all did a tremendous service to the people of our county. This spirit of helpful neighborliness evidenced by all is truly the spirit of the Red Cross and certainly deserves to be commended."

Alabama College Commencement Activities Begin Saturday and Go Through Monday

Alabama College's 57th commencement activities will get under way with the annual Senior breakfast scheduled for Saturday morning, May 30, at 9 a.m. and will be climaxed with the awarding of degrees on Monday morning, June 1, at 11 a.m. in Palmer Hall on the Montevallo campus.

Dr. Marguerite V. Hood, of the University of Michigan School of Music, lecturer, conductor, adjudicator and first vice president of the Music Educators National Conference will deliver the commencement address. Dr. Harold W. Seever, pastor of the Dauphin Way Baptist Church, Mobile, Ala., will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 31.

The three day commencement program will be highlighted by the Senior Breakfast Saturday morning at which time Miss Frances Nungester, Decatur, former president of the Alabama Education Association will speak to the seniors and alumnae; the traditional faculty reception for seniors to be held Saturday evening at 8 p.m.; the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning; the President's garden party honoring graduating seniors and their families Sunday afternoon; and the commencement address and awarding of degrees on Monay morning.

Included in this year's graduating class of 118 are eight students from Shelby County. Montevallo students are: Miss Bobbie Gene Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wilson, Mrs. Helen S. McBurnett, Miss Barbara Jean Grady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Grady, and Mrs. Mary Ann Nabers Bates. Others from Shelby County are Miss Jean Cline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. ## Ready To Start On Water Extension

Mr. Sligh, Superintendent for Southeastern Construction Company, was in Montevallo this week getting things arranged to begin construction of the water main extension to the Westinghouse plant.

Contract for the work was made with the Southesatern Company by the Montevallo Water Board a few days ago.

"We have the pipe and all material necessary for this job." said Mr. Sligh, "and we expect to have the work going by the first of next week."

Janice Jordan Wins Mary Ling Hayley Gift Scholarship

The announcement has been made here this week that Janice Jordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jordan, Route 3, Opp, Alabama has been selected as the 1953 recipient of the FHA Mary Ling Hayley Gift Scholarship. This scholarship is awarded annually to an FHA member who meets these qualifications: Has been enrolled in homemaking class for a minimum of two years; has obtained the Junior and Chapter Homemaker Degrees; rates in the upper fourth of the graduating class; plans to prepare for teaching vocational home economics; has participated actively in local FHA chapter, other school and community activities; and posses qualities which may lead to success in the teaching of homemaking.

The applicants for the scholarship stood an achievement test at Alabama College on March 20 and the three applicants having the highest rating appeared recently before a judging committee appointed by the Executive Council of the Alabama Association, Future Homemakers of America.

Miss Jordan is a senior at the Straughn High School, Straughn, and has been active in Future Homemaker activities both at the local and state levels. She has served as President of the Alabama Association, Future Homemakers of America during the current year, 1952-53. Other honors include: Serving as Parliamentarian of local FHA, member of refreshment, yearbook and executive committees of the Straughn FHA, and serving as one of the state delegates to the FHA Delegates meeting in Green Lakes, Wisconsin in July 1952.

The recipient will use this scholarship to begin her college education at Alabama College, in September. She will major in Vocational Home Economics.

Lamar-Cox Wedding Last Saturday At Auburn Church

Attendants in rainbow shade gowns preceded Miss Marion LaVerne Lamar to the altar when she became the bride Charles Edward Cox Saturday at the First Methodist Church at Auburn.

Miss Mildred Lamar and Mrs. Wiley Fancher were honor attendants. Bridesmaids were Miss Patsy Lamar and Miss Martha Ann Cox. Jane Cox was flower girl. Their gowns were of white organdy over pink, lavender aqua and yellow. They carried arm bouquets of pink carnations tied with rainbow ribbons.

Candles were lighted by Miss Honey Lamar and Miss Mary Katherine Cox. Music was presented by Miss Beth Carolvitz and Billy Tatum.

The Rev. Joel McDavid officiated at the 5:30 p.m. ceremony. The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lamar, was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a gown of white mousseline de soie with lace tiered skirt and long sleeved bolero of lace. Her elbow length veil fell from a coronation crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a Bible marked with a white orchid and stephanotis.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cox, had his father as best man. Ushers were Jim Thornnton, Wiley Fancher, George Mize, Rowland Long and Dudley Spence.

The reception was given by the bride's aunt, Miss Totsy Lamar at her home. Assisting were Mrs. Anne Beckwith, Miss Mary George Lamar, Mrs. Mildred Patterson, Mrs. G. G. Lamar, Mrs. Homer Wright, Miss Billie Dewberry, Miss Brenda Davies, Miss Nancy Kemp, Mrs. Rowland Long.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride wore a navy shantung suit with navy and white accessories. The couple will reside at Ft. Belvoir, Va.

The bridegroom, Charles E. Cox, will be remembered as the grandson of G. L. Scott of Longview, and nephew of Mrs. Paul Rogan with whom he lived for several years.

Guests attending the wedding from Montevallo were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rogan, Misses Mary Katherine and Martha Ann Cox, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Scott.

During a pause in a long, tiring speech, one guest said to another, "What follows this speaker?" And the other fellow replied, "Wednesday."—Lieber's Photo News.

For many years each teacher in the public schools of Alabama has been required under the law to teach the effects of "alcohol on the human system." The law also states that the State Superintendent shall report to the Governor periodically that this law has been carried out. An act of the legislature approved September 19, 1949, appropriated $25,000 "to provide for the creation and maintenance of a state educational research service." It also provided for a supervisor of temperance education in the State Department of Education. The law further provided for preparation of teaching materials and units of instruction to be made available uniformly to the public schools of the state.

The general concept under which this program operates is that education should be directed toward prevention of the alcohol problem. It is, therefore, believed to be the function of education to build health personalities. It is also based upon the assumption that youth can be trusted to react favorably when persented the facts concerning alcohol without bias or prejudice.

The subject of temperance should not be presented as a separate subject, but should be appropriately related to other subject fields. Facts concerning the effect of alcohol on personality and society should be presented with due regard for the dignity of the individual and his home. The school is one of many agencies concerned with this problem. To prevent frustration all of these agencies would attack the problem with mutual understanding.

Calera High Beta Club Activities

We started off the school year by electing our officers for the following year. They were as follows: Martha Rose Askins, president; Bobby H. Henson, vice president; Emogene Argo, secretary-treasurer; and Pat Woods, reporter. Later in the year because it was thought Emogene was going to move, Opal Spain was elected to take her place for the rest of the year.

Later on in the year when we took in new members we held an assembly for the tapping of the members. Our other assembly program we put on was about citizenship. Also at this program we gave a skit to be used at the Beta Club Convention in Birmingham.

The Club gave a play by the name of "Little Women" which was a great success. We received $40 from the play and gave the PTA $30 to help pay for the shrubbery. Other activities were making up a Christmas basket for a family, volunteeers worked in the office in the morning, gave a Chili supper to make money and gave a coffee urn to the school.

One big activity of the year was sponsoring of the school paper. We named the paper The Eagle and it was published every two weeks. We hope everyone enjoyed it as much as we enjoyed publishing it.

Seven members and our sponsor attended the Beta Club Convention. We were also accompanied by another teacher, Miss Odum. Everyone was inspired by this convention to go forward with our club for the following years.

With the closing of the year we elected our new officers for next year. We had this meeting at the home of Emogene Argo. The officers were as follows: Eugene Hadaway, president; Bobby H. Henson, vice president; Nancy Lee Walton, secretary-treasurer; and Rosemary Tortorigi, reporter. Also at this meeting we had Mr. Smith, our principal, as a guest speaker. He gave us many points on how to improve our club. We also discussed what we would do for next year.

Other members that held meetings at their homes are as follows: Bobby Henson, Martha Rose Askins, Eugene Hadaway, Rosemary Tortorigi, Nancy Walton, Eloise Stewart and we held our Christmas party in the basement of the Baptist Church.

VETERANS' COLUMN

STATE DEPT. OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS

By E. J. Sullivan

I was talking to a World War II veteran the other day and during the conversation, I learned that he is receiving compensation for a disability which was incurred in line of duty during World War II. The veteran told me that he is now receiving $15.75 a month, that is for a 10 per cent disability, but that it generally takes more than that amounty for him to pay for treatment from his physician and pay his monthly bill for medicine. It seems that the veteran is going to his doctor two or three times a month and is paying for these office visits out of his own pocket.

He was quite surprised when I told him that it may be possible to have the Veterans' Administration provide this treatment for him. In addition to the visits to his doctor, the VA could also furnish him with the necessary medicine. Remember this can be done only in case where the veteran is being treated for a service-incurred condition.

For instance, let's take the case of a veteran who is suffering with ulcers. He has filed a claim against the Veterans' Administration and it has been determined that his condition was incurred in service and he is receiving compensation according to the extent of his disability. It may be necessary that the veteran have periodic treatment from his family physician and his doctor may also prescribe certain medicine.

In such cases as this, all the veteran has to do is to file an application for outpatient treatment. I would like to remind you again that this benefit is available only to veterans with service-connected disabilities except Spanish-American War Veerans, who may receive outpatient treatment for disabilities which were not incurred in the service. If there is any doubt in your mind about your entitlement, contact your nearest County Veterans' Service Officer. He will give you the full details.

Bowdon Motors Gets Evinrude Agency

Mr. R. E. Bowdon, Jr., Bowdon Motor and Implement Co., Calera, Alabama, has been awarded a dealer franchise by Evinrude Outboard Motors of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

In making the announcement today, Mr. Bowdon assured outboard enthusiasts in Shelby County of factory authorized service for their motors.

"Needless to say, we are very happy to be chosen as the Evinrude dealer in this area. Since Ole Evinrude invented the first practical outboard motor in 1908, our line has been respected in the industry. Designers of our modern motors still use the basic engineering principles that were introduced by Ole Evinrude 43 years ago."

Mr. Bowdon said that his Evinrude line includes the new 3-horsepower "Lightwin" that weighs just 32 pounds; the "Fleetwin", a seven and one-half horsepower motor that combines power and light weight to make it the highest seller in the line; the brand new 15-horsepower "Super Fastwin" and the 25 horsepower "Big Twin." The latter, Mr. Bowdon says, "is the new king of outboards. It is powered to the highest level of outboard performance, yet it is moderate in size, weight and cost."

Alabama Ordnance Gets Overhauling

According to an announcement by the Mobile District Office of the Corps of Engineers, the successful bidder for the job of rehabilitating twenty-four buildings located at the Alabama Ordnance Works, Childersburg, Alabama, is the T. H. Pearce Company of Columbus, Ga., who submitted a low bid of $128,450.00. The work will include replacing defective sashes, roofs, girts, plates, studs and columns and applying cement-asbestos clapboard siding on all buildings.

The buildings have been in a stand-by status since 1945 and are now being used to house expensive machinery and equipment belonging to the Ordnance Corps. It is anticipated that work will commence early in June.

Farris Visits Chrysler Factory

O. C. Farris, president of the Calera Motors, Chrysler-Plymouth dealer in Calera, today returned from Detroit where he was one of more than 100 Atlanta Region dealers who visited the Chrysler plants and were guests at a dinner given by Chrysler Division.

Mr. Farris was one of several thousand operating heads of Chrysler dealerships who are scheduled to visit the factory, meet with executives and drive new cars back home this spring and summer under a long-range program designed to develop the most efficient operation between dealers and factory people.

"These meetings with Chrysler executives not only help us to get acquainted, but give Chrysler a chance to keep us informed to future plans in Chrysler's drive to gain a greater share of the automotive market than ever before in history," Mr. Farris said.

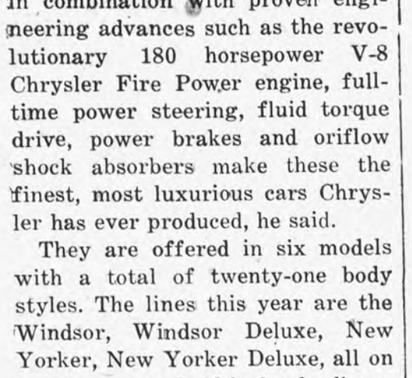

He invited the people of Calera to visit his dealership and see the Chryslers for 1953 which feature entirely new and beautiful body styling with long, low lines which emphasize the length and width of the cars.

The new, sleek Chrysler bodies in combination with proven engineering advances such as the revolutionary 180 horsepower V-8 Chrysler Fire Power engine, full-time power steering, fluid torque drive, power brakes and oriflow shock absorbers make these the finest, most luxurious cars Chrysler has ever produced, he said.

They are offered in six models with a total of twenty-one body styles. The lines this year are the Windsor, Windsor Deluxe, New Yorker, New Yorker Deluxe, all on a 125 and one-half inch wheelbase, Custom Imperial with a wheelbase of 133 and one-half inches and the Crown Imperial with a wheelbase of 145 and one-half inches.

Let's see how we pay our teachers as compared with our neighboring states.

ALABAMA'S AVERAGE SALARY FOR TEACHERS IS $2,537

(All instructional staff; classroom teachers $2,487)

| | |
|---|---|
| Georgia's average salary is $2,604 | $67 more than Alabama's |
| Louisiana's average salary is $2,700 | $163 more than Alabama's |
| North Carolina's average salary is $3,250 | $713 more than Alabama's |
| Texas' average salary is $3,347 | $810 more than Alabama's |
| Florida's average salary is $3,461 | $924 more than Alabama's |

(Florida's salary was recently increased from $3,236 by the 1953 Legislature.)

High salaries in other states attract many of our best teachers away from Alabama schools.

Your child's teacher must be college educated. Yet this teacher is asked to begin his career at about $2,100. This is less than most other beginning workers make, many of whom are not required to invest in a college education. When college training is required, many young people turn from education to other fields that pay better salaries. (Graduates in engineering are beginning work this year in Alabama at salaries ranging from $4,000 to $4,500.)

This loss of teachers to other states and other jobs means over-crowded classrooms and half-day sessions for many of our children.

WHAT CAN YOUR LEGISLATOR DO ABOUT THIS?

Your representative will have to vote on a bill to increase salaries of public school teachers by 10 percent. This bill is supported and urged by:

State Superintendent of Education
Alabama Congress of Parents and Teachers (P-TA)
Alabama Education Association

To increase public school teachers' salaries by 10 percent and to provide for increased enrollments and improved training will require approximately $7,000,000 a year.

To increase the salaries of college instructors, including employees of the extension services, will require approximately $1,400,000.

Low salary schedules are likewise robbing the state colleges of many of our more capable and better trained instructors. This, at a time when Alabama's social and economic development depends upon people highly trained in the technical and professional fields. These trained leaders should come from Alabama colleges. Your representative will have to vote on a 10 percent increase for college instructors. Urge him to vote for it.

STOP RAIDS ON SCHOOL FUND

The Educational Trust Fund was intended for education—for public schools and colleges. Exemptions from Alabama's sales tax now take more than $33 million a year from schools. Certain bills pending in the Legislature would use the Trust Fund for other purposes and weaken its support by new exemptions.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

Urge your legislator to represent YOU and YOUR child by:

1. Opposing all bills that would spend for other purposes the funds assigned to public education.
2. Opposing all bills that exempt special groups from the payment of the sales tax which was intended for support of education.
3. Voting for bills that would equalize the tax burden and at the same time provide additional funds for your child's education.
4. Voting for a bill authorizing a constitutional amendment that would permit the qualified voters of a particular county or city to say whether they wish to increase local taxes for schools.

Flying Farmers To Meet Here

Asa Roundtree, president of the Flying Farmers, has notified Cooper Shaw, a local member of the group, that the state organization will hold the June meeting at Montevallo. The date has been set for June 20. During the day any 4-H and F. F. A. boys will be given a free ride to observe the community from the air. The group will be guests of various friends of the flying farmers at a luncheon. The flying farmers is a growing and progressive organiaztion of leading farmers of Alabama and certainly we look forward to the Montevallo visit. The Montevallo F. F. A. and other organized groups will have an opportunity to cooperate in plans for the meeting.

News of Local F F A Activities

Montevallo F. F. A. boys were notified this week by T. L. Faulkner, Executive Secretary of Alabama Future Farmers, Auburn, Alabama that the chapter had been selected as one of the winners in the state chapter contest. There are 252 chapters in Alabama and this means that Montevallo ranks in the top six of these state units. It will not be known until the night of June 4 at Auburn when the awards are made just where the local unit ranks. Paul Wooley, president of the chapter, will be at Auburn next week to attend the state convention which begins with the opening session Thursday morning. Johnny Bell and R. L. Anthony, other F. F. A. officers, will also attend the three day convention.

Chapters are selected as state winners based on the preplanning of an annual activity program and scored as to the accomplishments in the program. This is the third consecutive year Montevallo has been among the top five chapters in the state. The chapter has 92 members active at this time. There are more than 6,000 members in the state association. M. Thornton is adviser of the Montevallo Chapter.

The Kendricks Visit Western States

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kendrick are home after a wonderful western trip, a second honeymoon, Mr. Kendrick says.

On Sunday, May 3, they left for Carlsbad, N. Mex., where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Watson Kendrick and family. On Wednesday they went thru Carlsbad Caverns and incidentally, Roy Rogers was a member of the tour. On Friday they left for Price, Utah, where they visited two brothers, Cyrus and Rudy Kendrick and families. Their next stop was Salt Lake City, Utah, and visits with a nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kendrick, and family and two nieces, Misses Fay and Gay Kendrick, all are students of the U of Utah. Sightseeing tours while at Salt Lake City, took them to Bingham Copper Quarry, the largest in the world, the great Salt Lake, Mormon Temple, and Mormon Shrine, also the Bingham Memorial.

On the trip home Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick were snow bound in the Rocky Mountains, at Berthone Pass in zero weather. After a night in a tourist court where the plumbing was frozen, the trip home was resumed. In Greenwood, Ark., they visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tinsley, a former superintendent of the Boothton Coal Mines.

Study Club Reports Community Progress

The Montevallo Study Club met Tuesday, May 26, at the home of Mrs. Frank Baker, with Mrs. Ashley Jeter as co-hostess.

During the business session, Mrs. T. Bridges, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, announced that the scholarship for the year 1953-54 ,would be awarded to Miss Joyce Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Lucas, of Underwood. Miss Lucas is graduating from Montevallo High School this year.

A review of community activities of local clubs and organizations was given by Mrs. A. C. Anderson and Mrs. C. O. Nordan. The community study has been made by the club for the third year. Its purpose is to make the community more aware of its civic responsibilities and to call attention of the community to the work of its various organizations. The organizations reported on were as follows:

The Montevallo Study Club during the year 1952-53 awarded a $100.00 scholarship to Eula Wilson, a Montevallo High School Graduate. Miss Wilson used the scholarship money to enable her to attend Reynolds Business College, Sylacauga, at night. The scholarship is awarded to outstanding graduates of Montevallo High School, with preference being given to applicants planning to attend Alabama College, but also to applicants planning to take Nurses' Training or a Business Course.

Contributions to five District and State Scholarship Funds were also given. The Club gave financial aid to the local driving school and several local welfare cases, Bryce Hospital Recreational Fund and conducted a sale of blind-made goods. A benefit bridge party was given by the Study Club in the fall in order to raise money for this club activity. The Christmas Tree on the Post Office corner was lighted by the Study Club.

The Studiosis Club sponsored a safety driving campaign which resulted in the organization of a Safety Committee composed of representatives of the various organizations of the town. It contributed financially to the Driving School.

The Business and Professional Women's Club sponsored the Driving School and paid the expenses of training an instructor at the University of Alabama. Forty-eight people were taught to drive, of which 24 were high school students and 24 were college students and townspeople.

The Recreation Board sponsored a planned recreation program for the townspeople last summer under the direction of a paid instructor. Their plans for the coming summer will be announced at an early date. According to the chairman of the board, the program will be given more publicity this summer. Weekly notices will be in the paper, swimming certificates and Jr. and Sr. life-saving certificates will be awarded. There will be soft ball for the men on Monday nights.

The Community Chest, which allocates its funds to needed welfare, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and the schools of the community failed to reach its quota this year by $284.00. Therefore, all of the Community Chest activities will be cut.

The Rotary Club conducted the Goodfellows drive. The club collected around $280.00 which was distributed to needy families during Christmas time in the form of boxes of food and toys. These boxes were made up and distributed by members of the Montevallo Study Club and the Yomaso Club. The Rotary Club sponsored the Red Cross Drive and the Boy Scouts. It will send a girl to Girls' State this summer. The Rotary Club contributed financially to the High School Cafeteria for chairs and to the County 4-H Club Council.

The Lions Club assisted in the State Sight Conservation Project of Lions Clubs and helped a number of local people to obtain glasses and other services. They sponsored a Fourth of July Bar-B-Q at the college lake last summer and several dances in order to raise money for the club activities. The Lions Club sponsored the Cancer Drive and contributed to the high school cafeteria. It will send a boy to Boys' State.

The Chamber of Commerce is very proud of the part it played in getting the Westinghouse Plant, which will be located on the Lawler Farm, 2 and one-half miles from Montevallo. The Chamber of Commerce raised $10,000 to pay for half of the grading of the Westinghouse site. A great deal of time was spent in correspondence and meetings with the officials of the plant and officers of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce lighted the town Christmas lights with a fund raised by the local merchants. It sponsored the Farmers Market. It furnished entrance signs and other signs for the town. It finished paying the two-years' rent for the Eiseman Furniture Factory. This rent was paid in order to help this industry become established in Montevallo.

The Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the State Planning Commission has published and mailed three booklets to prospective industries welcoming them and showing the advantages of industrial development in the Montevallo area.

The Boy Scouts have been reorganized by the Boy Scout Council and now have around 22 members. Four dens of cub scouts have been organized. Several boys are going to Camp Horn this summer. The Scout Council has repaired the Boy Scout House and the scouts are obtaining new uniforms.

The American Legion Auxiliary has sent books and magazines to boys in Korea; sent approximately 200 magazines to Tuscaloosa Veterans' hospital; collected clothes for recent Siluria storm victims; held annual Valentine dinner for the public, profit from which was used to purchase new stove and fifty place settings of silver, china, crystal, for the Legion Hut; sold poppies on Poppy Day; distributed boxes to needy families at Christmas. At present the Auxiliary is interested in working with other organizations in organizing a civil defense program for Montevallo.

The Town Council has outlined a program of public improvements which includes street paving and the construction of a fire house and jail as an addition to the new city hall. Engineers and architects have been engaged for these proposals, details of which will be ready for procedure by the Council in a few days.

The fire house and jail will be an addition to the city hall, occupying the space reserved for this purpose by the former Council, between the city hall and the Chevrolet Building. Cost of this improvement is expected to be about $12,000.00.

The street paving is planned to cost about $50,000.00, consisting of paving, curbs, gutters, and some sidewalk. Major portion of the paving will be in the Arden Subdivision.

Other segments of streets to be improved include Valley Street

Miss Iva Gibson Dean of Students

Coming to Alabama College the new Dean of Students, Miss Iva Gibson, now Dean of Women at Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga., will direct student advisement, guidance, the student work program, scholarship awards, and will supervise social and residential life of the Montevallo campus.

Native of Spartanburg, S. C.,, Miss Gibson received her A.B. degree from Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C. At Columbia University she studied student Personnel Administration to obtain her Master's degree.

After teaching in the public schools of Columbia, S. C., Miss Gibson held her fist position as Dean of Women at her Alma Mater, Winthrop College in Rock Hill, S. C.

In 1945 she became Dean of Women and Associate Professor of English at Wesleyan College in Macon.

A member of the American Association of University Women, Pi Lambda Theta and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternities, Miss Gibson will arrive in Montevall August 1 to take up her duties as Dean of Students at Alabama College.

Teachers Attend Child Study Course

Under the leadership of Dr. Walter Waetjen and Dr. H. V. Perkins, members of the faculty of Maryland University, thirty nine teachers from Cullman County, Cullman City, Shelby County, Decatur City, and Tuscaloosa County school systems began a two weeks' child study workshop at Cullman high school on June 1. These teachers will continue an intensive program of child study through next school year. Serving as consultants will be members of the staff of Maryland University.

Following are the teachers and supervisors enrolled from Shelby County:

Mrs. Irene Hamric, Mrs. Inez Underwood, Mrs. Sarah Walker, Mrs. Nannie Dee Durden, Miss Anita King, Miss Aileen Pope, and Miss Margie Sullivan.

Since very little water can be used in a double boiler, it sometimes boils away without warning. You can avoid this by placing a jar lid in the water compartment. When the water gets low, the lid will rattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Peete Going To Miami

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peete have been selected as delegates to represent the Shelby County Teachers' Association Education Association at the 91st annual meeting of the National Education Association scheduled to be held in Miami Beach, June 28-July 3. The NEA is the professional association for teachers.

Approximately 3,500 delegates, officially representing state and local associations, will be among those attending one of the nation's largest educational conventions. The delegates will represent every state as well as the District of Columbia and the territories of Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico.

The delegates will also attend the 32nd delegate assembly—held in conjunction with the annual NEA meeting. An estimated 7,000 teachers, parents and lay people are expected to attend the convention.

Medical Society Honors Dr. Crowe

More honors came to Ocean City last week, closely following the election of Mrs. Wilson Y. Christian as president of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, when Dr. Aldrich C. Crowe was elected a delegate from the Medical Society of New Jersey to the American Medical Association for 1954-55.

He was elected at the annual meeting of the state society last week in Atlantic City. Dr. Crowe formerly served one term as president of the New Jersey society.

Day Of Prayer At Wilton

Thirteen members of the Wilton WMS observed a day of prayer with the Kathleen Mallory Mission offering, May 27, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Thompson.

Bro. Thompson brought an inspiring devotional based on the text "Let us go up at once and possess it, for we are well able to overcome it." Numbers 13:30.

The program theme was Possessing Alabama for Christ. A generous offering was made for furthering Mission work in the State.

Luncheon was served after the program, and the ladies were reluctant to leave this hospitable home after an enjoyable day.

Barber's Establishes Milk Route Here

Mr. W. O. Head, route supervisor for Barber's Dairy, Birmingham, this week announces that his Company is beginning distribution of Barber's products through stores in Montevallo.

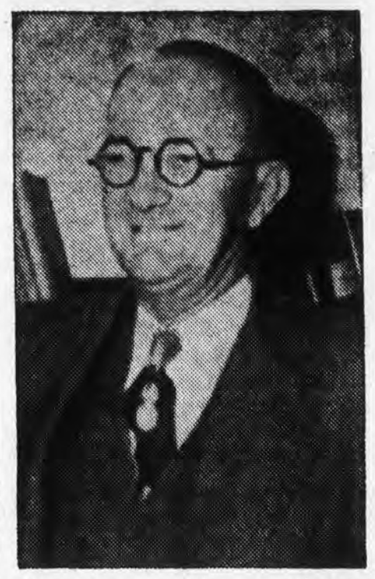

Mr. Paul Cable will be in charge of the Montevallo route and will make daily deliveries to stores in this area.

You are invited to call for Barber's when you order dairy products from your grocer.

Summer School Events Announced By Dr. M. L. Orr

The first session of Alabama College's Summer School opens June 8 and continues to July 17, Dr. M. L. Orr, Sr., Summer School Director, announced today.

Beginninng July 20 the second session will continue to August 21. Teacher Training and Alcohol Workshops will run through the two sessions; Summer Art Center and Resource Education Workshops, June 8 to July 17.

Numbered among visiting faculty members to take part in the summer sessions will be Dr. Alice Keliher, professor of education at New York University who will be special consultant to the Teacher Training Workshop.

Ten summer conferences will be held on the Montevallo campus during the two sessions. Future Homemakers of America will meet June 3 through 5; Alabama Writer's Conclave, June 8-10; Secretarial Science Workshop June 11-13; the Methodist Youth Association, June 15-20; Family Life Conference, August 3-8; Alabama Christian Mission, August 9-14; Alabama Education Association Leadership Conference, August 14 to 16; Alabama Art Conference, date to be set.

Outstanding conference leaders will be Dr. Paul Popenoe, founder and director of the American Institute of Family Relations, and Mr. Roy Dickerson, Executive Secretary of the Cincinnati Social Hygiene Society who will lead the Family life Conference.

Addressing the Writer's Conclave will be Dr. Ralph Draughon, president, API, and Dr. Archibald Rutledge, South Carolina author.

Dr. John Rowe, professor of business education at Northern Illinois State Teacher's College and Charles Zoubek, shorthand editor of the Gregg Publishing Co., New York, will lead discussions and classes during the Secretarial Science Workshop.

Lovelady Employs A TV Expert

Don Lovelady announces that he has employed Mr. Edgar Evans as television repair and service man with his organization, effective immediately.

Mr. Evans has had extensive training in repairing all makes of TV sets and was formerly with Goodyear Stores in Birmingham.

"If you have any TV troubles, let us know," says Don. "We have the man you need to fix it."

Island Street from Shelby Street to Middle Street; a portion of Shelby Street from Valley Street extending about a block and a half toward Aldrich Road; Vine Street from the intersection of Morgan Street down to the play ground at the creek; sidewalk in front of F. F. Crowe Village and possibly extending toward the business district to Mrs. Duran's Corner.

The Water Board has made provisions for extending its water service to meet the needs of the new Westinghouse Plant. In addition to providing the needs of Westinghouse, the Water Board has included in its plans the extension and improvement of its facilities for service within the Town by addition of larger pumping facilities and more filtering capacity. This will mean more adequate water for domestic consumption and for fire protection.

The Town plans to continue its support of the summer recreation program so long as the people feel that they want it. This will depend upon the use that the people make of the recreation program and whether or not they are satisfied with it and want it continued.

The Housing Authority has completed 20 white and 32 colored residence units. To date it is reported that 19 white units and 22 colored units are occupied.

Montevallo Development Company is going forward with an extensive construction program of nice residences in Arden Subdivision. Nine houses are about completed, some of which are already sold. Further building plans await the proposed street paving program.

The American Legion is proud of the fact that it owns its own meeting place, which is also used by other organizations for meetings and social functions. A good deal of time has been spent by the membership in beautifying the hut.

The Legion has a membership of 203, the largest number ever had. It has conducted one military funeral, is sending a boy to Boys' State, is helping local veterans obtain medical aid, contributed to the community chest, sponsored and contributed to the Oratorical Contest in addition to holding dances and fish fries for the members and their wives.

The Montevallo Girl Scouts have completed a good year. The Intermediate Troop under the leadership of Miss Mary Ruth Carson and Miss Martha Blackburn have participated in the following activities: In the fall there were hikes and picnics to the college lake. They worked on Scout badges. There was a Christmas party. In the spring there was a field trip to Birmingham where they visited Vulcan Park, the Scout department in down town stores, and attended a Salute To Scouting sponsored by the Birmingham Girl Scouts at the Municipal Auditorium. They have recently entertained The Campfire Girls from Alexander City for a week end at the Little House. Activities included swimming at Big Spring, a hike to the college lake, games and songs.

The Brownies under the leadership of Mrs. R. M. Herrick and Mrs. V. E. Williams have participated in the following activities: They have learned new folk dances, Brownie songs and many interesting games, they have learned how to follow a rock trail and something of the out of doors. They made Christmas cards and had a Christmas party. They attended The Salute To Scouting in Birmingham.

Oliver Martin

Mr. Oliver Martin passed away at the home of his son, J. C. Martin, Saturday evening at 6 p.m., suffering from a heart attack.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. J. O. Wilson, Clanton; Mrs. Harry Horton, Calera; Mrs. C. H. Wyatt, Siluria; Mrs. William Adams, Siluria. Two sons, J. C. and Lawrence Martin of Calera. Two sisters, Mrs. Sam Busby and Mrs. Ed Haynes. Two brothers, C. B. and Jesse Martin.

Funeral services were held from the Shiloh Methodist Church at 3 p.m.

Rev. L. B. Stewart officiating, and Rev. Homer Carroll of Jemison, assisting. Burial in the Rock Springs Cemetery.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Harvest of the amazing new grazing, hay, and erosion controlling Chapel Hill Rescue grass is now in full swing in Shelby County.

Heavy yields have already been harvested at the Columbiana FFA 6-acre seed patch, the Vincent FFA 14-acre seed patch, and one at the Shelby County Training School.

Most growers are finding combining this grass a very slow and patience trying job, due to the great mass of seed clogging augurs and elevators. However, we had the pleasure of watching Jimmie Rowe Jr. cruising effortlessly through his 8-acre seed patch gathering over a ton per hour of cleaner than usual seed. Jimmie also combined the Vincennt FFA crop, and loaned one of the three combines tried on the wind tossed Columbiana FFA seed patch. Jimmie's 12-foot self propelled combine seemed to have capacity for even heavier seed crops.

J. M. Rowe, Sr. commented Saturday that the Chapel Hill Rescue is the best grass he has seen for winter grazing and spring hay.

J. B. Lowery may have this year's heaviest yield per acre, as this one acre patch is remarkably good. It is certain that it is on the lowest, wettest ground on which we have seen rescue tried.

Jim Kidd may be at the top in acre yields on his five acre patch, but all claims to this positionn will have to await final dry seed weights.

Harvest of other soil conserving and grazing crops such as crimson clover, ball clover, fescue, ryegrass, etc., is also continuing, blest with unusually favorable weather.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The Department of Labor and the Department of Health, Welfare, and Education (formerly the Federal Security Agency) will be operating next year on approximately $275 million less than they did in fiscal year 1953 if the Senate goes along with the House's recommendations on funds for the two departments.

House members voted to appropriate almost two billion dollars for federal expenses in the field of labor, health, welfare, and education. This amount is a large reduction in former President Truman's budget request and considerably less than President Eisenhower's budget estimate.

When the House acted on this appropriation bill, I voted for the amendments to restore funds for aid to vocational education, vocational rehabilitation, and hospital construction under the Hill-Burton Act which had been cut by the Appropriations Committee before the bill reached the House. The House voted in favor of restoring funds for vocational education and vocational rehabilitation, but it failed by only six votes to approve $25 million more for the hospital construction program.

To support my vote for sufficient funds for the hospital and medical center construction program, I made a speech before the House on May 25 to urge that the amount for 1954 be set at $75 million rather than the $50 million.

Even though I have consistently cast my vote for economy whenever I thought it advisable. I think it is unfortunate that the House slashed the appropriations for federal aid in the building of hospitals and medical centers. Since there is now a shortage of 733,000 hospital beds in this country, the House approved $50 million will make it necessary for the program to operate on a greatly reduced basis.

Many Without Doctors

In addressing the House, I called the members' attention to the fact that many rural communities are without hospitals and some without doctors. Most doctors are reluctant to go into rural areas where they do not have the facilities to practice the specialized medicine they were taught. A large part of the federal aid to hospitals is designated for communities of 5000 population or less, and this aid has made available to many doctors the facilities they require. Under the Hill-Burton Act, 430 communities have medical facilities built under the program render great services to their own localities, but they could also serve as evacuation centers for big-city areas if war or other catastrophe should strike this nation.

Since the law itself permits up to $150 million for the Hill-Burton program each year, I do not feel I was unreasonable in supporting an appropriation of $75 million for hospital construction next year. Although the House voted only $50 million, it is entirely possible the Senate will see fit to increase this sum. If it does, then a House and Senate Conference Committee will probably place the final appropriation somewhere between $50 and $75 million.

For federal aid to states in vocational education and vocational rehabilitation, the House restored funds of $2.6 million and $2.4 million respectively.

Despite the dire need for budget balancing, it would be false economy to eliminate funds for these two programs which, in the long run, boost our national economy by providing more people with jobs that enable them to stay off the relief rolls and give them opportunities to become productive and self-reliant.

Through the rehabilitation program, many crippled or blind adults are now making their own way and helping to support the high cost of national defense. By restoring the earning power of those so unfortunately handicapped, we not only contribute to our national economy, but we restore self-respect to the afflicted. This is a program of assistance that simply cannot be neglected.

On the other hand, nothing is more important to our national economy than to train our healthly boys and girls to earn a living and make a home. The great vocational education program which is working so successfully today could not be possible without federal cooperation. The vocational program includes the teaching of agriculture, home economics, distributive education and trade and industrial education. Many of the subjects are taught at night for the benefit of working people.

Even with the increases in funds for vocational education and vocational rehabilitation, the budget approved by the House for federal labor, health, welfare, and educational activities is $117 million less than former President Truman's request. It is also $41 million below President Eisenhower's estimate.

House Approves Further Budget Cuts

Acting on another appropriation bill last week, the House approved $412 million for civil functions, Department of the Army, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1954. This is about four million dollars less than the amount asked by the Appropriations Committee. It is $80 million less than the President's estimates and $168 million below the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year.

This civil functions bill includes approximately $5 million for the Demopolis Lock and Dam, an important link of the Warrior-Tombigbee Waterway system. No funds were included for new construction, but during the discussion of the bill, I made a statement to the members of the House which I emphasized the necessity of any early start on the proposed Warrior Lock and Dam. This dam will replace Locks 8 and 9 which are reported by the Corps of Engineers to be in critical condition.

The two big appropriations bills just passed by the House—the one for labor, health, welfare and education and the one for civil functions—represent a substantial reduction in expenditures on the part of the House and are significant steps in the direction of economy in our federal government.

McBurnett Family Gets Three Diplomas

This was graduation week for the entire McBurnett family, the mother of the family, Helen McBurnett received her B.S. degree in Elementary Education from Alabama College Monday.

Mrs. McBurnett's seventeen year old daughter, Annette, who has been a cheerleader for the Montevallo football team, and had part in just about every student activity at school, graduated from high school Tuesday evening.

Annette, like her mother, has chosen to go right on with her education.

Twelve year old Jack is just beginning what looks to him like a long career ahead, for he is a little reluctant to even talk about callege as his biggest day at the moment is his graduation this week from the Montevallo elementary school.

He says he won't follow family tradition and attend the Women's College at Montevallo, Jack wants to go to the University of Alabama "to play football, of course."

The McBurnett family has been attending Montevallo schools ever since the Fall of 1950 when Mrs. McBurnett finished her first year of teaching on an emergency certificate and decided to earn her college degree.

So from Piper, Ala., the McBurnetts moved to Montevallo where all three enrolled as students.

Summers Annette attended FHA convention on the Montevallo campus.

Mrs. McBurnett also found time to work downtown in a department store afternoons and Saturdays.

Recalling those "hectic college days" she says that while most other students were through classes at about 4:30 or 5, she had to go to work, then wonder what to have for supper and how she would have time to get that supper prepared.

But it's been fun, she declares.

Mrs. McBurnett plans to teach again this Fall. She will teach 4th grade at McAdory School in Bessemer.

More School Funds Provided In Bill Before Legislature

Shelby County schools would get $51,892 more each year from state funds if the Legislature adopts the proposal of school leaders, the Alabama Education Association announced today in Montgomery.

Legislators are being asked to increase the teacher salary state appropriation by ten per cent.

"Sales tax exemptions for special groups take more than $33 million a year from schools. More exemptions may be permitted by this Legislature unless certain bills now pending in the Legislature are stopped. Adequate school funds could be provided and the tax load equalized were these exemptions from the sales tax removed.

"Teachers' salaries are below most laborers' and Alabama is losing teachers to Georgia and Florida. One Alabama teachers college reports 40 per cent of its graduates are going to other states because our salaries are so low," the AEA state further. "A principal and his wife recently resigned their positions in one of the State's largest school systems to accept positions in Florida at increases totaling $2,800."

Eliminating sales tax exemptions would provide enough money for both reasonable teacher salaries and a good school building program. One out of every three Alabama children attends school in buildings judged inadequate—some condemned and dangerously close to falling; others with outside and unsanitary toilets or no toilets at all; some with no lunch facilities; some where overcrowded rooms create extreme fire and health hazards. Such conditions exist throughout the state where kids are trying to learn.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

President Eisenhower is making rapid and extensive use of his powers to reorganize executive branches of the government.

Early in February he signed a bill which gave him authority to submit plans to Congress for changes in government departments. The authority expires April 1, 1955.

Such plans for reorganizing the branches of the government become law in 60 days after they are submitted by the President unless they are disapproved by vote of a constitutional majority of either the House or Senate. A constitutional majority is a majority of all the House or Senate members rather than the majority of those who are present when the voting takes place. In the case of the House, the necessary majority is 218 votes. Congress has the authority to submit bills for passage of reorganization plans which, if approved, make the plans effective in less than 60 days.

Former President Truman used his reorganization powers from 1949 to 1952. A major reorganization plan went into effect during the last year of his administration. It placed all jobs in the Bureau of Internal Revenue under Civil Service except that of the top commissioner. Under the plan, the 64 officers of Collector of Internal Revenue were abolished.

Two Plans Approved

Since he began using reorganization powers, President Eisenhower has already seen two of his plans go into effect. The first one established the Department of Health, Education and Welfare which replaced the Federal Security Administration and made the head of the new department a member of the President's Cabinet.

The President's second plan is one to reorganize the Department of Agriculture. A number of House members sought to bring this plan to the floor for debate. But it was evident that the required constitutional majority necessary to block the plan was lacking, and the effort to bring proposal to the floor was defeated. The Senate had previously failed to disapprove the plan. As a result, the second reorganization plan of 1953 went into effect at midnight on June 3, exactly 60 days after it was submitted by the President.

The major difference between the two approved reorganization plans is, of course, that the first one created an entirely new governmental department, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The second plan is designed to allow reorganization in an already long-standing governmental branch, the Department of Agriculture.

Reorganization of the Agriculture Department is aimed at simplifying and improving its internal operation. President Eisenhower hopes the changes will place the administration of farm programs close to state and local levels and will adapt the administration of the program to regional, state and local conditions. It is also generally believed that the reorganization will bring about substantial savings in the Department.

The Agriculture Department has only one assistant secretary at the present, but the new plan provides for two additional assistant secretaries and an administrative assistant to help in supervising the Department. The secretaries will be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. The administrative assistant will be a Civil Service appointee of the Secretary of the Department with the President's approval. Secretary of Agriculture Benson says that both the number of employees and the total of their salaries in the office of the Secretary will be less than prior to January 1, 1953.

Other Proposals

Besides the two reorganization plans already in effect, four more were recently submitted to Congress by the President. They are plans to (1) Reorganize the Council of Economic Advisers to obtain "the best economic thinking in the country." The proposal includes revamping the Council to re-establish a three-member Board with its own staff. The Chairman of the Board would report to the President on Council activities.

(2). Transfer from the Post Office Department to the Civil Aeronautics Board the responsibility for payment of airmail subsidies and provide for "a complete and formal separation of subsidy from compensation for the transportation of mail."

(3). Consolidate in a new Foreign Operations Administration under State Department policy control all foreign assistance and related economic programs which are now scattered among several different agencies.

(4). Centralize in a new United States Information Agency the information activities of the Mutual Security Agency, Technical Cooperation Administration, the Voice of America and the programs financed in connection with government in occupied areas. The proposed agency would be controlled by the State Department.

Big Interest in Reforms

President Eisenhower believes that approval of his reorganization plans will be major steps toward economy and increased efficiency in government. And the President is obviously not alone in his beliefs in governmental reform. His first two plans received sufficient support to put them into effect. Other than that, another indication of growing interest in governmental reform is the fact that innumerable bills calling for various reorganization plans have been introduced by Congressmen themselves. Some of the proposals have gained popularity while others remain highly controversial.

But, as I predicted in an earlier column, this year will probably see big changes in several branches of the federal government. Whether or not they will be as constructive as President Eisenhower believes remains to be seen.

ers Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Murice Presley Jeter celebrated their 50th Anniversary of their marriage on Sunday afternoon, June 7.

The Jeter children, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Jeter, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Jeter, and Mr. and Mrs. Presley Jeter II honored their parents with a tea.

Mrs. N. E. Phillips, daughter, received the guests and Miss Ella Peters kept the guest book.

Mrs. Jeter was lovely in rose hemberg with white orchid. Mr. Jeter's boutonniere was a yellow rose bud.

In keeping with the golden wedding, gold and white was the color scheme.

On the tea table was featured the tierred wedding cake ornamental with white and yellow roses and bells, while a floral arrangement of white and yellow gladiolus and chrysanthemums adorned the buffet.

Serving at the punch and tea tables were Mrs. F. H. Frost, Sr., Mrs. R. A. Reid, Mrs. H. J. Parker, Mrs. J. I. Reid, Mrs. Murray Conner Fancher, and Mrs. M. P. Jeter III.

Thru out the house were baskets and vases of lovely yellow roses, gladiolus and chrysanthemums, many of which were sent by friends unable to be with the Jeters.

During the hours from four to six many friends from Montevallo and neighboring towns called. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rogers, Fairfield; Miss Edith Money, Scottsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Jason McLaughlin, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Randall, Birmingham; Mrs. J. O. Young, Selma; Mrs. A. K. Parks and daughter, Mrs. R. T. Humber III, Montgomery; Mrs. Ashley Collins, Columbus, Ga., and Mrs. Courtney Carter, Selma.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeter had all their children and grand children except one grand daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ed Jeter Phillips with them Sunday to enjoy this lovely party and joyous occasion.

Holy Communion St. Andrews Church

There will be a celebration of Holy Communion on Sunday, June 14, at 4:30 in the afternoon at St. Andrews Episcopal Church, the Rev. Robert Y. Marlow from St. Andrews, Birmingham, officiating.

The usual eleven o'clock service will be omitted. On the following Sunday, June 21, however, there will be a service of Morning Prayer at 11 a.m. as usual. Late services will depend on the attendance on June 21, so it is to be hoped that all who want regular services to be held this summer will make an effort to be there.

Our many friends outside of the regular membership, as well, are cordially invited to come to any services held.

Bible School At Wilton

The annual Vacation Bible School opened at the Wilton Baptist Church Monday at 8:00 with 72 present. On Tuesday, the attendance had jumped to 80. The largest attendance last year was 68.

The pastor, Rev. R. G. Thompson, is being ably assisted by a corps of workers. The children are enjoying Bible Study, recreation, handwork, notebook work, and singing. The school will last two weeks so that every child will have the opportunity to learn much of the Bible, and enjoy the other parts of the school.

Any children who are not yet coming are given a most cordial invitation to come for the second week.

The commencement for the school will be held Friday night, June 19, 1953, at 7:00. All people are invited to this service to see what has been learned.

ON THE FARMS of Shelby County

Farmers moving to a new farm are usually more concerned with having a soil survey and a conservation plan made on their new place than those who have spent their lives on a single farm. Being familiar with the land on which they have farmed for years, the latter believes that they "know this land better than any outsider could."

Where ordinary or established crops and methods of farming are concerned these men do know their farms.

In recent years many new crops and more scientific methods of growing familiar crops have come into being.

To make the fullest use of these and to use all the land in a way that will assure greatest production over the largest period of time, a soil survey is of the greatest importance.

Whether it is a strange new farm or a familiar one the trained soils scientists can distinguish difference in soils or terrain that will escape the untrained eye.

In a single state there may be several hundred different soils, with many differences in slope, erosion, or man made differences. There will be several differing areas on a single farm and each may require different crops, rotating, water control, or special tillage to assure continued productivity.

Many Shelby County farmers have had Soil Conservation Service soils men make such a survey of their land when they became cooperators of the North Central Soil Conservation District. Most of these have gone a step farther and had the County SCS men help them make a conservation farm plan. Most of these have put part of that plan into effect, some have carried out the whole plan.

Some farmers, of course, have not yet realized the value of the complete conservation plan, or else had not taken the necessary care and time in developing the plan in the first place. In some cases the plan does not fit the farmers' need.

In the picture illustrating this column we see a farmer, his son and the SCS planner seriously at work making a workable plan that can keep this farm productive and assure the youngster a future security.

Even the dog seems to know that life is going to be easier and fuller under the new system of land use.

We would like to suggest that each farmer put his conservation farm plan to work. We will gladly assist in necessary new plans or revision of old plans that don't quite fit.

Flying Farmers Here June 20

Kermit Tucker, president of Alabama Flying Farmers, has announced that the monthly meeting will be held Saturday, June 20, with the Montevallo FFA Chapter. Byron Grant, Livingston, Ala., will supervise the tour when all FFA members will see this area from the air.

It is expected that the regular monthly meeting for business and announcements will be held at 10 o'clock and a luncheon will be held in the Legion Home at Montevallo. Cooper Shaw, local pilot and member of Flying Farmers, is helping the FFA boys and their adviser, M. Thornton, make all plans for the day. The tour will be held in the afternoon and the FFA boys will have with them special permission from parents in order to take part in the aerial tour.

Several interested citizens in the community are being given a chance to help with the meeting by serving as hosts at the luncheon.

Paul Wooley, president of Montevallo chapter, will be present to supervise the FFA part in the program. All FFA boys should contact either Paul Wooley, Cooper Shaw or M. Thornton at once in order that we can know how many to make provisions for.

Paul Wooley, FFA president, brought back the Silver Award for the Montevallo chapter from the State Convention at Auburn last week. Montevallo ranks third from the top among the 257 chapters in Alabama. The chapter will compete for national awards in the National Convention in Kansas City in October.

Thompson High School News

Brocks Jones has been appointed Band Director and Music Instructor for the fall term. He received his degree in music from the Livingston State College. He has been director of band at Orrville High School. He is working toward the Master's degree in music at the University of Alabama during the summer session.

Mr. Jones plans to move to Siluria the latter part of August to assume duties as Music Director of Band.

Mrs. Jones received appointment to the elementary faculty. She holds a B.S. degree from Livingston.

Miss Mary Harriet Plyler has been appointed Head of the Vocational Home Economics Department here today. She is a native of Guin, Alabama, a recent graduate lege where she majored in Home Economics. She was listed in the "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," past president of the Women's Student Government, and was quite active in YWCA work while a student at Florence.

Mrs. M. Stutson has been appointed a member of the elementary faculty here. She will complete requirements for the B.S. degree at Alabama College in August and will teach in the upper elementary division. She comes to Thompson from Helena Junior High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Foots Parnell II and son Foots III of Hattisburg, Miss., were week end guests of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Parnell.

Untie This Package For School Funds

EVERYBODY AGREES . . . that his child should have the best teachers to be had. But good teachers cost money. At present salaries, they cannot be secured or held in Alabama, at either public school or college level in the number needed.

Since schools closed, many Alabama teachers, experienced and beginning, are looking elsewhere for jobs. This, at a time when school doors are opening next Fall for the 87,242 children born in 1947 (a record number of births). Who will teach them? Where will they sit? If one of these young hopefuls is YOURS, you are much concerned with the answers.

A proposal to use the Educational Trust Fund Surplus for teachers' salaries is now pending before the Legislature. This would provide an appreciable increase but not enough to hold our best teachers.

The AEA is asking that the State increase yearly appropriations for teachers' salaries by at least ten per cent.

THIS WOULD COST { FOR PUBLIC SCHOOL SALARIES ABOUT $4,942,000 (To provide for additional teachers as needed and for improved training would require $2 million more) FOR COLLEGE SALARIES ABOUT $1,[illegible],000

MAKE ALABAMA TEACHING ATTRACTIVE

An Alabama business man recently visited a north Florida city. Upon calling at the school superintendent's office he observed six Alabama teachers waiting for interviews.

A South Alabama superintendent went to one of Alabama's teachers' colleges seeking teachers among the recent graduates. He found only six not already placed. None of the six was interested in the salaries he had to offer.

A principal and his wife lately resigned from one of Alabama's larger school systems to accept positions in Florida. Their combined salaries will total $2,800 more than they received in Alabama.

Give Alabama teachers better salaries that will more nearly compete with salaries in neighboring states.

WHERE TO GET THE MONEY

1. KEEP SCHOOL TAX REVENUE FOR SCHOOLS ONLY.

House Bill 19 would use school money for building auditoriums and a residence at three of the agricultural sub-stations. House Bill 26 would use school money for research in the control of the pink boll worm. These services are more closely related to agriculture than to education. Why not finance them from agricultural funds?

2. MAKE SCHOOL TAXES WORK FOR SCHOOLS AS INTENDED.

Forty-One sales tax exemptions cost the schools $33 million a year. House Bill 167 would increase this loss by exempting the sales of caskets and burial supplies from sales and use taxes. Why add another exemption?

3. UNTIE THIS $33 MILLION PACKAGE OF ITEMS EXEMPTED FROM THE SALES TAX AND PUT THEM TO WORK FOR SCHOOLS.

Most of the sales tax collected is used for this purpose. But $33 million in potential receipts from the sales tax are never collected. They are wrapped up in a package of 41 exempted items on which no sales tax is paid. Untie this $33 million package. Provide your child with that good teacher you want him to have. Finance an adequate school building program. Help equalize the tax burden.

Writers Conclave At Alabama College

The 30th annual Alabama Writer's Conclave held this week on the Alabama College campus attracted more than 100 writers from Alabama and the South.

With the "Art of Story Telling" as the theme the 3 day meeting concluded Wednesday night at the annual Conclave banquet with Dr. Ralph Draughon, Alabama Polytechnic Institute president as the principal speaker.

Alabama born Lurton Blasingame, outstanding American literary critic and agent of New York, highlighted the Tuesday evening General Session with an address on Publishing Writers Today.

The three day meeting included a formal reception Monday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. Edward Lund, president of Alabama College; discussions Tuesday morning by Dr. Albert Scroggins, head of the Journalism Department, Howard College, Dr. Archibald Rutledge, Poet Laureate of South Carolina, and Mildred Gann Hill, the Birmingham News, and meetings and discussions concerning the theatre, radio, poetry, and Alabama authors.

Among those participating in this year's Conclave program planned by Frances Durham, Mobile, general Program Chairman are: Rev. Eugene Peacock, writer, lecturer and pastor of St. Francis Street Methodist Church, Mobile; Fred Woodress, Amusement Editor, the Birmingham Post-Herald; Nell Bigbee, of radio station WALY, Sheffield; Dr. Walter H. Trumbauer, director Alabama College Theatre; James Hatcher, director Town and Gown, University of Alabama, Center, Birmingham; L. Lamar Matthews, Birmingham author, and P. O. Davis, Auburn, director agricultural Extension Service, API.

At the business session Tuesday, the Alabama Writer's Conclave acted to select a Poet Laureate of Alabama to succeed the late Samuel Menturn Peck of Tuscaloosa and first state poet laureate.

Legislation creating this office was set up in 1931 with the Conclave authorized to nominate, and the Governor to approve the poet laureate.

Mrs. Mollie Hollifield Jones, Conclave president, appointed the following as a selection committee: Elizabeth Sheehan, Montgomery; Mary Butler, Selma; William J. Calvert, Jacksonville; Sallie Hill, Birmingham and Frances Durham, Mobile. Wishing to have as much democratic participation as possible in the selection of a Poet Laureate the committee welcomes nominations from groups and individuals throughout Alabama.

Tuesday evening's general session included the presentation of new Conclave officers who are: Mrs. Mildred King Elberti, Birmingham, president; Mrs. Madera Adams Spencer, Montgomery, Dr. Maude Tipton, Bessemer, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. Nell Bigbee, Sheffield, recording secretary; Miss Vivian Wood, Birmingham, corresponding secretary; Dr. M. L. Orr, Alabama College Summer School Director and Education Department head, Treasurer; and Miss Marie Sewall, Auburn, Historian.

B. F. Lunsford Is Bessemer Manager Of Southern Bell

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company today announced the appointment of B. F. Lunsford as Bessemer group manager effective June 15.

Lunsford succeeds S. C. Stutts, manager since 1950, who has been promoted to manager of the company's Middle Alabama District.

Telephone Exchanges under the new manager's supervision are in Bessemer, Centreville, Calera, Columbiana, Montevallo, Siluria and West Blocton.

Lunsford was formerly manager in Anniston, a position he has held since August 1951.

Prior to his appointment in Anniston, Lunsford held various posts in the company's division office in Birmingham and in Mobile and Birmingham business offices.

A graduate of Mercer University, Lunsford began his telephone career in 1926.

Shelby County Pays Off Debt On July First

It comes as exceedingly good news from the County Board of Revenue of Shelby County that on July 1 the last dollar of Shelby County's bonded debt will be paid off.

This debt was incurred about thirty years ago, and the problem of paying it and the interest each year while at the same time carrying forward the many other necessary functions of our County's fiscal system has indeed posed a puzzling problem to the men who have had to wrestle with it through the years.

The accomplishments of our Board of Revenue members that has finally brought Shelby County to this debt-free status is a record that elicits the praise of all our citizens. It has been no easy job to do, which fact further emphasizes the good business practices that have brought it about.

Some of the County officials who had a part in this 30-year record have not been spared to remain to see the success of their labors.

Tom Nash of the Third District stands out as one of the great characters in the record of our County's operations of the past 30 years. He has been a member of the Board continuously since 1925. His is an all-time record for length of public service in Shelby County. Fully compatible with his long years of service is the tenacity with which he has even held to the unyielding principle of sound business in the County's affairs.

Associated with Mr. Nash in his years of service on the Board have been J. F. McGraw, W. E. Merrell, J. M. Lyon, W. L. Brown and L. C. Walker as chairman of the Board.

Members of the Board with Mr. Nash have been M. H. B. Jones, C. R. Tinney, Thomas Minor, Hoyt Blalock, Offie Stinson, J. M. Frost, T. W. Ingram, S. M. Lawley, S. M. Tatum, W. L. Ingram, Fred McClendon, J. W. Shaw, W. W. Wyatt, Solon E. McGraw, J. H. Thompson, W. D. Bearden and H. C. Hurst.

Serving as Clerk of the Board have been Roy Templin, Oliver Miles, Mrs. Oliver Miles, and Cecil Duke, present clerk. Mr. Duke has the longest period of service, having been in the office since 1936.

We congratulate the Board of Revenue upon the lightening of their financial burden come July 1. In the future, free of the debt, they will be able to do a better job for the people of the county. The better the job they will do, added to the good work they have already done will ment the undying acclaim of the people they have served and will continue to serve.

It Is Time for Montevallo To Get Rid of Fly-Breeding Places

First Polio Victim Is Montevallo

Shelby County's first case of Polio for this year has been reported from Montevallo. This was a tragic case of the relatively infrequent and highly fatal form of bulbar paralysis.

Shelby County has averaged 4 cases of Polio a year for the past 10 years, the highest number being reported in any one year being 8 cases.

Most of these cases have been comparatively mild with only a small percentage showing any lasting paralysis.

Polio is caused by a Virus and the exact mode of transmission has not yet been definitely determined. The Virus has been found in sewage and it, very probably, can be carried by flies and possibly other insects.

The occurence of one case, or even more, of Polio in a community does not necessitate the curtailment of any normal activities. Children should, as a matter of precaution, avoid overexertion to the point of fatigue, and operations on the nose and throat, such as tonsillectomies should, if possible, be postponed until cool weather.

There is some hazard in swimming in pools with large numbers of other people, and swimmnig in creeks should never be done.

When Polio is prevalent, the congregation of children in large numbers is to be discouraged.

It would be wise indeed for the Town Councils to pass ordinances prohibiting pigs and other stock, as well as chickens, being kept within the city's jurisdiction, in order to eliminate these sources of fly breeding.

The towns should also arrange to collect garbage efficiently and often during the Summer months.

The Sanitation division of the County Health Department will aid in instructing the workers when any Town Council desires to inaugurate a spraying program for the eradication of flies.—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Report of the death of a child in Montevallo from Polio this week brings a stern warning from County Health Officer, Dr. E. F. Sloan, of conditions that might contribute to the spread of this alarming disease.

"It would be wise indeed," he says, "for the Town Council to pass ordinances prohibiting pigs and other stock, as well as chickens being kept within the city's jurisdiction in order to eliminate the sources of fly breeding."

Polio very probably can be carried by flies, according to Dr. Sloan.

Whatever diseases flies may carry and spread, we most certainly have a good distribution system in our presently excessive fly population. It is generally recognized that we have more flies in Montevallo this summer than we have ever had before.

Dr. Sloan makes the welcome suggestion that the sanitation division of the County Health Department will aid in giving instruction and guidance if and when the Town desires to inaugurate a spraying program for the eradication of flies.

However, it seems to us, that if we seek to destroy the flies without also removing their breeding places, we would not get very far in solution of our problem.

If we are to get rid of flies (and all will agree that we should), we must have a riddance program to include stoppage of their breeding places in chicken houses, hog pens, cattle lots, dog pens, garbage cans and all other such places.

We have had grim warning in the death of a child of Polio. Let us act at once to remove any and all things that might possibly contribute to a spread of this dangerous killer.

The Mayor has invited Dr. Sloan and Mr. King to meet with the Town Council next Tuesday night to advise in steps that can be taken to get some action quickly and effectively. What do you say?

March Of Dimes Gets $51 Million

New York, June 17 — Eighty million Americans contributed $51,500,000 to the fight against infantile paralysis in the 1953 March of Dimes, it was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

This total, based on reports of 3,069 volunteer campaign chairmen, represents a new record, being 24 per cent higher than the previous record total raised in 1952, Mr. O'Connor said. Last year $41,432,605 was contributed, or 27 and one half cents per capita for the entire nation. The 1953 per capita is 34 cents. Both figures are based on the 1950 census.

"The new record shows that millions of parents and children who fight against polio realize the crucial stage of this battle has been reached," said Mr. O'Connor. "They know that recent progress in scientific research and the continuing increase year after year of polio cases make their responsibilities greater than ever before."

Mr. O'Connor paid tribute to the 2,000,000 March of Dimes volunteers who conducted the fund-raising crusade in 100,000 communities

Post Office Boxes Get Higher Rate

A nation-wide change on the rental rates of post office boxes will go into effect on July First.

According to a statement by Mr. Morris Watson, Postmaster, this is the first basic change in box rents since 1907. The increase being necessary to cover cost of providing post office equipment and maintaining the service, he stated.

Box rent will be as follows beginning July First:

Boxes now renting for 60 cents a quarter will be increased to 90 cents a quarter; those renting for 75 cents a quarter will be increased to $1.10 a quarter and boxes or drawers renting for $1.00 per quarter will be increased to $1.50 per quarter.

News Notes On Summer Recreation

Recreation Schedule

2:00-5:00 Monday through Saturday: Swimming, All ages.

8:30 Monday through Friday: Boy's Baseball. For boys 12 and under. (Mr. Barlow)

9:30 Monday and Wednesday: Beginning and Intermediate swimming, any age. (Miss Houston)

9:00 Tuesday and Thursday: Beginning and Intermediate tennis, any age. (Miss Houston)

9:00 Friday: Softball for teenage girls. (Miss Houston)

9:30 Saturday: Junior and Senior Life Saving. (Miss Houston and Mr. Barlow)

* * *

Teen-agers night will be held on Thursday night as it was last year and this week we are meeting at the high school to start the program for the summer.

If there is enough interest shown in a night of softball for men an effort will be made to start this. This would be a slow league with nothing at stake but just the fun of playing. Of course we won't try to have it if the men don't want it but if enough of them are interested we will try to look further into it.

We would like to call particular attention to the Life Saving classes which are to be held on Saturday mornings. We feel there are quite a few young people in the community who are capable of earning a Junior or even a Senior Life Saving Certificate. The age limit is 12 for Junior and 16 for Senior. All boys and girls interested in Life Saving or Swimming are urged to start early and make as many classes as possible.

Do's And Don't's In Dialing Telephone

One hundred and five times a day in Montevallo a telephone call goes to the wrong number or no number at all because the finger turning the dial sends the wrong electronic message to the telephone central office.

These errant fingers prevent Montevallo folks, who place correctly an average of 7,008 telephone calls daily, from getting the top efficiency the telephone system is capable of giving, according to S. C. Stutts, local manager of Southern Bell.

Dialing the wrong number unnecessarily ties up central office equipment and the two telephones, he explained.

Mr. Stutts said the most frequent cause of wrong numbers is dialing the wrong digit. Other causes include having the wrong number in mind, not dialing the entire number, failure to listen for the dial tone before dialing, not allowing the dial to return to normal position before dialing another digit.

By following a few simple "dos and don'ts" in dialing, telephone users may help themselves to better service, Mr. Stutts said.

Do listen for the dial tone before dialing; don't trust memory, verify the number in the telephone directory; do dial all digits in the number; don't force the dial back to the starting position; do dial the correct digits.

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Fleet operators, farmers, independent truckers—truck users everywhere—buy more Chevrolets than any other make. There can be only one reason for that: Chevrolet trucks offer more of what you want.

As the official registration figures keep rolling in, they keep telling the same positive story about truck popularity and truck value: Again in 1953, for the twelfth straight production year, truck buyers show a clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks.

If you're a truck user, this fact is mighty important to you. Why? Well, as you know, trucks are built and bought for just one reason—to do a job. So isn't it logical then that since Chevrolet trucks outsell all others, they must do a better job at lower cost?

That's why it will pay you to stop in and see us before you buy your next truck.

Retail Sales Up For March

University, Ala.—The Bureau of Business Research at the University reports that retail sales in Alabama for March continued at a high level.

One of the biggest increases over the year, 17 per cent, was recorded by clothing stores and an increase in automobile sales again accounted for a substantial portion of the rise in total retail sales.

New passenger car registrations in the state hit a new high for March and the volume of sales by car dealers was 26 per cent higher than in the correspondinng month of 1952, the Bureau reported.

March net retail sales in Shelby County showed a 9.9 per cent increase over February 1953 and a 6.5 per cent increase over March 1952.

Filling stations also reported a sizeable (10 per cent) gain as gasoline sales soared to an unprecedented monthly total of over 60 million gallons. Sales by furniture stores were up 13 per cent.

Only three of the 15 retail categories — drinking places, drug stores, and secondhand dealers— reported sales below March 1952.

Flying Farmers Visit Montevallo Next Saturday

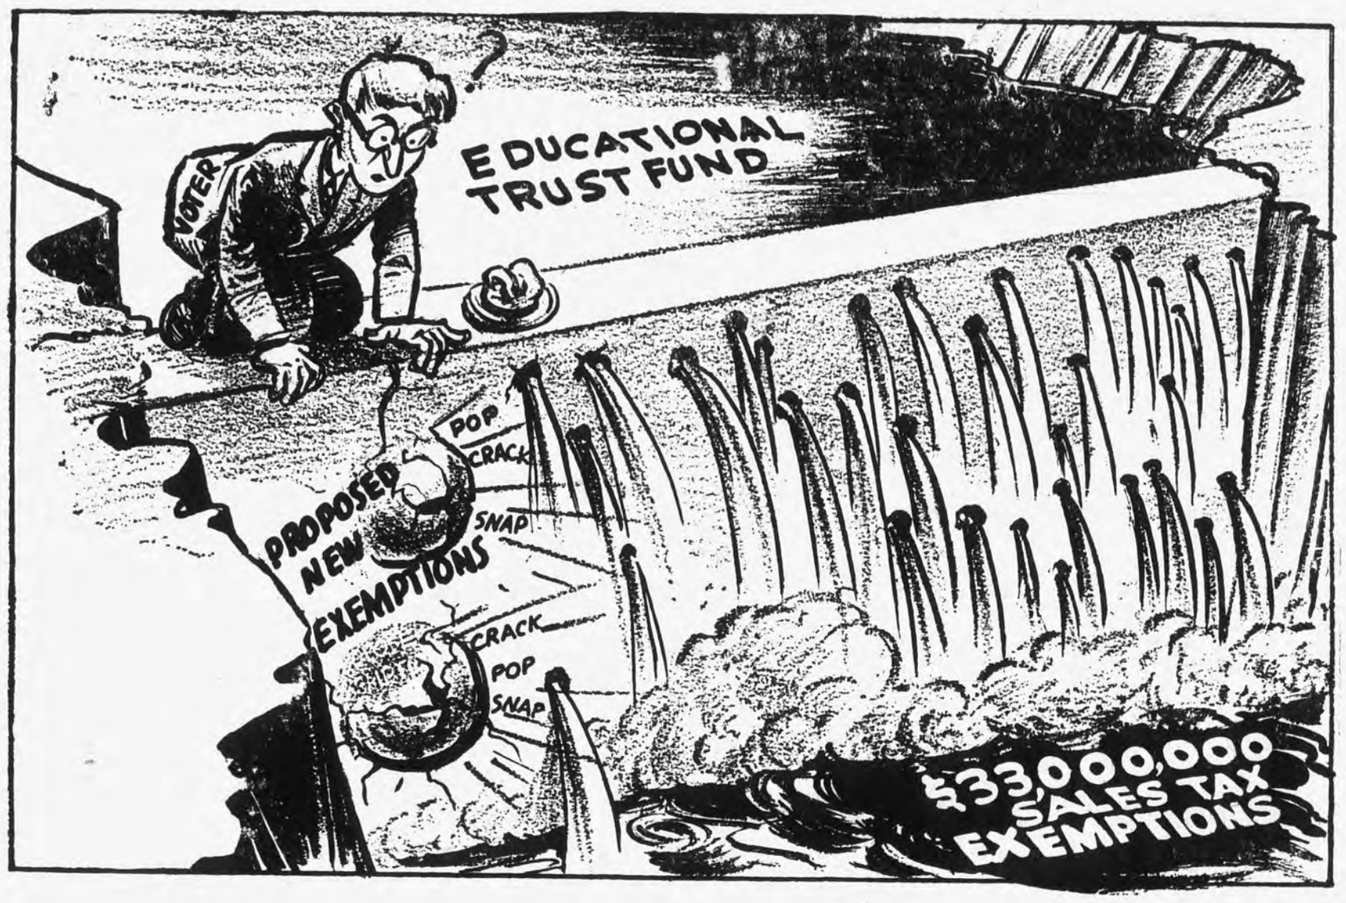

Plans are now complete for the visit of the 60 Flying Farmers of Alabama, Mississippi, and Georgia to Montevallo on Saturday, June 20. The planes will start landing around 9:30 Saturday morning at the field near the site of the new Westinghouse plant. A committee will transport the visitors by automobile to the Legion Home where a business session will be held from 10:30 to 12 o'clock. Following the business meeting will be a luncheon at 12 o'clock to be served at the Legion Home. Appearing on the luncheon program will be Kermit Tucker, president Flying Farmers, and Asa Roundtree, secretary, representing Flying Farmers. Mayor W. M. Wyatt of Montevallo will extend a word of greeting and give some information about Montevallo.

F. P. Givhan, president Montevallo Chamber of Commerce, will give some statements concerning the work of the C of C and tell of the recent growth of Montevallo in business and industry. Dr. F. E. Lund, president of Alabama College, will tell briefly of the college. A. A. Lauderdale, county agent of Shelby County, will tell briefly of the agricultural development in more recent years. Paul Woolley, FFA president of Montevallo chapter, will tell of FFA and its relation to the growth of our community.

M. Thornton, vocational agriculture teacher, will discuss briefly the vocational agriculture program. Dr. M. L. Orr and Mr. S. H. Hurt will give information concerning the school program. Following the luncheon will be a tour of the immediate vicinity of Montevallo. At 2 o'clock the group will return to the landing field and all FFA boys and others interested will be given an air tour of our area. Each Flying Farmer will have a local person as a guest on the tour. Cooper Shaw leads the tour.

Several other out of town guests will be present including members of the legislature.

SOUND THE ALARM! RUSH THE SANDBAGS!

The sales tax was levied in the mid-thirties to help finance the public schools. It was levied in the midst of the Great Depression. Because of hard times, certain items were exempted from the sales tax when the original law was passed. Since then economic conditions throughout the state have steadily and greatly improved. Yet requests for new exemptions from the sales tax come with each session of the Legislature.

Today there are forty-one exemptions. Each exemption means less money for schools. Who profits by these exemptions? ALL the people—or SOME of the people?

Three exemptions, costing Alabama schools about $2,000,000 a year, were authorized in 1951 — this, w times were never better.

There are two new requests for exemptions before the Legislature today.

SB 128—would exempt municipalities from liability for the collection and payment of sales taxes for the operation of recreational facilities.

HB 167—would exempt caskets and burial supplies from the sales tax.

When will such requests stop? The answer lies with you — as a patron of the schools and a citizen of Alabama.

What as a citizen and voter do you want to do about these exemptions? Talk to your legislator about them. Ask HIM to act for YOU in the Legislature.

Health Dept. Gives "Shots" At Calera

Members of the County Health Department will conduct an immunizing clinic at Calera City Hall on Tuesday, June 23, at 10 a.m .

Immunizing "shots" will be given against Typhoid, Diptheria, Whooping Cough, Tetanus and Smallpox.

It is urged that the citizens note the date and report promptly at the time given.

Our incidence of Typhoid and Diptheria has been very low the past few years. Let's help to keep it that way.

Not many years ago there were as many as 40 cases of Typhoid in a year in the County. Until such time as every home has a protected water supply, safe sewage disposal system and adequate screening, our reliance must be placed in keeping ourselves immune by taking Typhoid Vaccine.

Diptheria has also caused many cases and a number of deaths in the past years. With immunizations easily available to every baby there is no excuse for the occurence of this disease at the present time. — Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Silverware should never be wrapped in bleached linen as the sulphur, used in bleaching, will tarnish it; unbleached cotton flannel is best for this purpose.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Combining of winter legumes, grain and grass crops is nearing an end in Shelby County. A bumper crop of grass and small grain is reported by most farmers, with lighter crops of clover on most farms.

The thousand acres of Chapel Hill Rescue grass planted in the fall has yielded fine crops of hay, or seed and is well along towards its second crop of hay or seed.

The Columbiana FFA chapter sacked up 9,400 pounds of dry seed from its six acre patch. Much more could have been saved except for combining troubles. They report a couple of tons already delivered at 20 cents per pound.

Lester Stansell saved a nice crop of C H Rescue at his Dargin farm, selling over $600 worth direct from the combine. He had the major part of his five acre crop dried and cleaned for his own use.

Morgan Denson, Cahaba Valley, is supplying neighbors from his with 100 pounds of Columbiana seed patch. This patch, planted FFA seed last fall is making a beautiful second growth after over two tons were combined.

C. D. Whitten and Ned Bearden both cut C H Rescue for hay at an immature stage. Mr. Bearden is buying more seed while Mr. Whitten saved an acre to combine.

The district supervisors and W. W. Watkins saved about two tons of seed on their jointly operated C H Rescue patch.

All conservation minded farmers should be able to find reasonably priced C H Rescue grass seed for use as a grazing, hay, and erosion controlling crop.

An estimated 300 tons of this seed was grown in the county with a small yield of other rescue crops.

Planting can begin in early August, and can be done in the manner in which oats, ryegrass, and fescue are successfully grown. On sericea a minimum of damage should be done in the process. Even broadcasting the seed with no soil preparation has been giving desirable results, on sericea.

A. L. Little, Jimmie Rowe, Jr., Vincent FFA; Lawrence Garrett, J. B. Crawford, Shelby County Training School, Siluria FFA; Alee Ettress also others report good C H Rescue yields.

Plant Grain Sorghum Now

Grain sorghums can and should be planted from now until July 10 for either grain, grazing or silage. Often grain sorghum is combined for grain, the stalks and any grain left can be grazed out with cattle.

For combining Martin's Combine, Plainsman, and Early Hegari are source of the best varities. For silage production Hegari and Sagrain are the leading varities. For combining the rate of seeding should be about 8 to 10 pounds per acre and for silage the rate should be cut to about 5 pounds per acre. At planting apply 200 to 300 pounds 4-10-7 per acre and side dress with 100 pounds ammonium nitrate or 200 pounds soda. Cultivate twice to control weeds and grass. There is still time to make our grain needs on most stock farms by planting grain sorghum.

The Town Council Asks Citizens To Cooperate

The Town Council of Montevallo took a close and serious view of the sanitation and health conditions in the community at its meeting Tuesday night.

Mr. King, County Sanitation Officer, and Mr. Wright, of the State Sanitation Department, met with the Council and gave some very helpful suggestions toward improvement of local conditions. They offered some practical suggestions of means and measures that may be used to get rid of flies, mosquitos and other insect pests and to further prevent them by proper control of breeding places.

Following the suggestions of the sanitation officers and after proper discussion of the needs and possibilities, the Council agreed upon some immediate phases of action in approaching our community sanitation problems.

1. A community clean-up campaign.
2. More efficient collection and disposal of garbage.
3. A test spraying program to destroy flies.
4. Control and regulation of conditions in places that are presently breeding flies.
5. Possible ordinances of regulation of sanitation conditions.

Clean-Up Campaign

The Council ordered a general clean-up campaign of all premises in town, beginning next Monday and continuing until the job is thoroughly done. All citizens are urged to cooperate in this campaign by gathering up all manner of trash, refuse, cans, bottles and what-not. Place it in a place that will be accessible for the town trucks and it will be hauled away.

It is hoped by the Council that the people will really respond to this request and that all may work together to make this clean-up effort such a job as we have never done before.

Remember the garbage trucks will be put at your call next Monday. Call the Town Hall and report when you have your collection ready to be carried away.

This campaign will be followed by an inspection of premises to ascertain if the owners have done the clean-up job as they should.

Garbage Collection

The Council ordered a more efficient collection and disposal of garbage. To this end the garbage trucks will haul off garbage twice a week instead of once a week as heretofore.

Citizens are urged to secure and use standard garbage cans on their premises. This practice will go a long way toward preventing the breeding of flies.

Control Regulations

There are a few known spots in town that are fly-breeding places. Complaints have been registered in some instances when such places have become obnoxious to the neighborhood.

Special attention will be given to these places. The owners of same will be requested to cooperate in the effort to clean them up and keep them in condition that will not be a menace.

Obviously no one has the right to keep and carry on a place that is offensive to neighbors and a menace to public health. Every good citizen will be glad to see that his place is maintained in an orderly and proper condition.

Spraying Program

Following suggestions of the sanitation officers the Town will conduct a test spray program immediately to determine the effectiveness of such action in destroying flies and controling their breeding places. By this test it will be determined what the Town can do and should do in this respect.

Material and equipment for this test spray program will be furnished by the state sanitation department. After this test has been made and its effectiveness determined, the Town Council will consider buying its own equipment for continuing the spray program at proper intervals of time and needs.

Possible Ordinances

It is possible for the Town to control and regulate the keeping of chickens, cattle, etc., where such places are a menace to health and conducive to unsanitary conditions. Action in this respect by the Council will most likely be determined by the manner and spirit in which property owners cooperate in the overall effort to place our sanitation conditions in proper order to safeguard public health and prevent obnoxious conditions in the community.

IN THIS PAPER

Herewith The Times presents the approach that has been made by the Town Council in providing for cleaning up our town and preventing unsanitary conditions and health hazards.

Presently the Council emphasizes its appeal to all citizens to do their part in correcting the unwarranted conditions that exist.

In order that this matter may be brought to the attention of everybody, a copy of this paper is being placed in every home in Montevallo.

NOTICE

The merchants of Calera will close for the fourth of July, but will be open Friday evening until 8:00 o'clock.

Services will be 7 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. daily. Pastor R. G. Thompson extends a cordial welcome to everyone.

Dining Room Is Anna Irvin Hall

By provisions of a joint resolution passed by Alabama's Senate and House of Representatives and signed by Governor Gordon Persons, Alabama College's New Dining Room and Dining Room Annex will be named Anna Irvin Hall.

State Senator Tom Phillips introduced the resolution in the Senate and Representative Karl Harrison presented it to the House of Representatives. The resolution provides "That the Board of Trustees of Alabama College is . . . authorized to designate the building known as the New Dining Room and Annex at Alabama College as ANNA IRVIN HALL".

In naming the dining rooms, the College honors Miss Anna Irvin who served Alabama College as Head Dietitian for 32 years. Miss Irvin who came to Montevallo from Indiana in 1920 was later joined by her sister Miss Edna Irvin who served as Assistant Dietitian. Both retired on June 1, 1952 and are now living in Coral Gables, Florida.

Summer Recreation Program Starts

Response to the summer recreation program has been fair for the first week. There were 471 boys and girls taking advantage of some phase of the program.

We would like to place special emphasis on recruiting more boys and girls for the junior and senior life saving classes on Saturday mornings. There were 16 present for the first meeting last Saturday, and we hope to have about twice that number this Saturday, June 27.

The following people have signed for senior life saving: James Rochester, Johnny Bell, C. D. Galloway, Jamie Houlditch, Tinker Underwood, Frank Norris, Martha Ann Nolen.

These in the junior class are John Kirby, Kenneth Cox, Patricia Galloway, Loretta Lovelady, Elizabeth Norris, Lenore Cunningham, Phyllis Wooley, and Tommy Plant.

We would like especially to invite more girls to attend the classes. We feel sure that there are quite a few boys and girls who are capable of earning certificates who are a little backward about coming to class. We'd like to encourage all boys and girls from 12 years up to attend the classes. Those who attend this week should bring an old pair of blue jeans and a shirt that they don't mind getting wet for the lessons will be on disrobing in the water and using clothes to help keep afloat.

Flying Farmers In Montevallo Last Saturday

Although a busy farming season held some of Alabama Flying Farmers at home Saturday, over thirty out-of-town guests enjoyed a day in Montevallo with Cooper Shaw and the FFA boys. As the planes landed at the W. L. Lawler farm, the visitors were picked up by local citizens and carried to visit Lawler Machine Shop and then to the legion home. Following a fellowship meeting at the legion home a delicious chicken dinner was served and was followed by a program arranged by Cooper Shaw and M. Thornton.

Mayor W. M. Wyatt made a welcome statement and told something of the opportunities and advantages of Montevallo. F. P. Givhan, president of Montevallo Chamber of Commerce, discussed recent industrial and housing developments of the town and community. Dr. Richard Powers, Dean of Alabama College, discussed educational opportunities and advantages of the college. Dr. M. L. Orr, Director of Education, discussed the educational opportunities for children in the public schools here.

A. L. Little, instructor in agriculture for veterans, told of the on-the-farm training program and some of its accomplishments. A. A. Lauderdale, county agent of Shelby, discussed briefly the farming in this area. Charles Daviston, FFA representative, discussed the Montevallo FFA chapter and pointed out that it was third in the state of the 257 chapters. Kermit Tucker, president of Flying Farmers, told of the flying farmer organization and stated that one of the main objectives was to make the airplane more useful in agriculture. He also discussed the $250 scholarships offered by the organization to promote pilot training. Ralph Sears, public relations representative of Alabama College, organized a tour of Montevallo and Alabama College and arranged for the entire group to enjoy a swim in the college pool. The flying farmers were introduced as well as local citizens. Sixteen planes were included in the activities of the day. Following the automobile tour, the group returned to the landing field and Cooper Shaw took the lead in an aerail tour of the area with FFA boys and others as guests of the flying farmers.

All visitors indicated that each had a good day and seemed much impressed by our town and community. Several local business men and other citizens contributed the funds to make the luncheon possible.

Among the local people receiving and entertaining the visitors were: C. H. Chism, Don Lovelady, Earl McGaughy, Will Fullman, John Foshee, Bro. Glover, Floyd Hawkins, Jimmy Higgins, Mr. Pair, Harry Kendrick, W. M. Wyatt, F. P. Givhan, Cooper Shaw, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Fullman, Mrs. M. Thornton, Odell Cleckler, Mrs. McGibbony, Mrs. Brownlee, Ard Chambers, Kenneth Cunningham, Luther Wooten, Kenneth Walker, George Kish, Bill N. Norris, Charles Daviston, W. L. Lawler, Joe Clark, M. S. The State Department of Education has distributed about 12,000 copies of six bulletins prepared under its supervision. Three of these bulletins deal with methods of integrating information concerning alcohol with various high school subjects. One deals with the over-all concept of the program as an integral part of education. One bulletin is concerned with building wholesome personalities. One is an adaption of a scientific study which was made with cats. This bulletin is written on the level of junior and senior high school pupils. These bulletins were distributed to all superintendents and principals in county and city systems.

More than 17,000 sheets of mimeographed material covering approximately fifteen titles were distributed by mail. Twenty-one 16mm motion picture films and five 35mm film strips were in constant circulation during the entire year.

A subcommittee composed of seven members has met four times to study the whole matter of Alcohol Education and suggest further steps. The study was made by means of two questionnaires prepared by the committee. From the 472 replies received the committee made seventeen recommendations. This report is a tentative one and the committee is still pursuing its study. A materials workshop was conducted at Auburn during the first six weeks of summer school. Twelve carefully selected teachers were engaged in writing a teachers' guide which will be used by teachers of all grades. This bulletin will include ways of producing a wholesome learning atmosphere in the classroom; discovering frustrations in children seeking to help children adjust themselves to the school environment. The bulletin will also contain several suggestive teaching units covering various subject fields. In the absence of a textbook the guide will contain pertinent facts about the effect of alcohol on the body, mind and society as well as selected bibliography which teachers can use.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Miss Ethel Marshall and a group of five ladies from Alabama College, Montevallo, spent three days studying conservation and land use on Shelby County farms last week. This phase of the Resource Workshop included study of the College Dairy farm. Mrs. Ethel Rogers' beef cattle farm at Wilton and the S. S. Nursery of Thorsby.

On the Thursday trip to the Nursery at Thorsby, the teachers saw many new and improved crops and they learned how to plant selection and breeding is constantly improving grazing and conservation crops. Mr. R. O Williams, district supervisor for Chilton County made an inspiring talk after the noon day picnic style lunch.

A. L. Harrell, Jim Burdette, Haynes Kelley, T. W. Simpson, Sam Dowdy, W. C. Young, R. L. Davis, B. F. Hatchett and George Starcher participated in the studies.

E. E. McCoy, zone manager for International Harvester was in Columbiana Friday making a study of several farms using conservation methods and crops. He visited farms of Alec Etress, Shelby; H. A. Jackson, G. H. Eustis, and B. S. Kennedy, Wilsonville.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Despite the protests of a number of Congressmen, including myself, the House of Representatives has approved legislation that will prohibit the Tennessee Valley Authority from moving its administrative offices from Knoxville and Chattanooga to Muscle Shoals. The great majority of these offices are located in Knoxville.

The TVA directors had already completed plans to transfer the offices when the House of Appropriations Committee decided to tack a rider on to an appropriations bill to prevent the transfer. The House failed to pass an amendment offered by Rep. Andrews of Alabama to strike this rider, and the bill was sent to the Senate last week.

I protested the committee's rider and supported Rep. Andrews' amendment because I was convinced it would be in the best interest of Federal government economy and would promote more efficiency in the operation of the TVA to transfer its administrative offices to Muscle Shoals. I reached this conclusion after carefully studying the testimony given before the Appropriations Committee in favor of the transfer.

The original TVA Act of 1933 provides that its administrative offices be located in the Muscle Shoals area. This Act also gives the TVA Board of Directors authority to administer TVA affairs, and this would appear to include the power to transfer its headquarters. It has been the opinion of the members of the TVA Board for nearly 14 years that their chief offices should be located at Muscle Shoals. The moving of these headquarters has been postponed repeatedly, however, because of national emergencies.

Lease Agreement Entered

In the statement I made to the House on June 17, I called the members attention to the fact that the TVA Board of Directors had set in motion this year the machinery necessary to bring about the long-contemplated transfer of administrative offices to Muscle Shoals. In March the Board entered into a lease agreement to make a move possible. The agreement provided that a building of the necessary specifications would be constructed by the lessor. The TVA would lease the building for 20 years at an average rentals of $264,178 per year. It is my understanding that this figure includes all costs except maintenance. After 20 years, the building would become the property of the U. S. Government without further payment. In addition, the government could buy the building at any time at the base price, less the amount of cost amortized through rent on a four per cent amortization basis.

At the present time the TVA is paying an annual rent of approximately $242,000 for several buildings in Knoxville and one in Chattanooga. These are the offices which the TVA Board is anxious to move to the Muscle Shoals area. Should this move be made, a building valued at more than $3 and one-half million would be owned by the TVA at the end of the 20-year period. If these offices are retained in Knoxville and Chattanooga, the TVA will continue to pay an annual rental only slightly less than the rent provided for under the Muscle Shoals lease agreement. Yet, at the end of a 20-year period, there will be nothing to show for this annual outlay of $242,000.

Besides the money saved, there are other important reasons for recommending transfer of the administrative offices to Muscle Shoals. The transfer would bring together under one roof staffs now dispersed in Knoxville and Chattanooga. Communication between staffs would be better and the coordination of work made easier. The Shoals area is well located from the standpoint of TVA's work. There the TVA would be nearer to the capitals of three of the four states where TVA's principal activities are concentrated—Nashville, Tenn.; Montgomery, Ala.; and Jackson, Miss. By any mode of transportation, Muscle Shoals is closer to Nashville, the capital of Tennessee, than Knoxville itself. Muscle Shoals is located at a central point on the Tennessee River. It is 34 air miles closer to the geographical center of the State of Tennessee than Knoxville, and it is 125 air miles closer to the center of the TVA power service area.

With these facts in mind, it is hard to believe that an economy-minded Congress would block this transfer. Yet, it was defeated and the Republican side of the House voted almost to a man against the amendment which would have allowed the move. The fact that Knoxville is at present in a Republican District is generally thought to have been the determining factor in this rather unusual Republican vote. If this were the case, it is regrettable that this question was decided on the basis of political expediency and not on its merits.

Visitor

It was a pleasure to have Mr. Henry M. Johnson, Siluria, come by our office last week for a visit.

Cadet Geo. Ewing At R O T C Camp

Camp Gordon, Ga., — Cadet George E. Ewing, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Ewing, reported here this week to begin an intensive six week course at the United States Army Signal Corps Reserve Officers' Training Camp.

Cadet Ewing, who is a student at the University of Alabama, and a member of that institution's R. O. T. C. unit, is working to qualify for a commission as a second lieutenant in the Signal Corps Reserve.

During the six week encampment, instruction is conducted in three phases. Individual training in general military and technical subjects is accomplished the first three weeks. Team and unit training are conducted in the field under simulated tactical conditions during the fourth, fifth and sixth weeks. Cadets will be given applied training in wire, radio, communication center, teletype and general military techniques on the division signal company level.

During off-duty hours, the local man will have ample opportunity to relax at the service clubs, swimming pools, golf course, motion picture theatres and other recreational facilities provided at this giant, 55,000 acre army post.

The camp will continue until July 31, at which time the cadets will return to their homes.

National Guard Summer Camp

The 657th Transportation Company (Lt Trk) will convoy to Fort McClellan, Alabama August 16, for their annual summer training period. The training will consist mostly of field work and will give the members of the unit a chance to put into action the things they have been taught during the regular armory training drills.

Lieut. Nickerson states that the unit has openings for officers and veterans as well as recruits. Young men between the ages of 17 and 18 may enlist with their perents consent. If enlisted in the Guard before your 18½ birthday, you are not subject to the draft.

Anyone interested in joining this unit contact Sgt. Bagwell at the Armory anyday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. or on Tuesday nights at 7:00 p.m. "Help us keep our Guard Up."

This advertisement is the third in a special series which began over a year ago, and which is designed to give you, as a prospective buyer, detailed and helpful information. We'd be happy to have your comments about this type of advertising.

This is the 1953 Chevrolet Bel Air 4-Door Sedan. It's one of 16 Chevrolet models in 3 series, which add up to the widest choice in the low-price field.

Some Chevrolet advantages worth considering when you're ready to choose a car...

Next to a new house, a car is probably your most important purchase. Here are some facts to help you make up your mind about which make to buy.

Don't you agree that it's well worthwhile to weigh all the factors carefully before you buy any new car? Let's consider the major reasons why people choose one make over another and see how the 1953 Chevrolet stands in those respects.

Styling You Can Stay Proud Of

Styling, of course, is a matter of personal taste. Because we think Chevrolet is the best-looking car in its field, doesn't necessarily mean you'll think so, too. But we can tell you that the majority of our showroom visitors prefer Chevrolet styling and compare its appearance most favorably with cars costing a great deal more.

And you might consider this: Chevrolet styling is the newest in its field. It's the kind of styling that stays new, too. For it is based, not on fads or extremes, but on the fundamentals of good, modern design.

The One Automobile Body Almost Everybody Knows

It's not really surprising that so many people prefer Chevrolet's appearance. For Chevrolet is the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. And Fisher, as you know, is the only automobile body manufacturer with a world-wide reputation for styling, craftsmanship and quality.

The Many Benefits of High-Compression Power

When you drive a new Chevrolet (and we hope you'll do that soon), you'll notice these things: faster acceleration from a standing start; greater passing ability in traffic and on the highway; the new ease with which you climb steep hills.

These are just some of the benefits of Chevrolet's new high-compression power. In gearshift models, there is an advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine with a 7.1 to 1 compression ratio. Teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission* is an entirely new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine with 7.5 to 1 compression ratio. It is the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field.

A Great Gain in Gasoline Economy

Along with remarkable new performance, Chevrolet's advanced engines give you far greater gasoline mileage. In fact, this year marks the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And that includes substantial savings on over-all upkeep, as well as on gasoline.

New Getaway in the New Powerglide*

The new Powerglide automatically drops into "Low" range for starting and for passing in city traffic. Then, as you glide along, it slips smoothly and almost imperceptibly into cruising range. The results are much faster and more positive acceleration, and much lower fuel consumption.

The First Power Steering in a Low-Priced Car

This year's Chevrolet is the only car in its field to offer you the extra ease and convenience of Power Steering, optional at extra cost. With it, you can spin the wheel with the strength of one finger. You can seesaw in and out of tight parking places without the slightest strain. You get an additional cushion against road shocks and jars. Driving is easier, safer.

A Smoother and a Safer Ride

Chevrolet is the heaviest low-priced car. Model for model, a Chevrolet will weigh as much as 200 pounds more than the other makes. You often hear people say they buy high-priced cars because they're heavier, hold the road better and ride better. Well, isn't it logical, then, that Chevrolet's extra weight (which comes from extra strength of body and frame) would result in a better ride?

Chevrolet is the Lowest-Priced Line

Certainly, price is one of the most important factors of all. We're glad to be able to tell you that Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field.

Now, you might well ask, "How can Chevrolet offer me more and still cost less?" There is a simple, logical answer to that.

Remember that Chevrolet builds more cars than any other manufacturer. Chevrolet, along with General Motors, has greater facilities for research, for engineering and production. So, isn't it reasonable that these greater facilities bring manufacturing advantages and economies which Chevrolet can pass on to you in terms of higher quality at lower price?

An Endorsement Given No Other Car

Again this year, more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. Obviously that wouldn't be true unless people liked Chevrolet better. Unless Chevrolet offered more things people want—more value.

So, when you're ready to choose your new car, wouldn't you agree that Chevrolet merits your careful consideration? We welcome your visit at any time, so that you can look the car over yourself and try it out on the road.

Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.*

Shelby Guernsey Breeders Meet

Shelby County Guernsey Breeders held their regular meeting at the Green and White Cafe Wednesday evening, June 17, where a delicious chicken supper was served. This being national dairy month, dairy products were featured on the menu and was given by Consolidated Dairies.

County Agent A. A. Lauderdale reported club purchased 13 calves for 4-H boys and girls with 4 or 5 more to be bought this week.

It was voted to have a Barbecue next meeting night, which will be on the 13th of August and invite the families of members.

Mr. Tommie Baker introduced Mr. Pete Turnham, Assistant Dairy Specialist at Auburn, who is also in charge of official testing. Mr. Turnham's speech was very informative on how to produce milk at less cost giving farmers a longer margin of profit. Some 20 members were present.

G. A. before being elected president her senior year.

Valedictorian of her high school class at Manatee County High School, Bradenton, Fla., Miss Benton is the eldest of five daughters. He younger sister, Barbara Anne, plans to enter Alabama College in September.

Bashore Wins Trip To Bermuda

Tired of school? Want to get away from it all after finals? Then how about a cruise to Bermuda, all expenses paid!

Although it sounds like the wishful dream of many class-weary students, it is a happy reality to one lucky Bamian. Law student Glen Bashore, owner of The Record Shop, won just such a dream vacation in a recent contest sponsored by RCA Victor and R. P. McDavid Co., in Birmingham.

Glen hails from Maplesville, and is currently taking 14 hours with one more semester to go toward his law degree, having received his degree in accounting from the University of Michigan before the war.

The cruise to Bermude contest winners were picked from the record shops in the areas of the nation with the highest percentage of RCA Victor record sales during a two month period. Glen, in competition with 350 other dealers in this area, came through with over 300 per cent of the quota. He will join the week long cruise aboard the "Queen of Bermuda" in New York City on June 20, along with the winners from the other areas of the country.

"When I heard the news, I felt like sitting down and catching my breath. I'd hoped that I'd won, but was afraid that someone else had sneaked in under the wire."

Strangely enough, Glen came to the University in 1952 to study for his law degree and "get out of the record business." He brought with him a large stock of 78 rpm records, the remains of a statewide chain of seven record shops that he had sold in order to devote full time to his law books.

In order to dispose of these records, he set up a small shop on University avenue, but soon found that "the demand for 45 rpm and LP records from the students was so great that requests for the newer type records far exceeded the sale of the 78's I already had in stock."

To meet the demand, Glen expanded his store and now carries a line so varied that his shop has been called "the most complete in Alabama."

"The business has built itself," Glen said, "no new capital has been added other than that which came from the sales of the original stock."—The Crimson-White

Mr. and Mrs. Bashore and their 7-year old daughter claim Maplesville as their home. Mr. Bashore operated a business there for some time before going to the University to study law. He is to finish law school in January, 1954, and expects to locate in Clanton for his practice. He had operated businesses at Montevallo and Thorsby before locating at Maplesville.

Chilton county friends extend congratulations upon his recent acquirement of a free trip to Bermuda (maybe he will meet with the Big Three over there,) as well as his approaching law degree.—Union Banner, Clanton.

Resource Use Workshop Here

Alabama College's Resource Use Workshop, designed to promote more efficient utilization of Alabama's natural resources is presenting some of the South's leading conservationists.

Miss Elizabeth Mason, Chief of Women's Activities for the U. S. Forest Service, Atlanta, will serve the Workshop as Special Consultant on July 9 and 10. Mr. A. L. Harrell, Conservationist of the North Central District of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and Mr. J. W. Burdett, Regional Information Specialist of the S.C.S. from Spartanburg, South Carolina are presenting special classes.

Under the direction of Miss Ethel Marshall, Associate Professor of Biology at Alabama College and Miss Bettye Rogers, Supervisor of Schools in Butler County, Alabama, the Resource Use Workshop is demonstrating problems of soil, water, forestry and wildlife conservation. Teachers from eleven Alabama counties are attending this summer's Workshop

Now in its third week, the shop will feature field trips during the ne.xt five days including trips to deciduous and confierous forests in Shelby County, the Gulf States Paper Company, Tuscaloosa, and Avondale Mills, Sylacauga. Purpose of these trips is to trace a product from its raw material or natural resource state to the finished product. Other away-from-the-campus-classes have included a trip to an experimental plant nursery at Thorsby and trips to dairy and beef cattle farms.

This summer's classes mark the 10th annual Resource Use Workshop held at Alabama College. Funds for the Workshop are made available by Alabama College, the Alabama Wildlife Federation and the National Wildlife Federation. and the National Wildlife Federation Scholarships granted to teachers for the purpose of attending the Workshop are pro.vided by the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs, Garden Clubs of Alabama, Sportsmen's Clubs, and industries using natural resources in the manufacture of their products.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Many farmers in the Sixth District will be interested to know that the House last week passed a bill to prevent the Interstate Commerce Commission from doing away with the practice of "trip-leasing." Two years ago the ICC issued an order which would, in effect, eliminate trip leasing, but by its vote the House indicated that it feels the ICC should not have the authority to interfere.

Trip leasing was established many years ago as an economical and flexible method of transportation for agricultural products. This transportation practice has been used primarily by those who haul cattle and agricultural commodities from their farms by truck. It has enabled small or exempt truckers to pick up a return load after they have delivered their own load to a certain destination.

An exempt hauler is a person (usually a farmer) whose truck operations are not regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission, with the exception of certain safety rules. Unlike common or contract truckers who are regulated by the ICC, the small or exempt trucker is not allowed to engage in the hauling of such products as manufactured goods. However, under the trip leasing arrangement, exempt haulers could lease their trucks to common or contract carriers after they had delivered their own load. Through the lease agreement, they could pick up a return load of any commodity which the ICC-regulated common or contract carriers were entitled to haul. Such a practice permits a farmer or other small independent trucker to return with a load so that he does not have to make the back-home journey with an empty truck. This practice has been supported by the American Farm Bureau Federation which has opposed efforts to eliminate trip leasing.

The trip leasing method was suddenly threatened two years ago when the Interstate Commerce Commission issued an order providing that common and contract carriers could not lease exempt or private trucks for less than 30 days. This order made it virtually impossible for trip leasing to continue since the leasing of exempt trucks was for short periods only. The small truck owners could not afford to turn over his equipment to an ICC-regulated carrier for such a long period. Neither did the ruling meet with the approval of the contract carriers because they hesitated to bear the responsibility and expense included in leasing a private truck for a 30-day period.

For instance, under the ICC ruling, a farmer in Shelby County who delivered a load of his agricultural products to Atlanta, Ga., would have to return home with an empty truck. He would incur expenses for a trip to and from Atlanta, but would have his truck filled for one-way only.

The 30-day regulation issued by the ICC has been questioned before the courts a number of times. A recent Supreme Court decision upheld the authority of the ICC to regulate the duration of leases. However, a minority of the members disagreed sharply with the majority decision and argued that such ICC authority would automatically eliminate many small truck operators who could not afford to carry a load in only one direction. The court decision was appealed, but no further action has been taken, pending possible action by Congress on the matter.

I supported the action of the House in adopting the bill to prevent the ICC from abolishing trip leasing. To deny the farmers and small truck owners the opportunity to trip lease would be to inflict hardships on agriculture as a whole. If this were allowed to happen, it would be necessary for many farmers either to return from interstate markets with empty trucks and a consequent loss of revenue or to rely on more expensive and less flexible means of transporting commodities. As a result, it would have been necessary for consumers to pay higher retail prices on most agricultural products.

Truman Visits

Periodically, the first-term Democratic members of Congress breakfast together and have some prominent Democrat as guest speaker. Since the group organized in January, we have heard such outstanding men as Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, Stephen Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic National Committee and others.

Former President Truman was the guest at our most recent meeting in the Capitol dining room. Speaking without notes and in an informal manner, the past President offered some brief "off the record" remarks to our group. Later, he talked personally with a number of the freshmen Congressmen who found him to be most friendly and affable.

Mr. Truman appeared to be in exceptionally good health. As a matter of fact, I thought he looked closer to 50 years old than his actual age of 68.

Polio Emergency In Montgomery

Due to the Polio emergency which exists in Montgomery, the Health authorities of that city have sent out a call for all available nurses to assist in an effort to immunize all children under 10 years of age in the City.

Gamma Globulin will be given to approximately 30,000 children.

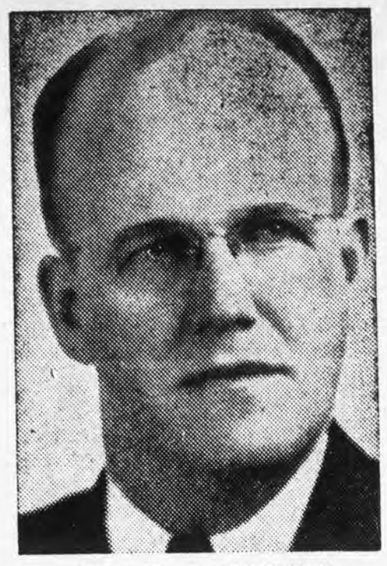

Miss Dottie Walton, Shelby County Public Health Nurse, has answered this call for help and will work in Montgomery all of the week beginning Monday, July 29.

All of Miss Walton's appointments in this County for the week have been cancelled.

Revival At Wilton Baptist Church

MR. FRANK CAMPBELL, JR.

DR. H. C. HOPKINS

The Wilton Baptist Church announces a series of Revival Services beginning Sunday, July 5, 1953. The Sunday services will be at the usual hour with the pastor R. G. Thompson preaching at both services. The evangelist Dr. H. C. Hopkins, Gadsden, Ala., will arrive for the Monday morning service and be here for all services through the next Sunday morning. Rev. Frank Campbell, Jr., of Birmingham will lead the singing through the entire meeting.

Dr. Hopkins, who is pastor of the Twelfth Street Baptist Church in Gadsden, is no stranger to the people of Alabama. Prior to his pastorate in Gadsden, he was Director of the Extension Division for Christian Education of Howard College. Many people know him to be a fine preacher, and a good leader. We of this area are fortunate to have him come to us.

Everyone is invited to attend the services each day. Services will be held at 7 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. daily. Dr. Hopkins has announced the following sermon topics for the Revival:

Morning: Monday, "The Word of Life." Evening, "What Think Ye of Christ."

Tuesday morning, "Power from on High." Evening, "Conviction that Counts."

Wednesday morning, "The Power of Prayer." Evening, "The Doom of a Lost Sinner."

Thursday morning, "Victory for the Faithful." Evening, "Jesus, The Friend of Sinners."

Friday morning, "We Need to Be Saved." Evening, "Life's Greatest Tragedy."

Saturday morning, "Salvation Through Christ." Evening, "Life's Greatest Decision."

Sunday morning, "Breaking With the Past."

Notice To All Dog Owners

Failure of many dog owners to comply with Alabama's Dog Control Act has forced the Health Department and Rabies Inspector to take more stringent steps in enforcing this law.

It has ever been the aim of the Health Department to obtain voluntary compliance with State Laws and, if at all possible, to refrain from forcing compliance.

The past few years many people have failed to have their dogs inoculated against Rabies as required by law. This law is for their own protection and that of their community.

Each year, after the Rabies Inspector has finished his rounds of clinics, he begins getting calls from a wildly excited populace of some community, saying that a mad dog is loose in the community. This entails additional trips for the Inspector for which he received little or no compensation.

Hereafter, when such calls are received, the Inspector will make a house to house survey of the community and any dog owner found not to have evidence that his dog or dogs were inoculated will be summarily brought to Court.

The Town Councils of each municipality are being requested to have their Town Marshall kill off every dog found without an appropriate tag on his collar after September 1.

It would be timely to remind dog owners that, if they have failed to take proper precautions and their dog bites some person, this person can sue them for damages and very likely cost them a substantial sum.

Shelby County has had some sad experiences with Rabid dogs and it is imperative that the Anti-Rabies program be enforced.—E. F. Sloan County Health Officer.

W. H. Whaley Died Monday

W. H. Whaley, 81, Ensley attorney and first police judge at Fairfield, died Monday.

Born near Jonesboro, Ga., Mr. Whaley moved to Cullman with his family when he was 12. Later he worked his way through the University of Georgia, where he studied law.

He was admitted to the bar in Birmingham in 1897. Later, he moved to Georgia, where he practiced law in Jackson and Atlanta. He was appointed judge of the city criminal court at Covington, Ga.

Returning to Birmingham in 1918, he was made police judge at Fairfield. In 1927 he married Miss Mimmie Hollis.

Mr. Whaley practiced law in Ensley. He was a member of the Pike Ave. Baptist Church where he taught a Sunday School class 16 years.

Surviving are his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Bernice Welch, Atlanta; a son, Charles P. Whaley, Fairburn, Ga.; a sister, Mrs. Lizzie Lewis, Birmingham; three brothers, C. C. and T. A. Whaley, Tampa, Fla., and R. E. Whaley, Montevallo two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Angwin-Service will announce funeral arrangements.

Non - Farm Employment In Alabama

Non-farm employment in Alabama remained steady from April to May with a minor loss of 600. The total May figure of 679,600 represented a gain of 9,000 from a year ago, according to a statement released by Joe L. Coleman, director of the Department of Industrial Relations.

In manufacturing industries primary metals, textiles and the chemical industry accounted for the most of the 2,300 drop in workers from April to May. A 700 decline in metals resulted from one shutdown and a partial shutdown, whereas textiles lost 600 primarily because of the destruction of one mill by a cyclone. The current level of 51,000 in textiles is 800 above the May 1952 estimate. Although fertilizer and vegetable oil plants, members of the chemical industry, were at seasonal downturns, their 7,600 employees in May represented a rise from last year.

Federal employment continued downward, dropping 500 workers from April to May. The total decline since the first of the year was 1,200 as contrasted with the similar period last year when there was a gain of 1,700 workers.

Contract construction had a 1,900 boost from April. However, the current level of 37,100 reveals a loss of 1,800 from last year's comparable period.

Following true to the long-time down-trend caused by mechanization, coal mining dropped 400. Compared with last year totals there are fewer coal miners in the state. Metal mining has also suffered losses due to further mechanization. The present total of 4,900 was a gain of 100 as compared with the April figures but was 1,100 below the year ago estimates.

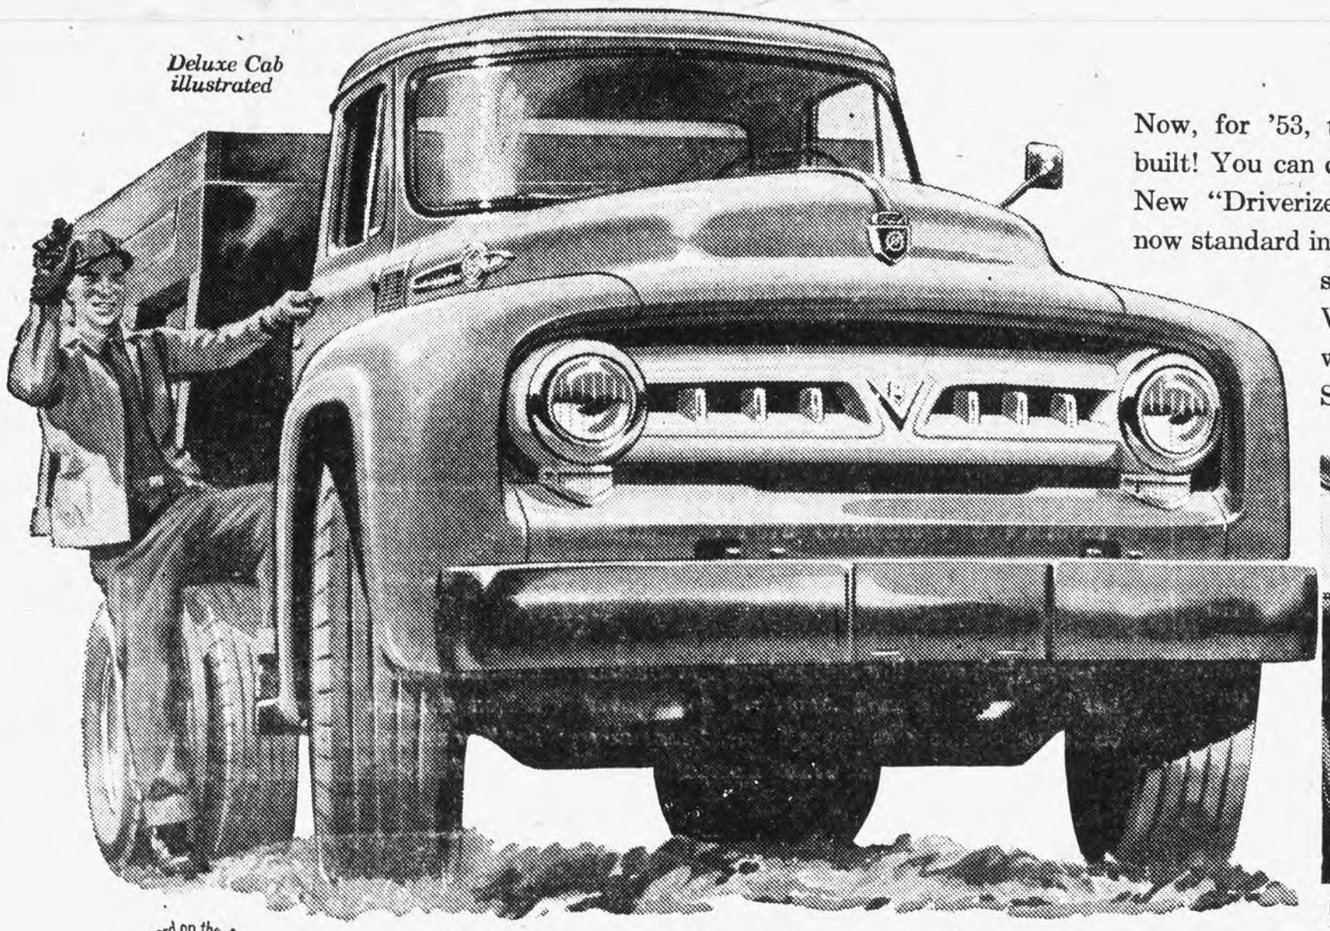

The average production worker's weekly wages of $55.20, as revealed by mid-month payrolls in May, were up nearly 8 percent from a year ago, although the average work week has increased little more than half an hour. There are about 207,000 production workers in the state.

Mrs. Reese Woolley Elected Vice-Pres. Of Legion Auxiliary

At the 32nd annual convention of the Department of Alabama American Legion Auxiliary held in Mobile, Mrs. Reese L. Woolley of Montevallo was elected first vice president of the Alabama Department. Eligible through her husband, Reese L. Woolley, World War Two Veteran, who saw service in the South Pacific, and was recalled to duty in the present Korean incident. Mrs. Woolley has been a member of the Montevallo Unit for seven years. She was president of the Montevallo Unit for two years, and has held many unit chairmanships. When Rehabilitation Chairman the Montevallo Hospital Corps was organized, and has to its credit many hours of outstanding work. While serving as junior activities chairman four trophies have been awarded her unit.

Having served her district as Poppy Chairman and secretary-treasurer Mrs. Woolley has the unusual distinction of serving the fifth district, largest of the districts in the Department, as president for two years.

She has served as counselor of Girls State, served the Department as Tuscaloosa Hospital workers chairman for two years. Is serving third year as director of activities in Sunshine Home Kitchen.

While serving as hospital chairman the Sunshine Home Kitchen was originated and established in the Tuscaloosa Hospital in record time. The Veterans Administration has placed the Sunshine Home Kitchen in Medical Rehabilitation Services and it is used with success daily as a medium of medical rehabilitation therapy to patients after brain surgery. This year recognizing the value of Sunshine Kitchen Therapy the VA has placed such a kitchen in the VA Hospital at Downey, Ill., and recommended that other VA Hospitals establish such a kitchen.

As a sequel to the Sunshine Kitchen the Sunshine Garden cultivated by the patients has flourished with vegetables and flowers for the table in Sunshine Kitchen for two years.

Mrs. Woolley established the Poppy Panty held annually for the patients in Tuscaloosa Hospital. At this party patients wear the poppies they make for the Memorial Day Sales. She is one of the three ladies in the Department of Alabama who has been awarded membership in the National Organizations in the Hospital Workers Thousand Hour Club.

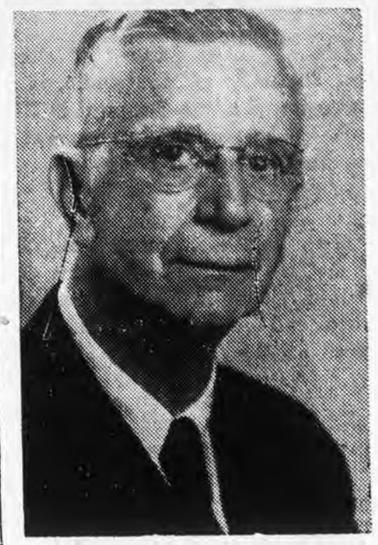

She was accepted in the Departmental Eight and Forty Club in 1950 for outstanding work and achievements in the American Legion Auxiliary.

Her efforts and devotion to the American Legion Auxiliary are untiring and full time.

Mrs. W. M. Wyatt of Montevallo represented the unit at the convention and Patricia Woolley represented the Junior Auxiliary. The Gross National Presidents Scholarship Trophy was awarded to this unit for having won over 130 units in the Department in contesting for the National Presidents Scholarship. The Allen Junior Trophy was awarded the Junior Unit for the largest membership in the Department.

Mrs. Reese L. Woolley was awarded a peice of silver by the Department President, Mrs. Charles A. Allen for outstanding membership work in the Fifth District and the Department.

LeBaron Presents Faculty Recital

Harrison D. LeBaron, organist and Director of Alabama College's School of Music will present the second of two summer school faculty music recitals at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, July 13 in Palmer Hall on the campus of Alabama College.

Featuring two of his own selections, Professor LeBaron's recital will include: his own "Intermezzo" and "Song of the Shadows"; Camille Saint-Saens' Prelude in E Major; "Jagged Peaks" from Joseph W. Clokey's Mountain Sketches; Phillip James Firse Organ Sonata" and Andante Cantabile; the Final from Louis Vierne's First Organ Symphony; and Arthur Foote's Nocturne, Op. 50, Number 6.

A native of Whitman, Massachusetts, Professor LeBaron has taught at Western College, Oxford, Ohio; Adrian College, Adrian, Michigan; and Ohio Wesleyan prior to joining the Alabama College faculty. He received his A. B. degree from Harvard, his M.A. from Cornell University and holds a music diploma from the New England Conservatory of Music.

A member of the National Musicians Association, the American Guild of Organists, the Music Library Association and the American Musicological Association, LeBaron has had several articles published in national music magazines.

Ice Cream Supper At Wilton Church

The Youth of the Wilton Methodist Church will sponsor an ice cream supper on Saturday, July 11, according to the president, Jimmy Winslett. Ice cream and cake will be served in the church basement from 5:30 to 7:30, with all the members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship participating in making and serving. Everyone is invited.

All proceeds from the supper will go into the Youth treasure, the use to be designated later.

Southern Bell Stops Time of Day Service

In the interest of better service for all telephone users, local telephone operators are no longer able to furnish the time of day to those requesting it, B. F. Lunsford, manager for the Southern Bell Telephone Co., announced today.

"We regret that it has become necessary to discontinue this service," Lunsford said, "but the growth of our city and the resulting increase in the number of telephone calls made here requires us to do so."

He pointed out that local operators now handle a much larger volume of calls than they did when the time of day service was inaugurated. As a result, the requests for the time slows down telephone service for everyone.

"The cooperation of telephone users in not asking the time, in the future, will help us provide the best possible telephone service for all," Lunsford stated.

Recreation News

There were 607 people participating in the program during the week ending last Saturday which makes a total of 1594 for the first three weeks.

* * *

Interest is still high in the Life Saving Classes. We now have about 30 boys and girls enrolled in either the Senior or Junior Class and there were 21 people present for classes on the 4th of July.

Those who have enrolled in the Senior Class are: Mary Catherine Cox, Annette McBurnette, Lois Hoffman, Mann Raspberry, Agee Kelly, Pat Kelly, and Bobby Logan.

Recently added to the Junior class are: Jack McBurnette, Charles Houlditch, Ronald Weaver, Reuben Hayes, Billy Robinson, Barclay Fisher, and Sara Jeter.

As announced last week classes are now held on Wednesday and Saturday morning at 9:30.

* * *

All teen-agers who want to go on the skating party to Centerville Thursday night should be at the High School at 6:45. The manager of the skating rink has consented to give us a reduced price for the party so we're looking for a large crowd. Incidentally, those of you who did not make it to the dance at the Girl Scout House last Friday night missed a good time. A good time was had by all, especially after the dance was made a "girl break" and some of the boys who were "shrinking violets" got on the floor.

* * *

We are pleased to announce that through the help of the Recreation Board and Mr. Garrett and Mr. McGaughy of the Alabama Power Company both tennis courts are now available for night play. Although one socket is bad on the court at the high school we hope to have it repaired very shortly. We certainly want to thank the people mentioned for making the courts available.

Incidentally, if you want to use the courts to get into shape for the annual tennis tournament you had better come to the courts early because they're both being kept very busy.

Trumbauers Make Extended Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Trumbauer and Marcia, and Marcia's cousin, Margaret Hays of Cullman, have just returned from a motor trip "up-East" as far as Philadelphia. The leisure trip was a combination of sight-seeing, visiting museums, galleries, old friends and relatives, and looking into the dramatic art programs of colleges. At Athens, Ga., they saw the University and visited Miss Virginia Newton, for several years an English teacher at Alabama College. At Chapel Hill and Durham they studied university theatres and exchanged theatre-chat with directors. Crossing the ferry to Jamestown, Va., they looked over the ancient ruins of our first settlement, then went on to restored Williamsburg, the Colonial capitol with its fascinating 17th and 18th century shops, taverns, prison, palace and capitol. There too is America's first chartered college, William and Mary, with its famous Christopher Wren building.

At Fredericksburg, Va., the Trumbauers were entertained in one of the residential halls of beautiful Mary Washington College, where Dr. Zoe Black, formerly of the Biology Department of Alabama College, is now teaching. Mrs. Black sends greetings to her many Montevallo friends. Her daughter, Jane, now senior in high school, has just won the Virginia science award over all high school contestants in the state and is well on her way toward a successful career as a geologist. At Fredricksburg, Jane joined the Trumbauer troup, which took in Mount Vernon, Arlington, and Washington, with all the usual and a few special treats, such as House debating the TVA problem; a glimpse of the Vice-President, and a visit to the Folger Shakespearean theatre and the National Gallery of Art.

Another former faculty member of Alabama College, Mrs. Ruth Andrews Hoffsommer, once head of the P. E. Department here is now at the University of Maryland, where her husband is teaching. She has two lovely children, one daughter whom she hopes to send to Alabama College. Mrs. Hoffsommer is very much interested in what is happening at A .C. and is collecting references for a candidate for Alumna of the Year.

Johnnie Walker, former technical director of the College Theatre, is head of the Dramatic Arts Department of the U. of Virginia. He too sends greetings to old friends in Montevallo.

The only other A. C. faculty member encountered on the trip, was Mrs. Whatley, who dropped into a cafe in Williamsburg where the Trumbauers were having breakfast.

At Philadelphia the teen-agers took in sights, while the adults visited with friends and relatives.

Leaving the snarling traffic of the Eastern cities behind the party stopped at Valley Forge, Gettysburg, loitering in the picturesque Pennsylvania Dutch country around Lancaster, and at Ephrata went thru the oldest Protestant cloisters in America. They bought black cherries from an Amish farmer and stopped along country roads to gather rocks and soil for Jane Black's experiments. The Sky-line Drive on top of the Blue Ridge, exquisitely beautiful Luray Caverns, acres of laurel and rhododendron, Natural Bridge, Monticello—the home of Jefferson, the nuique U. of Va., Lexington, Roanoke, the Parkway, the Great Smokies, the Cherokee Indian Reservation, impressive pageant, Unto These Hills in the mountainside theatre, swimming in an icy mountain stream flowing behind a rustic cabin, sleeping under three blankets, a long ride, a puncture on a blistering Alabama Road, and home again.

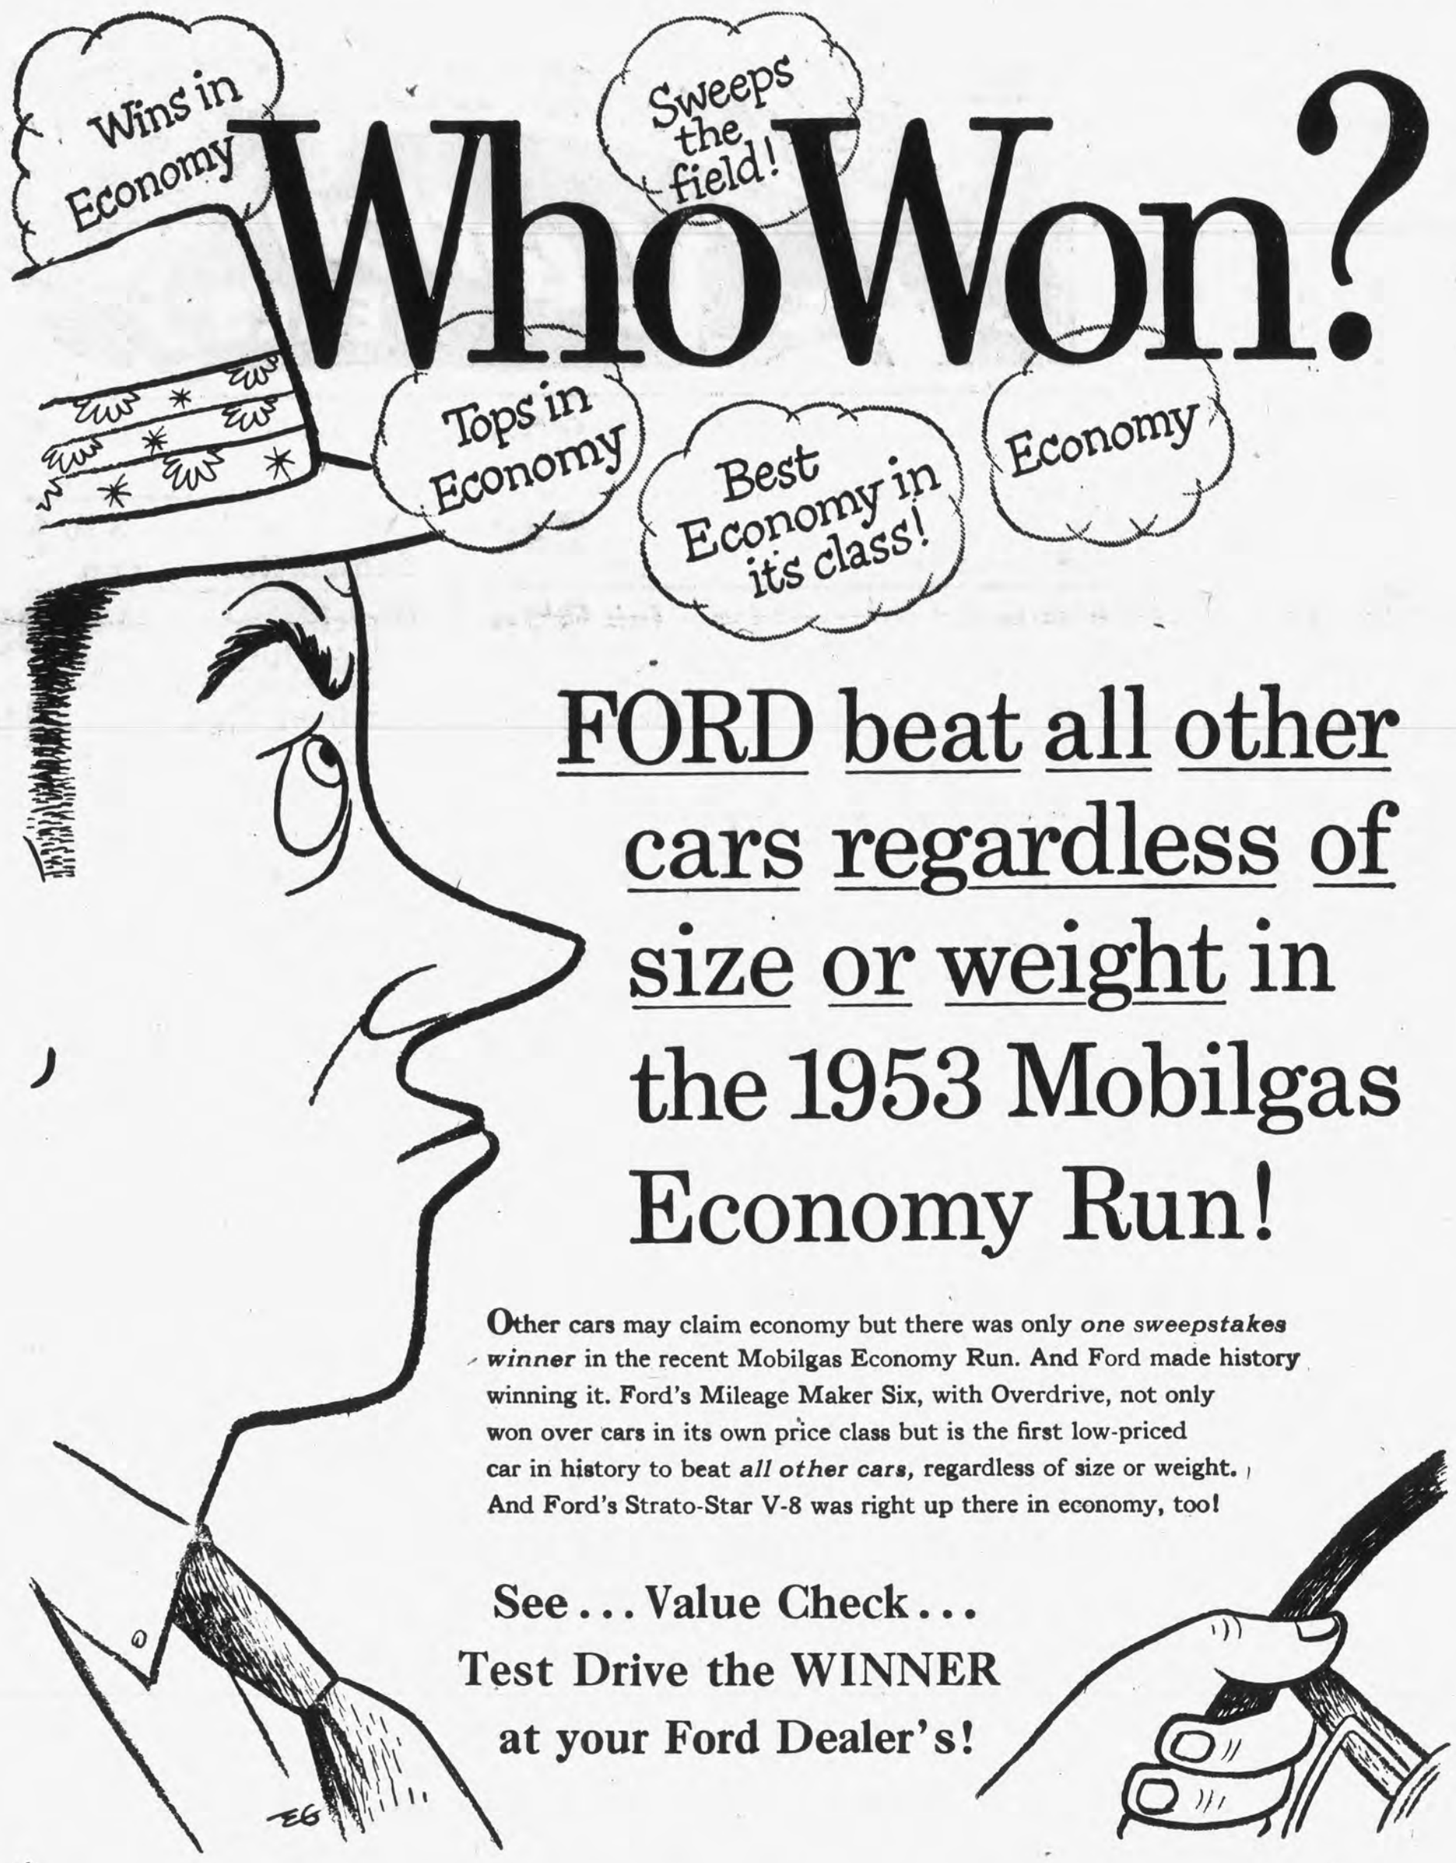

The weather was good, the climate delightful. Roads were excellent and well-marked, and except in Alabama traffic was limited to 55 miles an hour. All agreed that the East is a good place to visit, but when it comes to living there is no place like home. Some life-long Easterners, seeking refuge from over-crowded cities which are rapidly creeping out into suburban territory, expressed a desire to move South. It might be a wise move for them, but the Trumbauers expressed a hope that there would never be sufficient exodus from the big cities to spoil the peaceful agrarian countryside that marks the South from Virginia down.

Alabama College Summer Session

Alabama College's fifth major conference of the summer session will feature two internationally known authorities in the field of Family Relations and Sociology.

Scheduled for the week of July 13 through 18 on the Montevallo campus, the Family Relations Conference will present Dr. Paul Popenoe, founder and Director of the American Institute of Family Relations and Mr. Roy E. Dickerson, Executive Secretary of the Cincinnati Social Hygiene Society.

Purpose of the conference according to Dr. M. L. Orr, Director of Alabama College's summer school is "To bring the resources of modern knowledge in the fields of science, ethics, and religion to bear on marriage, personal and family relationships and to aid in the development of good mental health in these areas."

FORD beat all other cars regardless of size or weight in the 1953 Mobilgas Economy Run!

Other cars may claim economy but there was only one sweepstakes winner in the recent Mobilgas Economy Run. And Ford made history winning it. Ford's Mileage Maker Six, with Overdrive, not only won over cars in its own price class but is the first low-priced car in history to beat all other cars, regardless of size or weight. And Ford's Strato-Star V-8 was right up there in economy, too!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

by Mary Lee Taylor

Angel Icebox Cake

Broadcast: July 9, 1949

16 soft marshmallows
1 cup cold Pet Milk
1 package lemon gelatin
1 cup boiling water
12 two-inch vanilla wafers*

Cut marshmallows in small pieces. Put into bowl with cold milk. Let stand in refrigerator about 1 hour, or until thoroughly chilled. Stir now and then while chilling. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Chill until slightly thicker than unbeaten egg whites. Rub with vegetable oil a mold holding about a quart. Line sides of mold with vanilla wafers. Whip chilled milk mixture with cold rotary egg beater, or electric beater at high speed, until light and fluffy. Fold into gelatin. Pour into prepared mold. Chill until firm. Turn out. Makes 4 servings for 2 meals.

*Thin slices of angel, plain, sponge or pound cake also can be used.

Chevrolet's farther ahead than ever!

. . . IN NEW AND ADVANCED STYLING—The new long, low, sleek lines of the 1953 Chevrolet set new standards of beauty in the low-price field. Here you will see careful detailing and a richness of appointments always before found only in much costlier cars.

. . . IN HIGH-POWERED PERFORMANCE—The most powerful engine in the low-price field! The entirely new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in combination with new Powerglide* brings you new high-compression power and a wonderful gain in economy, too. In gearshift models you will find the advanced high-compression 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine.

. . . IN SMOOTH, SIMPLE AUTOMATIC DRIVING—Expect faster getaway with Powerglide's new automatic starting and passing range . . . and new economy, too. Chevrolet's new Power Steering* takes over 80 per cent of the work of steering, makes parking unbelievably easy.

. . . IN ECONOMY AND VALUE—Now, you'll get many more miles out of every gallon of gasoline. You'll save on over-all operation and upkeep, too. Yet Chevrolet remains the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

. . . IN AMERICA'S FAVOR—Again this year—as in every single postwar year—more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. In fact, latest official registration figures show that Chevrolet is over 25% ahead of the second-place car. Nearly 2 million more people now drive Chevrolets than any other make.

*Optional at extra cost. Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine available on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models only. Power Steering available on all models.

Kitchen Safety Outlined By Expert

THE kitchen is about the most important room in the house, but it is also the most dangerous place, especially for children.

Stella Mitchell, API Extension home management specialist, says it's best to keep children out of the kitchen while meals are being prepared. If this cannot be done, she suggests you do what is necessary to protect them. A play pen should be used for babies and an easy job, like setting the table, be given to the six-year-olds.

Proper use of the stove is another safety measure. If you have a wood burner, Miss Mitchell says it should be at least 12 inches from the window. When this isn't practical, make sure the curtains are well fastened so they won't dangle over the stove and catch on fire. All flooring and other combustible material within 18 inches of the stove should be insulated. Another point to keep in mind is to adjust the damper so deadly carbon monoxide gas will be carried off through the chimney.

Leaking fumes can be extremely dangerous to those who cook with gas. At the first smell of gas, turn off the burner and check the pilot to make sure it's on. Use a flashlight to look for leaks. If they cannot be found, open the doors and windows; then call a good service man. In case of large leaks, get out of the house immediately.

Miss Mitchell says correct use of kitchen tools and equipment prevents accidents. Such precautions as cutting away from the body, putting away the meat grinder, keeping sharp knives in a rack away from children, using can openers to open cans instead of knives, and drying foods that are to be cooked in deep fat may save lots of needless pain and expense.

Other safety measures are: keep poisons out of reach of children; open the far side of cooking utensils to prevent steam escaping into the face; wipe up grease, spilled water, and fruit peels promptly; tack the linoleum flat; center hot dishes on asbestos pads; place cords to prevent tripping, and turn pot handles parallel with surface of stove.

THEY'RE STILL BUSY—Alabama's county 4-H dress revue winners are busy these days getting ready for another big contest. They are making dresses to be worn in the state dress revue at Auburn early in July. Busy as a bee at her machine is pretty 15-year-old Yudora Farley of the Cedar Grove community in St. Clair County. Besides being a sewing expert, the Moody Jr. High student has done well with other projects, including home improvement, food preservation, and cooking. Yudora was named county 4-H rally queen, president of the county 4-H council, and selected dairy maid for the Moody Jr. High School this year. Yudora is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Farley.

LAMAR DEMONSTRATIONS PAY OFF AGAIN—When a demonstration is completed in a farm home in Lamar County on handicraft, home improvement, or landscaping, it isn't forgotten. Home demonstration members immediately make practical use of the things they learned. Miss Vervil Mitchell (right), home demonstration agent, smiles with a great deal of pride as Mrs. Bob McGill of Vernon Rt. 1 brought out a couple of her completed handicraft projects recently. They gave the new home-made lamp shade and hooked rug a close inspection before the articles were put into use. Things learned at meetings have paid off for the Bedford HD Club member for the past six years, for she has completed projects in home improvement, landscaping, and woodwork. Mrs. McGill possesses plenty of leadership ability too, and is now serving as vice president of her local club.

Your Tomato Crop Needs Plenty Fertilizer

By JOHN BAGBY
API Extension Horticulturist

TOMATO plants are heavy feeders and will remove large amounts of plant food from the soil; therefore, it pays to use a liberal amount of fertilizer if you expect to make maximum yields.

Research work at the API Experiment Station has shown that best results will be obtained by using 1000 to 1500 pounds of 6-8-4 plus 180 pounds of nitrate of soda or its equivalent. Each farmer should determine the amount needed by the general fertility of the soil, amount of manure—animal or plant—turned under, and past fertilizer practices.

For the fall tomato crop, prepare land well ahead of planting. Two or more diskings about one week apart will help give a good smooth, firm seedbed and also help hold moisture. Apply one-half of the complete fertilizer 10 days to two weeks before planting, and the other half three weeks after planting. Extra nitrogen should be added when first clusters of fruit have formed or at the last cultivation.

Each tomato plant needs about 15 square feet of space. Width of rows and distance of plants in the row have no effect on yields provided plants have the required space. Spacings 4½ x 3⅓ feet, 5 x 3 feet, or 6 x 2½ feet should give equally satisfactory results. Use the spacing which best fits your equipment to be used for cultivating and dusting or spraying.

Home Sewing Cuts Clothing Bill

ALMOST anyone knows that clothes for two teen-age girls take a good portion of the family income, particularly when all have to be bought from a ready-to-wear store.

This fact is kept in mind by Mrs. Jones Owens, president of the Acton Home Demonstration Club in Shelby County. She cuts her family's clothing cost to a minimum by doing most of their sewing at home. It would be difficult to estimate the value of the clothing she has made for her two girls since school started last fall; however, she did some counting and found she had made during an eight-month period three suits, two skirts, two jumpers, 11 blouses, one evening dress, and 14 other dresses, two of which were two-piece garments.

Marian Cotney, home demonstration agent, said the sewing skill of Mrs. Owens not only shows up in more economical clothing, but that the clothes also fit better and in most cases are better made garments. She explained that one of the suits made by Mrs. Owens for $15 would have cost at least $45 at a store.

Although Mrs. Owens is kept pretty busy with her housekeeping and sewing chores, she never passes up an opportunity to help boys and girls. As 4-H adult leader, she has a wonderful chance to work with the youth of the community, and enjoys it very much.

FRESH FROM THE "SEWING FACTORY"—This two-piece dress which Annie Bell Owens (right) of Helena Rt. 1 in Shelby County is showing Home Demonstration Agent Marian Cotney was made by her mother, Mrs. Jones Owens, for only $15. Miss Cotney said the same dress would have cost at least $45 at a store. Mrs. Owens has made over 30 garments for her two daughters during the past eight months.

CUTTING THE COST—When Mrs. Jones Owens of Helena Rt. 1 starts to sew, the chances are pretty good that she will be making a dress for one of her two teen-age daughters. Since school started last fall, the Shelby County housewife has made more than 30 garments for her girls. Here she is working on an evening dress for Annie Bell. Mrs. Owens says she doesn't know how much money her sewing has saved, but is sure it is quite a sizeable amount.

Along the Way with P. O. Davis

DIRECTOR, A.P.I. EXTENSION SERVICE

AN old Chinese proverb reads: "A hundred men may make an encampment but it takes a woman to make a home."

To this Goethe added: "He is the happiest, be he king or peasant, who finds peace in his home."

These two statements stand out as I write these lines about an organization that is also a movement. It consists of the home demonstration clubs of Alabama and all other states.

I'm writing about it now because we have just observed another annual home demonstration week. The theme this year, as before, was: "Today's home builds tomorrow's world."

The truth of this statement arouses inquiry as to the importance of the home demonstration movement in relation to the home, to society, and to the world.

This movement began with the greatest material necessity of people—food. Without food, life, of course, would soon be gone.

Pioneer home demonstrations, sponsored by home demonstration agents, were on food production and preservation. Each member took one-tenth of an acre, produced more and better tomatoes on it than they'd grown in the past, and canned them as part of the family food supply.

Then the movement spread to other foods, clothing, home furnishings, home management, consumer problems, and citizenship.

The latest addition on the home demonstration agenda is citizenship, which is broad and inclusive to fit the needs and activites of farm women in their local clubs and to the larger units.

These facts were emphasized at district meetings during 1953 over Alabama by Mrs. L. Chatterton, Greensboro, who is president of the Alabama Council of Home Demonstration Club Women. She discussed problems of farm women in relation to the international as well as the local and national situation.

In Alabama we're fortunate indeed to have 63,414 home demonstration club women working in 1,959 clubs in 67 counties.

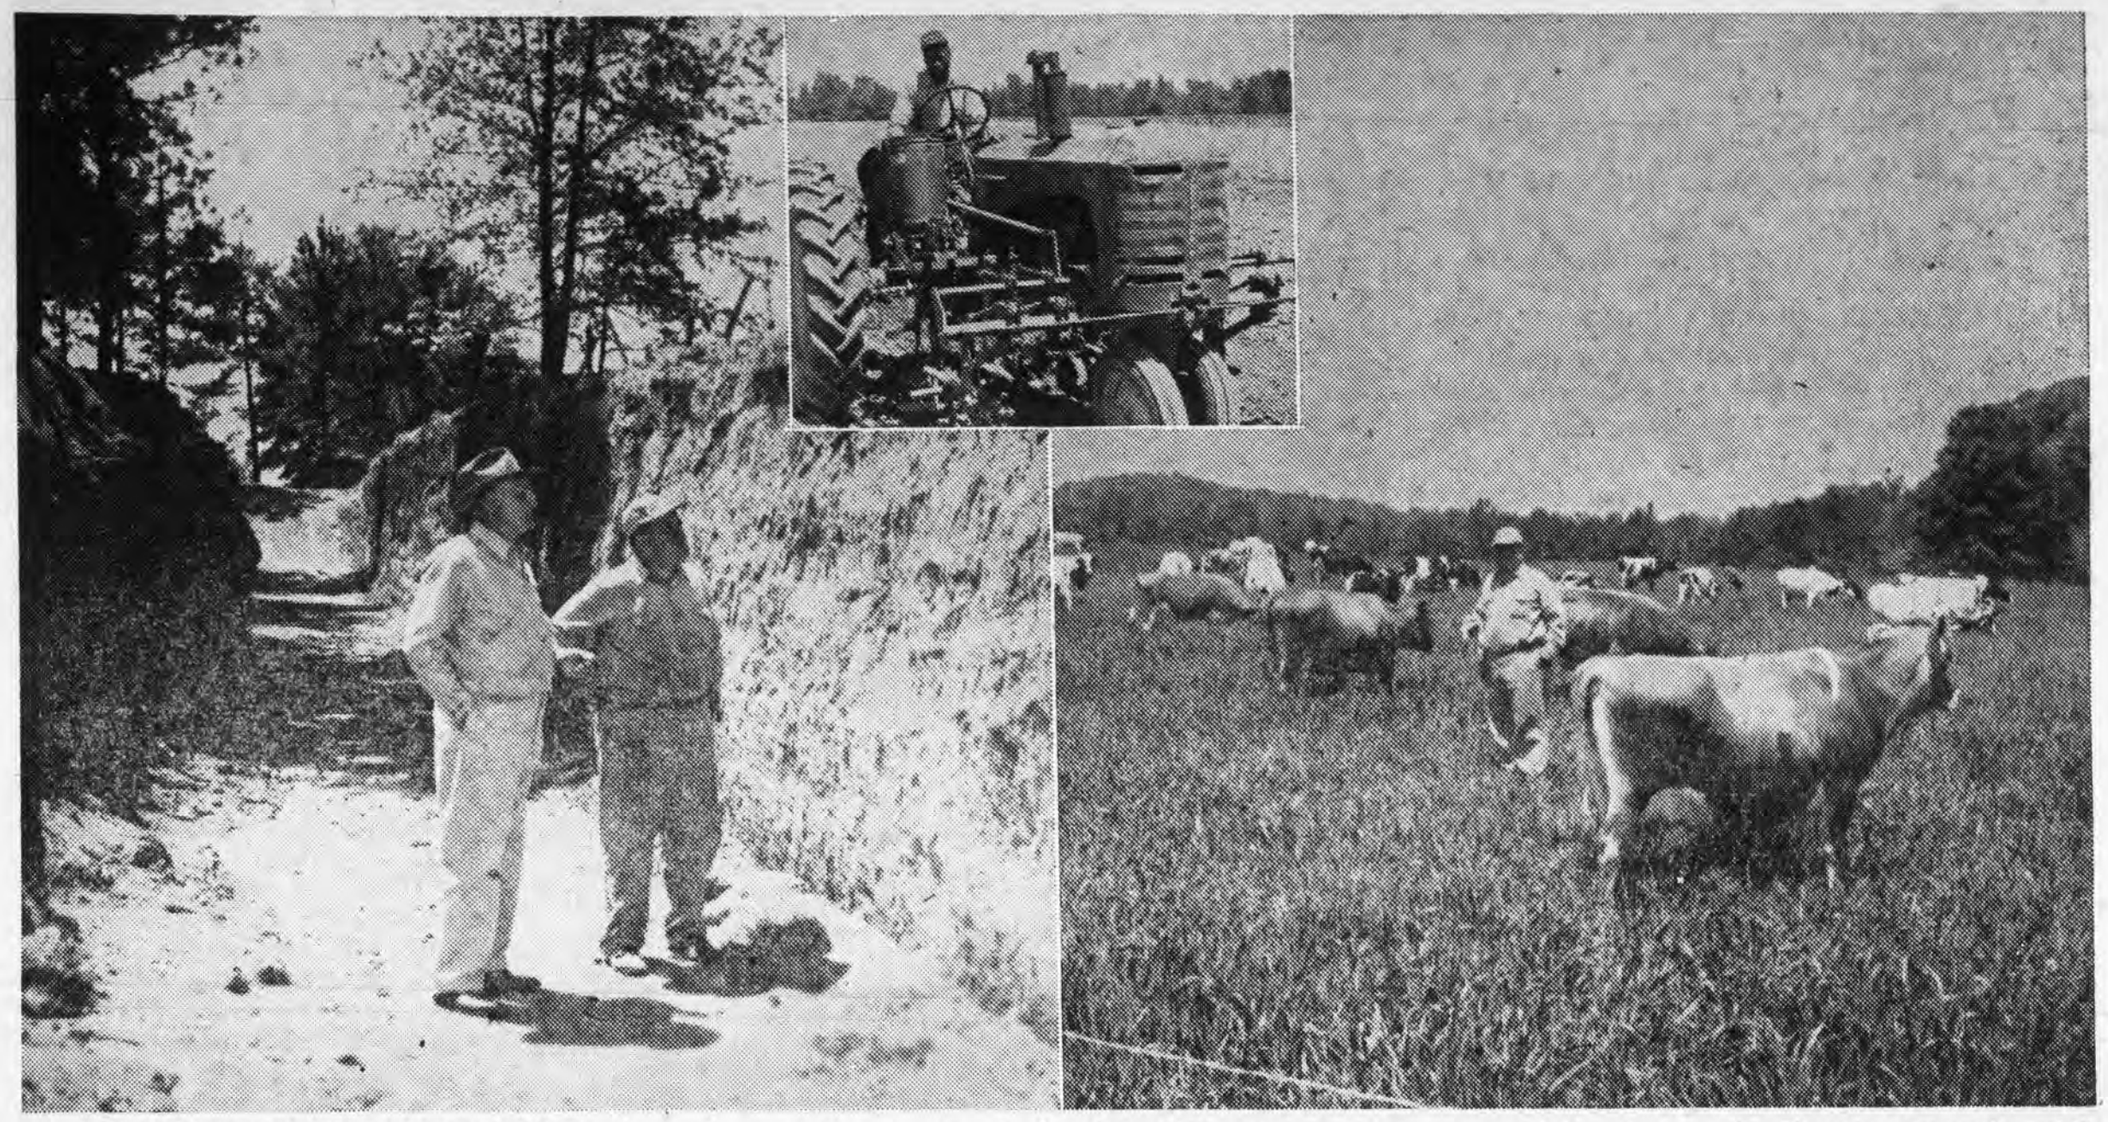

Meetings of these clubs are forums for discussion and platforms for demonstrations. They enable members to exchange views and experiences, to participate in demonstrations, and to think and plan together on problems of citizenship at home and abroad.

During the first half century of home demonstration work, leaders and members clung to the basic fundamentals. Number one of these is the demonstration in foods, clothing, home furnishings, home management, and other things.

In this way they have remained firmly anchored to material needs, but have related these needs to better and richer living. As they have improved in their use of these things, they improved themselves in every way.

As I meet with and observe home demonstration women, I am impressed and inspired by the fact that it's great to live in a nation where such a movement, based on needs, upon science, and upon freedom, functions in its own way for the good of its members.

They are democracy in action, and a real democracy is pure political expression of Christianity. Thus we have in home demonstration clubs an expression of all human needs—physical, mental, spiritual.

AN UNDERGROUND FEED ROOM—To have plenty of home-grown feed for his dairy herd, J. M. Rowe Jr. of Vincent recently dug a trench silo that will hold 300 tons of silage. The huge storage room will be filled with chopped corn silage this summer and fed to the dairy animals during periods when other feed is short. The Shelby County farmer operates an 80-cow dairy on his 600-acre farm.

THE MILK FACTORY—Plenty of green grazing and good cows are the right combination for turning out lots of high quality milk. And on the J. M. Rowe Jr. dairy farm in Shelby County oats are used to do the trick. Part of his herd is shown grazing on peaceful pasture in the Vincent community while Rowe proudly watches.

PLANTING THE SILAGE CROP—Corn is used on the J. M. Rowe Jr. dairy farm to provide plenty of good home raised feed for his milkers. Here Pfister 631 is being planted to furnish silage for the Shelby County dairy herd this year. The corn receives 500 pounds of 0-14-14 at planting and 400 pounds of ammonium nitrate as a side-dressing per acre. Rowe says the 40-acre field will make enough silage to fill his 300-ton trench silo.

With most crops laid by, July is a good time to plan for getting a cover of green on every acre you possibly can in late summer and fall. Arrangements should be made for winter legume, clover, grass seed and small grain, and fertilizer.

SHE LIKES THEM ALL—A champion grower of champion animals—that just about describes Mildred Johnson of Hardaway. The 14-year-old Macon County 4-H Club member started with two dairy calves in 1946 and since that time has carried more than 40 dairy and beef calf and hog projects. The 9th grade Tuskegee High student has been a successful contestant in many livestock events, exhibiting the individual grand champion at the Montgomery Hog Show in 1949, the reserve in 1951 and again in 1953, and the grand champion pen of three animals this year. Above, Mildred displays some of the prizes won by her at various livestock shows. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Johnson.

Farm Life Proves Pleasant And Profitable

THE wide-open spaces and a busy farm life have a wonderful attraction for some city folks.

Testimony to this fact was given near Vincent the other day by a progressive and successful young dairyman who was reared in Alabama's biggest city.

The farmer is J. M. Rowe Jr., who never gave up the idea of one day moving to the country on a farm of his own. To be prepared for the business of farming, he studied agriculture at API for nine quarters.

In 1947 Rowe bought a 600-acre farm near Vincent in Shelby County and started a grade A dairy business with 27 cows. Since then he has increased that number to 170, including the heifers being raised for herd replacements.

Raising plenty of home-grown feed is given first consideration on the Rowe farm, for he knows that's the best way to have a good part of his milk check left each month. His feed program consists of grazing crops, silage, and protein supplement.

Silage is one of the main crops because it can be stored and used at any time, and especially during periods when other feed is short. For the silage crop, Rowe recently dug a trench silo that will hold 300 tons. Plans are to have another the same size next fall. The huge storage room that was completed in the early spring will be filled with chopped corn silage this summer.

Planted in April, the silage crop receives 500 pounds of 0-14-14 broadcast at planting and a side-dressing of 400 pounds of ammonium nitrate on each acre. The plants are spaced nine inches in the drill to produce a large tonnage of feed.

Grazing crops are also given special attention on the Rowe farm. The cows feast on oats, ryegrass, white dutch clover, and crimson clover in winter and on dallis grass, white clover, sericea, and sudan grass in summer.

Always a problem with dairymen is raising herd replacements; however, on the Rowe farm this job is taken care of in good style by A. J. Fretwell. He raises the calves on nurse cows, and sprays the barn once a week to control diseases. Rowe said nurse cows get calves off to a good start and are less trouble, while spraying the barn cuts calf losses to a minimum. He commented that about 50 per cent of the calf crop was being lost before the barn spraying program was started.

Evidence of the good job being done on the dairy farm is found in the fact that Rowe's cows are averaging three gallons per day the year around.

Early corn should be ready for your hogs this month. They should have kudzu, o-too-tan soybeans, alfalfa, or other good legumes to graze while on corn. When early corn is hogged off, prepare the soil for seeding to a winter grazing crop.

To Prevent Accidents, Be Careful Around Machinery

By J. T. GAILLARD
Specialist in Farm Mechanization

LESS spectacular perhaps than many other accident hazards, but just as dangerous, are moving belts, power take-offs, shafts, or other moving parts of farm machinery. These hazards are responsible for many deaths and injuries every year.

A good rule to remember is that machines have tremendous power for doing work but have no sympathy for you.

It's your responsibility to prevent accidents by keeping the tractor and other machinery in safe operating condition, with all shields and protective coverings over moving parts in place. Look at the gearshift lever before cranking the tractor or other power unit by hand. Be sure it's out of gear before attempting to start the engine.

A tractor is built to carry only one person, so don't take on extra passengers in the field or on the highway. Children do not realize the danger of farm machinery; therefore, adults should protect them by keeping them off tractors or pulled equipment. Above all, never treat a tractor or other farm machine as a toy.

Watch cigarettes and open flames, such as a lantern, when filling the fuel tank. And never fill a tank while the engine is running or very hot. Too, remember the place for tractor fuel, oils, and greases is in a fuel storage building and not in the barn.

Occasional adjustments are necessary, but be sure the machine is out of gear—or better still, shut off—when adjustments are being made. Inspection holes and plates should be painted a contrasting color, such as red, yellow, or striped, to warn you that you may lose your hand or foot if it's put inside while the machine is in operation.

Be very cautious while driving a tractor on highways. In 90 per cent of the automobile-tractor collisions, the tractor driver is injured or killed. Most motorists consider a tractor a very slow moving object and do not expect it to make quick turns onto or off the highway. As a tractor operator, you should follow safe vehicle operation rules while on the highway, indicating turns and stops with arm signals and looking carefully before entering a road. A red flag mounted on the tractor or pulled equipment will warn motorists of possible danger. Never drive on a highway or other road without proper headlights and red tail lights.

Shade For Hogs Is A Real Feed Saver

HOGS are versatile!

Although they can adapt themselves to most conditions, they fare badly in real hot weather. The reason is simple: An average market hog has a blanket of fat averaging about one and a half inches thick wrapped around him. Compare that with the same thickness of woolen blankets on a scorching day and you can imagine how his temperature goes up.

Research has shown that hogs make faster gains on less feed when the temperature is between 60 and 75 degrees. Hog men can't provide air conditioning, but they should furish the best cooling system possible so their animals will make the most economical gains.

As shotes go onto corn fields this summer, remember that shade is a great feed saver. A clean spring branch close by is about as good for them as an old fashioned "wash hole" was for a bare footed country boy. Clean, sanitary wallows are good; however, it's better to have no wallows with plenty of shade than to use stagnated, parasite infested water holes.

If plenty of shade trees are not close to the corn, supplement, and water, brush arbors make good inexpensive shade.

The important thing is to keep feed, water, and shade close together. A well fed pig spends most of his time eating, sleeping, and drinking. He isn't lazy, but if the shade is a long way from the feed and water, he will postpone leaving it as long as possible. The result, of course, is low feed consumption and slow gain.

It's been said that a well fed pig eats a little, drinks a little, and naps a little. While napping, he dreams he is hungry so he gets up and begins eating again.

So it's good business to make your shotes' eating, sleeping and drinking convenient and comfortable. This will help push them off to market as tops before the Midwest market rush starts in October and forces down hog prices.

Timber owners should contact several mill operators before selling their logs. Often sawmills 30 to 40 miles from the timber will bid. Don't depend entirely on the market in the immediate vicinity. Competitive bidding will bring higher prices.

This Month on the Farm
by API EXTENSION SPECIALISTS

USE surplus oats or other grain to creep feed beef calves for an earlier market and a better grade. While nursing their mothers, the calves make faster and cheaper gains on grain than at any other time of their lives. Locate creeps near shade and water.

* * *

MARKET top calves from the herd this month. These calves will sell for more dollars while they still have their milk bloom. Also, by marketing now the early calving cows will get a longer rest period.

* * *

REMOVE bulls from the cow herd by July 1 to keep from getting summer calves. If bulls are in a run-down condition, give them a limited ration of oats and some corn along with their regular pasture. This will insure a better calf crop next year. Remove cows with heifer calves six months and older from the regular herd to prevent heifers being bred too early.

* * *

GOOD soil preparation is a "must" if you expect to get and hold good stands of crops like crimson clover, alfalfa, and permanent pasture mixtures to be seeded this summer or early fall. If the land has not been turned, this job should be done at once in most parts of the state. Let the land remain in the rough until rains come. Then disk and harrow enough to control weeds and grass and to get a firm seedbed.

* * *

STORE your combine harvester under a shed. Remove all seed and chaff from the cylinder, straw racks, and around the elevating canvas. After it is cleaned thoroughly, it should be tightened, checked for worn and loose parts, and greased. All worn or broken parts should be replaced immediately.

* * *

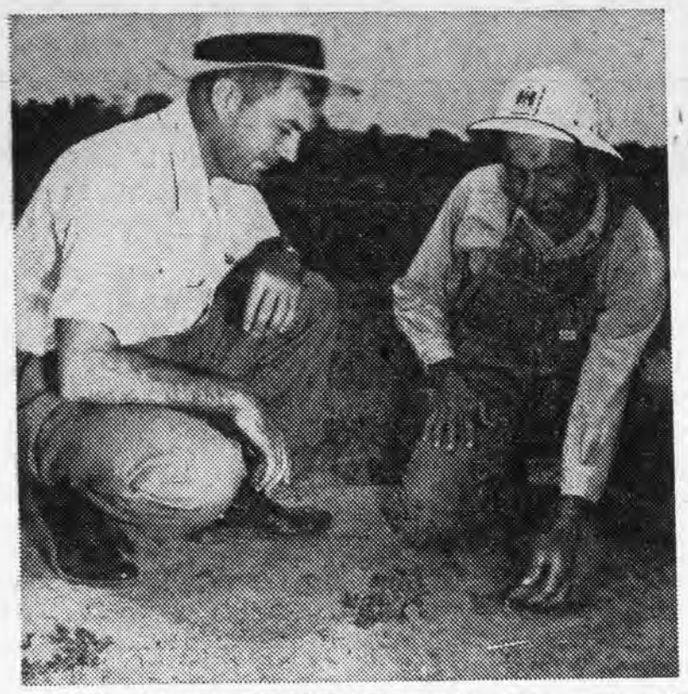

TO control peach tree borers, use 4 pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT to 50 gallons of water (¼ pound to 3 gallons). Spray the trunks of trees from the ground up to a little above the main branches with a low pressure sprayer, or paint on with a brush. Three applications are necessary and should be applied about July 1, Aug. 1, and Sept. 1.

* * *

OVERGRAZING kudzu results in thin stands and often in complete destruction of the stand. The crop is overgrazed when remaining growth does not cover the ground. Kudzu that has been grazed down in May and June should have a chance to recover before the dry weather in August and September. The growth made during this time can be grazed off after the first frost.

* * *

THE heavy flow of milk earlier this year created problems for many dairymen. But right now you should be looking forward to the late summer and fall marketing season. Remember the short milk supply and the extremely heavy demand last fall? Come next September you will probably again have a high demand for all the good quality milk that you can produce.

FIGHTING FOR SUNSHINE—When heavy rains of the past spring packed peanut fields on Max Blackburn's farm, it was mighty hard for the seedlings to push through the soil. Nevertheless, Blackburn has a good stand on his 60 acres of peanuts. The crop was planted the last of April on a well prepared seedbed and fertilized with 375 pounds of 4-10-7. He hopes to beat his half-ton per acre yield of last year if rains hit his crops at the right time. Looking at a young peanut plant that has just pushed through the packed soil are J. W. Langford (left), assistant county agent, and Blackburn.

Peanuts For Oil Are A Profitable Crop

THERE'S a wealth of oil under some soils in South Alabama! And you don't have to be one of a privileged few to own a tract of the land. Neither does it take a geologist with lots of expensive equipment to find the oil.

Almost every farmer has some of this wealth clearly located with green markers that dot his fields. The oil we are talking about is in peanuts. Although less spectacular than a gushing oil well, this crop has paid off mortgages on many farms.

One oil farmer is Max Blackburn of Brundidge Rt. 2, who planted 60 acres of the crop this spring. Allotted only 43 acres for commercial peanuts, Blackburn explains that the rest of the crop will be harvested by market hogs. Last year the Pike County farmer dug 26 tons from a 43-acre field.

Blackburn gets his peanut crop off to a good start by fertilizing it with 350 to 400 pounds of 4-10-7 at planting. To control weeds, the Southeast Alabama farmer hoes his crop once and plows it about five times —more often if wet weather increases weed growth.

Blackburn recalls that when he replaced his mules with two tractors 11 years ago his main crop was cotton; peanuts were grown as a sideline. Now peanuts are the main cash crop, and cotton is grown only on halves with tenants—Blackburn furnishes the land and fertilizer. Although hogs have always been a part of this farmer's operations, they became a bigger money-maker after the shift from cotton to peanuts.

In the past, about 75 to 100 head of shotes have harvested extra peanuts plus an additional 50 acres of corn. Starting this year, Blackburn plans to finish out about 50 market hogs each year as part of his balanced farming program which includes peanuts, hogs, and beef cattle.

The Pike County farmer, who believes in diversification, has already started his beef herd. He has 47 head of animals that have been raised during the past three years, and plans are to increase this number to 75 brood cows soon.

Blackburn explained that falling prices of beef cattle don't worry him too much because he has grown into the business. In fact, he has saved all heifer calves, and what's more, money from steers he's sold has been used to buy more heifers.

Grazing crops for the cattle and hog herd include 20 acres of crimson clover and ryegrass, 15 acres of sericea, seven acres of kudzu, and 10 acres of native grasses.

Better Light Will Prevent Falls

IT'S possible to fall by slipping on a banana peel on Main Street, but William T. Cox, API Extension farm building specialist, says your chances of taking a tumble in the home are much greater.

In fact, almost half of the accidental home deaths are caused from falls.

Cox says that adequate light in the yard and on stairs, where about 40 per cent of the accidents occur, is particularly necessary. He explains that a projector flood lamp mounted on the house or garage should be used to light up a path of safety at night. The light should be mounted so that it shines downward and not into the eyes.

Good lighting is also needed at entrances to the house and on stairs. Stair lights, controlled by wall switches at the head and foot, will prevent many needless falls.

Inside the house a switch near the entrance door—not behind it—will instantly light the hall to disclose an object that might be in your pathway. Then, to prevent stumbling over the coffee table or sending a table lamp crashing to the floor as you try to find a light in the living room, you should have a ceiling fixture or other light that can be turned on at the entrance door. If the living room is lighted only by floor and table lamps, have at least one of them plugged into a wall outlet that is controlled by a convenient entrance wall switch.

MORE SUMMER EGGS. Pullets started in December, January, and February are now ready to go into the laying house. The pullets are your real bank account so give them preference. Don't make the mistake of leaving yearling hens in the laying house just because they are still in production. The old hens will be profitable for three to four months yet, so move them to temporary quarters—a laying shelter or range shelter will serve their needs.

Use night lights to get top production out of the old hens when they are moved. Suspend the light to shine on the roosting and feeding areas. A 15-watt bulb for each 40 to 50 hens should be used at first and the size increased to a 25, a 40 and a 60-watt light as the fall progresses.

* * *

BULK FEED STORAGE. A new feed storage system is being introduced in the poultry business. It's bulk storage of feed on the farm.

Although farmers must provide storage bins to use this feeding system, it has several advantages over bagged feed. First, it reduces feed cost about $3 per ton. It eliminates lifting and opening feed bags, reduces loss to rats, and makes inspecting of feed easy.

One problem of the bulk feeding system is the lack of scales on which farmers may check the feed load. Poultrymen who use this method of handling their feed should make sure it's weighed on scales certified by state agencies.

* * *

CHRISTMAS TURKEYS. Good news is in the air for turkey growers.

A report from the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicates there will be a considerable drop in the number of turkeys produced in 1953. According to the report, 19 per cent less poults are being started this year than in 1952. Hatcheries had produced 11 per cent fewer birds of the heavy breeds and 28 per cent fewer of the light breeds by May 1 than at the same date last year. They also had 11 per cent fewer eggs in incubators May 1. Moreover, the turkey supply in storage is moving out rapidly, and the consumption of turkey meat is up. All this points to a good turkey market for turkeys in the fall.

Now is the time to take advantage of this situation and start some poults for the Christmas market.

* * *

COOL water helps a chicken stay cool, while hot water either keeps the bird from drinking enough or may actually raise its temperature. This is why it's important to have pipe lines leading into the chicken house placed deep enough in the ground to keep the water cool.

SOMETHING TO BE PROUD OF—Always eager to show off his replacement Hereford heifers is K. N. Murchison (right) of Tallassee Rt. 1. The Elmore County farmer, a great believer in the value of a thorough crop and fertilization program, explains to Assistant County Agent V. L. Keeble how he keeps 24 grade and 26 purebred Herefords grazing most all the time and cultivates nearly 60 acres of cropland.

Murchison's 10 acres of corn, planted in mid-April, got 600 pounds of 4-10-7 at planting time and six weeks later at lay-by time was side-dressed with 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate.

The cattleman's pasture also gets a generous annual supply of fertilizer. The Summer grazing acres, consisting of white dutch clover, dallis grass, sericea, kobe lespedeza, and other native grasses have an application of 500 pounds of 0-14-14 each March. The cotton field receives the same fertilization as the corn, except that the side-dressing is only 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate. Last year a bale was picked from every two acres.

Recipe For June

POTATOES, one of America's favorite energy foods, are plentiful this year. And what's more, the housewife will find them economical, says Mary Hulsey, API Extension food specialist.

Miss Hulsey says potato salad, an old favorite, is delicious and very wholesome. It deserves to be attractive and flavorful, though—not too dry, not too mushy, nor tasteless. So here's a recipe, designed especially to please the whole family. Ingredients for four servings are:

Three cups of cubed cooked potates, chilled; 1 tablespoon of minced onion; 1 cup of thick salad dressing; 1 teaspoon of salt; ¼ cup of chopped green pepper; ½ cup of finely cut celery; ¼ cup of chopped pickles or cucumber.

To make: Gently mix potatoes, onion, dressing, and salt, taking care to blend well yet not break up the potatoes. Chill the mixture until serving time. Then add the rest of the ingredients, mixing lightly and adding more dressing, if needed. Serve on lettuce garnished with tomatoes cut in wedges.

Many people like sliced hard-cooked eggs with potato salad, or deviled eggs in the border arrangement with the tomato wedges.

One point to remember about potato salad is that it should always be kept cold until served. Potato salad taken on picnics or in lunch boxes can't safely wait in a warm place without danger of food poisoning.

MADE RAPID PROGRESS—Viola Beard, a Troy Senior 4-H Club member, was rewarded for her sewing ability when she took top honors in the county dress revue last year. The Pike County 4-H'er had previously won third in 1951 and second in 1952. Since she became a 4-H member four years ago, Viola has won many honors. She was named first place individual county talent contest winner this year and last year; and best camper, best swimmer, and best sport at the county 4-H camp last year. The Pike County girl has also served as president of her local club for two years and song leader for a year.

With hot weather just around the corner, egg quality will drop unless poultrymen take the necessary steps to cool their eggs and keep them cool.

A good underground storage pit will hold eggs at a satisfactory temperature for a few days, points out John Weeks, API Extension poultryman. This pit is very good to use with small flocks of from 300 to 500 hens. On larger poultry farms a mechanically refrigerated room is better.

Things You Should Know About Snakes

SUMMERTIME is barefoot time and a period of the year normally taken for vacation. It is also the time to be on the lookout for snakes.

There are only four types of poisonous snakes found in Alabama which include six distinct species. They are the copperhead, the water moccasin, the coral snake, the timber rattler, the pigmy rattler, and the Florida diamondback. All these snakes, with the exception of the coral snake, are pit vipers and strike with fangs. The coral snake chews on its victims.

There are possibly 35 or 40 species of non-poisonous snakes, but many of them mimic the deadly ones. The safest way to avoid snake bite is to wear boots when wading in water or hiking through timber. Water snakes like those ponds where banks and shallow water produce thick weeds. All water snakes should be killed, since most people do not know the difference between the water moccasin and the non-poisonous reptiles.

Should you or a friend get snake bitten here are five things to do:

1. Keep victim quiet.
2. Sterilize a sharp knife blade with a burning match and cut X's one-fourth inch deep in each fang puncture.
3. Tie a tourniquet above the bite, if on the arm or leg.
4. Apply suction to the wound if there are no sores in the mouth.
5. Get the victim to a doctor or bring a doctor. Do not make the victim walk.

NEW CROPS—Dr. M. C. Hunt (left) of LaFayette tells County Agent E. L. Stewart (center) and Loomis Fuller, farm manager, that his 420-acre Chambers County farm looks different now since new crops such as Chapel Hill rescue, Ky. 31 fescue, crimson clover, coastal bermuda, and cattle have taken over. Dr. Hunt bought the place in 1948 as a run-down row crop farm with rows running up and down the hills. He has improved it by using plenty of fertilizer and planting sod crops for seed harvest and cattle feed. Each acre gets an application of 1000 pounds of basic slag and 100 pounds of $K_2O$ every other year, while acres to be harvested for seed get an extra application of 15 pounds of boron. Dr. Hunt has 110 head of cattle on the farm.

WINNERS IN ST. CLAIR—Winners in the St. Clair County dairy foods contest are, left to right, Racille Sweatt and Mable Layton, both members of the Ragland 4-H club. They won over six other contestants with their demonstration on making hot chocolate and pimento cheese sandwiches. Although this is their first try in such a contest, the young ladies will be looking for more honors when they represent their county in the state dairy foods contest at Auburn this summer. Mable is president of the local 4-H organization; Racille is song leader for the group.

National Farm Safety Week

NATIONAL Farm Safety Week will be observed throughout the nation July 19-29.

"The purpose of setting this week aside," says P. O. Davis, API Extension director, "is to reduce the tragic farm accident toll by urging every farm family to adopt safe practices of living, working, and playing throughout the year."

He asserts that nowhere is the problem of safety more important than on the farm. One-fourth of all on-the-job work deaths occur in agriculture, and one-fourth of all home accidental deaths occur in farm homes. A total of 15,000 farm people lose their lives in accidents each year. The seriousness of the situation is further emphasized by the fact that less than one-fourth of the total U. S. population lives on farms.

You and every member of your family should put into effect this simple, three-point safety program: (1) Learn to recognize and hunt out accident and fire hazards on the farm. (2) Correct or remove all hazards possible. (3) Learn to live, play, and work safely around hazards that cannot be removed.

"In addition to deaths," reveals Mr. Davis, "1,300,000 farm people are injured in rural accidents each year. The time loss resulting from these accidents is estimated to be 25,000 man days, enough effort to produce the nation's wheat crop. Therefore, the cost of farm accidents runs into hundreds of millions of dollars each year, not to mention the suffering and unhappiness they cause.

"It should be remembered that fire alone destroys $100,000,000 worth of farm property each year.

"With these facts in mind, let's plan to make every week farm safety week."

Rescue is another very promising new grass. It is a perennial under some conditions and an annual reseeding grass under others. Texas 46 and Chapel Hill varieties look best in the API Experiment Station tests.

Be sure that pullets on range have plenty of shade so they will not crowd themselves and start feather-picking and cannibalism. If enough range shelter cannot be provided, a brush arbor built on poles or poultry netting will help. It is important to keep pullets away from areas where adult poultry has ranged.

All calves and yearlings not vaccinated for blackleg should have this treatment at once. This disease is soil-borne and can be carried from one pasture to another in numerous ways. Cattle are likely to pick it up more readily when grazing short pasture. We still have too much loss in Alabama from blackleg. Use the double-dose treatment that immunizes for blackleg and malignant edema. This is a disease similar to blackleg and cannot be distinguished by field examination.

SAVING THE SURPLUS—R. W. Kent of Siluria and his grandson, Douglas Jr., look over a field of fescue, orchard grass, and ladino clover to be cut for silage. Although this is the first time Kent has attempted to save surplus pasture crops as silage, he has confidence in the feed and will fill a 300-ton silo. Kent moved to his 550-acre farm in Shelby County 23 years ago, and he and his sons have operated a dairy since that time. They have a 95-cow operation.

Expert Outlines How To Fertilize Alfalfa Crop

J. C. LOWERY, API Extension agronomist, says to follow good fertilizer practices to alfalfa success.

Here are the recommendations of the Experiment Station by soil areas:

Black Belt

Alfalfa is recommended only on lime soils of this area that require no additional lime. Fertilizers are used at the following rates:

| Establishment Per Acre | Annual Maintenance Per Acre |
|---|---|
| 100 lb. $P_2O_5$ | 100 lb. $P_2O_5$ |
| 180 lb. $K_2O$ | 180 lb. $K_2O$ |
| 20-25 lb. borax | 20-25 lb. borax |

These amounts of $P_2O_5$, $K_2O$, and borax can be obtained from approximately 900 pounds per acre of an 0-12-20 fertilizer (with borax), or from 500 pounds of superphosphate, 300 pounds of muriate of potash, and 20 to 25 pounds of borax.

Gulf Coast and Lower Coastal Plains

| Establishment Per Acre | Annual Maintenance Per Acre |
|---|---|
| 4 tons lime | 140 lb. $P_2O_5$ |
| 140 lb. $P_2O_5$ | 240 lb. $K_2O$ |
| 240 lb. $K_2O$ | 20-25 lb. borax |
| 20-25 lb. borax | |

These amounts of $P_2O_5$, $K_2O$, and borax can be obtained from about 1200 pounds of an 0-12-20 fertilizer per acre (with borax) or from 700 pounds of superphosphate, 400 pounds of muriate of potash, and 20 to 25 pounds of borax.

Upper Coastal Plain, Piedmont Sand Mountain, and Coosa River Valley

| Establishment Per Acre | Annual Maintenance Per Acre |
|---|---|
| 3 tons lime | 100 lb. $P_2O_5$ |
| 100 lb. $P_2O_5$ | 180 lb. $K_2O$ |
| 180 lb. $K_2O$ | 20-25 lb. borax |
| 20-25 lb. borax | |

The above amounts of $P_2O_5$, $K_2O$, and borax can be obtained by using about 900 pounds per acre of an 0-12-20 mixed fertilizer (with borax). About 500 pounds of superphosphate, 300 pounds of muriate of potash, and 20 to 25 pounds of borax will supply the recommended amounts of $P_2O_5$, $K_2O$, and boron.

Tennessee Valley

(a) Red Soils

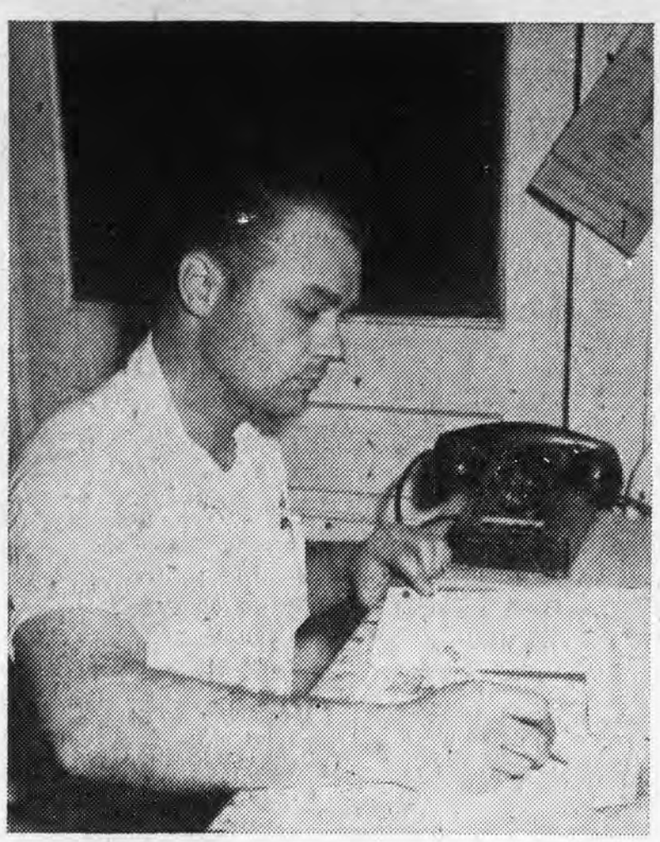

| Establishment Per Acre | Annual Maintenance Per Acre |
|---|---|
| 2 tons lime | 100 lb. $P_2O_5$ |
| 100 lb $P_2O_5$ | 160 lb. $K_2O$ |
| 160 lb. $K_2O$ | 20-25 lb. borax |
| 20-25 lb. borax | |

These amounts of $P_2O_5$, $K_2O$, and borax can be obtained by using 800 pounds of 0-12-20 fertilizer (with borax) per acre, or by using 500 pounds of superphosphate, 250 pounds of muriate of potash, and 20 to 25 pounds of borax.

(b) Gray Soils

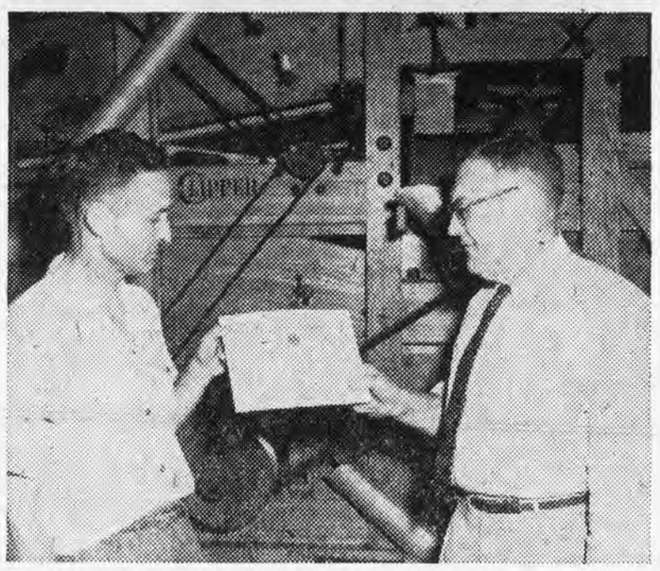

| Establishment Per Acre | Annual Maintenance Per Acre |
|---|---|
| 3 tons lime | 120 lb. $P_2O_5$ |
| 120 lb. $P_2O_5$ | 200 lb. $K_2O$ |
| 200 lb. $K_2O$ | 20-25 lb. borax |
| 20-25 lb. borax | |

These amounts of $P_2O_5$, $K_2O$ and borax can be obtained by using 1000 pounds of 0-12-20 fertilizer (with borax) per acre, or by using 600 pounds of superphosphate, 325 pounds of muriate of potash, and 20 to 25 pounds of borax.

THE STARTING POINT—Recent regulations passed by the Alabama Crop Improvement Association require all seed processing plants cleaning certified seed to meet certain minimum specifications. A plant owner must make application for a certificate of eligibility and agree to abide by the organization's regulations. Here Robert Ethridge Jr., plant manager for the Piedmont Seed Processing Plant in Lee County, makes application for such a certificate.

THE NEXT STEP—Making certain plant facilities are in good shape is the second step in getting ready to clean certified seed. Here elevators are being checked to make sure there will be a minimum of mixing while the cleaning operation goes on. County Agent Jack Taylor (left), Lee County agent, and Henry Jackson (right), a co-owner of the Piedmont Processing Plant in Opelika, watches Jackson's plant get the first inspection by Melvin Moorer, chief field inspector, after the new rule went into effect.

READY TO GO—With inspection complete and everything in order, the plant is ready to start processing seed. After the plant is passed by the inspector, its operator is given a certificate authorizing him to clean certified seed. Frank Jackson (right), receives a certificate for his plant from Ralph R. Jones, secretary of the Alabama Crop Improvement Association.

Better Seed Are On Their Way

ANOTHER step recently taken by the Alabama Crop Improvement Association will raise the quality of certified seed produced in this state. Ralph R. Jones, API Extension Service seed crops specialist, says the new regulations required of custom seed processors who are cleaning certified seed will help safeguard the product all the way from the breeder to the user.

Jones said H. Owen Murfee, Jr., president of the farmer controlled certifying agency, announced the new regulations requiring all custom processors to be approved by the association before they are eligible to process certified seed. Before approval is given to any plant, Murfee says certain minimum requirements must be met. Some are:

1. The plant must be equipped with the necessary machinery and other facilities to do a good processing job of seed to be handled.

2. The plant must be of such size to provide ample space for machinery, storage, and working area.

3. All machinery, conveyors, elevators, and storage bins must be constructed and installed to permit thorough cleaning.

4. Processors must agree to properly tag or otherwise identify all certified seed when they are received and to retain the identity of seed during the time they are in his possession.

5. Lots of certified seed must be handled while in possession of the processor to prevent mechanical mixing.

6. Processors must clean all processing equipment, including elevators and conveyors, between processing different lots of certified seed.

7. The processor must keep a complete record on all certified seed which he processes.

Commenting further on these regulations Murfee says his group knows that plant personnel plays a big part in the kind of cleaning job done; therefore, no plant will be approved which does not have capable operators.

Jones points out that the new processing measures being put into effect were adopted to strengthen the superior qualities of certified seed. To many, he says, it seemed negligent for a certifying agency to guard against varietial mixtures during the production of seed and then take no steps to guard their purity during the processing operations. He predicts that the new regulations will give added demand for certified seed.

Jones went on to say that the seed plants, about 30 commercial organizations, have been very cooperative in working out the program. After inspection and approval, the processor is given a certificate which authorizes him to process certified seed.

Fall Irish potatoes are a risky crop. Studies at Auburn indicate that risks may be reduced by the following: planting on a moist but well-drained bottom land; growing the Triumph or Sebago variety; using seed dug long enough for "rest period" to be broken; preparing the land and applying fertilizer 3 or 4 weeks in advance of planting; planting on a cloudy day; opening the furrow, planting seed, and covering immediately; mulching with pine or grain straw; dusting for blight and insects; irrigating if on a dry site.

Research Results

in brief from A.P.I. AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION

CHEMICAL TREATMENT OF GRASS AND LEGUME FORAGE SEED for control of seed and soil-borne diseases has proved profitable in securing and maintaining a stand. Results of tests conducted for the last 2 years indicate that stands may be increased 10 to 15 per cent by treating seed of these crops with fungicides such as Arasan, Spergon, Phygon, etc. Other tests have shown that these materials do not interfere with nodulation of legumes.

* * *

FOR HIGH QUALITY CANNED TOMATO JUICE use well-colored, vine-ripened tomatoes. After washing and trimming the tomatoes, heat them very rapidly to a low simmer and pass them through a fine screen to remove seed and skins. Pack the hot juice in clean cans or jars, salt, seal, process for 10 minutes in a boiling water bath, and cool.

* * *

SOIL TESTING has been available to Alabama farmers since Feb. 1, 1953. By May 1, 1,900 soil samples had been analyzed for acidity, available phosphorus, available potassium and lime requirement. Of the samples analyzed so far from all parts of Alabama, 30 per cent were low in phosphorus, 60 per cent were low in potassium and 44 per cent showed a lime requirement of ¾ to 1½ tons of lime per acre.

* * *

BOLLWORM is the second most important cotton pest in Alabama. Experiments have shown that DDT is the most effective insecticide for the control of this insect. Toxaphene is also effective. Of the newer materials on the market, endrin is the only one which is effective against this pest. Application of all insecticides should be made when the worms are small.

* * *

CHEMICAL TREATMENT OF SMALL GRAIN SEED, such as oats, wheat, and barley, is good insurance in maintaining a stand by controlling seed-borne and soil-borne diseases. Experiments have proved the value of planting treated seed. In general, organic mercurial fungicides such as Ceresan M. Agrox, and Panogen, have been more effective in disease control than other organic materials such as Arasan, and Spergon.

* * *

TREE GROWTH ACCUMULATES LIKE INTEREST ON MONEY. A sound, fast-growing tree adds a layer of new wood every year. This added growth may be compared with interest on money in the bank. From experimental forestry plots, it has been determined that this wood growth considerably exceeds the usual rates of interest paid by banks. This does not hold true for trees that are defective, over-mature, or of undesirable species.

FARMERS SELLING MILK FOR MANUFACTURE raise a greater proportion of their herd replacements than do farmers who sell grade A milk. Preliminary results from studies in the Piedmont Area of Alabama indicate that about 90 per cent of replacements on farms producing milk for manufacture were raised on these farms, whereas, more than half of the replacements for grade A herds in this area were purchased.

Lund Speaks To Selma Kiwanis

Selma, Ala., July 14—In a talk on Alabama's Colleges and Universities, Dr. F. Edward Lund, President of Alabama College at Montevallo, speaking before Selma's Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon, revealed that only two states spend less money per citizen for college instruction than Alabama. "This situation coupled with increasing college enrollments and greater demands on higher education leaves us Alabamians farther behind each passing year," he declared.

The Montevallo educator pointed out that per capita expenditure for college instruction in 1950 for the nation was $5.12; for Southern states $3.75; and for Alabama $3.02.

Using the recently published brochure "Look At Our Colleges" as the basis for his talk, Dr. Lund graphically compared Alabama's institutions of higher learning with those in other Southern states and the nation, and called for increasing public support of the state's colleges.

Alabama College's President said people with advanced training are necessary to the technical, scientific, and cultural progress of the state, but compared to all states of the nation, Alabama educates three-fourths of its share of college graduates with bachelor's degree, only one-third its share at the Master's level and less than one-hundreth its share at Doctoral level. "Every state in the nation except one has a higher percentage of college graduates than Alabama," Dr. Lund continued. "Because of the inadequate educational porvisions, Alabama loses the services of many, indeed, most of its talented people."

"The city of Selma, however, can be proud of its record," Dr. Lund declared. "Selma with 5.6 per cent of its population college graduates ranks well above the state average of 3.6 per cent, and above the Southern regional average of 4.8 per cent."

In explaining what the state's inadequacies in education mean, Dr. Lund pointed out that college graduates begin working at higher salaries, and their incomes continue to increase to age 50 and beyond. "The income of most workers begins to decline after the age 44. Incomes of college graduates are sustained."

"The typical college graduate 50 years and older earns 2 and two-thirds times as much as the average of all U.S. workers," Dr. Lund told the Kiwanians. "It is easily seen then," he continued, "that education is an investment in its own economic progress and in the cultural development of its citizens."

Barnes - Hennessy Wedding Plans

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haywood Barnes announce the engagement of their daughter, Fanelle, to Joseph Doyle Hennessy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thomas Hennessy of Auburn, formerly of Birmingham.

The bride-elect attended Alabama College, and API.

Mr. Hennessy is a member of the senior class at API where he will be graduated in August. He is affiliated with the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

The wedding will be August 23 at the St. Andrews Episcopal Church, Montevallo.

Mrs. Tully Brooke of Atlanta, Ga., was a business visitor one day last week. Mrs. Brooke is now the owner of the Brooke Apartments on Highland Avenue.

DR. F. E. LUND

"The low per capita expenses for education in Alabama is also reflected in low salaries to those charged with the responsibility of educating our youth, our most precious resources," Dr. Lund continued. "The quality of instruction of youth in our colleges not only depends on buildings and facilities, but more important, upon character, ability, and training of the men and women who instruct them. This in turn, depends on small degree upon the salaries available to attract and hold highly capable faculty members."

"Generally speaking," Dr. Lund added, "in colleges as in other enterprises, you get what you pay for. College salaries in Alabama have increased 78 per cent since 1939 while the earnings of all other workers has increased 138 per cent."

Summing up, Dr. Lund quoted from "Look At Our Colleges" saying, "The present period of rapid economic and industrial growth is a strategic time for Alabama to invest in the higher education of its people."

Analysis Of Shelby's Population

Selected characteristics of the population of Shelby County, Ala., show the following:

Males numbered 14,836 and females 15,525 among the 30,362 inhabitants of Shelby County enumerated in the 1950 Census according to final figures announced by the Bureau of the Census.

The total population was 24.3 years, while 7.3 per cent were 65 years old and over. The number of children under 5 years old was 3,536. The number of persons 21 years old and over was 16,611.

Among the 10,057 males 14 years old and over, 6,858 were married; among the 10,825 females of these ages, 6,873 were married. Among the 6,475 married couples living together, 6,170 lived in their own households, while 305 were sharing the households of others. The total number of households was 7,591 and the average population per household was 3.91 persons.

Of persons 14 years old and over, 9,459 were in the labor force, comprising 73.6 per cent of the males and 19 per cent of the females in this age group. Of employed workers, 25.2 per cent were engaged in manufacturing.

Of persons 14 to 17 years old, 73.6 per cent were in school. In the group 7 to 13 years old, 95.9 per cent were in school. The median years of school completed by persons 25 years old and over was 7.6.

The median income in 1949 of families and unrelated individuals was $1,355.

The data on education and income are based on inquiries made of a sample of one in five of the whole population, while the other data are based upon complete enumeration.

Montevallo Playing Jam-Up Ball

Skipper Bob Galloway said his club is playing jam up ball, now.

We played six games the past week with only one lost. Buddy Rhodes, the big fireball pitcher, got credit for three wins.

Last Saturday night we took the third straight game from the League Leaders, Hercules Powder. With two mates aboard, Cecil Dennis doubled. When the dust settled, we won 8-6 in 11 innings.

We went into second place. Next Saturday night, the 18th, we play Hercules Powder here. Game time is 8 p.m., with Chuck Harrison on the mound. It will be family night, all for $1.00.

Skipper Bob said his team had a big jolt last week when he lost Jigger Splawn to the Armed Services.

Next Thursday night week, the 23rd of July, will be kids night, Wood Coal vs. Montevallo.

Second Session Of Summer School

Alabama College's second session of summer school will begin Monday, July 20, with classes starting at 8:00 a.m. on the Montevallo campus.

In addition to regular classes, six major conferences will be held during this second session which will run from July 20 to August 21, according to Dr. M. L. Orr, Director of Alabama College's Summer School.

Held concurrently with the academic session will be the College's annual Alcohol Education Workshop. Alabama's Business and Professional Women's Club board meeting will be held on July 25 and 26; a conference on Vocational Home Economics is scheduled for the week of August 3-7; a meeting of the Alabama Christian Mission will be held August 9-14 and the Alabama Education Association Leadership School will meet on August 14 and 16. Dates for the annual Parents and Teachers Workshop have not been set.

Church of Christ Gospel Meetings

MR. LEONARD JOHNSON

A series of gospel meetings is in progress this week at the Southside Church of Christ, Calera. Mr. Leonard Johnson, evangelist, Montgomery is in charge of the services each evening at 7:30.

You are cordially invited to attend. The meetings will continue through July 19.

Family Relations Conference Here

DR. PAUL POPENOE

Dr. Paul Popenoe, internationally known authority in the field of marriage education and counseling is leading Alabama College's conference on Family Relations being held this week, July 13-18, on the Montevallo campus. Founder and Director of the American Institute of Family Relations, Dr. Popenoe is a former editor of the Journal of Heredity and is Executive Secretary of the American Social Hygiene Association. He conducts regularly-scheduled network television and radio programs concerned with family relations. A series of Popenoe written articles has appeared in the Ladies Home Journal and other magazines. Meetings featuring Dr. Popenoe are scheduled from 8:30 to 3:30 each day on the Montevallo campus throughout the conference.

Construction Starts At Westinghouse

Work of construction is getting well underway on the new Westinghouse plant between Montevallo and Calera.

Foundations have been dug for the walls of the huge building, and the spur track from Southern Railway has been completed into the center of the building area.

The contractor for the building is Holley Construction Co., of Birmingham.

Mr. R. E. Ballentine from Buffalo, N. Y., resident manager of the plant has moved his family to Montevallo to live permanently. They occupy the J. R. Lewis home.

Mr. J. F. Miller, construction engineer for Westinghouse, has moved his family to Montevallo. Mr. Miller will be here during the construction period. He lives in the Givhan Apartments.

McSpadden Family Reunion

Old Rocky Church, now known as Enon Baptist Church, the family burying place of the McSpadden family was the scene of an annual 4th of July reunion.

This get-together was started hirteen years ago. New members of the family group become acquainted with other members of the family, much reminiscence is done, and the fellowship of being together is enjoyed by a large group. This year the fifty seven who attended were from the following families.

The Sam Gradys, Blocton; Robert McSpaddens, Detroit, Ala.; Clarence McSpaddens, Blocton; David McSpaddens and Benny Joe McSpaddens, Heron, Ill.; Mrs. Frank McSpadden Weavers, Montevallo, and Mr. Herbert Weaver, Phoenix, Arizona.

Summer School Awards Degrees

The first of two summer commencement exercises held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. on the Alabama College campus marked the completion of the College's first term Summer School.

Another commencement program will be held August 21 at the end of the Summer School's second session.

Dean Richard Powers presented the candidates for graduation and Dr. F. Edward Lund, President of the College conferred the degrees.

Those receiving Bachelor's degrees were: Patricia Allred, Elba; Reba Autrey, Kimbrough; Jennie Lind Coe, Troy; Ann Elizabeth Evers, Dadeville; Wanda Gatlin, Defuniak Springs, Fla.; Louise Sims Hammett, Talladega; Ramona House, Gordo; Betty Houston, Niceville, Fla.; Rosemary Johnson, Birmingham; Bobbye Raye Jones, Georgiana; Mattie Leatherwood, Selma; Margaret Matthews, Gosport; Jo Ann Michael, Leeds; Mayme Morriss, Talladega; Norma Smith, Autaugaville; Mae Stringer, Verbena; Margaret C. ### THIS WILL HELP

Alabama Power Company does another good turn for the towns in which it renders electric utility service. It is announced that the company in the future will pay to the towns one and one-half per cent of its receipts for electric service within the police jurisdiction. This area includes all territory within one and one-half miles of the corporate limits.

Heretofore the power company has been paying to the towns 3 per cent of its receipts for service within the corporate limits. This payment to Montevallo this year was $2,327.18. Addition of the payment of one and one-half per cent for service in the police jurisdiction will be a very helpful lift to all towns in their financial operations.

Shelby Sewing Queen Is Really King

Birmingham Post-Herald

Columbiana, June 17 — Shelby County's 4-H sewing queen is really a King!

She is Joyce King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. King, who lives near Vincent, and who for the second year is carrying her county's hopes into the state dress revue competition.

Last year she was declared the state's alternate winner.

This year she hopes to drop that alternate from the title.

This master seamstress, already this year has completed 15 garments, including the pretty gray cotton that she's entering in the state contest.

Busy Seamstress

In addition she has altered 10 other dresses and made 21 other articles such as furnishings for the house and kitchen.

Last year she made 22 garments, 22 other articles, and altered another 10 dresses!

The year before that she made 18 dresses, altered 13 and made five other articles.

But her time spent at her sewing machine is only a small part of the busy day put in by this versatile young farm miss.

She's also a top-notch cook, and in connection with her 4-H cooking projects last year was her county canning winner as well as dress winner, and this year won her local 4-H baking contest.

Already this summer she has canned 27 quarts of food and altogether has prepared 1254 different dishes for her family and friends.

Last year she canned 376 quarts of fruit and vegetables and prepared 750 different dishes, and the year before that she canned 338 quarts of food and prepared 210 dishes.

She also finds time to garden and two years ago raised 100 chicks as a 4-H project.

She'll be a senior at Vincent High School next year and is in the upper fourth of her class.

She has served her 4-H Club as president for two years; vice president, one year; secretary-treasurer, one year; and reporter, two years, and is currently the secretary of the Shelby County Council.

A Dressmaking 'King' — As busy a young miss as you'll find anywhere is Shelby County's dress revue winner, petite Joyce King, shown above, modelling the dress she'll enter in the state competition this year.

In addition she spends her Summers as a "neighbor-aide," serving as a leader in spreading and promoting the 4-H program, helping younger girls with their projects and being a good neighbor generally.

4-H demonstrations which she has put on for her own club this year include table-setting, table courtesy, safety at home, and the control of household pests.

She hasn't quite made up her mind what she wants to adopt as a career, but is thinking some of going into secretarial work.

But her main love, she admits, probably will always be cooking and sewing and being a good neighbor.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Allen Oates, C. W. Litton and J. H. Edwards met on Edwards' new farm just West of Wilton last week. Talk turned to pastures when we rode up. After a little good natured kidding talk got serious. Litton and Oates say last summer's drought made sericea believers of them. Edwards has bought 1000 pounds of Chapel Hill Rescue grass for fall planting and both of the others are already rescue users.

Phillip McEntee, Jr., interrupted the writing of this coulmn to ask us to relay to the Columbiana F. F. A. a request for 200 pounds of the seed from their patch of Chapel Hill Rescue. That's 1000 pounds reserved today. E. M. Mullins and Miss Lucy Bailey placed their requests earlier today among others.

Progress on the Lawler, Rucker and Parnell dam near Montevallo is quite fast in this good weather.

We are glad to see a good job by a good farmer recognized. The recent statewide publicity given to Jimmie Rowe, and his Vincent farm was well deserved.

Farmers near the Rowe Farm may be able to get some Chapel Hill Rescue grass seed from Jimmie. He planted 1700 pounds last year and harvested 5 tons (approximate) from eight acres saved for seed. His father says they may not plant the whole five tons, but said "I believe it's our best winter grass and we expect to plant it on all our pastures."

Somehow we have missed Maurice Poe and can't learn how much Ball Clover he saved, but he did combine some and might be persuaded to part with some. Carl Edfeldt has hand raked and stacked his small Ball Clover seed patch to carry it to a combine.

We will appreciate reports from all who used Ball Clover this year on results and seed saved.

While we know of 120 tons of Chapel Hill Rescue grass that was saved in this county, and total harvest may have been much greater, we suggest that any one who plans to use rescue reserve the seed at an early date.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Peach Queen Visits

Last week we were honored with a visit from Chilton County's 1953 Peach Queen, Miss Patricia Broadhead, of Clanton, Alabama. Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. A. Broadhead, the Queen arrived by plane for a thirty-six hour visit to the nation's Capitol.

Patricia, a lovely blonde, was crowned Queen on Wednesday of last week and left only a few hours later for Washington. While here, she and her mother attended the Alabama Delegation's weekly luncheon where Patricia presented a basket of peaches to the Alabama members of Congress. Later the same afternoon, I accompanied Miss Broadhead to the White House and she presented to Presidential Assistant, Governor Sherman Adams, the number one prize winning basket of Chilton County peaches. Governor Adams assured us that some of these peaches would reach President Eisenhower's table.

Patricia, an attractive, friendly, and very pretty young lady, made a splendid good will ambassador from Alabama's great peach producing section.

Senate Approves McCoy

On Friday of last week, the Senate approved the appointment of Mr. Whitley P. McCoy as Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The appointment of Mr. McCoy should be of special interest to the residents of the Sixth District as he has been a professor at the University of Alabama Law School and a resident of Tuscaloosa for a number of years.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, which Mr. McCoy is to head, attempts to prevent or minimize, through mediation and conciliation, interruptions to commerce growing out of labor disputes. More specifically, its duties are to assist labor and management to improve the climate of industrial relations, prevent industrial disputes, and settle industrial disputes. Whenever a labor dispute arises which, in the opinion of the Service, threatens to produce a major disruption in commerce, the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service may offer its facilities on its volition or at the request of one or more of the parties to the dispute. Since its inception, the Service has participated in a wide variety of disputes in almost every major industry.

The Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service is appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. Mr. McCoy succeeds David L. Cole as Director. Mr. Cole succeeded Cyrus Ching in September 1952, following the latter's resignation.

Mr. McCoy is well qualified to direct this important service. In addition to his duties as a Professor of Law at the University of Alabama, Mr. McCoy has devoted much of his time in recent years to arbitration of disputes arising under new contracts between management and workers. He is a former vice president of the National Academy of Arbitrators and is on the arbitration rosters of the Mediation Service and American Arbitration Association. He was also a National Labor Relations Board trial examiner. McCoy is the author of a book on arbitration, and during World War II, he acted as chairman of various dispute panels for the War Labor Board.

Mr. McCoy is well known throughout Alabama, having taught many of the members of the Alabama Bar. In a visit to our office last week, he observed that he had taught Senator Sparkman and more than half of the Alabama members of the House.

I'm sure that I speak for the people of the District when I say that we are very proud that the President has seen fit to appoint a Sixth District resident to this important position. We wish him well in his new assignment.

Legislation Notes

In an important vote last week, the House extended the excess profits tax for another six months. It is estimated this extension will add approximately $800 million to the Treasury before January 1. The passage of this bill authorizing a six months extension was urged by both President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey on the grounds that the temporary extension of this tax was preferable to the increased deficit that would be caused by its immediate expiration.

A bill to authorize construction of power facilities on the Niagara River by five private utility firms passed the House by a large vote. Legislation authorizing federal construction of this project was killed earlier by the House Interior Committee. Also approved by the House last week was a bill to provide aid for drought-stricken farmers and livestock growers.

Last year all the people were trying to run General Eisenhower for the presidency. This year they are trying to run the Presidency for General Eisenhower. Now they are saying that war will break out the day that someone rushes into the White House and announces that Malenkov just broke 80 at the Moscow Country Club.

Funds for vocational education come from Federal, State and local sources. Federal funds are allotted to the State to stimulate State participation in establishing programs of vocational education through city and county boards of education Vocational Agriculture, Homemaking, Industrial Education, Rehabilitation and Crippled Children's Services are the vocational programs carried on in Alabama through a joint plan between the State Board of Education and the appropriate Federal agencies.

Vocational agriculture, home economics and trades are a part of the high school offerings in more than 300 high schools in Alabama. These programs assist boys and girls to become more proficient in farming, homemaking and industrial pursuits. These programs also serve the adult population through evening and part time classes. The services of Vocational Rehabilitation and Crippled Children are for the handicapped. They are served through field clinics, hospitalization, special classes and vocational training for adults. These programs are a great economic asset to the state. Hundreds of handicapped people are assisted to become taxpayers instead of tax consumers.

Policies and plans governing the operation of vocational education are jointly developed between State and Federal Governments. Over a period of more than 30 years, Chief State School Officers and Directors of Vocational Education have worked with official representatives of the U.S. Office of Education in writing the policies governing these programs. Under provisions of Federal and State Acts and policies, State Boards of Education develop their own plan for Vocational Education programs.

Vocational Education in Alabama has been developed through a team relationship among the Federal, State and local communities. The relationship of the Federal Government to the State programs has been one of cooperation and helpful participation. Vocational Education is stronger for having Federal participation, bringing to the State a National viewpoint as well as needed funds to develop the program.

The only way that I can get my wife to listen to what I'm saying is to talk in my sleep. But it's a good thing to remember that a woman is not necessarily a good cook just because she can bring the breakfast coffee and her husband to a boil at about the same time.

Butterscotch Meringue Puddings

⅔ package butterscotch pudding powder*
⅔ cup Pet Milk
⅓ cup water
1 egg, separated
8 graham crackers, 2½ inches square
¼ cup smooth peanut butter
2 tablespoons brown sugar

Put pudding powder into saucepan. Stir in slowly a mixture of milk and water. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Boil slowly and stir 30 seconds. Remove from heat. Stir slowly into slightly beaten egg yolk. Cook and stir 2 minutes longer. Cover and chill. Stir occasionally while chilling. Grease 4 large custard cups or dessert dishes. Roll graham crackers into fine crumbs. Blend in peanut butter with fork. With back of spoon, press crumb mixture on bottom and sides of greased dishes. Fill with chilled pudding. Beat egg white until stiff. Beat in brown sugar, a tablespoon at a time. Put on top of puddings and continue chilling until ready to serve. Makes 4 servings.

★Vanilla pudding powder also can be used.

Recreation News Notes

There were 591 people participating in the recreation program during the week ending Saturday, July 11, which makes a total of 2185 for the first four weeks.

* * *

All tennis players notice! On Monday, July 20, all those who are interested in entering the annual tennis tournament are requested to meet at 7:30 on the court nearest the elementary school for drawings. We will have three tournaments as last year, men's singles, women's singles, and mixed doubles. These will be open to all ages and a large response is expected so be there if you intend to enter. In case it is impossible to be there Monday night please see Gayle Houston or Fred Barlow before then.

* * *

Fun night will be held on Friday night this week and a trip to Lakeview near Columbiana is planned. All those who intend to go should be at the high school ready to leave at 6:00. Besides the swimming facilities at Lakeview it is reported that there is a juke box and dance floor so we hope to have a large crowd. Last week about 25 people went on the skating party in spite of the rain and cool weather.

Last call for life saving classes! Now that Summer School is over for most folks we're setting Saturday, July 18, as the last day that we will be able to take new members. We're progressing in spite of the cool weather and rain and are now getting into real life saving work. This week we're working on approaching submerged victims and bringing them to the surface. The rest of the classes will be spent almost entirely in water work. If you intend to get into the classes this is your last chance.

Rural Dixie Has Her Face Lifted!

Soil conservation is changing Dixie's face — bringing life to wornout soils, making better crops and pastures.

Part of this changing picture are those rural telephone lines you see along the fields and highways. They're bringing new convenience to farm work and living. Over half a million rural homes now have Southern Bell phones and about 6000 more are being added each month.

That's the kind of progress you can see—all over growing, prosperous Dixie!

Shelby County Farm Supply Opens New Store In Montevallo

Les Pair, Manager Cecil Allen, Assistant

Next Monday, July 27, is set for the formal opening of the new business, Shelby County Farm Supply, located at the junction of Selma Street and Highway 25, in Montevallo. Every person in this trade area is invited to attend this opening.

The new business is in its new and spacious building which has just been built for the special convenience and most efficient service to the public. Manager of the business is Mr. Les Pair, and his assistant is Cecil Allen.

Why This Business?

In answer to this question Mr. Pair says: "Naturally you ask this question. You may say that there are already lots of business houses in Shelby County and there might not be need of any more. True—there are a lot of dandy good stores in this county. They are run by fellows you like and who like you and we are all for them. We're going to be their friends and fellow citizens

"This New Store of ours is just a little different from the stores already here. It is what it's name implies—a Farm Supply, a place where a farmer can find, in one place, almost everything he needs to run his farm. There will be a top-flight feed for every need of the farm. There will be garden tools, paints, some forms of building material, nails, fencing, poultry and dairy equipment, tires and tubes, garden and farm seeds, insecticides, fertilizers and just most anything a farmer needs.

"Then, too, we will have that friendly helpful type of service that will go a long way toward helping the farmer with many of his problems of soil, seed, flocks and herds that are continually bothering him."

Plenty of Room

"Plenty of room," says Mr. Pair. "We purposely located our store where there would be plenty of room for you to park and spend some time with us. The big open lot in front of our store will take care of a hundred cars and we hope that there will be times when it will be entirely filled.

"Our management wants to meet you and know you and serve you to the best of their ability.

"Not only can we take care of your needs right at our store but we will have a seasoned salesman coming to see you regularly, taking your order, consulting with you about your problems and arranging for delivery of your merchandise right in your own backyard.

"We honestly believe you are going to like this and that you will welcome us as your friends, your favorite merchants and your fellow citizens."

Les Pair, Manager

Lelias (Les) G. Pair is a native of Albertville, Ala. Graduated from the high school there in 1942. Served three years and 21 months in the European Theatre of Operations in World War II. Graduated from API in 1948 BS Degree (agriculture). Married on April 30, 1949 to Marjorie Barrentine, Jasper, Ala. They have one son, Barry, aged 33 months.

"Les" went to work as Assistant County Agent for Walker County in 1948. Had great success in helping to promote the 4-H club phase of the Extension Program. He achieved the cooperation and support of business concerns and civic organizations in Walker County. Served as president of the Jasper Kiwanis Club. Was on the Board of Stewards of the Jasper First M. E. Church. Served a term as V.P. of the Jasper Junior Chamber of Commerce. Was secretary of the Walker County Cattlemen's Association. "Les" made a host of friends in Walker County all of whom regretted to see him leave the county.

By training and experience he is well qualified to serve the people of Shelby and Bibb Counties in his capacity as manager of the newly opened Shelby County Farm Supply. He is friendly, affable, well informed and the type of man well qualified to play a good part in the civic, religious and business activities of any community.

Cecil Allen, Assistant

Cecil C. Allen will serve as assistant to Les Pair. He was born at Underwood, Jan. 9, 1926. Attended Montevallo High School. During World War II he spent 18 months in the service as a Dental Technician — having been given special training in this activity. He is married to Pauline Smitherman, of Boothton and to this union has been born two children, Sherron Deloris, aged 3 years and Barry Dwight, aged 3 months. He is a member of the Baptist Denomination.

He has had years of training as a sales and service man for the famous Purina line of commercial feeds. He has attended various Purina Schools of Instruction and is well qualified to be of service to farmers and feeders in all matters pertaining to livestock and poultry. Cecil is a typical young business man, friendly, well informed, cordial and helpful. It is to be reasonably expected that he will form a host of friendships in his new field of service.

Calera Civitan Club Will Have Barbecue Labor Day, Sept. 7

Calera Civitan Club will hold its second annual Barbecue Labor Day, September 7, 1953, on the high school grounds from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

George Holcombe, club president stated the funds raised from this Barbecue will be used exclusively for helping some worthy boy or girl to attend college this year.

The scholarship fund was started last year after a highly successful barbecue was held, William Minor, club secretary pointed out. But added the candidate selected for the scholarship moved to Pennsylvania and it was decided by the club to let the selection of another student go to this year.

The name of this years candidate for the scholarship will be announced shortly, President Holcombe stated. He added that Labor Day Barbecue will be bigger and better than last years affair. In addition to good food, and lots of fun there will be a tiny mite baseball game and another by the town team, their opponents will be announced later.

President Holcombe said regardless of age there will be lots of fun, recreation and good food for all that attend.

Tickets for the Labor Day barbecue are being sold by the Civitan members and Mrs. Pearl Adams at the New Calera Cafe.

Committee To Make A Survey Of Property For Rent

The Montevallo Chamber of Commerce has inaugurated a plan to survey and list the houses, apartments and rooms for rent in this vicinity. This survey will include not only the Town of Montevallo proper but also nearby communities, including Wilton and Aldrich.

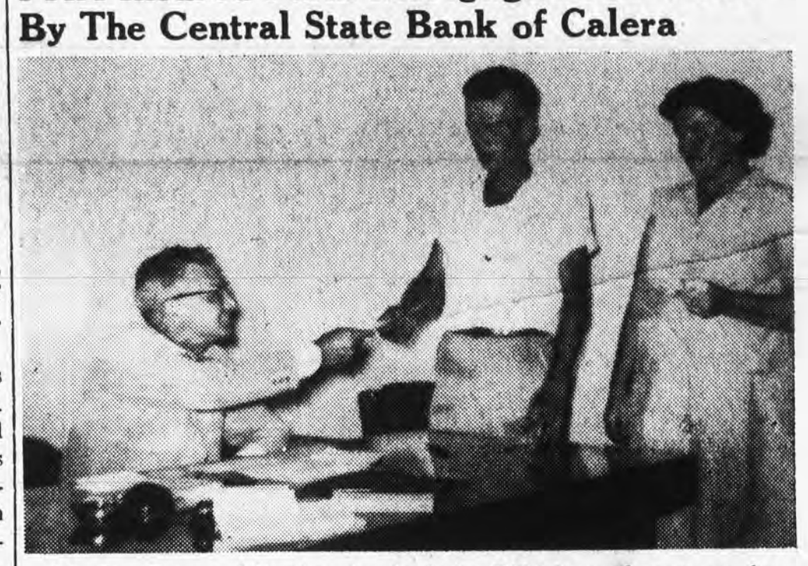

The Committee assigned by the Chamber of Commerce to make this survey is composed of Clarence Chism and Don Lovelady.

All persons who may have a place for rent—a house, apartment or room—are invited to list the same with Mr. Chism or Mr. Lovelady.

This is an effort on the part of the Chamber of Commerce to render a good community service by having readily available a list of rental property that can be submitted to anyone desiring a place to live in this community.

It is anticipated that there will be some considerable increase in demand for rentals on account of workers who will be attracted here by the new industries that are now being constructed and soon will go into operation.

FHA Insured Farm Mortgage Loan Made By The Central State Bank of Calera

Mr. Roy Downs delivering the check for FHA insured mortgage loan to Robert E. Avery of Route 2, Jemison. Mrs. Avery looking on.

"Farm developments and industrial development must go hand in hand for each to make solid progress," was the statement made by Mr. Roy Downs, President of the Central State Bank at Calera last week when he delivered the check for an insured farm loan to Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Avery of Route 2, Jemison in his office.

This insured loan was made under the insured farm mortgage program authorized in the Farmers Home Administration Act of 1946. Under this authority private lenders can make loans to farm families who cannot qualify for regular real estate credit at present, but who will no doubt become good customers for all of their credit needs in the future. The loan is insured by the Government through the Farmers Home Administration. The loan to the Avery family is primarily for farm and home development. Mr. and Mrs. Avery planned their use of the money with FHA Supervisor Raymond Robinson and their farm plans include a Grade B dairy operation, hogs, truck crops, and cotton. The soundness of the farm and home plan was a pertinent factor in certification of the loan by the Central State Bank. Also, the greater portion of this development money will be spent locally by Mr. and Mrs. Avery with lumber and supply dealers, farm supply dealers and others.

Mr. Roy Downs, in addition to being a bank president, is chairman of the Industrial Committee for the Calera Chamber of Commerce and has been a leading community builder in this capacity. Through his leadership he has been instrumental in the location of the Westinghouse Electric plant between Calera and Montevallo and the American Brake Shoe plant in Calera. When these industries get into full operation around the first of the year they will employ around 700 persons. Farm products must therefore meet the needs of resulting population increase. This concrete example of business and agriculture relationship is one of the prime reasons why Mr. Downs and the Central State Bank have interested themselves in farm development in the northern section of Chilton County and surrounding areas through the FHA insured farm mortgage program.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

In the past few weeks these Shelby County farmers have become cooperators with the North Central Soil Conservation District: N. H. Waters, T. A. Waldrop, Billy Prestridge, T. C. Sparks, W. R. Minters, C. W. Baffington and Charles A. Knowles.

These men have either made "initial," "advanced," or "basic" conservation farm plans on their farms. In the past year all but two farmers making initial plans (calling for one or more simple conservation practices) have soon seen the importance of a complete conservation plan and they have joined Mr. Hatchett in working out a basic plan to provide for conserving soil and water on the whole farms.

It turns out that Maurice Poe saved 120,000,000 ball clover seed. No, that's not actual count. He reports 100 pounds and this very tiny seed is supposed to number 1,200,000 to the pound. To aid in understanding the size the white dutch clover is rated 750,000 to the pound. Maurice has authorized us to say he will sell some of this new clover.

Leslie H. Smith, formerly a Shelby County farmer, reports he lost a rescue grass stand last year to crows. He planted late and hundreds of crows fed on the succedent seedlings. He plans to plant again on his Talladega County farm, planting early to let the plants get established before the other green food of the crows is killed by frost.

Recreation News

In spite of a week of continual rain we still had 304 persons participating during the week ending Saturday, July 18, making a total of 2489 thus far.

The rain doesn't seem to phase the tennis players too much. The drawings were held last Monday night and as soon as the weather clears we're planning to have games almost every night. At the present time there are 16 boys and 12 girls entered in their respective divisions. Even if you don't play tennis you won't want to miss the matches, especially when they get down close to the finish. Watch this space for announcements of matches as they are played.

Everyone who is enrolled in the Life Saving Classes are urged to make every meeting from this point on. We've lost much time because of the rain and we just can't let the time put in this far go to waste. If the weather is good we hope to see everyone enrolled out for class next Saturday morning.

We plan to combine activities for Fun Night this week. As the tennis fever is running high we will combine tennis and watermelon on Friday night. Whether you play tennis or just watch, be sure to come to the court by the elementary school where we will have tennis matches and then afterwards we will chip in for a watermelon cutting on the tennis courts. In case of rain, there will be a dance at the Girl Scout House—"double rush" that is, with either boy or girl break. In other words, if you fellows come you'd better be prepared to dance instead of watch.

Getting back to tennis; all of you older young people or young adults, whichever you prefer, watch for an announcement about a men's and women's open division tennis tournament. We've already contacted several men and women about this and feel that with the proper push such a tournament would go over and might set a precedent for other years. There's no need to stop playing because you've added a few years or pounds, especially when it's all for fun.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

by Mary Lee Taylor

Coconut Icebox Pie

Broadcast: July 23, 1949

16 large graham crackers
¼ cup soft butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar plus 2 tablespoons
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup Pet Milk
1 cup boiling water
3 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup shredded coconut

Grease deep 9-in. pie pan. Roll crackers into crumbs. Mix butter into crumbs and ¼ cup sugar. Press mixture firmly on bottom and sides of pan. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.), 10 min.; cool. Reduce oven to slow (325° F.). While crust bakes, mix ¼ cup sugar with cornstarch and salt. Stir in mixture of milk and boiling water. Cook and stir over boiling water until thick and smooth; cook 10 min.; stir into slightly beaten egg yolks. Cook and stir over boiling water 2 min. longer. Cool; add vanilla. Pour into crust. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Beat in remaining 6 tablesp. sugar. Put on pie, spreading to very edge of crust. Sprinkle with shredded coconut. Bake 15 min., or until light brown. Chill.

Know Your Schools

The purpose of vocational agriculture is to teach practical agriculture to farmers and prospective farmers. There are 308 departments of vocational argiculture in the high schools of Alabama.

Each boy studying vocational agriculture carries several projects which may be in livestock, farm crops and other enterprises studied in school. They also carry out other improved practices at home that they are taught in classes. Farm shop work is taught on the basis of the kind of shop work farmers are now doing. Boys are taught farm machinery repair and upkeep, simple farm electrification and plumbing, farm building maintenance and wood and iron work necessary for farmers to do a good job in farm shop on the farm.

Boys enrolled in vocational agriculture are eligible for membership in the Future Farmers of America or the New Farmers of America. The objectives of these organizations are to teach: (1) Leadership, (2) Co-operation, and (3) Citizenship. Some 22 activities are sponsored on a state-wide basis by these groups. Some of these activities are contests in public speaking, quiz, parliamentary procedure, rural electrification, soil conservation, farm mechanics, beef cattle, dairy cattle and swine judging, forestry and many others. Members of these organizations participate in dairy, fat stock and swine shows as well as other worthy community activities.

Adult farmers are taught in organized groups by agricultural teachers. Farmers are taught improved farming practices which they put into practice. They are given help on their problems during home visits just as boys are given help when the teacher visits them.

Fifty-four schools have requested that a department of vocational agriculture be established. There are sixty schools in the state with large enrollments which need an additional teacher of vocational agriculture. (continued next week).

Home Club Meets

Mrs. Robert Ingram Jr., was hostess for the July meeting of the Spring Creek-Valley Grove Home Demonstration Club. President, Mrs. Sam Knowles, called the meeting to order and also acted as secretary due to the absence of Mrs. Goad.

Devotional was by Mrs. R. D. Ingram. Mrs. Herbie Ingram led the prayer and told the story of our song of the month. Mrs. Tom Knowles conducted an interesting demonstration, "Working with Woolen." Mrs. Herbie Ingram presented a patriotic program assisted by Mrs. R. D. Ingram.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Earl Taff and Mrs. Charles A. Knowles to ten members and one visitor, Mrs. Earl Swinford of the Ebenezer Club.

Then there was the fortune teller who gave up her career for other work—she just couldn't see a future in it.

The only convertible that outsells Ford!

WHAT IS IT that makes Ford's Sunliner America's best seller? Is it its high-compression V-8 power? (No other convertible in Ford's field has this kind of engine.) Is it the fine craftsmanship of its Crestmark Body? (No body in its field can match Ford's choice of exterior and interior color combinations.) Is it its new spring and shock absorber action which makes even roughest roads feel smooth? (The Sunliner's springs are tailored to its weight.) Is it the choice of Fordomatic, Overdrive or Conventional you get? (You won't find such a choice in any other car in Ford's field.)

No, it's not just any one of these things that make Ford America's largest-selling convertible. It's all 41 of Ford's "Worth More" features . . . features which folks know make Ford worth more when they buy it, worth more when they sell it.

Test Drive America's No. 1 Convertible! Ford Sunliner!

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The House last week killed a bill which, if passed, would have brought about a sharp change in our foreign trade program.

Known as the second Simpson Bill, H.R. 5894, this proposal would have limited United States imports of crude petroleum; placed special tariffs on lead and zinc; and increased duties on watches and certain other imports. The bill was actually a straight tariff increase measure and its enactment would have been a reversal of United States trade policies as we have known them since the inception of the reciprocal trade agreements program in 1934.

Besides being defeated by the House, the Simpson Bill was opposed by President Eisenhower and a number of governmental departments and agencies.

Curtiling our imports, as was provided under this bill, would have had an immediate and drastic effect on our exports. We cannot sell where we do not buy, and in many instances, our exports could mean the difference between depression and prosperity. For example, during the past several years we have exported the production of from 50 to 60 million acres of farm land. Last year we exported 40 percent of our cotton, wheat and rice, and approximately one-fourth of our lard and tobacco.

To place higher tariff barriers on imports would certainly incite retaliations on the part of other nations. It was pointed out during debate on the House floor that Canada had already warned the United States against adopting a plan such as the Simpson Bill and indicated that the Canadian government would immediately retaliate if the plan went into effect.

It is true that there are phases of our reciprocal trade program which might be improved. For this reason, the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Extension Act, already passed by the House and Senate, contains a provision establishing a Commission on Foreign Economic Policy. This group will make a thorough study of our foreign trade program and offer special recommendations to Congress.

I believe the majority of House members exercised good judgment in allowing the Commission time to act instead of passing legislation as drastic as the second Simpson Bill.

New VA Official

Harvey V. Higley, new Administrator of the VA, was introduced at a recent meeting of our Veterans Affairs Committee.

Higley who succeeds Carl Gray as top official in the Veterans Administration, has served as state commander of the American Legion in Wisconsin and was formerly a member of the Legion's national Executive Council.

He told the Committee that he has "no pre-conceived notions, no great plans spelled out as yet" for the VA but that he desired the guidance and advice of the Committee. Higley said he knows the Administrator's job has "tough parts" but that he feels everybody agrees as to the end to be accomplished——"that is, to do a good job for the veterans under the laws which have been spelled out by Congres".

Post Office Bill

The House approved a bill last Friday that should be of real interest to a number of communities in the Sixth District. If this measure is enacted into law, it will allow the federal government to enter into term lease agreements with private individuals or firms for construction of post offices and other federal buildings.

Under terms of the bill, the government will be able to apply funds appropriated for rent toward the ultimate purchase of facilities which would be constructed by private groups or individuals. This will make it possible for many towns to have their dilapidated post offices or other federal buildings remodeled or replaced.

In the past, the government has obtained the space it needs either through construction or by rental of privately owned property. As a result, many of the buildings have been rented as long as 50 years without the government ever acquiring ownership. This bill, as passed by the House, remedies the situation by permitting the government to enter into purchase contract and term-lease agreements, and it gives the Post Office Department broader power to negotiate term-lease agreements than the present law allows.

Eddie Downs Made Assistant Cashier Central State Bank

Mr. Eddie Downs has been promoted to assistant cashier of the Central State Bank. He also serves as agricultural representative for the bank.

Following World War II he attended Auburn and holds a BS degree in Agricultural Education.

Prior to joining the staff of the bank last year, he was a district supervisor for the Florida State Livestock Sanitary Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Downs have been residents of Calera for a year and both express themselves as enjoying living in our community.

Dr. Napier Spoke To Calera Civitans

Speaking before Calera's Civitan Club Monday night, Dr. T. H. Napier, Dean Emeritus of Alabama College revealed that Alabama's per capita income is growing faster that the nation's; is increasing more rapidly than any of the other 12 Southern states; but that Alabama is training fewer people to further its own economic progress than any state in the nation except one.

"This economic improvement means we need more scientists, engineers, trained business men, teachers, physicians, agriculturalists and others who are college trained, and if we are to keep pace with the rest of the nation," Dr. Napier said, "fifty percent more of our young people should be in college."

Using the recently published brochure Look at our Colleges as the basis for his talk, the Montevallo educator pointed out that the more schooling the population of a state has, the more goods are sold; or putting it differently "the per capita retail sales of a state corresponds to the level of education attained by its people." "Therefore," he continued, "a states's colleges are investments in its own economic progress and in the cultural development of its citizens."

In answer to the question, "Does Alabama have enough colleges?" Dr. Napier pointed out that Alabama has one college for each 7,731 college age people and the national average is one college for each 4,400. Dr. Napier continued by saying "Alabama has fewer colleges and larger enrollments on the average, than does the nation or the other Southern states."

Dr. Napier, who retired as Dean of Alabama College last year, concluded his talk before Calera's Civitans by saying "We in Alabama are able to do more for our colleges than are a number of other Southern states and we are really doing less in most respects. If we were as liberal with education as we are in purchasing beverages, tobaccos, and cosmetics, no one would ever need to feel that he had been deprived of a college education in Alabama because of any lack of facilities."

Mrs Earl Smitherman Died Monday

Mrs. Earl Smitherman, age 37, a resident of Dry Valley, passed away Monday afternoon at a Birmingham Hospital after a brief illness.

She is survived by her husband, Mr. Earl Smitherman, 4 daughters, Edna Earle, Thomasene, Shirley Ann, and Melba Dell Smitherman; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Cox, Dry Valley, one brother, Paul Cox, Rock Springs, Wyoming.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, July 29, at 11 a.m. from the Wilton Baptist Church, the Rev. R. J. Thompson officiated. Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery with Brown-Service directing.

Pallbearers were Bennie Rhodes, William McClendon, Buddy Rhodes, Harry Horton, Alger Crumpton and Aubrey Knowles.

DR. ROBERT L. FORD

Dr. R. L. Ford Will Practice Medicine At Calera

It is announced that Calera will, in a few months, have a practicing physician in the person of Dr. Robert L. Ford, age 39, who will finish his medical training about the end of this year.

As a preliminary introduction to Dr. Ford, we are privileged to present the following sketch of his life and activities.

He was born in Burnsville, Miss. and was reared in small country towns in northeast Mississippi and northwest Alabama. His father having been a teacher in several small town schools of that area. He graduated at Florence State Teachers College and then served a long stretch in the Army. After getting out of military service he entered medical school and finished at the University of Tennessee College of Medicine at Memphis. He is now doing his internship at East Tennessee Baptist Hospital at Knoxville and will finish there December 31. He will come to Calera at that time to begin practice.

Dr. Ford married Reba Gober, a Sheffield, Ala., girl. They have a son, Ralph, 14 years old, and a daughter, Roberta, age 6.

Dr. Ford and his family will be cordially welcomed to Calera.

Ordnance Plant At Childersburg To Be Overhauled

The office of the Secretary of the Army in Washington, has advised that authority has been granted to the Chief of Ordnance to proceed with the rehabilitation of the Childersburg Ordnance Plant to place it in operative condition. The estimated cost of the rehabilitation will be approximately $46 million. Upon completion of the work the plant will be placed in a stand-by status.

The foregoing information was conveyed by telegram July 23 from Conressman Armistead I. Selden to the Mayor of Montevallo, Harry Kendrick, Commander of the Montevallo Post, American Legion, and to James A. Wyatt of Montevallo Rotary Club.

Many people in our area formerly worked at Childersburg when the plant was in operation. Future operation, if resumed, would doubtless be a stimulus to employment around here.

B & PW Met At Alabama College

More than 60 officers of the Alabama Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs held their annual two day Summer Board Meeting on the campus of Alabama College on July 25-26.

Highlights of the sessions attended by 31 Alabama Clubs were panels and business meetings. The Saturday evening session featured Mr. Elvin C. McCary, State Senator from Calhoun County, Mr. Cecil Robertson, President of the Alabama CIO, Miss Sue Stokes, President of the Women Lawyers of Alabama and Miss Josephine Roberts, Legislative Co-Chairman of the Alabama B&PW participating in a panel discussion of the Two-Year Poll Tax Amendment.

Other topics on the two day agenda included program planning for 1953-54; presentation of the State Budget; Pratt Fund; reports from the National Board of B& PW; and business sessions.

Dr. F. Edward Lund, President of Alabama College welcomed the delegates to the campus. Mrs. Helen K. Stephens, State President, and Miss Ethel Marshall and Dr. Minnie Miles, Vice Presidents presided at the various sessions. Members of the social committee of the Montevallo B&PW served as hostesses at registration.

Three Ball Games Big Barbecue Are Labor Day Features

A triple header baseball game will be one of the feature events of Civitan Club's Labor Day Bar-B-Q on the Calera High School grounds, September 7, 1953.

Bill Minor, club secretary, states the Little Leaguers Baseball nine will engage in a double bill either with Montevallo or Canton midgets. The Calera Town team will lock horns with a strong nine from either the surrounding area or Birmingham.

The plans for the big annual event are practically completed, Minor said, and this year's Bar-B-Q will be a "Super Colossal" affair.

George Holcombe, president of the club said "he wanted to emphasize to everybody that would get more than their money's worth in a good Bar-B-Q dinner, plus a planned recreation program during the morning and afternoon hours."

Then he added, "Remember the net proceeds from the sale of the Bar-B-Q Plates will be used exclusively for aiding a boy or girl to attend college this fall."

State Polio Deaths

Montgomery, Ala.—Three counties contributed more than three-fifths of all the poliomyelitis deaths reported last year from the entire state, the State Department of Health announced today.

The state total, it said, was 24, reported from 11 counties. Jefferson reported six, Montgomery had five and Mobile four.

These figures, based upon provisional reports prepared by the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics, may differ slightly from those shown in the final reports not yet available.

Rotary Club Makes Cruise On Warrior River

The Montevallo Rotary Club held its regular meeting last Thursday night aboard the Gulf States Paper Corporation Yacht the "E-Z Craft" while cruising on the Warrior River.

Members, their wives, guests and officials of Gulf States Paper Corporation were entertained with a movie "From Woods to Goods" in the air conditioned auditorium of the Gulf States Mill prior to embarking on the cruise. The movie, which was filmed in the Gulf States plant, gave a comprehensive account of the manufacturing of paper and paper bags in the mill.

The party left the dock at 6:30 p.m. and cruised up the river while dinner was prepared and served.

Officials of Gulf States Paper Corporation who accompanied the group were: Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Warner, Chairman of the Board and President, respectively; and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Miles. Mr. Miles is the forester for the Company. Also as guests of the club were Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Searcy, President of the Tuscaloosa Rotary Club.

IMPROVEMENT ORDINANCE NO. 5-I

An ordinance to provide for certain improvements on Valley Street, Main Street, Shelby Street, Parkway Circle, Crestview Drive, Island Street, Bloch Street and Vine Street, all in the Town of Montevallo, Alabama.

Be it ordained by the Town Council of the Town of Montevallo, Alabama, as follows:

Section 1. The Town Council has determined to improve the following named and described streets in the Town of Montevallo, Alabama, to the extent hereinafter indicated:

(a) Valley Street shall be improved from the northeast property line of North Boundary Street to the southwest property line of Bloch Street, as follows:

The street shall be graded and concrete combined curb and gutter shall be constructed on each side of said street and the roadway between the gutter lines shall be paved with two course cold lay asphaltic concrete paving two inches thick on a six inch compacted base course. A parking area shall be constructed from a point 247 feet northeast of the northeast property line of North Boundary Street northeastward a distance of 198 feet and the northeast, southwest and northwest edge of the parking area shall be curbed with a six inch by fourteen inch concrete curb. The northwest curb of the parking area shall be parallel to and thirty-three feet nothwest of the northwest curb line of Valley Street. A concrete valley gutter shall be constructed on the gutter line on the northwest side of Valley Street between the street paving and the parking area, beginning at a point 232 feet northeast of the northeast property line of North Boundary Street, and running northeast a distance of 228 feet. The parking area between the curb and the valley gutter is to be paved with the same type of pavement as the pavement to be constructed on Valley Street. The pavement on Valley Street shall be 26 feet wide and the improvement shall include all necessary drainage structures and driveways or turn-outs wherever needed.

(b) Main Street shall be improved on the southeast side of said portion of said street from a point 215 feet northeast of the souhtwest property line of Project Ala.-79-1 to a point 400 feet northeast of the southwest line of Project Ala.-79-1 by the construction of a concrete combined curb and gutter and by the construction of a concrete sidewalk five feet wide and four inches thick from the southwest property line of Project Ala.-79-1 to a point 400 feet northeast of said southwest property line of Project Ala.79-1 and the existing paving along the edge of the gutter to be constructed on the southeast side of said street shall be patched and repared with two course cold lay asphaltic concrete paving material.

(c) Shelby Street shall be improved from the norhtwest property line of Valley Street to a point 148 feet northwest of the northwest property line of Oak Street, by grading and paving with two course cold lay asphaltic concrete pavement two inches thick on a six inch compacted base course, and construction of all necessary drainage structures. The pavement shall be twenty (20) feet wide.

(d) Parkway Circle shall be improved from the intersection of Crestview Drive and Parkway Circle to the south property line of Pineview Road, including the intersection of Crestview Drive and Parkway Circle and the intersection of Parkway Circle and Meadow Road, as shown on plans, specifications and surveys prepared by Walter Schoel Enginererng Company, and on file in the office of the Town Clerk, by grading and the installation of concrete valley gutters two feet wide and six inches thick on the outer edges of a twenty-six (26) foot roadway, and the twenty-two (22) foot roadway between the valley gutters shall be paved with one course cold lay asphaltic concrete paving one and one-half inches thick on a six inch compacted base course. The improvement of Parkway Circle shall include the construction of a 42 inch reinforced concrete pipe culvert under Parkway Circle at appoximately the location of the existing ditch near the division line between lots 23 and 24, block 6, Arden subdivision, and all other necessary drainage structures.

(e) Crestview Drive shall be improved from the south property line of Pineview Road to the intersection of Crestview Drive with Parkway Circle by grading and the installation of concrete valley gutters two feet wide and six inches thick on the outer edge of a twenty-six (26) foot roadway and the twenty-two (22) foot roadway between the valley gutters shall be paved with one course cold lay asphaltc concrete paving one and one-half inches thick on a six inch compacted base course. The improvement shall include the construction of a fifteen (15) inch reinforced concrete pipe culvert under Crestview Drive at a point near the lot line between Lots 9 and 10, Block 6, of Arden subdivision, and all other necessary drainage structures.

(f) Island Street shall be graded from the southwest property line of Middle Street to the northeast propeerty line of Shelby Street and the southeast and northwest edges of a thirty (30) foot roadway along the center line of Island Stret from the southwest property line of Middle Street to the northeast property line of Shelby Street shall be curbed with Portland cement combined curb and gutter, the curb and gutter to be six inches thick and the gutter two feet wide, and the roadway between the gutter lines shall be paved with two course cold lay asphaltic concrete paving two inches thick on a six inch compacted base course. Driveways to lots along said portion of said street, where needed, shall be paved with Portland cement concrete six inches thick and extending two feet toward the lot from the face of the curb. The improvement of said portion of said street shall include all necessary drainage structures.

(g) Bloch Street shall be graded from the northwest property line of Valley Street to the northwest curb line of Broad Street. The northeast and southwest edges of the thirty (30) foot roadway along the center line of Bloch Street from the northwest property line of Valley Steet to the northwest curb line of Broad Street shall be curbed with Portland cement concrete combined curb and gutter, the curb and gutter to be six inches thick and the gutter two feet wide, and the roadway between the gutter lines shall be paved with two course cold lay asphaltic concrete paving two inches thick on a six inch compacted base course. Driveways to lots, where needed along said portion of said street, shall be paved with Portland cement concrete six inches thick and extending two feet toward the lot from the face of the curb. Existing curbing and pavement at the intersection of Bloch Street and Broad Street shall be removed and replaced where necessary to conform to the new alignment of Bloch Street. The improvement of said portion of said street shall include all neceessary drainage structures and the removal of trees within the construction area.

(h) Vine Street from the southeast property line of Morgan Street to a point 300 feet southeast of the southeast line of Morgan Street shall be graded and paved with one course cold lay asphaltic concrete paving one and one-half inches thick and twenty (20) feet wide.

Section 2. All concrete work shall be Portland Cement concrete consisting of a mixture of one part Portland cement, two parts sand and four parts gravel. Storm water inlets will be constructed of masonry and Portland cement mortar and shall have a cast iron cover plate. Reinforced concrete headwalls will be constructed where needed and will be constructed of concrete and three-eighths inch reinforcing steel. Where existing culverts or other drainage structures interfere with the construction of the improvements, such structures will be removed and relaid.

Section 3. That the full details, drawings, plans, specifications and surveys of the above described work and improvements and estimates which have been prepared by Walter Schoel Engineering Company, Birmingham, Alabama, who have been duly designated and appointed as Town Engineers by this Council, have been fully considered and studied by this Council and hereby are adopted. Said details, drawings, plans, specifications, surveys and estimates shall be immediately placed on file in the office of the Town Clerk, where property owners who may be affected by such improvements may see and examine the same.

Section 4. That the improvements hereinabove described shall be made in accordance with the grades heretofore established and in accordance with the details, drawings, plans, specifications, surveys and estimates herein adopted, all under the supervision of said Town Engineers, Walter Schoel Engineering Company.

Section 5. That the cost of constructing said improvements shall be assessed against the porperty abutting on the portions of the streets so improved, provided:

(a) That the cost of improving any intersection, or any part thereof, shall be assessed against the lots or parcels of land abutting on each of the streets, avenues, alleys or other highways so intersecting for a half block in each direction therefrom; provided that, for the purpose of computing assessments, no block shall be considered as extending more than 1,000 feet from any intersection so improved.

Tea Shower For Miss Grady

Miss Barbara Jean Grady was honored at a tea shower in the home of Mrs. Grover Green, Underwood, Monday, July 27, from 3 to 5. Miss Edna Earle Green and Mrs. W. E. Kirkpatrick were co-hostesses.

The color scheme of white, yellow, and green was very effective.

Miss Grady, bride-elect of Doy Holt, was lovely in white nylon. Miss Green, hostess, wore yellow nylon.

The G.A. girls of the Underwood Baptist Church, wearing white and yellow dresses, received the guests and presided over the tea table covered with white lace over green. Yellow tapers in silver holders surrounded the silver bowl of white and yellow chrysanthemums which centered the table.

Miss Tommy Peete (G.A. girl) displayed the gifts.

Grady-Holt Wedding Monday

Miss Barbara Jean Grady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Grady became the bride of Sgt. Doy Holt at eight o'clock on Monday, July 27.

The Rev. M. L. Triplett performed the ceremony in the sanctuary of the Methodist Church, Montevallo.

The immediate family of the bride and close friends were the only guests for the ceremony.

The bride wore a white suit and blue accessories completed with a corsage of white carnations.

Sgt. Holt and his bride will reside in Columbus, Ga., where he is stationed at Fort Benning.

Miss Grady received her Bachelor of Arts Degree from Alabama College in June.

Recreation Center At Columbiana

Columbiana's new public recreation center was formally opened and dedicated Wednesday night in a program that was participated in heartily by hundreds of citizens of the town together with many guests and friends from neighboring towns and communities.

The program started at 6 o'clock with a dinner for the visitors. Mayor Wales Wallace was toastmaster. He introduced all guests and outlined the process by which the recreation building was made possible by the cooperation of all people and organizations of the Town.

After dinner the program of dedication was carried out with the front steps of the building as a stage. The dedication speech was made by Ehney Camp, vice president of Liberty National Life. Mr. Camp is a native of Columbiana, a graduate of Shelby County High.

His speech was reminiscent of his boyhood days and in high praise of the progress that Columbiana has made in recent years.

When Mr. Camp had completed the dedication of the building and facilities to the youth of the community, the ribbon across the entrance was cut by Bob Ross Mullins, Chairman of the Recreation Board, when the keys were turned over to him by Mayor Wallace.

The waiting throng entered the building and a group of talented entertainers performed for about an hour while everyone had a chance to view the interior appointments of the building.

The program concluded by the crowd going to the lighted athletic field where they consumed about an acre of fine watermelons.

Bob Ross Mullins, Wales Wallace, Bully Fowler, Rux Carter, Homer Walton were jubilant over prospects of what the recreation center offers for the boys and girls for play, fun and recreation; but there was noticeable a gleam in their eyes like that of some fathers who buy electric trains at Christmas for the pleasure of the children.

We congratulate Columbiana for the accomplishment that has made possible this beautiful recreation center.

DISCUSS CATTLE PRODUCTION—Approximately 45 farmers and business men discussed ways to improve cattle production at a steak supper-meeting Wednesday night at Calera, sponsored by the Central State Bank. Superintendent W. B. Kelly of the Black Belt Experiment Station at Marion Junction spoke on the importance of good breeding practices, pastures, and future planning in successful cattle production.

Central State Bank Entertains Fifty County Cattlemen

The Central State Bank of Calera, entertained approximately 50 cattlemen and other guests at a steak dinner Wednesday night, July 29, at the Calera City Hall.

The dinner was arranged as a public service by the Central State Bank in cooperation with the Shelby County Extension Service.

Realizing the importance of the beef cattle industry in this area, the Calera bank showed its appreciation to its beef cattle customers by arranging this meeting in their behalf.

Feature speaker for the occasion was Mr. Wilbur Kelly, manager of the Marion Junction Experimental Station. Mr. Kelly presented the group with much pertinent information on cattle farming which has been proven at the Marion Junction farm.

Mr. Kelly pointed out in his discussion on the subject of beef cattle that the farmer who has a sound long range program and equips himself with the proper knowledge of good herdmanship, pasture and feed programs, will be the person who succeeds in the beef cattle business.

Other distinguished guests were: State Senator Preston Clayton, president of the Alabama Cattlemen's Association and Mr. E. H. Wilson, executive secretary, Alabama Cattlemen's Association.

Food was prepared and served by Buck Clark, assistant County Agent, and employees of the Central State Bank.

Mr. Eddie Downs, assistant cashier and agricultural representative of the bank, acted as chairman. Mr. Roy Downs, president, welcomed the group and introduced the bank directors. A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent, and W. M. (Buck) Clark, assistant County Agent, also spoke to the group.

RUMBLINGS OF FOLSOM

Mr. Charley Cox, of Clanton, was a visitor to Montevallo Tuesday. We enjoyed a visit from him at the Times office. There are always many things, past and present and future we like to talk to Charlie about.

He said he missed Mr. Bob Reid when he comes to Montevallo. That is something we do every day.

Charlie says he is keeping his ear to the ground for soundings on the next race for Governor and he reports powerful rumblings for Jim Folsom.

In the latter part of the former Folsom administration, Mr. Cox was with the highway department. He is the man who got the Jemison Cut-off paving project started. He also took much interest in the road from here to Bessemer. "I think I would have got that road as a state project," he said, "if the Folsom administration had lasted a little longer. I am glad, however, that Shelby County has succeeded in getting it as a Farm-to-Market road. It will be an important road from Bessemer through Montevallo and then on the new Jemison Cut-off to Highway 31."

One Million Dollars Is Goal For Masonic Home

Montgomery, Ala. — Seventy thousand Master Masons, members of 428 Masonic Lodges in the State of Alabama, under the leadership of Joseph S. Southall, Mobile, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, F.&A.M. this State are conducting a vigorous campaign to raise a Million Dollar Endowment Fund, for the perpetual maintenance of the Home.

The cornerstone of the first building, erected at the Alabama Masonic Home, the present administration building, was laid during the Grand Lodge session of 1911 with over 1,200 members of the craft in attendance. The doors of the home were opened for residents on Januay 18, 1913 and since that time, it has housed hundreds of orphans, elder brethren, and widows. At the present time the Alabama Masonic Home has 110 guests ranging in age from early childhood to 94 years.

The Alabama Masonic Home and farm embraces 276 acres, situated on Route 4, near Montgomery. Its spacious buildings, Haven of Rest Hospital, a one story structure with 65 beds, modern, but home-like and ample recreation facilities offer security and happiness to widows and orphans and needy brothers.

The Alabama Masonic Home Farm, under the capable management of Supt. Thomas L. Cochran and his staff includes broad acres of corn, alfalfa, vegetables and other crops. Herds of fine dairy and beef cattle and hogs graze over the fertile farm land. A large chicken ranch also contributes to the extensive larders and kitchen of the establishment.

Grand Master Southall urges all Master Masons in Alabama to hand over their contributions to the secretaries of their respective Masonic Lodges, who in turn are requested to forward these funds to Jesse E. Lanier, Chairman of the Alabama Masonic Home Million Dollar endowment fund. His address is 1824, 2nd Ave., N., Bessemer, Ala.

Members of the Board of Control of the Alabama Masonic Home are: Joseph S. Southall, Mobile; Leonard S. Terry, Hillsboro; Jno. W. Preddy, Birmingham; Troy L. Nunn, Hartselle; and Chas. H. Stubinger, Montgomery.

As a part of the Alabama Masonic Endowment Fund program, hundreds of Master Masons, their families and friends congregated, Sunday, July 19, at the Masonic Home in a home-coming reception to the boys and girls, former guests of the Home who have gone out into the world and made a success of their lives.

Sometimes it just doesn't pay to be the president of a big outfit. You take Bill Paley, president of Columbia Broadcasting System. The poor guy made only a meager $101,998 last year. But Ed Morrow, top CBS newscaster, knocked down a neat $211,126, and another CBS hired hand, Arthur Godfrey, earned a lousy $1,400,00, in 1952.

H. B. Lackey Heads United Defense Fund

Harry B. Lackey, State Manager of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been appointed State Chairman of the United Defense Fund.

Mr. Lackey will work with the Community Chest leaders throughout the state in the effort to raise the $143,440.00 quota for Alabama. The United Defense Fund raises its funds through inclusion in the Community Chests of the several communities. He will also work with the local U.S.O. Committees throughout Alabama to provide recreational facilitise for the servicemen and women

President Eisenhower recently declared that "if there's an armistice in Korea, don't let anyone tell you the need will be lessened for services USO and the other UDF agencies are providing. The end of fighting in Korea will be followed by a trying period when our troops will have to remain in the area, and it is then that United Defense Fund agencies can be of even greater value."

Active in civic and other public spirited enterprises wherever he has lived, Mr. Lackey is a member of the Birmingham Kiwanis Club, Board of Directors of the Committee of 100 and the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce. He lived in New Orleans for eight years and is a past president of the New Orleans Rotary Club, New Orleans Electrical Association and Louisiana Armed Forces Communications Association.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Senator Taft

Last week the Congress and nation lost one of its great leaders, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio. On Friday and Saturday of last week, Senator Taft was praised on the floor of both houses of Congress by Democrats and Republicans alike. As I listened to the tributes paid him, it seemed to me the words most often used in describing this great American were ability, courage, character, and integrity. A tower of strength in the Republican Administration, Senator Taft's guiding hand will be sorely missed in the days and months ahead.

Emergency Immigration Act

In the closing days of the present session, Congress passed a bill which will greatly impair the McCarran-Walter Act, our basic immigration law that went into effect only last December.

The McCarran-Walter Act was adopted after almost five years of continuous hearings and study and was passed overwhelmingly by both the House and Senate. Yet, hardly before the ink had dried on this legislation, the House and Senate voted to circumvent and impair this basic immigration law by the passage of an emergency immigration act that will permit 217,000 immigrants to enter this country. This will be in addition to the approximately 200,000 already allowed to enter each year under the McCarran-Walter Act.

It is inevitable that 217,000 additional people in the United States will affect the economic well-being of some of our people, particularly those veterans who will return from the Korean conflict to seek employment. No one can deny that jobs and living facilities taken by these immigrants will be at the expense of those who already live in this country.

The screening of immigrants coming into our country, particularly under this emergency legislation, cannot be effective enough to assure that Communists will not be among those who will enter. This fact was admitted even by the proponents of this bill although they contended that the screening process will be so thorough that 99.44 per cent of the people admitted will be anti-Communists. Assuming this optomistic estimate to be correct, the other .56 of 1 percent would amount to a total of 1215 subversives who would be released in the United States. Although they might eventually be apprehended, much damage could be done by such a group in the meantime.

Past experience has shown us, however, that an estimate of 99.44 percent is altogether unrealistic. The Attorney General of the United States recently announced that of the 4,984 leading Communists in the United States, all but 415 were of foreign extraction or married to foreigners. He also revealed that over 10,000 naturalized citizens of the United States are being investigated and are believed to be or to have been engaged in subversive activities. He stated further that 12,000 aliens residing in this country are being considered for deportation for the same reason. Early this month the Senate Judiciary Committee estimated that 40 percent of the refugees and escapees from behind the Iron Curtain are either Communists or convicted criminals. If we consider this more realistic picture and not the estimate of 99.44 per cent made by the proponents of this legislation, then the situation is even worse.

Yet, again giving the optomists the benefit of the doubt, let us assume once more that 99.44 percent of these immigrants will be anti-Communists. What, then, is the logic in uprooting these people from Europe and transporting them to this country at the expense of the American taxpayers? Our government has spent billions of dollars in an effort to increase the number of anti-Communists in Europe and Asia. Should we now transport these anti-Communists to the United States and further decrease their number where we need them most? It would seem to me a wiser approach to encourage these people to stay and fight for the cause of freedom in the spots they are urgently needed.

Certainly the United States has been liberal in its immigration policies. Until this country had more than 125 million people, we had no law that restricted immigration. Since that time we have shown our good will toward the other peoples of the world by adopting immigration laws much more generous than those of many other countries. For example, the United States now has 45 people per square mile. Collectively, Brazil, Africa, Canada, and Australia have seven times the area of the United States but less than 1 and one-half times our population. Yet these countries screen their applicants so carefully that relatively few immigrants can enter.

For these reasons I felt that immigrants should continue to enter the United States under the provisions of carefully considered legislation already in effect. I therefore voted against the emergency immigration bill as did the other members of the Alabama delegation.

Dora Grace Frost Is Home Agent

Auburn, Ala., Aug. 6—Miss Dora Grace Frost has been appointed home demonstration agent in Clay County. She is succeeding Miss Margaret Ann McGowin, who has accepted the position of Talladega County home agent.

Miss Frost, a former 4-H Club member from Calera, was graduated from Alabama College at Montevallo with a degree in home economics education. She has served as assistant home agent in both Pickens and Clay Counties and taught home economics in the Beatrice schools two years.

Miss Frost is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Frost of Calera, Rt. 1.

What Is It . . . ?

. . . . that helps make your water supply so dependable?

. . . . that runs elevators and operates X-rays in hospitals?

. . . . that helps you preserve food with health-giving vitamins and minerals retained?

. . . . that contributes so greatly to the comfort of your every-day living?

. . . . that brings you entertainment at the turn of a dial?

. . . . that makes it possible to do your job — at home, in the factory, store or office with so much greater ease?

What Is It . . . ?

. . . . without which modern cities and most farm homes soon would be without adequate water supply?

. . . . without which doctors could not perform their miraculous operations and treatment?

. . . . without which food would quickly spoil?

. . . . without which many would be without means to prepare food?

. . . . without which factories would have to close with resultant unemployment?

THIS Is It!

Electric power . . not just the mere existence of it but its delivery to the points where needed . . . its BEING THERE at the instant of need . . . at the flick of a switch . . .

BEING THERE means being backed up by men and women many of whom have given a lifetime of devotion to the ideal that because the well-being of so many depends on dependable electric service their work is a kind of consecrated service. That many of them think so is proven by their response to duty in cases of local emergency — when storm or fire or other catastrophe temporarily disrupts electric service . . . when they work beyond their allotted eight hours to restore as quickly as possible that miracle of modern living so vital to the health, safety, comfort or earning capacity of every man, woman and child — in health or in sickness, in town or country, in shop or home.

It has been just slightly less than 40 years ago (April, 1914) when power from the first large hydro-electric power development in Alabama flowed into a transmission line to bring about the industrial and social revolution that's taken place in that short period. Just about 40 years ago (September, 1913), the first large (for that period) steam plant was put into operation to supply power during periods when low water in the river made it impossible to generate enough hydro-power to supply the need.

In the years since, Alabama Power Company has built plants — hydro and steam — always in proper balance to give a dependable year-'round source of supply and always in time to supply the ever-widening field in which electricity has contributed so much to human welfare. And in all of those forty years there have been men of faith — and men and women whose sense of responsibility to their fellowman has caused them to lay aside personal convenience or desire so that today electric power has become a vital every-hour part of satisfactory living — and at a cost to the user that even families of modest income can afford.

This demonstration showed me the way to a better deal!

I'd been planning to buy a higher-priced car until I found out all Chevrolet offered— and how much I could save!

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p "Thrift-King" engine.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.*

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet *now!

Biology Class Visits Medical Center In Birmingham

On Tuesday, July 14, 1953, the summer school biology class of Montevallo High School made a field trip to the Medical Center in Birmingham. The class left on the eight o'clock bus and reached the Jefferson County Health Department, which was toured first, beginning at nine-thirty.

At the health department we were shown some of the tests run on milk for its water and bacterial content. Also in this room was the incubator used to grow the bacteria. After seeing this room, we were taken to the cancer research floor. This department is striving to find an early diagnosis for the disease rather than a treatment. We were taken into the animal room where the mice are kept. The four different strains of mice were shown to us and the guide explained to us the importance of a mouse such as this being bred, brother to sister, for forty years. Then we were shown the room where the most delicate machines for research were. These machines were used to do such things as measure the salt content of the blood, etc. The laboratory where the experiments were carried out was visited next.

At 10:30 we were due for our appointment at the Jefferson-Hillman Hospital. We were taken through the building by Mr. Bailey, the administrator of the hospital. First, we saw the charity ward. On another floor we were shown the room where X-rays were taken and the flouroscope was used. Also on this floor was the deep therapy room for treatment of cancer and skin diseases. We were shown the operating room used for tonsillectomies and other minor surgery and the special equipment used for the safety of the patients was explained. Other places that we saw there were the maternity rooms and wards with several babies in incubators, the Hillman side of the maternity floor where the colored babies are kept, polio ward, sterilization department, and eye clinic. At the polio ward we saw an iron lung. At the eye clinic we were shown the special operating rooms and the room where eye exercises are given. On this floor was a medical illustrator who sketched drawings of operations therefore a complete record of the operation could be kept.

Upon leaving the hospital we went to the Crippled Children's Clinic where we saw the chapel, sun deck, brace department, outpatient clinic, and physio-therapy clinic including the gym, pool, tub, and walking ramp. We were shown several types of clinics and visited some wards.

After this tour the class separated and had the afternoon free for shopping or going to the movie.

The next day in class, we listed the following statements about the Medical Center.

1. The Medical Center in Birmingham is the youngest in the South. It is also considered the largest.
2. It is the training ground for graduate medical students of University of Alabama.
3. The visit was a cultural experience due to the fact that we gained an appreciation of the study and advancement of medicine in Jefferson and surrounding counties, in Alabama, the South, and the Nation.
4. The equipment is the most newly developed and best that can be obtained.
5. It is outstanding in two fields of research, physio therapy and cancer diagnosis.
6. The trip can be useful in helping a high school student to choose his life's vocation.

The trip was enjoyed by the following students and teachers: Jo Alice Harrell, Marcia Hancock, Jenette Glasscock, Clara Young, Rose Shaw, Merle Meyers, Bill Lee, Robert O'Neill, Joe Don Woods, Bobby Dunn, Kenneth Holcombe, Homer Walton, Jr., and Misses Shirley Martin and Ethel Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Z Return From Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Ziolkowski and Gretchen, arrived home a week ago from Innsbruck, Austria, where Teddy completed a year's study.

While at Innsbruck they saw as much of Austria as possible, visited Italy and Switzerland and were visited by home folks, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reynolds and Miss Eleanora Reynolds while on their European tour. This visit was one of the most enjoyable events of the year for the Z's.

On the way to the line United States, on which they sailed for home, Teddy, Yetta and Gretchen enjoyed a trip thru Germany and France. Gretchen went all sight seeing trips and proved her self a veteran traveler.

The young people looked forward to being home but hated leaving the many friends they had made where ever they went.

After Labor Day Teddy will enter Yale University where he will work on his doctorate.

Applications For Siluria Postmaster

The first examination for Postmaster at Siluria, $4162 a year, under new, more exacting eligibility requirements recently agreed upon by the U. S. Civil Serivce Commission and the Post Office Department, will be open for receipt of applications until August 25, 1953, the Commission announced today.

All previously existing postmaster examinations for first, second, and third-class post offices and lists of eligibles were cancelled recently. Higher standards of eligibility were prescribed for the filling of more than 1,700 vacant positions throughout the country.

The Commission is taking all possible steps through special publicity to civic and other community organizations to encourage well qualified persons to apply for the examination.

Preparations Making For Corn Festival At Bessemer Sep. 17

A. A. Lauderdale and W. M. Clark of Columbiana attended a luncheon meeting of the Bessemer Chamber of Commerce July 20 to discuss final plans for the fifth annual Bessemer Corn and Livestock Festival, September 17-19.

Shelby County is one of the five counties participating in the district dairy show that will be the main attraction at the festival. Other counties are Blount, Jefferson, St. Clair, and Walker.

The festival will open on the afternoon of September 17 with a gala parade of high school bands, organizational floats, farm machinery and several marching units.

Between halves of the Bessemer-Anniston football game that night the crack Bessemer High band, directed by Lamar Triplett, will present musical stunts saluting the festival.

Queen Bess and King Corn will be introduced to the crowd at that time. A number of organizations in this county will be invited to enter girls (16-21 years old) in the Queen Bess contest.

Following the football game between Bessemer's two-year state championship team and its northeast Alabama rival, the festival square dance will be staged in the high school gym.

The district dairy show will begin on the afternoon of September 18. The morning will be given over to four Jefferson County shows; poultry, dairy, market beef, and market hog.

That night all exhibitors will be guests at a buffet supper after which the Festival Talent Show will take place.

Each of the five counties is allowed four acts in this competition, two by 4-H Club members and two by Future Farmers of America. Cash prizes will be awarded in the two divisions of this show.

The third day, September 19, will be given over to the District Dairy Show. At noon the exhibitors will be guests at a barbecue given by the American Legion.

The festival will close that night with the Queen's Ball in the high school gym.

Boll Weevil Fight

Boll weevil infestation is running very high all over Alabama, according to W. A. Ruffin, API Extension entomologist.

"And a new crop of weevils has added even more work for cotton growers," he says. "Rain during the last week or 10 days has slowed poisoning programs, but good weather and continued effective poisoning should get the weevil problem under control."

Farmers are doing more poisoning this year than ever before, adds Ruffin. And prospects are bright for high yeilds, provided further boll weevil damage can be stopped. He emphasizes that farmers must continue their poisoning programs through the next five weeks if a crop is to be made.

"In some sections of the state heavy rains and high fertilization have made unusually high growth, which makes it difficult to poison with a tractor. But," warns Ruffin, "boll weevil will do more harm to cotton rows than tractors."

400 School Leaders Meeting Here

Some 400 educational leaders from all over the state will meet at Alabama Colege, for the Alabama Education Association's annual leadership school August 14, 15, and 16.

Among the outstanding speakers scheduled to address the educators is Alabama Congressman Albert Rains, who will discuss the program of citizenship training as sponsored by the U. S. Department of Justice. Also on the program will be Mr. E. L. Hoon, field representative of the Ohio Education Association, and Dr. Roy K. Wilson, specialist in the field of press and radio relations, National Education Association, Washington, D. C.

The first general session of the three day conference will be Friday afternoon at 2:30 in Comer Hall. The conference will close at noon Sunday, August 16. Through general session addresses, panels, skits, and discussions, local leaders will be helped and will help to plan this year's program of activities.

Problems to be discussed include school legislation, improving the work of local teacher associations, better committee administration, and national associations.

The motion picture "Skippy and the Three R's" and an A.E.A. exhibit which attracted nation wide attention during a recent N.E.A. convention in Miami will be shown during the leadership school.

Recreation for the educators will include a square dance, informal reception, watermelon cutting, swimming, fishing and boating on the Alabama Colege lake.

You can put an ELECTRIC WATER HEATER anywhere you wish!

Close to the sink . . .

Save on long pipe runs—put your electric water heater right beneath the kitchen sink. Or, if it's more convenient you can have it next to, or back to back with the sink . . . where the most hot water is used every day. You'll save money now (and later) by eliminating expensive pipe runs . . . water won't be left standing to cool in long pipes.

In a utility room . . .

An electric water heater is so well insulated you won't have any worries if it's in the utility room which doubles as a children's play room. Electric water heaters are as clean as a light bulb.

In a closet . . .

An electric water heater doesn't have to have a supply of air to operate. It works just as well in a closet as in a basement. Wherever it's most convenient . . . you can place your electric water heater.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The Administration's last-minute proposal to raise the debt limit to $290 billion failed in the Senate after passing the House last week. The Senate Finance Committee, by a 11-4 count, refused to send the bill to the floor of the Senate for a vote. Opposition to this proposal was led by Senator Byrd of Virginia and Senator George of Georgia, both highly respected members of the Senate Finance Committee. Chief spokesman for the Administration was Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

Mr. Humphrey argued that the Administration could not spend as authorized by Congress without spending over the present debt limit. The fallacy in Mr. Humphrey's argument is that Congress only authorizes the spending. It makes it permissive but not mandatory. There is no law saying every agency must spend every dime allotted it as fast as it can. On the contrary, the Administration has pledged itself to a continuous policy of retrenchment, and this is an excellent opportunity for it to put that policy into effect.

If, after a strenuous effort to keep spending below the present $275 billion limit, it is impossible to do so, then Congress will be called back into session. Some feel it will not be necessary to reconvene Congress. Others are doubtful. It has been agreed, however, that no further attempts will be made to raise the National debt limit until after the September tax collections have been received.

Attends Taft's Funeral

Last Monday I attended the state funeral of the late Robert A. Taft. It was held in the rotunda of the Capitol and was attended by Senator Taft's family and by almost all of official Washington.

Senator Taft was one of only 13 people in the history of the nation to be memoralized at a state funeral service in the Capitol rotunda. Among the other 12 accorded the highest tribute the United States can pay its dead was Senator Taft's father, President William Howard Taft.

Returns to District

Because Congress has adjuorned and I will return to the District the latter part of this week, this will be my last "Report From Washington" until Congress reconvenes.

I want t take this opportunity to thank all the newspapers in the Sixth District for their splendid cooperation in making it possible for me to report my activities as your Congressman. I also want to thank the many readers from every county in the District who have expressed by letter their approval of my weekly report. I have made every effort to keep it both interesting and informative, and I hope it will be possible for me to resume my report when Congress reconvenes in January.

Except for a period of two weeks when it will be necessary for me to return to Washington for committee work, I expect to be in the District during the Congressional recess. My District office will be located in the Post Office Building in Tuscaloosa, and I will maintain a full-time staff there. In the event anyone wishes to write me, I suggest you mail your letter to my Tuscaloosa office. Although I plan to spend approximately two days each week at my Tuscaloosa office, the rest of my time will be spent visiting the other counties of the District.

I am anxious to see as many of you in the Sixth District during the recess as possible. In the meantime, I hope you will continue to call on me whenever I can be of assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Winslett are happy to announce the birth of a son, Stanley Clyde, born Tuesday, August 4, 1953. Mrs. Winslett and son returned home from St. Vincents Hospital, Monday.

Church Conference To Be Held At Alabama College

Adults from the Christian Churches of Alabama will assemble on the campus of Alabama College, August 17-21, for a week of fellowship and study. The conference will open with registration Monday, August 17, from 2:30-5:30 p.m., and will close at noon, Friday, August 21.

During the week the conference will be led in study groups by such outstanding church leaders as Dr. William H. McKinney, executive sercretary in the National Department of Men's Work; Dr. Howard E. Short, Professor of Church History at The College of the Bible, Lexington, Ky., who has recently returned from a tour of Europe and teaching responsibilities under the auspices of the World Council of Churches; and Dr. Francis Christie, Professor of Religion, Birmingham Southern College. Persons from Alabama College and the Montevalo community are invited to attend the out-of-door vespers each evening Monday through Thursday. Dr. McKinney will bring the vesper messages.

Persons from the Montevallo churches are also invited to see the technicolor sound film entitled For Every Child. This splendid film emphasizes the necessity of providing Christian faith and the teaching for all children.

Mr. Edwin A. Tuck of Eutaw, Alabama, will serve as President of the Conference.

Prude Fancher In Naval Reserve

Little Creek, Va., (FHTNC)—Allen P. Fancher, son of Mrs. Murray W. Fancher of 206 East Boundary St., Montevallo, a student at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, is among the more than 750 Midshipmen of the second group of Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps to receive amphibious warfare training at the U. S. Naval Amphibious Base here in July.

Known as NARMID '54, a contraction of Naval Reserve Midshipmen, the training featured instruction and practical work both ashore and afloat. This year's overall NARMID program involved NROTC college juniors from 52 of the nation's colleges and universities.

More New Roads To Be Constructed

Recent announncement of the State Highway Department reveals many new road projects soon to be constructed. Among them are two Chilton County roads: 3.465 miles grading, drainage and bituminous treatment on a county road from Maplesville north to the Bibb County line; 5.168 miles base and bituminous treatment on county roads north, south and west from Thorsby.

We are pleased to see the project north from Maplesville to the Bibb County line. That will be another link in our dream road from Bessemer to Montgomery. With construction of the road north from Maplesville to the Bibb County line, and with the sector from Montevallo to the Jefferson County line under construction, that will leave only about 12 miles through Bibb County to make another completely paved route from Birmingham via Bessemer to Montgomery.

Annual Meeting At Thorsby Nursery

Several hundred farmers and others met at the Thorsby Soil Conservation Service Nursery for the annual District Supervisors' meeting and tour, culminating in a generous barbecue supplied by the supervisors. Among the many Shelby Countians seen there were B. F. Hatchett, George C. Starcher, Ned Bearden, W. Allen Oats, A. L. Little, Roy Mann, Hugh McDanal, Oland D. Smith, Bennett Smith, Edward Lansford, James M. Rowe, Jr., F. E. Williams, Shelby County District Supervisor; B. B. Nix, John Rucker, John Thompson, Frank Ellis, Frank Lowe, Mr. Hinds, Charles Thornburg, H. R. Evans and Miss Ethel Marshall. Others were there from this county but in the press of the day's activities no list was made.

Some of the things observed were various uses of fescue, Bahia (both Pensacola and Argentina) grass, wild sudan grass, kudzu and kudzu 23, muthflora rose, coastal bermuda, sericea (tupelo and Arlington), reseeding sorghum and varieties of pines.

President Draughan of Auburn made an interesting speech praising the nursery for its past work and assuring it of his support.

The supervisors voted to participate in a nationwide contest sponsored by a large rubber company in which a district cooperating farmers making the best progress in conservation in any one year, with his county supervisor would be awarded an all expense trip to the company's western ranch.

Many of the Shelby County farmers were particularly interested in one or more crop of practice seen there and expect to try these out on their farms.

Mrs. Lawley of Birmingham was the week end guest of her sister, Miss Mary Wooley.

Monthly Minimum Charge Goes to $2.50

For a long while it has been recognized by the Montevallo Water Board that a major expansion of its facilities for pumping, filtering and storage of water is necessary in order to meet the vastly increased demands for water in Montevallo. The present facilities were built to serve 300 customers. The system now serves 800 customers. For many months past it has been necessary to operate the pumping station 24 hours a day.

Recently the Water Board was called upon to extend its system to serve the new Westinghouse plant.

Therefore, it was the decision of the Water Board that the necessary expansion of the water system to better serve the town and also to serve Westinghouse should be done together. This necessarily involved a large program of financing, which the Board has made arrangements to do.

The approximate cost of the expansion of present facilities in town is estimated at $79,000.00. The approximate cost of the extension to serve Westinghouse is estimated at $42,000.00

To obtain the proposed water service Westinghouse will pay to the Water Board a minimum charge of $1,500.00 per year.

One of the requirements to meet the necessary financing program was that the Water Board increase its operating revenue by raising the minimum monthly charge to its customers from $2.00 to $2.50 for up to 4000 gallons consumed. This new charge has been made effective August 1st and will be reflected in water bills of September 1st.

Water customers are assured that this action is necessary in order to keep our water system and service adequate to meet the needs of the present and a reasonable increase in demands for the future.

When it is possible the Water Board will put the minimum rate back to $2.00 per month.

"Bum" Is Still Young

Albert Baumgartner says he is a little disappointed that the war in Korea has stopped. He thought he might have a chance to get into it for his third fling. Bum has been through two wars and is still "young and spry." He was in the army in World War I. In War II he was in the Seabees. "I plan to take a try with the Marines next time," he says. While Bum was spouting off in this little sidewalk interview, Bil Woolley sat by with a dry grin that spoke more than he could have put into words.

On the Farms In Shelby County

J. E. Cain, Fourmile, is a strong believer in several of the newer grazing crops. He has had success with C H Rescue, Fescue, Ball Clover, and Alabama Strain Reseeding Clover. Monday he repaid a hundred pounds of the Alabama Crimson to the North Central Soil Conservation District Supervisors with a request for a chance to try any future new crop.

H. H. and H. W. Maske are getting ready for winter grazing. The son is ready with 1500 pounds of reseeding crimson, plenty of phosphate (slag) and potash, and hundreds of pounds of C H Rescue, waiting for completion of land preparation.

Two new pond sites have been surveyed near Montevallo. One on the Wooten farm near Mr. Wooten's Fireclay Pits, and one on the Phillip McEntee farm. Besides furnishing water for stock these ponds will add several acres to the fishing grounds here.

That recently reported second growth of C H Rescue grass on —the Frank Ellis dallis grass pasture has been cut for hay just as the new seed reached maturity. The two cultivated grasses, white clover, wild grasses, etc., combined to make a fine hay crop.

Bentley - Wright

Columbiana, Ala., Aug. 8—Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Villa Pearl Bentley to Dr. James Gage Wright, Jr.

Miss Bentley is the daughter of E. W. Bentley and the late Mrs. Bentley. Dr. Wright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gage Wright, formerly of Montgomery and now of Miami, Fla.

Miss Bentley received her B.S. degree from Alabama College, Montevallo. She received training as a medical technologist at St. Margaret's Hospital, Montgomery. She represented Shelby County as Maid of Cotton in 1952. At the present time, she is employed by the Shelby County Welfare Department.

Dr. Wright received his A.B. degree from Huntingdon College. He graduated from Medical School of Alabama in 1953. He is now serving his internship at Jefferson-Hillman Hospital, Birmingham. His medical fraternity is Phi Chi.

The wedding will be September 13 in Columbiana.

Labor Day Barbecue At Calera

Tickets are going like hot cakes for the Civitan Labor Day Bar-B-Q to be held on the Calera High School grounds, Bill Minor, Club Secretary announnced today.

Minor pointed out that a poll of the club members indicate a record attendance will be on hand for the second annual scholarship fete. Several of the 1952 ticket sellers claim they will break their last year's record by forty or fifty tickets each.

H. B. George, Willie Crawford, Neal Farris, Tommy Lawrence, Bill Minor, Cecil Cowart, Zollie Cowart, Sr., Roy Downs, Julius Pilgreen, and R. E. Bowdon, Jr., all vow they will sell more tickets than they did in 1952.

Minor said, "This spirit prevails among all the members and is bound to make this second scholarship affair the biggest and best to date.

Collins-Burnett Wedding Plans

Thorsby, Ala., July 25—Mr. and Mrs. Akins Irving Collins announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Frances, to William P. Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Caldwell Burnett of Clanton.

Miss Collins is a graduate of Alabama College, where she received her bachelor of music degree. She was a member of the honorary music fraternity, Phi Alpha Mu, and president of Calkins Music Club. Beginning in September she will continue her studies in music and teach in the Birmingham public school system.

Mr. Burnett attended API and Tulane University, where he received his BS degree. He has done graduate study at the University of Alabama, and will enter Alabama Medical College in the fall. His fraternity is Pi Kappa Alpha.

The wedding is to be August 21 at the home of the bride-to-be's parents.

Know Your Schools

Through vocational homemaking programs in Alabama, high school girls are learning to be better family members today, to accept their responsibilities as homemakers of tomorrow, and are receiving training for careers in the field of home economics.

Vocational homemaking is provided in 297 high schools in Alabama. The purpose of this program is to improve home and family life through training youth and adults for the responsibilities of homemaking and parenthood. More than 18,000 pupils and 5,000 homemakers were enrolled in vocational homemaking classes during the school year 1952-53. The program provides instruction in all aspects of homemaking, including family relationships, infant care, child guidance, family meals, family clothing, home management, home furnishing, home nursing, food conservation and consumer education.

Instruction in homemaking is provided through classes at the school. The instruction in the class carries over into the homes of the pupils, through planned home experiences, which are supervised by the vocational homemaking teacher. At home the pupil assumes responsibilities such as taking care of the baby, buying groceries, preparing meals and selecting and making her clothing, using methods learned at school. The home experiences offer opportunities for pupils to develop homemaking abilities and to improve their homes as a regular part of their study of homemaking. Through the activities of the Future Homemakers of America high school home economics girls learn to be leaders and responsible citizens.

There are 168 schools without programs of vocational homemaking. Ninty-eight of these schools have made application for programs, but funds are not available for new programs. In the 297 programs already established, 117 additional teachers are urgently needed, due to large enrollment. At the present time, vocational homemaking teachers are employed for only nine months. A twelve months' program for vocational homemaking teachers is greatly needed, in order to help pupils and adults meet the year-round needs of families. (to be continued).

George E. Ewing Finishes Training

Camp Gordon, Ga.—George E. Ewing, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Ewing, Box 93, Wilton, has just completed six weeks intensive training with the Signal Corps Reserve Officers Training Corps summer camp. He was one of approximately 1100 cadets in training here.

World War II were driven home required before the ROTC cadets become eligible for commissions in the reserve.

In the early part of the training period, the local man had individual instruction in basic military subjects and signal communications.

Emphasis was placed on application of theories previously studied in college classrooms. Combat lessons learned in Korea and

Attendance at summer camp is by instructor personnel who are veterans of those wars. Each cadet has installed and operated radio and wire networks comparable to those used in the infantry division, and each student has been rotated through command position to test his ability as a leader.

Wait Until You Meet Audrey

Well! I've just met Audrey for the first time! And she certainly is marvelous, for an infant. She understands and reacts intelligently to spoken numbers.

What's so marvelous about that? Just wait until you meet Audrey. She is a machine and her full name is Automatic Digit Recognizer. But they call her Audrey for short at Bell Telephone Laboratories where she was born and where she is learning a number of things.

Right now Audrey can recognize spoken numbers from one to nine and the letter O. A single number is spoken, seven for instance, into a telephone connected to Audrey and she turns on a light numbered seven.

Audrey is still very young. So far she has learned only simple numbers, but some day she may understand and react to complex numbers and have a good vocabulary for words. Meanwhile, telephone scientists are learning a lot from Audrey. And that's why they created her, as part of their search for ways to improve your telephone service.

How does Audrey work? Bell engineers have developed an electronic memory for Audrey, so that she responds when spoken words match the patterns she has remembered.

Sometime in the future, perhaps Audrey will have learned all her lessons. Then it may be possible for a person to be connected to the party he is calling simply by speaking the number into his telephone.

But, as telephone scientists remind us, it will be quite a long while before Audrey learns to do all that. There are many problems still to be worked out. For example, today Audery has to be adjusted to the voice of each individual person. Some people she can't understand at all.

Even so, I think you'll agree that Audrey is a remarkable youngster. And she is just one of many new devices being developed and studied by telephone engineers. Their studies in years past have brought the good telephone service you have today. Their research now promises you still more useful, economical and convenient service in years to come.

Mrs. S. A. Gaddy and Glenda visited in Sylacauga last week.

Gentry-Price

Bessemer, Ala., Aug. 8—The engagement of Miss Joan Gentry to Dr. Samuel Allen Price is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Gentry.

THERE'S MAGIC IN THE AIR OVER MONTEVALLO

Magic is in the air—the familiar magic of your favorite network radio programs, brought to your radio station over Bell telephone circuits. ★The transmission of network radio over telephone facilities is just one of many developments that sprang from basic Bell telephone research to enrich the lives of millions. The microwave radio relay, which carries Long Distance calls and network television, and the sending of news photographs over telephone wires also grew out of the constant search for new magic to make your service ever better.★

It takes more than magic, however, to keep telephone service growing with the community. It takes a financially healthy Telephone Company, with earnings high enough to keep service good today—and growing tomorrow.

Band Members Attend Clinic

Six members of the Montevallo High School Band attended the Auburn Band Clinic last week. About four hundred high school musicians attended and were placed in a concert band and either a marching band or a twirling unit. A chorus was also organized for those interested. The band and a twirling unit staged a parade on Friday afternoon and the final concert was held Friday night.

Those from Montevallo were: Marcia Trumbauer, Mary Katherine Cox, Mary Katherine Hicks, Harriett Kendrick, Arthur Garrett, Charles Elliott and V. T. Young, director. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garrett and Bill Bob attended the concert and brought the boys home while Dr. and Mrs. Trumbauer and Mr. and Mrs. Hicks took care of transportation for the girls.

Masons To Raise Million Dollars For Orphans

Master Masons of Alabama are urged to fulfill their obligation to care for the orphans and dependants of their Brethren. To secure future security and happiness for guests of the Alabama Masonic Home, near Montgomery, Grand Master Joseph S. Southall has issued a call to each of the 70,000 members of the Craft in this State to join in raising a Million Dollar Endowment Fund for the permanent maintenance of the Home.

The head of Free Masonry in Alabama says frankly; "The Alabama Masonic Home is in need of money NOW and I urge all of the members of the 428 Masonic Lodges in this State to contribute to the Home's Million Dollar Endowment Fund." Continuing, Grand Master Southall said; "It is the duty of every Master Mason to help care for orphans and widows of Masons and elder Brethren themselves when in need. It is not only a duty to perform but a privilege to help those who are unfortunate."

Members of the Alabama Lodges are requested to make their contributions to their Secretaries.

The two illustrations accompanying this article show elderly guests playing dominoes and some of the children enjoying a nutritious meal amid pleasant surroundings.

Mrs. Hobby Fancher Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. Hobby Fancher was 85 years young on Sunday, August 16. Two of her daughters, Mrs. Eloise Carter of Calera and Miss Beatrice Fancher entertained with a surprise tea at the home of Miss Fancher Sunday afternoon.

Four generations enjoyed this occasion. Seven of Mrs. Fancher's ten children were present. Mr. R. M. Fancher, Gadsden, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fancher, Tuscaloosa, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Fancher, Tarrant, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Fancher, Birmingham, Mrs. A. J. Wells, Selma.

Grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fancher, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Morris, Gadsden, Mrs. Claude Wallace, and Mrs. Clifford Crisswell, Tuscaloosa, Miss Mae George Fancher, Tarrant.

Great granchildren Ellis and Genevia Fancher, Marilyn and Joanne Morris, Gadsden.

Baseball Games At Calera Labor Day

Montevallo Little Leaguers will cross bats with Calera Tiny Mites in the Labor Day celebration sponsored by the local Civitan Club, Monday, September 7, on the Calera High School graunds at 9 a.m.

Warren J. Findley, coach of the Calera Nine, says his boys are working out daily at the local diamond and will be in good shape for the double header with Montevallo.

Montevallo on the other hand will present an equally strong team to face the local outfit. Coach Theron Fisher claims his boys have been looking forward to a game with the Calera "Mites" all summer. He said this baseball game should be thrilling for any spectator to see.

Checking with the Civitan Officials it was learned only one small detail is to be ironed out before all plans are completed for the Second Annual Scholarship fete. The town team has not selected their opponent for the big afternoon baseball game.

Bill Miner, Civitan Secretary, says Jack Comer, Manager of the town team, is working to schedule an opponent and will select a team that will keep the spectators on edge all afternoon.

George Holcombe, Civitan President, stated he was much encouraged by the enthusiasm of the club members for the Labor Day Scholarship Celebration. He predicts that this year's program and Bar-B-Q will have around 1000 to 1500 people attending.

Dr. Lund Speaker At AEA Meeting

Dr. F. Edward Lund, President of Alabama Colege called for closer cooperation among educational groups and particularly between public school organizations and those identified with higher education in his welcome address Friday afternoon to more than 400 Alabama educators attending the annual Alabama Education Association Leadership School at Montevallo.

Introduced at the leadership school's first general session by Mrs. Dixie Johnson, of Bay Minette, vice president of the AEA, Dr. Lund pointed out that all educational groups are highly dependent on each other, and that lack of cooperation only retards the progress of educating our young people.

"Education is a long term investment in a state's economic progress and in the cultural development of its citizens", the Montevallo educator declared, "and those of us charged with the responsibility of educating our youth must not let differences of age levels and specialties interfere with our jobs."

"No one phase of education such as special fields of study or levels of instrutcion should be emphasized to the detriment of a complete educational program" said Dr. Lund. "I do not mean to imply that one should not be enthusiastic about his own field, for enthusiasm is the very essence of education. But, what is harmful is lack of enthusiasm for the well rounded educational program."

Dr. D. P. Culp Will Address Teachers

Dr. D. P. Culp, Professor of Education, API, will talk to the Shelby County Teachers during the Pre-School Work Conference at Alabama College on September 3, on the subject "Co-operative Planning of a School Program by the Principal, Teachers, Pupils and Parents."

This is an annual conference for this group and it is sponsored by the Shelby County Board of Education.

Superintendent W. W. Elliott states that ample time has been provided in the three-day program for discussion of common problems, for plans for group work within the teachers' association, for work in the local school situations, and for fun.

The purposes of this conference are: (1) to orient new teachers into the county school system (2) to orient all teachers into plans for the new year (3) for all teachers to become acquainted with other teachers in the county (4) to promote fellowship among the teachers, (5) to provide opportunities for teachers to begin work in study groups for the county-wide in-service program (6) to provide opportunities to plan together for local school in-service programs (7) to provide the opportunity for parents and teachers to discuss the common problems of their school and to begin making plans for the solution of these problems.

County P. T. A. Meeting Held

Forty three PTA leaders representing twelve schools in Shelby County and the State Congress of Parents and Teachers, attended an all-day School of Instruction on last Tuesday, August 11, in the Columbiana High School building. Mrs. R. M. Denty, Jr., president of the Shelby County PTA Council, presided. The twelve schools represented were Calera, Camp Branch, Chelsea, Columbiana, Dogwood, Helena, Pelham, Shelby, Thompson, Vincent, Wilsonville, and Montevallo.

Mrs. D. D. Black, State PTA president, addressed the group. Mrs. Black stressed the importance of all people in a community, a county, and the state pulling together to improve the educational opportunities for children. She gave the definition of the PTA as "parents and teachers and other interested citizens working together for the best interest of the child." She challenged the PTA members to "Know Your Organization, Believe In It, and Be Proud Of It."

After this challenging address the entire assembly broke up into five study groups to discuss the different phases of the PTA work. Leaders of the discussion groups were Mrs. D. D. Black, Mrs. G. C. Moore, Jr., Mrs. Thelma Vincent, Miss Martha Smith and Mrs. Harry Nelson.

A delicious picnic lunch was served in the school lunchroom at noon.

The group re-assembled in the auditorium after lunch for a question and answer period led by Miss Martha Smith, State PTA Educational consultant.

Funeral Rites For Edward S. Lyman

His many friends were shocked last week by the unexpected death of former Mayor of Montevallo, Edward S. Lyman, which occurred Thursday night at St. Vincent's Hospital in Birmingham. He had been sick only a short time.

Mr. Lyman, 53, was born and reared in Montevallo, the son of the late Judge and Mrs. E. S. Lyman. He was educated in Montevallo public schools, at Marion Institute and Auburn.

In 1924 he was married to Roberta Bowdon of Calera. They had one son, Robert Edward. Mrs. Lyman died several years ago.

From 1925 to 1933 Mr. Lyman was connected with the Merchants and Planters Bank in Montevallo. Later he was with Southern Coal and Coke Co., of Boothton.

From 1938 to 1943 he was engaged in administrative work for WPA construction at Calera, Tuscaloosa, Decatur and Montgomery. In recent years he was connected with construction work at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Eglin AF Base, Fla., Okinawa in the Pacific, Radford Arsenal, Va. For the past year he was a business partner in the Wheelersburg Lumber and Supply Co., of Wheelersburg, Ohio.

Funeral services were held at St. Andrews Episcopal Church on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. Marshall Seifert officiating. Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery with Johns-Ridout's directing. Active pallbearers were Ned Cary, Frank Morgan, Pick Bridges, Denson Elliott, Morris Watson, Kermit Wooley. Honorary pallbearers were Dr. T. H. Napier, R. A. Hendrick, Dr. L. C. Parnell, J. A. Young, F. P. Givhan, J. P. Kelly, William McConaughy, P. C. Wilson.

In addition to his son, Robert Edward Lyman, Miami, Fla., he is survived by two grandchildren, Robert Edward Lyman, Jr., and Laura Frances Lyman; four sisters, Mrs. T. D. Woods, Montevallo; Mrs. E. U. Cowles, Westfield, Mass.; Mrs. N. L. Clarke, Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. R. F. Carroll, Melbourne, Fla.

Exam For P. M. At Siluria

Tuesday, August 25, 1953 is the last day applications will be accepted by the U. S. Civil Service Commission for the postmaster position in Siluria, Alabama.

According to an announcement by the Commission in Washington, D.C., the number of applications received so far has not been sufficient for adequate competition. The current examination was announced under new qualifications standards recently agreed upon by the Post Office Department and the Civil Service Commission. Officials of both of these agencies hope that the new examinations will attract a larger number of well-qualified applicants than has been obtained in the past.

Application forms and further information on the examination are available in the post office. The forms must be filed by the deadline with the Civil Service Commission in Washington, D.C.

Royal Meat Patties

Broadcast: August 20, 1949

4 large onion slices, ½ inch thick
1 lb. ground beef
⅓ cup rolled oats
1 cup Pet Milk
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons shortening
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
few grains pepper
No. 2 can peas, drained

Remove centers from onion slices, leaving 2 outer rings from each. Cut centers fine; mix with meat, oats, ½ cup milk, 1 teasp. salt and ⅛ teasp. pepper. Shape into 8 flat patties. Cook onion rings slowly in skillet 5 min. in hot shortening. Remove and save. Brown patties slowly on one side. Turn; put onion rings on top of patties. Cover; cook slowly to brown under side of meat. Meanwhile, melt butter; blend in flour, ½ teasp. salt and few grains pepper. Stir in ½ cup liquid off peas. Boil and stir 2 min. Stir in ½ cup milk and the peas. Heat. Serve in the onion rings. Makes 4 servings.

Doesn't Your Child Deserve the Best !

BUT

You risk your child's life each school day by allowing him to ride in dangerous overcrowded buses.

Your State Legislator Should Know How You Feel About This !

SAM KLOTZMAM

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p "Thrift-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response —right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

I was ahead in every way after this demonstration!

I figured on paying about $200 more for a new car . . . until I discovered all that Chevrolet offered me.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.*

VOLUME 21 MONTEVALLO, ALABAMA, AUGUST 27, 1953 NUMBER 17

Bo Cooper Retires From College Staff

(From Auburn Alumnews)

O. B. "Bo" Cooper, '05, recently retired from the staff of Alabama College at Montevallo, after serving the institution for 24 years as college engineer. He was 75 at the time of his retirement.

Upon his retirement, Bo Cooper was commended by the college Board of Trustees, who in a resolution lauded him for "his resourceful and conscientious management of an essential department of the institution."

Named To New Post

Though retired from work as college engineer, Mr. Cooper is continuing his active participation in church and community affairs at Montevallo. He is a trustee of the local Methodist Church, and is a member of the Montevallo Lions Club.

After retiring, Mr. Cooper was permanently given all the privileges of a staff member by the Montevallo college administration, and was named to the post of Executive Director of the Montevallo Housing Authority. His new position provides him an opportunity for continued service to the people of his community.

Sons Graduate at API

Bo and his wife, the former Corrie Wiggins of Moncks Corner, S. C., reside at 103 Vine Street in Montevallo. They have two sons, both of whom are graduates of Auburn.

Charles Boland Cooper finished at Auburn in 1935, obtaining a degree in chemical engineering. He is now production manager of B. F. Goodrich Chemical Co. in Akron, Ohio. Arthur Wiggins Cooper received his degree in agricultural engineering in 1939, and is presently connected with the Auburn Soil Conservation Service.

Bo Cooper graduated from API in 1905 with a degree in mining engineering and metallurgy. The following year he was awarded his Master's degree from Auburn.

'the best college . . .'

Born in Marshall County near Meltonsville, Ala., in 1878, he attended the Seventh District Agricultural College which is now Albertville High School.

While at Auburn, Bo Cooper was drum major of the college band, and president of Wirt Library Society. He remembers the "Loveliest Village" as "the friendliest little town anyone ever visited." He recalls that at the time, there were only about 1500 inhabitants—no water—no lights—but every student feeling that Auburn was the best college in the universe. There was not a sidewalk or paved street in town."

On his list of prominent instructors at Auburn, he lists President Thach, "who could call every boy who ever came through his office by name," Benny Ross, "one of the best," and G. N. Mitchum, "who could instill in any boy a desire to do bigger and better things."

Fishing His Recreation

"Fishing!" is Mr. Cooper's quick answer to the question of his favorite recreation. And his philosophy on this popular topic seems like an unusualy good one. "I love to fish," Bo remarks, "even when they don't bite—I can meditate anyway."

Like most Auburnites of his time, Bo Cooper is somewhat amazed by a visit to the rapidly growing Auburn campus of today. "I still like to dream about the great little Auburn I knew, with its sandy streets and sidwalks, and the friendliest people on earth. "But I am jarred to my teeth when I visit the present huge campus, with all its new buildings and developments. It's a great town and school!"

Barnes - Hennessy

St. Andrews Episcopal Church was the scene Sunday afternoon, August 23 of the marriage of Miss Fanelle Barnes and Joseph Doyle Hennessy. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haywood Barnes. Mr. Hennessy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hennessy of Auburn, formerly of Birmingham.

Altar decorations of white mums, tube roses, and greenery made a beautiful setting for the five o'clock ceremony. The Rev. Ralph Kendall of Eutaw, Ala., officiated. Miss Olive Barnes, sister of the bride, played the organ and Robert Buttner sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of nylon tulle, the bodice, which had an illusion neckline and traditional long sleeves, was highlighted with piping of tulle forming a floral design scattered with small pearls. The full tulle skirt formed a chapel length train. Her head dress was a small bonnet of tulle forming a clowd of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. For something old she wore a diamond and emerald heir loom pin.

Mrs. Robert Edward Lyman, sister of the bride of Miami, was matron of honor, Miss Betty Chism of Montevallo, maid of honor, Miss Joan Nicholas of Atlanta, and Miss Cynthia Byrd of Smith Station were bridesmiads.

The bridesmaids wore pastel pink net dresses with sheered bodice and full floor length skirts. The matron of honor wore a dawn grey net fashioned like the bridesmaids. They carried flower muffs decorated with pink and red roses.

John Kimmons, Jr., of Birmingham was best man. Ushers were Robert Edward Lyman of Miami, Fla., Milton Mims and Joseph Quinn of Auburn.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Barnes chose a dress of twilight blue silk. Her corsage was of white roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore a champagne color silk. Her corsage was a lavender orchid.

A reception at Reynolds Hall, on Alabama College campus, followed the rites. Assisting were Mrs. Willis Lyman, Miss Martha Allen, Miss Barbara Miller, Miss Wynona White, Miss Addie Beth White, Miss Nancy Myres, Miss Anna Lyle West, Miss Bobbie Jean Wilson, Miss Barbara Johnson, and Miss Clarice Chism. The cloth covering the bride's table was crocheted by the bride's grand mother.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hennessy left for their honeymoon, the bride wore a grey orlon suit with black accessories.

Help For Dairymen In Storm Damage

The Shelby County Dairymen's Association would like to express their appreciation to the following that contributed to the two fellow dairymen, H. C. McDanal of Wilsonville and D. H. Garrett of Siluria that lost their homes, dairy barns, equipment, etc., in the April 18th storm. If a name is omitted of anyone that contributed it is through an error.

Grand Opening Of Shelby County Farm Supply Store

Saturday, September 12 has been set as the day for the grand opening of the Shelby County Farm Supply Store in Montevallo, according to announcement of Mr. Les Pair, manager.

"We are going to make this grand opening of our new, modern farm supply store a gala occasion," says Mr. Pair, "and we want you to begin now to make preparations to be with us. We will have contests, prizes, refreshments, entertainment for all. We want you to come prepared to have fun and see how our new store can serve you.

"There will be many worthwhile prizes awarded to our visitors on that day. Among them will be a Motorola TV set, 4 Goodrich tires, 5 gallons of paint, and many others."

Mr. Fred Holle, district salesman for Ralston Purina Company, will be at the store all day to help entertain the visitors.

Mr. Pair urges everyone in this area to come. No matter how old or how young you are, there will be something to interest and attract everyone.

Watch the papers and you see more about this grand opening occasion between now and Sept. 12.

Graduate At U. of A.

University, Ala.—Four hundred and seventy-five students were candidates for degrees from the University of Alabama at the summer commencement in Foster Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday, August 21. Among the graduates were Billy Ingram, Montevallo, B.S. in Commerce and Mark W. Bentley, Wilsonville, M.A. in Education.

Miss Mildred Meroney enjoyed a ten day visit with her sister, Mrs. W. B. Peebles in Aliceville, recently.

The Times received a card from three vacationers in Chicago which read, "Sorry to disappoint the town, but we made it."

Sincerely,
Dudley, Mike and Johnny Z.

Mrs. Bobby Moorehouse, Mrs. Clarence Chism's neice, of Birmingham is the guest of the Chism family.

Bessemer Festival September 17-19

Future Farmers of America from five counties will participate in the District Dairy Show, the main feature of the fifth annual Bessemer Corn and Livestock Festival, September 17-19.

FFA Chapters from Blount, Jefferson, St. Clair, Shelby, and Walker counties will enter practically every phase of the competition.

The dairy show will open at 3:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 18, at the 4th Avenue softball field, next to the stadium, with two contests. These are the team judging competition and the showmanship and fitting contest.

Chapters in the team judging contest include Corner, Pell City, Siluria, and Jasper. Six chapters are competing locally for the right to represent Blount County in this competition. Each member of the winning judging team will receive a trophy.

Walker, Blount, and St. Clair counties have notified the festival executive committee that they will have contestants in the showmanship and fitting contest.

There will be 10 FFA entries in the Talent Show on Friday night, September 18. St. Clair and Blount counties are holding preliminary contests to determine their entries.

Curry and Oakman chapters will represent Walker County. Shelby County will send the Columbiana and Vincent contestants, while Jefferson will be represented by McAdory and Corner chapters.

Henry R. Battle In The Navy

Resolute, Cornwallis Island, CN-WT, (Delayed) (FHTNC)—Three ships participating in operation NANOOK arrived here early in August to discharge a year's supply of food, equipment, petroleum products and supplies to the Joint Canadian-U.S. weather station and RCAF Base.

Among the visitors from the attack cargo ship USS Wyandot was Henry R. Battle, radarman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Battle of Montevallo, Ala.

Teachers Will See "Skippy and 3-R's"

A showing of "Skippy and the 3 R's", a newly released film by the NEA will be a part of the program of the Shelby County Teachers' Association on September 3. Henry W. Peete, President of this group this year states that this film showing the skillful guidance of Skippy's teacher during his first year in school will be used extensively by teacher-parent groups and on educational TV programs.

This session is one of six to be held during the three-day work conference being sponsored in Shelby County by the Board of Education on the campus at Alabama College beginning September 2.

A Book Fair will feature the display of over 300 new books to be considered by the teachers. Miss Anita King, School Supervisor said that this is to be a complete selection and the Book Fair as planned will give the teachers beter facility for studying the materials available.

One session of this conference has been planned for the meeting of parents and teachers together. The entire group will meet in general session and then local school groups will meet separately to discuss problems peculiar to the particular school community. Leaders of this session will include a county board member, a parent, a teacher, a minister, a doctor, a banker, a lawyer, an industrialist, and a member of the State Department of Education.

Reserved Seat Football Tickets

Montevallo High School will offer reserved seat, season tickets, to all five of its home games in an advance sale this year according to S. H. Hurt, principal.

A reserved section on the 50 yard line will be sold through this new method for the price of $4.00 each, which includes admission to all five home games.

Students of Montevallo High School will be given an opportunity to purchase these season tickets at reduced prices when school starts.

Members of the Lions Club and Rotary Club are assisting in this advanced sale and tickets may be bought from members of these clubs.

Holy Communion At St. Andrews

The Reverend Ralph J. Kendall from Eutaw, Ala., who is the guest of the Barnes family this week end, has kindly offered to hold the service of Holy Communion at Saint Andrews Episcopal Church this Sunday at 11 a.m.

After the Communion Service, he will baptize baby Laura Frances Lyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Lyman. Mrs. Lyman is the former Virginia Barnes. The Rev. Kendall's kindness is doubly appreciated by the people of St. Andrews as he is on his vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barnes will give the flowers for the Communion Service. Everyone is welcome.

Labor Day Bar-B-Q Gets Wide Interest

The Labor Day Scholarship Bar-B-Q to be held on the Calera High School grounds is attracting wide attention, according to Bill Miner, Club secretary.

A crowd of around 1700 is anticipated, Miner said. This will be the largest number to attend the annual civitan fete, he added.

Dr. Cecil Cowart will have charge of the lemonade again this year, Miner pointed out. This feature proved one of the high lites of last year's Bar-B-Q.

Two large red and blue signs advertising the Bar-B-Q were put up at the junction of Highway 31 and 25, this week by Bill Miner. These signs, he said, are attracting wide attention.

The Bar-B-Q pit has been cleaned and is now ready for the hickory fire which will cook the shoulders.

Jack Comer, manager of the Calera town team, says his boys are ready for their best ball game of the season. They will play Montevallo.

Coach Warren Findley, of the tiny mites, states his boys are ready for their double header with Montevallo. His little fellows recently defeated Clanton's mites 3-2 in a ten inning thriller, under the lights at Clanton.

So if you haven't made arrangements to attend the Labor Day Bar-B-Q Miner said you better do so right away as the tickets are selling fast.

Alabama Power Gives Service Awards To Employees Here

On August 20 service awards were presented to nine Alabama Power Company employees of the Montevallo District at a dinner meeting held at the American Legion Hut in Montevallo. Approximately thirty employees together with their wives were present from the Montevalo District which includes Shelby and Bibb County. Six employees and their wives from the Division Office were present.

Awards were presented by Mr. H. Maulshagen, Division Vice-President to the following employees:

G. N. Lagrone, District Superintendent received a 20 year service award.

Ten year service awards were presented to the following employees: Willie Lee Galloway, cashier at Montevallo; J. D. Holcombe, lineman at Montevallo; H. J. McGaughy, Jr., lineman at Montevallo; M. W. Mims, lineman at Montevallo

Five year service awards were presented as follows: Mary Nell Honeycutt, cashier at Alabaster; Bliss Nix, truck driver at Montevallo; Tom Peters, groundman at Montevallo; J. H. Coley, groundman at Montevallo.

These awards are presented to each employee who completes five years service or multiples of five years with the Company.

State Birth Report February and March

Montgomery, Ala.—The State Department of Health announced today that more than a fourth of all births occurring in the state of Alabama in January, February and March occurred in the state's largest three cities.

The state total for that three-month period, the Department said, was 18,905. Birmingham contributed 2,590 to this total, Mobile 1,614 and Montgomery 721. All figures refer to live births only, no stillbirths. They are based upon provisional reports prepared by the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics and may differ slightly from the final reports not yet available.

The State Health Department emphasized that these figures applied to places of birth and not to places of residence of the mothers. Since many prospective mothers living in smaller cities and towns and in rural communities go to large city hospitals for the birth of their babies, the Department explained, the number of births reported from cities like Birmingham, Mobile and Montgomery is naturally unusually large.

Far more miles per gallon

on the trips YOU take!

On long trips, short trips, all trips, you get far greater gas mileage out of a '53 Chevrolet. It offers important savings in everyday driving over everyday roads!

Out to the golf course. Off for a week-end of fishing. Half across the country on a full-scale vacation. Wherever you go—however you drive—you're going to get there on a lot less gasoline in a fine new Chevrolet.

The truth is, this year's Chevrolet owners are enjoying the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. Plus more power. Faster acceleration. More "steam" for the steep hills.

That's the beauty of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide* models, and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine in gearshift models. They squeeze much more out of regular gasoline—more miles, more pleasure.

Along with this greater gas mileage, you get lower over-all upkeep costs. And Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field. Drop in and let us show you how you'll be better off in every way with a 1953 Chevrolet!

Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.*

Southern Bell Modifies Contract

Concluding negotiations which began on May 11, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company and Communications Workers of America CIO today announced agreement on modifications of their contract which covers approximately 51,500 employees in the nine states served by the Telephone Company.

Wage increases ranging from $1.00 to $3.00 a week are provided for a majority of the employees. In addition, agreement was reached on the reclassification of a number of cities and towns to higher wage levels and on the upgrading of certain craft jobs. A number of changes was also made in working practices.

Modifications will become effective as of August 23, and the agreement will run for one year.

President Fred J. Turner, of the Southern Bell, issued the following statement: "We are pleased that a settlement has been reached that is fair to all concerned. We are particularly gratified that it came without interruption of service to the public. In the agreement, full consideration was given to the interest of the three elements vitally concerned in the operation of our Company, the customers, the employees and the owners of the business.

"The agreement makes adjustments in the wages of our employees necessary to bring to a level comparable to that prevailing in the cities and towns where they work and live. This is in accordance with long-established Company policy that is necessary in order for us to attract and retain the competent employee essential to good service.

"Wages continue to be the biggest single cost of operating our business, amounting to about half of every expense dollar."

The Company acknowledges the assistance of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service in arriving at this agreement. Mr. R. W. Donnahoo of the Service participated in final phases of the bargaining.

Know Your Schools

Vocational Education services form a team to serve the economic needs of Alabama. Vocational Agriculture adds to the wealth of the State by training boys and men in better farming methods and farm planning. Vocational Homemaking adds to and conserves the wealth of the State by training girls and women in better home management and in better homemaking methods and procedures. It contributes to more stable home life through teaching family living. Vocational Industrial Education trains urband boys and girls, rural boys and girls, who must leave the farms for employment. Such training adds to the wealth of the State through higher wages.

It attracts industries to Alabama. It encourages expansion of industries. These are needed to provide jobs for people who must leave the farms. Distributive Education contributes to the wealth of the State by teaching better methods and procedures in getting goods and services from producers to consumers. It increases earning power.

Vocational Rehabilitation adds to the wealth of the State by helping people to remove or overcome handicaps through special training. This changes them from tax consumers to tax producers. The Crippled Children service adds to the wealth of the State by correcting crippling conditions of younger people. It prevents them from growing into handicapped adults. It enables them to attend public schools and live normal, useful lives.

Vocational Education adds to the wealth of the State. It adds to the social and cultural lives of the people it reaches. Through improved skills and knowledge, their earning power is increased. They are able to buy more of the goods and services essential to a desirable social and cultural life. Vocational Education supplements general education.

The framework of Vocational Education is such that it can serve Alabama in ways that will be beneficial to everyone. More funds are needed to extend the services to more people if Vocational Education is to help do for Alabama that which it can help do—bring and keep prosperity, and improve social and cultural living.

Suggestions Made By Lauderdale For Dutch Clover

Farmers planning to plant white clover this fall were urged today by County Agent A. A. Lauderdale to be sure to use seed from a source known to be adapted to Shelby County.

The agent said probably the best source of seed is a good white clover pasture in or near your community. He listed a second source as certified Louisiana S-1, but stated that the supply of this strain will be limited this fall. The West Coast is the best source for certified Ladino seed. He added that Ladino does best on fertile soils relatively free of nematodes and having favorable moisture conditions.

Several Shelby County farmers have had failures with white Dutch clover, even after preparing the land, liming, fertilizing, and planting according to recommendations. Some of these failures probably have been caused by planting unadapted varieties, he said. He explained that 100 different lots of seed from various sources were planted in tests at the plant breeding unit of the API Agricultural Experiment Station last fall. Forty-eight lots were labeled white and white Dutch clover, 51 were labeled Ladino, and one was tagged true Italian. Thirty-seven of these seedlots tagged white and white Dutch clover were from Louisiana. The others came from various sources including other states and foreign countries. Seventeen were certified Ladino from the West Coast.

The 48 lots labeled white or white Dutch clover varied considerable in plant growth and type. Good to excellent growth was obtained from only 5 of these lots. A few of the others were complete failures, while the remainder varied between these extremes.

Certified Ladino from the West Coast performed well under Alabama conditions.

The agent said Experiment Station plant breeders explained that such variation in seedlots is possibly caused by seed from cheaper foreign-grown or other unadapted strains being mixed with adapted Louisiana strain; and increasing such seed in areas where conditions are not comparable to these in Alabama. Such clover, regardless of where the seed are produced, is not adapted to growing conditions in Alabama.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

by Mary Lee Taylor

Easy Chop Suey

1½ cups diced raw meat*
1½ tablespoons shortening
1⅓ cups thinly sliced onions
2⅓ cups diced celery
1 cup liquid off green beans
2½ tablespoons chop suey sauce
2 teaspoons dark corn syrup
1½ tablespoons flour
1½ tablespoons water
1½ cups drained, cut green beans, cooked or canned
⅔ cup Pet Milk

Put meat into skillet with hot shortening. Cover and cook slowly about 30 minutes, or until tender and brown. Add onions, celery, bean liquid, chop suey sauce and corn syrup. Cover; cook slowly 10 minutes longer. Stir in mixture of flour and water. Boil and stir 2 minutes. Add green beans and milk. Heat thoroughly, but do not boil. Serve with boiled rice, spaghetti or macaroni. Makes 4 servings.

★Beef, veal or lean pork can be used.

Calera Bank and FHA Work Together On Insured Farm Mortgage Loans

As evidence of continued interest in Shelby County agricultural and livestock development, the Central State Bank of Calera is making another insured mortgage loan to a young Shelby County couple through the Farmers Home Administration.

Mr. Roy Downs, president of the Central State Bank, is personally interested in every phase of Shelby County development and has this to say: "This new investment field enables banks to make more real estate loans to farmers than they otherwise could make since these loans are insured by the federal government. Also these federally insured mortgages are simple to handle and the program provides us with a way to develop new business and broaden our services to Shelby County."

The currently approved loan is one to Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Mabry, Jr., of Route 1, Siluria. Mr. and Mrs. Mabry are enlarging the farm they now own by the purchase of additional acreage and are developing, clearing, seeding to pasture, and fencing.

Mr. Downs in announcing approval of this insured FHA loan by the bank advised that with both Mr. and Mrs. Mabry's background in the dairy business they had every formula for success in their enterprise.

Mr. Mabry is a young navy veteran and has returned to his home county to build securely for his family's future. The Farmers Home Administration and the Central State Bank are happy to be privileged to help them get a good start.

Alabama College Opens 58th Year On September 14

Alabama College will start its 58th year on Monday, September 14 with a three day registration period. Classes will begin at 8:00 a.m. on Thursday, September 17.

Registration of Freshmen will begin at 8:00 a.m. Monday. Upperclassmen may start registration at 8:00 a.m. Tuesday and Wednesday. September 16 is the last day for registration without paying a late registration fee.

Members of the College's Student Government Association and faculty advisers will hold a two day pre-school planning conference on Friday and Saturday, September 11 and 12. Miss Alice Jane White, president of the Student Government Association will lead discussions of plans for the academic year.

The College's annual pre-school staff and faculty meeting will be held Saturday evening, September 11 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. F. Edward Lund, Alabama College President, will outline the College's activities for the coming year and introduce new faculty and staff members.

Among the new faculty members are: Miss Iva Gibson, Spartenburg, S. C., Dean of Students; Miss Harriet Taylor, New Haven, Conn., Assistant professor of Religion and Philosophy; Miss Miriam Collins, Unadilla, Ga., Assistant professor of Health and Physical Education; Miss Margaret Locke, Haverford, Pa., professor of Health and Physical Education; Mr. Donald Springen, Wyoming, N. J., Instructor in Speech; Miss Julia Menefee, Itinerant Teacher Trainer; and Miss Helen Newton, Birmingham, Field Representative.

Freshmen students will start arriving on the Montevallo campus, Sunday, September 13 and will be greeted at the College's Main Dormitory in the traditional Montevallo manner by upperclassmen dressed in white. Members of the welcome committee will guide freshmen to their dormitory rooms, take them on campus tours and entertain them at parties and social activities.

Monday evening the College's Recreation Association will sponsor a picnic at the College lake area and a swimming party for new students.

Montevallo's Strand Theatre will play host to the freshmen class at a theatre party Tuesday evening. On Wednesday evening the Montevallo churches will hold receptions for all new students.

President Lund will deliver the annual President's address to an all student-faculty convocation on Thursday, September 17 at 11:00 a.m. in Palmer Hall.

The week's orientation activities will end Saturday evening September 19th when the College's Student Government Association holds its annual formal reception in Main Dormitory.

Mike Lee Starts Intensive Training

Mike, 13 months old son of Coach and Mrs. Percy Lee of Guntersville had an eventful day Monday. He pulled an ironing board on top of himself at their home, and bumped his head. He slipped in the wash water and got a hard fall. He fell on a chair and damaged a tooth. When his mother took him to a doctor to see about the tooth, an opened door conked him on the head. Then when she took him to the post office with her he stuck his finger in the ink well and smeared himself with jet black ink. After all this Mike was still going strong but his mother was about done for. It could be that Mike thinks fall training for football is near and he wants to be in shape.

Miss Nell Holcomb Back From Korea

Seeing fellow Alabamians in Korea was one of the many thrills experienced by Miss Nell Holcomb, Alabama College graduate who has just returned from a two-year tour of duty with the Red Cross and as service club director with the Army Special Services in Pusan, Korea.

Stationed in Pusan one week less than two years, Miss Holcomb reports meeting several Alabama College graduates while in Korea, including Mrs. Kapsoon Kim Lee, a former Korean exchange student at Alabama College and now a faculty member of Ehwa College, Pusan. In addition to teaching, Mrs. Lee is now working with the translation section of the Civil Assistance Command of the American Army.

Miss Holcomb also reports seeing Miss Mittie Dismukes, Alabama College graduate who was with the Army's Civilian Personnel section in Taegu; Miss Carolyn Domingus from Dothan, who was assigned to Miss Holcomb's unit; and on Thanksgiving Day of last year Jimmie Lawrence, a former student at Montevallo High School serving with the Navy.

Miss Holcomb who has completed three tours of overseas duty, spent a year on Guam and Iwo Jima immediately after World War II, a year and a half in Germany and now has completed a two-year tour in Korea. She is a former teacher at Montevallo High School.

Mrs. W. L. McCollum of Bessemer spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Winston, while her husband and a Mister Miller fished in Florida. The men report a good catch.

Pre-School Health Clinics

The County Health Nurse will visit the following places on the dates specified to give immunizations against Diptheria, Whooping Cough and Tetanus.

Many children in these communities have already started their "shots" and will be given the opportunity to finish them. Others can begin them if they wish.

It is desired that only babies, 4 months and over, and pre-school children be brought to these clinics since children of school age will be immunized on the regular school visits at a later date.

Saginaw Post Office, September 8 at 10 a.m.; Vincent-Baker's Grove Colored Church, September 10, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.; Alabaster—Alabaster Hardware Store, September 15 at 1 p.m.; Harpersville Post Office, September 17 at 10 a.m.; Keystone Post Office, September 24 at 1 p.m.

Please make a note of the date and bring your children promptly at the time specified.—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Mr. R. F. Ray has re-entered the teaching profession and has accepted the position of assistant principal and teacher at Mortimer Jordan High School, Morris, Ala., in Jefferson County.

Dr. O. C. Carmichael Takes Office As University President

University, Ala. Sept. 1—The inauguration of Dr. Oliver Cromwell Carmichael as the 19th president of the University of Alabama was conducted in a simple ceremony in the president's offices on the campus Tuesday, Sept. 1.

Dr. Lee Bidgood, who has guided the University as interim president in July and August, and other administrative officials attended. Formal installation ceremonies will probably be held later.

The new president will be honored at a Chamber of Commerce dinner Sept. 16, at which time citizens of Tuscaloosa will show their respect and appreciation to Dr. Carmichael. He and Mrs. Carmichael will be feted by the University Faculty Club at a reception Sept. 20.

In turn, the president and his wife will welcome new students to the Capstone with a traditional President's Reception in the 122-year-old President's Mansion on Sept. 17.

Dr. Carmichael will speak to University students and faculty at the Opening Student Convocation in Foster Auditorium Wednesday, Sept. 23. The entire University student body will attend.

Dr. Carmichael is a native of Goodwater. He was graduated from the University in 1911, and earned a master's degree in 1914. He was a Rhodes Scholar, and taught public schools in Birmingham.

He is well remembered as the president of Alabama College at Montevallo, and later served as chancellor of Vanderbilt University. He resigned this position to become president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching in 1946. After numerous invitations from the University of Alabama's board of trustees, Dr. Carmichael accepted the presidency of the University in May.

Improving Road To County Line

Road Commissioner Fred McClendon has his county crew at work this week on the road from Montevallo Cemetery to the Chilton County line at Rocky Hill.

Chilton County has just completed a new gravel road to the county line. The work Mr. McClendon is doing will make a new gravel road all the way to Highway 25 at Montevallo city limits.

Labor Day Bar-B-Q Bigger Than Ever For Next Monday

Labor Day, Monday, September 7, means Bar-B-Q for Calera Civitan Club. George Holcombe, Club President, announced today.

Holcombe said every effort has been put into this year's annual Bar-B-Q, with the idea of making it bigger and better for the enjoyment of the 1700 or more people expected to attend.

In addition to a wonderful Bar-B-Q plate and drinks, he added, there will be a double header base ball game between the little Leaguers of Calera and Montevallo. Calera's little fellows have recently defeated Clanton's team in a thrilling 10 inning affair, 2-1 and they are anxious for this game with Montevallo.

Jack Comer, Manager of the Calera Independents, said he has scheduled a double-header with the Montevallo independents to be played during the afternoon of Labor Day.

Comer's boys have been playing good ball all summer and this will be an opportunity for local fans to see the team in action, Holcombe said.

Bill Minor, Civitan Secretary is enthusiastic over the advance sale of tickets for the Bar-B-Q. He predicts every record will fall this year in regard to attendance at the ball games and number of plates served.

He said the Civitan Club is positive that every citizen within a radius of 40 miles or more of Calera who believes in good Citizenship will be on hand early to attend the Scholarship Bar-B-Q on the local school grounds.

James H. Edwards Released In Korea

Many months of dread and anxiety have ended for Mrs. Georgia Mae Edwards and her two boys, George Hardy and David. They have received the welcome news that husband and father, T/Sgt. James H. Edwards has been released by the Communists, after nearly 34 months in captivity.

He was shot down over North Korea November 10, 1950 while a B29 crew member. He previously served 6 years in the Navy.

His wife and two boys are planning a big welcome, when Sgt. Edwards arrives home. His mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Edwards, live at Wilton.

The many friends of Sgt. Edwards will join with him and his family in celebration of his release from prison and his return home.

Bill Wooley Died In Vets Hospital

Chocolate Nut Bars

Broadcast: September 3, 1949

2¼ cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup cocoa
1 cup sugar
½ cup Pet Milk
½ cup soft shortening
¾ teaspoon vanilla
1 unbeaten egg
¾ cup finely cut nuts

Sift together flour and salt. Mix cocoa with ¼ cup sugar. Stir in milk slowly until smooth; let stand. Put shortening and vanilla into bowl. Add remaining ¾ cup sugar, ¼ cup at a time, mixing until fluffy. Beat in egg. Stir in milk mixture and nuts. Mix in flour, about ½ cup at a time. Spread stiff dough in shallow ungreased pan about 6 x10 inches. Cover with waxed paper; press with fingers to smooth the top. Chill about 6 hours, or overnight. Cut into bars 3 x ¾ inch. Put on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 15 min. or until firm to the touch. Makes 2 doz.

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p "Thrift-King" engine.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.*

On The Farms Of Shelby County

It was the custom once to place stone milestones along public roads to show how far a traveller had gone toward his goal.

This week four Shelby County farmers who started on a conservation route to farming independence are building Grade A dairy barns. These are milestones of progress.

Joe Smith, Alec Etress, R. J. Reynolds, and Ed Benson all started near Shelby, developing pastures and cropping systems planned with the Soil Conservation Service to fit their land.

With the help of the GI training program, and the Farmers Home Administration, Joe Smith was able to buy his own farm, which he promptly planned along Soil Conservation lines. He planted sericea on hills, and fescue on bottoms, and oats and clover on suitable fields. One milestone was getting the farm planned and planted. Another was beef production, then Grade B milk and now Grade A.

All three of the other men have followed roughly the same route except that none are FHA or GI farmers. Mr. Benson has attracted favorable attention with his fescue and clover pastures. Mr. Ettress and Mr. Reynolds have used many SCS approved crops on types of soil for which they were suited. Approved fertilizer practices have been followed and pastures and hay crops showed improvement.

Among the large number of Grade A dairymen in Shelby County many are cooperators of the North Central Soil Conservation District. A quick check shows nearly half a hundred cooperators selling Grade A milk.

Jim Kidd, Harpersville, stopped in the office to inform us that he has planted 85 acres of Chapel Hill rescue grass and crimson clover, rescue grass seed he grew on a 5 acre seed patch this spring.

Dogwood Grove Baptist Church

The pastor, officers, and members of the congregation of the Dogwood Grove Church are indeed proud of their accomplishments in re-decorating and re-furnishing their church. A lot of hard work, paint, carpets, and new pews have added comfort and beauty to their place of worship.

It was a happy day for the Rev. Sam S. Douglass, pastor, and the membership of the Dogwood Grove Baptist Church when the church bell, a gift from the Frisco Railway, was installed.

The occasion brought together members of the congregation and friends from over the entire section, and was attended by A. M. Ball, assistant to the president of the Frisco, through whose efforts the bell was presented to the church.

"The Railroad did a great amount of work preparing for installation of our prized bell," Mr. Douglass said. "It sparkles like a new diamond."

The bell is one of a great many the railroad has presented to churches, schools and other institutions as a contribution to community service.

Montevallo F. F. A. Has 74 Members

Launching a program to begin a series of activities and learning this year, the Montevallo FFA has enrolled 74 members already. The vocational agriculture department will participate in 10 statewide contests and will work toward raising the chapter from third place in the state to either second or first place.

Thirty green hand members will be initiated into the chapter during September and the entire delegation will be represented at the Bessemer festival on Sept. 17 and 18.

There are 252 FFA chapters in Alabama with approximately 12,000 members. Montevallo expects to build a membership of 100 or more this year. Paul Wooley, president has put his committees in high toward mapping the annual program.

A program of adult education will begin in the Montevallo vicinity this year with two special classes. One will be a group to discuss farm problems in the vocational building and the other will meet in Dry Valley area and a promotional program for community and home improvement will be started.

M. Thornton is teacher of vocational agriculture and FFA adviser.

Les Pair, Cecil Allen Looking For You On Next Saturday

Les Pair and Cecil Allen are prepared to entertain everybody in this part of the country next Saturday at the grand formal opening of the new store of Shelby County Farm Supply in Montevallo.

Elsewhere in this paper you will find a big "spread" that tells about the many events they have prepared to interest, entertain and amuse their visitors.

These boys have gone to a lot of effort to make their grand opening a day of fun, education, and profit for their visitors. So don't let them down. Come in to town Saturday prepared to spend the day. Bring the whole family. There will be something to interest and entertain everyone.

Shelby County Farm Supply is located at the junction of Selma Street and Highway 25. Plenty of parking space.

Day Of Celebration Is Planned For James H. Edwards

There will be a big day for James Hardy Edwards in Montevallo when he gets home. Plans for the welcoming celebration are in the hands of a committee of the American Legion, which will report its suggestions to a meeting of citizens at the Town Hall Thursday night.

At the initial meeting last Thursday night about 14 organized groups were represented when plans were made to raise $500 as a gift to Mrs. Edwards to make the trip to San Francisco to meet her husband when he returns to the U. S. from a confinement of three years as a prisoner of war in Korea. The money has been raised, $510.38, and given to Mrs. Edwards. She has already gone on the trip.

It is hoped those representatives who were at the meeting last Thursday night will come back to the meeting tonight and join in making plans for James Hardy Edwards Day.

C. F. Holle, District Salesman, Ralston Purina Company has accepted invitation extended by Les Pair, Manager of Shelby County Farm Supply to act as master of ceremonies at the Grand Opening of Shelby County Farm Supply on September 12th.

C. F. HOLLE

Holle a native of LaGrange, Ga., was reared on a dairy farm and for the past 26 years has traveled extensively throughout the southern states and is recognized as a leading authority on livestock and poultry production. He will be available to talk to anyone about their livestock problems. Holle is particularly interested in cage laying hens which offers a good opportunity to increase farm income when such operations are set up on a production program basis of 1,000 or more hens. Alabama needs 3 millions additional layers to produce eggs that are now consumed in the states. Over 40 per cent of the eggs consumed in Alabama come from other egg producing states.

Since Montevallo is fortunate to have a local hen cage manufacturer who is shipping cages into many states, Holle feels we should cash in on this opportunity to produce eggs in large volume right here in Shelby County where we have access to services offered by a cage hen manufacturer and too the Shelby County Farm Supply personnel; Les Pair, Cecil Allen and Bud Martin can help producers get started in the right way.

Holle lives with his family in the conutry near Birmingham, has a son, Everett Holle, a popular staff member at WAFM-TV, channel 13 in Birmingham.

...RS LICENSE NOTICE

The P... Office has not received the d...ers license supplies, we will probably have them about September 19th, however, you have until November 15th to secure them, hold the card you received from Montgomery, which must be presented with your present license. The amount of each license is $2.25. Several applications have been received with the incorrect amount. We would appreciate it if you will wait until the usual time for making application for your license.—Thanks, L. C. Walker, Judge of Probate.

Bessemer Road Is Now Finished

If you want to go to Bessemer now, all you have to do is go out to Lewis Lawley's store and take off on the new road up through Dogwood, Ryan's, Maylene and Genery's Gap. The road is now complete with black top all the way and it is a dandy.

Road Commissioner Fred McClendon carried me over it Tuesday. He is as proud of it is a little boy with a new red wagon; but his pride does not exceed that of the many people whom the road took out of the mud and dust.

While building the main road a few spurs and side roads were built which add greatly to the overall advantage of the project. For instance, from Dogwood school over a mile of black top extends westward through the entire mining village. Then up beyound Maylene a connecting strip of black top extends eastward to Alabaster. Further up there is a connection that extends to Helena.

Four years ago Mr. McClendon promised the people of this part of the country that he would get them out of the mud and he has done what he promised.

But while we are passing out our thanks for these new roads, let us not forget our oldest member of the Board of Revenue, Tom Nash, who was right there with Fred. In fact, we might as well just say thanks to the whole County Board of Revenue to make it complete.

The Columbiana Cut-Off

Mr. McClendon carried me over the new farm to market road now under construction from Columbiana to Camp Branch School where it will intersect the new four-lane Highway 31. The distance is 12 miles.

This is going to be one of the best constructed roads in the county. The grading and engineering are up to perfection.

Mr. McClendon says the base construction and drainage on this road will be completed this fall and it will be ready to put on the black top next spring.

Families throughout Shelby County and surrounding areas will want to be on hand at the Shelby County Farm Supply Saturday, September 12th and take part in the many contests and try to win one of the major free attendance prizes offered from one to four p.m.

Mrs. Edwards Goes To Meet Husband A Returned Prisoner

Mrs. Georgia Mae Edwards left Wednesday afternoon by plane going to San Francisco to meet her husband, Sgt. James Hardy Edwards, when he arrives from Korea. Her trip is a gift of her many friends in Montevallo and Wilton who presented her $510.38 for expenses.

Beaming with delight as she prepared to leave Wednesday, Mrs. Edwards said:

"I am most grateful to all of the people who have made possible for me this trip. It is the greatest event of my life. I am simply overwhelmed with joy."

Sgt. Edwards has been a prisoner of war in Korea for about three years. He was released over a week ago, and will land in San Francisco in a few days.

Everybody is happy for the Edwards family as we contemplate the reunion of father, mother, and two boys, after a long period of waiting and hoping that must have seemed interminable for them.

Telephones Show Community Growth

Consistent growth of Montevallo and the communities in Shelby County is reflected in the increased number of telephone directories now being distributed to local telephone subscribers in Montevallo, Columbiana, Calera, Siluria, and Vincent.

Approximately 3200 new directories are being delivered to homes and businesses in these towns according to B. F. Lunsford, Group Manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company, compared with about 3000 when the last directory was delivered.

The new telephone directory contains many new and changed listings and other helpful telephone information and is easily distinguishable from the old light gray-covered telephone book by its green cover. A sufficient quantity of the new directories has been printed to supply every telephone subscriber and to allow for future telephone expansion.

The classified section—yellow pages—contains listings for business telephone subscribers under headings alphabetized according to their business or professions. "The variety of classifications describing products, services, professions and businesses provides a convenient ready reference guide when you want to locate a firm or individual," Mr. Lunsford pointed out.

He requests that the old directory be discarded and that the new directory be referred to when telephone numbers are desired. Looking up the desired number helps to avoid the possibility of getting wrong numbers and saves time for both the calling and called parties. "Information" should be called only when the number you are seeking is not listed in the directory.

Miss Ann Shaw Maid Of Cotton

Columbiana, Ala., Sept. 5—A statesque blond representative of the Columbiana Home Demonstration Club today is Shelby County's new Maid of Cotton.

She is Miss Ann Shaw.

Miss Gloria McRae, representing the Calera Civitan Club was named alternate Maid of Cotton.

The selection of the winners was made before a packed house at the Columbiana High School auditorium. In all, nine of Shelby County's most beautiful girls competed for the coveted title and the right to represent their county at the state finals at the Alabama State Fair in October.

W. W. Elliott, county superintendent of education served as master of ceremonies and Mrs. J. F. Wyatt, chairman of the Shelby County Maid of Cotton contest, directed contest activities.

Others participating in the program were Mrs. J. W. Curtis, Jr., Shirley Bearden, Lou Loveland, Carol Bray, Helen Harrison, and Bunny Crawford.

The contestants and sponsors were guests of the Shelby County Farm Bureau at a dinner preceding the auditorium program.

Members of the county Farm Bureau Maid of Cotton Committee are Mrs. Wyatt, H. A. Pauly, Mrs. Douglas Kent, A. C. Adams, Mrs. E. B. Hughes, Mrs. J. H. Crawford and W. Royce Morris.

Judges were Miss Irby Barrett, Jefferson County Home Demonstration agent; J. A. Beatty, of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce and Virgil E. Pierson, representing the Birmingham News.

O. N. Andrews, cotton specialist of the Extension Service at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, was principal speaker for the evening program.

Other contestants in the Maid of Cotton contest were Betty Morrow, Martha Lou Perry, Faye Wilson, Betty Vardaman, Joan Gates, Catherine Garrett and Phyllis Segers.

Miss Joan Gates of Helena is the neice of Mrs. G. F. Payne and a student at Alabama College.

Adult Group Studies Home Freezing

An interested group of adult ladies attended the two-day session August 27 and 28 on home freezing, in the Montevallo High School Home Economics Department.

Miss Eloise Booker, Home Economist for the Alabama Power Co. assisted by Mrs. Rebecca McGaughy, led informative discussions and gave demonstrations. The group learned about new packaging materials and correct methods of wrapping and storing foods. Demonstrations were given on the preparation of fresh fruits and vegetables, meats, and ready-to-cook foods for the freezer.

Foods for special occasions were shown and each day the group enjoyed refreshments from the home freezer. Three complete meals were prepared, using frozen foods. Good use of the electric range was shown, as Miss Booker prepared a broiler meal, an oven meal, and a skillet meal. She showed how each meal might be served attractively. Each day, with much enthusiasm, members drew as prizes the foods prepared in the demonstrations.

Those attending were: Mesdames Albert Scott, Victor Scott, Fred Frost Jr., O. B. Cooper, M. Thornton, Harris, A. L. Little, James Whaley, John Ramsden, Richard Powers, Hal Anthony, Don Lovelady, R. P. Holcombe, Plant, E. H. Edwards, W. E. Robinson and Miss Whitman.

Cpl. Charles Glass Returns From Korea

With the 2nd Infantry Division in Korea—Cpl. Charles Glass, 25, whose wife, Burnece, lives on Route 1, Jemison, Ala., is returning to the U. S. after 13 months in Korea with the 2nd Infantry Division.

The 2nd Division took part in two of the Korean conflict's most historic battles. It captured "Heartbreak Ridge" after weeks of bitter fighting in October 1951 and took "Old Baldy" in July 1952.

Corporal Glass, who was a message center clerk in the 38th Regiment's Headquarters Company, holds the Combat Infantryman Badge and the Korean and UN Service Ribbons.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Glass, Calera, he entered the Army in January 1952.

Mobilgas Economy Run Flash

Ford Economy whips all comers!

Mileage Maker "6" is first low-priced car in history to win top honors over all other cars regardless of size or weight!

Score a blazing victory for Ford's dollar-saving gas economy! Ford's high-compression Mileage Maker "6" with Overdrive beat every car entered in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, regardless of size or weight! And Ford's high-compression V-8 was right up there in economy, too!

The winning Ford was a regular production car, just like thousands of other '53 Fords you see on the road today. The route threaded through city traffic, where driving tests an engine's fuel economy under the toughest conditions . . . and out along the highways of four western states.

The Ford Mileage Maker "6" took all this in stride to finish first . . . the sweepstakes winner! What better proof is there that Ford is the thriftiest car of all? What better way to show why Ford is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

Shelby 4-H Boys To Show Cattle At Bessemer Festival

Participation by 4-H Club members from Blount, Jefferson, St. Clair, Shelby, and Walker counties in the District Dairy Show, the main feature of the fifth annual Bessemer Corn and Livestock Festival next week, is expected to set a new record.

Early reports show that "approximately 85 members of 4-H clubs will exhibit between 125 and 135 head of cattle," said Clinton H. Johns, superintendent of the dairy show and co-chairman of the entire festival.

"In addition, each of these five counties will enter a 3-man team in the judging contest, two acts in the Talent Show, a Dairy Maid, and two contestants in the showmanship and fitting contest," he stated.

The largest group will be from Shelby County, with 70 head being shown by 45 4-H boys and girls. Fifteen club members from Blount County will exhibit 20 head; 10 Walker County club members will enter 15 head; 8 Jefferson County boys will show 15 head; and 8 boys and girls from St. Clair County will exhibit 10 head.

The District Dairy Show is limited to purebred Jerseys and Guernseys. In the junior division 4-H Club members and Future Farmers of America will compete for $1,000 in cash prizes offered by the State Department of Agriculture and Industries and Liberty National Life Insurance Co.

BPW Meeting Tuesday Night

Next Tuesday night, September 15, the Montevallo Business and Professional Women's Club will hold a supper meeting at 6:30 in Reynolds Hall.

The club is very fortunate in having Dr. Minnie Miles, the first vice-president of the State Federation as the speaker for the evening.

Dr. Miles is Associate Professor of Business at the University of Alabama. She obtained her doctorate at Purdue University, Indiana, in Industrial Psychology.

She has been an outstanding member of BPW for a good many years serving her Tuscaloosa Club as legislative chairman and as president. She has served as State Program Coordination Chairman and is now serving her second year as first vice-president. She has been most active for two years in developing the Small Business Clinic sponsored by the State Federation and the School of Commerce of the University.

Dr. Miles will talk about the work of the Federation. She is a good speaker so that we are all looking forward to her visit.

The club extends a hearty welcome to all professional and business women in Montevallo and Shelby County to come to our supper meeting. Just call Mrs. Ruth Ratliff, president, Mrs. Willie Galloway, our membership chairman or any other member of the club.

Klien Home Club Leads For Year

The Klien Home Demonstration Club under the leadership of Mrs. J. Frank Wyatt was judged Shelby County's outstanding club for 1952-53. Runners-up were: Spring Creek-Valley Grove, Ebenezer, Columbiana, and Yellow Leaf Clubs.

Twenty-six members are enrolled in the Klien Club. Leaders and officers have attended all leadership schools and council meetings. Club members have attended two special meetings on making hooked rugs and one on textile painting. Mrs. S. M. Embry has made textile painting a paying leisure time activity; she has sold more than thirty stencilled organdy aprons. Mrs. Wyatt, Mrs. E. A. Turner and Mrs. Embry are also busy collecting woolens for making hooked rugs.

The Rural Youth leaders, Mrs. M. P. King and Mrs. Wyatt, have assisted 4-Hers with observing the National 4-H Week by arranging an exhibit in a local window, observing 4-H Sunday, two summer meetings and a picnic, with transportation to the 4-H Rally and club members have sponsored and supervised 4-H projects. The club presented Joyce King with a sweater for her trip to Chicago in late November as State Dress Revue winner.

The Klien Club was 100 per cent in Farm Bureau membership under the direction of Mrs. Frank Wyatt, chairman. All club members assisted with the food at the annual Farm Bureau meeting.

The citizenship chairman, Mrs. T. L. Edwards, led the Klien Club in contributing to Pennies for Friendship, the Cancer Campaign, and the Red Cross Campaign. Three members attended the District Meeting at Tuscaloosa and 75 attended family night during National Home Demonstration Week.

Two cemetery improvement projects, Macedonia and Harpersville, are in progress under the leadership of Mrs. S. M. Embry, Community Activities Chairman. The club has contributed $25.00 to each and has solicited $300.00 for the Macedonia project. Solicitations are now being taken for the Harpersville project.

The club sold vanilla flavoring to make up the difference in the $1.50 charged for 65 mailbox posts, paint and stencilling and the actual expenses involved.

Cards and flowers have been sent to the sick and flowers in case of death in families of club members.

The Klien Club sold a total of $435.50 in ads for the Council Cook Book. To meet club expenses the members made quilts on order, contributed for an attendance prize, sold magazine subscriptions among other methods.

DAR Meeting

The David Lindsay Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Monday night, September 14, at seven-thirty o'clock at the home of Mrs. T. H. Napier.

This demonstration was worth many hundreds of dollars to me!

I thought only a higher-priced car would suit me. But then I found out how much more Chevrolet offered for how much less!

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p "Thrift-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response —right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

Remember be with us on the Gala Day Saturday, September 12th. Special Guest: Mr. Fred Hollie, District Salesman for Ralston Purina Co., will be with us all day, and many others to help entertain you.

C. F. Holle, District Salesman, Ralston Purina Company has accepted invitation extended by Les Pair, Manager of Shelby County Farm Supply to act as master of ceremonies at the Grand Opening of Shelby County Farm Supply on September 12th.

Holle a native of LaGrange, Ga., was reared on a dairy farm and for the past 26 years has traveled extensively throughout the southern states and is recognized as a leading authority on livestock and poultry production. He will be available to talk to anyone about their livestock problems. Holle is particularly interested in cage laying hens which offers a good opportunity to increase farm income when such operations are set up on a production program basis of 1,000 or more hens. Alabama needs 3 millions additional layers to produce eggs that are now consumed in the states. Over 40 per cent of the eggs consumed in Alabama come from other egg producing states.

Since Montevallo is fortunate to have a local hen cage manufacturer who is shipping cages into many states, Holle feels we should cash in on this opportunity to produce eggs in large volume right here in Shelby County where we have access to services offered by a cage hen manufacturer and too the Shelby County Farm Supply personnel; Les Pair, Cecil Allen and Bud Martin can help producers get started in the right way.

Holle lives with his family in the conutry near Birmingham, has a son, Everett Holle, a popular staff member at WAFM-TV, channel 13 in Birmingham.

Families throughout Shelby County and surrounding areas will want to be on hand at the Shelby County Farm Supply Saturday, September 12th and take part in the many contests and try to win one of the major free attendance prizes offered from one to four p.m.

Movies will be shown throughout the day in between contests and other shows. Some every farmer will want to see and some cartoons especially for the kiddies. Schedule of movies will be posted at our store and will be announced.

Special Gifts

As long as they last --- A Checkerboard pencil to each adult who registered. Free balloons to the first 200 children under 12 years accompanied by their parents. Be sure to come early.

There has been some hasseling in the Alabama Legislature about doing something to solve the parking situation in various cities of the state. One statesman came up with the only absolute solution. He said the uptown parking situation would be solved in a minute if we'd pass a law which would stop any car coming downtown until it as 100 percent paid for.

Teachers Day At State Fair

Birmingham, Ala.—Superintendents of Education in each of Alabama's 67 county school systems and 43 city school systems will be honored on the Third Annual Alabama Teachers Day set for October 5 at the Alabama State Fair.

The opening day of the annual Fair has been set aside for the past two years as a special day to focus attention on the work of state educators for their services to Alabama youth.

October 5, 1953 has been proclaimed Alabama Teachers Day by Governor Gordon Persons and the special day has the support of state educational leaders including Dr. W. J. Terry, State Superintendent of Education.

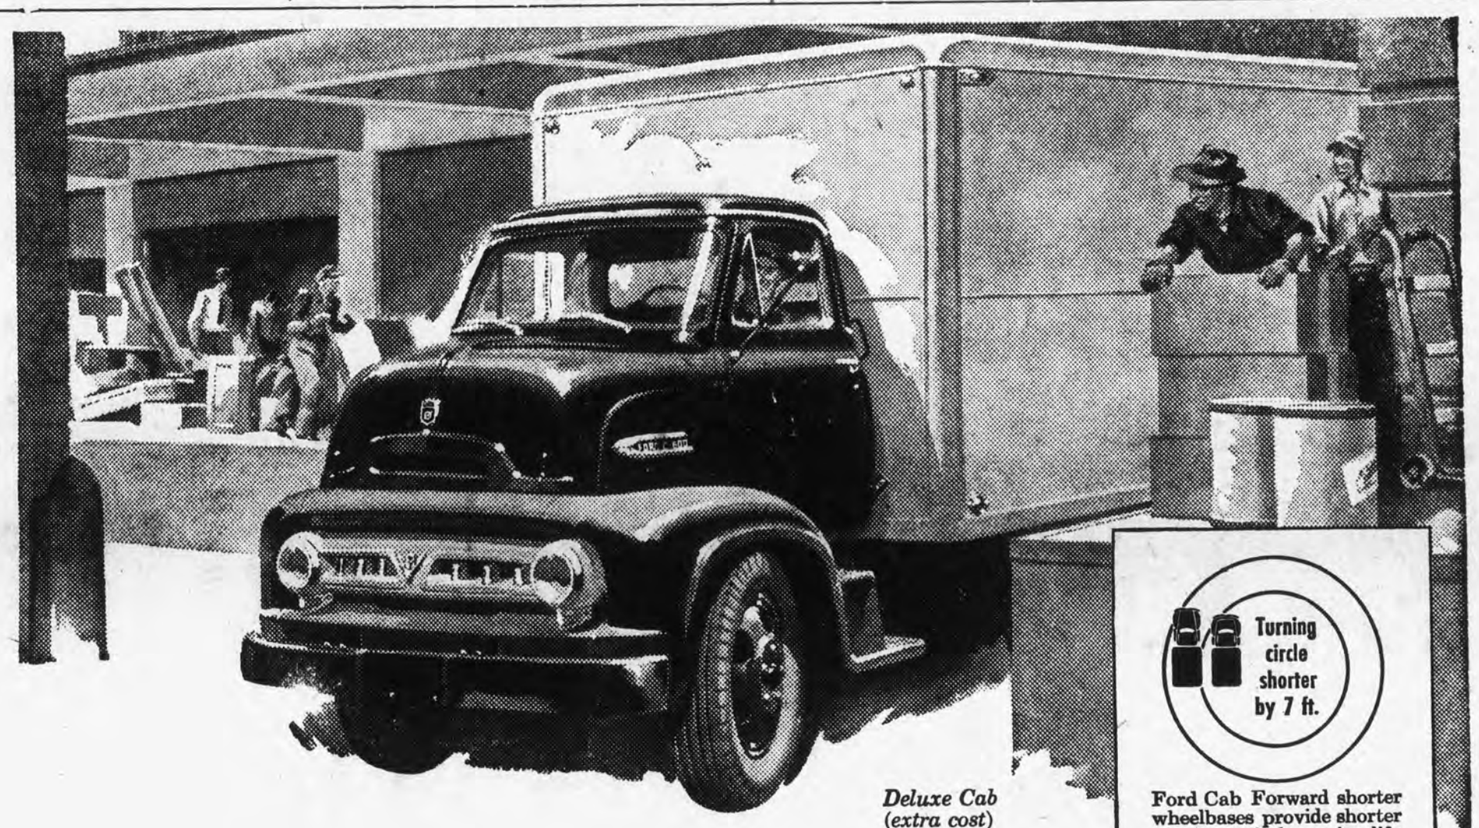

The honored guests will officially open the annual Alabama State Fair by cutting a ribbon at the Fairgrounds entrance. From there the group will participate in an all-day program at various exhibits and buildings throughout the grounds.

The group will be guests of the Alabama State Fair Authority for luncheon and a barbecue dinner during the day. In the evening the group will attend a special program arranged in their honor in front of the main Grandstand at the Fairgrounds.

A highlight of the program will be the presentation of "Service To Alabama Youth Awards" to each of the honored educators. At the conclusion of the special Teachers Day program the Superintendents will be guests of the Fair management for the evening performance of the State Fair Revue of 1953.

In 1951—first annual Teacher's Day even honored the oldest teacher in point of service, from each of the state's 67 counties. Last year, honored guests were the principals of the city and county school systems within the state.

With a record high of more than $40,000 being offered in premiums, the 1953 Alabama State Fair with a slogan of "More to See—In '53" promises to be one of the biggest and best outdooor events ever seen in Alabama.

Montevallo FFA Starts Program

Paul Wooley, president of the Montevallo FFA started the program of work for the year by having members of the executive committee and third year members start revision of the long-time program of the chapter. The addition of 32 green hand members makes the total enrollment in the Montevallo chapter eighty members. This week the chapter sponsored an entry from the FHA, Ouida Byrd of Wilton, chapter in the Queen Bess contest of the Bessemer Festival. Plans are now being developed to have the entire membership attend the State Fair October 7. Through an improvement in the annual activity program, Montevallo is aiming at first place in Alabama. The chapter is now 3rd place of the 252 units in the state.

Green hands elected officers to serve this year. The following are the new officers: Joe Wooley, president; Douglas Jarvis, vice-president; Everett Edwards, sec.; Bill Hyde, treas.; Bobby Allen, reporter, Bobby Raspberry, sentinel, M. Thornton, adviser.

Officers of the second year boys or chapter farmers are: Steve Haley, pres.; Edward Hicks, vice-pres.; Willis Hamaker, sec.; Robert O'Neal, reporter; Leldon Rochester, treas.; Wayne Phillips, sentinel; M. Thornton, adviser.

400,000 Farm Boys Enroll in FFA

More than 400,000 farm boys attending rural public high schools throughout the country will enroll this fall, or continue their studies, in vocational agriculture courses designed to fit them for the complex job of modern farming.

Locally, M. Thornton, instructor of vocational agriculture in Montevallo high school, reports that 82 students are enrolled in his classes this fall. 32 of these boys are first year boys, 26 are in the second year class and 24 are third year students.

The Vo-Ag students are best known as members of the Future Farmers of America, or FFA, their national organization that is celebrating its 25th Anniversary this fall. FFA has approximately 8,500 local chapters sponsored by the high school vocational agriculture departments. The national organization is sponsored by the Agriculture Education Branch of the Office of Education, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Boys selecting the vocational agriculture course of study spend two classroom periods a day studying agriculture under a teacher who is an agricultural college graduate specially trained for the job of teaching. The students are required to carry out projects of their own on their home farms and are encouraged to develop those projects and build up an equity that will see them firmly established in farming.

Activities sponsored by FFA provide a powerful stimulus to the farm boys to study and work harder in hopes that some of the honors and awards that are offered may come their way. At the same time, the Future Farmers are meeting and working with people outside their usual small circle of friends, gaining confidence in themselves, and learning more about the complexities of modern citizenship. They pick up many new ideas on farming also. Through these activities, and their regular chapter meetings, they learn how to speak in public, and to follow parliamentary procedure.

Special Activities Planned By FFA

Special activities have been planned by the Montevallo chapter of Future Farmers of America in connection with a postage stamp to be issued next month in commemoration of FFA's 25th anniversary.

The first day of sale for the stamp will be on October 13 in Kansas City, Missouri, where some 10,000 Future Farmers are expected for the organization's national convention. On the following day, Wednesday, October 14, the FFA stamps will go on sale at local post offices throughout the country.

Morris Watson, postmaster, has assured Future Farmers and their friends here that a good supply of stamps will be available in the local post office.

The FFA members are contacting their friends and urging them to buy a supply of the commemorative stamps to use on their regular correspondence. Local business firms are being asked to buy enough FFA stamps to furnish their needs through the remainder of the year.

"We feel that the FFA has been highly honored by the Post Office Department issuing this special stamp", said Paul Wooley, FFA chapter president, "and we want all our friends to help spread the word about FFA by buying the stamps and using them on their letters. All the FFA members plan to buy enough to last several months."

The announcement that the FFA commemorative stamp would be issued was made by Postmaster General Arthur A. Summerfield in Washington last spring. The design of the stamp shows a member of FFA on a hill overlooking a modern farm, with words calling attention to "25th Anniversary, Future Farmers of America" in the lower part of the stamp.

FFA was first organized nationally at Kansas City in 1928. It is an organization for farm boys who are studying vocational agriculture in the rural public high schools and now has 363,369 members in some 8,500 chapters. M. Thornton, vocational agriculture teacher in Montevallo High School, is adviser of the local FFA chapter.

The Montevallo chapter has 92 members, and has been active since 1948. Chapter officers this year are Paul Wooley, pres.; R. L. Anthony, v. p.; Johnny Bell, sec.; Lewey Harkins, treas.; Billy Jack Holcombe, reporter; Ray Winslett, Sentinel, and Jimmy Rochester, chaplain.

Finance Campaign For Boy Scouts

The Boy Scout Finance Campaign to raise funds for the operation of the Council in those communities served by the Community Chests has been set for October 5 to 15 according to an announcement made today by A. R. Simmons of Jasper, Alabama, Finance Chairman of the Council.

A budget of $32,000 has been established and approved by the Executive Board of the Council made up of the representatives of all the various communities in which campaigns will be held. "This amount of money is absolutely necessary for the minimum operation if communities outside the big metropolitan centers are to be served by Scouting," says Mr. Simmons, "and we believe that every boy who wants to be a Scout should have that opportunity. Therefore, we are asking the communities to contribute and feel sure that they will de a good job."

The campaigns will open in each community on October 5 with a Kick-Off Meeting attended by the various members of the Council Finance Committee and the plan is to have the complete budget raised by October 15. Mr. Dave Meyer, Deputy Regional Executive of Memphis, Tennessee has been assigned by the National Organization to work with the Black Warrior Council, September 15 to September 22 to assist with a series of Training Meetings that will be held for the workers of the campaign. These meetings to be held in York, Demopolis, Greensboro, Eutaw, Aliceville, Centreville, Calera, Jasper, and Siluria. Mr. Meyer will be accompanied by Scout Executive Edgar R. Christopher and Field Executives John S. Nagle of Jasper and Joe I. Sandlin of Tuscaloosa, as he appears in the territory where these men are assigned.

The members of the Council Campaign Committee who are responsible for its operation throughout the Black Warrior Territory include Rex Wright of Guin, J. W. Cruse and M. H. Wilbourne of Tuscaloosa, Douglass Leake, Ed Hamilton and Tom Bryant of Jasper, M. S. McGehee of Montevallo, C. W. Lawson and Donald Berry of Greensboro, M. M. Adams of Vernon, McAdoo Jordan of Demopolis, W. H. Ivey of Aliceville, George Prator of Millport, and C. M. White of Brent.

In addition to the campaigns in the various communities the Black Warrior Council receives funds through the Tuscaloosa County Community Chest, the Jasper Community Chest, the Haleyville Community Chest and the Montevallo Community Chest. Because of the short time until the Kick-Off date Community Chairmen will have to be quite busy if they reach their goal by October 15th.

St. Andrews Episcopal Church

Holy Communion will be celebrated each Second Sunday hereafter at 4:30 p.m.

Rotary Club To Welcome District Governor

The Rotary Club of Montevallo tomorrow will be host to Bob Bruner, Governor of the 238th District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 26 Rotary Clubs in North Alabama. He will confer with President Murphy McGehee, Secretary Ralph Sears and other local officers on Rotary administration and service activities.

BOB BRUNER

Mr. Bruner is Manager of the J. C. Penney Co. Store in Jasper and is a member of the Rotary Club of Jasper. He was elected District Governor of Rotary International for the 1953-54 fiscal year at the annual Rotary Convention in Paris, France, last May. He is one of the 212 District Governors supervising the activities of some 8,000 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 372,000 business and professional executives in 86 countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Montevallo because they are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

Each year, this world-wide organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength. During the fiscal year, for example, 217 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 42 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa, and the islands of the Pacific.

AAUW Meeting Next Tuesday

The Montevallo Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold its first fall meeting Tuesday, September 22 in Reynolds Dining Room at 7:30 p.m.

Miss Lelah Brownfield, AAUW president, urges all eligible members of the faculty, the staff and the town to attend. An informal reception will be held in Reynolds Foyer immediately following the short business meeting.

Girl Scouts Plan For Coming Year

The Montevallo Girl Scout Council will have Mrs. Leslie E. Geohegan, member of the National Field Staff-Region V meet with them today to discuss scouting for the coming year. The council is making the following report of summer activities to Mrs. Geohegan.

Miss Eloise Booker, home economist for Alabama Power Company, worked with the Intermediate Scouts for several weeks this summer. Thirteen girls earned their cooking badges. Miss Booker's time and the equipment were contributed by the Alabama Power Company.

The scond part of the summer Miss Ethel Rattray, student at Alabama College, worked with the girls. She was assisted by Jade Higgins, Sigrid Lund and Joy Holcombe, former scouts with camping experience. Under this leadership the Intermediate Scouts enjoyed scout work at the Little House, cook-outs at the College Lake and swimming and picnicing at Bull Dog Bend.

The summer activities were concluded with a program at the Little House. At this time the cooking badges were awarded to the following girls: Elizabeth Ackerley, Lois Ackerley, Brenda Bean, Edith Edfeldt, Sherry Gregg, Janice Jones, Barbara Martin, Cecily Orr, Henry Kay Peete, Judy Bess Robinson, Gibbie Scott, Mary Williams, Virginia Williams. The Scouts had as their guests their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. McGehee of the Alabama Power Company, and Mrs. L. H. Hubbard, a representative from the Community Chest Board.

The Montevallo Girl Scout Council had their first meeting September 10, at the Little House. Plans for the coming year are under way.

DAR Meeting Held Monday

The first fall meeting of David Lindsay Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. T. H. Napier, Mrs. W. H. Lyman, Regen, presiding. There were fourteen members present.

In observance of Constitution Day, a Constitution Quiz was ably conducted by Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, with a panel of five members: Mrs. Charles Gormley, Mrs. H. D. LeBaron, Miss Annabeth Cash, Miss Emma Dendy, and Miss Josephine Eddy. This proved most entertaining and instructive.

Mrs. Vaughan announced that after long and diligent search the grave of David Lindsay has been located. The chapter plans to place a marker on this grave.

The hostess served a delicious salad, with cheese straws, nuts, and coffee.

The WMU of the Baptist Church observed the season of Prayer for the Association of Missions at the church Monday evening from 7:30 to 8:30. Mrs. W. G. Hicks led the devotional and a most informative talk on Association of Missions was given by the pastor, Rev. Edward Glover.

Essay Contest For High Schools

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 10—Plans for an essay contest on "What Industry Means to Alabama," sponsored jointly by the Associated Industries of Alabama and Birmingham-Southern College, have been announced by D. Trotter Jones, Executive Vice President of A.I.A. and Dr. George S. Stewart, President of Birmingham-Southern College.

The contest will be open to the Senior Class of each high school in the State of Alabama.

There will be two groups of prizes—one to the winners from schools located in Jefferson County and another to the winners in schools located outside of Jefferson County. The two top winners in each group will receive a two-year scholarship to Birmingham-Southern College, making four scholarships in all. The two third-place winners will receive awards of $100 in cash. Fourth place prize is $50 cash in each group. Additional cash awards of $25 will be given to the next four winners in each category.

Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting at the Legion Hut Thursday afternoon, Sept. 10. Plans were made for a dinner to be served members of the Alabama Power Company's sales meeting to be held here soon.

Membership was stressed. If you would like to become a member of the Auxiliary, or if you are a member and are ready to pay your 1953-54 dues contact the membership chairman, Mrs. A. L. Wilson, Phone 6886.

Cancer Deaths In Shelby County

Montgomery, Ala.—Cancer killed 2,983 Alabamians last year, including 23 in Shelby County, the State Department of Health announced today.

The state total represented an increase of 216 over the 1951 total of 2,767. It represented an even greater increase over the average of 2,652 a year for the five-year period from 1946 to 1950, inclusive.

Maids of Cotton At State Fair

Birmingham, Ala.—Maids of Cotton from each of Alabama's 67 counties will be presented at the Alabama State Fair October 8, 1953, where finals in the annual Maid of Cotton Contest will be staged.

The winner at Birmingham will be proclaimed Alabama Maid of Cotton and will compete in the National Maid of Cotton Contest at Memphis in December. There the Alabama winner will compete for the National title with entries from the nation's other cotton producing states.

A highlight of the State finals which will be held in front of the main Grandstand at the Fairgrounds on Thursday of Fair week will be the appearance of Miss Alice Corr of Selma, Alabama, the nation's current National Maid of Cotton.

What difference does it make whether Dior shortens or lengthens the hemline. With slacks, pedal pushers and shorts, American women have practically quit wearing skirts anyway.

Preparation Week In Baptist Churches

The Baptist churches of the Shelby County Association will observe Preparation Week for "A Million More in 1954", September 20-27, it was announced by Rev. Pat Menchew, associational Sunday School superintendent.

This special week is the kick-off event in the campaign of Southern Baptists to enroll a net gain of a million people in Sunday School in the coming year.

Evening sessions will be held in most of the churches Monday through Friday, with a general period devoted to matters of concern to the entire Sunday School and a period for age group conferences.

A new book, The Pull of the People, by J. N. Barnette, will be used as a guide book for study and planning during the week.

Action that the churches will take is expected to be along the folowing lines: organizing additional Sunday School classes; expanding the Sunday School ministry to babies; expanding the Sunday School ministry to people unable to attend because of old age, illness, or Sunday employment; adopting a plan to locate people not enrolled in Sunday School and assign responsibility for their enlistment; adopting a program of weekly visitatoin; and organizing one or more branch Sunday Schools. Goal of the churches of the Shelby Association in the campaign is to increase the present enrollment.

Total Sunday School enrolment of the Southern Baptist Convention is 5,491,096. This is a challenge to the entire Southland.

Farm Report On Masonic Home

Montgomery, Ala.—The Alabama Masonic Home 276 acre farm is producing the most bountiful crops, beef, pork, poultry, fruits, milk, and eggs in its history.

James L. Lawson, Auburn, chairman of the Masonic Farm Committee and his two associates, Dalton R. Harbor and James Lowery, are agricultural experts from Alabama Polytechnic Institute and the United States Department of Agricultural co-operation who inspected the Masonic Home farm recently. D. R. Harbor, extension agronomist, in his report covering the results of the farm inspection made to Grand Master Joseph S. Southall, Grand Lodge of F & AM of Alabama and other officials writes: "The all around situation at the Masonic Home Farm looks extremely good."

The 70,000 Master Masons in Alabama, now raising a Million Dollar Endowment Fund for the permanent maintenance of the Masonic Home and farm will find encouragement in other portions of Mr. Harbor's report. He states: "We went over the farm, field by field, looked at the dairy cattle, the beef cattle, hogs and poultry. Everything is really good. The Masonic farm has much more growth on the pastures than is needed at this time to feed the animals. The Masonic farm has already harvested 2,500 bales of hay and filled the silo with grass legume silage. The 25 dariy cows now being milked are producing a total of 55 gallons of milk per day. The beef herd is in excellent state of flesh. The Masonic farm's flock of hens is now producing 130 eggs per day. The field of corn is fine. I feel sure it will produce 40 bushels per acre or more. Land clearing has improved the appearance of the place. The fencing job is almost completed."

Naturally the Masonic Farm Committee is delighted.

Another reason why baseball attendance has fallen off with the coming of night baseball is the fact that it's easier to sneak away from the office than from the wife.

GENERAL MOTORS LOWEST PRICED EIGHT

Even a picture tells you a great deal about Pontiac's beauty, its long lines and substantial feel. But the best way to appreciate what makes Pontiac such a great value is to get behind the wheel and drive it.

Then you'll know you have a real performer in hand. Pontiac always responds with eager, ready-to-go high-compression power — more than any highway will ever require. For all normal driving, the engine can loaf—one reason why Pontiac leads such a dependably long life.

There's a great deal more to the Pontiac story: ease of handling, beautiful Dual-Streak styling, roominess, comfort and luxury. And there is Pontiac's PRICE—actually just a few dollars above the very lowest-priced field!

So come in now and drive Pontiac, price Pontiac, compare Pontiac! We're confident that you'll quickly agree that Pontiac is your best deal!

Albert L. Pickett Made Corporal

Ft. Campbell, Ky.—Albert L. Pickett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pickett, has been promoted to the grade of Corporal.

Cpl. Pickett has now served in the Army for a period of 18 months. At this time he is assigned to Battery "B" 675th Airborne Field Artillery Battalion, Fort Campbell, Ky.

In July 1952, he graduated from the Basic Airborne Course at Fort Benning, Georgia. Since then he has been with the 11th Airborne Division.

Women's Part In Civil Defense

Mrs. E. R. Naish of Shelby County, who has been appointed County Coordinator of the Women's Work in the State Civil Defense program, has been invited to attend the Conference to be held at Alabama College, Thursday, September 24. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m.

Dr. Hallie Farmer, the State Director of Women's Work, appointed this summer by Colonel James M. Garrett, Jr., the Alabama Director of Civil Defense, has planned a program which will be of interest to all.

Mrs. Thalia Wood, the Director of Women's Participation in the Federal Civil Defense Administration in Wasington, D. C., will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Tennie deJarnette, the Assistant Regional Director, Colonel Harry E. Brown, the Regional Director, and Edgar P. James, the Regional Training Officer, from the regional office in Atlanta will also speak and be available for conferences. Colonel Garrett will be on the program.

Plans will be made at this meeting to further the Alabama program. Although many feel that only a few strategic places in Alabama may be bombed in case of an atomic attack, the rest of the State must be organized and ready to assist in caring for casualties, mass evacuation of the women and children, and for protecting their own families.

It is earnestly desired that all Women's Organizations in the county have representatives at the conference at Alabama College.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Supervisors of the Soil Conservation Districts in Alabama have selected November 2-8 as District Week.

F. E. Williams, Shelby County District Supervisor, has planned several special features for that week. He will appreciate assistance from friends of soil conservation.

A. J. Marshall reports planting 30 acres of Chapel Hill rescue grass, with button clover on five acres of it, in accord with his basic conservation plan on his Montevallo farm.

Button clover has proved itself on the G. H. and Roy Eastis farm. In fact, "Jack" bought 200 pounds extra this year since he did not get to combine enough.

Mrs. Luda Gresky, who has done a fine job thus far on her farm's erosion problems, is ready now to go a step further. She writes that she wants SCS technical help in locating and constructing a farm pond for stock water and fish.

Marlyn Hester, SCS engineer recently asigned to help with engineering problems related to conservation in the North Central SC District, did his first work in Shelby County last week. He checked the site of the second of the series of dams being built by the Rucker-Lawler-Parnell group. He will return to the county on Wednesday to study a drainage problem at Wilsonville.

Near Montevallo A. W. Baker is planting two acres of Chapel Hill rescue, part of which is for his hens to graze. That adds to the many uses already found for this populer new crop.

Edwards Arrives In San Francisco

Sgt. James Hardy Edwards arrived in San Francisco Wednesday morning where he was met by his wife,. Mrs. Georgia Mae Edwards. Sgt. Edwards has been a prisoner of war in Korea for the past three years.

Immediately after arrival he called by telephone and talked with his mother-in-law, Mrs. George Kendrick, and his boys, George Hardy and David.

He said he is doing fine and he and Georgia Mae will be home in a few days.

Some people never learn. A lady asked a friend of mine if he cared for a nightcap. He replied that he never wore the things. Any fool knows that a nightcap is the second contest in a doubleheader baseball game.

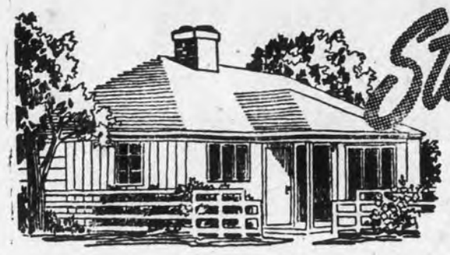

Found this interesting little observation on the so-called weaker sex in Sideliner the other day: "Whenever you hear some fellow say he can read women like a book, it's a safe bet the guy is too old to start a library."

Over half a million Southern Bell telephones are serving rural areas and new ones are going in at the rate of more than 6,500 every month.

F. F. A. NEWS NOTES

Montevallo FFA members will be on hand Saturday, Sept. 26, at Montevallo Milling Co., when E. E. Aldridge will present to one of the chapter members a registered duroc gilt purchased this week from John G. McDaniels, a duroc breeder of Reform, Ala. In addition to this special award to FFA boys, Mr. Aldridge stated that he would give to the first 400 to register Saturday morning, either a bag of flour or a bag of cornmeal.

The lucky FFA boy after receiving the registered duroc will also be given a 100 pound bag of pig ration of Mothers Best to start the feeding program off in a good manner.

* * *

Mr. Eddie Downs of Calera State Bank came by the vocational department recently and has offered the chapter a fine animal for breeding purposes. It is expected that the chapter will soon own a registered duroc boar after one from the best breed lines in Alabama has been located. G. B. Phillips, Auburn Extension worker, communicated with the chapter this week concerning the purchase of an outstanding animal.

Les Pair of the Shelby Farmers Supply Store is trying to work out a plan to put the chapter boar on a special feeding program and to get him located conveniently for the hog farmers of the area to use.

Montevallo FFA boys will cooperate with the celebration of District Conservation Week early in November. George Starcher, Soil Conservationist from Columbiana, was by this week helping to make the final plans. A special issue of the Montevallo Times will feature the work of this phase of farm help.

* * *

Farmers Market continues to offer quite a variety of vegetables and farm produce each Saturday morning downtown just east from Montevallo Lumber Co. Plentiful during recent weeks has been potatoes, panuts, okra, squash, field peas, tomatoes, watermelons, eggs, and some few other products. The market will continue to operate as long as farmers have something to sell.

Celebration Friday For Return Of Sgt. James Edwards

The long journey on his return home will end for Sgt. James H. Edwards when he arrives here some time Thursday. He has been a prisoner of war in Korea for three years. He was met in San Francisco by his wife, Mrs. Georgia Mae Edwards. They are making the trip from California by automobile.

A big community reception will be put on for Sgt. Edwards Friday and Friday night, in connection with the football game at Montevallo High School.

The high school band will kick off the celebration at 2 o'clock with a march through town. The band will be followed by a parade of automobiles, all together heralding the home-towns welcome to Sgt. Edwards.

At the Strand Theatre the parade will pause briefly where Sgt. Edwards and his family will be presented by the Mayor.

The program will start at the High School athletic field at 7:30 with a concert by the band.

The football game between Montevallo and Clanton will begin at 8 o'clock.

At the half time a short address honoring Sgt. Edwards will be made by Commander Charlie Eiland, Andalusia, of the Department of Alabama, American Legion.

By the time Sgt. Edwards gets here Thursday, Montevallo will be decked out with banners and bunting. Everybody joins in the happy occasion for the Edwards family in proclaiming the slogan "Welcome Home, James!"

During the time of his imprisonment, Sgt. Edwards' wife, Mrs. Georgia Mae Edwards, and two sons, George Hardy and David, have lived in Montevallo with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kendrick.

The parents of Sgt. Edwards are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Edwards, Wilton.

Alabama's First Civil Defense Workshop For Women Is Held At Alabama College

Mrs. Thalia Bryan Shanner Woods, chief of women's participation, Office of Voluntary Manpower, Federal Civil Defense Administration, Washington, D. C., will be one of the six civil defense leaders addressing Alabama's first civil defense workshop for women leaders scheduled for Thursday, September 24, on the Alabama College campus.

Mrs. Woods will address the day long conference on the subject of home protection training in national defense.

For the past 20 years Mrs. Woods has served as chief permanent staff officer of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. As executive director, she was charged with developing and directing national and international programs relating to defense, health, legislation, rehabilitation and education for the eleven million member Federation.

Mrs. Woods served as alternate member on President Truman's Famine Emergency Committee and in the same capacity on the President's Committee for National Employ the Handicapped Week.

A nationally known expert in organization and public service fields, Mrs. Woods is the first woman to be elected to the national office of the American Public Relations Association, and has served that organization as secretary. Her Washington employment began in the Educational Department of the YMCA.

Other speakers as announced by Dr. Hallie Farmer, head of Alabama College's division of social sciences and Alabama's coordinator of women's activities for civil defense will include: Colonel J. M. Garrett Jr., Director of Civil Defense for the state of Alabama; Colonel Harry E. Brown, Regional Director, Federal Civil Defense Administration, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Tennie deJarnette, Assistant Regional Director for Women's Activities; and Mr. Edgar P. James, Regional Training Officer.

Registration for the workshop is free and will start at 9 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 24, with the first meeting scheduled at 10 a.m. All sessions will be held in Reynolds Hall on the Montevallo campus. Adjournment wil be at 4 p.m.

Another Big Day For You Saturday

The people of this section have another big blow-out coming up next Saturday when Montevallo Milling Company offers you a lot of good reasons why you should visit their place of business and be their guests.

The occasion is in celebration of the association of Montevallo Milling Company with Mothers' Best Feeds.

For those who attend this occasion there will be some mighty good entertainment and a lot of free prizes. Feature entertainers will be Rebe and Rabe and the original Mothers' Best Sunny Valley Boys.

You are invited to come by and stay a while—as long as you can. The programs and awarding of free gift prizes will be from 2 to 3 p.m.

Mr. E. E. Aldridge, proprietor of Montevallo Milling Company and Mrs. Aldridge, have fixed up something nice for you and we hope you will not disappoint them by failing to come.

Remember the place, Montevallo Milling Co. on the Wilton Highway right in the edge of Montevallo.

Two New Teachers At Alabama College

The western part of the United States is represented on the Alabama College faculty by two new faculty members for the 1953-54 academic year.

Miss Julia Menefee, former State Supervisor of Home Economics Education from Montana, has joined the Alabama College faculty as Assistant Supervisor and Itinerant Teacher Trainer, Home Economics Education. Mr. Donald K. Springen comes to the college speech department faculty from Gillette, Wyoming.

A graduate of Alabama College, Miss Menefee received her Master of Science Degree from Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa, and has done additional graduate work at the University of Alabama and University of Pennsylvania.

In addition to her supervisory position in Montana, Miss Menefee's professional career includes assignments at Marshall College, Huntington, West Virginia; North Texas State Teacher's College, Sul Rosa State Teachers College, Alpine, Texas, and Texas College of Arts and Industries. She is a former editor of Montana' Future Homemakers of America newsletter Talk of the State and is the author of several articles printed in state and national publications.

A graduate of the University of California at Berkley, Mr. Springen holds a M.A. Degree from Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois. He saw duty in the Pacific area during World War II as an admiral's yeoman in the U. S. Navy. As a member of the Alabama College speech department, Mr. Springen will teach public speaking and direct the school's debate team.

Methodist Church Entertains Students

The Methodist Church of Montevallo entertained the Methodist College girls at a hot dog party on the church lawn Wednesday evening.

The girls were directed to the vestibule of the church where they were greeted by Frances Crawford, president of the Wesley Foundation, the Methodist student organization, who presented them to the receiving line composd of Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Triplett, Dr. Paul Bailey, Superintendent of the Sunday School, Mrs. M. Thornton, teacher of the College Girls' class, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lawler, Sr., and Miss Ethel Marshall, advisers to the Wesley Foundation.

Miss Jane Triplett, freshman music major, gave a short organ recital before the girls were escorted on a tour of the church. After the tour of the church the group met members of the church informally on the church lawn where the hot dogs and cokes were served.

Miss Janie Thomas, College senior and Methodist Youth Worker, led the girls in group singing later in the evening.

Approximately one hundred girls attended the party.

Worth more and why

THERE ARE two generally accepted meanings of the word "worth." One comes down to cold hard dollars and cents value. The other is personal: what something is worth to you in usefulness, in pride of possession, in reliability, and in other ways.

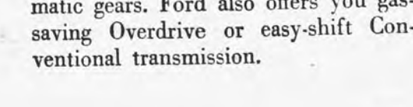

Either way you look at "worth" we feel that you'll find the new '53 Ford worth more. And here's why:

If you could check the used car prices of last year's cars, you'd find that Ford keeps the greatest part of its original cost in resale . . . a greater portion than any other car at any price.

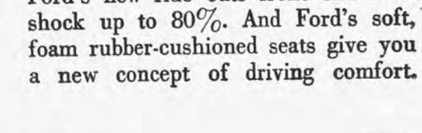

Now, as everyone knows, the amount of value a car loses between the time you buy it and the time you sell it is the actual cost of the car to you. With Ford's low original cost and high trade-in worth, a Ford costs you less to own.

And apparently a lot of folks have a lot of personal reasons why Ford's worth more to them. For that's why people are willing to pay more for a used Ford.

To help you evaluate these reasons for yourself, we have supplied a few illustrations on this page . . . and we offer you a "Test Drive" in the '53 Ford at your convenience. Check the features that you want in a car and compare them with even the costliest cars. It's our feeling that once you do, you'll never pay more than the price of a Ford.

Ford's Crestmark Body is hull-tight to keep out dust, drafts and weather. You'll find it welded where other cars are bolted, for greater strength and safety . . . to eliminate water-catching cracks where rust can get a foothold.

Here is the only V-8 in the low-price field, the same type of engine now powering most of America's costliest cars. Ford has built over 13 million V-8's! And Ford also offers you the industry's most modern Six, for even less money

Fordomatic Drive gives you the smooth, effortless power of a torque convertor plus the savings and response of automatic gears. Ford also offers you gas-saving Overdrive or easy-shift Conventional transmission.

No longer does a car need to be tank-heavy to gentle you over the bumps! Ford's new ride cuts front end road shock up to 80%. And Ford's soft, foam rubber-cushioned seats give you a new concept of driving comfort.

Mary Ling Hayley Scholarship Winner

Miss Janice Jordan, Opp, Ala., State President of the Future Homemakers of America in 1952-53 is this year's winner of the Mary Ling Haley gift scholarship for college level study awarded by Alabama's Future Homemakers of America chapters.

Competing in the finals with more than a dozen other high school seniors, Miss Jordan, the winner, will use her scholarship to attend Alabama College at Montevallo.

A graduate of Straughn High School, Andalusia, where she made an "A" average, Miss Jordan plans to major in Vocational Home Economics and hopes to teach after finishing her college work.

The youngest of eight brothers and sisters Janice has been active in FHA work throughout her high school career.

Two essentials of success in business are honesty and sagacity. Honesty is to always keep your word. Sagacity is never to give your word.

A message to every prospective new car buyer:

You can have the most popular automatic transmission to be found in any low-priced car

*Chevrolet's Famous 1953 Powerglide!

Much fleeter, smoother, more economical! Thoroughly proved and improved through years of development and over a billion owner-driven miles! Production now running at new high levels due to record nationwide demand!

Much More Economical
Chevrolet's 1953 Powerglide Automatic Transmission*—teamed with the 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" high-compression Valve-in-Head engine—brings you entirely new operating economy in city driving and on long trips.

Far Livelier Getaway
Put the selector lever in "DRIVE" position—step on the accelerator—and you move smoothly away from a standing start to legal traffic speed in seconds.

Important New Gas Savings
You'll never know how economical an automatic transmission can be until you try the 1953 Powerglide. Various improvements, including a more efficient use of engine power, make it extremely thrifty. In fact, bring you the most important gain in gasoline economy in Chevrolet history.

Great New Passing Ability
The car picks up pace in traffic or on the highway at the touch of a toe, for the '53 Powerglide has an added automatic passing range.

Smoothest No-Shift Driving at Lowest Cost
Driving is almost incredibly easy, changes of speed almost unbelievably smooth . . . for this transmission gives simplest, smoothest, no-shift driving at lowest cost.

Safe Eyes-on-the-Road Driving
Safety is served in many ways. And one of the most important, perhaps, is that Powerglide permits you to concentrate on driving. You can keep your hands always on the steering wheel and your eyes always on the road.

Full Engine Braking-Power on Hills
Powerglide's flexibility lets you cruise easily up any hill. And you enjoy constant engine braking power for maximum safety when descending.

Rock Out of Trouble
Powerglide's smooth power flow lets you rock out of sand, snow or mud whenever the need arises. "LOW" and "REVERSE" are side by side on the Powerglide quadrant, making the operation doubly easy.

Push-Proof Parking
Put the selector lever in "PARK" position when you leave the car, and a positive, gear-type lock holds it in position until you return.

Time-Proved, Owner-Proved Dependability
Come in. Drive a Chevrolet with this finer, more popular automatic transmission. Test it and you'll want it. It's time-proved, and road-proved by hundreds of thousands of owners, in over a billion miles of driving.

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

CHEVROLET

Optional at extra cost. Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine available on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models. Power Steering available on all models.*

Million Dollars For Masonic Home

Montgomery, Ala.—Ever since the Grand Lodge of F&AM of Alabama was organized on June 11, 1821, with Thomas F. Farrar as the first Grand Master, until the present time, 132 years later it has occupied a position of distinction in the civic and fraternal life of this State.

Establishment of the Alabama Masonic Home and farm near Montgomery is one of the great achievements of the Grand Lodge, F&AM of which the 70,000 Master Masons in the "Yellow Hammer" State are justly proud.

Under the able leadership of the present Grand Master, Joseph S. Southall and Grand Lodge of Alabama has called upon members of the Craft to support a Million Dollor Endowment Fund for the permanent maintenance of the Masonic Home in order that widows and orphans of Master Masons and elder brothers may be assured of security and contentment in future years as they are today.

Members of the Endowment Fund Committee are Jesse E. Lanier, Chairman, Bessemer, Ala.; R. B. Gibson, Birmingham; P. Guy King, Mobile; Richard C. Cain, Jasper; Ency F. Yeilding, Florence; James Sanford, Wylam; George W. Hargraves, Auburn; and Joseph L. Appling, Decatur.

The accompanying illustrations shows four of the younger guests, orphans of Master Masons, at the Alabama Masonic Home who will be cared for and educated through all the grades of public schools and possibly through college.

"These boys and girls and their elders are our own people" Grand Master Southall states, and "it is the duty of every Master Mason in Alabama to make positive that they are always well housed, well fed, and well clothed. This will be made possible if the Masonic Home Million Dollar Endowment Fund is properly supported."

Mr. S. Reese Woolley of Andalusia arrived Friday night for a visit with his family.

Everett W. Snell At Marine Base

Parris Island, S. C.—Marine Private First Class Everett W. Snell, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher E. Snell, of Route 1, Box 343, Siluria, has completed his recruit training here at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, and received a promotion to his present rank. He climaxed his recruit training by winning the rifle Sharpshooter medal on the rifle range during his weapons training.

During basic training, Snell became well versed in many military subjects and in field tactics. He also fired other infantry weapons including the .45 calibre pistol, carbine, and Browning automatic rifle.

Snell enlisted in the United States Marine Corps on May 29, 1953.

F F A News Notes

Franklin Edwards, Montevallo FFA member, was all smiles Saturday when he learned that he was the lucky FFA boy to receive the registered duroc gilt given by Mr. E. E. Aldridge of Montevallo Milling Co. Over 30 FFA members were in attendance at a special day for farmers and others over at the Milling Co. Saturday. Mr. Aldridge purchcased the registered gilt frm one of the best breed lines in Alabama and it is hoped that during this project year Franklin will be able to grow out his first litter of durocs from the gilt.

* * *

Wayne Phillips is planning to expand his supervised practice program to include three milk cows, 1200 broilers, and 200 laying hens. He also plans to keep a brood sow and top out some hogs for the market. Wayne lives at Pea Ridge and is a second year FFA boy.

* * *

Robert Oneal, second year FFA boy, invited the class to go out and observe his beef project and while there the boys practice in castrating beef calves. Jimmy and Robert have grown a herd of cattle from their agriculture projects during tthe last six years. They are sons of Mr. W. J. Oneal and live north from Montevallo about 4 miles.

* * *

John Kirby, greenhand FFA, plans to include bees and honey production as part of his project work in agriculture.

HELP WANTED

Montevallo Cub Scouts Need Your Help!

All adults interested in the Cub Pack are asked to attend the Pack meeting on Tuesday, October 6, 7:30 p.m., at the Elementary School Cafeteria. If interested, call John Mader at 6961 and leave your name.

The Cub Scouts

The Montevallo Cub Scout Pack is having its first fall Pack meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Elementary School Cafeteria.

The Pack needs adult assistance and would appreciate it if all persons interested in young boys will attend this meeting.

All Cub Scouts are expected to attend this meeting along with their parents. All parents who are interested in their boys joining our Pack should attend this meeting with the boys.

In a community of this size we should be able to create a greater interest in the Cub movement. Those individuals who feel that they do not have the time to work with the youth of our town are asked to consider the importance of a movement of this type. If you find that you can spare an hour or two a week for the development of a better Montevallo or if you feel that perhaps you owe it to your children to become better acquainted with them then we welcome you to our meeting.

Wheeler Foshee Back To School

Gainesville, Ga., Sept. 29—Cadet Wheeler R. Foshee, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Foshee of Montevallo, has been highly honored here at Riverside Military Academy by election to the Horton Society, traditional honor leadership group of the Academy.

The Horton Society is composed of the twenty five Cadets selected by the Faculty and fellow students as best equipped to carry on the finest traditions of Riverside, and membership is one of Riverside's top honors.

Power Company Employees Meet

Approximately thirty Alabama Power Company employees of the Montevallo District together with Mr. F. O. Miller, Division Manager for the Western Division, and J. H. Brown, Division Sales Supervisor, met with Mr. Marvin Williams and Hoke Harrell of the R. P. McDavid & Company of Birmingham, distributors for ABC home laundry equipment and Sepco Water Heaters to discuss the features of this equipment. The group enjoyed a delicious meal served by the American Legion Auxiliary at the Legion Hut. After the dinner was served, Mr. Harrell led a sales discussion of the Sepco Water Heaters and ABC appliances.

Mr. G. F. Payne was on the sick list last week, but is feeling much better now.

John Denham Plans Two Big Events At His Stores

A great occasion in his business career is scheduled by Mr. John Denham for October 8 when he will have the grand opening of his new P and T Grocery and the anniversary of his well-known and popular P and T Grocery at Alabaster.

Mr. Denham began his business at Alabaster in 1940 and the growth and popularity of this store has been phenomenal. Mr. Denham has built the business upon the principles of the best service and the best merchandise and has won the confidence and patronage of thousands of people. P and T Grocery has become the household word of hundreds of families who have found it to be a most reliable and dependable place to supply the family needs for foods and other necessities.

The new P and T Grocery to be opened at Calera will be one of the finest self-service grocery stores in the land. In its spacious and modern new building it will offer every convenience known to the grocery trade.

The service to customers will be unexcelled. It will be the same reliable service that has characterized the John Denham store for many successful years, proved by the universal response and continued patronage of so many people.

These two events are going to be appealing and attractive to everybody in this part of Shelby County. Watch this newspaper for a complete announcement and details next week about the P and T Grand Opening at Calera and the P and T Anniversary at Alabaster.

New Voters May Register In October

The Board of Registrars of Shelby County has announced dates and places at which the Board will meet for the purpose of registering all citizens who are qualified to register and become voters.

The places of meeting in the western part of the county are as follows:

Thompson Wins Over Columbiana

The Thompson Warriors notched their second consecutive county victory over Columbiana here Friday night. The Warriors beat Columbiana 13-7 and are gunning for their fifth straight Shelby County Championship. The Warriors were very good in offense and defense. Outstanding were Homer Smitherman and co-captains Howard Mooney and Harry Durbin. They handled the line very good.

Riley and Finn were the outstanding players for Shelby County High School of Columbiana.

The Thompson Warriors meet a tough high school team Friday night, October 2, as they go to Prattville. After a 19-0 victory over Prattville last year the Warriors are looking forward to meeting this strong team again this year. The Warriors, under the direction of coaches Byron Chambliss and Earl Douglas, have only lost one game to the strong West Blocton team by one touchdown this year.

The Thompson High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Frank Kendeigh will perform at the half in Prattville.

A record crowd is expected to see these two teams in action.

COME TODAY — TOMORROW MAY BE TOO LATE
Guarantees to read your entire life—past, present and future. She asks no questions but will tell you what you want to know, giving dates and facts of business, love, health and family affairs. Tells you whom you will marry and when. If the one you love is true, what part of the country is luckiest for you, and what to do to be successful. Will reunite the separated, locate absent friends and relatives, cause happiness between man and wife. Makes up lovers' quarrels. Tells if sickness or bad luck is natural or unnatural, how to hold your position and win and hold the one you love, overcome enemies, evil influences and bad luck. Does not tell to please you, but to tell the truth. One visit will repay you for disappointments in all others. I not only read your life as an open book, but I also help you out of your troubles. Come and see why you are so unhappy, why everything seems to go wrong. Why be sad and downhearted, sick and worried, when you can be helped, everything made clear? Consult this gifted medium. She will prove that you can obtain your desire. Everything sacred and confidential. (White and colored.

Tea Shower

Sunday afternoon, Sept. 20, Miss Joan Gentry of Bessemer, whose wedding to Samuel Allen Price was an event of Sept. 26, was honored at a miscellaneous tea shower at Reynolds Hall on Alabama College campus. Hostesses were Mrs. Herman Stone and Miss Mary Aline Foshee.

An arrangement of daisies, candles in silver candalabrum, and punch bowl carried out the color motif of white and green on the lace covered tea table.

In the receiving line with the honoree and hostesses were Mrs. Alfred Gentry, bride-elect's mother, and Mrs. Samuel Arthur Price, groom's mother.

Miss Annelle Roe received the guests, Miss Jane White kept the bride's book, and Miss Aurelia Morgan showed the gifts which were displayed on tables in front of French doors. Mrs. Foshee presided at the punch bowl. Serving were Miss Mary Britt and Miss Warrena Willis. About thirty five guests called between the hours of 3 and 5.

Elbert Powell With Cavalry

With the 1st Calvary Division in Japan—Pvt. Elbert Powell, son of Mrs. Stella Powell, route 1, Siluria, Ala., is now serving with the 1st Calvary Division in Japan.

In the Far East since World War II, the 1st Calvary was rushed to Korea during the early fighting and fought for 17 months before returning to Japan in late 1951 for security force duty.

Private Powell, a truck driver, served five months with the 458th Engineer Truck Company in Korea before being transferred to Japan. He entered the Army in 1948.

Mrs. J. I. Reid made a business trip to Birmingham Friday. While there she and her son, Mr. Inzer Reid, called on Mrs. Olin Riser at Highland Baptist Hospital.

Gentry - Price Wedding

Wedding vows for Miss Joan Eleanor Gentry and Samuel Allen Price were spoken Saturday in an afternoon ceremony at First Baptist Church at Montevallo. The Rev. Edward G. Glover performed the 4:30 service.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hiram Gentry of Bessemer and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Arthur Price of Garden City.

The newly married pair left the reception at Reynolds Hall on the Alabama College campus for a wedding trip to the Smokies. They will be at home in Birmingham.

Music for the ceremony was given by Putnam Porter, Edmond Roberts and Mrs. Betty Brown.

Carrying an orchid bouquet with cascading tuberoses, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white peau d'ange lace and net with scalloped bateau neckline. Motifs of lace appliqued the full tulle skirt and the circular train.

A pearl and opalescent-embroidered, lace bandeau held the bride's fingertip veil of illusion.

The former Miss Gentry was preceded to the altar by Miss Mary Aline Foshee of Sylacauga, maid of honor, Miss Alice Jane White of Bessemer, bridesmaid, and Miss Teresa Terrell Locks of Ft. Knox, Ky., her cousin and flower girl.

The attendants, who carried cascades of chartruese Fujii chrysanthemums, were gowned alike in nymph green taffeta and net. The dresses, had shrug jackets above tulip-topped bodices and full, nea-paneled skirts. Their tiny hats were made of the same material as their dresses.

The bridegroom's cousin, Ray Price of Garden City, was his best man. Elliot Martin, Tommy Johnson and William J. Bryan seated guests.

Those who assisted at the reception are Mrs. Ingram P. Johnson, Mrs. James R. McGrady, Mrs. J. M. Loveless, Mrs. Ray Price and Misses Aurelia Morgan, Mary Britt, Annelle Roe, Klarien Birchfield, Warrena Willis and Jessie Ellis.

After the actual investiture of President Lund which will be performed by Mr. Nelson Fuller, chairman of the Executive Committee Alabama College Board of Trustees, Dr. Lund will deliver his inaugural remarks.

DR. F. E. LUND

Following the inauguration there will be a luncheon for guests of the College in Anna Irvin Hall. Dr. O. C. Carmichael, President of the University of Alabama and former President of Alabama College, will be principal speaker.

President and Mrs. Lund will entertain Alabama College's faculty and guests at a reception at Flower Hill, the President's mansion from 3 until 5 p.m. Saturday.

Dr. Lund who has held many educational posts in the South received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from Washington and Lee University. After completing his doctorate at the University of Wisconsin he became a Research Fellow at Yale University. Prior to assuming the Presidency of Alabama College, Dr. Lund served as Dean and Acting President of State Teachers College, Florence, Alabama.

Special 3-Cent Stamp For FFA Birthday

Shown above is the special three-cent stamp issued in commemoration of the 25th Anniversary of the Future Farmers of America. The stamp will go on sale at post offices in Alabama on October 14th. Local FFA chapters in Alabama are working with their local postmaster to assure a plentiful supply of the commemorative stamp in all communities where FFA is active. Many chapters are planning special programs and other observances to call the public's attention to the stamp. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has announced that 110 million of the FFA stamps will be printed for distribution nationally. The stamp will first be placed on sale at Kansas City, Missouri, October 13, during the first full days of the national FFA convention. The design of the stamp depicts a typical farm scene with rolling hills in the background. Featured in the central foreground is a Future Farmer, standing beneath a tree, viewing the scene before him. Wording on the flowing ribbon across the bottom of the stamp calls attention to the 25th Anniversary of FFA. The color of the stamp will be blue. The supply is expected to be exhausted soon after the stamp goes on sale.

Studiosis Club

For its initial meeting of the season at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 13, Montevallo Studiosis will have as guest speaker, Miss Ratna Murthry of Bangalore, India, who is a student at Alabama College. Miss Murthry will discuss social customs and family life in India using her own family as background. This interesting program has been planned by Miss Lorraine Pierson, as have others which will follow throughout the year.

After a meeting held on October 1st of the executive committee composed of officers and committee chairmen, under the leadership of Mrs. M. Thornton, Studiosis president, the organization is looking forward to a most successful year.

As is customary, this initial meeting will be held in Reynolds Hall. Hostess group for the meeting will be the executive committee.

Senator John Sparkman was a visitor in Montevallo last Thursday night. He was guest speaker at the Rotary Club. His discussion was about Federal Housing and TVA. Throughout his career in Congress Senator Sparkman has been a staunch supporter of these government agencies.

Montevallo PTA ... Monday Night

The first Fall meeting of the Montevallo Laboratory School Parent-Teachers Association will be held Monday, October 12 at 7:30 p.m., in the High School Auditorium. Mothers of Junior High grade 7, Miss Ann Grove Supervisor, will be hostesses for the first meeting.

Using as the year's theme, "Do You Know Your School?", Mrs. W. G. Hicks, second vice president and program chairman, announced the first program of the year. Mr. John Mader, instructor of speech and director of the Speech Clinic at Alabama College, will present the Speech Clinic program, the need for aids for the child with hearing or speech defects, the importance of early correction, and how parents and the PTA can help the program grow.

A graduate of Western Michigan College, Kalamazoo, Michigan, with an A.B. degree, Mr. Mader received his M.A. at Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida. While at F. S. U., Mader was director of the Demonstration School Speech Clinic, Director of Interns, and instructor one year in the Fundamentals of Speech program.

PTA officers for the coming year are: president, Mrs. Alvin McGaughy; first vice president, Bill Alexander; second vice president, Mrs. W. G. Hicks; secretary, Mrs. Denson Elliott; treasurer, Mrs. J. P. Kelly; and historian, Miss Mary Woolley.

The committee chairmen include: hospitality, Mrs. S. C. Jones, Jr.; membership, Mrs. M. S. McGehee; magazine and publications, Mrs. Joe Doyle; publicity, Mrs. James A. Wyatt; legislation, Mrs. Victor Scott; spiritual education, Mrs. J. H. Wyatt; school education, Mrs. T. H. Bearden; recreation, Mrs. Leslie Hubbard; safety, Harry Kendrick; budget and finance, Mrs. J. P. Kelly; health and summer school roundup, Mrs. Paul Rogan; and transportation and parent attendance, Mr. Carl Edfeldt.

To the Kindergarten and Elementary grades a cash prize of $2.00 monthly will be presented the room with the largest number of parents present at PTA meetings each month.

A Question Box will be used at each meeting for parents who wish to submit any questions they wish answered or discussed at the next meeting.

Many projects have been suggested for the local PTA to support. Dr. Lois Ackerly has already begun work as chairman for installation of water coolers in the elementary building, the first PTA project for the year.

There will be an executive board meeting of all officers and committee chairman Friday afternoon, October 9, 4:30 p.m. at Palmer Hall in the Trustees Room, first floor.

THANKS FROM THE EDWARDS FAMILY

Sgt. James H. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards wish to express their thanks to their friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses extended to them upon the occasion of celebrating the return of Sgt. Edwards from prisoner of war camp in Korea.

...ittle More M...ey

The committee in charge of the James H. Edwards Day celebration needs about $50 more to complete payment of expenses of the occasion.

Anyone who desires to help out in this expense will please leave donations with Mrs. Nordan at Nordan Hardware

Irene Jordan On Alabama College Concert Course

Irene Jordan, brilliant young American soprano from the Metropolitan will appear in a special inaugural concert at Alabama College Friday evening, October 16 at 8:00 p.m.

Miss Jordan's concert will be one of the opening events of the ceremonies for the inauguration of Dr. F. Edward Lund as Alabama College's seventh President.

Scheduled for Palmer Hall on the Montevallo campus the Inaugural Concert is open to the public.

Miss Jordan made her Metropolitan debut in 1946 in the opening night performance of "Lakme" and the following year spent the season with the Opera National in Mexico City. She has had her own NBC program "Songs by Irene" and has played in radio dramas as well as appearing for a season on Broadway in the Theatre Guild production "Sing Out Sweet Land."

A native of Birmingham and a former mezzo-soprano, Miss Jordan is resuming her career with the Metropolitan this year after a temporary retirement during which she changed her voice specialty and developed her new coloratura facility.

Circus Coming October 20th

Fun for everyone at the big Kelly-Morris three ring circus Tuesday, October 20, sponsored by the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

Buy your tickets from members of the Legion or Auxiliary so these organizations will get a bigger percentage from the sale of tickets. If you buy your tickets at the gate the Circus gets the big percentage.

Don't forget the day, Tuesday, October 20, at Montevallo, with matinee at 4 p.m. and night show at 8 p.m.

Chest Assembly Meets October 12

Mr. Lee A. Barclay, Chairman of the Montevallo Community Chest Assembly, announces plans for a meeting of the Assembly on Monday evening, October 12 at 8 p.m., to be held at the City Hall. Representatives from all of the organized groups of the town that are concerned with general community welfare are invited to attend this meeting.

The purpose of the annual Assembly meeting is to hear the annual report of the Community Chest Board and provide for publication of this report; to vote on whether or not the chest program shall be continued for another year; to elect a Chest Board of 9 citizens to serve for the ensuing year; and to elect a Chairman and Secretary of the Assembly for the ensuing year.

Members of the Board whose terms will expire this year are: Mrs. M. L. Triplett, Mr. T. E. Watson, and Mr. Hobert Vernon. Other members of the Board are: Mr. Charles Gormley, Mrs. Leslie Hubbard, and Mrs. Mary Whatley, terms to expire in 1954; Mr. Guy Milford, Mrs. Paul Rogan and Mr. Harold Anthony, terms to expire in 1955.

The following organizations are being asked to send representatives to the Assembly Monday night: AAUW; Alabama College Social Service; American Legion; American Legion Auxiliary; Baptist Church; Boy Scouts; B&PW Club; Catholic Church; Chamber of Commerce; Church of Christ; County Welfare Board; DAR; Elementary School; Episcopal Church; Girl Scouts; High School; Lions Club; Methodist Church; Masonic Lodge; Studiosis; Town Council; Study Club; Presbyterian Church; PTA; Recreation Board; Rotary Club; and Yomaso Club.

Denham Offering Two Big Events

Mr. John Denham announces this week that his new P&T Super Market Store Number 2 at Calera is now having their Grand Opening and that his Alabaster Store Number One is celebrating their 13th Anniversary. To celebrate the two occasions, Grand Opening and Anniversary, sales are now underway.

New Modern Calera Store

The doors to the new ultra-modern Calera Store will open at 1 p.m. Mr. Denham states that the new store embodies the very latest in equipment and decoration to insure shopping comfort and convenience for his customers.

During the opening and anniversary sales which lasts this month, everyone will be asked to register whenever they visit the stores. Each week names will be drawn to win outstanding prizes including bicycles, GE food mixers, Knapp-Monarch hair dryer, GE Heating pads, electric bean pots, 50 baskets of free groceries and many others. Elsewhere in this issue is a complete detail advertisement.

Mr. Denham wishes to stress to his customers that he is providing the same prizes, services and merchandise at both his Alabaster and Calera Stores.

No wonder Ford's the SIX they're swinging to!

HIGHER COMPRESSION
Power-contoured combustion chambers, with spark between intake and exhaust valves help give higher compression, better combustion.

LOWEST FRICTION
Ford's nearly equal bore and stroke ratio reduces piston travel to make Ford's Mileage Maker Six the lowest-friction Six in America!

MORE GO PER GALLON
Ford's Automatic Power Pilot squeezes the last ounce of power out of every drop of gas . . . regular or premium . . . for extra savings.

CHOICE OF 3 DRIVES
Only Ford in the low-price field lets you choose from a completely automatic drive (Fordomatic), Overdrive or conventional drive.

America's "Worth More" Six is one of 41 "Worth More" features which make Ford worth more when you buy it, worth more when you sell it.

F.D.A.F.

More and more folks are making the Ford Six their new car choice. They know this high-compression honey really "delivers."

But if you need more convincing, remember that it's America's most modern Six.

It's the lowest-friction Six in America (which means it runs smoother and holds engine wear to a minimum.)

And, with Overdrive, it topped all other cars in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

Of course, Ford's Six is just one of Ford's 41 "Worth Mores." No other low-priced car offers both a Six and V-8, a hulltight Crestmark body and a carpet-smooth fine car ride! Get the whole "Worth More" story at your Ford Dealer's and you, too, will be joining the swing to Ford.

Mary P. Nabors Died September 29

Friends and relatives were shocked last week by the unexpected death of Mrs. Mary Prentice Nabors, which occurred Tuesday, Sept. 29, at St. Vincent's Hospital in Birmingham. She had been sick only a short time.

Mrs. Nabors, 61, was born and reared in Montevallo, the daughter of the late Monroe and Mrs. Molly Prentice.

From about 1915 until her death Mary was connected with Alabama College. She was employed at the laundry for 5 or 6 years before going to the College kitchen in 1921. She was head salad cook, had charge of linens, uniforms, and mending. In the absence of her husband, Granison, store room clerk, she handled his duties as efficiently as her own.

Mary was a person of exceptional ability, unusual intelligence and initiative, in carrying out any program according to the ideas and standards of her superiors.

Because of her force for right and consistency she was a leader respected and loved by her fellow workers. In the absence of the Dietitian Mary accepted responsibility and carried on her share of the duties and managed those with lesser duties so that all work was done on schedule.

Tuesday, Sept. 22, was the last day Mary worked. Miss Ibbie Jones, Dietitian, was away and Mary, in her usual jovial manner, managed as efficiently as was her habit, was the last to leave, and never complained of not feeling well. When word came, the following Tuesday, that she was dead, her fellow workers and superiors were in a state of grief and shock.

Miss Jones says, "We have lost a very strong person and I have lost a most able colored assistant."

Funeral services were held at Ward's Chapel AME Church on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 4, The Rev. J. L. McIntyre officiating.

Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery with Hampton D. Lee directing.

Surviving are her husband, Granison Nabors, Montevallo; three sisters, Mrs. Millie Miller, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Lizzie Pope, Columbiana, and Mrs. Sallie Purnell, Montevallo; four brothers, James Prentice, Montevallo; Bryant Prentice, Cleveland, Ohio; Tom Prentice, Pittsburg, Ohio; and Eddie Prentice, Liverpool, Ohio.

Let's Keep Going With Jack Owen

(EDITORIAL)

There has been recently much speculation and suggestions about candidates for Governor next year. Several writers have come forth with reasons why the State should not elect prospective candidates to our highest office.

One says a candidate should not be elected because he is the tool of big business. It is suggested that another candidate should not be Governor because he is a Dixiecrat. Another writer says a candidate should not be elected because he is a Truman Democrat. Another, it is said, is objectionable because he is an Eisenhower Democrat. Jim Folsom is ruled out by some because they feel that his former administration was beneath the dignity of the State. Other suggested objections are that a candidate is pro-labor; another is anti-labor, and so on.

I do not agree with this negative approach in selection of a candidate. The test of who should be Governor should not be made on who is for or against certain groups or interests in the State. I think we should establish our selection of a candidate upon the plain proposition of who is best fitted by background, character, training, ability and experience, to be Governor for all the people of Alabama.

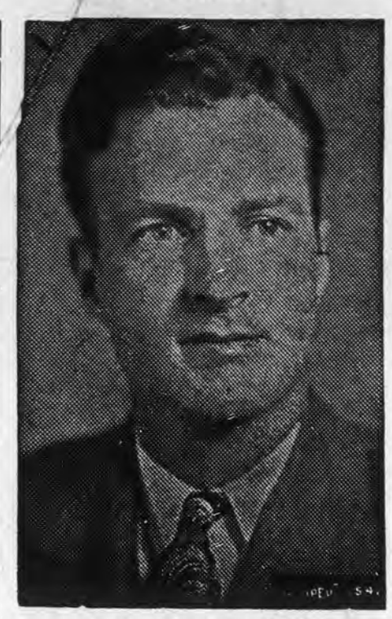

Therefore, upon this basis, and after fully appraising all possible candidates, I have made up my mind to join with those who have advocated the candidacy of Jack Owen. We voters of Alabama have heretofore elected Owen to high office and he has proved by his record that he is worthy and qualified to administer the State's business, both in the scale of his present and former fields and upon the broader basis of Governor.

It is my belief that if the people of Alabama will lay down their "isms" and "scisms" and begin looking for the kind of a Governor we should have, they will find him in Jack Owen.

I have made a searching study of the man from his beginning. I am convinced that he meets the test of every requirement and qualificatioin that should be applied in choosing a candidate for Governor.

Jack Owen was a poor boy who started out in life in a position lower than the bottom of the ladder of opportunity. He has won success against every handicap, keeping unsullied the high principles of character, integrity and honor, with justice to all. His head has not been turned by his successes and achievements. There is no man in Alabama whose life offers a better example to the poor underprivileged youth who are faced with the grim task of honorable and successful accomplishment. Those who look down the long hard road may well take courage in the realization that Jack Owen did it—so can I.

In support of my opinions and conclusions I submit the following which I have pieced together as the true and authentic story of the life and accomplishments of Jack Owen.

C. C. (Jack) OWEN

The Family Bible

I started with his old family Bible which records his birth on October 1, 1915, in a coal miner's family in West Blocton, in Bibb County. He was the fifth child in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Owen. His parents were very, very poor people. His father was a coal miner. His childhood days were constantly shadowed by the handicap of poverty. There was scarcely anything in or about this coal mining camp in Alabama in 1915 that could inspire. There was no electricity in the homes; no water system; no telephone. Only food, clothing and shelter were the prime motives of every laborer of this small community. The only thing that could be surmised as a lifting force for a youth of that day and time was the possibility that he might have born in him the never dying spark of innate American determination to rise above circumstances of poverty.

From Mine to Farm

Next we see him in the early years of his youth when his family had moved to a 20-acre farm at Eoline, in Bibb County. Here he was a typical hard-working boy, doing his part on the farm.

He was a virile youth in his teens. He could and did hard manual labor. While his family was on the small farm, it was necessary for subsistence that additional dollars be brought into the family till. How Jack managed to dig for those precious extra dollars brings back an interesting light upon the subject of public roads in that time.

Every able-bodied man was rejuired to work a stipulated number of days on the public roads for maintenance, or to pay in lieu thereof a certain amount of money. Work was recognized as the more acceptable. Many men, instead of working or paying, hired someone to work in their places. This was a source of cash income for a boy like Jack who had not reached the age of road subject. He could hire himself out to work in the place of various men on the public roads, and thereby earn the few extra dollars that were so vital in sustaining life of the family.

School had to have a place in the life of an ambitious boy in those days as well as now. Between working on the farm and on the roads, Jack managed to put in a few months each year walking several miles each day to attend a two-room school. Despite the little time he seemed to have to devote to school, this was the flickering little flame that fired the light of ambition in the life of Jack Owen. He saw the vision of a life that spread out in far more attractive vistas than that which was bound by the narrow limits of a hired laborer on the public roads.

Starting His Education

It was in the depression years of the 30's that Jack Owen struck out on his own to break down the barrier that stood between him and the life of greater opportunity through the door of education. He had to leave home to launch himself upon this quest and he had to have a job to earn the money necessary to sustain him. Jobs were hard to find in those days. He found two trusting note-endorsers who made it possible for him to borrow $150 and he leased a small filling station near Bibb County High School, which he was attending. Thus Jack Owen was in business and in school.

His natural friendliness with people and his determination for success built him a profitable little business. To this he added his earnings as high school janitor to pay his school expenses, while using a storage room at the high school to sleep in. It was a lot of work, but there was a little time to play. He earned a letter in football. During summer months he hired his brother to run the filling station while he worked for the AAA measuring cotton and corn acreage.

Goes To Auburn

In the fall of 1935 Jack Owen entered Auburn. Still he had a problem to pay his way in college and provide for his folks at home. He had more to do than merely go to college. He rented a filling station. After a period of rough going it began to pay off. He expanded his earning operations by a candy and milk route at night. His customers were fellow-students who were able to pay their way without work. Jack gave other underprivileged college boys employment in the enterprises which he fostered.

His record at Auburn was outstanding in point of scholarship, notwithstanding the time and work he had to employ to sustain himself financially. He attributes his success in college to the friends he made there. His fellows were impressed with his natural ability to get things done, to organize and to lead. Now and in future years the modest, friendly, yet rigid determination of Jack Owen will stick in the memory of those with whom he was associated.

At Auburn Jack Owen was a member of Blue Key Honor Fraternity; elected Chairman of the Social Committee; Chairman, Ring Committee; Vice-President, Executive Cabinet; member, Agriculture Club; and was listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," Jack was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, Social Fraternity. He graduated in 1939 with a B.S. degree in agricultural science and went to work as an assistant county agent with the Alabama Extension Service.

His War Service

Immediately after Pearl Harbor Jack Owen volunteered for military service and enlisted with the Marines as a dive bomber. He served 41 months in the South Pacific with a brilliant record. He was discharged in 1945, with the distinguished flying cross and three air medals.

Back in Business and Politics

Returning to civilian life he began a wholesale lumber business in Tuscaloosa. He had an urge to get into state politics and qualified to run for Associate Member of the A.P.S.C. None of the top politicians of the State had ever heard of him and they had no idea he could seriously challenge the stronghold of the veteran, Clint Harrison, a widely know and well-entrenched member of the old school of Alabama politicians. However, when the final vote was tallied it was found that Jack Owen was elected by 95,000 majority. How could such a thing happen? The politicians wondered. They found the answer when they looked back into the history of Jack Owen's life and saw the spirit of determination that had made him able to surmount his many seemingly impossible barriers. They found that Jack Owen had somehow acquired a formidable army of friends and supporters in every county of the State who had seen in him the promise of the kind of a man who could be depended upon to do any job with which he might be entrusted.

Re-elected in 1950

In 1950 he offered for re-election. Again his friends all over Alabama rallied to his support and he won over another powerful and respetced opponent, Howell Turner.

In 1952 he ran for President of the Alabama Public Service Commission. His opposition was heavy, coming from a number of political leaders whose personal ambitions of the future would best be served by having Jack Owen cut down. But again the Owen supporters all over Alabama rallied to his cause and he was comfortably elected.

His Record In Office

Now we can look at the record of Jack Owen as an official in an important capacity in Alabama. Thereby we find vindication of the support and confidence his friends have given him so loyally. His record gives assurance of his worthiness and ability for greater and broader public service in future. If he runs for Governor, his vast army of suporters througout Alabama will give him a backing that will again surprise somebody when the votes are counted.

As a member and as President of the Public Service Commission, Jack Owen dealt with many big problems that have vitally concerned the people of Alabama in all walks of life. His decisions have been fair, honest, and equitable. They have been reached by his natural ability to understand and to interpret the correct interest of every person concerned.

Looking at the panorama of the life and experience of Jack Owen, it appears reasonable that his friends and supporters may well offer him for the office of Governor of our State. It appears that all things in his past give support to the claim that he is a good man for Governor. Therefore we join in the hope that he will run and in assurance of our support if he does.

Personal Life

Soon after he graduated from cadet flying school he married an Anniston girl, Mary Frances Landers. They now have three children, Janie, Kittie, and Jackie. He is a member of the Episcopal Church.

The family life of Jack Owen is the kind that elicits the admiration of all Christian people. He is a good husband for a good wife and mother of his three children. He works hard at his job and he plays with his family. He keeps the scales of life balanced, because his life and broad experience has taught him how to properly weigh the human and spiritual with the material values of life.

Born into a coal mining family, working and struggling for existence, education, and position in life, it is safe to assume that Jack Owen knows what is fair for working people of Alabama.

As a college graduate he knows what it is for a person to obtain an education in Alabama. He has been through every conceivable phase of our school system and therefore knows education's problems.

As Public Service Commissioner member and President he has dealt with big business. He knows it's place in our commercial and economic life.

As a farm boy, with college training in agriculture he knows our farm situation from bottom to top.

He knows government and politics in Alabama. He has inumerable friends and supporters in every group, class, and segment of the State's political activities. All of whom recognize and proclaim his superb qualities of character, humility, and ability to get a good job done, even if it has to be done the hardest way.

The thing that makes Jack Owen the hero and champion of his thousands of supporters is the fact that they know if he comes face to face with a problem that has no visible means of solution, he will find a way to do it, and do it right. It is his unyielding determination in the face of all odds that has made him the champion of good, sound, practical, common-sense principles in personal and public life. No wonder there are so many people in Alabama who will work to elect him Governor if he wants to take the job.

Half Million Taxes By Alabama Power To State Schools

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 1—Today, Alabama Power Company paid approximately half a million dollars into the Alabama Special Educational Trust Fund at Montgomery in taxes on kilowatt hours manufactured at hydro-plants and sold in Alabama. The entire sum, $495,486, will be apportioned by the state to county school systems, institutions of higher learning, and cities which operate their own school systems.

Of the approximate half-million dollars paid by Alabama Power Company, today, institutions of higher learning will receive about $70,400; elementary and high schools, $378,206; and other educational services, $46,880.

Counties which will receive more than $5,000 from the Power Company's kilowatt hour tax payment are: Baldwin, Calhoun, Chambers, Colbert, Covington, Cullman, Dallas, DeKalb, Etowah, Houston, Jackson, Jefferson, Lauderdale, Madison, Marshall, Mobile, Montgomery, Morgan, Talladega, Tuscaloosa and Walker.

The tax on kilowatt hours manufactured at hydro-plants and sold in the State of Alabama is separate and above ad valorem and other state taxes. The Alabama Power Company's total tax bill for 1953, including Federal taxes, will approximate $17,000,000, of which around $1,600,000 will find its way into educational systems and other educational activities.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

J. L. Nivens, near Wilsonville, believes if a thing is worth doing it's worth doing right. On the day last week when his new farm plan No. 657 in Shelby County was delivered to him he proved that to us. Seven acres of old pasture had been double plowed, disced thoroughly, 600 lbs per acre of 6-8-4 spread, and seed cultipacked in.

The crop? Why, Chapel Hill rescue grass and white clover, one of the many combinations possible with this fine SCS developed winter grass.

Last fall we ran a list of planters of Chapel Hill rescue grass so that other farmers might know where to see it growing. This year a list of those not using it might be shorter.

Some of those not using rescue grass have the excellent reason that they sell seed oats or other small grain. Any reseeding winter grass could complicate things with pure seed production of small grains.

Near Montevallo the Waters farm is a beehive of activity with N. H. Waters and his farmers planting pastures and winter grazing by the hundreds of acres. Already having some of the best in both sheep and cattle Mr. Waters is determined to have pastures to match. He is using a complicated pasture mix of fescue, orchard grass, legumes and small grain, and has planted fifty acres of rescue and clover. He is fertilizing well, and doing a thorough job of perparation except where rescue is being added to sericea.

JOHN T. COLEMAN, a Southern Bell telephone man, rushed to the rescue when a lady fell into a 25-foot well at Anniston, Alabama. She was clinging—almost exhausted—to the well in 10 feet of water.

HE SAVED A LIFE WITH A GARDEN HOSE...

Making quick use of what was at hand, Mr. Coleman tied a length of garden hose to a tree, lowered himself into the well and supported the lady above water until she could be raised to safety with a rope. Then he applied first aid before an ambulance arrived.

A courageous act? Yes. But equally important, quick thinking in an emergency. It speaks well of the type of men and women who provide your telephone service — often going beyond the call of duty.

Frank Morgan Visits New Jersey

Mr. Frank Morgan enjoyed a delightful trip to New Jersey. He went up on the Silver Comet, arriving in Newark at 1:30 p.m., last Friday, and was met by his sister, Mrs. N. G. Burgess, (Louise Morgan) and Mr. and Mrs. Hans Angelkorte (Georgia Morgan). After a most pleasant reunion with his mother, Mrs. George Morgan, and visits with Mrs. Burgess and sons, Nickey and John, in Bloomfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Angelkorte in Bellville, he and his mohter, Mrs. Morgan, returned home Tuesday evening.

They came back by plane, leaving the Newark Airport at 2:25 p.m. and arriving in Birmingham at 8 p.m This was the first flight for either, but both enjoyed every minute of the trip.

Mrs. Morgan, who has been with her daughters for the past 16 months is happy to be home, but hated te leave the many friends she had made while in New Jersey. Before leaving, there were teas and going away parties in her honor and a number of friends were at the airport to wish her "God Speed."

Mrs. Frank Morgan, George Will and Mr. Pat McConaughy met them at the airport.

The many friends of Mrs. Morgan are happy to have her home again.

The Cub Scouts

The Montevallo Cub Scout Pack 59 held their first Fall business meeting on Tuesday of this week. John Mader, local cubmaster, conducted the meeting.

Donald Springen accepted the post of assistant cubmaster. Mrs. Warnke and Mrs. J. F. Wyatt are Den Mothers of Den 1. This was the only Den that had 100 per cent representation at the meting. Mrs. Sims and Mrs. Brown are the new Den Mothers of Den 2. They are replacing Mrs. Edwards, who has served since the Pack was organized. The Pack is still looking for two interested mothers to take charge of Den 3. Mrs. Dennis, the former Den Mother, has also served since the Pack was organized.

Three committees were established at the meeting. The Ideas Committee, composed of Mrs. Barclay (chairman), Mr. Peete, and Mrs. Scott, are investigating possible activities for the November Theme, "Harvest Fair." The Finance Commitee, made up of Mrs. James F. Wyatt, Pat Wyatt, and Earl McGaughy, are looking into Pack finance for the coming year. A temporary committee, composed of Mrs. Warnke, Mrs. James F. Wyatt and Mrs. Sims, is investigating possible meeting places for the Dens.

It was decided that the October Pack meeting will be held in the Elementary School Cafeteria on October 30, at 7 p.m. The Theme? "A Good Ole Fashioned Hallo'ween Party." Be sure and come and see how your boys are doing.

Dr. Francis Pendleton Gaines Is Speaker At Inauguration of President Lund

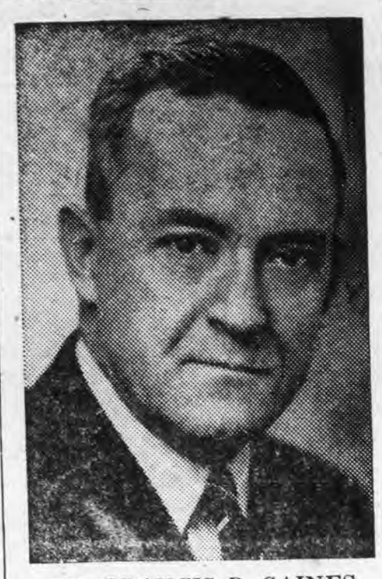

Dr. Francis Pendleton Gaines, President of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia, will deliver the principal address at the inauguration of Dr. F. Edward Lund as President of Alabama College at 11:00 o'clock Saturday morning, October 17 in Palmer Hall on the Montevallo campus.

Dr. Gaines is President of the University from which Dr. Lund received his A.B. and M. A. degrees and his membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

A former trustee of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and former President of Wake Forest University, Dr. Gaines has been active in educational and public affairs in the South for more than 25 years. He is a former President of the Southern University Conference and the Association of American Colleges. Well known as one of the South's colorful speakers, Dr. Gaines became President of Washington and Lee in 1930.

Saturday morning's inaugural ceremonies will get under way at 10:30 a.m. when some 75 representatives of colleges, universities and learned societies and Alabama College's Board of Trustees, faculty and senior class will form an academic procession along the President's drive. Wearing the traditional academic caps, gowns, and colorful hoods, the procession will move into Palmer Hall at 11:00 a.m.

After the processional and invocation delivered by the Rt. Rev. Charles C. J. Carpenter, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Alabama, greetings will be brought from the Alabama College faculty by Professor C. G. Sharp; from the student body by Alice Jane White, President of the Student Government Association; and from the Alumnae Association by Mrs. Sue E. Gillespie.

DR. FRANCIS P. GAINES

Dr. Richard Powers, Dean of the College will preside at Saturday morning's ceremonies and will introduce Dr. Gaines.

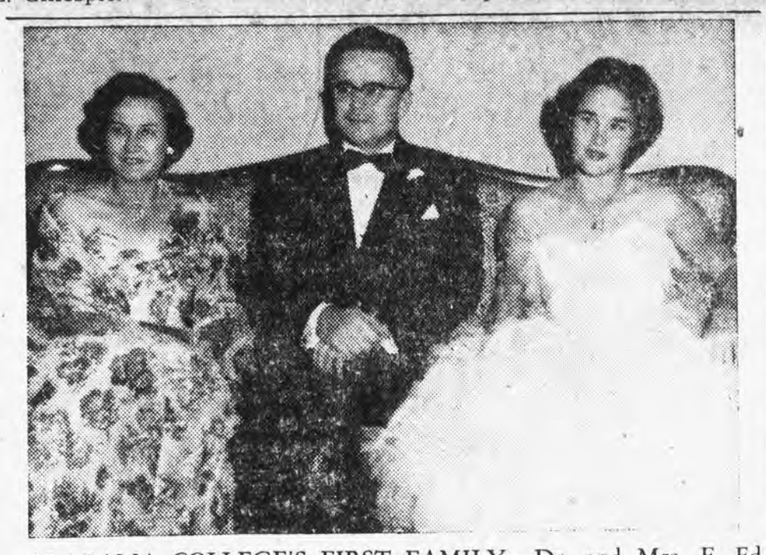

After the actual investiture of President Lund which will be performed by Nelson Fuller, Chairman of the Executive Committee, Alabama College Board of Trustees, Dr. Lund will deliver his inaugural remarks.

Dr. T. H. Napier, Dean Emeritus of the College will recognize official delegates to the inauguration.

Highlights of Saturday morning's ceremonies, including the address by Dr. Gaines and Dr. Lund's inaugural remarks will be broadcast by radio Saturday night beginning at 9 p.m. over WAPI and WAFM, Birmingham and 25 other Alabama radio stations.

Friday's ceremonies include an inaugural dinner at 6 p.m. and an inaugural concert by Irene Jordan, Metropolitan Opera soprano.

Inaugural ceremonies will close Saturday afternoon when Dr. and Mrs. Lund will entertain guests at a reception on Flowerhill.

ALABAMA COLLEGE'S FIRST FAMILY—Dr. and Mrs. F. Edward Lund and daughter, Sigrid, will be honored during the colorful two day inaugural ceremonies for Dr. Lund when he is installed as Alabama College's seventh President. Ceremonies will be held on Friday and Saturday, October 16 and 17.

Dr. F. Edward Lund who will be inaugurated Saturday morning as Alabama College's seventh President received his education in three countries, China, Canada and the United States.

The son of an Episcopal minister, Dr. Lund attended the Kuling and Shanghai American schools in China until coming to the United States where he entered the Deveaux Academy, Niagara Falls, New York.

Before entering Washington and Lee University where he received his A.B. and M.A. degrees, Dr. Lund attended Trinity College of the University of Toronto for two years. His doctoral work was in the field of British Colonial History and he received his Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin. Upon completion of his doctorate, Dr. Lund was granted a year's work as a Research Fellow at Yale University.

Prior to coming to Alabama College as President in July of 1952, Dr. Lund was a member of the faculty of Washington and Lee; Wisconsin State College, Superior, Wisconsin; and served as Chairman of the Department of History and Social Sciences, Dean and Acting President of State Teachers College, Florence, Ala.

A Phi Beta Kappa and Howard Houston Teaching Fellow at Washington and Lee President Lund was a Fellow in European History at the University of Wisconsin for two years.

Dr. Lund has held many educational positions in the South including the Presidency of the Alabama Association of College Administrators. He is a member of the National Education Association; Alabama Education Association; the American and Alabama Historical Associations; Rotary International; Kappa Phi Kappa; and Delta Upsilon. President of the Tennessee Valley Convocation of Episcopal Laymen from 1950 to 1952 President Lund was a member of the Executive Committee of the Episcopal Diocese of Alabama in 1951 and 1952.

Mrs. Lund is the former Martha Louise Gray of Elkmont, Alabama. The Lunds have one daughter, Sigrid, who is attending Montevallo High School.

Montevallo P T A First Meeting

The first meeting of the Montevallo Laboratory School Parent-Teachers Association was held on Monday, October 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

Mrs. W. G. Hicks, second vice-president and program chairman reviewed the programs for the year.

Using the year's theme, "Do You Know Your School?", Mr. John B. Mader, Speech Correctionist, Speech Department at Alabama College, spoke on the need for aids for the child with hearing or speech defects, the importance of early correction, and how parents and teachers, can help with the development of this program. Mr. Mader is directing the Speech Clinic at Alabama College which is the oldest clinic of this type in the state.

Yearbooks were distributed to 125 members. After the meeting, parents of Miss Ann Grove's Junior High, grade 7, were hostesses to the group. These parents were Dr. Lois Ackerly, Mrs. Ashley Jeter, Mrs. Murphy McGehee, and Mrs. C. S. Jones Jr., hospitality chairman of the PTA.

The next meeting will be held November 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. The program consists of a String Ensemble directed by Miss Claire Ordway, Music Faculty, Alabama College, group discussions about school activities stressing band, Athletic Association, and Stringed Instruments.

At each meeting there will be a question box in which parents may place unsigned questions regarding the school which they may wish discussed and answered at the meetings.

Chest Assembly Held Meeting

The Montevallo Community Chest Assembly met Monday night at the City Hall and voted unanimously to continue the Community Chest program for the coming year. Mr. Lee A. Barclay, chairman of the Assembly, presided. The Assembly is composed of representatives of organizations of the town.

Mr. T. E. Watson, chairman of the Community Chest Board presented a report of the activities of the Board for the past year. Mr. Watson was commended on his report and was instructed to turn it over to the incoming Community Chest Board to be published at a later date.

New members elected to the Community Chest Board were Miss Virginia Hendrick, Mrs. S. C. Jones, and Mr. E. G. Mahaffey, with terms to expire in 1956. Members whose terms expire this year are Mr. T. E. Watson, and Mrs. M. L. Triplett.

Officers elected for the Assembly for 1954 were Mr. Lee A. Barclay, chairman, and Mrs. C. O. Nordan, secretary.

Senator Faulkner To Speak To Rotary Club

J. H. FAULKNER

J. H. Faulkner, senator from Bay Minette, Ala., will be guest speaker at the Montevallo Rotary Club on October 22. Mr. Faulkner recently served on the special committee appointed by Gov. Persons to make a detailed study of the needs of education of Alabama. He has also served as Mayor of Bay Minette and has been president of Alabama Press Association. Much attention has been given recently to his support and passage of farm legislation and to his interest in education in Alabama.

Girl Scouts Council Met

The Montevallo Girl Scout Council met Tuesday, October 6, at the Little House. Present were Mrs. James Higgins, Mrs. A. W. Vaughn, Mrs. O. B. Cooper, Mrs. A. C. Jeter, Mrs. Henry Peete, Mrs. C. B. Roden, Mrs. S. C. Jones, Mrs. G. P. Rogan, Mrs. James Whaley, Mrs. M. L. Orr Jr., Mrs. Albert Scott, Miss Eloise Booker, and Miss Frances Woods.

Intermediate Scouts will meet at 3:00 on Monday afternoon at the Little House. Mrs. C. B. Roden is the leader of this group and Miss Sue Baughn will assist her. The Intermediate Troop has 23 Scouts.

Brownies will meet at 3:00 on Thursday afternoon at the Little House under the direction of Mrs. Julia Robinson and Mrs. Frank Thiemonge. Miss Eloise Booker, Home Economist with the Alabama Power Company here and member of the Girl Scout Council, will work with Brownies on a learn-to-cook project this fall.

Plans are under way to organize a troop of Mariners in Montevallo.

Shelby County Courthouse To Get New Annex

In 1954, a three-story building with a modern jail on the third floor will be an addition to the Shelby County Courthouse.

The new structure will be annexed to the Courthouse by extending the present lobby into a corridor joining the two buildings. The Courthouse and the new building will be air conditioned.

County offices, now scattered in various buildings, will be housed in the addition. The Welfare Department, the Health Department and the county engineer's office will be located on the first floor.

The second floor will provide offices for the Education Department, the Extension Department, including offices for the county agent and home demonstration agent and a modern kitchen for home demonstration purposes. The Conservation Department, the FHA, and the Veterans and Forestry Departments will be located on this floor. An auditorium will be located on the second floor.

In the jail on the third floor, there will be separate quarters for juveniles and adults. There will be a modern kitchen where meals will be prepared. And offices for the sheriff and his staff will be located on this floor.

Probate Judge L. C. Walker, chairman of the Board of Revenue and Control, and members of the board, Offie Stinson, Fred McLendon. T. R. Nash and J. H. Thompson, began plans for the building when they announced that the last payment had been made on the county's debt at the close of the fiscal year.

Date Set For Funds Requests

The Montevallo Community Chest held its first meeting of the year yesterday at the City Hall. It was the organizational meeting and the following officers were elected: Mr. Guy Milford, chairman; Mr. Eddie Mahaffey, vice chairman; Mrs. L. H.. Hubbard, secretary. Mr. Mahaffey will serve as chairman of the fund drive this year. Other members of the board are: Dr. Charles Gormley, Mrs. Mary H. Whatley, Mrs. Pauline Rogan, Mrs. S. C. Jones, and Miss Virginia Hendrick.

The Board announces that it will hold its next meeting Wednesday, October 21 at 4 p.m. at which time it will hear requests from all agencies who are eligible to participate in the fund drive this year. After hearing the requests from these agencies the board will prepare the budget for the year and organize the drive.

Agencies who wish to participate in the drive this year should have a representative at the meeting next Wednesday prepared to present its request for funds.

Sixty eight members of the Montevallo FFA attended the State Fair as a group last Wednesday on school day. On the preceding day a special dedication had been held making a presentation of the new agriculture building on the fair grounds which will house the annual exhibits of FFA and FHA. Many of the FFA members found much interest in the livestock, poultry, and other farm exhibits. They saw a duroc boar said to weigh 1000 pounds. During last week the boys discussed the educational and recreational features of the fair.

D A R Meeting

Mrs. O. B. Cooper and Miss Emma Dendy entertained David Lindsay Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution at the Westminster House on Monday night. After the usual ritual and the President General's message, Mrs. Charles Gormley gave a splendid report of the State Civil Defense Conference recently held in Montevallo.

"My Most Unforgettable Experience Abroad" was the topic of the talks by the three members on the program. These ladies, Mrs. B. F. Roden, Mrs. E. D. Reynolds, and Miss Eloise Meroney, who spent the summer in Europe, gave the Chapter an interesting account of their travels.

Refreshments were served during the delightful social hour.—October 13, 1953.—Julia M. Boyd, Publicity Chairman, David Lindsay Chapter, D. A. R.

Dairy Exhibits At State Fair

Shelby County 4-H boys and girls exhibited 38 registered dairy animals at the Alabama State Fair last week. When the final judging was completed four National trips were won by Shelby County boys. Lee Palmer, Chelsea 4-H Club, won his trip with a first place Junior calf in the Jersey Show. Ralph Bearden, Helena 4-H Club, actually won three trips, but could take only one at this time. He had two first prize Jersey heifers and also Junior Champion. He also won the State Showmanship title and a trip in November to the National 4-H Congress. Tony Kent, Siluria 4-H Club, won a trip with a first place Junior Yearling Heifer in the Guernsey Show. Shelby County boys won four of sixteen places in the Junior Show. Each boy and girl competing in the State show are commended for their excellent job of fitting and showing their calves.

We looked around for a farewell card that we could send to you,

But we couldn't find a single one that somehow seemed to do.

They didn't say what we wanted to say—We thought we could do it better,

So this is the reason you're getting, today, this simple farewell letter.

And we would feel that something had been left undone were we to overlook this opportunity of thanking you for the business you have given us in the past. Your patronage has been very much appreciated and our love and good wishes are with you all. ## Auxiliary Offers Educational Aids To Children

Bringing children of war veterans into contact with the educational aids available to them is a special project being carried out during October by American Legion Auxiliary Units in every part of the country, Mrs. Charles Rew, Auburn, chairman of the Education of Orphans of Veterans Committee of the Department of Alabama, has announced.

Mrs. Rew's committee is endeavoring to get information on scholarships and other aids to children of veterans now beginning their senior year in high school in order that they may prepare to secure needed help when they enter college next year.

"There are many thousands of scholarships, loan funds, gratitudes, prizes and other educational aids offered by colleges, foundations, private organizations, and by federal and state legislation," Mrs. Rew said. "The U. S. Office of Education polled 1,198 institutions of higher learning and found 141,554 scholarships with a value of more than 31 million dollars. Many scholarships are for children of men who have defended America against its enemies.

"The Federal Government continues the compensation of war orphans and children of veterans who have service connected disabilities of more than fifty per cent, if these children remain in school beyond the age of 18, when the compensation normally stops. Forty states have laws which authorize educational assistance to children of veterans, particularly those of deceased or disabled veterans. There are private scholarships which help many children of veterans receive higher education, such as the La Verne Noyes Scholarships for children of World War I veterans, and the Maude E. Warwick Scholarships for orphans of World War II. The Auxiliary has many scholarships financed from its own funds.

Homecoming At Thompson High

A parade of floats showing scenes from the months of the year and also the seasons will start homecoming festivities here on Friday, October 16 at 1 p.m., preceding the annual football game with Calera at the Buck Creek Stadium.

A king and queen from the elementary school and from the high school will reign that day and an attendant from each section room in the school will serve their queens. Kings, Queens and Attendants will be announced at noon on Thursday, October 15.

Mrs. Buford Maddox is chairman of arrangements and serving with her, a committee of parents: Mrs. Garnett Lacey, Mrs. Burrel Brannon and Mrs. Mary Holbrook.

The band under the leadership of Mr. Frank Kendeigh, is planning an elaborate half-time presentation of special homecoming formations and the high school king, queen and attendants will be presented at that time.

Do you remember when every house in town had air conditioning, only instead of being fastened to a window it was attached to the front of the house and you sat on it in a rocking chair?

Dr. F. L. Hambrick To Be At Thompson High

Dr. F. L. Hambrick, professor of elementary education at Colorado State College of Education in Greeley, Colorado, will conduct curriculum improvement study at the Thompson schools the week beginning Monday, October 26. Dr. Hambrick will be working with the entire staff of the Thompson schools and with the curriculum committee. He will conduct demonstration teaching illustrating with major emphasis on the problem solving method of teaching. Discussion groups with parents of this school community will be conducted during one or more sessions during this week.

Dr. Hambrick's visit to this campus is another step toward the develpoment of a sound program of instruction here and comes as a part of the follow-up self study being made by the staff of the Thompson schools in conjunction with the recommendations made by the Southern Association Visiting Committee while they were on the campus two years ago.

Dr. Hambrick is considered an outstanding specialist in the field of curriculum and at the present time is completing a book on improvement of instruction for McGraw and Hill Publishing Company which is to be released at an early date.

Dr. Hambrick is considered a national authority in the field of elementary education and the supervision of elementary teachers. He received a doctor of education degree from Stanford University in June 1951. He is a native of Alabama.

In 1947 he became a member of the staff of the elementary school division of the U. S. Office of Education in Washington, D. C. He was employed by the government as a specialist in soical studies. He has been at Colorado State since 1948.

With settings during World II the play's action centers about the life of a young scrub girl in London's slums who dreams she is Cinderella.

Appearing in the three act play will be 43 Alabama College students.

Youngest Lady Elephant Trainer With Circus

No circus is complete without the lumbering pachyderms and the Kelly and Morris Circus being complete not only boasts of its elephants but has the world's youngest lady elephant trainer, Miss Je-Bernie Morris.

Miss Morris has been raised with the circus, and the animal stars of the big top have been her playmates. It is only natural that she would readily understand the habits and traits of these animals and make an excellent trainer of them.

There is probably no more useful adjunct to a circus than the elephant, for it plays the dual role of performer and worker. You see them doing difficult acts in the ring and taking their much warranted applause like old troupers proud of their training and the glittering accoutrements. And equally as proud in their strength as they come to the aid of bogged-down rolling stock on the lot and raise the poles of the mammouth big top.

The Kelly and Morris Circus is being brought to Montevallo by the American Legion and will exhibit Tuesday, October 20, at Fancher's Field.

Revival Services To Be Held At The Baptist Church

Rev. Edgar M. Arendall, Pastor of the L. O. Dawson Memorial Baptist Church Homewood, Ala., will be the Pastor-Evangelist the series of Evangelistic services at the Baptist Church next week.

Rev. Arendall has been used widey as an evangelist and has had great success as a pastor. The church where he is pastor has grown tremendously during the years he has served there, both in its physical plant and in its growth in membership. In recent weeks Brother Arendall has led in an Evangelistic meeting in one of our western states, where there is an enlargement of our mission program.

We count it a privilege to have this young man to lead a revival in the Montevallo Baptist Church and we feel that he will thrill all who attend with his straight forward Gospel messages.

The public is cordially invited to attend all the services which are as follows:

Each morning, Monday through Friday, at 7:15 to 7:45 a.m. at the church. Each day, Monday through Friday, 12:05 to 12:25 noon at Reynolds Hall. Each evening 7:30 p.m. at the Church.

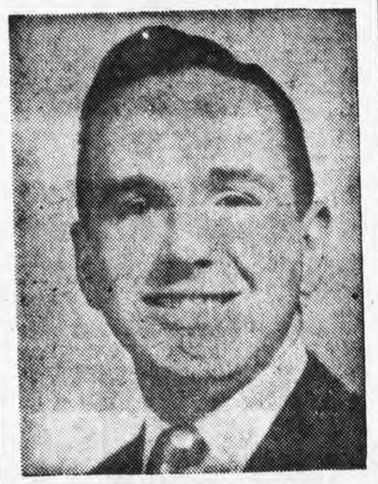

Mr. Charles Carter, a student at Howard College, will lead the singing and bring special music for the services.

Methodist Church

Rev. O. Kyle Lamb, who has recently come to the pastorate of the Montevallo Methodist Church from Florence, Alabama, will fill the pulpit of his church twice Sunday, October 25. The subject of the morning sermon will be "What Did He Get?" and the subject of the evening service will be "God Will Give Meaning to Life."

Rev. Lamb is not a stranger to the people of this section, for the four years before going to Florence he was District Superintendent of the Tuscaloosa District, and Montevallo is within the bounds of the Tuscaloosa District.

Mr. Lamb, in addition to being pastor of the Methodist Church, will have charge of the Wesley Foundation for the Methodist students of Alabama College. For a period of five years Rev. Lamb was in charge of the Wesley Foundation for the Methodist students at the University of Alabama.

Camp Branch 4-H Club News

Pat Mooney will direct the activities of the Camp Branch Girl's 4-H Club. Other officers are vice president, Mary Wilson; secretary-treasurer, Peggy Wells; song leader, Joyce Moore and Linda Iris Moore, and reporter, Hilda Jean Creamer.

A demonstration on "Seat Covers for Straight Chairs" was given by the home agent, Miss Cotney.

The Club held its first meeting Monday, October 12th at 1:15 p.m. with 29 members present. The next meeting will be Friday, November 20, 1953.

Nelson And Neal To Appear On Concert and Lecture

The Australian-American two piano team, Nelson and Neal will appear as the second feature of Alabama College's Concert and Lecture series for the 1953-54 season, Wednesday night, October 28 at 8 p.m. in Palmer Hall on the Montevallo campus.

Averaging over 100 recitals, orchestral appearances and radio and television broadcasts per year, Nelson and Neal celebrated their fifth anniversary as a team by presenting a duo-piano recital in New York's Town Hall earlier this month.

Allison Nelson, who in private life is Mrs. Harry Neal, was a well known Australian pianist appearing regularly with the Australian Broadcasting Commission's Celebrity Concert Circuit before she teamed with Harry Lee Neal, a brilliant young American musician. The team of Nelson and Neal was formed while both were attending the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. Together they have appeared in concert and recital throughout Australia, Canada and the United States.

Wednesday night's program will include: Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring;" Sonata in D Major, Mozart; Children's Games, Opus 22 by George Bizet; Benjamin Britten's Introduction and Rondo Alla Burlesca; Five Waltzes, Opus 39 by Johannes Brahms; Debussy's "Afternoon of a Faun;" and Maurice Ravel's "La Valse."

Mrs. Cahaba Fancher

Mrs. Cahaba R. Fancher, age 85, a resident of Montevallo for the past 30 years, died at her home at 2:15 Wednesday morning.

The deceased was the widow of the late P. M. Fancher, who died fifteen years ago.

On November 16, 1886, Miss Cahaba R. McGuire was married to Mr. P. M. Fancher by the Rev. J. M. McCord at the home of the bride's father, Mr. L. T. McGuire, in Carlton Hill, Bibb County, Alaoama.

She is survived by four sons; R. M. Fancher, Gadsden; D. W. Fancher, Tuscaloosa; Alex D. Fancher and G.. F. Fancher, Birmingham. Six daughters: Mrs. F. W. Killingsworth, Dallas, Texas; Mrs. Hal McKinney, Harmony, Minn.; Mrs. A.. Z. East, Austin, Texas; Mrs. Eloise Carter, Calera; and Miss Beatrice Fancher, Montevallo. One brother, Urick McGuire, Memphis, Tenn. Nineteen grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 11 a.m. at the Baptist Church with the Rev. Edward Glover officiating. Burial will be in Montevallo Cemetery with Bolton-Walton directing.

Wheeler Foshee Promoted As Cadet

Gainesville, Ga. — "Permanent" promotions, based on the academic, military and conduct record of previous years along with a rigorious try-out period this fall, have just been announced for the Corps of Cadets of Riverside Military Academy of this city and Hollywood, Florida. Particular importance attaches to these assignments since Riverside is an essentially military school with the highest official Department of the Army rating for thirty years since first designated as an Honor School in 1923.

Among those promoted is Cadet Wheeler R. Foshee, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Foshee of Montevallo. Cadet Foshee, who was recently elected to the Horton Society and the Cadet Council, two of Riverside's top leadership groups, was advanced to the grade of Master Sergeant, assigned to Company "C". He is one of the better known members of Riverside's Junior Class.

Halloween Festival At Pelham School

There will be a Halloween Festival at Pelham School Saturday night, October 24, beginning at 6 p.m. Food such as hot dogs, coffee, cokes, candy, peanuts, popcorn annd cold drinks will be sold.

Come early and eat supper. The Queen and King of Halloween will be crowned at this time. A special feature will be a doll show exhibiting many unique dolls; some dolls will be over a hundred years old; dressed in same clothes as bought. Several prizes will be offered in the doll show.

There will be games for all ages; prizes; cake walks; spinning wheel; darts and other entertainment. All the public is invited.

Miss Lois Hoffman was the guest of Mrs. Joe Katz in Homewood from Friday to Sunday.

Miss Sibyl Pool Will Be Candidate For Member A P S C

Miss Sibyl Pool, presently holding the office of Secretary of State, makes the following announcement of her plans to be a candidate for Member of the Public Service Commission:

At the proper time I will qualify as a candidate for the office of Associate Member of the Public Service Commission, Place No. 2. I expect to conduct an intensive campaign. I promise to discharge the duties of the office fairly and efficiently and will continue to give the public the same courteous service I have given as Secretary of State and State Treasurer.

MISS SIBYL POOL

Public life began as Manager of Marengo County Farm Bureau and Secretary and Treasurer of the Linden Chamber of Commerce. Upon the resignation of a member of the State Legislature from that county in 1936, was nominated by the Democratic Executive Committee to fill the unexpired term. Thereafter elected to two terms as a member of the State Legislature from Marengo County. Upon a vacancy in the Office of Secretary of State, caused by the resignation of the then incumbent, Howell Turner, May 19, 1944, was appointed to serve out his unexpired term. At time of resignation from the Legislative post, was serving as a member of the following committees: Rules, Appropriations, Insurance and Insurance Companies, Revision of Laws, Corporation and Chairman of the Committee on County Organization. Elected Nov. 5, 1946 to a full term as Secretary of State of Alabama and carried sixty three out of sixty seven counties. Elected State Treasurer 1950 and polled largest vote ever cast for any candidate for any State Office in Alabama. Carried 65 out of 67 counties.

The Orientation School of Instruction for volunteer hospital workers was held Wed., Oct. 14, at the Veterans' Hospital in Tuscaloosa. Members of various organizations such as The American Legion Auxiliary, VFW, Red Cross, Gold Star Mothers, and Marine Corps Mothers' Auxiliary participate in this work. The State Legion Auxiliary president, Mrs. Matt Holmes and our own State First Vice President, Mrs. R. L. Woolley, attended this meeting.

Resolutions of Respect For Dr. Crawford

Whereas our Heavenly Father, in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to call to his eternal reward our beloved fellow member, Dr. James Howard Crawford, be it hereby resolved that:—

The Shelby County Medical Society has sustained an irreparable loss in his passing. He has been, for many years, a member of his County Medical Society, has at some time held every office in this Society and was, at the time of his death, a member of the Board of Health. His fellow members have learned, long since, to rely implicitly on his sound judgement, and he has contributed much to this Society.

He was a member of the Alabama State Medical Association and the American Medical Association.

Dr. Crawford had set for himself, high ideals and high principles and he unfalteringly lived up to those each day of his life. He adhered strictly to his code of ethics and was ever ready to extend a helping hand to the younger doctors in his community.

He was one of the pillars of his church and had served for many years as a member of its' Board of Stewards.

He contributed generously to every worthwhile civic endeavor, had served on the City Council and was intensely interested in the schools.

In an effort to show their appreciation of his worth, the citizens chose him "Shelby County's Man of the Year" in 1950.

Dr. Crawford was a devoted husband and father and with his gracious wife and two fine children, his lovely home was the essence of hospitality.

Dr. Crawford was an able physician, a good and loyal friend and a Christian gentleman. He led an exemplary life and was truly a credit to his profession. It is not often in a lifetime that one is privileged to be associated with and have for his friend, a man of such sterling character and outstanding attributes.

This Society deeply mourns his passing and extends to Mrs. Crawford, James and Bunnye, our deepest sympathy, and pledge to them our everlasting allegiance.

Be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Crawford family, a copy be supplied to the County's newspapers for publication and that a copy be spread upon the minutes of this Society as an everlasting tribute to our beloved friend.—Shelby County Medical Society, E. F. Sloan, M.D., Secretary.

Art Conference At Alabama College

Four leading Alabama architects will participate with interior designers and members of Alabama College's Department of Art in presenting a two day conference on "Arts in Our Surroundings." The conference is scheduled for Thursday and Friday, October 29 and 30, on the campus of Alabama College.

Sponsored by the Committee on Education, Society of Architects of the American Institute of Architects of Alabama; the Art Department of Alabama College; and the Club Service of Alabama College, the meeting's purpose is to bring together the architect and those responsibe for the fitness of homes, schools, and communities.

In announcing the conference Miss Dawn Kennedy, head of Alabama College's Department of Art pointed out that "Recent developments in modern technology, an ever increasing interest in art and a growing and changing philosophy of living have created new problems which demand fresh understanding, and a re-thinking of the kind of planning needed to meet new demands. This conference, has been assigned to provide opportunity for discussion of some of the problems which grow out of these developments."

Panel participants will include the following architects: Charles F. Davis, Birmingham; Moreland Griffith Smith, Montgomery; Robert W. Talley, School of Architecture, A.P.I.; and Arch R. Winters, Mobile. Others participating will include: Edwin Keith McPhetters, A.P.I.; Mrs. Roswell Falkenberry, Selma; Mrs. Leslie Hubbard and James A. Wyatt, Montevallo; Mrs. J. T. Phillips and Mrs. Charles Winkler, Birmingham; Dr. Lois Ackerly, Dr. M. L. Orr, Miss Josephine Eddy, and Mr. S. H. Hurt, Alabama College; and Mr. Mukul Dey, Indian Artist who is visiting artist at Alabama College.

Highlights of the two day conference will include panel discussions on "The Architect and the Client;" "What is new in design and materials;" "The Community and the Schools;" and an illustrated lecture on architecture and civilization.

Registration for the conference will start at 9:30 a.m. on Thursday, October 29 in Reynolds Hall on the Montevallo campus.

Alabama Masons Will Hold Annual Meeting

The Grand Lodge F&AM of Alabama which will hold its 133rd Annual Communication in the Masonic Temple, Montgomery, November 17-18, invites all representatives of the 494 Masonic Lodges within its jurisdiction to visit the Alabama Masonic Home and Farm situated on the outskirts of this historic city.

Grand Master Joseph S. Southall in commenting upon the obligation of Alabama's 70,000 members to support this institution, Masonry's greatest achievement states:

"In a peaceful and lovely grove, surrounded by rolling acres of productive farm land is your Alabama Masonic Home."

"It's stately buildings were erected because you and hundreds of other Masons saw the need for them."

"It's grounds and farmland have been made beautiful and productive because you agreed they should be a source of pride."

"It's people are happy and well cared for because you have so wished it."

"This then is your Alabama Masonic Home as it is today. What it will be in the future depends upon how all members of the Craft in Alabama support it now and in the future."

"Please contribute to the Million Dollar Endowment Fund now being raised for the permanent maintenance of the Masonic Home. Whatever you give, large or small, will be a gift of love to those far less fortunate than you —those who must, because of some misfortune, lean on you."

Miss Lois Hoffman is a student at Alabama College.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Elmer Davis reports he has planted 2 acres of button clover, doubly inoculated, on his land right here in Columbiana opposite the Baptist Church.

This fine clover is being used to advantage by many Shelby County farmers, but this will be the handiest planting to watch and study.

Maurice Poe's harvest of ball clover is going to many farms in Shelby, Chilton, Autauga, Baldwin and Talladega counties so far, with letters of inquiry from Miss. and Ga.

Ellie Newman is making the largest plantings of ball clover in this county, 20 lbs. each.

G. H. Eastis, district cooperator at Wilsonville used SCS engineers and DuPont explosive experts when he dynamited a ditch last week to drain a swampy area. Fescue and white clover will replace useless swamp grass and weeds.

At the Narrows, Mr. Prater of Birmingham, is building a 25 foot earth dam that will give him an eight acre lake. He is building to SCS design.

Robert Waite, Cahaba Valley, has had preliminary surveys made for a two acre pond.

It has fallen our lot to have to advise against several proposed earth dam sites recently. When conditions seem to unfavorable, such advice is just as important as help in designing dams at what seem to be good locations.

Nov. 2-8 is Alabama Soil Conservation District Week. Be sure your local paper gets a thorough reading that week.

Friendly Forester

Our early settlers knew too well the power of roots—roots so strong they cracked great stones.

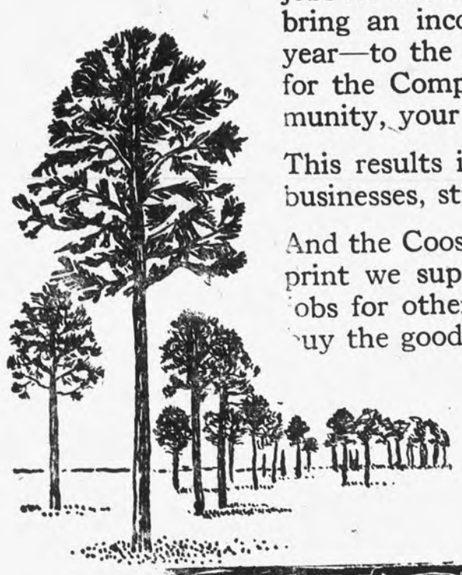

Today the roots we planted here to build Coosa River Newsprint Company have a different kind of power. A power of doing good.

The roots planted as we built our mill now provide jobs for 868 of your neighbors. These roots bring an income of millions of dollars each year—to the men and women who work for the Company, and indirectly to your community, your county, our state.

This results in help for building homes, stores, businesses, streets and roads.

And the Coosa roots go further. The newsprint we supply to newspapers helps make jobs for other people who, in turn, can buy the goods and services to help still others.

Yes, these Alabama roots of Coosa River Newsprint Company "stretch" in all directions —doing far more good than we realize.

Blood Mobile Coming Here November 16

The American Red Cross Blood Mobile will be in Montevallo on November 16, at the High School from 1 to 7 p.m. Arrangements are being made by Mrs. Fred Frost Jr., chairman of the blood drive this year in Montevallo and Mrs. T. E. Watson who is co-chairman. Shelby County chairman is Miss Laura Hadley.

The Red Cross Blood Program is to help meet the daily civilian hospital need for blood and blood products; to enable collection of blood for national defense as requested; and to develop a nationwide network of blood collecting facilities that will provide products for research, thereby increasing the knowledge of blood procurement methods, processing and usage.

Even though there is a truce in Korea, there is still an emergent need for blood. Dr. Howard A. Rusk, Chairman of th Office of Defense Mobilization, Health Resources Advisory Committee, says, "There is an ever increasing need for blood to save human lives. We must look to the American people to donate this blood so that we can tend the ill or critically injured men, women and children of our civilian population, assure adequate reserves of blood derivitives to meet any emergency or natural disaster or atomic attack, and help save the lives of wounded servicemen recuperating in American hospitals. There is no substitute for human blood. It can come only as a donation from patriotic citizens."

"We are only at the first stage of new and important uses for blood derivatives. Gamma Globulin, which is a temporary preventative in fighting the crippling effects of poliomyelitis, is one of the recent major discoveries. Serum Albumin, another blood fraction, has proved effective in shock therapy. The end of shooting in Korea reduced the quantity of blood required for the Armed Forces, but it did not lessen the precious fluid for other useful purposes.

Any person age 21 through 59 who's in good health and weighs 110 pounds or more can give blood. Those 18 through 20 years of age may also give blood, provided they have parental consent, but persons 18 through 20 who are in the armed forces or are married do not need parental consent. Donating a pint of blood is comparable to an afternoon's exercise. A person in good health can do either safely. A person only loses the following when he gives a pint of blood; 12 ounces of water, 1 ounce protein, 2 and one-half ounces hemiglobin, one-twentieth ounce iron, 1 teaspoon salt, and a small amount of minerals and vitamins. He gains protection against death and disease for himself and his family.

The Red Cross Blood Program is a public service, dedicated to serving you and your neighors. Like every public service, it's as effective as your participation and support make it.

Each blood donor will be given a card entitling him and his immediate family to receive blood without obligation to replace or pay for blood for the next six months.

Jadie A. Brown Died Tuesday

Jadie Allen Brown, outstanding business executive and industrialist, died unexpectedly at his home in Montevallo Tuesday night. He was 67 years of age.

Mr. Brown came to Montevallo in 1913 and began his business career which has included the operation of many the important phases of our community's commercial and industrial progress.

Among the enterprises he fostered were the town's first electric light plant, ice plant, soft drink bottling, picture show, canning factory, taxi cab company, cotton gin and warehouse, wholesale oil and gasoline distribution, bagging and tie plant, wood working plant.

At one time he actively operated and managed ten different businesses known as the J. A. Brown Companies, including two grocery stores.

A recent new industry which Mr. Brown established was the Brown Fence Company for the manufacture of snow fence.

Jade Brown was a man of strong character, rugged integrity, who stood firmly always for what he believed was right, and for the rights of his fellow-men, whether white or black. His business interests gave employment to more people than any other operation in Montevallo. His relations with his employees was harmonious and always commanding the loyalty and respect of those who worked for him.

His career in Montevallo included several years of public service which he gave with his characteristic loyalty and integrity. He was Mayor for two terms and served many years in the Town Council.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Annie Jo Brown; one son, J. A. Brown, Jr.; one daughter, Mrs. James B. Higgins; one sister, Mrs. C. E. Houlditch; two brothers, L. N. Brown, of Sylacauga, and Ed M. Brown, of Randolph; three grandchildren, Jade Elizabeth Higgins, Mary Charlotte Higgins, and Pamela Sue Brown.

Funeral services were held Thursday at Montevallo Methodist Church, of which he was a member. Rites were conducted by Dr. J. E. Morris, of Gadsden, former pastor here, assisted by Rev. O. K. Lamb. Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery with Bolton-Walton in charge.

Active pallbearers were Wyman Brown; James A. Brown, Sylacauga; Edward Brown, Randolph; T. E. Watson, S. M. Mahan, V. E. Williams, Joe Westbrook, and Bill Lovelady.

Honorary pallbearers were J. P. Kelly, T. H. Napier, L. E. Shaw, F. P. Givhan, C. H. Mahaffey, Sr., C. T. Acker, C. G. Sharp, L. W. Wooten, L. C. Walker, S. P. West, L. H. Ellis, Z. S. Cowart, Sr., Guy Chamberlin, P. C. Wilson, W. M. Wyatt, S. J. McGaughy, R. E. Whaley, M. P. Jeter, Sr., F. W. Rogan, F. H. Frost, Sr., Grady Miller, McClellan Ratchford.

Church Dinner And Bazaar

The Methodist WSCS held their regular monthly business meeting Monday night at the church. Plans for the annual church dinner and Bazaar were discussed.

The annual church dinner and Bazaar will be held November 18 at the Montevallo Methodist Church. The Bazaar booth will be open at 4:30 p.m. Dinner will be served from 5:30 until 7:30. Everyone is invited. Dinner tickets priced $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children may be purchased from Mrs. Don Lovelady and members of the WSCS.

Eddie Mahaffey Directs Drive

In urging everyone to give generously to the Community Chest, Eddie Mahaffey, who will direct the drive, pointed out that almost half of the amount collected will go directly to relieve human suffering. And he added that all the rest, except for the small cost of operation, will help to provide a better environment for Montevallo's children and youth.

The annual drive begins on Friday, November 2, and ends on Monday, November 14. During these 13 days, the team of solicitors will try to see every adult citizen.

After a careful survey to determine the need, the Community Chest Board, under Chairman Guy Milford, has approved the following pre-drive budget:

Girl Scouts, $200; Boy Scouts, $250; Cub Scouts, $50; Almont School, $100; Negro High School, $100; Montevallo High School Band, $150; Montevallo Elementary School, $150; Welfare, $900; Operations, $50. Total, $1,950.00

Since last year's drive netted only $1771.92, it is obvious that donations will need to be larger this year. So when the solicitor calls, give liberally.

Following is the list of solicitors who will make the canvas:

Mrs. Sam Klotzman, Mrs. Leslie Hubbard, Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, Mrs. Donald Lovelady, Mrs. Haywood Wooley, Mrs. George Nix, Mrs. Eddie Watson, Mrs. S. C. Jones, Mrs. J. B. Higgins, Mrs. Milton Orr, Jr., Mrs. John Hardy, Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. W. N. Smitherman, Mrs. W. E. Lovelady, Jr., Mrs. Fred Frost, Jr., Mrs. Cooper Shaw, Mrs. P. D. Pendleton, Edythe Hartley, Mr. A. R. Luckie, Mrs. M. S. McGehee, Mr. John Mader, in charge of drive at the College, Mr. B. W. Hamric, Miss Sparks, and Mr. J. W. Flynt.

An Hour Of Music Next Sunday Afternoon

Alabama College's School of Music will present the first in a series of Sunday afternoon "Hour of Music" programs Sunday afternoon at 4:30 in Palmer Hall on the Montevallo campus.

Presented by members of the music faculty at Alabama College, the program will feature selections on the piano, violin and pipe organ. The informal program is open to the public.

The first "Hour of Music" will feature Harrison D. LeBaron, Director of the College's School of Music; Mrs. Maxine Couch Davis, associate professor of music; Miss Claire Ordway, associate professor of music and violinist with the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra; and Putnam Porter, College organist, who is featured on the radio series "Music From Montevallo."

Performers for the first program will give a brief description of each composition and a brief biography of the composer before each selection.

Mrs. J. B. Margulis is visiting relatives and friends in Montgomery.

Mrs. Howard Latham Died Suddenly Sunday

A day begun with happiness spanning 50 years, ended in sadness as Mrs. Howard Latham, 72, died on her golden wedding anniversary. Mrs. Latham, the former Miss Annie Hendrick, died Sunday, October 25, after suffering a heart attack on the front porch of her home as she started to morning church service.

Funeral services were held on Monday at 3:30 p.m. at the Montevallo Methodist Church with the Rev. O. K. Lamb officiating and Dr. M. E. Lazenby assisting. Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery with Bolton-Walton directing.

Active pallbearers were Frank Morgan, T. E. Watson, Teamon McCulley, Joe Doyle, Grady Parker, A. R. Garrett, Stanley Mahan, and Dr. M. L. Orr, Jr,

Honorary pallbearers were Dr. L. C. Parnell, Dr. Leslie Hubbard, and members of the Board of Stewards of the Methodist Church, on which she had served for twenty six years.

A native of Talladega, Mrs. Latham was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hendrick. She had been a resident of Montevallo 51 years with a membership in the local Methodist Church out ranked in terms of years by only one other member.

All members of the family had arrived and hundreds of relatives and friends were to gether in a few hours to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, when she was again stricken and rushed to a Birmingham hospital where she was pronounced dead on arrival.

The deceased was the wife of Mr. H. E. Latham, native, well known retired business man here. In addition to her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. George R. Smith of Demopolis; four sisters, Mrs. Lena Duran and Miss Virginia Hendrick both of Montevallo; Mrs. W. L. Christian of Columbiana; and Mrs. Earl S. Martin of Birmingham; one brother, Robert A. Hendrick of Montevallo; two grandsons, Geo. R. Smith Jr., a law student at the University of Alabama and Winston Smith, both of Demopolis.

Prude Fancher Is Class Candidate

Auburn, Ala., Oct. 27—Twenty one student officers and Miss Homecoming will be selected in a campus-wide election at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, October 29. Lester Ford of Eufaula, superintendent of political affairs, announces that presidents and vice presidents for the nine undergraduate schools, one junior senator, and two freshmen senators will be elected. Miss Homecoming will also be chosen.

Among the candidates for the nine schools are Prude Fancher, Monteballo, for President of the School of Education.

Miss Mildred Meroney of Judson College, and Mrs. Dawson were week end guests of Miss Eloise Meroney. Mrs. Dawson will remain for a few days before going to Florida.

Meet To Discuss Poll Tax Law

On December 15, all registered voters will have a chance to vote on the constitutional amendment passed by the State Legislature this summer, which will abolish the payment of all but two years of back poll tax.

This amendment will benefit Alabama women particularly since practically all men are exempt from paying poll tax as a requirement for voting because all War Veterans have been exempted. On the other hand, many women marry early, do not realize the importance of voting before they marry, and therefore have such a large amount of back poll tax to pay when they want to vote that they cannot afford it. Yet women have keen interest in our elected public servants when they see how good government depends upon these officials and they see the great need for good governmency in their communities and for their families.

During the meeting of the Legislature, the following groups worked for the Abolition of the Poll Tax:

The Alabama Business and Professional Women's Clubs; The League of Women Voters; The American Association of University Women; The Women's Society of Christiann Service, in Alabama Conference of the Methodist Church; The Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs; The Pilots; The Alabama League of Young Democrats; The Young Republicans; The Congress of Industrial Organization; The American Federation of Labor; The United Miners of America.

A meeting will be held in Montevallo a week from Thursday night, November 5, at the High School at 7:30 p.m. to discuss this issue which is of so much importance to the citizens of Alabama.

It is an open meeting to which everyone is invited. We hope that everyone will come.

Book And Food Sale

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Andrews Episcopal Church will hold a sale of books and food, baked goods and candy on the afternoon of Thursday, Nov. 5, from 3:30 to 5:30 at the Little Shop. The books will be fiction and who-dunits, marked at half price if in good condition and less if soiled.

Some will sell for a dollar and others for fifty cents or under. A good chance for some entertaining reading with the knowledge of doing a good turn as well. There will be homebaked goods and homemade candy. The sale will be for pews and other needed equipment for St. Andrew Church.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our thanks to our friends and neighbors for the many expressions of your kindness and sympathy during the recent illness and death of our mother, Mrs. Cahaba Fancher. We especially appreciate the helpful ministrations of Dr. Hubbard, Rev. Glover and Mr. Bolton.—The Family.

High School Athletics

Cliff Harper, executive secretary of the Alabama High School Athletic Association, has sent the following letter to Parent Teacher Associations and other civic leaders:

The purpose of this letter is to present some principles by which the school athletic programs are conducted and to enlist the support of all friends of the schools to help keep junior and senior high school athletics purely amateur and as an integral part of the school program.

Athletic sports have physical values, but more important are the greater values of self control, self reliance, perspective, persistance, ability to cooperate, courage, fortitude and honor. These are attained only when sports are properly conducted.

The aim is maximum participation, a sport for every boy and every boy in a sport. Emphasis is placed on safe and healthful standards of competition. A physical examination is given each boy before he is allowed to participate. The age limit tends to equalize competition. A minimum of two weeks practice before a game is required as a health precaution. The limit on the number of games is for the protection of the player. Coaches and Principals of competing schools mutually select competent, well trained officials to insure a porperly administered contest. Player safety is the number one objective.

The Alabama High School Athletic Association is primarily concerned with sports direction. To prevent and avoid excesses which would certainly occur without proper control, the principals and coaches have adopted regulations to insure the best interest of the participants, schools and communities.

Some important regulations are listed below:

A student is ineligible if: He has reached his twentieth birthday. He failed to pass at least three subjects the last semester he attended. The record at the and of the semester is final and defencies cannot be made up in any manner. He is not currently passing in three subjects. He transfers from one school to another without a corresponding change in his parents' residence. He has attended four fall semesters and four spring semesters after reaching the ninth grade in a school that teaches the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades. He has attended three fall and three spring semesters in a school that teaches only the upper three grades. He has participated on an independent team after the school season starts. He has broken the amateur rule.

The regulations of the AHSAA provide for equitable competition, fair play and safety. Youth must be protected from exploitation and the dangers of professionalism. On the athletic field and in the gymnasium we have an opportunity to teach the competitive way of life and democratic system. This can be done only when the highest standards of sportsmanship prevail on the field and in the stands.

Each community should provide the very best facilities possible for its youth. Community spirit and pride are enhanced when bona fide eligible students of the school community make up the team. When ineligible boys are permitted to participate, they not only create ill will between communities but deserving students are deprived of an opportunity to make the team. This results in the breaking down of the morale of the school and community.

We of the AHSAA need and appreciate your continued support and guidance in our program. We will be glad to furnish any additional information that you may desire concerning the aims and operation of our organization.

Polio Deaths In State

The State Department of Health pointed out today that, in 1952 as in previous years, poliomyelitis struck Alabama children—and adults too hardest in July, August and September.

Of the 297 cases reported during the entire year, the Department said, 193, or approximately two-thirds, were reported during that three-month period. Sixty two cases were reported in July and August and 69 in September. By contrast, only one case each was reported in April and May.

John W. Gassner Will Present The Dancy Lectures

John Waldhorn Gassner, New York author, playwright, producer and drama critic will present Alabama College's semi annual Dancy Lecture Series on Tuesday and Wednesday November 2, 3.

"Form and Idea in Modern Drama and Theatre" will be the subject for this year's lectures which will be given in Palmer Hall at 11 a.m. Tuesday and 8 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday.

Associated with the Theatre and its associated arts for more than 30 years, Dr. Gassner is senior contributing editor of Theatre Arts Magazine. He is also editor and author of more than 15 books including "Masters of the Drama" and "Best Plays of the Modern American Theatre," as well as a forthcoming book of essays, "The Theatre in our Times."

Born in Hungary, Dr. Gassner grew up in New York City and received both his AB and MA degrees from Columbia University where he held the William Mitchell Fellowship in Arts and Letters.

Dancy Lectures are held every other year on the Montevallo campus and were founded by a bequest of Miss Unity Danbridge Dancy to "endow the departments of English, Literature and Expression" at Alabama College. Dancy Lectures have featured such speakers as Dr. Francis P. Gaines, President of Washington and Lee University; Dr. Dumas Malone, historian and author; Lewis Mumford, architect; and Dr. Louis B. Wright, Director of the Folger Shakespeare Library, Washington, D. C.

Fred A. Duran Will Attend Cancer Meeting

The Alabama Division of the American Cancer Society will be represented at the organization's annual meeting in New York, November 2-6, by a delegation including Fred A. Duran of Auburn, recently re-elected a member of the national board of directors.

Dr. John Day Peake of Mobile, chairman of the Alabama Division's executive committee, and Judge J. C. McGough of Fayette, have been named medical and lay delegates respectively by the state committee.

Also attending will be Mrs. Lillian G. Meade of Birmingham, state executive director, and William R. Lynn of Montgomery, state public relations director.

Duran was elected recently for a third term to represent an area covering several states including Alabama. He also is treasurer of the Alabama Division. Mrs. Duran will accompany him on his trip to New York.

The annual meeting of the American Cancer Society is for the purpose of reviewing accomplishments of the past year and planning accordingly for the coming year. Alabama has a leading part in the research, education and service program of the American Cancer Society, supported by public contributions given during the annual Cancer Crusade in April.

A highlight of the meeting in New York will be the annual dinner Thursday night, November 5, at which Dr. James R. Killian, Jr., president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, will be the featured speaker.

Partlow School Public Picnic

The semi-annual picnic and public meeting of the Patrons of Partlow State School will be held Sunday, November 1, 1953 at Partlow State School, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. The families and friends of the children confined at the school will bring picnic baskets and will join together in a day of fellowship and fun. Mrs. Lewis C. Martin, secretary, has urged all persons interested in the institution to attend this meeting.

The Patrons of Partlow State School is a non-profit organization dedicated to the one purpose of making life more enjoyable for those who are confined to the school. Since its inception, the organization has continued to grow and function, and the picnic to be held November 1, is expected to be the largst and finest ever held.

A. E. Beasley Died

Our community was shadowed in a pall of shock and grief Saturday, by the sudden and tragic death of Mr. Albert Earl Beasley, Sr., 66.

Funeral services were held at Wilton Baptist Church at 2 p.m. Monday, Oct. 26, 1953, with the Rev. Robert G. Thompson officiating. Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery with Bolton-Walton directing.

Active pallbearers were Robert D. Gunlock, Jr., Harold B. Moreland, O. T. Gay, Bill Savage, George Alexander, and Wilson Carter.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Dora C. Beasley; one son, A. E. Beasley, Jr.; one daughter, Mrs. Alice B. Brumbaugh; one sister, Mrs. Ellen B. Beaty; two grand sons, Tommy Brumbaugh and Wayne Beasley, and several nephews and nieces.

Mr. Beasley was reared in Mt. Vernon, Ala., where he was born August 27, 1887. Having moved to Wilton in 1913 he was with the Southern Railway Co., as inspector and repairman for 40 years and was looking forward to retirement within the next few months. On Saturday, Oct. 24, he was killed by a falling chimney.

He was a member of the Woodmen of the World, the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, and an active worker in his church. He had served as an officer in the Men's Bible Class, on various committees for beautifying the church and as Sunday School Extension Department visitor. Being an enthusiastic worker all these duties afforded him much pleasure.

Navy Recruiter Coming Here

Lt. Com. C. H. Alexander, Officer in charge of the main U. S. Navy Recruiting Station located in the Post Office Building in downtown Birmingham announces that he is sending traveling recruiters (both sailer and WAVE) into Montevallo starting Thursday, November 5, 1953, from 10 to 10:30 a.m., and they will be back every other Thursday at the same time. The Recruiters will be located in the Post Office Building in downtown Montevallo. Some of the qualifications for enlistment in the Navy are listed below:

Male: Age 17 to 30 (inclusive); Must be a Citizen of the United States; The Navy wants men of good character; Men who qualify for enlistment as a recruit, may have not more than one dependent.

Female: Age 18 to 25 (inclusive); Must be a high school graduate or equivalent; Must be a Citizen of the United States; Of good character and background; (You must also be unmarried and without dependents).

This is your chance to find out more about your Navy and the recruiters welcome any and all people to come in and see them and ask questions.

Also towns to be visited by the traveling recruiters on the same Itinerary every other Thursday will be Alabaster, 9 to 9:30 a.m., Will be at Barber shop and Beauty Parlor; Calera, 11 a.m. to 12 noon, Will be at the Employment Office; Columbiana, 12:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., Will be in the lobby of the Shelby County Courthouse.

DESTROY COTTON STALKS TO RETARD 1954 ENEMIES

Cotton growers should destroy stalks as soon as they finish harvesting to help control next year's insects and diseases.

"You can get the jump on 1954 cotton pests by promptly destroying stalks, either by turning them under or cutting them down at least 30 days before killing frosts," says W. A. Ruffin, API Extension entomologist. "Stalk destruction removes the food supply of boll weevils and other insects, sending them into winter quarters in a weakened condition, with less chance of survival."

Early stalk destruction, he continues, will also help control several cotton diseases, such as ascochyta blight, anthracnose disease, and angular leaf spot. For effective control of the fungus diseases, crop residue must be thoroughly rotted before planting time.

QUESTION: How often may one give blood?

ANSWER: Donations may be made once every 8 weeks, but not more than five times in 12 months.

QUESTION: How much blood is in the body?

ANSWER: In the avrage, healthy adult, 12 to 13 pints.

USE COTTONSEED HULLS WITH QUALITY ROUGHAGE

Dairymen trying to escape today's tight feed situation may find part of their answer in cottonseed hulls as a supplement to high quality roughage.

Farmers with available hay and silage who need additional roughage can feed cottonseed hulls mixed with molasses, advises Pete Turnham, API Extension assistant dairyman. However, he warns, don't keep sacked hulls and molasses for more than two or three weeks in warm weather because they'll sour.

"This feed mixture can be bought in sacks for around $26 per ton", says Turnham. "Total digestible nutrients in the mixture cost only about three cents, as compared with five cents in good mixed hay at $50 a ton or in grain costing $70 per ton."

Charles L. Gormley Announces Meeting

DR. CHARLES L. GORMLEY

State committees of the Alabama Conference of the American Association of University Professors will meet Sunday on the campus of Alabama College to plan the organization's activities for the 1953-54 school year.

Announcement of the meeting which will be attended by some 50 members of the AAUP was made by Dr. Charles L. Gormley, President of the Alabama Conference.

Committee chairmen are: Professor David Malone, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Public Relations committee; Professor R. M. Havens, University of Alabama, Committee on Economic status; Professor Newbern Bush, Jacksonville State Teachers College, Insurance and Retirement committee; and Dr. Gormley, ex-officio chairman of the Conference's Executive Committee.

Representatives from State Teachers Colleges at Troy and Jacksonville; The University of Alabama; API; and Alabama College will attend.

All meetings will be held in Reynolds Hall on the Montevallo campus.

On June 30, 1953 there were 62,193 telephones in rural areas of Alabama served by Southern Bell—a net increase of 47,497 since December 31, 1945.

Long distance telephone calls of 25 cents and more have a 25 per cent federal excise tax. Such luxury items as furs and jewelry have only a 20 per cent excise tax.

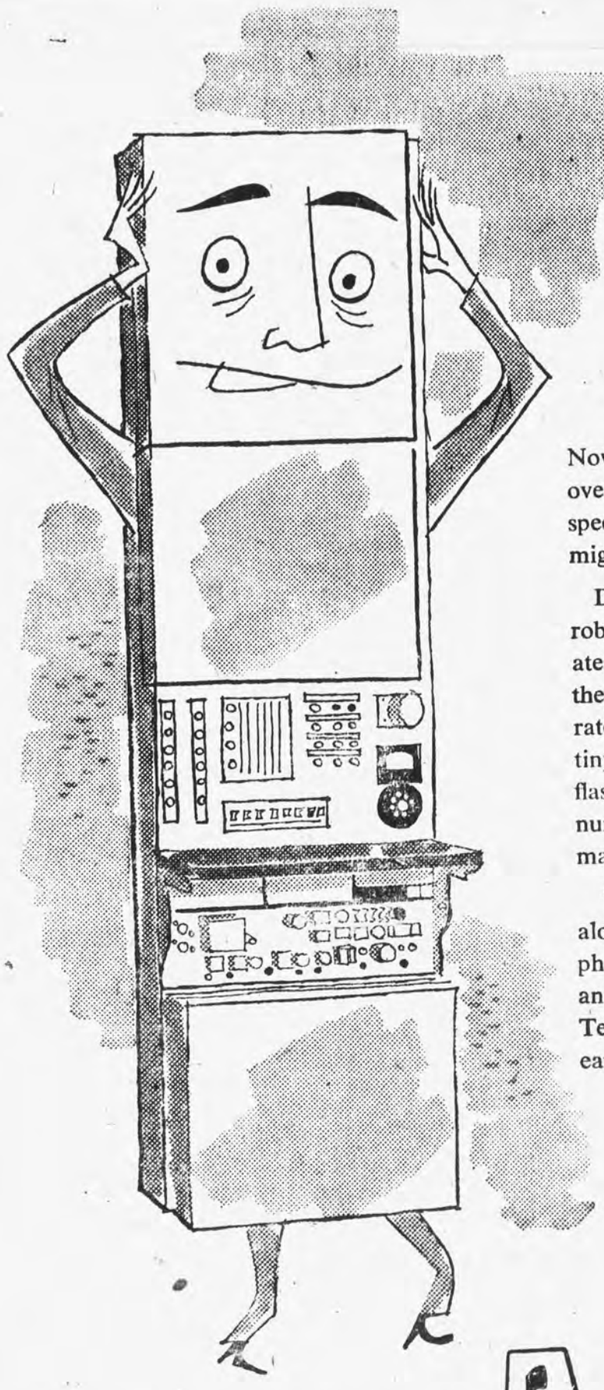

Heaviest telephone cable used in Alabama by Southern Bell Telephone Company weighs 31.6 pounds per foot. It contains 3,030 individually insulated wires.

Think you've got troubles?

Now this "Gizmo" really has troubles. Moreover, he actually spends hours looking for a special kind of trouble—electrical leaks that might interrupt service on telephone lines.

Developed by Bell System engineers, this robot-like line insulation test machine operates automatically to spot line troubles before they happen. He tests line after line at the rate of three thousand an hour. Whenever a tiny electrical leak is spotted, "Gizmo" stops, flashes a signal and indicates the telephone number affected. Then repairs are quickly made, usually before service is interrupted.

"Gizmo" is another one of many advances along the road toward more and better telephone service. To bring these new advances, and to keep service good and growing, your Telephone Company must have enough earnings to stay financially healthy.

Mrs. Howard Hall Commander Of Cancer Society

Mrs. Howard Hall of Calera has been appointed Shelby County commander for the Alabama Division of the American Cancer Society for the year 1953-54. This appointment was made by Mrs. Lillian G. Meade of Birmingham, state executive director for the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Hall will succeed Mrs. Rex Carter of Columbiana who served last year as Shelby County commander for the American Cancer Society.

As county commander, Mrs. Hall will be in charge of the American Cancer Society's program to alert the public concerning the danger signals of cancer, thereby increasing the number of cures by early detection and treatment.

Because lives can be saved by using knowledge already in the possession of the medical profession, the American Cancer Society tries to make sure through its educational program that American people learn enough about cancer to seek timely and regularly medical examinations.

In addition to its education program, the American Cancer Society also supports research projects at five Alabama institutions. Grants totaling $604,768.98 have been allocated to these institutions since the program was begun in 1945. The five research centers are: Southern Research Institute, Medical College of Alabama, and the Tumor Registry, all in Birmingham; Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, and the Carver Foundation, Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee.

42 Students Win Elite Honors

Forty two students won honors in the annual Elite Night competition at Aabama College Saturday night.

Sponsored by the Montage, Alabama College Yearbook, Elite Night is planned in October of each year to present senior "Elite Night," those students selected by the student body as the most outstanding in their fields; cambeauties; class favorites; seniors selected for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" and "Miss Alabama College" selected as the most representative of the senior class.

Chosen as "Miss Alabama College" for 1953 is Sue Dobbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Dobbins of Gadsden. A senior speech major, Sue also won the title of class favorite and was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Two freshmen, two sophomores, and two juniors won the title of campus beauties. Those selected by a committee of judges for featuring in the 1954 Montage are Carol Cherry, Opelika, and Marie Watson, Demopolis, freshmen; Joan Munroe, Selma, and Katherine Stuart, Mobile, sophomores; Chita Hodges, Ashville, and Sue Smith, Eclectic, juniors.

Welcome to the Saturday night Elite Night was extended by Joan Curl, Birmingham, 1953-54 Montage Editor, who also announced the dedication of the 1954 Montage to Mr. C. H. Adams of Montevallo, night watchman for the college since 1948.

No Thought Of Buying T V A

In response to an inquiry from a news reporter T. W. Martin, chairman of the Board of Alabama Power Company, said that the Power Company had given no thought whatever to the purchase of all or any part of the TVA property.

Mr. Martin further said that Alabama Power Company and TVA had cooperated in many ways in recent years in power emergencies and in the purchase and sale of small amounts of power.

National FHA Week Is November 1 to 7

November 1-7 is National Future Homemakers of America Week in Alabama. The local chapter of Montevallo High School is planning a variety of activities in observance of this week. The committee making plans include: Sue Boyd, Jade Higgins, Mary Thornton, Sigrid Lund, Dorvan Roden, Barbara Alexander.

Observance of this week by the Montevallo Chapter will begin on Monday, November 2, when they have a call meeting at the Home Economics Department. Group pictures will be taken to go into the Future Homemakers of America Scrapbook. Exhibits in the hall of the main school buildings will include posters of the creed, emblem, purpose of the FHA; pictures of the present officers, and an arrangement of red roses, the flower of the organization. Girls who are working on the exhibits are Mary Thornton, Patricia Davis, Sigrid Lund, Jade Higgins, Rue Lane Peters.

Tuesday, November 2, the chapter plans to conduct assembly in the High School Auditorium. Presiding over the program, including "local talent," and distribution of year books, will be Anita Bradley, President of the local chapter. The public is cordially invited.

November 3, Wednesday, the initiation committee has planned special activities for the new members. The committee working on this are: Barbara Winslett, Emily Wooley, Annette Hooper, Mary Sue Cates, Harriet Kendrick.

Thursday the group plans as the highlight of the day to emphasize the "I made it" project. This is to be an exhibit of garments, foods, and other things made by the members, and will be in the hall of the high school.

The local chapter will close its observance of Future Homemakers of America Week with the decoration of a car to be used in the high school homecoming parade on Friday afternoon.

Junior F H A At Montevallo High

"Something new has been added" to the Montevallo Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America besides a new camera which has been purchased to aid in keeping a picture record of the chapter. The other new items are the organization of two Junior FHA's made up of students in the junior three home economics classes.

These girls felt the need for organizing so they could become better acquainted with the FHA program. As work toward their Junior Homemaker Degree the girls have chosen goals to work toward that will help them grow as individuals in FHA, home experience, and class work.

These Junior chapters will work jointly with the local chapter through committees. They will also meet with the local chapter for programs and other overall activities. The officers for one of the junior chapters are: president, Betty Hughes; vice president, Peggy O'Neal; secretary and treasurer, Jeanette Pickett.

This chapter has nine members with eight of them working on their Junior Homemaker Degree.

The officers for the other Junior Chapter are: president, Mary Thornton; vice president, Loretta Lovelady; secretary, Joy Lovelady; treasurer, Lenora Cunningham.

Each member of this chapter is on a committee. The following committee have been selected:

Degrees, Carolyn Smitherman, chairman; Mavis Bridges. Social, Faye Tillery, chairman; Sally Miller, Harriett Sims, Ponnie Evans, Betty Langston, Lenora Cunningham. Program, Loretta Lovelady, chairman; Rue Lane Peters, Shelby Boothe, Norma Jean Smith, Joy Lovelady, Floyce Wilson. Finance, Lenora Cunningham, chairman; Jane Lawley, Mary Thornton, Harriett Sims. Scrapbook, Mary Sue Smith, chairman; Sally Miller, Marilyn Harris. Projects, Kitty Stansell, chairman; Betty Sue Johnson, Jane Lawley, Rue Lane Peters, Betty Langston. Talent, Mavis Bridges, chairman.

Through their work on committees and degrees, the girls will have a fine opportunity to learn and develop into valuable FHA members.

Joanna Sharp In Corolla Beauty Ball

University, Ala.—Joanna Sharp, daughter of C. G. Sharp, 105 Bloch Street, Montevallo, has been selected by her sorority, Delta Gamma, to compete in the Corolla Beauty contest at the University of Alabama.

Twenty finalists will be selected from 63 candidates at the Corolla Beauty Ball Saturday night. A celebrity in the entertainment world will choose the Capstone's No. 1 beauty later in the school year.

Joanna is a freshman in the School of Commerce, majoring in social management.

Methodist Church

Rev. O. Kyle Lamb, pastor of the Methodist Church in Montevallo, will preach twice Sunday. Sunday morning the subject of his message will be "God's Unfinished Work" and Sunday evening the subject will be "Man's Unfinished Work."

The Wesley Foundation will meet at 6:30 and the Fellowship groups will meet at the same hour.

Dr. Paul Bailey, superintendent of the Sunday School, extends a cordial invitation to all for the Sunday School. The time of meeting is 10 a.m. There are classes for all age groups.

Mrs. Mary F. Cary

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Florence Lee Cary, 67, Montevallo Rt. 1, who died at a Birmingham hospital Friday, were held Saturday at Montevallo.

Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery. Bolton-Walton Funeral Home, Columbiana, directed.

Mrs. Cary was a noted and lifelong resident of Shelby Conuty.

She is survived by a son, Walter Ned Cary, of Montevallo and principal of Helena School.

Now they are trying to introduce the 5 cent postage stamp. This administration is determined to make the nickel worth something.

Poll Tax Meeting Is Held Tonight

Tonight, November 5, at 7:30, all citizens of Shelby County are invited to attend a meeting in the Montevallo Elemetary School Auditorium.

The Honorable Karl Harrison, our Shelby County Representative in the House and Floor Leader, will speak on the Constitutional Amendment to eliminate all but two years of the cumulative feature of the Poll Tax. As you know, this amendment was passed by the Legislature this summer and will be voted on by the people of Alabama December 15.

This meeting is being held to hear why the amendment was passed, to discuss what it will do for Shelby County and for purposes of questions and discussion.

It is also hoped that it will lead to further meetings in the County and to a drive to get out the vote.

Please note that the meeting has been changed from the High School to the Elementary School.

Be sure to come to hear Mr. Harrison, who, as you know, is an excellent speaker.

A meeting will be held in the east side of the County next Tuesday, November 10 at 3 p.m. in the Columbiana Court House. Dr. Hallie Farmer will be the speaker at that meeting.

Montevallo P T A

The Montevallo Laboratory School Parent-Teachers Association will meet Monday evening, November 9, at 7:30 p.m., in the high school auditorium. The musical program will be rendered by a string ensemble under the direction of Miss Claire Ordway, music faculty, Alabama College.

Group discussions about school activities stressing band, athletic association, and stringed instruments will be led by Mr. Victor Young, Mr. Theron Fisher, and Miss Claire Ordway.

The two dollar room prize awarded each month for parent attendance was won by Mrs. Virginia Sims' first grade for October.

Report of Community Chest Board Operations For Last Year

The 1952-53 Montevallo Community Chest Board began the year with a balance of $793.82. The budget for 1952-53 was established as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Girl Scouts | $ 150.00 |
| Boy Scouts | 250.00 |
| Almont Elementary School | 100.00 |
| Montevallo Negro High School | 100.00 |
| Montevallo High School Band | 150.00 |
| Montevallo Elementary School | 150.00 |
| Welfare | 1,050.00 |
| Opreation | 50.00 |
| Total | $2,000.00 |

Mr. Harold Anthony served as Chairman of the 1952-53 Community Chest Drive. The drive netted $1,771.92 which was $228.08 below the stipulated goal set at $2,000.00. To date, we have unpaid pledges amounting to $87.00. Mr. Stanley Mahan served as Treasurer for the Community Chest and the Board would like to take this opportunity to express their appreciation for the excellent job Mr. Mahan has performed as collector of funds for the past years.

On October 7, 1953, the Board approved a motion to pay 100 per cent of the amounts allocated to the agencies, with the exception of welfare, and to continue to provide funds for the white and colored school lunches as requisitioned until the 1953-54 Community Chest Drive is completed. This motion superseded a previous agreement to pay 85 per cent of the amounts allocated each agency inasmuch as the drive failed to reach the set goal of $2,000.00.

Attached to this report is an operating statement for the year.

The folowing is a list of agencies that participated in the program.

Welfare—The welfare program of the Community Chest Board has been under the supervision of Mrs. Whatley of the Social Welfare Department at Alabama College. This agency was originally allocated $1,050.00, however, inasmuch as the drive did not reach the set goal, they did not receive the full amount requested. To date, however, the welfare agency has received all funds requested and the Board has been able to pay all welfare requisitions. The following amounts were paid through the welfare fund:

|---|---|
| School lunches (white) | $328.00 |
| School lunches (Almont School | 157.00 |
| School lunches (Negro High School) | 137.20 |
| Clothes and medical supplies | 141.00 |
| | $763.50 |

Boy Scouts—The Boy Scouts requested $250.00 and received only $212.50. At the time this allocation was requested, the Board had agreed to pay at the rate of 85 per cent of the total amount allocated. The Boy Scouts later declined the additional amount after the Board moved to pay 100 per cent of the funds allocated.

Almont Elementary School—The Almont Elementary School requested and received $100.00, in addition to the 75 per cent of all funds collected in their drive which amounted to $20.57. Of the total $120.57 received, $100.00 was spent to purchase books for the library.

Montevallo Negro High School—The Montevallo Negro High School requested $100.00 and an additional $61.72, which represented the 75 per cent of all funds collected in their drive. The full amount of $161.72 was spent to purchase books for the library.

Girl Scouts—The Girl Scouts requested $250.00 and received only $150.00. The Girl Scouts reported a balance of $246.38 in their treasury and in view of the existing needs, particularly welfare, the Board felt justified in decreasing the request for the full amount of $250.00.

Montevallo High School Band—The High School Band requested and reecived $150.00. This amount is to be applied for purchase of instruments.

Montevallo Elementary School—The Montevallo Elementary School requested and received $150.00. This amount is to be used to purchase violin cases and other materials for children's instruments owned by the school.

Operation—The Board allocated $50.00 for operational costs of the Community Chest. The following amounts were paid out for operation expenses:

| | |
|---|---|
| Printing | $37.30 |
| Stamps | 4.00 |
| | $41.30 |

The 1952-53 Montevallo Community Chest would like to submit the following recommendation:

"Members of the Community Chest Board feel that it would be desirable for this Assembly to review the policies which have come to govern the allotment of Community Chest funds to the various agencies which receive them. Once an agency is included in the budget by any board, there is a strong tendency for succeeding boards to continue its inclusion without question. The best way to break this chain of precedent, we think, is for an occasional Assembly to examine, in the light of stated purposes of the Community Chest, the list of agencies receiving aid. There is the feeling among members of the present Board that the time has come for such a review.

In suggesting that the participating agencies be screened, it is not implied that they do not need the aid they receive. On the contrary, we are convinced that every dollar goes for a worthy purpose. What we ask the Assembly to decide is whether the Community Chest is in each case the proper organization to furnish the needed assistance. It may be pointed out in this connection that the individual organizations represented at the Assembly can sometime give help which the Community Chest itself, because of its limited purpose and function, could not legitimately provide."—Respectfully submitted, T. E. Watson, Chairman.

Social Hour For High School Alumni

There will be a social hour for the Alumni of Montevallo High School on Friday night, November 6, immediately after the game. All former graduates of Montevallo High School are cordially invited to meet in the Library upstairs in the High School building.

M H S Plans For Homecoming Friday Night

Plans for Montevallo High School's homecoming (Nov. 6) have been made by the Overall Committee, headed by Doris Cunningham, and its four sub-committees. The theme for this year's homecoming parade is any idea centered around studies or activities that are representative of work at Montevallo High School. A prize was given to Miss Harris' homeroom for submitting the parade theme.

Six candidates were nominated for homecoming queen, Clara Young, Jade Higgins, Ouida Byrd, Annette Hooper, Sue Moody, and Mary Katherine Cox. The final results of the election were: Queen Ouida Byrd; attendants, Clara Young and Sue Moody.

There will be a parade on Friday afternoon at 1:30 in which the entire student body, led by the band, will participate. The parade will form on the street on the north side of the school and progress downtown, where it will halt for a brief pep rally led by the cheerleaders.

Prizes of three dollars, two dollars, and one dollar will be awarded the floats considered best by the judges. A prize to best dressed marcher will be given also. Students not assisting on floats are encouraged to dress as clowns.

The Montevallo Bulldogs meet the Calera Eagles in a football game at 7:30. Preceding the game, the queen and her attendants will be presented. Two free tickets to the game are being given each member of the football squad. These tickets may be secured from Coach Fisher during the week of Nov. 2-6.

Music for the homecoming dance to follow the game will be furnished by McAdory Swing Band. At this dance, the queen and her attendants will be presented in the leadout which will commence at 10:15 p.m. Admission to the dance is 50 cents, stag; and 75 cents, couple; for students. Adult admission will be $1.00 for stags and $1.50 for couples.

A social hour for all MHS graduates will be held in the library immediately after the game. All graduates are invited to come by. Mrs. Winona Brooks is in charge of arrangements.

Study Club Meeting

The Montevallo Study Club met October 27, at the home of Mrs. G. P. Rogan with Mrs. N. E. Phillips co-hostess.

Mrs. E. D. Reynolds spoke on "Personal Glimpses on European Tour," a tour which covered ten countries. Mrs. Reynolds described travel, food, shopping experiences and the people of the different countries through which she traveled last summer with her husband and daughter.

The club voted to give again for the year 1954-55, a scholarship of one hundred dollars to a girl gradaute of Montevallo High School.

The next meeting will be held November 17, with Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Orr, Sr., hostesses.

Soil Conservation Districts Week Emphasis Efforts For Soil Improvement

* * *

General Information On North Central Soil Conservation District

Shelby Conuty is in the North Central District. In 1940 the farmers of six counties, (Cullman, Blount, Jefferson, Bibb, Shelby, and Chilton), voted to form this district to promote soil conservation measures on agricultural lands of these counties.

The government assigns soil conservation service personnel to each county to help farmer-cooperators of the district in developing soil and water conserving farm plans on their farms. Each cooperator can also get SCS help of a technical nature in carrying out these plans. In Shelby County this includes laying out terraces, farm ponds and meadow outlets It laso includes selecting suitable locations for pastures, cropland, and rotations suited to the soils.

The governing body of the district begins with a district supervisor in each county. This is a public spirited farmer who believes in soil conservation and devotes his time and effort without pay. District supervisors are appointed by the State Soil Conservation Committee made up of the Director of Extension, the Director of Vocational Education, the Director of Experiment Stations, and three farmers.

In Shelby County the district supervisor is F. E. Williams, while the chairman of the district supervisors is R. O. Williams of Chilton County.

Up to the present time nearly seven hundred farmers in Shelby County have received district farm plans and assistance in establishing practices.

More than forty ponds of various sizes have been built by district cooperators to SCS specifications. From one to forty acres each these ponds are helping control runoff water, watering stock, furnishing irrigation water, and growing fish.

District supervisors have helped cooperators obtain seed supplies of new crops such as chapel hill rescue grass, Ky. 31 fescue, ball clover, button clover, multiflora rose plants, bicolor lespedeza plants and seed coastal bermuda, Alabama reseeding crimson clover, grandflors vetch, michaelmas clover, and Kudzu 23.

The district cooperates with all other agricultural agencies and educational institutions. Its work has been furthered by the active aid of these groups, county business and banking men and public spiritual individuals.

Governor Proclaims Soil Conservation Week

Whereas, the well-being of our people depends upon the production of ample supplies of food, fiber and other products of the soil; and,

Whereas, the quality and quantity of these products depends upon the conservation, wise-use and proper management of the soil and related resources; and,

Whereas, our people have a mutual interest in the land and share the responsibility of preserving its productivity; and,

Whereas, soil conservation districts provide a practical device through which landowners are taking the initiative to conserve and make proper use of these resources; and,

Whereas, twelve soil conservation districts, embracing the entire state, are carrying forward a program of soil and water conservation in cooperation with numerous agencies and countless individuals;

Now, therefore, I, Gordon Persons, Governor of Alabama, do hereby proclaim the week of November 1-7, 1953, as Soil Conservation Districts Week, a period when our citizens should cooperate with the districts in giving special emphasis to protecting and making wise use of our soil and water resources.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 2nd day of October, 1953.

GORDON PERSONS
Governor

Attest:
AGNES BAGGETT
Secretary of State

Many Conservation Farmers Near Here

A complete list of district cooperators for Shelby County would require to much space, for it would contain nearly seven hundred names. Even those near Montevallo would make too long a list.

A partial list follows to give a cross-section of the make up of this most democratic organizations. J. K. Cunningham Jr, Mrs. Ethel Rogers, Allen Oats, D. H. Lovelady, John Rucker, A. W. and S. W. Baker, Carl Edfeldt, A. Joe Marshal, Ted G. Bolton, L. H. Dunston, L. L. Stephenson, Lester Stansel, C. Chesser, Alabama College, D. T. Underwood, C. T. Wallace, C. C. Broadhead, Bennie Lucas, W. L. Lawler, N. H. Watters, C. A. Knowles, B. B. Nix, Ennis Lucas, J. Frank Baker, C. L. Knowles, L. F. Rochester, H. C. Evans, J. H. Edwards, U. S. Eddings, R. H. Harless, P. J. McEntee, F. W. Lewis Jr., Cody Kendrick, W. A. Nolen, J. P. Brewster and many others are active conservation minded farmers livin the Montevallo trade area.

It is this group that have replaced the row cropped land left bare and eroding in winter with the beautiful and productive fields that make such a fine green setting for Montevallo.

No Fall Pasture? Look At A. W. Baker's

Near Moore's Crossroads North of Montevallo, A. W. Baker has developed an outstanding Ky. 31 fescue, orchard grass, and ladino pasture. He has followed recommendations contained in his district farm plan, and feels it is paying off.

"Even in this dry weather it takes my cattle only an hour to get all the grazing they need," he said, standing in the deep growth of rich green grass and clover.

In addition to this pasture he has five acres each of oats, wheat, and eight acres of button clover, a small area of ball clover, some volunteering crimson clover, and a small newly planted pasture.

He also is using chapel hill rescue grass. Mr. Adams produces premium quality eggs as well as his beef herd.

Joe Brady, Calera (wih hat) and George Starcher, S.C.S., look over Mr. Brady's fine sericea on class 4 soil. This field has been overseeded with Chapel Hill Rescue grass to furnish additional winter grazing. The class 5 soil in the far background is planted to fescue and ladino, well suited to this heavy wet soil. His conservation farm plan is completely applied.

Know Your Schools

The Division of Administration and Finance is primarily concerned with the adequate financing and efficient administration of the public schools of Alabama. It is the responsibility of this Division to administer state funds available for public education.

The Division of Administration and Finance is responsible for the study, calculation, appointment, and distribution of state school funds. This involves studying the needs of the schools and making plans and recommendations to the State Board of Education and the Legislature. It involves also a detailed analysis and checking of special reports, such as the budget, financial statement, transportation report, school plant inventory, sick leave reports, institute lists, and other reports of a similar nature.

Some of the major services rendered by this Division are:

Assist boards of education in the marketing of Alabama securities by carefully checking present and proposed indebtedness for each board and recommending for the State Superintendent's approval only those securities which are fully secured by the tax being pledged.

Promote the erection, maintenance, and proper use of school buildings for all public schools in the state. Furnish advisory service to school boards, private architects, and others on the planning of the school plant and its economical maintenance.

Review for approval all deeds involving school property and assist in the selection of sites and locations of new buildings.

Make surveys of the respective school systems upon requests of the boards of education of the systems. At the present time, the Division of Administration and Finance is making a state-wide survey of school facilities to determine the cost and needs in order to adequately house the school children of Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Freeman of Birmingham were dinner guests Sunday of Mesdames Janie Wade and Francis Orr. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Davis returning with them to Birmingham.

Since the end of World War II, rural telephone construction has surged ahead at a record-breaking pace. Today over half a million rural phones are served by Southern Bell, and new ones are going in at the rate of 6,500 a month.

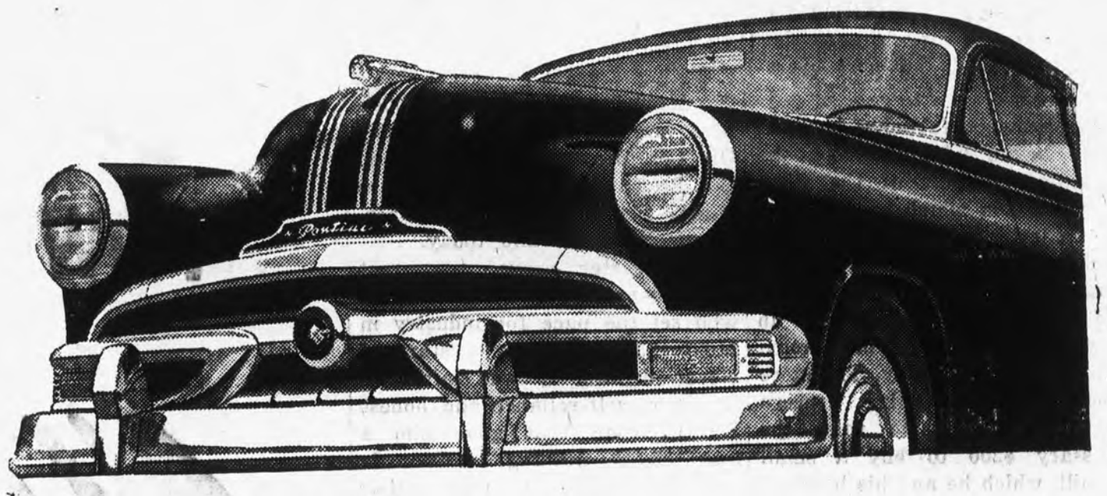

This record of rural progress is even more amazing when you consider that the South's farm population has actually decreased, largely due to mechanized and more efficient farming methods.

But farmers need and use the telephone more than ever before. That's why providing them more and better service is one of our most important jobs.

J. A. Brown, A Ph.D. of "Rock College" Started Career With $11 Bale of Cotton

(By Barbara Williamson)

In the recent death of J. A. Brown Sr., the people of Montevallo not only mourn the passing of one our town's favorite and most esteemed citizens but also realize the passing of and era that is marked by individualism.

Who now could turn an eleven dollar bale of cotton into a multi-thousand dollar business in a small central Alabama town?

Who now could make that eleven dollars stretch into ownership or part ownership of nearly every business in town at some time or another during his lifetime?

These things could be and were done by Jadie Allen Brown, one of Montevallo's favorite sons, during his 67-year span of life that included an almost magical business and industrial career—a man whose keen and inquisitive mind could not rest until it had found a practical solution for every problem which confronted him.

Son of a Georgia homesteader who crossed the Coosa river into Alabama to acquire a small plot of land in the little settlement of Oakley's Station in Bibb County, the youth who got his business start from the eleven dollar sale of a bale of cotton, grown and harvested with his own hands, became Montevallo's greatest industrialist.

As a boy this remarkable businessman attended school through the eighth grade at the little Oakley's Station schoolhouse which he always fondly referred to as "Rock College." His scholastic career came to an abrupt halt at the close of his first day at Thorsby Institute when he decided school was too much for him, packed his belongings and tramped the long route back home to Oakley.

Though formal schooling might seem too much for this active boy, nothing seemed to even slow him down in his business operations.

Mr. Brown's fabulous business career began when he took the $11 from the sale of that first bale of cotton which he raised on the homestead after his father's death, and bought enough sardines and other merchandise from a Montevallo merchant to open up a small store in the back room of his home at Oakley. The store soon became a going concern and enabled him to raise the necessary $200 to buy a small sawmill, which he and his brothers and one sister operated.

The sawmill grew into a thriving investment, which enabled them to move into Montevallo to open a new and larger sawmill under the name of Brown Brothers. That company soon expanded to include a cotton gin, planer mill, and the sawmill.

A hustler in the truest sense of the word, J. A. Brown didn't stop with the initial success of the company which he operated with his family, but went on to establish the town's first electric plant, an ice plant, soft drink bottling company, taxi service, wholesale oil and gasoline distributing company, woodworking plant, cotton bag manufacturing plant, a local chain of groceries, and then his most recent establishment, the Brown Fence Company, for the manufacture of snow fence.

All his business life was no bed of roses for the industrialist, though, for in 1937 he saw his cotton warehouse burned to the ground; and then in 1946 he again witnessed one of his businesses going up in smoke when the brick building on Main Street which housed his grocery store and bag company was completely destroyed by fire.

With ten or fifteen businesses under his management at a time, Mr. Brown never failed to take part in civic affairs, including two terms as mayor of Montevallo and many years as a member of the Town Council.

With businesses that gave employment to more people than any other concern in Montevallo, the industrialist gave an annual banquet each New Year's Day for all his employees.

During the latter years of his life Mr. Brown narrowed his business interest down to the Acme Oil Co., Brown Woodworks, and the Brown Fence Co., which are among the largest business operations in Montevallo today.

No disaster proved too great for this man of pioneering spirit who set the pace for industry in Montevallo, all from a start of eleven dollars. It was initiative, ambition, self-reliance and honest determination that gave him a start from nothing, and made possible the great success that rewarded his efforts.

Farmers May Set Up Reserve Fund By Purchase of Savings Bonds

"Shelby County cotton growers who are harvesting and marketing their 1953 crop can set up an all-purpose farm reserve fund by purchasing the new, improved U. S. Savings Bonds," Roy Downs, county Bond Chairman, said today.

"Farmers probably have more good reasons for buying United States Savings Bonds than any other group of people," Mr. Downs said. "Since their income is seasonal the farm reserve fund is mighty handy to meet the obligations that might arise during the year. In addition, farm machinery must be replaced, crop losses due to insects, weather and other causes must be made up, and farm improvements must be completed if porfitable production is to continue."

Farmers have a choice of two fine investments: The Series E Bonds with interest accumulating or Series H Bonds for current income, payable semi-annually by U. S. Treasury check. In addition, Mr. Downs pointed out interest rates on Savings Bonds are scaled to provide higher yields in the later years. It pays to hold them to maturity.

Most farmers have had personal experiences with the uncertainties of farming. A farm reserve fund is the answer to many of the problems that confront unfortunate farmers. By putting a part of each year's earnings into U. S. Savings Bonds, farmers will be buiding a reserve that will protect them in times of need. Savings Bonds can help pay for other things, too. Farm and home improvements, retirement, education for the children, and many other cherished desires are realized through Savings Bonds investments.

"If the farmer will stop in and talk over his savings program with his local banker he'll find out that U. S. Savings Bonds are one of the safest investments he can make and that they're a real friend when farm emergencies strike," Mr. Downs said.

GG And The Blood We Didn't Give

Several weeks ago, 28,000 children in Montgomery, Ala., were given Gamma Globulin in the fight against the paralizing effects of polio. The mother of one of these children wrote a letter to the Montgomry Advertiser, the city newspaper.

Editor, The Advertiser—It isn't often that an entire city owes a group of people a unanimous vote of gratitude, but there isn't a single parent in Montgomery County who should fail now to say "thanks" for the marvelous day-in and day-out work performed by our Red Cross.

I remember all too well last spring when a group of mothers did their very best to awake all of us to the fact that if the Red Cross goal was not reached here, we would have no one to blame if polio struck in tragic degrees and gamma globulin was not available. Thank heavens, parents in other cities were not so deaf to that call as we in Montgomery proved to be.

But though we did not believe what we heard, or would not listen to what they were trying to tell us, our Red Cross has not failed us. Our children do have the best known chance of fighting the crippling of polio due to the fact that our Red Cross, without Montgomery support, has spent some millions getting ready supplies of GG for the day when some child, somewhere, would need it. I remember one person saying last spring, "That's just a lot of publicity—Montgomery's not a polio town."

As a mother of a four-year old, I'd like to get down on my knees for the work of our Red Cross. Those of us who have in the past criticized this most humane of all organizations should feel mighty ashamed of ourselves for what damage we have done in spreading rumors and falsehoods. And those few who may have a gripe firsthand should now see that the good done by this group of well-trained, ever-ready, warm-hearted volunteers is so momentous the mistakes made should be as easily overlooked by all of us as those made by our own families. Because, as I see it now, our Red Cross has proved to be our best friend when we needed a friend the most.

I, for one, intend to give a pint of blood so that some other mother's child may have GG when it's needed, and in this same mail, I will send a token of gratitude that I should have given during the fund drive. To all those in Montgomery who contributed to the 30,000 pints of blood needed to get the GG given our children this week, I would like to say "God Bless You!" personally, but as I can't, please consider this a heartfelt thank-you for each and every blood donor.—Mrs. C. Alex Culver, Montgomery, Ala.

Working With Corduroy Is Home Ec Project

One of our most popular fabrics this winter is corduroy. In the Home Economics III clothing class at Montevallo High School, about half of the girls are making garments of corduroy for themselves.

The girls in this homemaking class have learned that working with corduroy involves some special problems. Corduroy is a napped fabric with an up and down direction of the nap; therefore all pattern pieces must be laid in one direction. When this is done, more material is required. It is important to buy the necessary amount of material before cutting the garment because it is very difficult to buy extra material to match a piece already purchased.

The direction in which the nap should run on a garment is a matter of taste. If a skirt is cut with the nap running down it will not get shiny on the back as quickly as it will when the nap runs up, but the color is darker and richer if the skirt is cut with the nap running up. The direction of the nap may be determined by rubbing one's hand over the surface of the material. If the material feels smooth you are rubbing with the nap, or down; if it feels rough, you are rubbing against the nap, or up.

When machine stitching is removed from corduroy it leaves a mark on the pile which is very difficult to remove; therefore a garment made of corduroy should be basted and fitted carefully before stitching to avoid having to altar any machine stitching.

Corduroy should be pressed on the wrong side to avoid pressing the nap flat. Pressing corduroy on a turkish towel helps to keep the pile looking fluffy. The iron should be pushed with the downward direction of the pile. A steam iron or a dry iron may be used to press corduroy. When using a dry iron, a dampened piece of cheese cloth may be used to steam the material. If it should happen that the pile is pressed flat after the corduroy has been ironed, brushing with a clothes brush or rubbing with another napped fabric, such as velvet, will help to fluff it up again.

One can proudly wear garments made of corduroy if she remembers to: cut all pieces in one direction, fit carefully before stitching, and press the fabric with the iron moving with the downward direction of the nap.

Hawaiian Rancher Takes Noisy Tour

"Matson's freighter Hawaiian Rancher leaves for Hilo tonight with several dozen mooing, cackling and bellowing passengers.

The buff-funneled, black and white vessel arrived late Monday from Los Angeles with a large Tour Group, most of them through passengers to the big Island.

Aboard the vessel on its current cruise were 69 Heifers, three Bulls and 20 coops of assorted chickens. They are here for a prolonged visit.

Tom Durante, tour escort with his uncle, Thomas Gomes, said the voyage was a smooth one and the passengers showed no trace of sea-sickness.

Gertrude Holstein, sleek brunett and platinum blond Heifer from Southern California, was selected "Miss Hawaiian Rancher," for this voyage. Miss Holstein and 68 other young lady cows vied for the attention of three dashing Hereford Bulls during the cruise.

All 72 rode in "staterooms" on the after deck of the Rancher. They will vacation at Holualoa ranch at Kona, Hawaii.

Highly interested in their first ocean voyage were the ladies of the Scratch, Peck and Cackle Club of Southern California. They will split into three tour groups. Some will see Oahu while others will disembark at Hilo and Nawiliwili.

"The Climate is Heavenly," volunteered Miss Irma Leghorn, of South Pasadena. "I'm sure this will be a trip to remember," chimed in the others.

A big party was held aboard ship during which Capt. W. R. Meyers and the crew served Haya-la-mooed and Cracked Seed to the passengers.

Pat J. Kroell Visits Old Friend in Atlanta

On Sunday, Oct. 25, Mr. Pat J. Kroell went by bus to Atlanta, Ga., where he spent three delightful days with a boyhood chum, Mr. R. L. Adams Sr., better known as "Mr. Bob" to his host of friends.

Mr. Adams, a pioneer in the telephone industry, was born in Montevallo 84 years ago. His home, destroyed by the cyclone of 1874, stood where Dr. Acker now lives.

From the age of 10, at which time he learned to send telegraph messages, he was interested in telephony and telegraphy.

Mr. Adams became manager of the Western Union Office at Stanton, Ala., when he was only sixteen. A little later he became Chief Dispatcher for the Central of Georgia Railroad in Columbus, Ga. While there he met and married Miss Ophelia Foreman.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams moved to Gadsden when he was about 21. Being manager for both Southern Bell and Western Union, the next 10 years were interesting ones in the development and expansion of the telephones in Alabama. Mr. Adams built the first telephone exchanges at Piedmont, Sylacauga, Alexander City, and Albertville. In addition, he built and owned nearly 300 miles of long distance lines that extended from Gadsden to Oxford to Anniston. Many interesting experiences are related in the Oct. 1949 issue of Southern Telephone News.

At long last, plans were made for a visit to the town of his birth, but he suffered a stroke and instead of coming to Montevallo he had Mr. Pat visit him in Atlanta.

Mr. Adams, now retired, makes his home with an only son and namesake. In addition to R. L. Adams Jr., there are four daughters, three of whom live in Atlanta.

Mr. Kroell says he was treated royally, met a wonderful family, everyone of which he fell in love with. For three days he and his friend Bob reminessed and did their best to bring each other up to date on the happenings of the past 70 years. Mr. Adams' chief interest was news of old friends and their families here and in other parts of the state. He sends best wishes to all who remember him.

His address: Mr. R. L. Adams, 980 Rupley Drive, Atlanta, Ga.

Lake To Be Drained For Control of Weeds

Montgomery, Ala.,—In a joint statement here today the Alabama Department of Conservation and the U. S. Forest Service announced that the water level of Payne Lake in Talladega National Forest will be lowered about five feet November 4th as a weed contro measure.

The lake, which is located on the Oakmulgee Division of the Forest near the corner formed by Bibb, Perry and Hale County lines, serves fishermen of several Alabama counties.

Public fishing will still be allowed during approximately two months while the water is low, officials stated.

The photo of the Alabama College Resource Workshop group was taken on a tour of Mrs. Ethel Rogers' farm near Montevallo as part of the annual activities of this group. Miss Ethel Marshall is in the striped dress in the foreground, center. The ladies are standing in front of a lespedeza bicolor wildlife border planted around the edge of woodland to provide quail food.

Caley Peas On The J. W. Street Farm

When everything else he tried in a lime sink area failed, J. W. Street planted a hundred pounds of Caley Peas broadcast on the less than two acres. He pointed out to conservation aid Starcher that he has a thick stand three or four inches tall on the 29th of October. This in spite of a very dry fall.

Other crops successful on this 100 per cent conservation planned farm are sericea, fescue, rescue, and crimson clover. Oats supply grain and hay, and grain sorghum helps fill grain needs of turkeys, poultry, and cattle.

Mr. Street has been a district cooperator since he entered veterans' agricultural training several years ago.

Bloodmobile Here Next Monday

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Montevallo High School next Monday, November 16, from 1:30 until 6:30. Mrs. Fred Frost Jr., Chairman of the Montevallo Blood Drive, and Mrs. T. E. Watson, Co-Chairman, are completing their plans for the drive. The town is being canvassed, seeking volunteer blood donors and people to assist the Red Cross staff in collecting the blood.

The blood collected under this National Blood Program will be allocated according to national need in three priority classifications: One, whole blood for the armed forces; Two, whole blood for civilian use; and Three, blood for the production of plasma going to a national reserve to be allocated to the Department of Defense and the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Any person age 21 through 59 who's in good health and weighs 110 pounds or more may give blood. Those 18 through 20 years of age may also give blood, provided they have parental consent. But persons 18 through 20 who are in the armed forces or are married do not need parental consent.

Volunteers in surrounding towns and communities are being recruited by the following citizens: Calera, Mr. Bill Minor; Wilton, Mrs Alpha Lucas; Spring Creek, Mrs. J. H. Wyatt; Moore's Cross Roads, Mrs. George Howell; Aldrich, Mrs. P. N. Lee; Pea Ridge, Mrs. Frank Pickett; and Dogwood, Mrs. Frank Eiland.

Each person who offers blood, whether or not it is taken, will be given a card entitling him and his immediate family to receive blood without obligation to replace or pay for the blood for the next six months.

Monthly Meeting Of Montevallo P T A

The Montevallo Parent-Teachers Association held its monthly meeting Monday, Nov. 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium with Mrs. Alvin McGaughy presiding. The devotional was given by the Rev. O. K. Lamb.

Pupils of Miss Claire Ordway, music faculty Alabama College, presented a musical program.

Group discussions about school activities, including band, athletic association, and stringed instruments were led by Mr. Victor Young, Mr. Theron Fisher and Miss Claire Ordway.

The two dollar prize given each month to the class having the largest attendance of parents was awarded to Mrs. Gladys Holcombe's fourth grade.

The hostess group, composed of parents of students in the classes of Miss Rice and Miss Winn, served refreshments to 100 parents and teachers.

"Let's Talk School Finance" by Mr. S. H. Hurt, and "Our Responsibility for Moral and Spiritual Development of Our Children" by Dr. T. H. Napier will be the topics of discussion at the December 14 meeting. Mr. Victor Young will direct an instrumental ensemble and there will be group singing and a social hour.

Christmas Seals To Be Mailed Next Monday

Next Monday Christmas Seals will be mailed to 4500 Shelby County families. The amount of the contributions mailed in to Roy Downs, Treasurer, Shelby County Tuberculosis Association, will determine the extent of the assistance to be given in 1954 to men, women and children of Shelby County who are suffering from Tuberculosis. 79 per cent of the funds raised by the sale of the Christmast Seals remain in Shelby County and is used in the treatment of Shelby County people. 21 per cent is sent to the State and National organizations.

The Shelby County Board of Revenue and Control has recognized that tuberculosis is a public health problem and has appropriated money to be used in the treatment of tuberculosis in this County. The Board matches the funds spent by the Association, dollar for dollar.

Dr. E. F. Sloan has stated that tuberculosis is the number one health problem in Shelby County. He has recognized that there have been insufficient funds available to hospitalize all people suffering from this disease and with the assistance of Mrs. Sloan and Miss Dottie Walton, County Health Nurse, he has maintained an x-ray and flouroscopic clinic and has taught home treatment and home medication. Through their efforts they have extended the benefits received from the sale of Christmas Seals to many of the people who suffer from this disease in our county.

Drugs and supplies for home treatment of patients cost your Association about $11 per month, while the total cost of hospitalization is about $4.00 per day. The treasury of the Association will be exhausted by the 1953 program and it is a fact that the ceiling for the 1954 program will be determined by the response you give to the Christmas Seal sale. BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS AND INVEST IN THE GOOD HEALTH OF YOUR FELLOW CITIZENS.

Methodist Church

Rev. O. K. Lamb, pastor of the Methodist Church will fill the pulpit of his church twice Sunday. Sunday morning his sermon will be "Use It or Lose It" and Sunday evening the subject will be "What is Your Greatest Need?" Sunday School will be held at 10 a.m. The Wesley Foundation and Fellowship groups will meet at 6:30 p.m.

The annual church dinner and bazaar will be held November 18, in the church dining room. The bazaar booth will be open at 4:30 p.m. Dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to come. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. Don Lovelady and members of the Society of Christian Service.

Shelby County Teachers Meet

The Shelby County Teachers met in Calera Thursday afternoon, November 5, for their first in-service study meeting since the pre-school conference. The County Superintendent of Education, Mr. W. W. Elliott, presided over the general session.

The Calera Girls' Glee Club, under the able direction of Mrs. Mabel Thornton, sang the following songs:

Pray of Thanksgiving; The Orchestra Song—Traditional Austrian Folk Song; Oh What a Beautiful Morning—from "Oklahoma"; This is My County—arranged by Tom Scott.

Mr. Elliott introduced Mr. James R. Ogletree, Field Representative for the Citizenship Education Project, sponsored by Teachers College, Columbia University. Mr. Ogletree said that the one big objective in American Education is to develop good citizens. This can be done by developing within each child a knowledge of subject matter, good attitudes toward his fellow men, and skill in working with people. Mr. Ogletree suggests that these be developed through study plus action or practice.

After the general assembly, the teachers met for one and one-half hours in different groups for study on a problem of interest to them. The different study groups are: Arts and Crafts, Child Study, Citizenship Education, Language Arts, Mathematics, Physical and Safety Education, Science, School-Community Relations, and School Environment.

November 11 to 26 Is Legion Membrship Week

Commander Harry Kendrick of Montevallo Legion Post wishes to impress upon all ex-servicemen in this area that November 11 to 26 is Legion Membership Weeks.

Mr. Kendrick expects the local membership committee to make every possible effort to hold the membership of Montevallo Post for 1954 up to the high mark that was attained this year.

"Knock on every door for 5 cents," he says, "and let's be sure the Legion does not lose any ground in membership the coming year."

Cage ... Next Tuesday Nig...

Mr. Fred Holle of Purina Co., will conduct a special meeting of interested people in the egg production business in this area. The meeting will be held in the Agriculture Building at Montevallo High School Tuesday, November 17, at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Holle will present color films on the subject and special discussions by persons with experience in egg production.

Everyone is invited to attend this meeting, especially those in or interested in going into egg production.

Christmas Sale And Hobby Show

The Small Business Committee of the Montevallo Business and Professional Women's Club is holding a hobby show and Christmas Sale the week end before Thanksgiving. Anyone who wishes to display his or her hobby can make arrangements for a table by seeing a member of the committee. Your hobby will be of interest to everyone and in some instances might lead into a small business.

The purpose of the sale is two-fold: to offer a market for anyone who wishes to bring his or her products for sale; hand-made articles, food, jellies, or preserves; and to offer unusual Christmas gifts for your section.

In addition, the committee has arranged to have articles from the Alacraft shops in Birmingham and Mobile for sale. These articles are made under the supervision of the Alabama Department of Education for the Adult Handicapped. They are sending dolls, Christmas decorations, odd gifts. The club is also offering Christmas cards and wrappings for your selection.

The sale and hobby show will be held in Reynolds Hall Friday afternoon, Nov. 16, from 3:30 to 9 p.m., on Saturday, Nov. 20, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Monday, Nov. 22, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Bring your hobby, bring articles to sell, come to see.

Eloise Booker, Mrs. Ruth Frederick, Edith Hartley, Mrs. Temon McCulley, Josephine F. Eddy.

FACTS ABOUT T. B.

1. A contageous disease that may be and is contracted by persons regardless of age, sex, or station in life.
2. If discovered in time it can be arrested, yet
3. It leads all diseases as a cause of death in the 15-35 age group.
4. Rest and inactivity is one requirement for successful treatment.
5. Frequently this results in stopping of all of a family's income.
6. Thus the importance of the T. B. Association program in curing this disease and returning breadwinners to work.
7. There are 53 known active cases of T. B. in Shelby County and 108 inactive cases, our number one health problem.
8. The purchase of Christmas Seals buys good health for many.

Chest Drive Ends Next Saturday

On the basis of partial returns, Chairman Eddie Mahaffey feels that with continued effort by all solicitors, the Community Chest Drive will reach its goal. And in support of this view, John Mader reports that the average contributions being made by College staff and faculty members slightly exceeds that of last year.

The citizens of Wilton are participating this year under the direction of Mrs. Edith Coruthers, who is being assisted by Mrs. Amos Lucas and Mrs. B. B. Curry.

The annual drive ends on Saturday, November 14. If a solicitor has not asked for your contribution by that time, you should take it either to Mahan's Barber Shop in Montevallo or to Mrs. Coruthers in Wilton. The drive cannot succeed without a special effort by all of us.

What We Have And What We Need

Montevallo civic and business leaders will participate in a panel discussion on the subject, "What We Have and What We Need in Local Business", at the next meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club. Dr. T. H. Napier will give a picture of the local business situation as it now exists. Mr. F. P. Givhan will discuss the topic, "Businesses in which expansion is possible and businesses needed to improve community income." Governmental functions of the town will be presented by Mayor W. M. Wyatt. The part that utilities play in community business life will be discussed by Mr. M. S. McGehee. Panel moderator will be Mrs. Marcia Sears, program chairman of the BPW.

The meeting will be held on Nov. 17, Tuesday, at 7:30 in Reynolds Hall dining room. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Thanks From John Denham

Mr. John Denham reports that he had a most wonderful response from his friends and customers during the past month when he was celebrating the opening of his new Super P&T Market at Calera along with the 13th anniversary of his original store at Alabaster.

"I wish to express my most sincere thanks to my friends and customers," said Mr. Denham. "I am gratified to see that any efforts to provide the best grocery store service to my customers has not only held the confidence of my patrons through the years, but also has brought to us many new friends and customers.

"In the future you may depend upon the best merchandise and the best service at our stores, and with that will always go a full measure of our appreciation for your patronage, friendship and good-will."

Concerning Poll Tax

Do you know that Alabama is the only state in the Union which requires voters who have not paid their poll tax, to pay all back poll tax to age 21 before they can vote?

Do you realize that this cumulative feature of the poll tax discriminates against women? You ask in what way.

Too many men and women do not become interested in voting until they have married, established a home, and become a part of their community. Then they see the necessity of exercising their right of citizenship by voting. Every man in the state who has served in the armed forces in any way from the Spanish American War through the Korean War, is exempt from paying poll tax. This means practically every man in Alabama. On the other hand, very few Alabama women have served in the Armed Services.

If, by any chance, a man was exempt from war service, he will pay his own poll tax when he might not be abe to pay all his wife's back tax.

Let's go to the polls on December 15 to vote YES for the Constitutional Amendment which will abolish all but two year's back poll tax and give Alabama women a chance to vote.

New Elevation Map Has Been Prepared

In answer to requests from all over the state a new colored elevations map has been prepared by L. G. Bracken, chief of the Division of Soil Survey, Alabama Department of Agriculture.

Showing more than 500 exact elevations in Alabama, ranging from sea level to 2,407 feet, the highest point, the new publication will be especially helpful to drainage engineers, soil students, geologists, horticulturists, farmers, television purchasers, and others.

The map was prepared under the supervision of Frank Stewart, commissioner of agriculture, with information and data supplied by railroads and the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Surveys. Copies may be obtained free of charge from the office of Commissioner Stewart in Montgomery.

Dr. Napier Speaker At Judson Faculty Meeting

Marion, Ala.—Dr. T. H. Napier, Dean Emeritus of Alabama College, was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Judson College faculty. The meeting was held in the Little Theatre of Jewett Hall immediately following a faculty dinner in the college dining room.

Dr. Napier addressed the Judson faculty on the subject of Alabama's college-age population and the state's future. Dr. Napier quoted statistics showing that Alabama has the second lowest average of college age individuals enrolled in institutions of higher learning in the nation.

"The individuals in college today will be the parents of the next generation," Dr Napier stated. "It is up to them to educate their chidren to expect and want to go to college."

Dr. Napier noted that communities with a high percentage of college graduates are more prosperous financially and culturally than communities with a low average of college graduates. "Higher institutions of learning in Alabama are an economic asset to the state," he said.

Emphasizing the fact that the day has come when anyone who so desires may go to college, Dr. Napier said, "One reason such a small percentage of people are in college today is because they don't want to be there and their parents don't want them to be there."

"Do not dissolusion young people," Dr. Napier admonished the faculty. "One beautiful aspect of adolescense is the ability to dream dreams. There is nothing so disheartening to a young person as a bitter, cynical adult who knows there is nothing ahead but the worst."

Miss Florence Fancher, who has been at Jemison Mineral Springs Hotel for treatments for some time, plans to remain for another week or two. Mr. and Mrs. Benton, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fancher and Tim have enjoyed visits with Miss Florence at Mineral Springs.

What Does Your Seal Money Buy?

John Doe, a white male, age 25, was admitted to hospital for treatment after he had a diagnosis of pulmonary tuberculosis. He remained there five months and then left against advice because of insufficient funds.

Intraperitoneal air treatment was continued each week at the Shelby County Health Department Clinic in Columbiana. Drugs and disposable tissues furnished this patient were paid for from funds of the TB Association and the Board of Revenue and Control.

John showed slow improvement over a period of two years and has recently returned to full time employment following an x-ray report that the disease is at this time arrested.

Thanks to you people who have bought Christmast Seals, this man it at present supporting his wife and three children and they are no longer in need of help from the Department of Public Welfare.

Farmers To Vote On Cotton Quotas

On December 15 Alabama farmers will vote in the cotton referendum.

They will choose between fewer acres with higher prices and unlimited acreage with lower prices, says James H. Jones, chairman of the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee. If two-thirds of the growers approve marketing quotas, prices will be supported at 90 per cent of parity.

Alabama's 1954 production allotment has been set at 1,118,000 acres, almost 500,000 acres below this year's approval. This is a percentage reduction of 29.3, adds Jones. The national acreage reduction in 1954 will be 24.5 per cent.

Education Week At Thompson High

Mrs. Earl Douglas as Chairman of the committee for American Education Week here, announces the following program of activities for the week of November 8 to 14:

On Tuesday, November 10, at 8:30, Mrs. Smitherman's fifth grade will present for the elementary assembly an operetta in one act entitled, "The Special Town Meeting."

On Wednesday, November 11, Miss Plyler's ninth grade will present to the high school assembly at 12:30, a one act play entitled, "Beachead for Freedom."

On Friday, November 13, open house will be held all day in all buildings and friends and parents of the Thompson Schools are cordially invited to visit the entire school plant. Student Council members will serve as a reception committee to escort visitors about the campus. At 12:30 on Friday, an all-school pep meeting will be held, preceding the game with Vincent.

Children in the elementary school are writing illustrating notes to parents about American Education Week.

A committee of high school students including Herbert Sanders, Martha Cates, and Myrna Loy Bentley, illustrated posters for the occasion, and they have been placed throughout the school community.

School activities are on display in the store windows at the Cardwell Furniture and the Farris Furniture Companies.

Serving with Mrs. Douglas in making plans for this weeks' activities are: Miss Mary Woolley, Mrs. Estelle Johnson, Miss Mary Plyler, Mrs. Margaret Stutson, and Mrs. Louise Peete.

Coconut Pumpkin Chiffon Pie

1½ cups Baker's Coconut
1½ tablespoons unflavored gelatin
6 tablespoons cold water
⅔ cup brown sugar, lightly packed
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
2 cups Pet Milk
1 cup cooked or canned pumpkin
3 tablespoons dark molasses

Spread coconut thinly on baking sheet. Place in moderately slow oven (350° F.) and toast about 10 min., or until light brown. Stir now and then to toast evenly. Soften gelatin in cold water. Mix brown sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger, cloves and salt. Stir in mixture of slightly beaten egg yolks, milk, pumpkin and molasses. Place over boiling water; cook and stir 5 min., or until slightly thickened. Stir in softened gelatin until dissolved. Remove from heat; cover; chill until slightly thicker than unbeaten egg whites. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and ¾ cup toasted coconut. Put into a cold 9-in. baked pastry shell. Sprinkle with remaining toasted coconut. Chill until firm.

Plans Made For Cancer Seminar

Birmingham, Ala.—Plans have been completed for a Cancer Seminar to be held in Birmingham next Jan. 27-28, under sponsorship of the American Cancer Society, Alabama Division; Jefferson County Dental Association, Jefferson County Medical Association, Medical Association of Alabama, and Medical College of Alabama.

All medical doctors and dentists in Alabama have been advised of plans for the meeting and urged to attend by Dr. John Day Peake of Mobile, chairman of the Alabama executive committee, of the American Cancer Society.

Some of the nation's leading cancer specialists have been invited to address the seminar, Dr. Peake announced. Subjects to be covered include many types of cancer as well as methods of detection and treatment.

"This seminar will be quite extensive in scope," Dr. Peake said, "and has real potentialities for helping the advance against cancer in our own state."

Final Drive For Funds To Establish Memorial to Shelby County Service Men

A final drive is now being made throughout the county to raise funds to finance the erection of a monument on the Courthouse grounds in honor of the servicemen from Shelby County who lost their lives in World War I, II, and the Korean War. This project which was begun by the American Legion in 1949 has resulted in contributions in the amount of $599.35. Legion officials say there is no set goal for the amount of money to be raised, but that the size and beauty of the monument will be determined by the amount contributed. It is hoped that not less than $1000 will be received.

An effort has been made to compile a correct list of the names of the servicemen to be placed on the monument. Else where in this paper will be found a list of these service men. Legion officials have requested that corrections or additions of this list be made by contacting one of the Legion members named below. Those who desire to contribute to this monument may give their donation to one of these men also.

These Legion representatives are as follows: Calera, J. W. Anderson, Fred Allen; Columbiana, G. C. Moore, Jr., E. J. Sullivan, Bill B. White; Montevallo, Harry Kendrick, Walter Johnsey, Rudolph Kish; Siluria-Alabaster, Red Kendrick, Wesley Reich, Red Walker; Sterrett, Eugene Abercrombie, Thornton Anderson, S. C. Spradley, S. C. Shirley; Vincent, Fred Mathis, Jr., Odie W. Duck; Wilsonville, Bill Smith, J. C. Farr, Louis H. Cosper, B. E. Cunningham; and C. M. Fowler, Treasurer, Legion Memorial Fund, Columbiana.

This program deserves the support of every citizen of Shelby County. We should each help to preserve the memory of those boys who have given their lives to protect the freedoms of our great country.

We need the assistance of each of you who read this to make this list complete and accurate. If you know of any ommissions or any corrections please notify an official of the American Legion in your town or C. M. Fowler, Treasurer, Legion Memorial Fund, Columbiana. We express appreciation to the Office of the Adjutant General and the Department of Archives and History in Montgomery for their assistance in compiling this list. Unless a change is suggested the name of the serviceman will appear as listed below.

Some of the boys home from college to attend homecoming at Montevallo High School were Agee Kelly from the University; Mike Mahan, Joe and Jack McGaughy, Milton Jeter Jr., Grady Hicks and Bill Wilson from Auburn.

Hicks-Norris

An improvised altar, in a doorday, decorated with wedding bill, white candelabra, green smilax and baskets of white chrysanthemums and snapdragons, at the home of Mrs. Laura Hicks, made a beautiful setting for the late afternoon ceremony, Saturday, Nov. 7, which marked the marriage of her daughter, Miss Laura Ann Hicks and Robert Norris.

The Rev. Edward Glover read the service at 4 o'clock. Music was presented by Miss Mary Katherine Hicks, pianist, and Miss Joy Holcombe, vocalist. Miss Annette McBurnett and Miss Lois Hoffman lighted the candles.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Hicks and the late Mr. Roy Hicks Sr., of Montevallo. Mr. and Mrs. Norris of Fayette, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Roy Hicks Jr., the bride wore a gown of nylon illusion over satin with full length skirt falling into a short train featured by a tight fitting, long waisted, cap sleeved bodice, braided and embroidered with seed pearls. The elbow length mitts were of illusion and her head dress was a mother-of-pearl halo with finger tip veil. She carried a prayer book covered with a white orchid and tube roses.

Preceding the bride down the curved, smilax trimmed stairway, were her attenants. Miss Martha Harrison of Clayton, bridesmaid, wore a ballerina length dress of violet nylon net over taffeta with pleated net bodice. Her flowers were yellow carnations. Miss Rebecca Hicks, sister of the bride, junior bridesmaid, wore an ankle length dress of white and pink dotted swiss and carried pink carnations.

Nolan Robertson of Fayette, was best man for the bridegroom.

The mothers of the bridal couple both wore navy blue dresses with purple orchid corsages.

At the reception following the ceremony, Miss Martha Ann Cox kept the bride's book. Mrs. Roy Hicks, Jr., cut the cake and Mrs. W. G. Hicks served at the punch table. They were assisted by Miss Eleanor Mitchell, Miss Frances Klotzman, Miss Beverly Doyle, and Mrs. Jimmy Criswell.

After the reception the newly married couple left for a week end honeymoon. For traveling, Mrs. Norris wore a blue suit with navy accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris returned to Auburn Monday to resume their studies at API, where Mrs. Norris is a member of Phi Mu Sorority and Mr. Norris is a member of Sigma Pi Fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lawley have a baby daughter, Vicky Lynn, born October 23.

Renew Your Blood Donation Card

Monday, November 16! This is the day to renew your blood-donor card, or to get a new one if you have not already secured one.

Lack of understanding has caused some confusion about the use of the blood-donor card, and should be cleared up.

1. Since March 13, 1953 (for Montevallo) Red Cross blood for tranfusions has been available only to holders of blood-donor cards and their immediate depenents, (Husband or wife, children under 18, and "blood dependent" parents-i.e. persons over 60 who cannot themselves be donors.)

When the Bloodmobile visits the center, Blood-Donor Cards are issued (1) to all donors and (2) to persons who come in good faith to offer to be donors, but are rejected by the doctor.

2. These cards are dated and are good for a period of six months, after which the holder of the card will have to present himself again at the center and make another contribution in order to have his card re-newed.

3. Card holders, and their "blood dependents" will be eligible to receive blood as needed, on order of the physician from hospitals that are in the program, without cost for the blood itself, and without the necessity of finding donors to replace the blood (the usual situation, when it is necessary to use blood from commercial sources, is to require that it be replaced on a 2 to 1 basis.)

This does not mean that the patient will be relieved of the expenses charged by the hospitals and doctors for administering the blood. It is also true that not all hospitals have agreed to participate in the program.

The Shelby County Red Cross Committee will make every effort to schedule visits of the Bloodmobile at near-by locations at six month's intervals so that persons desiring to renew their cards each six months can do so at minimum of inconvenience. For example, the Bloodmobile will be in Columbiana and in Montevallo Monday, November 16, 1953. Calera residents are invited to participate at one or the other of these locations in November. We hope to be able to schedule the Bloodmobile in Calera in May, when Columbiana and Montevallo donors can renew their cards. In the meantime, it is always possible to renew your card by going to the Red Cross Center in Birmingham. (Give the information needed so that the Shelby County unit can get the "credit" toward its quota.)

Some confusion, and some real disappointment has come about during the past summer, in some cases due to failure to understand the need for keeping the donor card up to date.

The most important fact that determines the success of the whole program is that the only way that the Red Cross Center can meet the demands for blood when it is needed is for all of us to keep the bank filled. This is a mutual program and its success depends upon each of us. Let's all pull together so that when anyone needs a transfusion the Center will have the blood to meet the need.

National F H A Week Observed

The FHA Chapter of Montevallo High School carried out a variety of activities from November 1-7, in observance of National Future Homemakers of America Week.

Observance of this week by the local chapter began on Monday, November 2, when the president, Anita Bradley, called a meeting at the home economics department. Group pictures were taken for use in the local Future Homemakers of America Scrapbook. Badges designed in the form of a red rose were made by Patricia Davis for the members to wear during the week. There was an exhibit in the hall of the main building which included posters showing the creed, emblem, purpose of FHA; an arrangement of red roses, the FHA flower, and pictures of the present officers. Members who worked on this exhibit were: Jeanette Pickett, Barbara Jones, Edna Garner, Darvin Roden, Annette Hooper, Patricia Davis, Jade Higgins, Sigrid Lund, Mary Thornton, and Rue Lane Peters.

One of the most important events, giving the chapter an opportunity to reveal how FHA works, was the FHA assembly program which was carried out in the form of a typical FHA business meeting. Presiding over the meeting was the local chapter president, Anita Bradley, who led the members in repeating the F HA creed. The year books, made by Ouida Byrd, were distributed. The main feature was "local talent" such as twirling the baton and singing.

Tuesday, November 2, through Friday, November 5, the "old" members enjoyed the opportunity of initiating the Junior Members. During the features of this program the Junior Initiates were seen carrying brooms, mops or dustpans, bringing flowers to the teachers, bowing to "old" members, cleaning out pencil sharpeners, and picking up paper.

The climax of the local chapter's observance of National Future Homemakers of America Week was the decoration of the FHA car which was used, November 6, in the high school homecoming parade.

Dr. Bess Goodykoontz, Director of Comparative Education, Division of International Education, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, U. S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C., will be the guest speaker. Her opening address on Monday will be "Sound Principles of Supervision in 1953." On Tuesday she will talk obut "The Supervisor's Responsibility for In-Service Education."

Dr. W. M. McCall, Director, Division of Elementary Education, State Department of Education, and Dr. Frank Philpot, Supervisor of Instruction in the State Department of Education, will lead the conference participants in setting up problems for study on the topics "Organizing for In-Service Work" and "The Developmental Phases of An On-Going In-Service Program." The participants will be divided into small groups for study on the problems. The leaders for these small study groups will be: Miss Derthia Whitson, Mobile, Mrs. Laura Little, Clanton, Miss Louise Comer, Florence, Mrs. Houston Lucia, of Tuscaloosa, and Dr. Theo Dalton, Auburn.

The 1953-54 officers for the Department of Supervisors and Directors of Instruction are: President, Miss Anita King, Columbiana; Vice-President, Miss Virginia James, University; Secretary, Miss Mildred Ellisor, Monroeville; Treasurer, Thomas W. Carroll, Andalusia. Miss Lulu Palmer, Supervisor of Instruction, State Department of Education, serves as consultant to the department.

Mr. Victor (Rat) Scott, who entered Jefferson Hospital last Tuesday, underwent a surgical operation Friday. The operation was entirely successful and his condition is improving.

David Lindsay Chapter D A R Meeting

David Lindsay Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met on Monday night at the home of Mrs. E. D. Reynolds. Twelve members were present. "Our American Indians Today" was the subject of a splendid talk by Mrs. B. F. Roden.

At this meeting, final plans were made for marking the grave of David Lindsay, the Revolutionary patriot for whom the chapter is named. This ceremony will take place at the cemetery near Maylene, Alabama, on the afternoon of December 14, in celebration of Alabama Day.

After the business session, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Banks, of Eutaw, Alabama.

County Health Officer Urges You To Send Money For Christmas Seals

Few people realize the devastating effect on a family when some member develops Tuberculosis.

Should the head of the household, the breadwinner, be the one affected, the financial situation usually soon becomes acute. Many men, wo had always been able to earn a comfortable living for their family, find themselves penniless.

If the mother is the victim, the entire household is disrupted and the children of the family find temselves without the mother's care for a period of months or years.

All of us are susceptible to Tuberculosis and may catch it from the most unexpected source.

The only way to prevent Tubeculosis is to find and treat the unsuspected case. Under treatment the germs that cause Tuberculosis soon disappear from the sputum and the danger of infecting others is minimized.

Shelby County is the only one of the smaller counties in the State which is completely equipped for finding and treating Tuberculosis.

The chest x-ray clinic is conducted weekly and x-rays are available to any patient referred by a doctor at any time. Contacts of cases are x-rayed periodically at this clinic.

Treatment clinics are operated two mornings each week.

The drugs which are a most important part of the treatment are furnished to indigent patients free of charge. The drugs, as well as other supplies, are paid for from a fund set up by the County Tuberculosis Association and the Shelby County Board of Revenue and Control. Each organization contributes one-half of the total cost.

Your Tuberculosis Association has only one way to obtain its funds and that is by the sale of Christmas Seals.

When you buy Christmas Seals you are not only assisting many of your fellow citizens who, temporarily cannot help themselves, but you are making substantial investment in the protection of your family and yourself. You could be the next victim.

When you receive your Christmas Seals this year, I urge you to return your check for them promptly and, should you feel able to do so, you can make the check for whatever additional amount you may desire to contribute.

Please remember that Tuberculosis is our No. 1 public health problem today; it is communicable, and it can, with your help, be eradicated.

I am convinced that the County Tuberculosis Association, the Board of Revenue and Control, and the Health Department have evolved a system which will eventually be followed by the other counties of the State, will save the taxpayers millions of dollars and will finally wipe out this widespread scourge. —Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

What Your Christmas Seal Money Buys

M. and her father, T. were given chest x-rays at the Tuberculosis Association Clinic because of contact with a brother who had recently died of pulmonary tuberculosis. M. is 15 years of age and her father is 56. Both were found to have tuberculosis in an infectious stage. The family had insurance and it was possible to hospitalize both patients until the coverage was exhausted. Each patient was discharged to return home.

Intraperitoneal air treatment is currently being given these two persons at the Clinic. Drugs are supplied by the fund provided by the Tuberculosis Association and the Board of Revenue and Control. A sister has been taught to give intramuscular injections.

Both patients have shown improvement and M. hopes to return to school next year.

Montevallo FFA Plans Big Activity Program

Montevallo FFA boys have been busy lately completing some of the items set up in the annual activity program. During the last four weeks Mr. Sidney Hays and Mr. Hartley Thompson, both seniors at Auburn, have been working with the boys. During recent weeks many of the students have studied judging dairy cattle, judging beef cattle, and much time has been given to studying a live-at-home program. The home orchard and poultry production have been looked upon as the two offering much possibility here. Twenty fruit tree orders have been made and it is expected that orchards will be set before the Christmas holidays.

The three classes in vocational agriculture are building one park bench each as a contribution to the school and it is expected that volunteer committees will complete seven more on the grounds.

All the FFA boys will enjoy a chili supper Monday night the 23rd when the group has planned a little party for Mr. Hays and Mr. Thompson before their practice teaching period ends on Nov. 25.

Plans are being made to organize an FFA string band and the boys will meet each Wednesday night to practice. Coy Holsemback and Calvin Hatcher will help the boys with the band. The group at Montevallo will attend the first big county-wide meeting at Columbiana on Dec. 16. Over 300 boys and girls are expected to attend the meeting. "Teen Age Safety" will be the theme of the county FFA-FHA program this year.

The FFA Chapter will secure a registered duroc boar this week as a gift from the Central State Bank of Calera.

NOTICE

There will be a congregational meeting at the Presbyterian Church immediately following the morning service Sunday, Nov. 22.

Bishop Purcell At Methodist Church

Bishop Clare Purcell, presiding Bishop of the Birmingham Area, will preach at the Methodist Church Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock hour. At 2:30 p.m. he will dedicate the Dr. Steckel Home as a superannate home. From 3 to 4 open house will be held. Everyone is cordially invited to these services.

Rev. O. Kyle Lamb, pastor of the Methodist Church, will bring the message Sunday evening at 7:30 using as his subject, "A Threefold Vision." The College Choir will furnish music for the service.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 a union Thanksgiving service will be held at the First Baptist Church. Rev. O. Kyle Lamb will bring the message. You are invited to join us in this service of Thanksgiving to Almighty God for his love and protection during another year.

Montevallo Lions Win Attendance Trophy

At a zone meeting at Thorsby last Thursday night representatives of the Montevallo Lions Club were notified that their club is the winner of the attendance trophy for this zone for the month of October.

The trophy will be officially presented to the Montevallo Club Monday night, November 23, by Zone Chairman, Dick Scott of Clanton.

At the end of the year the trophy will be engraved and given permanently to the club that keeps it the most.

The Study Club

The Montevallo Study Cub met November 17, at the home of Mrs. T. E. Watson with Mrs. M. L. Orr Sr., as co-hostess.

Mrs. Frank Morgan, in charge of the program, presented Misses Gale Little and Marjorie Peregoy, students at Alabama College, who gave a most interesting discussion on art with a showing of some of their work.

The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. E. D. Reynolds with Mrs. A. C. Jeter as co-hostess. Mrs. F. E. Lund will be program leader.

"Search of Self" Is Religious Theme

"Search of Self" is the theme of the annual Religious Emphasis Week, Nov. 16-20, at Alabama College. Dr. Jack R. Noffsinger, pastor of First Baptist Church, Gainesville, Florida, is the principal speaker during the interdenominational activities sponsored by the campus Religious Council.

The Reverend Henry E. Russell, pastor of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, Montgomery, assisted Dr. Noffsinger for the Monday and Tuesday platform programs.

During the Week, Dr. Noffsinger, a noted youth counselor, will give group and individual guidance through a program of platform talks at 11 a.m. each day in Palmer Auditorium, informal discussion groups Wednesday thru Friday evenings at 7:30 in Comer Auditorium, and personal conferences with students.

Amos N. Kirby Is March of Dimes District Adviser

Amos N. Kirby of Birmingham has been appointed District Campaign Adviser for the 1954 March of Dimes, according to Clarence C. Horton of Montgomery, State Campaign Chairman.

As Director, Mr. Kirby will act in an advisory capacity, co-ordinating activities in eight North Alabama counties, as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis swings from the defense to the attack in its fight against polio. These counties include Bibb, Chilton, Jefferson, Shelby, Blount, Cullman, Walker and Winston.

Mr. Kirby has served as State Director of Unemployment Compensation and for two years was Congressional Secretary. He has been a member of the Kiwanis Club since 1938. He is now retired from active business.

Interest Growing In Plans for Memorial

Interest is being shown throughout the County in the project sponsored by the American Legion to honor the deceased service men from Shelby County whose lives were lost in World War I, II and the Korean War. Assurances have been received from all Legion Posts that work is being done to raise money for this project and also to obtain a correct list of names of the service men to be placed on the monument which is to be located on the Court House grounds.

The names of the deceased service men were published in the last issue of this paper. Any one having additional information concerning these names should contact an official of one of the American Legion Posts. These officials will also accept contributions to the monument fund.

Contributions totaling $33.00 have been received by mail this week from the following.

Mrs. W. L. Christian, Columbiana; Mrs. Maggie Davis, Dunnavant; Mrs. J. F. Edwards, Anniston; Mrs. A. L. Lucas, Wilton.

AAUW Will Meet

AAUW will meet November 24 in the dining room of Reynolds Hall at 7:30. The speaker will be Dr. Louis E. Armstrong, Director of Indian Springs School. Dr. Armstrong will talk on "The Future of Private Education in a Democracy." AAUW is anxious to have everyone interested in education attend this meeting, whether or not they are members of AAUW.

It Is Your Christmas Seal Money That Makes Fight Against Tuberculosis

The sale of Christmas Seals, insurance of an opportunity to return to health and happiness to those who have TB, began in Shelby County this week. In most instances persons suffering from this disease depend upon The Shelby County Tuberculosis Association for assistance. Seventy nine per cent of the proceeds from this sale will be spent in Shelby County for medicines, disposable tissues and other supplies. This seventy nine per cent will be matched by the Shelby County Board of Revenue and Control to provide funds for the 1954 program.

The program of the Shelby Tuberculosis Association is under the direction of Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer. He conducts weekly clinics and he, together with Miss Dottie Walton, institutes home treatment for patients. It is their work with tuberculosis that is made possible by the sale of Seals. State funds are not furnished for this treatment. In fact the x-ray and other pieces of equipment used in the clinic were purchased and donated to the clinic by Dr. and Mrs. Sloan.

The resources of the Tuberculosis Association are the people of Shelby County themselves and their willingness to contribute to a program for Shelby County people. This willingness determines the imitations of the program. If you would like to buy Christmas Seals and have not yet received them, send your contribution to Roy Downs, Calera and request that Seals be mailed.

FACTS ABOUT T. B.

1. A contageous disease that may be and is contracted by persons regardless of age, sex, or station in life.
2. If discovered in time it can be arrested, yet
3. It leads all diseases as a cause of death in the 15-35 age group.
4. Rest and inactivity is one requirement for successful treatment.
5. Frequently this results in stopping of all of a family's income.
6. Thus the importance of the T. B. Association program in curing this disease and returning breadwinners to work.
7. There are 53 known active cases of T. B. in Shelby County and 108 inactive cases, our number one health problem.
8. The purchase of Christmas Seals buys good health for many.

Speckled Trout Rodeo Begins November 19

Trout Fishermen throughout Alabama and neighboring states as well as the residents of Baldwin County down on Alabama's Gulf Coast are anxiously waiting the opening of the 5th Annual Baldwin County Speckled Trout Rodeo which begins at 5 a.m., Thursday, November 19.

The competition for the $4,000 worth of prizes is expected to be keen although the Baldwin County residents who "claim" to know where the big trout hide will have no advantage over the visiting fishermen and fisherwomen as the contest is divided into two classifications: County-Resident Contest and Non-County Resident Contest.

The Grand Rodeo Prize in this year's event is a lot in Gulf Shores measuring 50x150 feet and fronting on the Intracoastal Canal, 40 Shakespeare "Marhoff" Rods and Reels, 20 Cottages for one week at Alabama's famous South Baldwin-Gulf of Mexico Resort, and Two Evinrude "Lightwin" Outboard Motors will be awarded to the contestants catching the largest (by length) Speckled Trout. The Rods and Reels and free cottage rentals are awarded daily during the contest and the Outboard Motors are awarded for the largest fish caught during the entire Rodeo.

Rodeo Headquarters is located at the Club House of the Gulf Shores Lions Club, sponsors of the yearly fishing event, at Gulf Shores, Alabama, and full particulars will be mailed upon written request.

Dry Weather Hurts Alabama Cattlemen

Florence, Alabama, Nov. 18, 1953—"Cattlemen in Alabama, already hard pressed by falling prices and a succession of adverse drought years, are now facing a new crisis as a result of a prolonged fall drought," declares Bruce Henderson, former State Senator in a speech at Florence, Alabama and in a telegram addressed to U. S. Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson.

Henderson said that he had recently touched every section of the State and that the duration of this drought had prevented the growth of normal fall crops for winter feed. He said that everywhere, particularly in north Alabama, where fall crops had been planted that the earth was still bare and that beacuse of the lateness of the season, that cattlemen could not now depend on these crops for winter feed.

Concluding his telegram to Benson, Henderson said, that Alabama should be declared a drought area in whole or in part, and that feed should be made available to Alabama cattlemen by the speedy but uniform and fair administration of drought loans.

College Play Postponed

Alabama College's production of Robert Morley's play "Short Story," originally scheduled for November 20 has been postponed until December 8, 10, 11. The play will be presented "in the round" in Reynolds Hall.

A sophisticated comedy of middle class English life, "Short Story" centers around an author who plays with reality in one of his stories.

Training Social Workers At Alabama College

Benefitting from the State's oldest social work training curriculum, a program that is unique in Alabama, eight social work seniors at Alabama College are learning by personal experience how to help their fellow citizens.

Mrs. Mary H. Whatley, Assistant Professor of Sociology at Alabama College; is director of the student social workers who cooperate with the county welfare department in visiting clients and making reports to the county office. They are considered actual members of the Shelby County Welfare Department, and spend two afternoons each week in case work.

Practically applying what they learn in classes, the girls spend summers working as case-aides, camp workers, case workers, or in some other phase of social work.

Busy As A Bee In A Tar Bucket Is Ed Ewing, Student At University

(By Barbara Barnes)

Carrying papers, working as a carnival roustabout, clerking in a variety store, and laying brick are just a few jobs that Ed Ewing, University of Alabama junior, can list as "past business experience."

Ed has the peculiar ambition to "do just as many things as I can," and at the rate he's progressing, it won't take him long.

Before entering college, Ed worked on all the jobs listed above. At the University, he is holding down four regular jobs and raking in a grand sum of $92.90 monthly. In addition, he is paid a commission for taking up laundry.

Ed balances physical labor with mental, so that the strain is not too great on either brain or brawn. His work day begins at 8 o'clock, when he attends advanced military class as part of his paid service in the ROTC Signal Corps.

Then, at 9, he drops by the post office, picks up sacks of mail for the Alabama Broadcasters Association and the University News Bureau, and lugs them over to Clark Hall. Ed says in his lazy drawl, "I like carrying the mail, because it gives me good exercise. The offices I deilver to are on the third and fourth floor, and there are 92 steps leading up to fourth floor."

When he gets to the fourth floor, he usually remains for a couple of hours work with the News Bureau, where he is assistant to one of the directors. He puts in a good many other hours reporting meetings and hunting down assignments over the campus.

While his News Bureau reporting is limited to the Capstone, he has the whole city of Tuscaloosa as his beat, because he is city correspondent to United Press.

Ed has found work to do in the dormitories, also. Last year he was "official barber" for the boys in his hall, and this year he takes up laundry and cleaning for a local firm. He says, "I really have to hustle my laundry business, because the more I get, the more I'm paid."

Ed, the son of Mayor and Mrs. George L. Ewing of Wilton, is a journalism major with his eye on a future in public relations. He is getting experience in that line by service as Director of Public Affairs for the Cabinet of the Student Government Association. His duties in that capacity include broadcasting a weekly "SGA Speaks" program on WABP and writing a column for the Crimson-White.

With all his activities, Ed has become well-known as a leader on the University campus, as evidenced by the fact that he was elected to Rho Alpha Tau, Druids and Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary service organizations.

He is also business manager for the Cotillion Club, past president of the Alabama Independents Association, a member of the Press Club, and secretary for the Army Officers Club.

In some way unknown to those who are familiar with his heavy schedule of duties, Ed manages to work in 12 hours of academic courses, plus two afternoon labs.

As part of his work with ODK, Ed serves on the committee which visits high schools to encourage students to attend college. He considers himself an example of the adage, "Anyone who really wants to can go to college." He advises high schoolers, "Fifty per cent of the students at the University of Alabama work part time to reduce expenses. Personally, I am glad that I've been able to work, because in each job I have met people who have become friends."

This outstanding Capstoner is looking forward to receiving a BA degree in February of 1955. After that, he hopes to work somewhere in the South, preferably Birmingham. "There's only one thing that's worrying me about going to work," he says. "If I get on a 40-hour week, I won't know what to do with myself all the rest of the time."

Poll Tax Amendment

On December 15, you will be asked to vote on a Constitutionai Amendment which will reduce the payment of back poll tax for those who have paid no poll tax, to two years only.

Before you can vote on this amendment, you must have been registered before February 1, 1953 and have paid your poll tax.

If this amendment is passed you must still register and must still pay poll tax each year until you are 45 or unless you have served in the armed forces. If this amendment is passed, those who have never paid poll tax can now register and vote by paying only $3.00.

This amendment does not, in any way, alter the registration requirements. You must still appear before the Board of Registrars and meet the requirements for voting.

Some people are saying that they have paid poll tax all these years and think it is not fair for those who have not paid, to be able to vote by paying only two years back poll tax. The answer to that is, we just feel sorry for those who have not had the privilege of voting in past Alabama election when voters have elected those candidates whom they think will serve the people of Alabama best.

Let all registered voters go to the polls December 15 and vote for this amendment.

Have YOU Looked At YOUR Woodlands Lately?

You may have a timber crop on it now, ready for cutting—and cash.

Or, there may be some old abandoned fields that would be perfect for planting a new crop of pine.

That's why my company has spent a lot of money here in Alabama for a tree nursery and hires me and other foresters to handle the planting on our lands. We are available to advise you on your tree planting problems.

Neighbors, carefully managed tree crops provide good income—for you today, and for your children tomorrow.

Lee Palmer Relates Experiences On Trip To Chicago

Lee Palmer, Chelsea, relates some of their experiences as follows: "My trip to Chicago was the result of a new experience for me, owning and showing dairy cattle. The trip also was made possible through the efforts of Mr. John R. Parrish, Extension Dairyman of Alabama and the contributions of the Alabama State Fair, Mr. R. H. McIntosh, General Manager; The Alabama Jersey Cattle Club, Mr. Joe Wittmeier, President, and The Alabama Guernsey Cattle Club, Mr. Douglas Kent, President.

We made the trip by Trailways Bus, and that was also a new experience because I had never been on a long bus trip. I thought it was going to be tiresome but after we all got to know each other better we played games, read comics and some of the older ones would sometimes sing. After we left the Kentucky hills the country began to change, it became so flat we could see for miles and miles. It is so different that the country side down here.

When we got to Chicago on Sunday evening it was cloudy and cold and as we rode along the lake shore the wind was making the waves from the lake break up over the sea wall. We went directly to the hotel where we were to stay. By the time we got to our rooms it was getting late so we went out to dinner and right back to the hotel so we could get a good night's rest and get ready for some busy days ahead.

We spent most of the day on Monday at the Dairy Show where there were a great many different kinds of cattle from all over the United States and Canada. There were some kinds I had never heard of before, such as Brown Swiss and Ayshire. That evening we went to the big rodeo where we saw all the usual acts that make up a championship rodeo. Also an act which was not on the program. One of the big brahman bulls jumped the fence and headed for the Hot Dog stand. No damage was done and everything was under control shortly. However, it was reported a woman fainted.

On Tuesday we went back to the Dairy Show for a while, then went back to the business section of Chicago on a shopping tour and to take in a movie that night.

We were to leave at noon on Wednesday, so that morning we got up early to attend the radio show "Breakfast Club." No individual of the group was called on but the fact that the group was there was acknowledged by Mr. McNeil. On our way out of Chicago we spent the rest of the time at the Museum where a person could spend almost a lifetime seeing everything. We saw enough to get a good idea of it all though, and one display that interested me particularly was of a modern dairy farm house, barn and all. We had an uneventful but safe journey home thanks to our bus driver, Mr. Hester. A wonderful time was had by all, a great deal of credit going to our chaperones, Miss Millie Barker, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent, of Brewton, and Mr. Tom Cassady, Assistant County Agent, Rockford.

I hope I am as fortunate next year."

Lee Palmer, Chelsea 4-H Club.

Cattle Raisers May Now Make Application For Disaster Relief Loans

More than $11,689,000 in special livestock loans has been loaned to approximately 1,190 farmers and ranchers throughout the United States and nearly 600 other applications are being considered, S. S. Pierce, Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor for Shelby County, reported this week.

The special livestock loan program authorized last July, helps established producers of cattle, sheep, and goats to maintain their herds, Pierce said. The producers who can borrow are those with good past records of livestock production but who are temporarily unable to get adequate credit from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or other responsible sources to enable them to go ahead with normal livestock operations. They must have reasonable prospects of success with the help of a loan. Commercial feed lot operators are not included.

Applications can be made at the county Farmers Home Administration office at Columbiana. Committees authorized by Secretary of Agriculture Benson approve the loans. Applications for more than $50,000 must have final approval by the Secretary of Agriculture in Washington.

A borrower may use his loan funds for usual expenses of carrying on a livestock operation, including restocking his herd up to the number he held before he had to reduce his herd.

The 5 per cent loans may be amortized over a 3-year period and secured by the best lien possible on the borrower's property and his personal obligation to repay the borrowed money. Other creditors, although not asked to subordinate their claims, are expected to agree to stand by so the farmers can have a fair chance to work out of his difficulties. Agreements are made to let the farmer apply a reasonable part of his livestock income to repaying the special livestock loan.

Know Your Schools

The Business Management section of the Division of Administration and Finance advises the school officials concerning the requirement that they give bond with an approved surety company, the preparation of the bond, recording, filing, and other details. A file on each bonded office, from its inception to the current date, is maintained by the section.

There are five kinds of school tax elections authorized by the State Constitution, namely, County-Wide One-Mill Tax, County-Wide Three-Mill Tax, District Three-Mill Tax, Special School Taxes for specific areas, and Tax District consolidations. School officials are advised by this section concerning the proper methods of holding these elections and concerning the best manner of districting county units. To hold one of these school tax elections, five sets of forms are required. Upon request, these forms are prepared by this section and furnished free to school officials. When requested, a member of the Department goes into the county or city and renders further service in connection with the elections.

Alabama Law requires that "The state superintendent of education shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, and submit for approval and adoption by the state board of education a uniform series of forms and blanks for the use of county boards of education, boards of education of cities, school officials and teachers, and it shall be his duty to see that all financial matters, and all educational records are made according to these forms and blanks."

The State Superintendent of Education has compiled with this law. Most of these forms are printed in quantity by the State Department of Education at a cost of approximately $25,000 annually and distributed free to county and city boards of education through the Division of Administration and Finance.

Fight Against TB Will Be Won

"Let's give thanks that the fight against TB can and will be won."

That's the Thanksgiving message expressed by the Shelby County Tuberculosis Association.

"Tuberculosis is curable and it is preventable. And the prevention and cure of the disease is the purpose of the annual Christmas Seal Sale.

"We're thankful so many people are having a part in a great crusade because they buy and use Christmas Seals. Death rates have been dropping steadily since the first Seals were sold nearly 50 years ago.

"But a strong fight still must be waged. The battle is only half won.

"There are active, infectious cases of TB in every Alabama county. Many of them are known cases, recorded on health department miles, but there still are just as many unknown cases. A lot of people have TB and do not know it, because in the early stages tuberculosis gives no warning signs.

"Tuberculosis is everybody's business because it is a 'catching' disease. The purchase and use of Christmas Seals gives everybody a chance to fulfill his responsibility in this once-a-year drive.

"Let's be thankful we have this opportunity—and give as generously as we can.

"Money contributed now will help hospitalize, treat and prevent TB the whole year through."

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Grady Peete, Montevallo farmer, has a ten acre (opprox.) Chapel Hill Rescue grass patch that showed almost no drought damage on Nov. 20.

Combined twice, and with a thick volunteer stand of new growth, a large percentage of the original plants were making a vigorous growth and some third-growth seed as they started into the second year.

Allen Oats had his fine Angus herd grazing his new Chapel Hill Rescue grass on the same date, and the grass looked very good in spite of the heavy grazing.

R. R. Harrison has limed several acres and is ready to plant a commercial mixture of pasture seeds on his Dogwood farm. It will be interesting to watch the progress of the various clovers and grasses.

R. M. Bird, Montevallo, is one of the few farmers we know not yet enthusiastic about Rescue grass. He has an open mind, and possibly a more severe winter than last year might prove its value. In the meantime he has excellent oats, clover and rye grass, and was spreading slag last week on a fine white clover patch.

Methodists Dedicate The Steckel Home

On Snuday, Nov. 22, at 2:30 p.m. the Steckel Home was dedicated by Bishop Clare Purcell.

Dr. Minnie L. Steckel, former student counselor of Alabama College, willed her home to the local Methodist Church to be used as a home for retired ministers and their families.

After the dedicatory service, with Bishop Purcell presiding and Dr. W. Nelson Guthrie, Dr. O. K. Lamb, Dr. T. H. Napier, and Mrs. Don Lovelady assisting, the open house, from 3 to 4 p.m. was enjoyed by the first occupants, Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Lazenby and visitors.

Some people embark on the sea of matrimony as though it was only a short cruise.

College Students Visit Craig AF Base

Craig AFB, Ala.—Sixteen visitors from Alabama College toured the facilities of Craig AF Base on Tuesday, November 17th.

The young ladies are all majoring in Physical Education. They studied the recreation facilities and activities at the base. The tour was arranged by 1st Lt. Donal P. Jackson, Craig's Special Officer and Miss Shirley Mason, Craig Service Club Director.

Jet and conventional aircraft based at Craig were displayed for the visitors, and the capabilities of each were explained. The young ladies showed a keen interest in the technical aspects of military aviation.

78 Pints of Blood Donated Here

Seventy eight pints of blood were donated in Montevallo to the Red Cross Blood Bank on Monday, November 16. One hundred and four citizens offered blood but twenty six were rejected. All volunteers were given cards entitling them and their immediate family to receive blood without obligation to replace or pay for the blood whether they gave blood or were rejected.

Much of the credit for obtaining this blood goes to the numerous volunteer workers who canvassed the town for donations and who helped during the actual process of registering the donors, examining them and assisting in the blood mobile. Miss Laura Hadley, County Chairman; Mrs. Fred E. Frost Jr., Montevallo Chairman; and Mrs. T. E. Watson, Montevallo co-chairman, wish to thank each person who helped to make the drive a success.

Refreshments for the blood donors were donated by the Coca Cola Co., McCulley's, Chambers and Eddings.

Just a few more weeks and Shug and Red can let the professors do all the worrying about the passing ability of their heroes.

Herbert O. Milstead Died Tuesday Morning

Herbert Otis Milstead died at his home Tuesday, Nov. 24, at 3:10 a.m., after an illness of a few months.

Mr. Milstead, age 49, was born in Shelby County and had been a well known resident of Montevallo for a number of years. He was a Registered Pharmacist for 27 years, having worked in Talladega County, Montevallo, and was in business in Siluria when he became ill in June.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Florence T. Milstead; one son, Herby; two daughters, Betty, of Montevallo, and Detsy Milstead of Moundville; mother, Mrs. Vesta Milstead of Montevallo; six brothers, J. C., Odell, and Don Milstead of Calera, Victor of Columbiana, Hubert of Birmingham, and Bernard of Selma; two sisters, Mrs. Maeona Tollett, of Birmingham and Mrs. Louise Alexander of Calera.

Funeral services were at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Montevallo Methodist Church where the body lay in state for an hour preceding the rites which were conducted by the Rev. O. Kyle Lamb. Burial in Montevallo Cemetery with Bolton-Walton Funeral Home directing.

Montevallo F F A Members Active In Many Ways

Montevallo FFA boys are busy this month making plans for new orchards, poultry projects, swine projects and other productive and improvement enterprises. This week the chapter was given a registered Duroc Jersey boar costing $40.00 by the Central State Bank at Calera to use in improving the swine projects. The boar will be kept by E. E. Aldridge, at the Montevallo Milling Co. Recently, Mr. Aldridge gave Franklin Edwards a registered Duroc gilt.

* * *

Sidney Hays and Harley Thompson, seniors at Auburn and practice teachers here, have been active this week in teaching FFA boys special lessons in livestock, swine, poutry and dairying enterprises. Mr. Hays is from Arab, and Mr. Thompson is from Dothan. They will work here until Thanksgiving.

Sr. II ag boys and several others enjoyed a party with their adviser, Mr. Thornton, Wednesday evening.

FFA members will order fruit trees for anyone in this vicinity interested in setting a new orchard or adding to the old orchard.

* * *

After winning a silver award in the State FFA and a Bronze Plaque in the National FFA Chapter contest, the Montevallo FFA members are working toward plans to win a silver award next year. The National association includes 8500 chapters and the Montevallo chapter was among the 18 to receive the bronze awards.

Billy Jack Holcombe, FFA reporter, plans to enter the house beautification and chapter reporter contest this year. The chapter will also have judging teams in dairy cattle, beef cattle, and hogs.

* * *

It is not unusual now days to hear FFA members discussing their experiences as they have been working at various jobs in Montevallo. Kenneth Walker and Bobby Roman are employed for part time work at Montevallo Times. Bobby Bunn and Billy Joe Pickett work at Wilson Drug Store. Billy Holcomb and Bill Moody work at Strand Theatre, Bobby Ray Stewart works at DeLuxe Cleaners. Ed Hicks and James Alexander work at grocery stores and many other members work at odd jobs as they can get jobs to do. Willys Hamaker, Joe Anderson, Jack Lawley and Lewey Harkins have been making concrete tables and benches at the Spring Park.

FFA boys are thankful to Stanley Mahan and others responsible for the paving and improvements around the school grounds lately.

Speaking of the British, who was it that said Mr. Churchill is a wonderful man. "He deserves credit. But he'll take cash if he can get it." Of course, it was probably the same guy who declared, "Great Britain has arranged to send us a check for $5 billion. All we have to do is sign it and send it back."

Increase In Telephones Denotes Progress In Montevallo

As the nation observed the installation of its 50,000,000th telephone, a total of 1,017 telephones were in service in Montevallo, B. F. Lunsford, Manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, revealed here. Alabama has 507,879 of the U.S.A.'s telephones, including 458,307 Southern Bell telephones and 49,572 operated by 77 other telephone companies in the State.

"Telephone progress in Montevallo is symbolic of communications progress throughout the nation," Mr. Lunsford said. "The number of telephones here has more than doubled since 1947, and the number continues to increase. The heavy demand for more telephone service that we have experienced in Alabama and Montevallo has been felt throughout the nation."

President Eisenhower and Cleo F. Craig, President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, are shown immediately after November 18 ceremonies at which Mr. Eisenhower was presented the nation's 50 millionth telephone. The Presentation was made by Mr. Craig and Warren B. Clay, President of United States Independent Telephone Association

Presentation of the symbolic 50,000,000th telephone to President Eisenhower as head of the nation was made at Washington Wednesday, November 18. by the American telephone industry, represented by Cleo Craig, President of the United States Independent Telephone Association.

Mr. Lunsford pointed out that additions to Alabama's telephone system are a barometer of progress in the State and South as a whole. "Since 1945," he said, "Southern Bell telephones throughout Dixie have more than doubled, reflecting a great surge of business, industrial and agricultural activity throughout this section of the country. Southern Bell and independent companies working in close cooperation, have had an important part in the development of the commercial, industrial South, he said.

"Since 1876, when the telephone was invented," Mr. Lunsford said, "the history of the telephone in America has been one of great strides forward. In 1899, the nation reached its first million telephones. In 1914, America's telephones totaled 10,000,000." America, first nation to achieve 50,000,000 telephones, now has one telephone for each three persons, while the average of the rest of the world is one telepone for each 65 persons. More people share in the ownership of the telephone industry than in any business in the world, the Bell System having well over 1,250,000 owners.

Farm Bureau Recommends Revision Of Cotton Acreage Quota Law

The Cotton Acreage Allotment and Marketing Quota law is in serious need of revision. Such revision was recommended by the voting delegates in the recent annual meeting of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, held in Biloxi, Miss., Nov. 2-4, 1953, and it is hoped the Congress will make the revisions recommended shortly after it meets in January.

The Farm Bureau made a strong effort to get the law revised at the last session of Congress. The recommended changes in the law were not enacted because of a strong difference of opinion between some state Farm Bureaus in the western part of the belt and some state Farm Bureaus in the eastern part of the belt. Since the law was not revised, allotments must be made under the existing law, which was last revised in 1949.

Allotments will be extremely unsatisfactory to farmers, particularly for two reasons:

1. The most that can be allotted for the nation as a whole, under the present law, is 17,910,448 acres and this is a very drastic cut under recent plantings.

2. The method of allotting county acreage allotments to farmers is out-of-date and will result in in very inequitable allotments to some farmers.

The bill which the Farm Bureau recommended to the last session of Congress would have corrected these defects.

It (1) provided for a minimum national allotment of 21,500,000 acres and an addition of approximately 500,000 acres to prevent extreme drastic reductions in some states, particularly the western states, and (2) provided that the county acreage allotments be apportioned to farmers in the county on which cotton was planted in any one of three years preceding 1954 on the basis of the average acreage planted to cotton on the farm in such three year period, adjustment for abnormal conditions adversely affecting plantings during such three year period, land labor, equipment available for the production of cotton, and crop rotation practices.

These provisions were not enacted because of a great difference of opinion raised over distribution of the national allotment to the states.

Under the present law, Alabama's allotment is 1,139,121 acres. If the Farm Bureau recommendations had been enacted, the allotment to Alabama would have been 1,376,800 acres. This would have been an increase of 237,679 acres. In other words, if the Farm Bureau recommendations on cotton acreage allotments had been enacted, the allotment to the state would have been 237,679 acres more than it is and the county committees would have been able to make equitable allotments as between farms.

The voting delegates to the recent annual meeting of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation adopted, in the closing session held on the morning of November 4, a resolution reading as follows.

"We request that the Congress pass legislation as soon after meeting as possible increasing the national allotment of cotton to 21,000,000 acres and providing that the additional acreage be used to make allotments more equitable."

The reason, it was explained, that the delegates recommended an allotment of 21,000,000 acres instead of the larger allotment recommended by the Farm Bureau to the last Congress, is that the estimate of the 1953 crop has been greatly increased since the original recommendation was decided on last July.

We are making a strong effort to get the state Farm Bureaus in agreement on cotton acreage allotment legislation before Congress convenes next January. If an agreement can be reached, it is felt the needed legislation will stand a good chance of being passed. Several of the state Farm Bureaus have already indicated that they would agree to legislation similar to that recommended by the Alabama voting delegates.

March Of Dimes At Alabama College

A district pre-campaign meeting for the 1954 March of Dimes will be held Monday, November 23, at 6:30 p.m. at Alabama College, according to Clarence C. Horton, State Campaign Chairman. The purpose of the meeting is to present to leaders and workers of the March of Dimes the four-fold program for 1954. Discussions will concern all phases of the coming campaign, as the fight against polio swings from the defense to the attack. Amos N. Kirby, District Campaign Adviser, will preside.

Expected at the meeting, along with their workers, will be the following County Campaign Directors Jessie W. Price, Bibb County; Rev. Don R. Esty, Chilton County; John L. Sullivan, Jefferson County; and Dr. M. L. Orr Sr., Shelby County.

Fourth Annual Science Talent Search

Tuscaloosa—A state-wide search is underway to find the 13 most promising scienceminded high school seniors in Alabama.

The fourth annual state Science Talent Search was launched with an invitation to seniors in 470 public, private and parochial high schools throughout Alabama. They will have an opportunity to compete for $11,000 in Westinghouse Science Scholarships and $10,000 in General William Crawford Gorgas Scholarships.

The 1953-54 State Science Talent Search is sponsored by the Gorgas Scholarship Foundation, Inc., in cooperation with the Alabama Academy of Science and ten state colleges and is conducted under the supervision and in accordance with the rules and regulations of Science Clubs of America.

If you are a high school student planning a career in science you will want to take advantage of the National Science Talent Search and the state contest for Gorgas Scholarships.

Any Alabama boy or girl who will graduate from high school by August 1954 is eligible to enter this year's contest. It is not necessary for a boy or girl to be a member of a science club to enter the contest.

...if there were only ONE telephone in the world

If you had the only telephone in the world, you couldn't use it. There would be nobody else you could call.

The value of a telephone is in the great number of people you can reach with it. You can talk with almost anyone, anywhere—quickly, easily and at low cost.

Last week the number of telephones in this nation passed the 50,000,000 mark. That's more than there are in all the rest of the world. It figures out to about one telephone for every three people in this country.

Most of these telephones are served by local Bell Companies like Southern Bell. Nearly 9,000,000, however, are operated by 5300 other companies.

In no other nation is the telephone so available, so useful and so low in cost.

FAST GROWTH IN DIXIE...

The number of telephones in the areas served by Southern Bell has jumped from 1,863,204 at the beginning of 1946 to more than 4,200,000 today.

The Cub Scouts

The Cub Scouts of Den number two met Friday, Oct. 23, at the home of Wolf Cub Bill Bob Garrett. The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance led by en Chief Herb Henry. Then each Cub repeated the Cub Scout promise.

Mr. Arthur Garrett Sr., was elected to be the Den Father. Robert Eddings was elected Denner and Jimmy Eddings assistant Denner. The Cubs are elected for a period of two months. Mrs. Huey Bearden and Mrs. Arthur Garrett Sr., are the Den Mothers for this group. When the cokes were served the Cub having the bottle from the farthest distance was awarded a prize; this was won by Jimmy Eddings. Plans were discussed for the Halloween Party which was held Wednesday, Oct. 28. The meeting was dismissed with the Living Circle.

At this meeting the old Cubs welcomed in new Cub Bob Bearden. Other Cubs present were Bill Bob Garrett, Robert Eddings, Jimmy Eddings, Ernest Blankenship, Ronny Cox and Guy Milford.

Southern Bell Will Provide Motion Pictures

Motion picture films on motor vehicle safety, telephone courtesy, fire hazards in the home, and many other subjects are available for loan to local civic, social and educational groups from Southern Bell Telephone Company.

B. F. Lunsford, group manager of the company at Bessemer, said a complete listing of films and information on how to borrow them may be obtained at the Telephone Company's business office.

Since the Company's Film Library is maintained as a public service, no charge is made for use of the films, the Southern Bell Manager said.

The popularity of the Film Library is indicated by the number of people who view films borrowed from it. During a typical month approximately 20,000 Alabama Adults and Children attended the showings held at 343 group meetings.

Typical of the fifty titles available are "Mr. Bell," a dramatic presentation condensing the 75 years of the great inventor's life; "The Telephone Hour," a real musical treat porvided by the distinguished pianist Josef Hofman and the Bell Telephone Orchestra.

All films in the Library are 16 MM and range in length of showing time from 10 to 20 minutes.

Ebenezer H D Club

Twelve members of the Ebenezer Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. J. H. Wyatt on November 19.

After luncheon, the meeting was called to order by Mrs. H. A. Pauly, president. The devotional was given by Mrs. J. H. Wyatt. Roll call was answered with "What I have been most thankful for in 1953." The minutes of the last meeting were read and the treasurer's report given.

Mrs. Nathan Frost led the group in singing "America" and "Come Ye Thankful People, Come."

Chairmen reports were given by Mrs. W. A. Jones and Mrs. Ferman Albright. Mrs. Albright and Mrs. Pauly reported on the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation and the 27th Annual meeting of the Alabama Council of Home Demonstration Clubs which met at Biloxi, Miss., on Nov. 24, 1953.

Mrs. Nathan Frost read the story of the Hymn of the Month, after which Mrs. Pauly gave the demonstration "Strengths for Today."

Members present were: Mrs. Ferman Albright, Mrs. Amos Davis, Mrs. Millard Douglas, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. H. A. Pauly, Mrs. Gladys Allen, Mrs. Frank Green, Mrs. N. T. Frost, Mrs. R. H. Davis, Mrs. Madge Eddings, Mrs. Grady Wyatt and Mrs. J. H. Wyatt.

Wheeler Foshee Honored At School

Gainesville, Ga., Nov. 19—Cadet M-Sergeant Wheeler R. Foshee, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Foshee of Montevallo, has been honored at Riverside Military Academy of this city and Hollywood, Florida, for his distinguished work during the fall term.

He has been awarded a Merit Ribbon and public citation for his outstanding work in all departments of the Academy—academic, military, and deportment.

Mr. John B. Kiber of Chicago, was the week end guest of his sister, Mrs. J. S. Ward.

At first I was anxious for the Republicans to hurry up and bring back those two-a-day mail deliveries. But thinking it over, I've concluded that even with one trip a day to Mortgage Manor by the postman, I get more bills than I can pay.

Samples tested so far this year at the soil testing laboratory in Auburn showed that 30 per cent of the soils are low in phosphorus and 60 per cent are low in potash; 44 per cent need from three-fourths to one and a half tons of lime per acre.

Thompson High Wins Over Vincent

The Thompson High School Warriors rolled to a sparkling 39 to 7 victory over a hard playing but outclassed Vincent Yellow Jackets. Homer Smitherman opened the scoring parade with a 45 yard run in the first quarter. Harold Davenport plunged over for the extra point. In the second quarter, Harold Davenport took a screen pass from Donald Sharp and went over to score. Vincent made its lone tally late in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, Freddie Bailey, a new star on the Thompson Horizon, raced 46 yards and 80 yards for consecutive touchdowns to wind up the scoring.

The Thompson Warriors just completed a highly successful season under the direction of Head Coach Byron Chambliss and Assistant Coaches Earl Douglas and Buford Maddox. The Thompson Warriors boast of a string of victories over Montevallo, Columbiana, Calera and Vincent, plus the strong Prattville Bulldogs and the Holt Iron Men. They dropped a one touchdown decision to John Carrol of Birmingham and the undefeated and untied West Blocton Bulldogs, and losing to the strong Talladega Senior High by two touchdowns and taking the measure of Centreville by four touchdowns.

The Thompson Warriors are looking for their sixth consecutive county championship and Coach Chambliss is expecting fifty candidates for spring practice. With the loss of only four regulars, the Warriors are confidently awaiting the beginning of another season.

Joyce King In National Contest

Auburn, Ala., Nov. 26, 1953—Talented Joyce King of Vincent, state 4-H Club dress revue winner, will soon be on her way to compete for the national title at the 4-H Congress in Chicago next week.

The young Shelby County seamstress stole top sewing honors from 62 other county champions at the state 4-H Camp here last Summer.

Joyce's record speaks for itself. She made 15 garments this year, plus 21 household articles. In 1952 she made 22 dresses and 18 the year before.

And she can cook too. Last year the club girl won the county canning contest and this year was the county baking champion. Last Summer she canned 27 quarts of food and prepared 1254 different dishes.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. King, Joyce has served as president of her local 4-H Club for two years and is now secretary of the Shelby County 4-H Council.

Baptist "M" Night Monday, December 7

"M" in this particular case stands for Mobilization and the occasion at the Montevallo Baptist Church on Monday Night, Dec. 7, beginning at 7:30 p.m. will be the annual gathering of all Training Union folk from over Shelby County for its largest meeting in the year at which time the new year's (1954) program will be promoted.

500 Baptists, ranging in age from baby to grandpa, will be expected to assemble for this year's simultaneous mass meeting, at which time from 900 to 1,000 other associations like Shelby will be meeting for similar programs throughout the entire Southern Baptist Convention.

Last year's gathering at Siluria attracted 457 people while in the southland that year upwards of 289,000 made it the largest attendance for such meetings in history. This year's southwide attendance is expected to top 325,000 people.

Highlights of this year's program will be choral numbers presented by the Columbiana Baptist Choir under the leadership of Mrs. Mildred White Wallace and a timely message along the 1954 Training Union them "Keeping The Faith" by Rev. Raymond Scroggins, Assistant director of extension, Howard College, Birmingham.

The quarterly BTU Attendance Banner will again be at stake. Winning it will be the church having the highest per centage of its Training Union enrolment present. All Baptist Churches are invited to attend, both the 33 with Training Unions and the 11 having no BTU at present, says G. C. Moore, Jr., Associational Training Union Director.

Whelchel To Attend Annual Congress Of American Industry

Birmingham, Nov. 19—Marion Whelchel, a junior at Alabama College, has been chosen by the Associated Industries of Alabama to represent this state at the 58th Annual Congress of American Industry to be held in New York at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, Dec. 2-4.

In making this announcement, D. Trotter Jones, AIA's Executive Vice President, pointed out that Miss Whelchel will be one of 49 college students, one from each state and the District of Columbia, making the all-expense-paid trip as guests of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Marion is majoring in Political Science at Alabama College and plans to enter the journalistic field upon graduation.

A graduate of Phillips High School, Marion won a four year scholarship to Alabama College: Last year she was declared winner of $1,000 in a contest sponsored by the makers of Shirley Lee dresses.

Miss Whelchel, as president of her junior class, is very active on the campus. She is a member of the staff of "The Alabamian, college newspaper, and "The Tower," a student magazine. In addition, she participates in college theatre productions.

Marion is from Birmingham. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Whelchel, reside at 142 33rd Avenue, North.

Hour of Music Sunday Afternoon

Alabama College's School of Music will present the second series of Sunday afternoon "Hour of Music" programs Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6, at 4 p.m. in Palmer Hall on the Montevallo campus.

Presented by members of the music faculty at Alabama College, the program will feature selections on the piano, violin and pipe organ. The informal program is open to the public.

This second "Hour of Music" will feature Harrison D. LeBaron, Director of the College's School of Music; Mrs. Maxine Couch Davis, Associate Professor of Music; Miss Claire Ordway, Associate Professor of Music and violinist with the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra; and Putnam Porter, College organist, who is featured on the radio series "Music from Montevallo."

Sunday's program will include: Guilmant's Final, Alla Schuman, Op. 83; Sussex Mummer's Christmas Carol by Grainger; Ribaupierre's "Swiss Lullaby"; "Snow" by Donato; Burleigh's "Yuletide"; Charles Widor's Symphonie Romane, Choral; Bach's Toccata in G Major; Ballade, Op. 118, No. 3, Intermezzo, Op. 117, No. 2, and Intermezzo, Op. 119, No. 3 all by Brahms; Fireside Fancies, a Cheerful Fire, and the Wind in the Chimney by Clokey; March of the Magi Kings, Dubois; The Adagio and Finale from Bruch's Concerto in G Minor; and Scherzo Capriccioso, Op. 36 by Guilmant.

The third program in this series of an "Hour of Music" will be presented January 31, 1954 in Calkins Hall.

American Legion Monument Fund

The fund to finance the construction of a Memorial Monument to perpetuate the memory of the service men from Shelby County who lost their lives during World War I, II and the Korean War has received $13.60 from Eugene Abercrombie, Thornton Anderson, Mrs. Minnie Folds, Sterrett; Will Alexander, Norman Isbell and Oliver Isbell, Dunnavant; and Lynn Lee from Leeds.

This project is sponsored by the American Legion Post in Shelby County. Contributions may be made to an official of one of these Post or it may be mailed to The American Legion Memorial Fund, Box 495, Columbiana. Checks should be made payable to The American Legion Memorial Fund.

Dance At College Saturday Night

A sailboat anchored at a wharf in the college field house will be the leadout for the Executive Council members at Alabama College's Student Government Association dance at Montevallo Saturday night.

"Red Sails in the Sunset" will be the theme of the annual campus-wide dance which will begin at 8 p.m. and last until 11:30 p.m. Saturday night. Forming the leadout will be members of the Executive Council of the college Student Government Association.

The dance is under the direction of Mary Ann Barker, Birmingham, campus social chairman and general chairman of the dance. Musicians for the dance will be the Alabama Cavaliers, who will be seated upon the "wharf" at the edge of the dance floor.

What Have You Done About Christmas Seals?

Tuberculosis means people, living people. For centuries it has meant people whose energies were sapped by a chronic, weakening disease; people who had to leave their families for long periods of hospitalization; people who had to give up their chosen life's work; people whose contribution to the economic life of the community was lost. It has meant men unable to support their families, women who had to turn the care of their children over to others, young people whose hopes for the future were blasted.

Tuberculosis is indeed the unnecessary disease of the century. It can be prevented. It can be cured.

That is what makes Christmas Seals so important. For nearly 50 years they have been an insurance policy against TB. When the first Seal was sold in 1907 TB was the number one killer but today it stands in sixth place.

Seventy nine percent of your Christmas Seal money stays in the County and is matched by the Shelby County Board of Revenue and Control to carry on the fight for you and your neighbors.

Many persons who received the Christmas Seals have delayed contributing to this program. Won't you mail your donation today?

Winslett - Cleckler

Miss Barbara Alice Winslett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Winslett, and Robert Cleckler were married in Mississippi Friday, Nov. 27. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carden of Selma were the only attendants of the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleckler will live in Tampa, Fla., where Mr. Cleckler is employed.

Prize Offered For Home Decorations

The Montevallo Chamber of Commerce this week announced that it will award cash prizes for the Montevallo home which is judged to be best decorated for the holiday season.

A first prize of $15 and a second prize of $10 will be awarded shortly before Christmas after a committee of impartial judges have announced their decision as to the winner. The judges will be selected by the Chamber of Commerce and their names will not be disclosed.

The judges will also be asked to select the Montevallo business establishment which in their opinion has the best Christmas decorations and best Christmas displays. No cash award will be made for this selection. Public recognition of the winner will be given at the same time that the residential winners are announced.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes its efforts in this contest will serve to encourage the people of Montevallo and the business establishments to do more and better holiday decorating.

Dr. Chunn Speaks To Student Body

Dr. Ellsworth Chunn, Director of Education for the Southern Division of the National Association of Manufacturers will address the Alabama College student body and faculty Tuesday morning, Dec. 8, at 10 a.m. at the college's weekly convocation program.

Dr. Chunn will be introduced by Dr. F. E. Lund, President of Alabama College, and will speak on "The Changing Economy of the South." He will speak in Palmer Hall on the Montevallo campus.

DR. ELLSWORTH CHUNN

A member of the staff of the National Association of Manufacturers since March of this year, Dr. Chunn holds degrees from the University of Arkansas; Northwestern University; and the University of Missouri.

Before joining the staff of N.A.M., Dr. Chunn served as Professor of Journalism and Advertising and Director of Public Relations at Texas Christian University. A major in the U. S. army in World War II he served on Bataan and Corregidor and spent 3 and one-half years in Japanese Prisoner of War camps.

Dr. Chunn will come to Alabama directly from the Annual Congress of American Industry being held in New York City.

MR. ROY DOWNS

Roy Downs Chief Goodfellow For This Year

Mr. Roy Downs, President of the Central State Bank of Calera, has been named as the Shelby County Chief Goodfellow for this year. Mr. Downs is at present organizing the county for this program. Names of Community Goodfellows will be announced next week.

The program which has been conducted in this County for several years will distribute toys, fruits and other Christmas gifts to children in Shelby County who would not otherwise receive them. The gifts will be bought by the Goodfellows through the Birmingham Post-Herald at a cost basis and will be distributed to Community Goodfellow Stores through the central store located in Columbiana.

The program is financed through public contributions and this newspaper joins with Mr. Downs in urging everyone to send in their contributions. The names of those contributing will be announced in the newspapers of the county each week. Contributions may be mailed to any of the County Newspapers or the Chief Goodfellow in each community whose names will be announced next week.

Gifts will be distributed a few days before Christmas and children who will receive the gifts will be notified as to the place and time of this distribution.

Be a Goodfellow—Mail your contribution now.

Chamber of Commerce Elects New Officers

The Montevallo Chamber of Commerce at is regular meeting last Monday elected new officers for the coming year.

Elected were James A. Wyatt, President; R. E. Whaley, Vice President; and Les Pair, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Chamber heard the report of the outgoing President, F. P. Givhan, along with recommendations for the organization for the new year.

A membership drive is being planned and the next meeting will be announced shortly.

College Theatre Presents Play December 8-11

Members of the College Theatre at Alabama College will present this year's first theatre in the round production, "Short Story," Dec. 8, 10, and 11, in Reynolds Auditorium on the Montevallo campus.

Under the direction of Dr. Walter H. Trumbauer, Robert Moreley's "Short Story" is a sophisticated comedy depicting English middle class life. Last year a similar production was given when the theatre group presented "The Unattainable," by Somerset Maughn, as their initial venture in the round.

Regular dramatic productions are ordinarily given from the stage of Palmer Auditorium, but the presenting of three performances will permit the use of Reynolds Auditorium for "Short Story." Even though somewhat smaller, it is better suited for theatre in the round, according to Mr. Trumbauer.

Tickets will not be required for the three performances.

Scout Council Elects Board of Trustees

Mr. George Winslett, who has been a staunch supporter of the Montevallo Girl Scouts for many years, was elected to the Board of Trustees by the Scout Council on Tuesday, Dec. 1. The Council and Trustees welcome Mr. Winslett and look forward to working with him. The Board of Trustees of the Montevallo Girl Scouts is composed of six members:

Mrs. O. B. Cooper, Mrs. E. P. Hood, Mrs. G. P. Rogan, Mr. Lee Barclay, Mr. M. Thornton, and Mr. George Winslett.

Methodist Church

Rev. O. Kyle Lamb, pastor of the Montevallo Methodist Church will preach at both services Sunday. The subject of the morning sermon will be "Are you older than you think?" and the subject for the evening service, which is held at 7:30, will be "Growing Up." At the close of the morning worship Holy Communion will be administered. Dr. M. E. Lazenby will assist with the Holy Communion.

Sunday school will be held at 10 a.m. and the Wesley Foundation and fellowship groups will meet at 6:30 p.m.

You are invited to any or all of the above announced services at the Montevallo Methodist Church.

An Explanation of the Ten Amendments To Be Voted On December 15

(By Dr. Hallie Farmer)

On December 15, the voters of Alabama are called upon once more to decide whether they wish to amend their Constitution. If the ten amendments which are now before the voters should be added to the Constitution, it will have been amended more than 100 times. One wonders how long the poor Constitution can stand the strain. How soon will it collapse under the weight of its own amendments?

The current crop of proposed amendments, as usual, may be divided into two types:

1. Those which, if passed, will affect the entire state and are therefore of interest to all of the people.

2. Those which, if passed, affect the interests of particular counties or municipalities and have only local interest.

Two of the ten amendments on the ballot are general. Eight are of local interest only. Several newspapers have commented in resentful editorials recently that they see no sense in asking all the people in the state to vote on local amendments. Few other people seen any sense in it either. One must sympathize with the conscientious citizen of south Alabama asked to decide by his vote whether Chambers County may take its county officials off the fee system and put them on a salary, or whether the citizens of Marshall County shall be permitted to tax themselves for the benefit of their schools.

This resentment shows itself in two ways. Some voters refuse to vote on such amendments at all, on the grounds that they will not vote on a question of which they know nothing. Other voters vote for all local amendments on the grounds that "if folks in that county want it they ought to have it." Such voting defeats the purpose of the election, which is to secure the considered judgment of the voters on proposed changes in the Constitution.

One amendment which ought to be proposed to the Constitution, and which thinking citizens ought to support, is an amendment giving counties and municipalities in Alabama the right to settle their local problems for themselves without interference by the state. Some candidate for governor might well consider the merits of a local home rule amendment.

GENERAL AMENDMENTS

Amendment No. 1
The Poll Tax Amendment

There are two amendments of state-wide application to be presented to the voters on December 15. Amendment No. 1 is the amendment which proposes to reduce the length of time for which poll tax must be paid, to two years instead of 24 years as is possible under the present Constitution.

This amendment is the only one of those proposed which has received any general discussion in the state. Indeed there seems to be real danger that so much attention may be paid to this amendment that other amendments meriting attention may be ignored.

Where there is so much discussion there is apt to be heat as well as light. Perhaps the most helpful thing for voters studying this amendment to do is to consider what the amendment proposes. Stated briefly and stripped of its legal phraseology it proposes to limit payment of poll tax to two years to qualify a citizen to vote in any election.

It is equally important to consider what this amendment does not propose.

1. It does not propose any change in the time of poll tax payment. It must still be paid before February first of each year.

2. It does not change the annual amount to be paid. Poll tax is still $1.50 per year.

3. It doesn't alter in any way the state registration law. All voters are still required to satisfy the board of registrars as to their fitness to vote. This law, not the poll tax, weeds out the undesirable voter.

Opponents of the amendment contend that:

1. Reduction of the poll tax payment would increase the number of undesirable voters.

2. Reduction of the cumulative tax would reduce the amount of money available for the schools.

Supporters of the amendment argue that:

1. The amendment would bring Alabama practice more nearly in line with that of the other four states (Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas, and Virginia) which still have poll tax. Only Alabama has the 24 year cumulative feature.

2. The amendment would tend to prevent outside interference with a problem which Alabama can and should settle for itself.

3. The amendment would remove a discrimination against the woman citizen. The exemptions already granted to veterans and members of the National Guard serve to make the poll tax a tax on women.

4. Reduction of the length of time for poll tax payment would increase the amount of money available for the schools, since it would increase the number of persons paying poll tax.

Amendment No. 2, Elections To Fill Vacancies in the Legislature

Amendment No. 2 alters the procedure for filling vacancies in either house of the State Legislature. The proposal is that when the date for filing notice of candidacy has passed and only one candidate has filed for the vacancy, a certificate of election shall be issued to the lone candidate without going through the formality of an election. If more than one candidate files for the office an election would be held.

This would seem to be a sensible amendment. It would save the unnecessary expense of the election and save time for the voters.

LOCAL AMENDMENTS

There are eight local amendments to be voted upon on December 15. Four of these amendments, Nos. 4, 6, 8, and 9 are simple amendments permitting Talladega, Lawrence, Marshall, and Chambers Counties to float bonds and/or levy taxes for schools and for highways.

Amendment No. 4 refers to Talladega County and permits the county board to levy these taxes without referring the matter to the voters as is usually done. Amendments 6, 8, 9, (relating to Lawrence, Marshall, and Chambers Counties) require that the questions of bond issues and tax levies be submitted to the voters.

The Mobile Tax Amendment

Amendment No. 7, which relates to Mobile County, needs a fuller examination. Like the other amendments it proposes to permit Mobile County to issue bonds for roads, schools, and public buildings.

Three times before, in 1924, 1936, and 1945, amendments have been edded to the Constitution permitting Mobile County to create debt in excess of the 3 and one-half per cent of property evaluation in the county, which is the maximum debt limit fixed in the Constitution. Although Mobile's total debt is still in excess of the constitutional limit the present amendment proposes that with the approval of the voters of the county, additional debt may be created to build roads, construct schools and build county buildings.

There are two unusual features of this amendment. One is that the proposed bond issue for roads, schools and public buildings shall be submitted to the voters in one package. In other words voters cannot vote for school bonds without voting also for bonds for roads and for public buildings.

The second unusual feature is the provision that after 30 days from the first publication of the details of these bond issues, "such bonds and the sources of payment" shall be incontestible in any court in the state.

Counties like Mobile which have grown so rapidly in the past few years and which face the problems of transportation, schools, and county buildings, created by a congested population, certainly need sympathy.

However, there are certainly things in this amendment which voters ought to consider carefully. Should the right of Mobile voters to express themselves on a debt burden which they must assume, be limited by requiring them to accept the "all or none" proposition which this amendment proposes to limit it? County debt is a serious matter. Repayment is a long and burdensome process. Surely the people of any county ought to have every opportunity to express themselves frankly and freely on such a proposal as this.

The ordinary voter is certainly entitled to resent being asked to express an opinion on such an amendment as this. It is vaguely drawn and its real meaning is covered up by a multiplicity of words. Whatever it intends, it can only confuse the voter who tries to discover its meaning. If Mobile County really wants the voters of Alabama to approve an amendment to help them out of their difficulties they ought to present an amendment in a form which the voters can understand.

The Franklin County Amendments

Two amendments, Nos. 3 and 5, relate to the municipalities of Franklin County. No. 3 applies to all municipalities in the county and No. 5 applies specifically to Russellville. Amendment No. 3 proposes to permit the municipalities of Franklin County to engage in any or all of the following activities:

1. Purchase, construct or lease; plants, factories, machinery, or equipment.

2. Lease or convey this property to any firm or corporation.

3. Become a stockholder in any corporation.

4. Lend its credit or grant public money "to any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever."

5. Issue bonds to the amount of 50 per cent of the assessed valuation of property to engage in the enterprises mentioned above.

6. Levy special taxes to pay off the indebtedness contracted to engage in the enterprises proposed.

Citizens voting on these amendments should recognize them for what they are. This is not "creeping socialism." It is socialism rampant. It is hard to see how any proposal to put government into business could go farther. The governments of the municipalities may become stockholders in private business enterprises. They may lend the public credit, or borrow as much as half the assessed value of the property of the municipality to invest in such enterprises. They may then levy increased taxes to pay off the debts which they have contracted.

All this may be done (if this amendment passes) without asking the permission of the taxpayers who must bear the burden of these enterprises. The citizens of Alabama are asked to mortgage the present and the future of the citizens of Franklin County by supporting this amendment.

This amendment is based upon the assumption that there is no risk in business and that the enterprises in which these municipalities invest their mony will inevitably succeed. There is little in the history of past experiments of this kind to encourage this belief. Depressions, bad management, fraud and corruption have affected such enterprises in the past. For every record of success there are multiplied records of failure.

Voters would do well to think carefully before they vote for this amendment.

Amendment No. 3 would seem to give all the authority to engage in private enterprise which any Franklin County municipality could wish, yet there is a special amendment (No. 5) to grant Russellville permission to issue $150,000 worth of bonds to purchase a plant which they may sell or lease to a private corporation. These bonds will be general obligations of the municipality. In other words if the business does not pay the debt the taxpayers must.

The Tenth Amendment

Amendment No. 10 permits the Legislature to pass a law reorganizing the government of Chambers County and placing its officials on salary rather than continue the fee system.

There are two important parts of this amendment. One of them is the proposal to permit the Legislature to abolish the fee system and place county officials on salaries. Several similar amendments applying to various counties have been added to the Constitution of Alabama. It seems sound to put officials on salaries, and put fees in the county treasury.

The second part of this amendment permits the Legislature to reorganize the government of Chambers County. How desirable this provision will be depends, of course, on the character of the reorganization. Certainly county government needs reorganization. Probably this is a good amendment. A better one, of course, would be one which permitted the people of all counties to reorganize their own government. Perhaps we will come to that some day.

Schools and the Poll Tax

We are hearing opposition to voting for Amendment 1 December 15 because "it would take away the tax given to support the schools." This statement is made on the basis of two misconceptions.

First, Amendment 1 does not abolish the poll tax: it simply reduces the cumulative feature of our present poll tax to two years back poll tax for those mho have not paid any tax. A man who is not a veteran or a woman who has never paid poll tax would pay only $3 back poll tax in 1954 and $1.50 thereafter until he or she was 45.

Actually, if this amendment is passed, it will mean an increase of revenue for the schools, as many who have never voted would now be able to pay poll tax and will thus give more money for the schools.

Second, Shelby County has never received much money for the schools from the poll tax and the amount has varied according to the number who have registered and paid their poll tax. The last school year, 1952-1953, the Shelby County Board of Education received only $2,118.42 from the county poll tax. It cost the county $952,440.04 to operate the schools for that year. This shows that the poll tax does not help very much in supporting the schools.

If, however, Amendment 1 is passed, the amount paid will be materially increased for the 1953-1954 year and will help the schools financially. In addition many of the new voters who will pay their $3.00 back poll tax next year will be women who are interested in the betterment of the schools and other civic improvements so that the Shelby County vote will more nearly express the wishes of its citizens.

The WMS of Wilton Baptist Church was hostess to the WMS of Enon Baptist Church at an all day mission study at the Wilton Church, Wednesday, Nov. 18. The guest speaker, Miss Lillie Falkenberry, missionary work, from Selma, read and discussed the book "Let's Listen." Other studies were given by mission members.

A social hour was enjoyed when a delicious luncheon was served. The 36 members who attended derived much from this interesting and informative meeting.

Religious Emphasis December 7 to 12 At Thompson High School

Religious Emphasis Week will be observed at the Thompson Schools here during the week December 7 to 12. There will be special assemblies of the student body daily and major emphasis will be placed on such religious and spiritual objectives as kindness, fair play, tolerance, the elimination of hate, suspicion and mistrust, and the fact that everyone is a free moral agent with the right to justice.

Among guest speakers who will take part in the special assemblies will be:

Dr. J. T. Ford, Pastor, First Baptist Church of Birmingham, will address the student body at 12:20 on Wednesday, December 9. The Reverend E. G. Ogburn, Pastor of the Central Methodist Church at Siluria, will speak at the same hour on Monday, December 7. The Reverend M. L. Butler, Pastor, Siluria Baptist Church, will speak Thursday, December 11.

Dr. M. E. Lazenby, former editor, Christian Advocate, official paper of the North Alabama Methodist Conference, will be the guest speaker on Tuesday, December 8.

Your Car will never be Worth More!

WE WANT YOUR CAR

. . . and we'll pay TOP PRICE for it!

Your car is depreciating in value as it gets older . . . we can give you the best price for it NOW! Here's why: As you know, our Fords—new and old—are selling faster than ever! Naturally we want to keep this rapid turnover going—but we need more used cars to do it! That's where the high price comes in — for you!

Here's where you get the Most for your Money!

Ford brings you everything (and we mean everything) you've ever wanted in a car, at a price, that's well within your reach!

You have your choice of Ford's famous high-compression V-8 or the Mileage Maker Six—with Overdrive, this year's Economy Sweepstakes winner. Both have Ford's Automatic Power Pilot which meters just the right amount of gas. And only Ford brings you Center-Fill Fueling that permits "filling up" from either side of the car, suspended pedals that eliminate floor holes, foam-rubber cushions front and rear in all models, and a new "Wonder Ride" which reduces road shock in the front end alone up to 80%!

According to used car surveys, a year-old Ford returns more of its original cost than any other car.

FORD Worth more when you buy it... Worth more when you sell it!

What Your Christmas Seals Money Buys

M, a 35 year old white woman was referred to Health Department for chest x-ray which revealed active pulmonary tuberculosis, moderately advanced. Sputum samples proved positive for tubercle bacilli.

She had severe cough, recent weight loss, poor appetite and loss of strength. She was mother of a month old infant and there were five step children in the home, ages from 5 to 14. No funds were available for hospitalization.

Children were removed from the home to break contact. Other members of the family were taught nursing procedures. Family was x-rayed at Health Department and were found free of TB. Drugs were prescribed to be given to the patient by member of family and she was put to bed to receive a nourishing diet and plenty of rest.

Soon after commencement of home treatment M began to feel better, her appetite improved, her cough decreased and she gained some weight. Chest x-ray made three months after treatment began revealed improvement and sputum samples were reported as negative.

Your purchase of Christmas Seals along with funds given by Board of Revenue and Control made this home treatment possible. Buy Christmas Seals.

Visitors May Spread Poultry Diseases

Human beings often help spread poultry diseases from one farm to another, according to John Weeks, API Extension poultryman.

Service people and poultry and egg buyers who go from farm to farm may easily be disease spreaders. They can pick up germs on their shoes and clothing or on poultry crates and then tarnsfer them to another area, explains the specialist.

"Don't let any person who visits other poultry farms enter your chicken houses or yards," advises Weeks. "Don't visit farmers who have sick chickens—and keep them out of your poultry section. Lock your chicken house and show off your flock through the fence or window. It also pays to erect a sign warning visitors of the dangers of spreading diseases."

It has now been reported that 72 per cent of America's population suffer from eyestrain. They've probably been looking for a parking place.

Locate Mail Boxes For Carrier Safety

Sylacauga, Ala.—A step by the Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield to eliminate a severe rural traffic hazard today was commended by Alabama's citizen safety leader.

The hazard is created by rural mail carriers who must drive across oncoming traffic lanes to serve mail boxes on the left shoulder of highways. Summerfield instructed: "Where boxes are so located that they cannot be served by the carrier from his vehicle in the approved course of travel without violating traffic laws or regulations, the postmaster shall immediately contact the owner and request that the box be properly located."

He added that similar action was to be taken where the practice was not specifically illegal, but was nonetheless dangerous.

President Hugh Comer of the Alabama Safety Council said the plan "is extremely wise, and deserves the full support of every rural boxholder in Alabama, in the interest of saving lives. Rural postmen now hazard the life of every motorist in their area by having to cut across the highway to serve a mail box.

"The Post Office Department is naturally concerned for the safety of its carriers as well as all other motorists," the Sylacauga industrialist declared. "We're certain our rural residents will gladly help in this effort to remove dangers of traffic accidents."

It is not inconceivable that the new leadership for which the world craves may arise from within the Christian church. But this hypothesis appears to presuppose a transformation of Christianity, or a revival of its primitive spirit, which would in itself amount to a revolution.—Edward Hallett Carr.

Know Your Schools

The I.B.M. section of the Division of Administration and Finance began its operation with the State Department of Education in 1947. This is the system whereby information from source documents is punched on an I.B.M. permanent record card. Once a card is correctly prepared to represent a transaction, it can be used to produce all sorts of documents, records, or reports involving that transaction. The cards can be arranged time and time again in a variety of sequences for report and document preparation. The correctly prepared card can be reproduced and summarized. It can actuate significant calculations, every step being governed by the original accurate data. Use of punched cards is not an automatic answer to all accounting and statistical problems, but where used intelligently, it permits an efficiency, speed, and accuracy often impossible to achieve otherwise.

Major services rendered by the I.B.M. section to the state and local boards of education:

Prepare all invoices submitted to the Veterans Administration for reimbursement of veterans' tuition, books, tools, and supplies.

Furnish the Vocational Rehabilitation Service monthly, quarterly, and yearly financial and statistical data for reporting to the field workers, as well as for federal reporting.

Furnish the Crippled Children's Service with financial and statistical data. Assist the Business section with some of the more detailed accounting.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Now is the time!

Yes, now is the time to get meadow outlets and field borders and terraces laid-off, plowed, and planted. In most cases the first two steps should be done this fall, with the terraces completed before or during spring land preparation.

Not many acres of row cropped land are found in the immediate vicinity of Montevallo, but most fields that are used in row crops are sloping steeply enough to require terracing.

Cooperators of the North Central Soil Conservation District can get help from the Soil Conservation Service at Columbiana in surveying needed meadows, terraces, etc., by writing or calling their requests in.

We see by the papers that Shelby County district supervisor F. E. Williams was elected secretary-treasurer of the Alabama Association of District Supervisors last week.

Newest in the ranks of district cooperators are A. E. Norwood, 160 acres; H. H. Maske, 236 acres; Bradford Kidd, 598 acres; William Hollis, 116 acres; Mrs. (Dr.) Ralph Pfieffer, 380 acres.

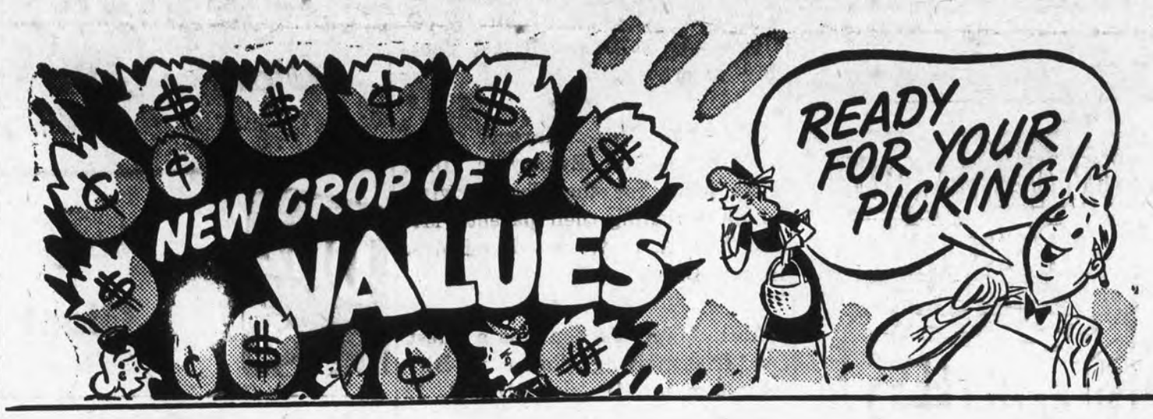

Mr. and Mrs. Foots Parnell and son, Foots III, of Tuscaloosa spent the holidays with Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Pernell.

F F A Has Common Goal With Business Progress, Better Citizenship

There is a common bond between vocational agriculture teachers and businesses concerned with supplying the needs of farm families. It is to help farm families to provide for themselves a better and more satisfying standard of living. For greatest success in attaining the goal, neither team can go it alone. There must always be a friendly and mutually satisfactory working relationship. The FF and business leaders generally have a common aim to solve their problems themselves, by working together and to preserve the American way under which every individual is free to develop his talents for his own greatest good with due consideration of the welfare of society. There can well be, and there usually is mutual respect between those of the FFA and of business. Business makes available much that is necessary for the FFA program to bring to successful conclusion a higher standard of living for farm families. The FFA program and industry complement and supplement each other. The FFA and its leadership feel that:

1. Businessmen are definitely interested in an education program that will improve the agriculture of the community.

2. Businessmen are interested in all activities in programs that will help develop better leaders, particularly leaders in rural areas.

3. Businessmen are interested in helping promote new enterprises in local areas, especially those enterprises which have proven successful elsewhere and which are adaptable to the community.

4. The FFA must believe firmly in the program and keep it worthy of support.

5. The first responsibility of all of us is to produce citizens first and then better farmers or better merchants or better mechanics or better business leaders.

6. Only through a good and proper relationship can this be achieved.

Montevallo seems on the way toward a growing and prosperous city and community. Then enterprise of our people can keep this growth stable and permanent. It is well for each citizen to participate in the onward march toward a greater Montevallo.

Along with the FFA chapter of 90 members, we want to encourage each citizen to study our community problems and help approach each problem with the best solution we can offer. You will need to be alert to "Watch Montevallo Grow."

* * *

The FFA is cooperating with The Montevallo Study Club thru its chairman, Mrs. T. E. Watson, in putting up a Christmas tree at the Post Office.

* * *

The Adult Farmers Class meets each Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. at Enon Church. All farmers are invited to attend these classes.

* * *

Senator Lister Hill spent last Friday afternoon with the vocational agriculture department and Mr. M. Thornton. He visited the Veterans' Agriculture Class, and individual projects of boys and adult farmers. Friday evening, Senator Hill was the guest of the Adult Farmers Class. He was most interested in hearing about and seeing the farmers problems as they see them, so that he will have a better understanding of their needs when Congress again convenes in January.

Laurie C. Battle Speaks To Rotary

Congressman Laurie C. Battle from the ninth Congressional District addressed the Montevallo Rotary Club at its meeting in the Elementary School Cafeteria last Thursday night.

Mr. Battle, in his address, expressed himself as believeing that there is a good possibility of some tax reductions in the next Congressional Session. He also explained why he was opposed to raising the debt limit in the past Congressional Session. Explaining that he believed any increase would have been spent by the Federal Government.

In discussing the Communist threat to this country the Congressman suggested that if the Communists are really sincere in their peace moves they might recall some of the Communist agents now in the country.

With regard to the United Nations, Mr. Battle stated that he believed that the United Nations must have some drastic charges in its charter if it is ever to be more than a "debating society," and that it could not guarantee mutual security to member nations until it is assured of mutual participation of all members in the future. In the latter instance the Congressman cited the amount of men, material and money this country used in Korea as compared to those furnished by other nations.

The address was concluded with a very realistic discription of the Atomic Bomb explosion which Mr. Battle witnessed in Utah during Atomic tests there.

Studiosis Club

Montevallo Studiosis members and their guests enjoyed a most delicious meal on Tuesday evening when the club entertained at its annual Christmas Dinner. The elementary school cafeteria was beautifully decorated with pine boughs and Christmas candles as setting for the buffet supper. The menu, provided as covered dishes by the members, consisted of roast turkey, baked ham, asparagus and sweet potato casaroles, hot rolls, assorted relishes, with pie and coffee as dessert.

The preparations for this event were carried out under the leadership of Mrs. Gordon Carlisle with Miss Martha Allen, Miss Mary Larkin, Miss Ollie Tillman, Mrs. B. W. Hamric, Mrs. V. E. Williams, Mrs. J. A. Brown Jr., and Mrs. Victor Scott, assisting.

After dinner carol singing led by Mr. H. D. LeBaron added to the good fellowship enjoyed by approximately 100 members and guests.

Community Chest Over The Top

Mr. E. G. Mahaffey, drive chairman for the Community Chest, this week annuonces that the drive has gone "over the top." The drive thus far has produced $2040.00, while the quota was $1950.00. This is the first time in several years that the drive has exceeded its quota.

Mr. Mahaffey wishes to extend his sincere appreciation to the people of Montevallo, Wilton, and surrounding area for being so generous in their efforts this year. He especially wants to express his congratulations and appreciation to the following solicitors who made the drive so successful: Mrs. A. W. Vaughn, Mrs. Sam Klotzman, Mrs. Leslie Hubbard, Mrs. George Nix, Mrs. Don Lovelady, Mrs. Haywood Wooley, Mrs. Eddie Watson, Mrs. S. C. Jones Jr., Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. Milton Orr. Mrs. John Hardy, Mrs. W. N. Smitherman, Mrs. W. E. Lovelady, Mrs. Fred Frost Jr., Mrs. P. D. Pendleton, Mrs. Cooper Shaw, Mrs. A. C. Jeter, Miss Edith Hartley, Mr. A. R. Luckie, Mr. M. S. McGehee, Mr. Flynt, Mr. John Mader, Mr. B. W. Hamric, and Nona Sparks, Montevallo. In Wilton, Mrs. Edith Gregory, Mrs. Amos Lucas, Mrs. B. B. Curry.

Christmas Concert At Alabama College

Mr. Harrison D. LeBaron, Professor of the Alabama College School of Music, announced plans today for the annual Christmas concert by the Alabama College Chorale on Saturday, Dec. 12.

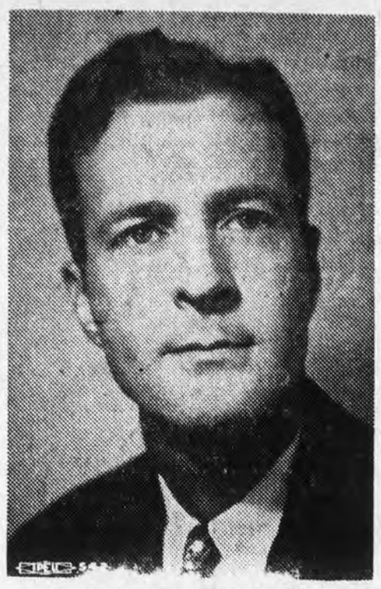

Two organs and approximately 60 voices will provide music for the concert, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in Palmer Auditorium on the Montevallo campus.

Mr. Putnam Porter, College Organist, will be at the keyboard of Alabama College's Skinner Pipe Organ, and a sophomore music major, Sara Jo Fontaine, Montgomery, will play a Baldwin electric organ, furnished for the concert by Austin Music Company of Birmingham. Another accompanist will be Mrs. Maxine Couch Davis, pianist, of the Alabama College School of Music.

Directed by Professor LeBaron, the Christmas concert will feature as soloists Mrs. Ruth Scott Parker, Birmingham contralto; Dr. Donald H. Ecroyd, Tenor, of the University of Alabama Speech Department; and Mr. Ahti Tuuri, Bass, teacher of voice at Howard College in Birmingham.

Program for the Saturday night concert will include Part I and Part II of the Christmas Oratorio by Bach; choruses from Handel's "Messiah", "For Unto Us." and "Hallelujah"; and Arias from the "Messiah," Bass solo "The People That," and Tenor, "Every Valley."

The Carlsbad, N. M., Current-Argus says that the trouble with this country is that there are too many wide open spaces entirely surrounded by teeth.

C. C. (Jack) OWEN

Jack Owens Says He Will Be In Race For Governor

The following statement of C. C. (Jack) Owen declaring his intention to become a candidate for Governor of Alabama in the Democratic Primary of 1954, was released for publication Thursday, December 10, 1953:

"The interest and encouragement expressed to me by my friends throughout the state, together with my sincere desire to serve the people of the State of Alabama to my utmost capacity, motivate me in making public at this time my intention to be a candidate for Governor.

"I have always managed to find a way to do honorably and equitably the duties entrusted to me by my fellow-citizens. God being my helper, I am committed to do so.

"Therefore, I am prepared to say that I will, at the porper time, announce myself and qualify as a candidate for Governor of Alabama in the Democratic Primary Election of 1954. I will, in pursuance thereof, pronounce my attitude and opinions upon the many vital and important issues in which the people will be interested in the course of the campaign.

"I have had a broad and diversified scope of experience as your public servant in which I believe I have gained a thorough conception of the overall responsibilities of the Chief Executive of our State Government. I believe that I can administer the affairs of the Governor's office in a manner that will be compatible with the dignity and progressive development of our great State, and in a spirit of humility and consecration to duty that will deserve the commendation of the citizens of Alabama."

STUDENT RECITAL

Students of Mrs. Hendrick's Piano Class will be presented in Recital Wednesday, December 16, 1953, at 7 p.m. in Calkins Hall.

American Legion Area Conference Here Sunday

Congr. Kenneth Roberts will be speaker at the American Legion Central Area Conference to be held in Montevallo Sunday, Dec. 13, at the Legion Club of Hendrick-Hudson Post 96. The conference will start at 2 p.m. with the Legion Posts and Auxiliary units of 4th, 5th, and 6th Districts assembled for a joint business meeting.

Congr. Roberts will be introduced by the 4th District Commander Richard O. Fant of Tuscaloosa.

Central Area Commander Holmes has urged all posts in Central Alabama to complete their 1954 membership campaigns before this meeting.

Department Comdr. Charles Eiland of Andalusia, and the other department officers will attend the conference.

The Alabama department junior vice-commander, John S. Foster, Birmingham attorney, will also speak.

Mrs. Matt Holmes, Alabama State President of the Legion Auxiliary with her District and Department Officers will be present.

Dr. Hallie Farmer of Alabama College, Women's Co-ordinator of Alabama Civil Defense and Mrs. Clyde Ellis of Fort Payne, Auxiliary Department Civil Defense Chairman will address the meeting of the Auxiliary. Mr. Earl Greggory, Chief of Special Services, Tuscaloosa Veterans' Hospital, will discuss service to Veterans in Hospitals.

The Montevallo, Calera, Columbiana, and Selma Legion Auxiliary Units will be hostesses to the visiting Auxiliary members.

Wanted $1000 For Legion Memorial Fund

Thirty dollars has been received for the Legion Memorial Fund since last week. The contributions were Mrs. Lula Holcomb of Sterrett and Mrs. Margie Yates Walker of Chattanooga, Tenn.

A total of 76.60 has been raised in the current drive. This together with the amount of hand totals $658.45. Legion officials hope that a total of $1000.00 will be contributed to finance the erection of this monument and perhaps a flag pole to be erected along with the monument.

Christmas Service Sunday Night

Annual Christmas service presented by Westminster Fellowship is to be held Sunday night, December 13, at 7:30 in the Montevallo Presbyterian Church.

It is requested that each person bring some small children's toy, which will be collected and sent to the Presbyterian Children's Home in Talladega, Ala.

4-H Members in Alabama Win Trips

1953 HONORS in Alabama were presented to four 4-H Club members who reported exceptional work in the National 4-H Dairy Achievement, Dress Revue, Field Crops, and Poultry. Their rewards will be all-expense trips to the 32nd National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Summaries of their accomplishments follow:

Joyce King — Perry Branyon — Allen Blackburn — Dennis D. Dees, Jr.

The 4-H Dress Revue award for the State of Alabama went to Joyce King, 17, of Vincent, who received a trip to the 4-H Congress in Chicago, where she was the guest of Simplicity Pattern Co.

She chose broadcloth of a charcoal gray color with white pique trimming. The bodice was plain with set-in sleeves, gray pearl buttons down the front, and a skirt made with six pleats falling in soft folds from waist to hemline with a matching belt and buckle. The gray bodice was cut low and she wore a white pin-wale pique dickey with deep points on collar.

• • • •

Excellent work in dairy production and management has brought a recognition in Alabama to Perry Branyon, 15, of Fayette. Perry, as 4-H Dairy Achievement winner, will attend the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago as guest of the National Committee on Boys' and Girls Club Work. A 4-H Club member for seven years, Perry learned the application of modern, scientific methods, and the importance of cleanliness and sanitation in the handling of dairy animals.

He has carried a dairy project each year since 1947. His project this year consisted of four cows. He won grand champion of the grade division at the District Cattle Show in 1951 and 1952 and Senior Champion in 1950. He has served four years as president of the Fayette High 4-H Club, and is secretary-treasurer of the district council. His father is T. Aaron Branyon, who farms 300 acres.

• • • •

Through all-around efficiency in crop production on the 94-acre farm of his father, Leon Blackburn, son Allen, 16, Georgiana, was named state winner in the 4-H Field Crops program. A coveted trip to the 4-H Congress in Chicago, provided by International Harvester Co., is his reward.

Allen was able to achieve that recognition through careful attention to every phase of crop production, such as keeping farm machinery in condition, selection and treatment of seed, and scientific soil management. His project this year was four acres of cotton and 20 acres of corn. He was county field crops winner in both 1952 and 1953. He was named one of four outstanding 4-H boys in the county. He is song leader of Georgiana High 4-H Club and treasurer of the County council. Allen has been a 4-H member for 11 years.

• • • •

Dennis Dees, Jr., 17, of Finchburg, has been selected as State winner in the 1953 Poultry Achievement program. His trip award to the National 4-H Club Congress was provided by Ford Tractor Division, Ford Motor Co. He has been in 4-H Club work nine years. This year his project includes 210 turkeys and 100 chickens. He has been county winner for four years with his poultry projects. Dennis was junior leader at summer camp for two years.

Dennis found time to serve in every office of Monroeville Junior 4-H Club and as secretary of the County Council. He is state vice president of the 4-H Club. His father, Dennis D. Dees, Sr., farms 2,300 acres.

All these programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

THE POLL TAX AND THE NEGRO VOTE

One argument advanced by those who are opposed to Amendment No. 1 is that it will so increase the number of negroes voting that we shall have the state elections swung by this minority group and develop a situation similar to the carpetbag days.

Anyone who has been thinking this will happen, does not know the figures for either the state or for Shelby County. Two facts are true: no one can vote unless he passes the requirements set up by the Board of Registrars. All veterans of any war are exempt from paying poll tax and are eligible to vote. This includes negro veterans as well as white veterans.

Now let us study the Shelby County figures. In this county there are 3,362 negroes of voting age. Of this number, 568 are veterans of World War II. We do not have a record of the other wars. As near as we can find out, only 20 negroes voted in the last election. Therefore, we might reason that if 568 negroes in Shelby County are entitled to vote without having to pay poll tax, and only 20 of this number took advantage of this privilege, then the question of poll tax is not a very dominating factor in the matter of Negro voters.

With these figures before us we can easily see that reduction of the cumulative feature of the poll tax will not bring a large number of negroes to the polls.

The women, however, have no exemption except for the very few who served in the armed services. And it is the large group of women who became of age during the depression who could not pay their poll tax then, and have had increased family expenses crowd out the payment of back poll tax.

We hope the voters of Shelby County will go to the polls next Tuesday and vote for Amendment No. 1.

NOTICE, OLD FOLKS

An old age pension guide meeting will be held in Columbiana, Dec. 12, at 10 a.m. to plan for a pension for our old age in the next administration. All who are interested in getting a pension or helping old folks get it are invited to come and bring a crowd.

We plan to have for guest speaker Mrs. Reuben Newton, of Jasper, whose husband plans to be a candidate for Lt. Governor.—S. A. Harrell of Baldwin County, State Organizer for Pension Guide, P. O. Jemison, Ala., Route 1.

Some of my neighbors are always getting poetic about the autumn smell of burning leaves, but i seems to me they never burn them until the wind is blowing my way.

REFRESHING EXPRESSIONS

Laurie C. Battle, in his address to the Montevallo Rotary Club last week, displayed a very refreshing approach to the problems of taxes, Communism, United Nations organization, and the Atomic age for a southern democrat.

The Congressman's honest, forthright expressions on these subjects leaves little doubt about his honesty, sincerety and capabilities in representing a Congressional District in the United States Congress. He does not ignore or dodge any issues nor is his beliefs in any way expressed in vagueness designed to disguise the issues. These traits we believe qualify such a man to represent this state in the United States Senate, and would certainly be a unique and refreshing experience for the people of Alabama.

We would like to go on record as recommending to the Ninth District and Alabama that they give serious consideration to urging this capable public servant to run for the U. S. Senate. We for one would certainly second the nomination.

Things haven't changed much. Mark Twain wrote of Washington back in 1868: "Whiskey is taken into the committee rooms in demijohns and carried out in demagogues.

Horn-English

Alabaster, Ala., Dec. 2—Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence English are living in Birmingham after their honeymoon in the Smoky Mountains. They were married on Nov. 25 at the home of Mrs. Truitt A. Farris, the bride's sister.

The former Joyce Anne Horn, Mrs. English is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Horn of Centreville. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. W. English of Atlanta, Ga., and the foster son and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Milling of Decatur, Ga.

Mr. Milling was best man, and the bride's attendant was Miss Wanda Farris, her neice. Mr. Horn gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. English's dress was of bridal satin and net. A pearlized tiara held her veil, and she carried an orchid on a Bible.

The Rev. Edward E. Thornton of Birmingham officiated, and music was presented by Misses Betty Farris and Gail Farris.

A reception was held after the marriage ritual. Misses Robbie Brown, Jerri Lamb, Marjorie Robertson and Clara Smith assisted.

Christmas Time Is Fruit Cake Time

On Tuesday afternoon, December 1, a demonstration on fruit cake was given for adult homemakers at the Montevallo High School Home Economics department. Mrs. Rebecca McGaughy (assisted by Mrs. Winona Brooks) demonstrated for the group how to mix, decorate, glaze, and bake fruit cakes.

After the demonstration, the ladies who had brought their own fruit cake supplies, made fruit cakes, using either the recipe that had been demonstrated or another recipe of their choice.

The following recipe makes a fruit cake which weighs about five pounds:

DARK FRUIT CAKE

One-half C. fat; one-half C. sugar; 6 egg yolks (well beaten); one-fourth C. liquid; 2 T. molasses; 1 square chocolate; 2 C. sifted flour; one-fourth each orange and lemon peel; one-half candied citron; 6 beaten egg whites; one-half t. soda; one-fourth t. salt; 1 t. each of cinnamon, cloves, allspice; 2 C. pecans; one-half lb. brazil nuts; 1 and one-half lb. currants; 1 and one-half C. dates; one-half lb. figs; one-half lb. cherries.

Method:

1. Cream fat well. Add sugar gradually. Add beaten egg yolks to creamed mixture.

2. Mix chopped fruit and nuts in large bowl. Sift together the spices, flour and soda. Dredge fruit with one-half of this mixture.

3. Add molasses to beaten egg yolks. Add liquid (grape juice or wine) alternately with remainder of flour and spice mixture. Add melted chocolate.

4. Fold stiffly beaten egg whites into mixture.

5. Add fruit and nuts and mix well.

6. Grease loaf cake or tube pan and line with waxed paper.

7. Fill pan three-fourths full.

8. Decorate top with sections of candied pineapple, cherries, and pecan halves, before putting in oven or when cake is glazed later.

9. Bake for 2 and one-half or 3 hours at 275 degrees. When done cake will turn loose from sides of pan or spring back quickly when pressed lightly by finger.

About 30 minutes before the cooking period is over, the cake may be glazed with a small amount of egg white or corn syrup.

Homemakers present were Mesdames J. S. Ward, John Ramsden, O. B. Cooper, Albert Scott, Denson Elliott, Misses Eloise Meroney, Eva Golson, and Lorraine Peter.

Seven of the members present made a nice variety of cakes including recipes for Date White, Refrigerator, Dark, and Prized Family Fruit Cake.—Submitted by Carolyn Chunn, Student Teacher of Home Economics, Montevallo High School.

Report Of Sales Of Christmas Seals

The Shelby County Tuberculosis Association reports that only $947.50 has been received from the sale of Christmas Seals. The goal for Shelby County fixed by the State Association is $1454.00. The County Association urges those who have received Seals to mail a contribution, regardless of the amount, to the Association Treasurer, Roy Downs, at Calera.

Seventy nine per cent of the amount raised is retained in Shelby County to finance the fight of the Association against tuberculosis. This 79 per cent is matched by the Shelby County Board of Revenue and Control. Home treatment of TB cases, directed by County Health Officer, Dr. E. F. Sloan, cost your Association about $11.50. This money is spent for drugs and other supplies. There is no fund available to finance this home treatment other than the funds of your TB Association.

Funds received thus far when matched by County funds would continue the present program of your Association for only seven months. A termination of this program for those suffering from this disease would be a serious matter in deed. Successful treatment of TB requires constant and continuous attention.

Reminder cards will be mailed to those who have received Christmas Seals. Help spread Christmas cheer by buying Christmas Seals.

Southern Cement's New Plant In Shelby County

By Robert W. Kincey
In Birmingham News

Southern Cement Co., Birmingham, is constructing a modern portland cement plant at Roberta, Ala., midway between Calera and Montevallo.

The new plant is adjacent to the company's recently completed lime plant in Shelby County. It will produce portland cement largely for use in Southern Cement Co.'s long established North Birmingham plant.

W. J. Cabaniss, vice president and treasurer of the company, said the Roberta plant will have a capacity of one million barrels a year and probably will be ready for production by mid 1954.

No estimate of the capital investment or employment was immediately available.

Southern Cement, with general offices in the Protective Life Building here, was founded in Alabama in 1901 and manufactures cement and mortar materials at its North Birmingham plant.

Because large quantities of lime are used in the manufacture of cement and mortar, the company, which experienced shortages in World War II, built its own lime plant in Shelby County.

Most of the engineering and structural work on that plant, as well as on the new cement plant, is by the company's own personnel.

Its products are distributed nationally and have gone into some of the nation's outstanding buildings. The company owns 700 acres of rich lime land in Shelby County.

"Our company," Mr. Cabaniss said, "is owned by Alabama people who take a genuine pride in the idustrial and general expansion of the Southeast, and who are proud to contribute in some measure to that expansion."

Other officers are C. W. Streit Jr., president; M. A. Rikard, vice president, operations; C. H. Ellison Jr., vice president, sales, and Jelks H. Cabaniss, secretary.

Diseases Of 1953 In Shelby County

The year 1953 has been one with a notably low incidence of the communicable diseases which formerly caused a great deal of disability and a number of deaths.

Only one caes of Typhoid has occurred in the county; no Diphtheria, no Polio, no hookworm disease and not epidemic Meningitis. No case of Malaria or Typhus or Syphilis has been reported and no case of Undulant Fever has occurred.

There have been 13 cases of Scarlet Fever reported but due to the rapid response of this disease to the newer drugs and the lack of complications Scarlet Fever is no longer a serious problem. Influenza and Measles showed a slight increase during the past winter and spring. Whooping Cough has shown a marked decrease due to the fact that more babies are being immunized earlier in life.

The records show an increase in Cancer due partly to better diagnostic facilities and in part to the fact that many more people are living to the advanced age in which Cancer is most common.

Twenty new active cases of Pulmonary Tuberculosis have been found this year, this disease constituting our major communicable disease problem. These new cases added to the cases carried over from last year amounts to a formidable problem.

Shelby County is now in a position to cope with this major problem. With the Tuberculosis Association, the Board of Revenue and Control and the Health Department all working together, facilities have been provided for diagnosis and treatment of this disease which are usually not found outside the large centers of population.

The Board of Revenue and Control deserves great credit for many fine things they have done for the County and one of them is the support given this program to eradicate Tuberculosis.

The Tuberculosis Association, a volunteer organization, is doing splendid work and deserves every citizens' hearty cooperation. You can buy and use your Christmas Seals.

With the present facilities, and the cooperation of the citizens, Tuberculosis can eventually become as rare as Smallpox, Malaria and Typhoid.—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Summary of SCS Districts Week

Shelby County newspapers, merchants, educational groups, and many other friends of the soil conservation movement, as embodied in the district organization, helped put out special editions of two county papers during the Districts' Week.

Also during this week, Nov. 1-7, several sermons, several vocational agriculture classes, and other meetings were devoted to this subject.

The supervisors are especially indebted to the staffs of the Shelby County Reporter-Democrat and the Montevallo Times. These friends of the district labored diligently to make their papers attractive and informative.

The state summary of the activities of the week follows:

Special paper editions, 52; articles, 404; editorials, 28; pictures and mats, 354; advertisements, 255; radio programs, 104; radio flashes, 326; sermons, 421; tours, 36; demonstrations, 12; meetings, 157; moving pictures, 163; exhibits, 210; G. I. classes, 63; schools participating, 294.

Shelby County had a fine representation in these statistics, especially in the newspaper features.

In these unpredictable times, a faithful husband is one whose alimony check always arrives on time.

Farmers Urged To Vote For Marketing Quota For Cotton

Farmers will vote on Dec. 15, 1953, to determine whether marketing quotas for cotton will remain in effect for the 1954 crops.

If two-thirds of those voting in the referendum vote for marketing quotas, then marketing quotas will be in effect in 1954.

If marketing quotas are in effect in 1954 for cotton, the price support will be 90 per cent of the parity price. If marketing quotas are voted down, then the price support will be 50 per cent of the parity price.

In effect, the vote on December 15 will determine whether producers will or will not have marketing quotas and whether they will or will not have a price support at 90 per cent of the parity price for cotton.

It is expected that farmers will be notified of their individaul allotments before the vote is taken It is expected that cotton allotments will be extremely unsatisfactory. The reason cotton allotments will be unsatisfactory is that they are being made under an out-of-date law. The Farm Bureau tried to get the law revised at the last session of Congress but was unable to get this done. The Farm Bureau will make another effort when Congress convenes in January to get the Congress to pass a law correcting inequalities in the cotton allotments.

The national cotton acreage allotment, under the present law, is 17,910,448 acres. The voting delegates at the recent annual meeting of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, in Biloxi, voted unanimously to ask the Congress to pass legislation, as soon after meeting as possible, increasing the national allotment of cotton to 21,000,000 acres and providing that the additional acreage be used to make allotments more equitable. Obviously, it cannot be predicted with certainty whether such legislation will be passed but there is a chance it will be.

Cotton acreage allotments can be revised by an Act of Congress. The vote on cotton marketing quotas cannot be changed after it is cast on December 15, 1953.

I think farmers should vote favorably on cotton marketing quotas.

I hope cotton growers will decide that a favorable vote is in their best interest, even though many of them may be seriously dissatisfied with their cotton allotment.

Calera Wins Over Jemison

The Calera Eagles successfully opened their 1953-54 basketball season Friday night with a 32-22 win over Jemison.

The Eagles jumped into an early lead and led at half time 12-8. They came back in the last half with 20 points to Jemison's 14.

Calera played smooth ball throughout the game, in contrast to Jemison's seemly first-half unsteadiness. Tomlin, a guard was high point man for the Eagles with 14 points. Sims, center, was second with 6. Gothard led for Jemison with 9.

The B team lost the opener 20 to 45. Peters' 12 points was highest in the losing effort.

I don't care what anybody says, July is the season when the days are longer and the weekends are shorter.

Hodding Carter Speaker At Alabama College

Hodding Carter, editor, publisher, author and Pulitzer Prize winner for editorial writing in 1946 will address Alabama College's faculty and student body Tuesday morning, Dec. 15, at 11 a.m. in Palmer Hall on the Montevallo campus.

Speaking at one of the College's regular convocation programs, Mr. Carter will be introduced by Dr. F. Edward Lund, President of Alabama College.

Editor and publisher of Greenville, Miss., Delta Democrat-Times since 1939, Carter served on the Army's Bureau of Public Relations in Washington, D. C., and later as editor of the Middle East editions of Stars and Stripes and Yank during World War II.

Carter is the recipient of a War Department citation for services during the war; a Nieman Fellowship for newspapermen; Guggenheim Fellowship for creative writing; the Southern Literary Award; as well as the Pulitzer Prize for editorial writing.

A member of the American Society of Newspaper Editors Carter is the author of "Flood Crest" published in 1947; "Winds of Fear"; and is co-author of "Civilian Defense of the United States, Lower Mississippi."

Alabama College's convocation programs are open to the public.

JAMES T. COST

Mr. James T. Cost passed away last Wednesday, Dec 2, at his home after a long illness. Mr. Cost was a veteran of World War II.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ethel Cost; 4 sisters, Mrs. Doyle Smith of Bessemer, Mrs. Junior Peters, Mrs. Sam Cannady and Miss Delyn Cost all of Calera.

Cline-Pryar

In a candle light service at the Pelham Methodist Church Miss Jean Cline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Cline of Helena, became the bride of Bart Pryor of Andalusia on Thanksgiving evening at 7 p.m.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Willard Jones. Mrs. A. Vance McCauley, vocalist, and Mrs. Herbert Poole, pianist, played the wedding music.

Candles were lighted by Miss Carolyn Barton and Miss Bobby Gillespie. A. V. McCauley and Curtis Cofer were ushers. Mrs. Doc Martin, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. All attendants wore suits with corsages of carnations. Doc Martin was best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a blue suit with black velvet accessories and carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doc Martin at Alabaster.

The lace covered table featured crystal and silver with pastel flowers. Mrs. Cline mother of the bride, wore a black faille suit with a pink carnation corsage.

Assisting with serving were Mrs. A. V. McCauley, Mrs. Herbert Poole, and Mrs. R. L. Johnson.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Pryor will be at home in Andalusia.

Alabama College Receives Award To Produce Radio Music Programs

PUTNAM PORTER

Alabama College has been awarded a grant of $1800 to aid in the production of a series of radio programs entitled "Organ Music of the Centuries."

Receipt of the grant, one of eight awarded to Colleges and Universities in the United States for the production of radio programs, was announced by Ralph W. Sears, Director of Radio at Alabama College who will be in charge of production of the series.

Awards were recommended by the Grants-In-Aid Committee of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters. Grants are made possible through funds from the Educational Television and Radio Center, Ann Arbor, Michigan, an organization founded by the Fund for Adult Education, to provide a central agency for providing program resources to educational television and radio stations.

"Organ Music of the Centuries" will be a series of 26 thirty minute radio program and is described as "an historical recital series of organ music, featuring music written for the pipe organ during the Baroque era (1600-1750), the Romantic era (1800-1890), and music written by contemporary composers.

The series will feature Putnam Porter, Assistant Professor of Music and Alabama College organist. A graduate of the University of Chattanooga and Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., Porter joined the Alabama College faculty in 1949. For the past four years he has been featured in the radio series "Music From Montevallo" broadcast weekly by some 25 Alabama radio stations. During 1950 and 1951 several of his programs were carried in Europe and the Near East by the Voice of America.

Production on "Organ Music of the Centuries" will begin immediately and will be completed by August 1, 1954. The series will be made available to the National Association of Educational Broadcasters for posible broadcast over its 113 station network. Locally, the series will be released by Alabama College.

Other schools awarded radio grants are the University of Chicago, Iowa State College, University of Massachusetts, Michigan State College, University of North Carolina, University of Iowa, and George Washington University of Washington D. C. Institutions receiving grants for the production of television programs are the University of Nebraska, New York University, Stanford University, University of Illinois, University of Wisconsin, and the St. Louis Board of Education.

David Lindsay Marker Unveiled By DAR

Alabama Day was fittingly observed by David Lindsay Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. At 3 p. m. in the afternoon, amid sleet and snow, rain and sunshine, a bronze marker on Alabama marble was unveiled at the grave of David Lindsay, the Revolutionary patriot for whom the Chapter is named. Mrs. A. W. Vaughan was chairman of ceremonies, and the ritual was conducted by Mrs. J. O. Luttrell, State Regent Alabama Society, DAR; Mrs. John B. Privett, State Chaplain, Miss Maud Kelly, State Chairman of Geneoogical Records Committee, Mrs. B. F. Roden, Chaplain, and Mrs. Willis H. Lyman, Regent of David Lindsay Chapter.

After the ceremony, cake and coffee were served to the group by Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Lacey and their sons and daughters. Mr. Lacey had been largely instrumental in establishing the location of David Lindsay's grave. For this service the Chapter presented to him a framed Award of Merit.

At six o'clock a Chapter dinner was served, followed by the regular monthly meeting of David Lindsay Chapter. The address of the evening was delivered by Mrs. Luttrell, who told of David Lindsay and the first three generations of his descendants. Interesting talks were also made by Mrs. James H. Lane, Honorary State Regent, Alabama Society, DAR; Mrs. John B. Privett, and Miss Maud Kelly. Mrs. Vaughan presented the Chapter a beautifully bound volume, which she had compiled, with the title, "David Lindsay—His First Three Generations." The book was bound by Mr. Pat Wyatt of The Times Printing Company.

BOBBY DON MILSTEAD

Bobby Don Milstead of Wilton, will complete his military police training at Camp Gordon, Ga., in January. Bobby graduated from Montevallo High School in June, 1953, and entered the Army in September 16.

Report On Sale Of Christmas Seals

The Shelby County Tuberculosis Association reports that $1127.00 has been received from the sale of Christmas Seals. The goal for the Association is $1454. The Association is of the opinion that many people who received Seals have not contributed to this program through oversight. The hope is expressed that this report will serve as a reminder to mail a contribution to Roy Downs, Calera, treasurer of the Association. We are only $327 short of the quota.

American Legion Area Conference Is Held Here

The Area Conference of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary, held at the club of Hendrick-Hudson Post No. 96 at 2 p.m. Sunday was attended by some 150 local members and visitors from different sections of the state.

After a welcome address by Mayor W. M. Wyatt and introduction of speakers and visiting officers the Legion continued with their meeting at the Legion Hut while the Auxiliary Units held a meeting at Reynolds Hall.

Speakers and their subjects were Congressman Kenneth Roberts, National Defense; Attorney John Foster of Birmingham, The Good of the Legion in Membership; Mr. John Drinkard, Past Commander, Importance of American Legion Membership; and Mr. Hugh Overton, National American Legion Committeeman, Americanism and Membership. Another subject of interest was "Hospitalization for Veterans" by a representative from the Veterans Hospital in Montgomery.

After so much stress on Membership, it was with a feeling of great pride for the Hendrick-Hudson Post to report 206 members, a new record for the post.

At the meeting of the Auxiliary Units the two Alabama College Scholarship students were introduced.

Dr. Hallie Farmer, Mrs. Clyde Ellis of Fort Payne and Mr. Earl McGaughy from the Tuscaloosa Veterans' Hospital addressed the group.

After the meetings of both the groups, they enjoyed a social hour and refreshments served by the Hendrick-Hudson Post and Auxiliary Unit, at the Legion Hut.

WSCS Christmas Party

Circles 1 and 2 of the WSCS of the Methodist Church will hold their annual Christmas party on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. T. H. Napier, which is beautifully decorated in the traditional way for the Christmas season.

Each member will bring a gift for a child at the Methodist Orphanage.

The theme of the program will be "Christmas" with the Biblical Story as related by St. Luke, Carol singing, and a Christmas story by Mrs. M. L. Orr, Jr.

During the social hour the hostess committee, Mrs. T. H. Napier, Mrs. Dunstan, Mrs. J. H. Wyatt, Mrs. O. B. Cooper, and Mrs. C. H. Mahaffey, will serve date pudding with whipped cream and Wassail, a very old English Christmas drink.

Selden To Meet With Cotton Farmers

Congressman Armistead I. Selden will meet with the cotton growers of Shelby County to discuss proposed legislation that will affect marketing conditions in 1954. This meeting will be held Monday, December 21, at 10:30 a.m. in the Courtroom at Columbiana. All cotton growers are being urged to attend.

Dr. Katherine Vickery National President Kappa Delta Pi

Dr. Katherine Vickery, head of the Alabama College Psychology Department, has recently been elected national president of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary fraternity in education.

The election came at an executive council meeting of the education organization held in Cincinnati, Ohio, Dec. 5.

The psychology professor has served as executive first vice president of Kappa Delta Pi for several years, and had become acting president of the organization since the sudden death of the president, Dr. Frank L. Wright, in November.

Dr. Vickery is also counselor for the Alabama College chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, which is celebrating its 25th year on the campus this year.

The new national president received her AB Degree from North Georgia College, and her MA and Ph.D. degrees from Georgia Peabody College for Teachers with a major in psychology. She has also done graduate study at the University of Colorado, and holds an honorary D. Sc. Degree from Alabama College. She is a member of a number of organizations in addition to Kappa Delta Pi, including the council of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; Alabama Academy of Science; International Council of Women Psychologists; American Psychological Association; American Association of University Women, (past president); and American Association of University Professors.

Union Christmas Service At Methodist Church

There will be a union Christmas service at the Methodist Church Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour. The Baptist, Episcopalians, Methodist and Presbyterians will participate. Rev. Edward Glover, pastor of the Baptist Church, will bring the message. A joint choir of all the churches will furnish the music.

Sunday evening at 7:30 the Methodist Church will hold their White Christmas service. This is to be a play built around the idea of the Christ Child. As has been the custom for many years the offering for the Childrens' Home at Selma will be taken. This program will take the place of the regular preaching service.

March of Dimes Preparing For Polio Fight

Dr. F. E. Lund, Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Orr and Dr. Katherine Vickery, who attended a March of Dimes preparation meeing in Montgomery, Monday, said there appears to be real hope that paralytic polio may be conquered within the next few years.

"Basil O'Connor of New York, president of the national Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, addressed the meeting and told of plans to test a new anti-polio vaccine throughout the country beginning the week of February 8," Dr. Orr said.

"Mr. O'Connor said the vaccine was developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk at the University of Pittsburgh with March of Dimes financial support and with the scientific facts uncovered by the National Foundation during the past 16 years.

"He said both the National Foundation and Dr. Salk have proved the vaccine is safe and the only reason it will be tested on between 500,000 and 1,000,000 second grade school children all over the country is to prove its effectiveness."

Dr. Orr quoted Mr. O'Connor as saying the sites for the tests had not yet been selected but the National Foundation hoped to hold the trials in all states.

"Mr. O'Connor said the inoculations would be given before June 1 so the effects of the 1954 summer polio season could be observed," Dr. Orr said. "This would mean that the results would not be known until 1955. It also means that Gamma Globulin, the blood fraction which gives temporary protection against paralysis, must be used again in 1954 because it is the best thing available.

"We were told that the National Foundation plans to spend $7,500,000 on the vaccine tests and $19,000,000 on an expanded gamma globulin program in the coming year. We also learned that the foundation's regular programs of scientific research, professional education and patient care must go on and that these will cost an estimated $48,500,000 in 1954. That means the next March of Dimes must raise $75,000,000 if this important work is to go on."

Yomaso Club

The Yomaso Club held their annual Christmas dinner dance at the Legion Hut last Saturday evening. The Hut was decorated with a Christmas tree and Christmas decorations. A turkey dinner was served buffet style. After dinner names were drawn and gifts were exchanged.

The hostess committe included Mrs. Earl McGaughy, Mrs. Grady Parker, Mrs. John Mader and Mrs. Clayton Nordan. Fifteen members and their husbands attended. Guests of the Earl McGaughys were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whetstone of Sylacauga.

NOTICE

The Montevallo Post Office will be open all day Saturday, December 19, 1953.

Shelby County Schools Make Plans To Purchase Instructional Material

Shelby County School Superintendent, W. W. Elliott, announced today that plans have been made for the Shelby County Board of Education and the local school-communities in the county to jointly buy some much needed materials of instruction for the schools such as library books, film strips, maps, globes, and other visual aids.

Mr. Elliott stated that approximately $21,000 will be spent for these instructional aids and other services and materials for the operation of the schools during the current term. These other services and aids include janitor salaries, utilities, and other supplies. This money comes from the regular school appropriations and with the sums raised by local groups, including PTA's, Town Councils, and others, the amount will probably be more than $40,000 to be spent for these materials and services for the 5,317 children and 1,703 negro children enrolled in the public schools of Shelby County during the 1953-54 term.

During the 1952-53 term, the Shelby County Board of Education, with the cooperation of the local communities, purchased approximately $14,000 worth of library books for the schools with an equal amount going to each school in the county on the basis of their average daily attendance. These library materials were purchased after plans and policies had been formulated by the Superintendent of Education, Supervisors of Instruction, and 32 principals, teachers, and librarians, under the direction of Miss Sybil Baird, librarian, Indian Springs School, and Miss Fanny Schmitt, librarian, State Department of Education.

The County Board of Education received many favorable comments from the State Department of Education and other sections of the State regarding this project. The cooperation of the local communities in the project was outstanding.

Although remarkable progress has been made, Mr. Elliott emphasized that it would take $200,000 per year to bring the purchase of these materials and services for the schools of Shelby County up to the national level.

Before purchases are made during the current term, several teachers felt that they needed a short refresher course in the selection and use of these materials. At their request arrangements were made with Alabama College for Miss Ethel Marshall, Professor of Geography, to give a series of lectures on the newest developments in using maps, and globes in the classrooms for both elementary and high school grades. The first of these lectures was held at Alabama College on Tuesday afternoon, December 8, from 4 til 5:30 o'clock. Twelve schools in the county were represented by 28 teachers, the Superintendent of schools, and the Supervisor of Instruction. Those attending were: Calera, Mrs. Pearl White, Mrs. Margie Davis, and Mrs. Stella Smith; Camp Branch, Mrs. Nannie Lee Durden; Chelsea, Mrs. Marjorie Simpson; Columbiana, L. F. Rogers, Milton Smith, Irene Bishop, Ailene Pope, and Mrs. Inez Bird; Dogwood, Mrs. Inez Underwood; Mayberry, Mrs. Carrie Daly; Montevallo, John Ramsden, Guy Milford; Pelham, Mrs. Sarah Walker and Mrs. Mary Kirby; Sterrett, Simon Blackerby; Vincent, Mrs. Anna B. Franks, Mrs. Ruth Baker, and Mrs. Virginia McGraw; Thompson, Vance McCauley, Mrs. Louise Douglas, Mrs. Clemmie Bradley, and Mrs. Doris McCauley; Wilsonville, Mrs. Mildred Beavers, Mrs. Bertha Cosper, and Elizabeth Weldon. Superintendant of Education W. W. Elliott and Supervisor of Instruction Anita King.

The second lecture was held in Columbiana High School building on Tuesday afternoon, December 15. Dates for the next two lectures are January 12, and January 19, 1954. The place of meeting will be decided later.

Here's what's behind the big swing to FORD

FORD GIVES YOU EVERYTHING YOU WANT AND NEED AT A PRICE YOU WANT TO PAY!

AMERICA'S COSTLIEST CARS ARE SWINGING TO V-8 ENGINES! Ford is the only car in its field with a V-8!

IF IT'S A SIX YOU WANT, Ford has the most modern in the industry, Ford's Mileage Maker Six.

DOES ANY OTHER CAR offer you a choice of V-8 or Six engine—or a choice of three great drives? How about foam-rubber in all seats, extra trunk space, smooth ride—does any other car measure up to Ford feature for feature? The only ones that do are costlier cars! Not a single one is in Ford's price field! And Ford offers you these "fine car" features—at half the fine car cost! No wonder the swing's to Ford!

YOU DON'T NEED A HEAVY LIMOUSINE FOR A SMOOTH RIDE. Ford's new rubber compression bumpers and more responsive spring and shock absorber action reduce front end road shock alone up to 80%.

FORDOMATIC DOES MORE THINGS FOR YOU AUTOMATICALLY—over a wider range—than any drive in the low-price field. Try a Test Drive!

NO WORRY ABOUT "BLIND SPOTS" IN FORD! Ford has more "look out" area than any car in its field—truly Full-Circle Visibility. Fords are built for your safety—more of Ford's advanced engineering.

FORD'S MASTER-GUIDE POWER STEERING is the lowest-priced power steering in Ford's field! Ford Master-Guide gives help only when you need it!

CHECK THE USED CAR LOTS and you'll find that last year's Ford returns more of its original cost than any other car!

A Completely New Line of Automobiles!

The New Star Chief Series -Bringing New Values in Luxury Size and Performance Never Before Offered at the Price!

Biggest Pontiac Ever Built—214 Inches Over-All Length

Magnificent New Beauty, Inside And Out

New Custom-Styled Interiors—New Exterior Colors

Most Powerful Pontiac Ever Built

New Roadability And Driving Ease

New, Greatly Increased Cross-Country Luggage Room

Here is the first genuine luxury car ever to be offered in Pontiac's low price range!

As the biggest Pontiac ever built, the new Star Chief brings you all the generous added length required for peak roadability and riding ease. And this extra length provides a long, low, aristocratic silhouette like costly cars, brought to even greater beauty by a brilliant new treatment of Pontiac's exclusive Silver Streak. Interiors are in key. Here is the gracious, spacious look of luxury for which motorists have paid several thousands more than the modest cost of the new Star Chief. Add to all this an even mightier Pontiac engine and you will understand why you should not only see, but drive, this magnificent new car soon.

See the completely new Star Chief this weekend, along with the wonderfully improved Chieftain Series—General Motors lowest priced eight and famous economy six. Together, they prove that whatever you prize most in a car, again in '54, dollar for dollar—you can't beat a Pontiac.

TO ADD TO YOUR DRIVING PLEASURE AND THE LONG-RANGE VALUE OF YOUR CAR—PONTIAC OFFERS A WIDE SELECTION OF OPTIONAL EQUIPMENT

Dual-Range Hydra-Matic provides instant response in traffic, extra-economical cruising for the open road.

Pontiac's Power Steering offers finger tip steering ease for parking and slow turning, yet you retain safe road feel.

New Air-Conditioning cools your car to the temperature you set in minutes. Eight cylinder models only.

New Pontiac Power Brakes let you stop faster with far less effort and foot movement. A major advance in safety.

New Electric Window Lifts raise or lower front windows to any desired height by simply touching a button.

New Comfort-Control Seat adjusts to 360 different seat angles at a touch for the best driving position.

*Optional equipment and accessories available at extra cost.

Cub Scout Pack Advancement Ceremony

Montevallo Cub Scout Pack 59 held a big advancement ceremony at the High School Cafeteria last night. Sandwiches and refreshments were served to all.

Highlight of the evening was the advancement ceremony. Ten boys advanced and were presented badges by their parents. The six Den Mothers in the Montevallo Pack were cited for their wonderful spirit and intense interest in the program.

Special Scout awards went to Mrs. James Wyatt and Mrs. Minnie Lou Warnke, the Den Mothers of Den number 1. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Sims were presented the award as Den Mothers of Den number 33. Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Bearden accepted their awards as Den Mothers of Den number 2.

The following boys were presented badges of advancement:

Jimmy Eddings received the Lion badge and a Gold Arrow. This is the highest award in Cub Scouting; Bob Bearden received the Wolf Badge and a Gold Arrow; Guy Milford was presented the Wolf Badge; Bill-Bob Garrett received the Wolf Badge and a Gold Arrow; Ernest Blankenship received the Bear Badge; Lee Barclay Jr., received the Wolf Badge; Jimmy Wyatt received the Gold Arrow award for achievements above the badge he currently holds; Albert Scott was presented the Wolf Badge; Bill Peete received the Bob-Cat Award; Stevie Gould was presented the Bob-Cat Award.

Mr. John B. Mader, local Cub Master, praised the Den Mothers, the Cubs, and the parents for doing a wonderful job and expressed his thanks for the interest taken in the program and unselfish devotion to an organization devoted to the community and its youth.

Christmas Party At The Little House

The "Little House" was imbued with the true spirit of Christmas on Tuesday evening, with a Christmas tree and all the trimmings, where twenty mothers and around forty five children met for a Christmas party. A program was presented on the accomplishments of the Intermediate and Brownie Troops during the past year. After the program, the scouts and leaders went caroling. Upon their return to the Little House, gifts were received from the Christmas tree and refreshments were served.

The leaders of the troops have worked very hard during the past year and the results of their efforts were reflected by the enthusiasm of the mothers and the scout troops. The Intermediate Troop has as its leader Mrs. Calvin Roden, assistant leader, Miss Sue Baughn, a Senior at Alabama College. The Brownie leader is Mrs. W. E. Robinson, assistant leader Mrs. F. L. Thiemonge Jr., and special assistant leader Miss Eloise Booker, who is with the Alabama Power Company and who has been teaching the Brownies to cook.

New 1954 Pontiac To Be Shown At Bowdon's, Calera

Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 9—Pontiac will introduce a completely new line of cars for 1954, it was revealed today at an exclusive press preview of the new models here today.

Although details cannot be disclosed at this time, it can be said that the new line will be called the Star Chief series, is on a new chassis, and is bigger, longer and more luxurious than anything ever previously built by Pontiac.

It will be shown for the first time, along with a newly-styled Chieftain line of cars, at dealers' showrooms on December 18.

It was also noted that the '54 Pontiacs will again be available with the most widely used of all automatic transmissions — the Dual-Range Hydra-Matic. It will be offered as optional equipment with both Six and Eight cylinder engines on any car in the line. Pontiac introduced Dual-Range Hydra-Matic in 1952 and it was being installed on more than 85 per cent of all Pontiacs sold until production was cut off last August by the fire at General Motors' transmission plant in Livonia, Michigan.

Montevallo PTA Met At High School

Montevallo PTA met Monday night at 7:30 in the High School Auditorium. The band, under the direction of Mr. V. T. Young, presented a musical program.

Dr. T. H. Napier spoke on the "Moral and Spiritual Development of our Children." Miss Ethel Marshall discussed the issues to be voted on at the Dec. 15 eection.

Mr. F. P. Givhan explained the duties of the advisory committee appointed by the school board of trustees. This committee will meet twice monthly to discuss and make recommendations to the school and the community.

Mrs. Alvin McGaughy, president, announced the next meetinng of the Shelby County PTA Council will be a supper meeting at the high school cafeteria on Jan. 5. All PTA members are invited and any one who wishes to attend make reservations with Mrs. S. C. Jones, hospitality chairman, by Dec. 29.

Mrs. Flora Mae Lazenby's 2nd grade won the attendance prize of $2.00.

Mrs. Ruth Fredrick and parents of her 8th grade students were hostesses at this meeting.

Killingsworth Boys Join The Marines

Birmingham, Ala.—Melvine N. Killingsworth, son of Mr. Curtis Killingsworth, Rt. 1, Montevallo, and Buster H. Killingsworth, son of Mrs. Mallie Killingsworth, Calera, enlisted in the U. S. Marines at the recruiting station here this week as privates.

They were sent to the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C., for ten weeks of recruit training.

They will become familiarized with such military subjects as precision drill, first aid, hygiene and field tactics during his training period.

They will climax their training by firing the Garand M-1 rifle for record. In addition, they will become well versed in other infantry weapons such as the .45 caliber pistol, carbine and Browning automatic rifle.

FOR SALE—Thor Automatic Ironer, like new, $50. Original cost $139.95. Phone 8621, Mrs. C. M. Mullen.

Birthday Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rotenberry was the scene of a party Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 9, honoring their daughter, Lynn, on her fifth birthday.

Favors of horns, toy cars, and toy trucks made the hour from 4 to 5 one of fun for the guests, Lynn Frost, Peggy Whaley, Joan Anthony, Gordon Wyatt, Clay Nordan, Jerry McGaughy, Janet Rotenberry, and the honoree, Lynn Rotenberry. Birthday cake, ice cream and candy mints were enjoyed by all.

Most men make elaborate preparations for a deer hunt, then return with nothing more than a tall tale, but not the women. On the way home from Birmingham late Thursday afternoon Miss Anna Nabors and Miss Emma Hunter were cruising down the highway when their car was hit by something—a deer, weighing some 250 pounds. The car was damaged, the ladies not hurt, and they had a deer they didn't want.

Governor Persons Directs Attention To Problem Of Race Segregation

Governor Gordon Persons has made public a letter addressed to the people of Alabama, dealing with the subject of segregation of the races in our public schools.

More accurately we might say that the Governor is thinking of our state's school situation in the event the supreme court should impose upon us the requirement that we abolish segregation in our schools.

The Governor rightly declares that this is a big question—bigger than any one of us or any group of us. We might add that it possibly could turn out to be bigger than all of us.

Below we quote the letter of Governor Persons. If you think you can give the Governor a worthwhile constructive thought on this big subject, you should take advantage of his open invitation for you to do so.

* * *

"The one thing which would most greatly affect us here in the South would be a breakdown of segregation in our public schools. A decision from the U. S. Supreme Court is expected in the near future.

"The consequences of an unfavorable decision are, of course, unknown to any of us. What the decision itself will be is, of course, also unknown. However, it appears to me that perhaps the Court could decide along one of three general lines:

"1. Rejection of the case on the assumption that the Federal Government's jurisdiction lies only in the District of Columbia. This seems highly unlikely.

"2. Complete abolition of segregation. To me this is unthinkable in view of the fact that the present system of 'separate but equal facilities' was itself long ago established by the Supreme Court.

"3. Continuation of the present system, but with a definite time limit in which to completely comply with the 'separate but equal facilities'.

"Frankly, we all know it is impossible to arrive at any definite course of action until the Court's decision is received and studied.

"We all know every city and county in Alabama has, for many years, been making an all-out effort to provide equal facilities. Some have accomplished this. Others are still in the process.

"I wonder, therefore, if you will take the time to write me your views and suggestions covering the problems which will confront us in the event of a Supreme Court decision based on the possibilities of No. 2 or No. 3. I know you are busy but certainly none of us are so busy but what we can devote whatever time and thought is necessary to solve this problem. I feel that you will have a good idea as to how your own people will react.

"No matter whether you are a Democrat, an Eisenhower-Democrat, a Republican, or whether you are pro or anti Truman, pro or anti Eisenhower, or pro or anti Persons, this problem is bigger than any of us.

"Alabama must be prepared. Unfortunately, we do not know exactly what to prepare for. This makes it the more necessary that we, in the meantime, explore every possible solution so that we can be prepared for any eventually."

The Farm Problem

By Ezra Taft Benson
Secretary of Agriculture

This nation has a serious farm problem.

It does not affect agriculture alone. It is everybody's problem.

Today your government has approximately $5 billions of your money invested in farm commodities.

You own outright more than $2.5 billions worth of wheat, corn, cotton and other surplus farm products. You have outstanding loans on agricultural commodities totaling about the same amount. This figure is growing daily.

You are paying more than $14 millions each month just to store these surpluses. This bill is growing, too, as additional inventories are accumulated by your government.

The losses which your government sustained in disposing of just a small portion of your holdings during the first three months of this fiscal year amounted to $47 millions.

But, you ask, don't we have a farm program designed to insure agricultural prosperity and prevent the very situation we find ourselves in today?

The answer is that we are operating under the same farm program we had last year and for several previous years. Actually we have strengthened it in several important respects to permit farmers to take broader advantage of its provisions. Existing legislation binds us to a continuation of price supports at 90 per cent of parity on basic commodities through the 1954 crop year.

Nevertheless, farm prices have declined steadily from the record peaks established under the impetus of the Korean War in February 1951. During the 12 months immediately before I became Secretary of Agriculture, the farm price parity ratio slid from 113 to 95 per cent. Since February of this year, prices have been more stable than in 1952, averaging 93 per cent of parity.

This story of declining farm income and mounting agricultural surpluses is the best evidence that our present program is not functioning effectively.

For more than a decade, our farmers have been producing under pressure. To meet the wartime needs of ourselves and our allies, they turned out record amounts of food and fiber between 1941 and 1946. With the end of the second World War, they were asked to provide the commodities required in the rehabilitation of Europe and other sections of the earth. Then came the Korean War, with new and heavy demands for farm goods of all kinds.

Suddenly this situation was radically altered. World food production had been climbing since 1946. By 1952 this was exerting strong pressure in the market places. Our wheat exports dropped by one-third in a single year, cotton by even more. Not only had importing nations increased their own production, but they found that they could supply their reduced needs at lower prices from exporting countries which had no farm price support programs.

Just as many American consumers have turned from butter to less expensive spreads, so have other nations sought cheaper wheat, cotton and other products.

We have learned through sometimes bitter experience that when the farmer is in trouble, there is likely to be trouble ahead for everybody. This year, net farm income is expected to be nearly $1 billion less than it was in 1952. And in 1952 it was more than $1 billion below the preceding year. While farm income has been dropping, out total national income has actually increased.

This disparity cannot continue in an economy such as ours. When the farmer can't buy the products of industry, there are certain to be serious dislocations.

How we got into this situation is not as important, at the moment, as what we propose to do about it. I have outlined here some of the major problems facing agriculture. In a subsequent article, I should like to discuss some of the possible solutions.

Miss Gould Died Last Saturday

Miss Ellen-Haven Gould, head of the speech department at Alabama College died at her home here Saturday evening at 5:30 p.m.

A member of the Alabama College teaching staff for 29 years, Miss Gould developed the first speech department in Alabama; was the first to offer teacher training in speech; and established the first speech therapy clinic in Alabama.

Born in Dennison, Iowa in 1889, Miss Gould completed her undergraduate studies at Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; and Northwestern University. She received her M.A. degree from Northwestern University and did further graduate study at the University of California. Before coming to Alabama Colege in 1924 Miss Gould served on the faculty of Coe College, Washington State College, and Occidental College, Los Angeles.

Participating in numerous professional speech and theatre organizations, Miss Gould held membership in the American Education Speech Association; Southern Speech Association; Educational Theatre; National Society for study of Communication; Southern Theatre Conference; Zeta Phi Eta; National Collegiate Players; Pi Kappa Delta, national Forensic fraternity. She was also a member of the American Association of University Women.

Funeral services were held Sunday, December 20th at 2:30 p.m. at the Montevallo Methodist Church, the Reverend O. Kyle Lamb officiating. Surviving is one sister, Mrs. Mary G. Robbins of Pasadena, California. Burial will be in Pasadena, California.

Active pallbearers were faculty members John B. Mader, Dr. M. L. Orr Sr., Lee Barclay, Dr. Charles Gormley, Dr. Paul Bailey, and Dr. W. H. Trumbauer. Honorary pallbearers included all members of the Alabama College faculty.

Funeral Services For Rev. Vail

Decatur, Ala., Dec. 19—Funeral services for the Rev. Archie N. Vail, 51, widely-known North Alabama minister, were held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Memorial Drive Methodist Church where he was pastor.

Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery, Birmingham. Officiating were Dr. Roy Howlett, Dr. B. F. Tingle, Dr. U. S. Pitts and the Rev. Woodrow Williams.

Brown-Service, Decatur, directed.

The Rev. Vail suffered a heart attack while on a hunting trip Thursday near Moulton. He was taken to Lawrence County Hospital, Moulton, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The Rev. Vail was hunting with a companion, Robert Tomlinson.

The Decatur Pastor had been a member of the North Alabama Methodist Conference about 15 years. He came to the Memorial Drive Church last October, from Tuscaloosa where he had been pastor of the Southside Methodist Church.

A native of Mississippi, the Rev. Vail also was former pastor of the church at Wilton.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara B. Vail; a brother, John Vail, Akron, Ohio and three sisters, Mrs. Daisy Lindsey, Bessemer; Mrs. O. P. Parson Sr., Crystal River, Fla., and Mrs. B. W. Betts Sr., Westport, Miss.

WAY BACK WHEN

CHEERS

In the early days of the American Navy, cheering was a generally accepted personal honor. Here is one of the sets of instruction printed in 1824 giving directions for standing by to salute or cheer when necessary:

"In manning the rigging for cheering, the people should be chosen for their size, to stand together or on the same ratlines, observing the space of two or three ratlines between each. The men should be dressed alike. The marines at the same time should be drawn up on the gangway without their arms. After the three cheers have been given, if the Commodore returns the same number, it must be answered by one; if he returns but one no further notice is to be taken, and the people called down."

Cheers were also given when distinguished passengers left the ship and for changes of command. When advance notice could be had of the visit of a distinguished personage, on his passing close aboard all hands were ordered to "clean themselves." Then at the words "lay aloft," all hands would jump to the rigging and cluster on the topmast crosstrees and the top-gallant masthead. On the second command, "Lay out upon the yards," the men would spread out each way, supporting themselves by means of the life lines fastened to the lifts and masts. At the order from the deck to "Cheer," the men took off their hats and waved them during the three cheers.

Checking back through early editions of Navy Regs shows that cheering was prohibited as far back as 1865. At that time Article 105 stated: "Cheers shall never be given to any officer or man, on joining a vessel of the Navy, or while attached to, or being detached from her." Since that time cheering has gradually disappeared as a custom. Today, it is not mentioned in Navy Regs.

FFA And FHA Have Jamboree Party

Swing your partner! Yes, that was the echo heard on Wednesday night, December 16, in Columbiana when four Shelby County schools were represented at a jamboree by the FFA and FHA.

There was a general meeting of the FFA boys and FHA girls. The program was on teen-age safety on the highway. Highway Patrolmen were present to talk on the importance of precautions which should be observed by teen-agers on the highway.

This program was arranged in cooperation with one of the national FHA projects on safety. Three other meetings will be held in Siluria, Vincent and Montevallo respectively.

After the general meeting each of the two organizations had a thirty minute program. Anita Bradley, Central District Vice President, gave a report on the recent executive council meeting in Montgomery and a talk on the degrees of achievement.

After the separate meetings, an hour of recreation was enjoyed in the recently constructed recreational building.—Submitted by Doris Carpenter, Student Teacher, Montevallo High School.

Easy As Pie

Now that the holiday season is here, many homemakers face the problem of desserts for the family and guests.

In addition to the traditional Christmas fruit cakes, pies made of mincemeat, apples, and other fruits are desserts which may be made by the home cook if she does a little planning ahead of time. Several days before Christmas she can prepare a large quantity of pastry mix according to the directions below and make this into pie crust any day she may have a need for them.

Quantity Pastry Mix

7 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons salt
2 cups fat (crisco, oleo, or snow drift)

Method: 1. Mix and sift dry ingredients.

2. Cut in fat with pastry blender or two knives until the mixture looks coarse like corn meal.

3. Store in a covered container in the refrigerator or in some other very cold place.

When ready to make a pie, measure three and one half cups of the pastry mix. Sprinkle about nine tablespoons of ice water gradually over the mix, working it in quickly. Roll out between sheets of wax paper or on a lightly floured board. This will make bottom and top crust for a pie that is nine inches in diameter. If a single crust is desired for a cream pie, use only two cups of the mix.

Mobile Azalea Trail Festival

Mobile, Ala.—A festival of Barber Shop Harmony will be one of the feature attractions of an entertainment-packed 1954 Mobile Azalea Trail Festival scheduled February 7 through March 31.

The concert will be held at Murphy High School auditorium, Saturday, March 27, at 8 p.m., with the Mobile Chapter, Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.

Scheduled to participate in the program will be a medalist quartet in the national SPEBSQA competition, the Florida Knights of Tampa, Fla.; who won the 1950-51 Dixie District Championship; the Confederates of Memphis, Tenn.; the South Winds of Tuscaloosa Alabama and possible one other.

Many visiting barber shop singers are expected to come here from neighboring states to attend the festival.

Major attractions of the Silver Anniversary Azalea Trail Festival include world-famous Bellingrath Gardens, at the height of their beauty during the azalea season; the annual Mobile Mardi Gras celebration scheduled from February 15 through March 2; outdoor art exhibits; historic homes tours; sports events; and music and dramatic presentations. The highlight of the 1954 festival will be the coronation on Sunday, March 7 of Evelyn Margaret Ay as Azalea Trail Queen. The Azalea Trail is sponsored by Mobile Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Even though the amount of traffic and number of pedestrains drops considerably after sundown, more pedestrains are killed at dusk than during all daylight hours.

* * *

One-fourth of all motor vehicle accidental deaths are pedestrains. Half of the traffic deaths in cities and towns are persons afoot.

No Riddle--A Question Only

(From Montgomery Advertiser)

Is Senator Sparkman intellectually honest?

See Below—

The Sunday Advertiser carried an interview in which Senator Sparkman attacked the Eisenhower Administration because it has entered, by request of the U. S. Supreme Court, the pending argument over school segregation in Alabama and 16 other states.

Sparkman says this is beastly of the Eisenhower Administration and just what Alabamians might expect of the Republican Party.

Sparkman told the Advertiser:

We in the South should not be surprised, because the Republican Party has never had regard for the South, no for its customs and traditions.

This is a bid for political support in areas outside the South, . .

That came from, of all people, the man who was the the vice presidential nominee of the Democratic Party just a year ago.

That statement came from the bucolic pharisee who, with his own fist, helped write the civil rights plank of the Democratic Party and afterwards ran on it.

That Sparkman plank in the 1952 Democratic plank to which Sparkman gave his allegiance during the brief but memorable time he was campaigning outside Alabama, specifically pledged precisely the same action for which Sparkman now assails the Eisenhower Administration.

This Sparkman plank in the 1952 Democratic platform ardently commends all that Truman did in the civil rights field and gravely pledged for the future:

"We are proud of the progress that has been made in securing equality of treatment and opportunity in the nation's armed forces and civil service and all other areas under federal jurisdiction. The Department of Justice has taken an important part in successfully arguing in the courts for the elimination of many illegal discriminations, including those involving rights to . . . enroll in publicly supported educational institutions. . ."

That was the Sparkman plank. He helped write it. The files of The Advertiser show that, in a 1952 Chicago convention hall interview, Sparkman defended this plank.

He embraced it, and, with Adlai Stevenson, asked the American people to elect him that he might accomplish it.

In a Philadelphia campaign speech, Truman certified Sparkman's loyalty to the plank.

But that was long ago and far away. In fact, last year when he was seeking the votes of Harlem.

Now Sparkman is standing up for re-election in Alabama. So we find him trying to blur Alabama's memory of 1952 by attacking the Eisenhower Administration for doing what he himself was solemnly covenanted to do.

Yet it is possible that Sparkman will evade retribution for his disloyalty to Alabama.

Fourth Of Deaths In Larger Cities

Montgomery, Ala.—More than a fourth of all the deaths from all causes which were reported in July, August and September occurred in the state's largest three cities.

The State Department of Health announced today, on the basis of provisional reports prepared by its Bureau of Vital Statistics, that Birmingham, reported 915 deaths during that three-month period, while Mobile reported 382 and Montgomery 299. That makes a three-city total of 1,596. The total for the state as a whole was 6,209.

Your Woods Need A THINNING?

Growing trees often get so thick that the small younger trees are crowded out.

They need sunshine in order to grow.

Trees so crowded out become stagnant, and die. There's no gain in that.

My job, as one of your neighbors, is to help show you how to thin your woods properly. It's not only the best way to conserve younger trees — it gives you a cash income, too.

For advice that's sound — and free — write me a note. Then I'll be seeing you soon.

Prevent Accidents By Simple Rules

Falls were responsible for almost half of the 29,000 fatalities occuring in homes over the nation last year.

In making this statement here recently, Stella Mitchell, API Extension home management specialist, suggested these safety precautions in preventing home accidents.

In the bedroom make sure there is a straight, clear path from the bed to the door. Arrange living room furniture according to travel areas so family members will have unobstructed walking space. Be sure to provide a non-skid mat near the tub in the bathroom.

Tack or cement the kitchen linoleum down flat, and make it a habit to wipe up grease, spilled water, etc., promptly. Have stairs well lighted to expose danger spots, and tack stair coverings securely.

Tips on Storing Your Fresh Meat

Fresh meat, a major cost item on the family food budget, needs special attention when brought home from the grocery store.

First, says Lavada Curtis, API Extension food preservationist, wipe the meat off and wrap it loosely in waxed paper. The loose wrappings lets some air reach the surface of the meat, and the small dryness that takes place helps keep damaging bacteria under control.

After wrapping the meat, store it under the freezing unit of the refrigerator, concludes the home expert. In this way you can keep meat fresh for several days.

Woodlands Supervisors Coosa River Newsprint Attend Study Conference

Coosa Pines, Ala—The Coosa River Newsprint Company Woodlands Department has a staff of 71 persons of whom 19 are graduate foresters. Three of the men who supervise the Coosa River woodlands operations have just returned from Neenah, Wisconsin, where they participated in a three day conference for Woods Managers and Chief Foresters employed in the United States and Canadian operations of Kimberly-Clark Corporation, the company which operates the Coosa River plant under a management agreement.

John Raeburn, Manager of Woodlands for Coosa River, Harold A. Dickson, Assistant Manager and Chief Forester, and Calvin G. Stewart, Wood Quality Superintendent, represented Coosa River at the conference and were among the panel of speakers during the three days.

Raeburn discussed "Producer Wood and the Conservation Forester." Dickson's topic was "Regeneration on Cut-Over Lands" and Stewart spoke on the subject of "Land Acquisition in the South."

The first day of the three-day conference featured papers and forum discussion on silviculture—the establishment and care of new forests, preparing for the next crop and bringing that crop to maturity.

The second day's discussion dealt primarily with logging—the use of mature stands of trees to provide raw material for the mill. Emphasis was on planning, budgets and cost controls.

Luncheon and dinner speakers during the conference included John R. Kimberly, a director of Coosa River and President of Kimberly-Clark Corporation, William H. Clifford, a director and treasurer of Coosa River and Vice President in charge of finance for Kimberly-Clark, W. H. Swanson, Vice President in charge of Research and Development for Kimberly-Clark and M. J. Schulenburg, director of Public Relations for Kimberly-Clark.

Plans Making For Fishing Rodeo

Mobile, Ala.—The 1954 Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo, one of the nation's great sports events, is schedued on the week end of July 16-18 in the Gulf of Mexico with headquarters on historic Dauphin Island, near Mobile.

With fishing prizes totaling about $8,000 and some of America's finest game fishing offered sportsmen who go on the Rodeo, a record-breaking attendance is expected for this 22nd annual deep sea fishing festival.

Andy Wiik, '54 Rodeo president, has indicated wide interest is already evident in the schedule for next year even though the Rodeo is several months away.

During the 1953 Rodeo there were 1025 registered fishermen using 293 boats and these caught fish grossing a total of 7500 pounds in weight. The fish caught included tarpon, ling, cavalla, red fish and many other varieties. Sportsmen who caught them were from fifteen states.

Wiik, a veteran member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the organization which each year sponsors the big sporting event, points out present indications are that the week end selected for the 1954 Rodeo is probably the best possible from the standpoint of weather, tides, etc., and "all in all we should have a great 1954 Rodeo."

Full information on the rodeo may be obtained by writing Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo, P. O. Box 172, Mobile, Ala.

Training Program For War Vets

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 22—Nearly 18,000 veterans are enrolled this Fall in Alabama's schools and training establishments under Veterans Administration training programs.

Harley A. Smith, VA's Alabama Regional Office Manager, said today that as of Nov. 30, total enrollments in the various programs had reached 17,661. This figure, he said, includes a record-breaking 8,322 veterans taking training under the 14-month-old Korean G. I. Bill. Another 8,525 are World War II veterans still enrolled under the original G. I. Bill.

Of the rest, 607 are disabled veterans of World War II, studying under Public Law 16, and 207 are veteran-trainees disabled in service since fighting started in Korea.

The current number of Korean GI trainees has shown a considerable increase over the previous peak of the new GI training program, which was reached this past May, with 5,295 veterans.

College training has been the most popular choice among Korean veterans, VA said. Forty three percent of the total, or 3,629 veterans, are enrolled in institutionns of higher learning.

Another 3,757 are in schools below the college level; 778 are training on-the-job, and 158 are taking institutional on-farm training, a combination of classroom work and actual farming experience.

The increase in the number of Korean veterans in training has been more than offset by a decline in enrollments under the original World War II GI Bill, Smith said.

The 8,525 World Wor II trainees represent the lowest GI Bill Fall enrollment figure since 1945, when the World War II program was just getting under way. In fact, it is less than half of what it was a year ago.

A 1951 cut-off date, under the law, has virtually put a stop to new enrollments under the World War II GI training program. Veterans still in training, for the most part, are those who started before the deadline and who have remained in training since. The World War II program ends, for nearly all veterans, in July, 1956.

Among the World War II veterans in training this Fall, below-college schooling continues as the number one choice. This type of training accounts for 58 percent of the veterans, or more than 5,375. College students number 1,811; on-the-job trainees, 232; and on-farm enrollees, 1,713.

Ed Ewing Named In Who's Who At University

University, Ala.—Ed Ewing, son of Mayor and Mrs. George L. Ewing of Wilton, has been named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities at the University of Alabama.

Ed, a junior, is majoring in journalism. He is employed at the University of Alabama news bureau.

During his freshman year at the University he was a member of Rho Alpha Tau, freshman honorary organization; was squad leader of Pershing Rifles; was on the staff of WABP, the campus radio station; and was executive vice president of the Alabama Independents Association.

The past year he served as representative on the Student Government Association Legislature, vice president of Philos, chairman of various SGA committees, and publicity chairman for Druids honorary organization. He was president of the AIA and president of the Southeastern Region of National Independent Students Association.

This year Ed has been tapped for membership in the organizations of Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary; and Sigma Delta Chi, journalism professional organization. He is business manager of the Cotillion Club, director of public affairs for the SGA cabinet, a member of the Army Cadet Officers Club, and columnist for the Crimson-White.

Young vs Graham Fight Friday Night

New York (Special)—Topflight fighters Paddy Young and Billy Graham, both TV favorites, will finally get together in a match the boxing world has long been waiting for when they meet Friday night (Dec. 18) in a 10-round middleweight match in Madison Square Garden. The bout will be nationally telecast and broadcast on the Calvacade of Sports by the Gillette Safety Razor Company.

Air time for this earegly awaited fight will be 10 p.m. EST over the NBC television network and the ABC radio net work.

Man Of The Year In Agriculture Is Named By Progressive Farmer

Birmingham, Ala.—O. C. Medlock, Auburn, has been named as Alabama's "Man of the Year in Service to Agriculture" by The Progressive Farmer, a Southern farm magazine covering sixteen states.

This announcement is made in the January issue of the magazine by Editor Alaxander Nunn.

Medlock has served Alabama farmers a number of years, directing the work of Soil Conservation Service since 1936. According to The Progressive Farmer, he grew up on Sand Mountain when there was still "new ground" to be cleared, and he knew the sting of hickory roots cracking his shins while he plowed. He has been "clearing new ground" ever since.

From 1934 to 1936 as forester for the old Soil Erosion Service at Dadeville, he learned from farmers right out in the fields their soil problems.

Medlock and his team of technicians have effectively used the experimental findings of the Alabama Experiment Station and SCS know-how to help farmers hold and improve their soils.

Among conservation developments Medlock has supported and guided are: helped change the Piedmont from row crops to livestock, encouraged the use of certain grasses and legumes in longtime, grass-based rotations for row crops, and increased tree planting and improved woodland management.

Medlock is the 15th Alabama man to be named "Man of the Year in Agriculture" by The Progressive Farmer. The magazine makes these awards annually to those it feels have done outstanding work in agriculture.

The award in 1952 went to J. C. Lowery, Alabama Extension Agronomist.

Eastern Star Chapters To Have State Officials

The officers of the Grand Chapter Order of the Eastern Star for the State of Alabama will pay their official visit to this area on Monday, January 4th, holding the Shelby County School of Instruction for which Siluria Chapter No. 476, Montevallo Chapter No. 434, and Tom McKibbon Chapter No. 499 (Calera) will be hostess.

Mrs. Louise W. Hoskins (476), Mrs. Glennie Clark (434) and Mrs. Marion Jones (499) are Worthy Matrons of their respective chapters.

Report On Sale Of Christmas Seals

A final tabulation of the receipts from the sale of Christmas Seals has not yet been made. Contributions have continued and at last report a total of $1363.54 had been received. The goal for Shelby County is $1454. The Association officials are hopeful that this goal will be exceeded.

Those who have not yet contributed may still do so and realize a deduction on their 1953 income tax return.

The officials of the Shelby County TB Association express gratitude to the many citizens who have generously supported with their contributions the work of combating TB in Shelby County in 1954.

One of the most prized Christmas gifts is one of those new type cigaret lighters which never needs refilling. You press the button and up flies the top and points to the nearest guy with a match.

We May Look Hopefully To 1954

The people of West Shelby County have much cause to feel good and hopeful as we pass out of 1953 into 1954.

Our efforts toward progress and economic improvement were highly successful in 1953, thereby justifying our confidence in the future.

The recession that came with curtailment of our coal mining operations a few years ago should soon be replaced by a resumption of employment and industrial production when our new industries get into operation.

Westinghouse near Montevallo and American Brake Shoe at Calera are well advanced in construction and should begin operation during the coming year. Employment of labor in building these plants has been a great help to our people the past year.

At Siluria Buck Creek Cotton Mills has about completed rebuilding from the disastrous storm damage that put our largest industry out of commission. It is expected that normal operations will be resumed in a few months.

Southern Cement at Roberta has been a steady and dependable industrial operation. It is expanding its facilities to a great extent.

Our Road Commissioner, Fred McClendon, has kept our road and highway development in step with our other phases of progress. Chief among his accomplishments of the past year is completion of the paved road from Montevallo to Bessemer.

Agriculture and the cattle industries in our area have kept a steady progress. Retail merchandising and service establishments have brought about some notable additions and improvements.

Southern Bell Telephone Company has kept pace with our local requirements by being strictly on the job at every town.

Alabama Power Company, the backbone of our state's industrial progress, has been one of us and ever with us in pushing forward toward bigger and better things.

Yes, we have reason to be thankful for the good things that have come to use in 1953—for the friendly and neighborly spirit that has been ours to enjoy as we worked together for a common goal.

Meadows Will Run For State School Head

Dr. Austin Meadows, County Superintendent of Education, of Madison County, and former State Superintendent of Education, announces his intention to run for State Superintendent of Education on an educational platform that is being developed by a representative cross section of educators and citizens of Alabama. In making his announcement, he also states that he expects to present the details of such platform to the voters for their full consideration. Dr. Meadows says that he believes that his recognized leadership in public education will enable him to help solve the growing educational problems in this State. He states that he expects to work closely with the Governor, the Legislature, educational organizations, and citizen groups in the interest of every Alabama school child.

Gleaned from somewhere: "A radio announcer is a man who talks until you have a headache, and then tries to sell you something to relieve it."

New Income Tax Booklet Now Out

Residents of Shelby County can get help again this year on their federal income tax if they will get the new booklet "Your Federal Income Tax, 1953 Edition," just issued.

A government "best seller" for years, the booklet, available at the regional office of the U. S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta for 25 cents, answers many questions arising in connection with the filing of tax returns.

According to Merrill C. Lofton, Commerce Department regional director in Atlanta, the booklet this year will not only take up the usual subjects of when and where returns should be filed, what exemptions should be taken, and the like, but has several added features. For instance, it presents a series of short articles on rulings of the Internal Revenue Service, its author, includes representative court cases, and develops numerous questions which often rise when returns are made out, with answers to the questions.

Thousands of copies of the booklet have been distributed over the nation in past years, and it is expected that the 1953 edition will be in considerable demand, it was stated.

Mrs. Rogers Presented Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Harrell observed their golden wedding anniversary Friday, Dec. 25, with all but one member of the family present, Mr. Homer Harrel of Detroit, Mich.

Children, grandchildren and the great-grandchildren gathered at the Harrell home in Aldrich on Christmas morning for the annual tree and dinner.

An anniversary reception, honoring their parents, was given by the seven sons and daughters during the afternoon.

In the receiving line with the honorees were Mrs. Lewis Lawley, Mrs. Bill Gentry, Mrs. W. B. Price, Mrs. Edna Davis, W. H. Harrel, and S. P. Harrel.

Traditional yule time decorations accented with yellow flowers made a lovely setting for this festive party.

An arrangement of yellow mums, yellow candles, and a wedding cake decorated in gold and topped with a loving cup bearing the inscription, "50th Anniversary" centered the lace covered tea table.

Granddaughters of the couple kept the guest book and served. Some fifty guests, besides members of the family, called between the hours of 3 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Harrell is 75 years young and Mr. Harrell is 78. We wish them many more happy anniversary celebrations.

Family Reunion

For the first time in five years Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Allen of Alabaster enjoyed a Christmas Day family reunion with the following guests present, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Allen and family of Fort Worth, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Allen and son, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Allen and daughter of Alabaster; Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Davis and son of Atlanta, Ga.; and Mr. and Mrs. Van Farlow and daughter of Montgomery. Mr. J. E. Allen is serving in the Air Force and is being transferred from Fort Worth, Texas to an Air Force Base in South America.

Methodist Church

Rev. O. Kyle Lamb, pastor of the Methodist Church, will fill his pulpit at both services Sunday, January 3, 1954. The sermon subject Sunday morning will be "The Secrets of a Great Life," and at the 7:30 worship the subject will be, "How to go to Church."

Sunday is the beginning of a four months loyalty campaign. Each member will be asked to keep his own record of attendance and at the close of the campaign will be asked to turn it in to the pastor.

The Fellowship groups will meet at 6:30 p.m. Monday evening the reguar monthly meeting of the Commission on Education and the Workers' Conference will meet at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday evening at 7:45 the meeting of the officials will be held at the regular meeting place. All members are urged to be present.

Choir rehearsal will be held on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Falkner Will Speak To County Teachers

Senator Jimmy Faulkner will speak to the Shelby County Teachers' Association when they meet in Columbiana on January 7.

Miss Elizabeth Mays will give the devotional.

The teachers will work during the afternoon in their in-service training groups in child study, mathematics, physical education and health, arts and crafts, music, community-relations, school environment, school lunch and nutrition.

Girl Scouts Worked For Efficiency Badges

The Montevallo Girl Scouts worked uninteruptedly through the summer and fall on proficiency badges. Some of the girls have completed requirements for cooking, first aid, my troop, and cycling. Several are now working on "my community," and "hiking."

Approximately half the girls have already become second class scouts and are well on the way to becoming first class scouts.

Since September, the girls have enjoyed such activities as hiking, canoeing, cook-out, Christmas party and social behavior.

Mrs. Calvin Roden is leader of the Troop and Miss Sue Baughn assists. The girls meet each Monday afternoon at the Little House, at 3 o'clock. They will welcome new members, as they go into the new year with plans for new activities and camp plans.

This atomic age: Heard two kids in our neighborhood talking and one of them remarked that the stork brought her. The other little girl said she was delivered by the Blue Cross.

Shelby County March of Dimes

People everywhere are going all-out for the 1954 March of Dimes this year, because of the magnitude of the whole program. Not only has the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis furnished gamma globulin to heavily stricken areas; but they are now ready to test the polio vaccine which their grantees have developed, in the hope it will prove to be the answer to this crippling disease.

Volunteers in Shelby County are doing their part to help put over this all-important drive. When you consider that in 1952 alone, 33 Alabama chapters emptied their treasureis in assisting patients and received additional $142,700 in emergency funds from the national office; and when you consider that in the past 16 years Alabama has sent to the national office $1,304,448 and received in return this amount plus an additional $1,750,478, you can see that Alabama has not contributed her fair share toward patient aid.

You can help raise Alabama from the next-to-the-last spot on the list of contributors, nationwide. Contact your County Campaign Director, and volunteer your services. You will be proud to have a part in stamping out polio.

Governor Persons Proclaims January "Dimes" Month

Montgomery, Ala.—Gov. Gordon Persons has proclaimed the month of January as 1954 "March of Dimes Month" in Alabama.

And in his proclamation Governor Persons disclosed that since the start of the "March of Dimes program, Alabama has received over one and a half million dollars more in return than the state had put into the program.

Persons said that according to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, there were 290 Alabama cases of polio in 1952, and 444 cases in 1953.

His proclamation said that "since the establishment of the National Foundation, Alabamians have contributed $1,304,448, and received in return that amount plus an additional $1,750,478, in epidemic aid, professional education grants and assistance to hospitals..."

He pointed out also that in 1953 some 33,000 Alabama youngsters received injections of gamma globulin. He said that during the period January 2-31, volunteers throughout Alabama would join other American citizens in the drive for funds to fight polio.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS AT WILTON CHURCHES

The Rev. Robert G. Thompson, pastor of the Wilton Baptist Church, and the Rev. Billy Prickett, pastor of the Wilton Methodist Church, presented beautiful Christmas programs in their respective churches.

To each of our pastors, members of the choirs, and others who took part in these lovely programs we extend our thanks.

Pupils In Recital

Mrs. Edward E. Rogers presented her music pupils in a pre-Christmas recital, December 20, at her home in Wilton. On the program were Jane Moreland, Judy Pool, Julia Hays, Glenda Gaddy, Bonnie Mims, Betty Clements and Troy Mims.

A delightful social hour was enjoyed by the pupils and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moreland, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Mims, Mrs. Grover Hays and Joe, Mrs. S. A. Gaddy, Mrs. K. W. Gaddy, Mrs. Edith Clements, Mrs. Mae Moreland, Mrs. Rosa Dunn, and Mrs. A. W. Clements.

Mrs. Clements played for group carol singing and Miss Ann Pool furnished Christmas music while refreshments were served and each child was presented a gift from their teacher, Mrs. Rogers.

Last Year Showed Telephone Increase

Approximately 15 per cent more telephones are now in use in Montevallo than at the end of 1952, it was disclosed today by Lunsford, local Southern Bell manager, in reporting on his company's progress here and in the state for 1953.

The increase compares favorably with the gain of five per cent shown for the entire state.

In Montevallo the number of telephones increased 155 and in the state 21,787 telephones were added.

The year's expansion brought the total number of telephones in Montevallo to 1020 and the grand total in the state to 450,618.

Mr. Lunsford said the equipment and construction program required for the year's expansion in the state cost an estimated $20,500,000.

The expenditure when compared with 1952's outlay reflects the continued rising cost of doing business, he pointed out. Cost of expansion in 1952 which resulted in a total gain of 20,838 telephones in Alabama, about the same as this year, cost $5,000,000 less.

To maintain and expand the city and state telephone systems, Southern Bell employed an average of 6290 men and women in 1953. The combined yearly payroll will be approximately $21,109,000. Last year the company had an average of 6060 employees with a total yearly payroll of $19,542,000.

Despite this year's record expenditure and employment figure, there is still a total of 36,073 applications for higher grades of service in the state and 27 in Montevallo, the telephone company manager said. Requests for new service number 18,712 in the state and 24 in Montevallo.

Mr. Lunsford said Southern Bell plans to make every effort to meet the demand for telephone service in the coming year. However, he added, the amount and rate of construction will depend on the availability of investment capital to do the work.

"Construction and operating costs have skyrocketed," he said, "prior to the Korean War we needed an average investment of $372 per telephone gained. This year we needed $565 and we estimate that next year $581 will be required."

"The telephone business," he pointed out, "is just like any other. It needs money to expand."

* * *

Approximately 3 per cent more telephones are new in use in Calera than at the end of 1952, it was disclosed today by B. F. Lunsford, local Southern Bell manager, in reporting on his company's progress here and in the state for 1953.

In Calera the number of telephones increased 26 and in the state 21,787 telephones were added.

This year's expansion brought the total number of telephones in Calera to 383 and the grand total in the state to 450,618.

The demand for new service continues to increase, as shown by the company's figure of 45 people awaiting telephones in the Calera Exchange. According to Mr. Lunsford, 25 of these people who are living on and adjacent to the Columbiana Highway will receive service during the early part of 1954 at an expenditure of approximately $5935.

ANOTHER year of substantial progress in Alabama has passed.

Responsible for this progress are many in the fields of religion, education, agriculture, commerce, industry, labor; and in federal, state, county and municipal governments, science, health and other activities.

Some have been directly active as individuals; others through strong support of organizations of which they are members and which have been active in the common effort of helping develop Alabama.

It has been our pleasure to work with many of them toward the achievement of goals which will make Alabama a still better place in which to live and work.

To them, and to the many citizens whose enthusiasm and support help make their effort successful, we extend our congratulations and reaffirm our policy of supporting worthwhile movements for the further development of Alabama.

Coosa River Newsprint Has Fourth Anniversary

From as far north as Chattanooga, as far south as Dothan, and from all the cities and communities surrounding the plant, visitors came to Coosa Pines the week of December 13th to help Coosa River Newsprint Company celebrate its fourth anniversary of production.

The many varied manufacturing processes created much interest among the visitors. From the Woodyard where the wood is sorted for use either as bleached sulphate pulp or groundwood pulp, to the Finishing Floor where the newsprint rolls off the machines and is wrapped, weighed and prepared for shipment, the visitors were able to observe all stages in an operation which turns southern pine into your daily newspaper. Explanatory signs aided the guests in understanding the manufacturing flow. In addition, Superintendents and Foremen were available in their departments to answer questions and explain the various processing steps.

Special exhibits and displays could be seen at various points throughout the tour. The "Life Cycle of a Pine Tree," a display prepared by the Woodlands Department, attracted much attention from woodlot owners and farmers. The display traced the life of pine trees from seedbearing pine cones to trees ready for field planting.

As each guest completed the tour and left the plant he was given a number of Open House souvenirs and booklets. Included was a current copy of the Childersburg News printed entirely on Coosa River newsprint; a tour booklet telling in simple language and showing in modern art how newsprint is made; and a copy of "Newsprint Pete", a booklet describing the employee benefit program in effect at Coosa River.

Letters of appreciation and congratulations from many of the Open House visitors have been received by Mr. Wakeman, President of Coosa River Newsprint Company. He, and other officials of the Company, expressed satisfaction with the entire Open House event. "We enjoyed having these friends visit us," said Mr. Wakeman, "and we hope their trip through the plant was both pleasant and interesting."
